Insofar as the jay-walking arrest in Toronto, since this information came via the guards at the Shelby County Jail, it is felt that inquiries should be made of the Toronto Police to ascertain whether or not they have such an arrest record. If such an arrest record is available, the identities of the so-called two buddies should be determined. Since no date was given as to the time of this alleged arrest, it is felt investigation should be held in abeyance. In the event this jay-walking arrest occurred at the time of RAY's first visit in Canada, here again it is not felt that extensive investigation would necessarily add anything to the investigation of the murder of Dr. KING. If, however, this jay-walking arrest did occur after the shooting of Dr. KING, the Memphis Office is of the opinion these so-called two buddies should be located and interviewed.

IN THE CRIMINAL COURT OF SHELBY COUNTY, TENNESSEE

STATE OF TENNESSEE

VS.

JAMES EARL RAY, Alias.

No. 16645
(Murder)
FILED
J. A. BLACKWELL, CLERK
BY D. C.

MOTION FOR LEAVE TO WITHDRAW PLEA
AND TO QUASH INDICTMENT

Comes now the defendant in the above styled case, by and through his attorney of record, and respectfully moves This Honorable Court for leave to withdraw his plea heretofore entered and, if that be granted, defendant further moves that the indictment heretofore returned in this case be quashed and as grounds therefor assigns the following:

1. There have been written reports, articles and publications in magazines, newspapers and books of wide and general circulation published and distributed within the juridiction of this court, throughout the State of Tennessee and throughout the United States concerning defendant, the alleged crime committed and the purported victim thereof, said reports, articles and publications being calculated to and having the effect of creating widespread public excitement and animosity toward crimes of the type herein alleged and toward the defendant and his alleged crime in particular.

2. Radio and television networks and stations within the jurisdiction of this court, throughout the State of Tennessee and throughout the United States have from, to-wit, April 4, 1968, until the present date, by way of both regular and special programming, frequently and continually broadcast programs and parts thereof which so canonised and so depicted the victim of the crime herein charged, and so described the crime and defendant herein charged that widespread public outrage and hatred have been generated toward any person charged with the crime alleged herein and toward this defendant in particular.

3. Said publications and broadcasts have been so pervasive and widespread within this jurisdiction and throughout the entire United States that most if not all prospective jurors chosen within the jurisdiction of this court or within the jurisdiction of any court throughout the United States will have read and/or heard the said prejudicial matter on many occasions and will have been repeatedly exposed to published matter tending to influence public opinion in favor of defendant's guilt and tending to remove the presumption of innocence which must accompany him to trial.

4. Defendant has not had opportunity to confront or cross-examine the persons who have published and broadcast said prejudicial matter or the persons who revealed information upon which said publications and broadcasts were purportedly based, and has had no opportunity to rebut said publications and broadcasts; further, that said publications and broadcasts have represented as fact matters which are controverted and controvertible and prejudicial matters which are not relevant to or admissible in the trial of this case.

5. The above stated publications and broadcasts, as shown in part by the exhibits attached hereto and hereby incorporated, have created such widespread prejudicial publicity that defendant has been effectively precluded from receiving a fair and impartial trial within any jurisdiction.

Respectfully submitted,

Arthur J. Hanes, Jr.
Attorney for Defendant.

I hereby certify that I have served a copy of the foregoing motion on the Attorney General for the State in this case. This the 16 day of August 1968.

(A characterization of the United Klans of America, Inc., Knights of the Ku Klux Klan (UKA), is set forth in the Appendix section.)

APPENDIX

UNITED KLANS OF AMERICA, INC.,
KNIGHTS OF THE KU KLUX KLAN (UKA)

Records of Superior Court of Fulton County, Georgia, reflect that this Klan organization was granted a corporate charter on February 21, 1961, at Atlanta, Georgia, under the name United Klans, Knights of the Ku Klux Klan of America, Inc.

A source advised on February 27, 1961, that United Klans was formed as a result of a split in U. S. Klans, Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, Inc. According to the source, the split resulted from a leadership dispute and United Klans has the same aims and objectives as the parent group. These are the promotion of Americanism, white supremacy, and segregation of the races.

The first source and a second source advised in July, 1961, that United Klans, Knights of the Ku Klux Klan of America, Inc., merged with Alabama Knights, Knights of the Ku Klux Klan. The merged organization established headquarters in Suite 401, Alston Building, Tuscaloosa, Alabama. (The organization is directed by ROBERT SHELTON, Imperial Wizard, and is the dominant Klan group in the South, with units in several southern states.)

Second source advised that at a meeting in Prattville, Alabama, on October 22, 1961, the U. S. Klans, Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, merged with the United Klans of America, Inc., Knights of the Ku Klux Klan.

Third source advised on May 7, 1968, that the UKA is currently an active organization with klaverns in several states. This source said that ROBERT M. SHELTON is the Imperial Wizard of this organization and was elected to this position on September 3, 1967, at a National Klonvocation in Tuscaloosa, Alabama. Source stated that during April, 1966, the national office was moved from Suite 401, Alston Building, Tuscaloosa, Alabama, to the carport of SHELTON's residence, #18 Lake Sherwood, Star Route, Northport, Alabama, which space he had converted into a room.

Dear Sirs

I wish to remain anonymous, but I firmly believe Mr. [redacted] recently promoted to [redacted] College, [redacted] is capable of being the James Earl Ray that shot Martin Luther King. At any rate he swindles students at that school and smears their character to expel them. There is no law on the mountain, so they can get by with almost anything. They can juggle their money to confiscate student government loans, without question the place is dangerous, and the cheated students are too afraid to speak up in their own defense. I know of two, who were smeared by him and goodness how many more.

In one of Martin Luther King's last speeches, he remarked, " Let Freedom ring from different points to different points mentioning Lookout Mountain, Tennessee" Please investigate this matter and you might get a lead on Communism among students inluding funds for the Communists in this country. I'm sure he is robbing and exploiting certain students there some of which will not return this year. Please believe me matter is serious and dangerous.

Q408 Registration card, No. 8075, dated 6/18/67, bearing the signature "John L. Rayns"

Result of examination:

It was concluded that JAMES EARL RAY, K171, K211 and K257 prepared the questioned Rayns signature on Q407; the questioned handwriting on Q408 and the questioned handwriting and hand printing on Q406. Although significant similarities were noted in the endorsements on Q398 through Q405, except the endorsement on Q403, when compared with the known writings of RAY, the presence of unexplained variations, insufficient comparable material and distortion in some of the questioned endorsements precluded a definite determination as to whether RAY prepared the endorsements on Q398 through Q405.

The endorsement on Q403 is too distorted for comparison purposes. Although some similarities were noted in the date on line 24 on Q407 beside the Rayms signature when compared with the comparable writing of RAY, the limited and over-written nature of this date precluded a definite determination as to whether RAY prepared this date.

Q398 through Q408 have been photographed and will be returned to Chicago separately.

GENERAL INVESTIGATIVE DIVISION

William Bradford Huie, author whose books include "Three Lives for Mississippi," dealing with the murder of three civil rights workers in June, 1964, has reportedly bought James Earl Ray's story and is preparing an article to appear in "Look," proofs of which are to be ready 9-10-68.

Ray escaped from Missouri State Penitentiary, 4-23-67, and his whereabouts from 4-23-67, until he appeared in Montreal, 7-17-67, have previously been unknown.

This will be discussed with the Department to determine if material given Huie by Ray through his attorney can be seized as evidence and if Federal action in this regard is not possible, it will be discussed with state authorities who will also be informed so the local judge can determine whether his order against discussing the case is being violated. Above action will be taken, if approved, and Department will also be asked to consider bringing Huie before a grand jury.

Re telephone call from Bureau Supervisor [redacted] General Investigative Division, to Buffalo, 8/24/68, during which Supervisor [redacted] advised that highly confidential information had been received indicating that the subject, JAMES EARL RAY, might have been arrested by the Metropolitan Toronto Police Department in Toronto, Ontario, Canada, during June or July, 1967, on a charge of jaywalking.

On 8/27/68, Inspector [redacted] NA), Head of the Central Identification Division of the Metropolitan Toronto Police Department (MTPD), was requested to make the necessary record checks to determine whether RAY was, in fact, arrested in Toronto for jaywalking, and in connection with this request, was furnished with all known aliases used by RAY in the past.

On 8/28/68, Inspector [redacted] advised that subject, under his true name and all aliases, had been checked through the Central Identification Bureau, the Records and Inquiry Bureau, and the Letter File of the MTPD; and no information was developed indicating an arrest in Toronto at any time under any of RAY's aliases.

In addition, Inspector [redacted] pointed out that it was not the practice of the MTPD to arrest individuals for jaywalking but that on infrequent occasions, a police officer would issue summonses for this offense. Inspector [redacted] had all available records of the MTPD checked regarding summonses issued for jaywalking and determined that no unanswered summonses were on file for the offense of jaywalking in the City of Toronto during the months of June and July of 1967.

Inspector [redacted] pointed out that ordinarily if a person failed to appear in answer to a jaywalking summons, a bench warrant would be issued for his arrest and that the records of the MTPD contained no outstanding warrants based upon this type of violation during the pertinent period.

For the further assistance of the Bureau in connection with Supervisor [redacted] inquiry concerning innocuous calls previously received by the individuals in Toronto whose identities subject assumed while in Toronto during the period from April 8 to May 6, 1968, attention is called to Buffalo airtel to the Bureau dated 6/11/68 with which were forwarded two copies of a memorandum setting forth a chronology of subject's activities while in Toronto insofar as was known at that time and which included specific references to the innocuous calls received by the individuals whose identities RAY assumed. More detailed data concerning those calls was undoubtedly submitted by Legat, Ottawa, since the RCMP in Toronto are known to have prepared a lengthy report for Legat, Ottawa, including that type of information.

The same situation exists insofar as the third point raised by Supervisor [redacted] in referenced telephone call, that is, the availability of vital statistics information utilized by RAY in connection with the assumed identities while in Toronto.

Ray And Attorney Confer On Motions

Publicity, Evidence Access Are Included

James Earl Ray, charged with slaying Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., conferred at the Shelby County Jail yesterday with his attorney, Arthur J. Hanes Sr., on preliminary defense motions to be argued next Friday before Judge W. Preston Battle.

Neither defense nor prosecution will present witnesses at the hearing, it was learned, but will rely on legal arguments.

One of Mr. Hanes' motions asks the court to void Ray's first degree murder indictment on the ground that "pervasive and widespread publicity" has made it impossible for him to receive a fair trial. This is true, the motion argues, not only in Shelby County but throughout the United States.

Another motion asks Judge Battle to direct Atty. Gen. Phil Canale to give defense counsel access to all records, physical evidence and witnesses the state expects to use in the trial.

One witness Mr. Hanes wants to talk to is Charles Quitman Stephens, held in jail here for a month under a $10,000 material witness bond. Circuit Judge William W. O'Brien last week ordered Mr. Stephens released on a writ of habeas corpus alleging illegal deprivation of liberty.

Mr. Stephens, like three other material witnesses, is reported to have accepted police protection outside jail. Mr. Hanes contends he has a right to see all such witnesses. Whether they want to talk to him is for them to decide.

Although Ray has been convicted of several crimes such as larceny or robbery, the jury in the King case would be technically uninformed about this unless Ray took the witness stand.

If he declined to take the witness stand, Judge Battle would be asked to instruct the jury to disregard anything they might have heard or read in regard to a criminal record.

This is the case involving the murder of Martin Luther King, Jr.

The New Orleans Division, on August 30, 1968, received a telephonic inquiry from Mr. Ken Zimmerman, Associated Press (AP), New Orleans, Louisiana, as to what records were taken by the FBI from the Provincial Motel in New Orleans concerning Eric Starvo Galt. He was advised that we had no comment to make. It is noted that the subject, in December of 1967, resided at the Provincial Motel in New Orleans for a few days under the name of Eric Starvo Galt, and we do have the motel records.

Mr. Zimmerman was queried as to his reason for wanting this information. He advised that his New York Headquarters was endeavoring to obtain all information concerning the whereabouts of subject Ray from the time he escaped from the penitentiary on April 23, 1967, and Headquarters of AP had instructed various AP offices to develop all information they could.

RAY)

MEMPHIS, TENN.--ATTORNEYS FOR JAMES EARL RAY, ACCUSED ASSASSIN OF DR. MARTIN LUTHER KING JR., ASKED TODAY THAT MURDER CHARGES AGAINST RAY BE DROPPED BECAUSE "PERVASIVE AND WIDESPREAD" PUBLICITY ON THE CASE HAS RUINED CHANCES FOR A FAIR TRIAL FOR RAY ANYWHERE IN THE UNITED STATES.

ARTHUR J. HANES JR. OF BIRMINGHAM, ALA., FILED MOTIONS WITH THE SHELBY COUNTY CLERK OF COURT TO HAVE RAY'S INNOCENT PLEA WITHDRAWN AND THE FIRST DEGREE MURDER CHARGE DROPPED.

THE MOTION SAID THE PUBLICITY IN THE CASE WAS "CALCULATED TO AND IS HAVING THE EFFECT OF CREATING WIDESPREAD PUBLIC EXCITEMENT AND ANIMOSITY" TOWARD RAY.

IT ALSO SAID RADIO AND TELEVISION NETWORK PROGRAMS "SO CANONIZED AND SO DEPICTED THE VICTIM OF THE CRIME (KING)" THAT "WIDESPREAD PUBLIC OUTRAGE AND HATRED HAVE BEEN GENERATED" TOWARD RAY.

HANES, WHO WITH HIS FATHER ARTHUR HANES SR., FORMER MAYOR OF BIRMINGHAM, ARE RAY'S DEFENSE ATTORNEYS, FILED TWO OTHER MOTIONS IN THE CASE.

ONE ASKED THAT CRIMINAL COURT JUDGE PRESTON W. BATTLE ORDER THE PROSECUTION TO PRODUCE ALL ITS PHYSICAL EVIDENCE FROM FINGERPRINT RECORDS TO BALLISTIC TESTS ON THE RIFLE SLUG THAT KILLED KING FOR INSPECTION BY THE DEFENSE.

THE MOTION ALSO ASKED THAT PROSECUTION WITNESSES BE MADE AVAILABLE FOR QUESTIONING BY DEFENSE ATTORNEYS.

THE THIRD MOTION ASKED THE COURT TO DROP THE SECOND CHARGE AGAINST RAY, CARRYING A DANGEROUS WEAPON. IT SAID RAY WAS EXTRADITED FROM LONDON WITHOUT BEING CHARGED WITH THAT CRIME AND THEREFORE COULD NOT BE TRIED FOR IT.

KING WAS KILLED BY A SINGLE RIFLE BULLET APRIL 4 AS HE STOOD ON THE BALCONY OF THE LORRAINE MOTEL. RAY WAS THE OBJECT OF AN INTENSIVE MANHUNT AND WAS ARRESTED AT A LONDON AIRPORT IN EARLY JUNE.

THE MOTION TO DISMISS THE MURDER CHARGE AGAINST RAY SAID THAT PUBLICITY ABOUT HIM AND THE CASE HAS BEEN "SO PERVASIVE AND WIDESPREAD WITHIN THIS JURISDICTION AND THROUGHOUT THE ENTIRE UNITED STATES THAT MOST IF NOT ALL PROSPECTIVE JURORS...WILL HAVE BEEN REPEATEDLY EXPOSED TO PUBLISHED MATTER TENDING TO INFLUENCE PUBLIC OPINION."

IT ALSO SAID RAY HAS HAD NO CHANCE TO "CONFRONT OR CROSS EXAMINE" THE SOURCES ON WHICH THE ARTICLES AND BROADCASTS WERE BASED."

AS A RESULT OF ALL THIS, THE MOTION SAID, RAY HAS "BEEN EFFECTIVELY PRECLUDED FROM RECEIVING A FAIR AND IMPARTIAL TRIAL WITHIN ANY JURISDICTION."

Synopsis: Following subject's arrest on 6/8/68 by officers of New Scotland Yard, London, England, extradition proceedings were begun by the United States Department of State, and on 7/18/68 subject was released to FBI Agents for return to the United States via military aircraft. Subject landed, United States Naval Air Station, Millington, Tennessee, on 7/19/68, and was released to custody of Sheriff, Shelby County, Tennessee. Subject now lodged Shelby County Jail, Memphis, Tennessee, awaiting trial for murder. Investigation in Mexico set forth.

-P-

DETAILS:

Following the subject's arrest on June 8, 1968, at London, England, by officers of New Scotland Yard, extradition proceedings were begun by the United States Department of State. On July 18, 1968, the subject was released by English authorities to the custody of FBI Agents JOHN MINNICH, GEORGE ZEISS, HAROLD LIGHT, and WILMER MARTINDALE. Subject was placed aboard a military aircraft of the United States and was flown to the United States Naval Air Station, Millington, Tennessee, where at 4:00 a.m. on July 19, 1968, while still aboard the aircraft, he was turned over to Sheriff WILLIAM MORRIS, Shelby County, Tennessee. Subject was then taken to the Shelby County Jail, Memphis, Tennessee, where he is being held awaiting trial for murder.

JAMES EARL RAY, aka

This document contains neither recommendations nor conclusions of the FBI. It is the property of the FBI and is loaned to your agency; it and its contents are not to be distributed outside your agency.

Information set forth below covers the established activities of captioned individual who, as ERIC STARVO GALT, visited Mexico during October and November, 1967.

MEXICAN GOVERNMENT RECORDS

On April 11, 1968, at Atlanta, Georgia, a 1968 white Mustang bearing Alabama license 1-38993, was recovered. This car had vehicle identification number 6T07C180647, and on the car was Mexican tourist sticker bearing Folio number H284406, showing that the car had crossed the border at Nuevo Laredo, Tamaulipas.

Investigation at Nuevo Laredo, Tamaulipas, on April 12, 1968, showed that this automobile crossed the border on October 7, 1967. Documents for the automobile were issued to ERIC S. GALT, who had tourist card number 7475449 and listed his address as 2608 Highland, Birmingham, Alabama.

At Mexico, D.F., Mexico

On April 24, 1968, a confidential source abroad advised that contact with an official of the Inspection Service of Mexican Immigration in Mexico City disclosed that this agency had searched records for all departures by land from Mexico during the second half of November, 1967. This search included all exit points from the Pacific to the Gulf of Mexico, and no record was located of the departure of GALT bearing tourist card mentioned above.

On July 18, 1968, the source advised that the same official was contacted on that date and reported that efforts to locate the Mexican tourist card, which should have been surrendered by GALT upon his departure from Mexico, had been unsuccessful. The official stated that his office had directly contacted every exit point along the border between Mexico and the United States, in an attempt to locate this card, with negative results. He stated, therefore, that GALT probably left Mexico without surrendering his tourist card, which is a fairly common occurrence because of the volume of traffic at all of the border crossing points.

On July 18, 1968, this same source advised that contact had been maintained on a regular basis, since April 12, 1968, with headquarters of the Mexican Federal Automobile Registration Bureau at Mexico, D.F., the agency where all documents issued to vehicles of tourists are eventually received and filed. Officials of this agency have advised that, despite extensive review of their records, the tourist importation permit for the 1966 Mustang which was issued to GALT at the border on October 7, 1967, had not been returned to that agency from any border crossing point. It was the conclusion of these officials, therefore, that GALT left Mexico in the Mustang without surrendering this document.

HOTEL RECORDS

At Puerto Vallarta, Jalisco

A second confidential source abroad advised on April 14, 1968, that on that same date [redacted] EDUARDO [redacted] Hotel Rio, Morelos 86, advised that [redacted] GALT was a guest in that hotel from October 18, 1967, through November 5, 1967. [redacted] stated that, [redacted]

according to his recollection, GALT was alone, and [redacted] did not recall anything concerning GALT's car or possible friendships with other guests.

On April 15, 1968, [redacted] Hotel Rio, furnished the registration card for ERIC S. GALT, giving his address as 2608 Highland Avenue, Birmingham, Alabama. He occupied Room 212 at the rate of 60 pesos ($4.80 U.S.) per day. The card shows his arrival on October 19, 1967, and that he checked out on November 6, 1967. It also bears the signature "ERIC S. GALT."

The Document Section of the FBI Laboratory examined two photostatic copies of the registration card of the Hotel Rio in the name of ERIC S. GALT and concluded that the questioned writings on the registration card were prepared by the writer of other specimens received in this matter which have been attributed to ERIC S. GALT.

[redacted] also advised on April 15, 1968, that there were no long-distance telephone calls charged to GALT's room.

On April 17, 1968, [redacted] stated that he remembered GALT as a "loner" at the hotel. He said GALT was never seen around the hotel during the day and did not stay around the hotel in the evening. He did come in to eat. He was always alone, with the exception of one occasion on which [redacted] bartender from another hotel, came to the Hotel Rio one morning trying to find GALT since he, [redacted] stated he had left some important papers in GALT's car.

On May 9, 1968, a photograph of JAMES EARL RAY taken in California in early 1968 was shown to [redacted] He identified this photograph as the same person who had lived in the Hotel Rio as ERIC S. GALT.

The source advised that [redacted] was interviewed on April 25, 1968, and stated that she was formerly employed as a maid at the Hotel Rio. She recognized photographs of RAY as an individual who had been a hotel guest some months ago and recalled that he had a white sports car. She said he was friendly but never asked her for a date. She said she did not recall ever seeing anyone visiting the Subject and could not recall the type of luggage he was using. She said she never observed any weapons in his room, but did recall that there were several nights when he apparently had not slept in his bed. She said she mentioned this to the hotel owner, but that there are no records kept concerning incidents of this nature and she was unable to recall the dates when GALT did not spend the night in his room.

The same source advised that the records of the Hotel "Tropicana" were reviewed on April 15, 1968, and showed that ERIC GALT, with an address of 2308 Highland Avenue, Birmingham, Alabama, registered there on November 7, 1967, and departed on November 13, 1967. He occupied Room number 417 and paid 90 pesos ($7.20 U.S.) per day. [redacted] made these records available for review and stated that there were no long-distance telephone charges appearing on this account.

On May 10, 1968, [redacted] Hotel "Tropicana," advised the source that, according to the hotel accounting department, GALT probably checked out between 9 a.m. and 11 a.m. on November 13, 1967.

The Document Section of the FBI Laboratory examined two photostatic copies of the registration card of the Hotel "Tropicana" in the name of ERIC GALT. It was reported that although handwriting characteristics noted indicate the common authorship of the questioned "Galt" signature on this item and the other signatures in this name, a definite conclusion was not reached, partly because of the indistinctness of the photocopies and partly because of the presence of some variations.

On April 23, 1968, [redacted] Telefonos de Mexico, Central Exchange, advised the source that all toll tickets for long-distance calls made by anyone from the Central Exchange in Puerto Vallarta during the period from October 15, 1967, through November 20, 1967, had been forwarded to the company's offices at Mazatlan, Sinaloa, Mexico, and were kept on file there.

JAMES EARL RAY, aka

At Mazatlan, Sinaloa, Mexico

On May 17, 1968, a third confidential source abroad advised that a review had been made of over twelve thousand toll tickets on file at the Telefonos de Mexico offices in Mazatlan. These toll tickets represented long-distance telephone calls made from the Central Exchange in Puerto Vallarta during the period in which GALT is known to have resided there. The source stated that no record was located of any calls in the name of GALT.

BANK RECORDS

At Puerto Vallarta, Jalisco

On April 19, 1968, the second source caused the records of the Banco Industrial de Jalisco, S.A. to be reviewed and no account was located for ERIC S. GALT, JOHN WILLARD or HARVEY LOWMYER. Employees of this bank were unable to recognize a photograph of the Subject.

On April 19, 1968, the same source was advised by [redacted] Banco de Comercio de Guadalajara, S.C., that no record could be located in the files of that bank for any transactions by ERIC S. GALT, JOHN WILLARD or HARVEY LOWMYER. Employees of this bank were unable to recognize a photograph of the Subject.

On April 25, 1968, [redacted] Banco de Comercio de Guadalajara, S.A., advised the source that no record is kept in that bank of travelers checks issued or cashed there. He said that he had personally reviewed the files of all Americans opening accounts in the bank for the past year without encountering the name of any individual who might be identical with GALT.

JAMES EARL RAY, aka

At Mexico, D.F., Mexico

On June 28, 1968, an official of the Special Investigations Department of the Bank of Mexico advised the first source that there is only one bank in Puerto Vallarta, Jalisco, with safety deposit boxes, and this is the Banco Industrial de Jalisco, S.A. This official determined that no safety deposit boxes had been rented at that bank in the second half of October or the first fifteen days of November in 1967. He also determined that the bank has no safety deposit boxes rented to anyone but Mexican citizens.

ASSOCIATES AND GIRLFRIENDS

At Puerto Vallarta, Jalisco, Mexico

On April 15, 1968, LUIS GARCIA, bartender [redacted] Hotel Oceano, advised that he knew ERIC GALT when the latter was staying in Puerto Vallarta. He said that GALT came to the Oceano Hotel bar several times. He said GALT told him he had served nine years in the U. S. Army, but never went anywhere and was now just traveling around. He said GALT spoke little Spanish, had a serious demeanor, and his walk was slow and very erect. He also described him as an individual who was dark from sunburn, had a sharp nose, and wore his hair in a crew cut.

GARCIA [redacted] said that he and GALT had gone out together on two separate occasions after [redacted] finished GARCIA work. He said GALT always drank screwdrivers, but only one or two at a time. He said GALT was not a big spender and recalled that GALT once paid a bill with a U.S. five dollar bill, but usually paid in pesos.

GARCIA [redacted] told of a night when he and GALT were at the Posada Vallarta to see a floor show and, upon leaving, saw a girl named [redacted] waiting for a bus to ELCY return to downtown Puerto Vallarta. They offered this girl a ride and the three went to the Club Los Lobos where GALT became drunk or a little ill and went out to sit in the car. Afterwards, GALT took [redacted] GARCIA to the latter's home [redacted]

[redacted] described the car as a white Mustang with automatic transmission and a red interior. He said the car had blue license plates with letters of another color. He said he told GALT that the plates said "La Habana," and joked with him about FIDEL CASTRO. GALT corrected him, replying that the plates were from Alabama. [redacted] also recalled that GALT complained that one tire on the car was too large.

[redacted] said that he went to GALT's room at the Hotel Rio on the morning after he and GALT had picked up [redacted] He said he saw a portable typewriter there, but no firearms.

On May 9, 1968, the photograph of JAMES EARL RAY which was taken in California in early 1968 was shown to [redacted], and he told the source that this photograph was identical with ERIC GALT.

On April 23, 1968, [redacted] employed at the Casa Susana, Matamoros 503, advised the second source that she recalled the Subject, but could not remember his name. She said she also used the name [redacted] She said the first night that Subject came to this house, which she estimated as being in October or November, 1967, he told her he was on a forty-day vacation in Puerto Vallarta, but did not say where he came from or where he was going. She explained that she has a very limited capability in the English language and that he could speak hardly any Spanish. She said he told her he had a car outside and wanted to take her to the Posada Vallarta [redacted] She refused to leave the car [redacted]

Continuing, [redacted] said that she was absent from the city about eight days, and that when she returned, the Subject was going with [redacted] another girl employed at the Casa Susana. She recalled that one day when the Subject came in, [redacted] was drunk and Subject tried to renew his association with [redacted] She told him he had better stay with [redacted] but he replied that he was through with [redacted] He then left the Casa Susana and she never saw him again.

On May 9, 1968, a photograph of JAMES EARL RAY taken in California in the early part of 1968 was shown to [redacted] and she stated that this was the same individual about whom she had furnished the above information.

On April 23, 1968 [redacted] employed at the Casa Susana, advised the second source that she remembered the Subject as having come to the Casa Susana in about November, 1967, but did not recall his name. She said she saw him at least three times in one week [redacted] but that he was mainly interested in [redacted] She recalled that he had a white Mustang automobile and invited her to go to Yelapa, a nearby recreation area on the coast, but she refused to go. She recalled that he was using both pesos and U.S. dollars in paying his bar bills, but was not able to remember the denominations of the bills he used.

On May 10, 1968, [redacted] examined one photograph of JAMES EARL RAY in which the Subject was wearing sunglasses, and a second photograph which was taken in California in early 1968. She said she recognized the photograph with sunglasses as the person about whom she furnished the foregoing information, but she did not think the second photograph was a very good likeness.

On April 23, 1968, [redacted] Casa Susana, advised the second source that he recalls the Subject and that at one time he was talking about buying the Subject's Mustang. He said that he did not have sufficient money for the car and had discussed trading some land for it. He said he went out in the car with the Subject and [redacted] and the three of them went to see some lots which [redacted] owned. He said that they looked at the lots, but that no serious discussion regarding the trade ever took place. He said the Subject invited him to go to Mismaloya, a beach area near Puerto Vallarta. He said that he and the Subject and [redacted] all went there and spent some time at the beach.

[redacted] also stated that, while at the Casa Cusana, Subject usually drank tequila and Squirt, or a drink made from Bacardi rum. He did not recall that the Subject smoked, and stated that he knew nothing about the Subject seeking or using marijuana.

On April 23, 1968, the second source was advised by [redacted], Boca de Mismaloya, that [redacted] and his brother [redacted], operate a cantina and beach-front recreation area. He recalled the American with the white Mustang who came to the beach with [redacted] a cabaret girl, and [redacted] a bartender from Puerto Vallarta, several months earlier. He said he did not get a good look at the American because the latter stayed on the beach, but that [redacted] said that the American was spending a great deal of money on [redacted]

[redacted] said the American came back two more times and that he had a different American girl with him on each occasion. He did not know these girls and presumed they were tourists. He said all of this activity was within the space of about one week's time, and took place several months ago.

On May 3, 1968, [redacted] Boca de Mismaloya, advised the second source that he immediately recognized the photograph of the Subject with sunglasses as a man who had been at this beach several months earlier in a white Mustang, accompanied by [redacted] a bar girl, and a Mexican whom he believes was [redacted] from the Casa Cusana in Puerto Vallarta. He stated that this man had a noticeable scar on his forehead. He recalled that the Subject was fully dressed at all times and did not wear sunglasses that day. He said that the Subject spoke very little Spanish.

JAMES EARL RAY, aka

On April 17, 1968, [redacted] photographer, Posada Vallarta, advised the second source that [redacted] had been a cigarette girl at the Posada Vallarta and also worked as a camera girl. He remembered that she told him that she had an American boyfriend with a nice car, some kind of Ford. He said this man gave [redacted] enough money to get a place to live by herself so he could visit her but, instead, she took the money and left for Guadalajara.

On May 3, 1968, [redacted] Posada Vallarta, stated to the second source that he recalled the Subject only vaguely and knew very little about him or his activities. He said he did recall that the Subject was dating a girl named [redacted] who worked in the bar selling cigarettes. [redacted] stated that one evening [redacted] asked him to write a note for her in English to the Subject, whose name [redacted] could not recall. He said it seemed that [redacted] had accepted some 500 pesos ($40 U.S.) from the Subject to rent an apartment for them, but that she had used the money to take two of her children to Guadalajara. The note was to explain to the Subject how she had spent his money and to ask his pardon. He recalled that the Subject came into the bar, perhaps that same evening, and [redacted] delivered the note to him. [redacted] said all this took place about four or five months ago, and that he did recall the Subject had a white Mustang. He did not remember ever seeing him again, and was not certain that he could even recognize him if they should meet.

On April 18, 1968, the second source was advised by [redacted] proprietors of a cheap motel at Playa la Gloria, that they remembered an American who drove a white Mustang and came to the hotel in about November 1967 [redacted] They said he came to the hotel once [redacted] and took a corner room. He left about dawn and returned sometime later, locking himself in the room all day. They stated that they considered this very strange behavior.

Mrs. MEZA also stated that she recalls the same individual coming back a fourth time with a prostitute whose name she did not know. She said this woman had left Puerto Vallarta for Tijuana, Baja California, some time ago.

At Guadalajara, Jalisco, Mexico

ELISA ARELLANO TORRES On April 18, 1968, the third source advised that [redacted] age 20, was located at Guadalajara on the night of April 17, 1968. She was living at [redacted] and stated that she was born on January 9, 1948, at Durango, Durango, Mexico.

ELISA ARELLANO [redacted] said that she had been employed as a cigarette girl and photographer at the Posada Vallarta at Puerto Vallarta, Jalisco, in November, 1967. She said that one night after work she was offered a ride back to the central part of town by the bartender of the Oceano Hotel and a white male American, who later identified himself to her as ERIC STEVO GALT. She said that GALT at that time lived at the Hotel Rio, but later moved to the "Tropicana" Hotel. She recalled his automobile as a white Mustang with Alabama license plates. She stated that after this first meeting she had marital relations with GALT for about five days at a place she identified as the Hotel Las Glorias, which is located on the road to the airport from Puerto Vallarta.

ELISA ARELLANO [redacted] said that she parted company with GALT because he wanted her to buy marijuana, which she refused to do. She said he told her he had made various trips to Yelapa in order to buy marijuana. She said she saw him around Puerto Vallarta for about fifteen days after they parted company. She described him as a white male American, about 36 years old, five feet eleven inches tall, regular to slender build, brown hair and a thin nose.

On April 18, 1968, ELISA ARELLANO [redacted] told the third source that while she and GALT were going together, he had asked her to rent an apartment. She said he gave her 600 pesos ($48 U.S.) and was to get more money from the bank. She said she went to a person called [redacted] in the main restaurant of the Posada Vallarta, and asked him to write a letter to GALT apologizing and stating that she could not see him again.

Continuing, [redacted] said that she recalled that GALT only had two or three drinks during the time she spent with him, and recalled that he had a screwdriver or a vodka and tonic. She said he did not smoke, and she never saw him smoking marijuana. He told her that he had gone to Yelapa several times and he seemed to have a lack of energy, and it appeared to tire him to carry on a conversation. She described him as a complete introvert. She said he did not like noisy crowds or sounds, and stated that he did not like children. One of his favorite expressions was that he was very tired, and she thought that he might be a mental case. She said that he had no scars on his body and appeared to have thin legs with a heavy upper trunk.

On June 6, 1968, [redacted] advised the third source, after examining photographs of the subject wearing sunglasses and the photograph taken in California in early 1968, that she recognized both of these photographs as being the same individual whom she knew in Puerto Vallarta, but that in the California photograph he appeared heavier than when she knew him.

On April 21, 1968, the third source advised that [redacted] who was formerly employed at the Casa Susana in Puerto Vallarta, had been identified as [redacted] She was born on December 26, 1943, at Rancho San Isidro, which is in the municipality of Atotonilco, Jalisco, Mexico.

At Atotonilco, Jalisco, Mexico

On April 23, 1968, [redacted] advised the third source that she was formerly employed at the Casa Susana in Puerto Vallarta, Jalisco [redacted]

[redacted] She identified a photograph of JAMES EARL RAY as the individual known as ERIC GALT whom she had met one night at the Casa Susana. She said she could not be certain of the date, but thought it might have been about October 24, 1967. She recalled that during this first visit, GALT spent the evening with [redacted] LA CHILINDRINA

LA CHILINDRINA MANUELA

The next day, GALT came to the house looking for [redacted] who was out of town. He then began his friendship with [redacted]

She recalled that GALT was very methodical and had allowed himself 100 pesos ($8 U.S.) for drinking money and another 100 pesos each day for a girl. She recalled that he drank beer during the daytime and gin at night. She said he invited her to go to Mismaloya, a nearby beach, and that, after postponing the trip for two or three days, they did go to Mismaloya with [redacted], the bartender. She described GALT's automobile as a white automobile with Alabama license plates, and as having a red interior with reclining seats. She said this was a two-door automobile, but she could not remember the make. She said that after swimming, drinking beer and having a seafood lunch, they began the return trip to Puerto Vallarta at about 4 p.m. About half-way along the distance from Mismaloya to Puerto Vallarta, GALT stopped the car and took what appeared to be a new Polaroid camera from an ice chest in the back. He said that this was one of the first rolls of film in the camera and that there were only two pictures left. He mentioned that the camera had cost him a little less than $80. He took a photograph of [redacted] seated at the steering wheel of the car with her skirts up. This photograph was bad and he destroyed it. A little farther on, they stopped at a place called Punta Negra, where GALT took another photograph which was also bad, and he tore it up. She recalled that this was a Saturday and that they arrived back at the Casa Susana about 5 p.m. and GALT departed saying that he would not return that night.

MANUELA

On the next day, a Sunday, [redacted] stated that GALT arrived at the Casa Susana about 9 p.m. She believed that this might have been on October 29, 1967. GALT drank with [redacted] and noted that there were four Negroes and some white people seated at a nearby table. These were sailors from a yacht or private boat which had stopped at Puerto Vallarta.

She said that one Negro was very tall and another was short and fat, about five feet four inches tall. The latter was very drunk, and the whole group was rowdy and having a good time. GALT appeared angry at the Negroes and said insulting things concerning them. He said he hated Negroes. He left his table, said something insulting to the short Negro and returned to his table. All of the individuals at the other table appeared to be talking about GALT.

[redacted] said that GALT then went to his car and came back to the table. He went again to the table where the Negroes were seated and insulted them and returned to his own table. He asked her to feel his pocket and she felt what appeared to be an automatic-type pistol. She believed it to be something similar to a Walther .380 automatic. GALT said he was going to kill them. The tall Negro came to GALT's table and said something in a peaceful manner, but GALT replied in an insulting manner. The tall Negro then returned to his table and took the shorter Negro in his arms and took him out of the house. GALT wanted to go after them, but [redacted] told him this would not be a good idea since it was about 10 p.m. and the police were scheduled to visit the house momentarily. GALT said he wanted nothing to do with the police.

[redacted] said that GALT visited the house again on the following day and told her that he would not see her for several days. He said he wanted to rest and would only sleep and eat. He next returned on what [redacted] recalled as a Thursday of the same week and told her that he planned to move to the "Tropicana" Hotel. He spent more than 200 pesos ($16 U.S.) for drinks and left about midnight.

On the following day, according to [redacted] GALT arrived between 8 and 9 p.m. and she was drunk [redacted] GALT remained to drink at one of the tables and there was a photographer present, causing [redacted] to request that a photograph be taken of GALT with her. GALT did not want his photograph taken, but she insisted. He told her that he planned to go to Yelapa on Saturday or Sunday, and that he did not like to go out in Puerto Vallarta on Saturday or Sunday because there was so much noise and so many people around.

She said that GALT arrived at the house between 8 and 9 p.m. on the following Monday. He invited [redacted] for one drink and was very serious and impolite. He was angry with her for her actions on the previous Friday. He asked her to marry him and she refused. She said that he had previously asked her to marry him. He said that if she would not marry him he was going to invite out some of the other girls. He spent the rest of that evening with [redacted]

[redacted] said that she saw GALT again about three days later, but did not talk with him. She said she did not believe that he saw [redacted] or any of the other girls again, and that she herself did not see him again.

She recalled that GALT drank gin or whatever other drink the bartender at the Casa Susana served him. He did not smoke, and sometimes stated that he did not smoke anything except marijuana. She stated, however, that she never saw him smoke marijuana.

[redacted] said that GALT spoke practically no Spanish and the bartender interpreted for him. She said that GALT had an old pair of sandals that he liked very much and which he said had been bought in Europe. She said she told him to throw the sandals away and buy new ones, but he did not want to get rid of them. She recalled that he definitely could not dance.

JAMES EARL RAY, aka

MANUELA AGUILAR made available the photograph of GALT wearing sunglasses, which had been taken at the Casa Suzana in Puerto Vallarta, Jalisco, on or about November 3, 1967. She said the photograph was taken by a traveling group known as "Foto Rapida."

At Puerto Vallarta, Jalisco

On April 22, 1968, CARLOS PEREZ FOTO TAURINO Hotel Oceano, advised the second source that Foto Rapida was a concern made up of four or five men who came to Puerto Vallarta in the fall of 1967 and were there less than a month. This group spent most of its time in the nightclubs, bars and other places frequented by tourists. They used only Polaroid cameras, and there were no negatives or records kept of the photographs taken. He said all members of this group had left Puerto Vallarta and that their current whereabouts was unknown.

On April 24, 1968, LEOPOLDO CESNEROS Assistant Manager Dairy Queen Shop, Main Plaza, advised the second source that in the fall of 1967 this shop was known as the Discotheque Cafe. He recognized a photograph of the Subject immediately as an almost daily customer for a period during the fall of 1967. He said that Subject came in for three or four weeks about 3 p.m. each day and had a hamburger and a Pepsi Cola. He said that the Subject, in the beginning, usually ate a half-dozen small green chilies with his hamburger. After he stopped ordering these chilies, he told [redacted] that a doctor had advised him to stop eating them.

[redacted] recalled that the Subject drove a white Mustang which he parked outside the shop. He said he had also seen the Subject around the Hotel Rio. He said that on two occasions, the Subject was accompanied by a heavy-set Mexican man whose name was not known to [redacted] said this man had been a regular customer in the past and is believed to be a United States citizen. Then [redacted] asked the Subject whether he had known this man in the United States, the Subject replied that he was just someone he had met on the beach.

With regard to the information that the Subject may have consulted a physician in Puerto Vallarta, the second source contacted the following doctors on the dates indicated with negative results:

FIRESTONE DELUXE CHAMPION TIRE, SIZE 7.50 X 14

In connection with the recovery of the white 1966 Mustang at Atlanta, Georgia, on April 11, 1968, it was discovered that the right front tire on this car was a Firestone Deluxe Champion, size 7.50 x 14, six-ply rating. Stamped on the tire were the words "Hecha en Mexico," with the following identifying numbers: 2-ME-2; BD-33595; N20Z031154. The tube of this tire had a stamp thereon: "G7, General Popo 7.50 x 14. Made for Helke Poc, General Popo, S.A., Mexico D.I."

At Puerto Vallarta, Jalisco, Mexico

On May 7, 1968, [redacted] advised the second source that he operates a gasoline station at the corner of [redacted] and that his wife operates a [redacted] tire store which he owns at [redacted]

On May 7, 1968, [redacted] proprietor of the [redacted] Store, advised the second source that she did not personally recall seeing the Subject or his car since she was upstairs in her apartment at the time of the transaction. She did recall that an American came in several months earlier to buy a 7.45 x 14 tire and, since they did not have one in stock, the clerk sold him a 7.50 x 14. Mrs. [redacted] said that this man asked for a discount because the tire was the wrong size, and the clerk called up to the [redacted] apartment for authority to give the discount. Mrs. [redacted] said she authorized a ten percent discount on the sale.

[redacted] could recall nothing further about the actual sale, and stated that her brother had mounted the tire on the car, but could recall nothing of the incident. She said the store kept no record of tire serial numbers except to note them on the sales slip at the time of the sale for guaranty purposes. She searched invoices of tires received by the store from the [redacted] factory and noted that there were no serial numbers in these invoices. She was, therefore, unable to state whether a particular tire had ever been in their inventory.

TERESA FERNANDEZ, clerk, Firestone [redacted] Store, [redacted] advised the second source on May 7, 1968, that the photograph of the Subject wearing sunglasses was immediately recognizable as a man who came into the store one morning to buy a tire. She said he had apparently come from the [redacted] Tire Store two doors away. She could not recall the date, but believed that it was in January, 1968.

MISS FERNANDEZ [redacted] remembered that the Subject's white Mustang had a tire which was badly road-damaged and he asked for a replacement, size 7.45 x 14. Since there were none of this size in stock, she said, he took a size 7.50 x 14 [redacted] tire, but requested a discount since it was the wrong size. [redacted] said she spoke to [redacted] who was in the upstairs apartment, and a ten percent discount was authorized. She said that, since the tire was slightly larger, and because the use of tubes is always recommended due to the difficult terrain, the Subject walked to the [redacted] Store and came back with a tube which he had purchased himself. The tire was mounted outside the store by [redacted] brother.

MISS FERNANDEZ [redacted] searched for the sales slip recording this transaction, but was unable to locate it. She said that the Subject did not give her his name, and that, since he was not a Mexican, she did not bother to ask his name or to note the serial number of the tire on the sales slip, since this is only done for guaranty purposes.

MISS FREGOSO [redacted] said she lives near the Casa Susana and, after she sold the tire, she remembered seeing the same white Mustang parked on [redacted] around the corner from the Casa Susana. The car was parked in front of a vacant lot and she thought this strange since she saw it there about 8 in the morning on several occasions while she was walking to work. On one occasion as she was on her way to lunch, she saw the Subject park his car and walk up and turn into Matamoros Street. She said she never saw him with any other person and that he was alone the day he came to the store to purchase the tire.

JAMES EARL RAY, aka

On May 7, 1968, ANA MARIA MADERO, clerk, [redacted] Tire Store, [redacted] advised the second source that the code "G7" indicates that a tube with this marking will fit a 7.50 x 14 tire. She said she did not recognize the photograph of the subject or recall his car. She could find no record of a sale of any item to ERIC GALT from October 7, 1967, to May 7, 1968.

MISS MADERO [redacted] stated that if she did not know the name of the person to whom she made a sale, but knew that the sale was connected with a purchase made at the [redacted] Store, she normally put the name of [redacted] on the sales slip. In this connection, a review of the sales slips showed that a G7 tube was sold for cash to [redacted] on October 26, 1967, and on January 13, 1968. In each case, the price was 57 pesos ($4.56 U.S.).

Re: [redacted]
PAROLE VIOLATOR

On June 2, 1967, [redacted] FBI Number [redacted] then an inmate of the County Jail, Sherman, Texas, advised a Special Agent of the Federal Bureau of Investigation that while in Leavenworth Penitentiary, Leavenworth, Kansas, from July, 1965, until April, 1967, he became very friendly with an inmate identified as [redacted] described [redacted] as having come originally from western Kansas and as having allegedly been a Mississippi bootlegger. According to [redacted] he and [redacted] worked together in the shoe factory at Leavenworth.

Just before [redacted] was paroled, [redacted] approached him and stated he knew [redacted] was going to Atlanta and he told [redacted] that $100,000 had been offered by the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan of Mississippi (WKKKKOM) to be paid to anyone who would kill Martin Luther King, Jr. [redacted] said that [redacted] instructed him to contact a [redacted] at the [redacted] Company, Jackson, Mississippi. [redacted] indicated he would write to [redacted] that [redacted] was "okay" and when [redacted] contacted [redacted] she should write to [redacted] and tell him that [redacted] had arrived.

Records of Leavenworth Penitentiary, Leavenworth, Kansas, reflect that one [redacted] a white male, born [redacted] began his sentence at Leavenworth [redacted] These records reflect that [redacted] had written often to a [redacted] who lives in Jackson, Mississippi, and that he had received seven visits from [redacted] These records further reflect that [redacted] planned to work with [redacted] in the real estate business upon his release from Leavenworth.

On August 8, 1967, [redacted] Jackson, Mississippi, advised a Special Agent of the Federal Bureau of Investigation that she was well acquainted with [redacted] and frequently corresponded with him at Leavenworth Penitentiary. She explained that early in 1964 she rented a room at her residence where [redacted] stayed for a few weeks and that as far as she knew this was the only time he had spent in Mississippi. She did not believe him to have ever been involved in Klan activities or to have ever associated with anyone involved in Klan activities. She also denied any personal involvement in Klan activities.

She stated she had never heard of [redacted] and she denied having any knowledge of any plot to kill Martin Luther King, Jr.

Following the murder of Martin Luther King, Jr., on April 4, 1968, [redacted] was reinterviewed by Special Agents of the Federal Bureau of Investigation regarding the possibility of her having any knowledge of a plot to murder King. She said she recalled that in 1964 when she first met [redacted] the murder of three civil rights workers in Neshoba County, Mississippi, was getting a great deal of publicity and the Sheriff of Neshoba County was presumed to be, according to the news media, a member of the Klan. She recalled mentioning to [redacted] that her business was in minor financial difficulty and that if she approached the Sheriff of Neshoba County, she could probably get $100,000 for killing King. She said she now realized that [redacted] had taken her casual statement seriously and she also realized, since King's murder, the seriousness of such a statement. [redacted] denied having any knowledge of any plot to murder King.

On the morning of August 5, 1968, [redacted] who was then being sought for violation of his parole, surrendered himself at St. Louis, Missouri, to Special Agents of the Federal Bureau of Investigation. [redacted] advised these Agents that he had been living and working in Tampa, Florida, and furnished the following information as being the reason for his having left the Atlanta, Georgia, area:

Around the first or second of December, 1967, as he was leaving the Federal Building in Atlanta, Georgia, after having contacted his parole officer, [redacted] was hailed on the steps of the Federal Building by an unknown individual. This person told [redacted] he had a message for him from [redacted] stated he believed [redacted] to be [redacted] whom he had known at Leavenworth Penitentiary and who had told him of the $100,000 being offered by the WKKKKOM to anyone who would kill Martin Luther King, Jr.

The unknown person who spoke to [redacted] then told [redacted] that apparently someone had done some talking. [redacted] assumed that this person was referring to information that [redacted] had furnished to the FBI in Sherman, Texas, in April, 1967. At this moment an associate of [redacted] called to him from across the street and the unknown individual immediately walked away. [redacted] assumed that this unknown individual had thought the person calling him might be a law enforcement officer and that the unknown individual did not desire them to learn his identity. [redacted] stated further that the more he thought about this incident, the more alarmed he became and he shortly left Atlanta and obtained other employment.

He said the only other incidents which aroused his suspicions were telephone calls made to him at his place of employment during which the caller declined to reveal his identity. [redacted] stated he considered relating these facts to his parole officer at Atlanta but decided against it since he did not trust his parole officer and since he was afraid his parole might be revoked. He [redacted] stated he also considered notifying the FBI in Atlanta but decided against this also. He stated he felt uncomfortable and worried in the Atlanta area in view of the information he had furnished in connection with the bounty on Martin Luther King, Jr.

Ray's Attorney Charges Holloman Hurts Task

By CHARLES EDMUNDSON

Attorneys for James Earl Ray, charged with killing Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., yesterday won nearly all their motions in Criminal Court to gain access to prosecution evidence but immediately announced more motions will be filed.

Arthur J. Hanes of Birmingham, chief counsel for Ray, charged Fire and Police Director Frank Holloman with taking part in a "conspiracy of silence" blocking the defense from talking to prospective witnesses.

Mr. Hanes cited Capt. Charles G. Wardlow of Fire Station No. 2, near the Lorraine Motel where Dr. King was fatally shot April 4, as a prospective witness who said he had been told not to talk.

Mr. Holloman denied giving such an order.

"I told my men to check with the attorney general's office," Mr. Holloman said, "and that whatever is all right with them is all right with me."

Judge W. Preston Battle told Mr. Hanes to put his additional motions in writing. He set a hearing on the new motions for Sept. 18.

One of the motions, Mr. Hanes said, will seek to give him entrance to the room Ray is said to have occupied at a rooming house at 422½ South Main, from the bathroom of which the state claims the fatal shot was fired.

Judge Battle let Mr. Hanes argue at length that a "fog, a shroud of unfavorable publicity" has made it impossible for Ray to obtain a fair trial anywhere in the United States and then overruled a motion to quash the indictment.

"I have sat in a quasi-judicial capacity," Judge Battle said, "... have been connected with the criminal courts since 1926. I have seen cases drenched with publicity. But I believe we have obtained fair and impartial jurors. My considered opinion is that we can do just in this case."

Judge Battle declined to issue a special order for witnesses to talk with Mr. Hanes. But he asked Memphis newspapers to note that his order on pretrial publicity specifies that nothing in it is to inhibit conversations between prospective witnesses and counsel for the defense or prosecution.

Hanes was denied access to FBI ballistic test results, but told he could test fire the impounded rifle and have his own tests made.

The names and addresses of prospective witnesses fill more than six typewritten pages, said Asst. Atty. James C. Beasley, who did most of the talking for the state.

Mr. Hanes protested to the court that the conditions of Ray's imprisonment — on the fourth floor of the Criminal Courts Building, just above Judge Battle's courtroom — constitute "cruel and inhuman treatment."

Judge Battle asked Mr. Hanes to put his complaint in the form of a written motion, to be argued, like the others, Sept. 18.

The trial is set for Nov. 12.

Judge Battle ordered Ray's attorneys to be given access to scores of pieces of evidence the state is expected to use in its effort to convict the 42-year-old defendant, who was not in the courtroom yesterday.

This evidence includes the deer rifle said to be the fatal weapon, now in the safe of Criminal Court Clerk J. A. Blackwell; fragments of the fatal bullet; passport and visa records used by Ray under the alias of Ramon Sneyd; fingerprints found on a road map and other objects left in a white Mustang, now garaged in Atlanta and said to be the escape vehicle.

Other evidence Hanes is to see includes penal records of Ray, military records, including his proficiency as a marksman, motel, hotel and travel records, bank records, statements made by Ray, and names and addresses of all prospective witnesses.

Mr. William Bradford Huie was interviewed at his home in Hartselle, Alabama, at his request. He advised that while James Earl Ray was incarcerated in London, England, he (Huie) entered into a contract with Ray to write the true account of Ray's activities and background concerning the assassination of Martin Luther King, Jr. This contract is also of interest to Arthur Hanes, Ray's attorney, inasmuch as the cost of the trial, including attorney's fees, is dependent upon the commercial success of the contract. Mr. Huie has advised that to date he has invested approximately $20,000 in this venture.

Mr. Huie further related he is in constant contact with Ray through Attorney Hanes in the form of written questions and answers by Ray. These items include names of cities, states, places, maps and individuals contacted by Ray, as well as activities from the date of his escape from prison to his apprehension in England.

Mr. Huie stated that he has been refused personal contact with Ray by Judge W. Preston Battle, the judge who will handle the trial. Mr. Huie further stated that he desires to obtain current nonpublicized photographs of Ray and he would be most willing to divulge all information he has received to date to the Bureau on a confidential basis provided his request could be met. Mr. Huie was advised that this Bureau would not attempt to influence, interfere with, or suggest action taken by state officials or courts.

On August 27, 1968, [redacted] of your Division was advised that William Bradford Huie has obtained notes from James Earl Ray, and Mr. Huie is preparing an article in "Look" magazine based on these notes. Hanes 'Not Satisfied' After Conference

By ROBERT KELLETT

Attorneys for James Earl Ray met yesterday with the man who has been characterized as the state's chief witness in its charges against Ray in the assassination of Dr. Martin Luther King and came away apparently displeased with their initial confrontation.

Arthur J. Hanes of Birmingham said last night, "we were not satisfied and that is all we can say" about the brief 12:30 p.m. meeting with Charles Quitman Stephens.

He said he and his son, Arthur J. Hanes Jr., may have more to say about the meeting in the offices of Mr. Stephens' attorneys after a court session this morning in which they are to argue three preliminary motions they have presented in the defense of Ray.

The attorneys and Mr. Stephens met with attorneys Jay Fred Friedman and Harvey Gipson in Mr. Friedman's offices in the 100 North Main Building for slightly more than 10 minutes. None would comment about what was said.

"Mr. Hanes did most of the talking. You'd have to ask him whether or not he was satisfied with the meeting," said Mr. Friedman. "Part of the time we sat back there and waited for the TV people to go." He said he did not know whether Mr. Stephens would discuss the case with Ray's attorneys in any future meetings.

"We have no interest in Mr. Hanes' lawsuit," he said. "We've tried ours and ours is over. Whatever Mr. Stephens knows, we don't know and don't want to know."

Mr. Friedman and Mr. Gipson successfully represented Mr. Stephens in a habeas corpus action seeking his release from Shelby County Jail, where he had been held as a material witness under $10,000 bond. Mr. Stephens is said to have seen a man leave a rooming house on South Main soon after the fatal bullet was believed fired from the building.

Part of the apparent chill in the meeting appeared to be a result of the presence of press and television representatives when the Birmingham attorneys arrived for the meeting which had been set at Mr. Hanes request.

"They (Mr. Stephens' attorneys) notified them to be there," said Mr. Hanes. "We were surprised. We did not want them there. We were chagrined and just said we couldn't talk with them there."

"And Stephens' city bodyguards were outside the door. Whether or not they were eavesdropping, I don't know."

Mr. Friedman said he did not know how news representatives learned of the meeting in his office.

Mr. Hanes, who said he does not anticipate his client's being present when his motions are heard this morning, said "there is a possibility" that he will meet today with persons who are believed to be state witnesses in the case.

One county source said that although Ray may not be in court today, security measures will be carried out in accord with the court's extensive order "pretty much" as if Ray were there.

One of Mr. Hanes' motions to be heard today asks the court to dismiss the first degree murder charge against Ray on the ground that "pervasive and widespread publicity" has made it impossible for him to receive a fair trial anywhere in the United States.

The motion, filed Aug. 16, said further that radio and television network programs "so canonized and so depicted the victim of the crime (Dr. King)" that "widespread public outrage and hatred have been generated" toward Ray.

Another motion asks dismissal of a charge that Ray carried a dangerous weapon for the purpose of going armed.

The third motion asks Judge Preston Battle, who has set the Ray trial for Nov. 12, to direct Atty. Gen. Phil M. Canale to give defense counsel access to all records, physical evidence and witnesses the state expects to use in the trial.

Mr. Canale has agreed to furnish names and addresses of prosecution witnesses to the defense and to make available, with proper protection, some but not all of the 20-odd items of physical evidence the defense asked to see.

Mr. Hanes yesterday ended speculation that he might associate with a local attorney in the defense of Ray. "We plan to have no local associates and for that matter never did have such plans."

Hanes Says Ray Won't Appear

Court Moves Friday Won't Require His Presence, Attorney Says

By CHARLES EDMUNDSON

James Earl Ray, charged with slaying Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., will be absent from the courtroom Friday when defense and prosecution argue preliminary motions looking toward Ray's Nov. 12 trial.

Arthur Hanes, Ray's attorney, said at his office in Birmingham yesterday he will not have Ray in the courtroom. "His presence is not necessary for the argument of preliminary motions," Mr. Hanes said.

Mr. Hanes, accompanied by his son, Arthur Hanes Jr., co-counsel for Ray, will fly to Memphis Thursday night. The hearing before Judge W. Preston Battle is set for 9:30 a.m. Friday.

One motion asks the court to provide the defense with access to all state witnesses and all items of physical evidence.

Atty Gen. Phil Canale has filed with the Criminal Court clerk his agreement to give the defense the names and addresses of its witnesses, several of whom are in voluntary protective custody. Mr. Canale agreed to give Mr. Hanes access to certain items of physical evidence, but indicated he will oppose an order to let the defense see all the evidence.

It appears that one contested item may be a fingerprint, said to be Ray's, found on a road map left in a white Mustang abandoned in Atlanta a day or so after Dr. King was shot here April 4. According to one report, the fingerprint conforms only to a certain number of the indices required for a positively identifiable fingerprint.

Mr. Hanes also may ask to see—and Mr. Canale may oppose his seeing—FBI ballistic studies of the fatal bullet in relation to the riflings of the barrel of the gun said to have fired the shot. The rifle was left on the sidewalk near 422½ South Main, minutes after Dr. King was shot on the balcony of the Lorraine Motel, a block east.

Also to be argued is a defense motion asking the court to quash Ray's indictment, on the ground that widespread publicity has made it impossible for a fair trial to be held anywhere in the United States.

The material which you have written for me is most helpful. With it I can re-create your escape on April 23, 1967, your walk toward Kansas City, how you reached Chicago, and how you lived there for about two months, working at the Indian Trail Restaurant in Winnetka.

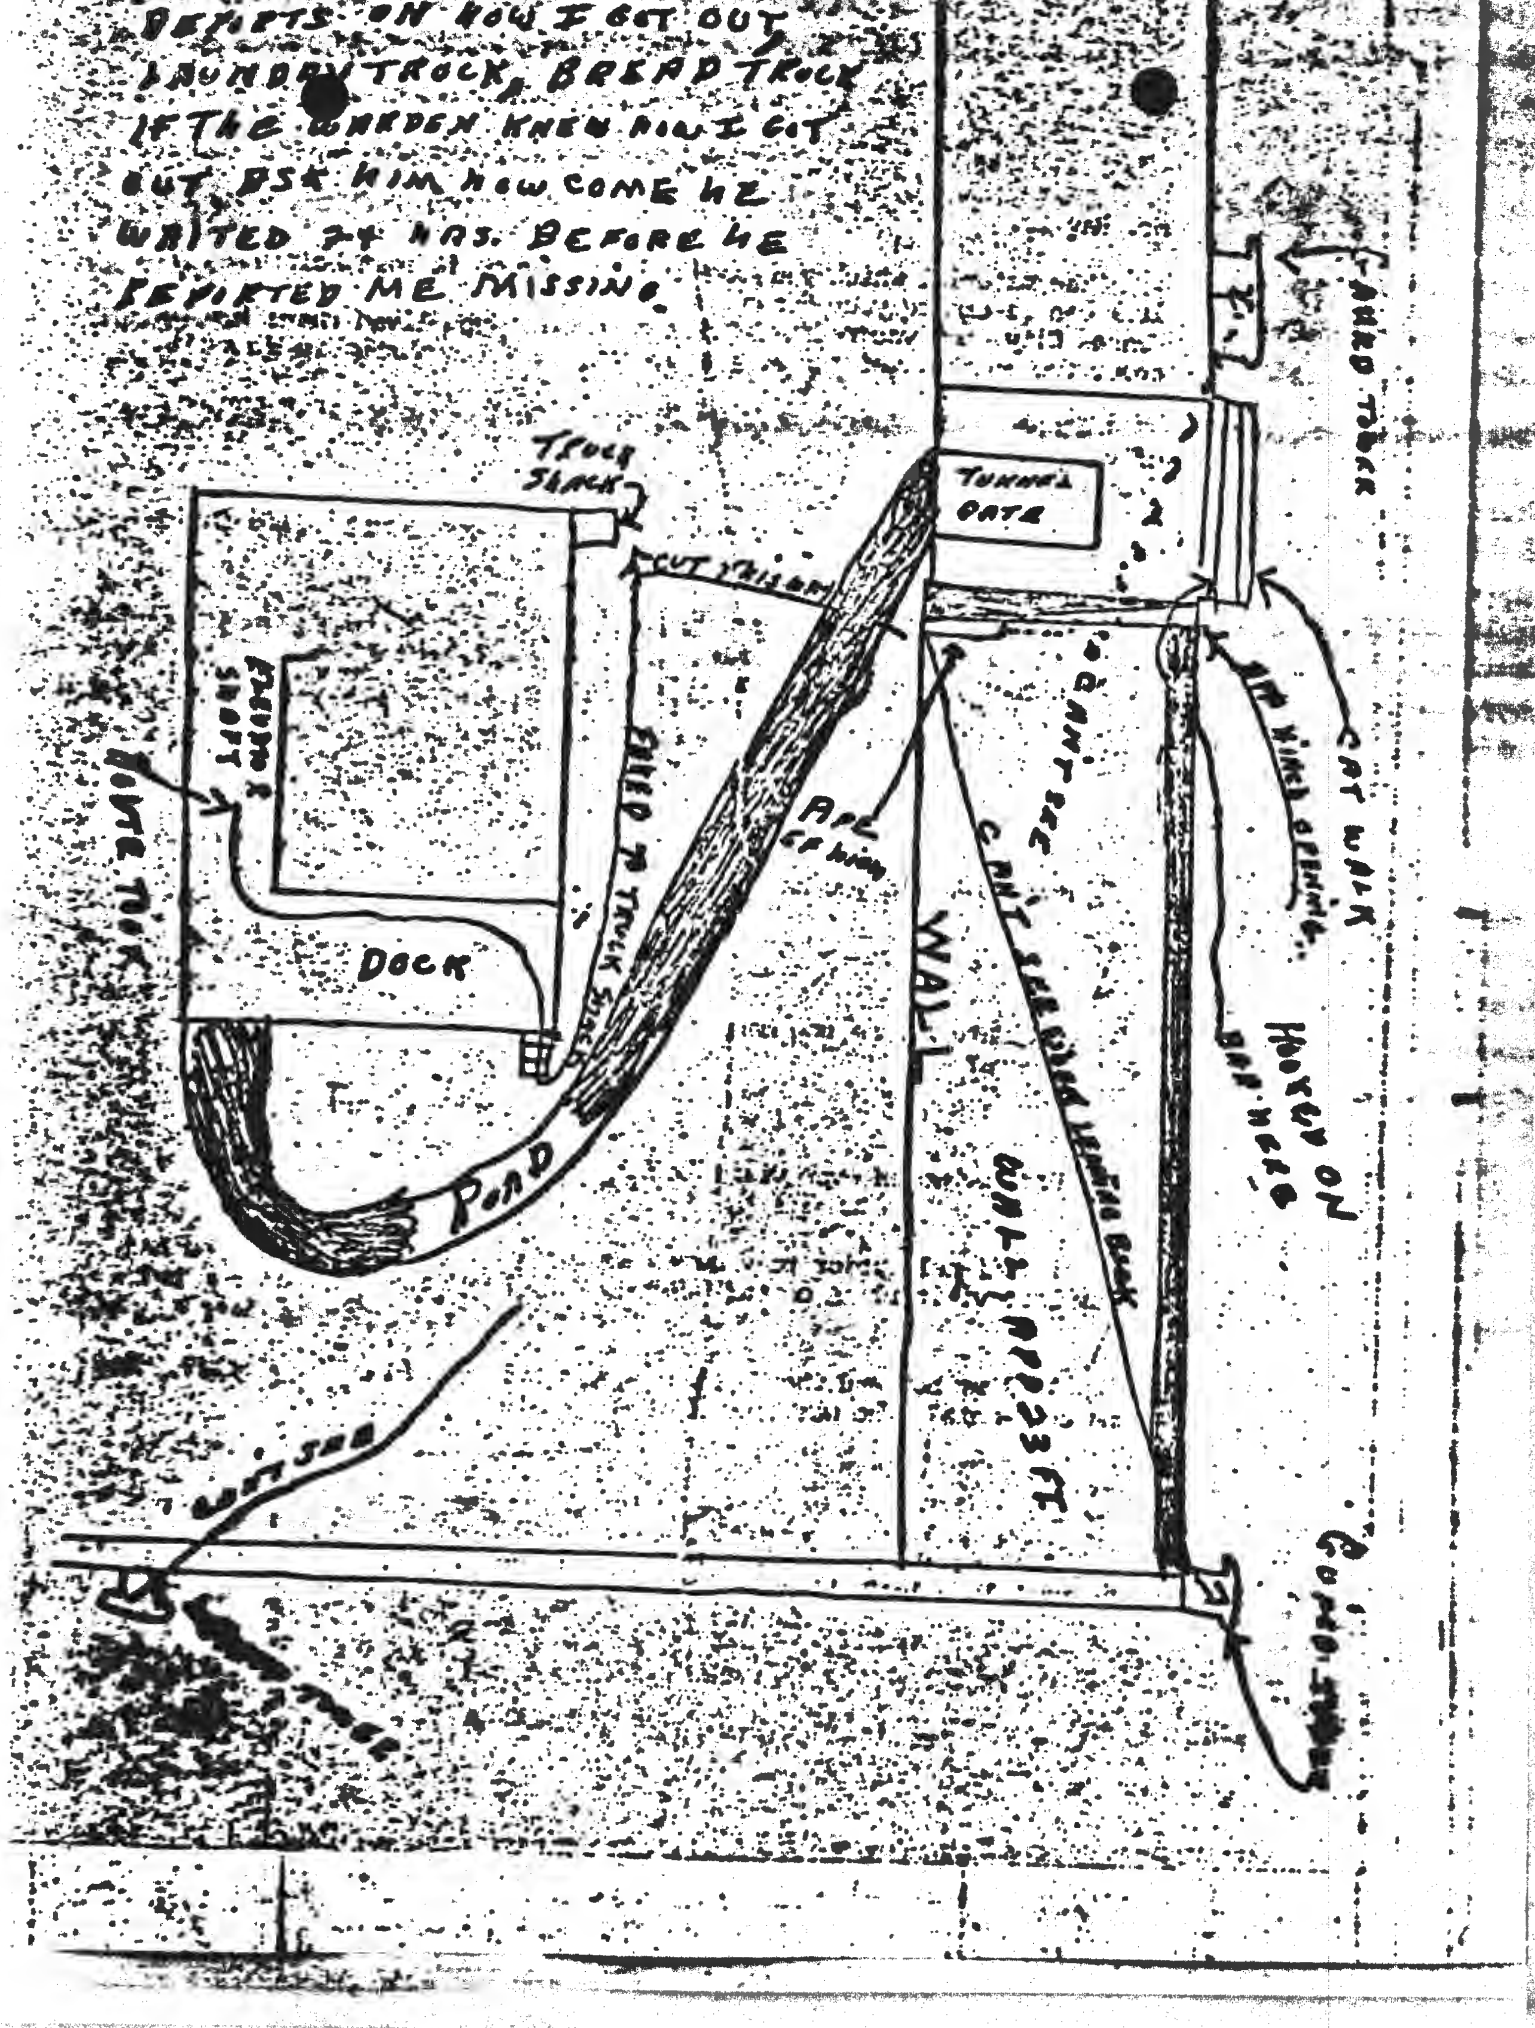
I need exactly this sort of information for every other period of your life from the day you left Chicago for Canada....This 11 months from your escape down to about March 1, 1968.

I also need some additional detail as to your way of life inside the prison during the seven years prior to your escape.

Here are more questions:

In that seven years name for me all the people who visited you.

How often did you have a visit from somebody?



Estimate for me how many times you had a visitor during that seven years?

Did any woman ever visit you?

Immediately prior to your escape on April 23rd, when had you had your last visitor? A month? Three months? Christmas? Six months?

Tell me how and where you slept in prison? Alone in a cell? With one cell-mate? Who was your last cell-mate?

Tell me about this last cell-mate? Who? What crime was he in for? Did he talk a lot? What about?

RE: SUSPECTS [redacted]

Enclosed herewith for the Identification Division are three fingerprint cards bearing prints of [redacted] and two fingerprint cards bearing prints of Miss [redacted], both employees of the [redacted] Hotel, Memphis, Tennessee.

[redacted] Homicide Bureau, Memphis Police Department, Memphis, Tennessee, advised [redacted] on 8/12/68 that according to records of the Memphis Police Department the registration cards of the [redacted] Hotel, [redacted] Memphis, for [redacted] and [redacted] on 4/4/68 were obtained by officers of the Memphis Police Department. Memphis Police Department for protection of these cards from being handled. He pointed out further the Memphis Police Department has no way of knowing if any other law enforcement agency personnel has handled these registration cards.

Inasmuch as it cannot be determined with any certainty the identity of the individuals at the Memphis Police Department that may have or likely handled these registration cards, no elimination prints will be obtained from personnel of the Memphis Police Department.

With regard to personnel of the [redacted] Hotel mentioned above, who likely handled these cards, [redacted] Manager of the [redacted] Hotel, advised [redacted] on 8/16/68 the only logical persons who would normally handle the above-described registration cards are [redacted] who registered captioned individuals into the hotel, and [redacted] telephone operator, whose duty it is to file the registration cards for the hotel. He pointed out, however, all personnel of the hotel do have access to the registration cards should the need arise. He also commented other individuals such as the various law enforcement officers at times have access to and do handle the registration cards.

Bearing the above comments in mind as related by [redacted], elimination prints of [redacted] and [redacted] are obtained. It is obvious the enclosed prints are not of good quality or clarity; however, the Bureau is requested to bear in mind the age of both of these women and the fact both commented while being printed that they are suffering from arthritis and therefore were not able to cooperate as well as they would have liked to, so as to furnish clear prints. Additional prints are enclosed of these two individuals so as to be of assistance, if possible, in the examination.

The FBI Identification Division, Latent Fingerprint Section, is requested to examine the enclosed fingerprint cards with the unidentified latent prints developed on the [redacted] Hotel registration cards concerning [redacted] and [redacted]

ADDENDUM OF THE IDENTIFICATION DIVISION: RFL/egd 8-29-68

Submitted elimination prints not identical with latent prints previously reported on [redacted] Hotel registration cards. Memphis Division advised.

Recommend matter (see memorandum A. Rosen to Mr. DeLoach, dated August 5, 1968, entitled "Murkin") be referred to General Investigative Division for further consideration.

As a result of checking various hotels and motels in Memphis, Tennessee, regarding suspects in the Martin Luther King, Jr. assassination it was determined that an individual by the name of [redacted] and another by the name of [redacted] registered at the [redacted] Hotel in Memphis on April 4, 1968. On April 5, 1968, they made a hasty departure from the hotel taking a taxicab to the Memphis Airport. Investigation strongly indicates that these two individuals departed Memphis by Delta Airlines Flight No. 157 nonstop to Houston, Texas, on April 5, 1968, using the names of [redacted] and [redacted].

This matter has been thoroughly checked with negative results in order to determine the true identity of these individuals. It appears that these two individuals may have been in Memphis for the possibility of committing some illegal activity, or there as possible fugitives "cooling off" and departed immediately because of the pressure of law enforcement on the King assassination.

In view of the fact that these two individuals may be Bureau fugitives and could be possibly implicated as co-conspirators, it is recommended that this matter be referred to the Identification Division for the purpose of determining if it is feasible to check all unidentified latent fingerprints from the registration cards of the [redacted] Hotel with that of white Bureau fugitives between the ages of 20 and 35. It is noted that the best available information indicates that [redacted] and [redacted] are described as white males between the ages of 20 and 35.

On September 1, 1968, William Bradford Huie, author, whose books included "Three Lives for Mississippi," dealing with the murder of three Civil Rights workers in June of 1964, was contacted by our Birmingham Agents at his home in Hartselle, Alabama, upon his request. Huie requested that the interview be kept in confidence for reasons depicted in the information furnished.

Huie stated that while James Earl Ray was incarcerated in London, England, he (Huie) entered into a contract with Ray to write the true account of Ray's activities and background concerning the assassination of Martin Luther King, Jr. This contract is also of interest to Ray's attorney, Arthur Hanes, inasmuch as the cost of the trial, including attorney fees, is dependent upon the commercial success of the contract. Huie has advised that to date he has invested approximately $20,000 in this venture. Huie further relates he is in constant contact with subject Ray through Attorney Hanes in the form of written questions and answers by Ray, which includes names of cities, states, places, maps and individuals contacted by Ray, as well as activities from the date of his escape from prison to his apprehension in England.

Huie stated that to date he has been refused personal contact with Ray by Judge W. Preston Battle, the judge who will handle the trial, state of Tennessee. He stated that he is highly desirous in obtaining current non-publicized photographs of Ray which would be the character type rather than the mug shots.

Huie stated he would be most willing to divulge all information he has received to date to the Bureau on a confidential basis, as well as all information he may receive in the future on a current basis, provided the requests could be met.

RE: MURKIN

Mr. Huie advised that the Bureau is not attempting to influence, interfere, or suggest action taken by state officials or courts.

We are running out information in Huie's possession developed through sources, regarding previously unknown activities of Ray between the time of his escape in April, 1967, and his apprehension on June 8, 1968. The Department has been alerted to Huie's contemplated "Look" story on Ray and has under consideration the question of obtaining a search warrant or subpoena duces tecum for his notes and/or calling Huie before a Federal Grand Jury. If Department declines to take any action on this information, we will furnish the information to the appropriate local authorities. This is being followed closely with the Department.

With regard to personnel of the [redacted] Hotel, mentioned above, who likely handled these cards, [redacted] Manager of the [redacted] Hotel, advised [redacted] on 5/16/68 the only logical persons who would normally handle the above-described registration cards are [redacted] who registered captioned individuals into the hotel, and [redacted] telephone operator, whose duty it is to file the registration cards for the hotel. He pointed out, however, all personnel of the hotel do have access to the registration cards should the need arise. He also commented other individuals such as the various law enforcement officers at times have access to and do handle the registration cards.

Bearing the above comments in mind as related by [redacted] elimination prints of [redacted] and [redacted] were obtained. It is obvious the enclosed prints are not of good quality or clarity; however, the Bureau is requested to bear in mind the age of both of these women and the fact both commented while being printed that they are suffering from arthritis and therefore were not able to cooperate as well as they would have liked to, so as to furnish clear prints. Additional prints are enclosed of these two individuals so as to be of assistance, if possible, in the examination.

The FBI Identification Division, Latent Fingerprint Section, is requested to examine the enclosed fingerprint cards with the unidentified latent prints developed on the William Lee Hotel registration cards concerning [redacted] and [redacted]

Note: See addendum on attached page.

ADDENDUM OF THE IDENTIFICATION DIVISION: SFL/egd 8-29-68

Submitted elimination prints not identical with latent prints previously reported on [redacted] Hotel registration cards. Memphis Division advised.

Recommend matter (see memorandum A. Rosen to Mr. DeLoach, dated August 5, 1968, entitled "Murkin") be referred to General Investigative Division for further consideration.

Actually, Ray is 40 years old.

Confused? So are the authorities.

Also, two white Mustangs showed up . . . and two cities as well as two drought farmers and other confusing "evidence."

The mystery has been reported in Mexico . . . Cuba . . . South America . . . and at the bottom of a lake attached to a huge concrete block.

The FBI, although keeping fairly mum about its investigation, has looked into the possibility that some of the "clues" may have been planted to throw the investigation off on the wrong track.

If so, those guys the first thing that the killer acted alone in this crime.

One theory popped up concerning the Memphis police department. The department was charged at those quarters as being "nigger haters" and some even went so far as to suggest that persons within the department either committed the crime, helped set it up, or aided the actual killer in his escape.

And speaking of fingerprints, when James Earl Ray escaped from prison a year ago, an extensive set of fingerprints was circulated to law enforcement agencies. The warden said a new set of prints was sent out later but law enforcement officials in Georgia and Alabama said they never received the second set.

So far, to the month for Ray, all trails lead to the same place – nowhere.

James Earl Ray, the man being sought around the world for the slaying of Dr. King, has been described as a drunken drifter, prone to thievery and violence, a failure at everything.

Ray was born March 10, 1928, in Alton, Ill., a manufacturing town of 53,000 persons, along the Mississippi River, 20 miles north of St. Louis.

The chances that Saigon will obtain either commitment are dim. The United States has resisted the concept of a South Vietnamese veto on diplomatic policy as consistently as South Vietnam has tried to obtain it over the years.

Ray Learned Life in Slums, Jail

The fact does not solve the enigma of the man who jubilantly lived it up as a fugitive from the Missouri State Prison for nearly a year before the slaying of the Nobel Peace Prize winner.

THAT FACT of the conviction, with fingerprint evidence on the murder rifle produced by the U.S. government in the Bow Street magistrates' court last Thursday, does not shed light on why Ray allegedly killed Rev. Dr. King. Whether it was a lone assassin or a domestic, political or international conspiracy.

Who is this dumb lug who grew to manhood in prison cells?

Where did Ray get money for alligator shoes? For a white 1966 Mustang? For cross-country trips? For airplane tickets? Who kept Ray on ice, safe from the long arm of the Missouri state officials for 13 months after he escaped from the old walled penitentiary at Jefferson City, Mo.?

There is one man who knows all the answers. That is Ray himself.

THE REST IS a patchwork of random facts, guesses, conjectures and projections.

The Plain Dealer tried to pull the strings of the mystery bag of James Earl Ray together.

Newspaper reporters all over the country, in Canada, England and Portugal have backtracked on Ray's activities which already were closely examined by the FBI, the Royal Canadian Mounted Police and Scotland Yard, not to mention supporting roles of local police the world over.

The Plain Dealer backtracked, too, and came up with more details to put flesh and blood on the formerly flat image of James Earl Ray, alias James McBride, James Walton, W. C. Herron, James O'Connor, Eric Starvo Galt, Paul

To find what kind of man is James Earl Ray, accused of the murder of Rev. Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., The Plain Dealer assigned Reporter Doris O'Donnell to take his trail. She visited Jefferson City, Mo., where he escaped prison; St. Louis, where he spent part of his life, and Toronto, where he lived before fleeing to Europe.

Jefferson City, knew Ray as one of about 1,200 men behind the walls, a few short blocks from the state capitol and the governor's mansion on the Missouri River.

"He was no more a mentality as any person I ever met," Wilkinson said. "He was innocuous."

Wilkinson is an expert in his field. He has spent 20 years in the federal prison system, including a five-year term with the Bureau of Prisons in Washington.

"HE WAS LIKE anyone else," Wilkinson said. "His pattern of existence in the penitentiary. Owens got chips, no enemies.' He was a passive personality. He gave the appearance of indolence. His attitude was 'Here I am, so what?' "

Ray, incidentally, had been arrested with an accomplice, James Owens, for the robbery of a Kroger Co. store on Ohio Avenue in South St. Louis. he was sentenced on two counts — armed robbery and auto theft — to 20 years in the penitentiary. Owens got only seven years. During the fifth day of his trial before Circuit Court, Judge John C. Casey in St. Louis, Ray tried to escape. He was caught by sheriff's deputies in an elevator in the Municipal Court Building.

Attempted jail escapes, said Wilkinson, took Ray out of the innocuous class several times.

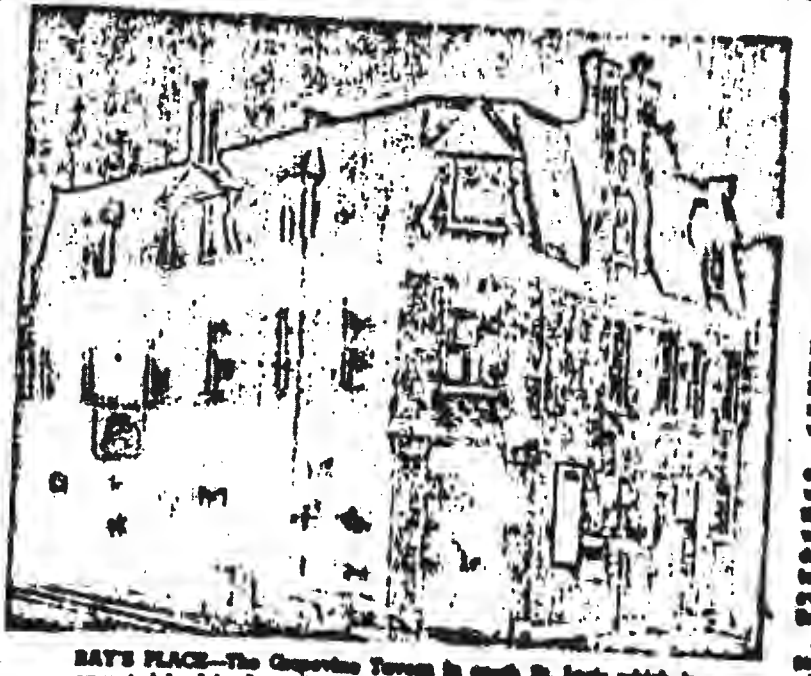
"He tried to attempt other-

But officials finally discovered that a 300-foot bread box, in which bread was trucked twice a week from the prison to the prison farms, was Ray's hiding place to the outside.

Wilkinson said he is convinced Ray had the aid of another inmate, who also worked in the kitchen with Ray.

RAY, WORKING in the kitchen slicing bread, wore white clothes, not the green dungarees with black stripes worn by regular prisoners.

No one knows, Wilkinson said, how Ray left Jefferson City. No leads have developed on whether he left by foot, car or airplane.



A brother, John Larry Ray, had visited Ray for 4½ hours the day before Ray disappeared. He made his escape about 8:30 a.m. and a check was not made until 1 p.m.

John Ray told a St. Louis Post-Dispatch reporter that: "Jie and I both are strong supporters of George Wallace," former Alabama governor and a states rights candidate for president.

Wilkinson saw nothing significant in the Ray brothers talking politics or talking George C. Wallace.

"FOUR AND a half hours is a long time," Wilkinson said. "Even the closest of relatives run out of things to talk about."

Wilkinson said sometimes a probing bar is used in the bread boxes when the truck is in the sally port, a tunnel through which the truck

RAY'S PLACE—The Grapevine Tavern in south St. Louis which is operated by John Larry Ray.

Pair claim Ray could have left with a hundred as high as $2,000.

One prisoner told me: "I saw a man with $7,000 on him the other night."

But Wilkinson's records show the most Ray ever "had on the books" was two entries of $5 each which he sent to a brother in 1953.

"THAT'S THE biggest money he ever dealt with," Wilkinson said.

Ray ordered items from Sears, Roebuck — hunting Ryan, and his grandmother as Mrs. Mary Mahler, 1513 Hickory Street, St. Louis.

Both women are dead, but they are not forgotten on the hot, dusty street in South St. Louis.

[illegible] Hickory Street is a dreary brick house with the French architectural influence of 75-100 years old. The section of Missouri Avenue was once the proud tree-lined properties of well-to-do merchants.

But the neighbors on Hickory Street had to admit they saw little of Seaman Earl Ray during the past 30 years.

Ray enlisted in the Army in 1918 and was out in 1921. He served three months of hard labor for being drunk and resisting arrest.

In 1934, [illegible] was given a 60-day sentence in Los Ala-

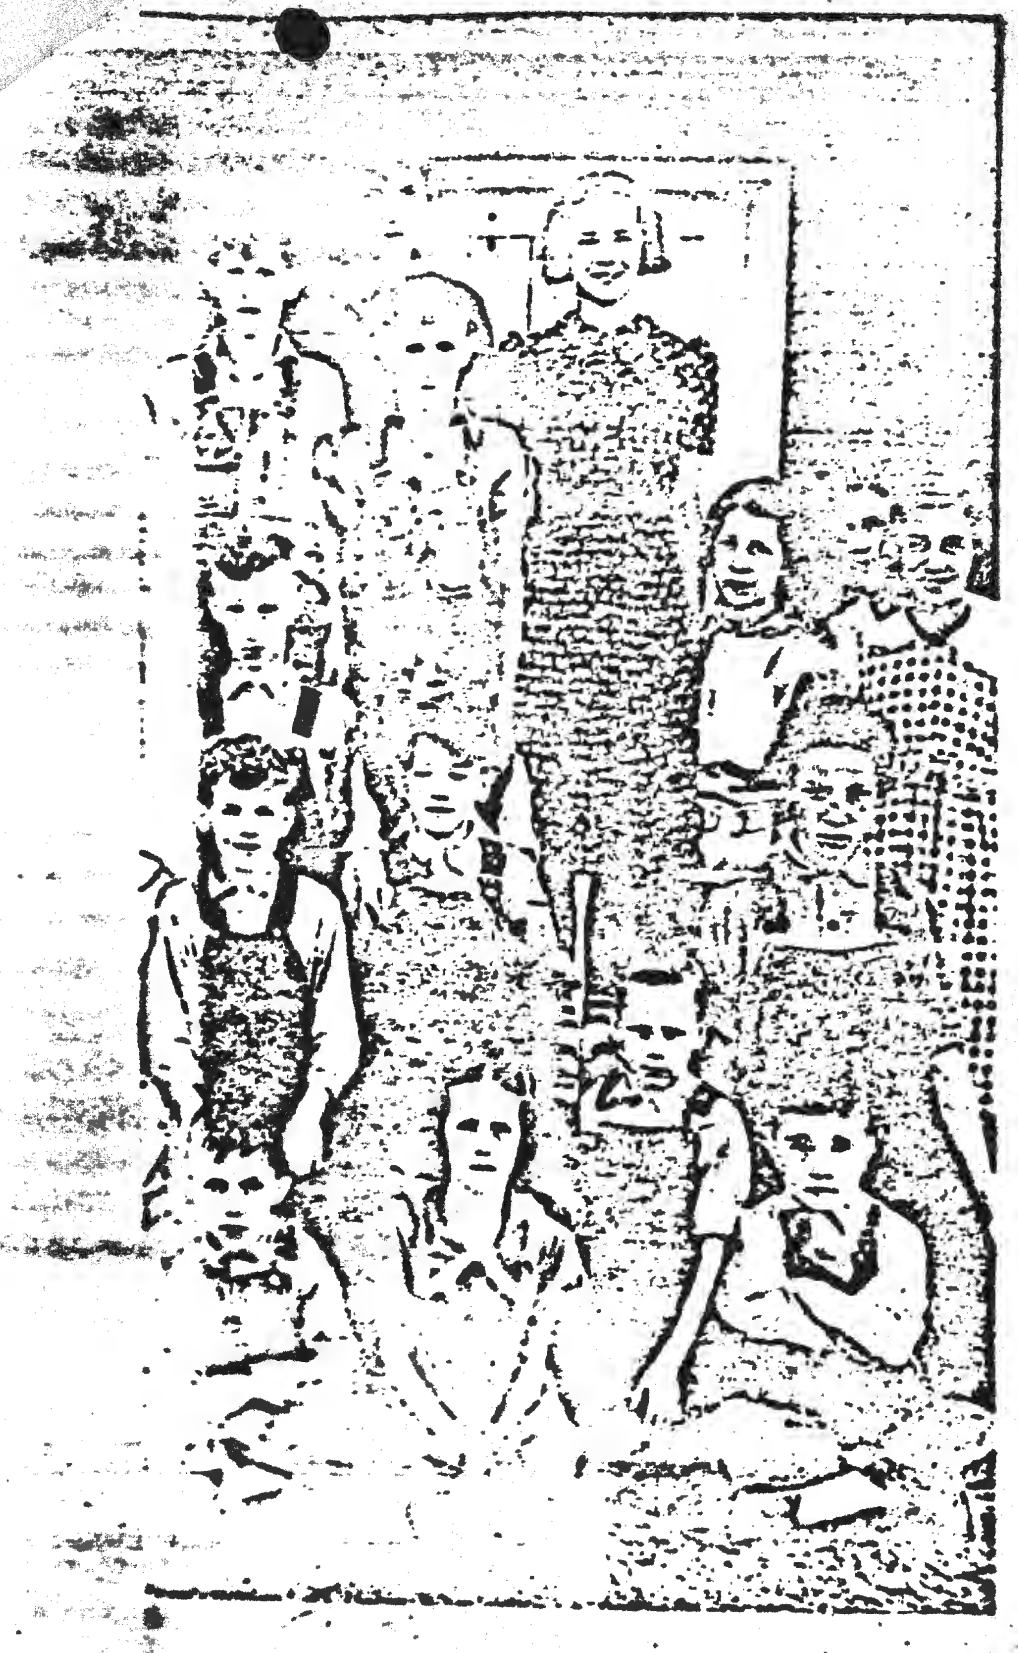
"HE HAD enemy on him in prison," an ex-convict said. "Guys like that are always targets. But no one ever stole or tried to steal from Ray. There was something about him, like he'd kill, if you'd try anything."

Ray's brother, John Larry Ray, operates a bar at the corner of Arsenal and Illinois avenues, in South St. Louis. The Ryan home is in the name of Mrs. Carol Pepper, Ray's sister, who reportedly is married very well."

The bar, the Grapevine, catering to neighborhood white trade, is a down-at-the-heel place. A patrolman was on the front door the day I walked about 20 feet to see John Ray. He never even opened the bar door for Ray.

John L. Ray is described as a "rabbit" by persons who know him and the Grapevine patrons.

"THERE'S SOMETHING in his head that doesn't connect too well," a friend of his said. "He blows up fast. You have to be careful what you say to him. He'd shoot you as soon as talk to you."



John Ray recently was acquitted on a shooting charge.

Neither John nor Jerry Ray — like James Earl — is married. But all have reputations for being women men. In fact, the FBI officials cited Jerry Ray [illegible] of the information that he would sleep in cars in the

When the Ewing, Mo. grade school gathered for the picture at left in 1938, third-grader James Earl Ray (in third row at left of girl in polka dot dress) peered half-hidden over a classmate's head. Among the two dozen former schoolmates and teachers who identified Jimmy Ray was Carlisle Washburn (front row, far right), who once broke Ray's leg playing football. For the next seven years in prison, Ray distinguished himself only by a series of solitary escape attempts which earned him the nickname "The Mole." For this quiet, angry figure the ventures were perhaps a source of amusement, perhaps a way to do precisely what the skinny schoolboy in Ewing, Mo. had always wanted to have happen—to rebel, be recaptured and revolt again. "Hey, kids, it's THE MOLE!" Once he tried to scale a wall and was knocked unconscious when his makeshift ladder collapsed; another time, in 1958, he hid for two days in a ventilator shaft, then crawled to a rooftop only to have a guard spot his hands coming up over the top. He was trying to escape with $4.15, razor blades, a broken mirror and a bag of assorted pills. Then, exactly a year ago, he finally did it.

But Galt fled in his white Mustang after only an hour on Go-Go Night, and for $245, paid in advance, enrolled in bartending school instead.

James Earl Ray had never had his picture among the "big dealers" in the warden's album in the Missouri State Penitentiary. In Prison, like any kid from Alton or Quincy or Ewing or Shullsburg, Mo., he had never mixed with the big boys from Kansas City and St. Louis. "He's innocuous," said the warden. "He's penny ante."

That is, James Earl Ray, slight and round-shouldered, who finished, smiled a crooked, private grin and sometimes even seemed to walk on a child, was once penny ante. But, says the FBI, on April 4 in Memphis, at the moment Martin Luther King died, all the bills for the Mustang, the shoes, the dancing lessons and a $189.95 Remington—and maybe the bitter childhood—came due.

How To Solve Guns And Law

Morrie Ryskind, Pulitzer Prize winning playwright, will substitute for William F. Buckley Jr. during the latter's vacation.

BY MORRIE RYSKIND

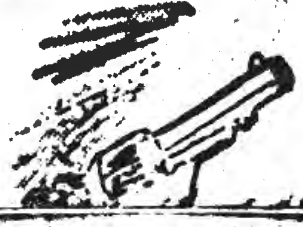
REASON WOULD suggest that the bullet which killed Senator Kennedy emerged from a gun which might have been unobtainable if a proper gun control law had been in effect. John Kennedy's slayer ordered his gun through the mail; the ex-convict who killed Officer Tippit purchased his over the counter; the snipers who shot at policemen and firemen in the recent riots presumably got their weapons just as easily.

Noting which, I recently suggested it was high time for a federal law, one with teeth in it, to prevent the indiscriminate sale of firearms.

Conceding my lack of expertise on the controversial subject, I rose to remark why a purchaser with a legitimate use for a gun should object to strict regulation, down to getting a police okay and being fingerprinted.

"Surely the rights guaranteed by the Second Amendment were not intended to provide criminals with an arsenal," I wrote, and added I realized no law could ever stop a determined killer from obtaining a gun, but that such a statute might cut our appalling crime rate.

The first response to that piece came from a reader in Amarillo who agreed customarily but vigorously about my lack of expertise on the matter, and predicted I'd get enough protests against my stand to last me a lifetime.



Almost Unanimous

NOW RIGHT he was! To date, of 100 letters on that column, only two took me; the rest very all the way from calling me misguided to listing 7 to guilty of subversion.

Some point out that our own Constitution have long advocated just such a law; others that Hitler enacted a similar measure. The latest in both instances failed to disarm the decent citizens and leave them defenseless against the weaponry of uniformed persons serving the police state.

I realize how touchy the subject is when such an implication can be read into my plea. I never even remotely suggested that the honest citizen be deprived of arms with which to defend himself against danger. I asked only, especially in view of recent happenings, that there be a strict supervision over the sale of firearms, lest they fall into bad hands — as obviously was the case in the slaying of Robert Kennedy.

As a matter of fact, I have strong personal motives for wishing those with bona-fide reasons to possess arms the right to do so. For my own, who lives in Washington, has for over a year had a

MOTION TO PRODUCE

Comes the defendant in the above styled case, by and through his attorney of record, and respectfully moves This Honorable Court to require the attorney for the State to produce to the attorney for defendant, and allow him to inspect and/or duplicate, books, papers, documents or tangible objects obtained from or belonging to the defendant or obtained from others which are in possession of, or under the control of the attorney for the State or any law enforcement officer, including, but not limited to the following, to-wit:

1. Any firearm or other weapon belonging to defendant or allegedly used in committing the crime charged.

2. Any automobile allegedly owned or operated by defendant and any and all objects found therein.

3. Records of or documents pertaining to any hotel, motel, rooming house or other purported place of residence, temporary or permanent, of defendant or others.

4. All photographs purportedly showing defendant or others sought in connection with the crime herein charged.

5. Any and all penal records and files of defendant, including any and all medical, optometric, or psychiatric reports contained therein or produced while defendant was in custody of any authority.

6. Any and all military records of defendant, including results of medical, optometric, or psychiatric tests and results of proficiency tests.

7. Passports, visas and applications therefor.

8. Records of entry and exit to and from this or any other country.

9. Documents, records or objects pertaining to transportation of or travel by defendant.

10. Evidence and test fingerprints of defendant.

11. Any sets of fingerprints used or displayed in any search for defendant.

12. Any fingerprints of defendant or other persons found on tangible objects named or produced herein.

13. Ballistic and weapons tests and reports thereof.

14. Expended slugs from a firearm, or fragments thereof.

15. Bullets, hulls, shells or casings, expended or unexpended.

16. Maps, papers or other objects purportedly used or handled by defendant.

17. Logs and records of calls made over the radio network of any law enforcement agency of Shelby County, Tennessee, during the period of April 4, 1968 through April 5, 1968.

18. The names and addresses of all witnesses for the State in this cause.

19. Any and all statements, signed or unsigned, attributed to or purportedly made by defendant and any and all statements made in the presence of defendant to which note of his reaction was made.

20. Autopsy and toxicologists reports concerning any alleged victim of the crime charged herein.

21. The minutes and notes of Grand Jury proceedings in this case.

Book Fees Pay Ray's Defense, Huie Declares

$25,000 Has Been Received With More To Come, Writer Says

By CHARLES EDMUNDSON

The legal defense for James Earl Ray, charged with killing Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., is being financed by payments Ray is receiving for book rights to his life story, William Bradford Huie, an Alabama free lance writer, said last night.

Mr. Huie, who lives at Hartselle, Ala., and has written several best sellers, most of them made into movies, said he has paid Ray $25,000 since Ray was placed in the Shelby County Jail July 19. He indicated he expects to pay him considerably more.

"Ray delivered to me a first installment of 10,000 words, written in longhand, a month ago. Since then he has delivered 10,000 words more."

Ray spends a great deal of his time in jail writing and is expected eventually to produce at least 50,000 words, which Mr. Huie will polish into a finished product.

Mr. Huie, who spent Wednesday, Thursday and Friday in Memphis going over the murder scene at the Lorraine Motel and investigating other Memphis angles of the murder, said he has not yet gained permission to see Ray in his air-conditioned cell at the Shelby County Jail. "But I haven't given up hope. Judge Battle (Criminal Court Judge W. Preston Battle) did not turn me down flat when I talked to him three weeks ago.

"Meanwhile, I work through Ray's chief counsel, Arthur Hanes Sr. of Birmingham. In return for his legal services, he has a lien on everything I pay Ray, I suppose on everything Ray has or gets."

Mr. Huie, in a telephone interview from his home in Hartselle, said, "I don't particularly like paying somebody for his story but often there is no other way of getting the truth."

Mr. Huie said he got the material for his 'Three Lives for Mississippi," the story of the murder of three civil rights workers near Philadelphia, Miss., in 1964, by hefty payments to "greedy Klansmen who knew the facts."

This book is being made into a motion picture. Some of the proceeds from movie rights are going toward paying Ray for his longhand manuscript. Mr. Huie says he hopes the Ray story, too, will be made into a motion picture, possibly a documentary.

Mr. Huie also wrote a book on the murder of Emmet L. Till, a young Chicago Negro, killed in Tallahatchie County, Miss., in 1955.

Mr. Huie said he has asked and received from Gov. Albert Brewer of Alabama special police protection as a result of threats made against his life after he spoke in various parts of the country against the candidacy of former Gov. George Wallace for president.'

Sepbember 12, 1968

This is the case involving the murder of Martin Luther King, Jr.

The attached relates to a book being written concerning James Earl Ray. The attached also states that Humphrey Ward has purchased the rights to Ray's memoirs and that Ward and J. P. Stoner are paying Ray's attorney's fees.

It is noted that William Bradford Huie previously advised us he entered into a contract with Ray to write a true account of Ray's activities, and Ray's attorney's fee is dependent upon the commercial success of this contract. Stoner is no doubt identical with Jesse P. Stoner, Vice-chairman of the National States Rights Party (a vicious anti-Semitic, anti-Negro, right wing hate group based in Savannah, Georgia.)

Bureau indices negative concerning McDonald and Ward. Bureau indices indicate that McMillan has authored an article in the Civil Rights field. As recently as June 4, 1968, he visited Assistant Director Bishop's Office to advise he was writing a book for Little Brown and Company (publishing house in Boston) concerning assassination of Martin Luther King, Jr. He was told the case was pending and we could not be of assistance. Department being advised.

We previously advised the Department that Mr. William Bradford Huie, author, whose books include, "Three Lives for Mississippi" dealing with the murder of the three Civil Rights workers in June of 1964, was interviewed at his home at Hartselle, Alabama, at his request and wanted to "bargain" with us. (He would furnish us information as provided to him by Ray in exchange for currect non-publicized photographs of Ray.) We advised our Birmingham Office not to "bargain" with Mr. Huie under any circumstances. We also advised the Department that Huie has obtained notes from James Earl Ray, and Mr. Huie is preparing an article in "Look" magazine based on these notes. The obtaining of these notes was discussed with the Department and they advised they are considering the question of obtaining a search warrant or subpoena duces tecum for Mr. Huie's notes and/or calling Mr. Huie before a grand jury.

The attached is in response to our memorandum which stated that unless promptly advised to the contrary, we would furnish information referred to the above to Mr. Phil M. Canale, Jr., State Attorney General, Shelby County, Tennessee, who is handling the state's prosecution.

This will be followed with the Department.

SUBJECT: Assassination of Martin Luther King, Jr.

Thank you for your memorandum of Septemb 1968, advising that Mr. William Bradford Huie was interviewed at his home in Hartselle, Alabama, at his request and providing me with information concerning that interview.

The action to be taken by the Department now with respect to the notes from James Earl Ray reportedly in the possession of William Bradford Huie raises a number of legal questions. These questions have been under consideration by this Division since your Bureau first reported the matter on August 27, 1968, to Mr. D. Robert Owen and they are presently being considered by the Attorney General. I plan to communicate with you immediately upon the resolution of these questions. Until that time, I would appreciate your postponing any action to furnish information with respect to the matter of the Ray notes to Mr. Phil M. Canale, Jr., State Attorney General, Shelby County, Tennessee, as outlined in the final paragraph of your memorandum of September 10, 1968.

Hanes Has 'No Plans' For Delay

Ray's Attorneys Still Planning Trial Nov. 12

By ROY HAMILTON
Press-Scimitar Staff Writer

The defense for James Earl Ray, accused killer of Dr. Martin Luther King, has "no plans" to seek a postponement of his trial scheduled Nov. 12 in Memphis, Arthur J. Hanes Jr. said today.

"So far as I know we will be ready to go on the 12th," said Hanes, who is assisting his father, Arthur J. Hanes, in Ray's defense.

REPORT

It had been earlier reported that the senior Hanes had "intimated" in a Birmingham interview that Ray might not be able to stand trial in November because his health was being jeopardized by intensive security measures in his Shelby County jail cell.

Hanes Sr. was in court on another matter but his son, when asked about the report, said, "Some things are read into statements that are quite often only in the eyes of the beholder. I know of no plans to ask for a continuance."

COMPLAINT

The younger Hanes did confirm that Ray had complained about conditions in his cell and he said it was possible that a written motion may be filed next week asking for relief.

☐ Being Investigated

The defense lawyers are due back in Memphis Wednesday to inspect items of physical evidence accumulated by the state for use in the prosecution. The defense won access to the state's evidence in a hearing last week in Judge W. Preston Battle's court.

QUOTED

In the earlier report, Hanes Sr. was quoted as saying that Ray has undergone "enough to bug anybody" during his confinement. He said Ray has had two guards "breathing down his neck 24 hours a day" and sometimes has to cover his eyes against the bright lights "shining on him night and day" in order to sleep.

Hanes charged that the security setup surrounding Ray constitutes "cruel and inhuman treatment."

In our memorandum of August 8, 1968, we advised you that in accordance with your request we were disseminating to Mr. Phil M. Canale, Jr., State Attorney General of Shelby County, Tennessee, ten FBI investigative reports; the original documents provided to us by British authorities in regard to the extradition proceedings of James Earl Ray and the most recent report of New Scotland Yard; and a copy of our prosecutive summary report.

The Department has been furnished copies of additional investigative reports, as well as memoranda containing the results of investigation conducted by foreign police departments recording efforts to locate Ray as a fugitive.

In view of the fact that the state trial of James Earl Ray in Memphis is scheduled for November 12, 1968, you are requested to advise us if you desire any of the additional reports and memoranda already in your possession which have not been previously provided Mr. Canale furnished to him now.

Prisoner Charges Ray Favoritism

A Shelby County jail prisoner today told of life there with James Earl Ray as a fellow inmate—and complained that it means guards neglect the others.

The prisoner, Carl Lindquist, described system of red lights flashing on whenever the door to Ray's specially built enclosure is opened. The Sheriff's Department said Lindquist is in jail on charges of carrying a pistol and robbery with a deadly weapon.

Lindquist said in a written report: "Since James E. Ray has been here, on many occasions they have set our food on the benches in front of our cells and went on 'red light' (which is when they feed Ray or anytime they open his door for anything).

"They usually stay on this red light for about 20 minutes, and while 72 men's food gets cold, they sneak in Ray's A-tank with his padlocked stainless steel box containing, I imagine something somewhat better than we get.

"For your information, the A-tank where Ray is being kept has 16 bunks for one man. They seal off the inside of this floor and you couldn't get a guard to unlock this side if you cut your throat, while the red lights are on.

"When they get finished with Ray and our food is cold, they open back up, and come around and unlock our doors so we can eat."

In telling of unrest among other prisoners in jail with Ray, who is charged with the slaying of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., Lindquist said:

"I do not know if Ray has reading material or not, but since he got here, they stopped ours. I do know he has a TV. They call it the guards. I think they should put a couple of TVs, one at each end of the tanks, for us. It's not uncommon in large jails to have TV and it also has been known to cut down a lot of fights, etc.

"If they would put in the TV and call it the guards, we don't care. Just as long as we can watch it, we don't care what they call it. I do know without anything to read, and no recreation, and nothing to do all day, it's just a matter of time before all hell breaks lose, which nobody wants, but with so many men placed in a small confinement, it's bound to happen sooner or later."

Lindquist also said he felt a blood plasma program to help prisoners make money to buy cigarettes, stamps, envelopes and personal items would be desirable.

HANES

Meanwhile, Arthur Hanes, attorney for Ray, said he will not pursue a motion that would ask better jail conditions for Ray. He had lashed out earlier at around-the-clock lighting and television security of Ray. He said lights shine on Ray at all times and he has to sleep with his head under a pillow. Hanes said it was "enough to bug anybody" and said he feared for Ray's health.

Lindquist, 29, is from Tulsa, Okla. He has been in jail since March and his trial comes up Oct. 14. He is charged with two others in connection with the robbery.

Sheriff William N. Morris today took issue with some of the complaints that Lindquist made in his letter to The Press-Scimitar.

Morris conceded that county jail is overcrowded, but that this has been a continuing problem. He said conditions have been allievated to some extent by opening up the jail facilities at the Penal Farm.

He said no recreational privileges have been taken away from the prisoners since Ray's arrival. He said there is no TV available, but prisoners are permitted radios and games such as cards, checkers and dominoes.

Morris said "the jail is one of the cleanest in the country and we serve the best food." He declined comment on Lindquist's reference to a red light system in connection with Ray's security.

Mail that prisoners send out and receive is read by guards but no attempt is made to censor it unless something involving jail security is mentioned.

"We wouldn't hold up any complaints made to a newspaper," Morris said.

Ray's Lawyer, City Reporters Could Be Cited

Four persons, including the chief counsel for the defense, were ordered yesterday to show cause why they should not be held in contempt of a court order to restrain pretrial publicity in the Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. murder case.

Criminal Court Judge W. Preston Battle, who will try the case, issued the order against Arthur J. Hanes Sr. of Birmingham, chief counsel for defendant James Earl Ray; Renfro T. Hays, a private detective in Mr. Hanes' employ; Charles Edmundson, a reporter for The Commercial Appeal, and Roy Hamilton, a reporter for the Memphis Press-Scimitar.

Judge Battle set the contempt hearing for Sept. 27.

He issued his order after receiving a "petition for contempt" presented by a committee of seven members of the Memphis and Shelby County Bar Association named to assist him in restraining publicity in the interest of a "fair and impartial trial."

Mr. Hanes had no comment on the contempt order, which was served on him after he arrived in Memphis last night. He said he would file some motions in Ray's case today, but declined to discuss them.

Judge Battle ordered both defense and prosecution attorneys, their agents and employes, all law enforcement officials of Memphis and Shelby County, all potential witnesses and all employes at the Courthouse and the County Office Building from "giving interviews or making extra-judicial statements prejudicial to a fair trial by an impartial jury."

The order was stated to apply to these persons, all of whom were served with a copy of the order. Memphis newspapers and other news media were sent a copy of the order.

One purpose of the show cause order, it was learned, is to determine whether the order applies by extension to the news media, though not specifically covered. To this extent the order may be plowing ground never before turned, in the United States at least, in determining the authority of a court to control publicity before the trial of an accused person.

Judge Battle's order includes a photostat of a story in The Commercial Appeal Thursday headed, "Ray Security Called Danger To His Sanity." The story quotes Mr. Hanes and Mr. Hays. Another exhibit is a photostat of a story in the Press-Scimitar Thursday headed "Hanes Has 'No Plans' For Delay" (of the trial, set for Nov. 12).

This will confirm the conversation between Mr. D. Robert Owen and Special Agents [redacted] and [redacted] of this Bureau on September 16, 1968, relative to the scheduled state trial of James Earl Ray in Memphis, Tennessee, on November 12, 1968, and possible future action on the part of the Bureau.

Mr. Owen advised he was fully aware that the physical evidence recovered at the scene of the assassination by the Memphis authorities has been returned to them. The results of our Laboratory examinations of this evidence, as well as our Laboratory findings concerning evidence recovered by the FBI, have also been made available to the Memphis authorities. Included in the evidence recovered by this Bureau and presently maintained in the custody of our Laboratory are documents which have been identified as James Earl Ray's handwriting, handprinting, and typewriting. In addition, a 1966 Mustang automobile is being retained by our Atlanta Division in its possession.

COMM-FBI

In view of the pending Federal charge of Civil Rights Conspiracy against Ray which the Department does not desire to dismiss at this time, it was indicated by Mr. Owen that all evidence recovered by the Bureau with the exception of the 1966 Mustang should be maintained by the Bureau. In addition, it was also indicated that with reference to future court action the Memphis authorities will no doubt need particular items of evidence in the Bureau's possession and arrangements should be made with the Memphis authorities to furnish any item of evidence at their request.

In view of the above, we are instructing our Atlanta Office to turn over to the Memphis authorities the 1966 Mustang automobile and we will retain all other evidence in our Laboratory until a specific request is received from the Memphis authorities.

Treatment Of Ray Is Called Cruel

By ROY B. HAMILTON
Press-Scimitar Staff Writer

Attorneys for James Earl Ray today asked Judge W. Preston Battle to alleviate what they described as "an electronic form of cruel and inhuman punishment" of the prisoner in his tv-monitored Shelby County jail cell.

The request was made in one of two written motions filed in the criminal court clerk's office this morning by Ray's father-son legal defense team, Arthur J. Hanes Sr., and Arthur J. Hanes Jr.

PRIVACY

In the other motion they asked to be allowed to confer privately with Ray in his cell. They charged they have never been able to talk to him outside of the presence of at least two guards and without being subjected to the scrutiny of television cameras and microphones monitored by the Sheriff's office.

The defense action came after Judge Battle ordered the elder Hanes, two newspaper reporters and a private detective to show cause why they should not be held in contempt for violating his anti-publicity edict in the Ray case.

A hearing on the contempt citation is scheduled at 9:30 a.m. Friday, Sept. 27, in Judge Battle's court. Arguments on the two motions could be heard at the same time, although no date for a hearing has been set.

INSPECT

After leaving the clerk's office this morning, the Haneses went to Atty. Gen. Phil Canale's office one floor below in the Shelby County Office Building and began inspecting the state's evidence against Ray in the slaying of Dr. Martin Luther King. The defense won access to the evidence in a previous hearing.

Hanes Sr., who declined immediate comment on the contempt charge, said he expected the examination of the state exhibits to take two or three days. Included among the items is a rifle which the state contends is the death weapon.

One of the motions filed today complained that Ray "has been constantly and continuously illuminated by high powered lights and has been continuously surveilled by television cameras and microphones" connected to the sheriff's office. These security measures, it was alleged, are depriving Ray of sleep and rest and have caused him to become "nervous and disturbed."

PRISONER

"No other prisoner in Shelby County or throughout the free world is so illuminated or surveilled," the petition said. It also claimed that the cameras provide "an unwarranted and undetectable opportunity for illegal identification and or lineup of the defendant for the purpose of refreshing or suggesting the recollection of the defendant to potential material witnesses."

Judge Battle was asked to order Sheriff William N. Morris to "cease and desist" from the use of TV lights, cameras and microphones, or to grant some other form of relief.

CENSORSHIP

The lawyers also asked the court to direct the sheriff to permit them to confer in private with Ray and to permit them to exchange notes and correspondence without censorship. They said the notes they make during consultations with Ray are now read by a guard before they are permitted to leave the jail. They also said Sheriff Morris reads and censors Ray's mail to his counsel.

Prisoner Charges Ray Favoritism

A Shelby County jail prisoner today told of life there with James Earl Ray as a fellow inmate and complained that it means guards neglect the others.

The prisoner, Carl Lindquist, described system of red lights flashing on whenever the door to Ray's specially built enclosure is opened. The Sheriff's Department said Lindquist is in jail on charges of carrying a pistol and robbery with a deadly weapon.

Lindquist said in a written report: "Since James E. Ray has been here, on many occasions they have set our food on the benches in front of our cells and went on 'red light' (which is when they feed Ray or anytime they open his door for anything).

"They usually stay on this red light for about 20 minutes, and while 72 men's food gets cold, they sneak in Ray's A-tank with his padlocked stainless steel box containing, I imagine something somewhat better than we get.

"For your information, the A-tank where Ray is being kept has 16 bunks for one man. They seal off the inside of this floor and you couldn't get a guard to unlock this side if you cut your throat, while the red lights are on.

"When they get finished with Ray and our food is cold, they open back up, and come around and unlock our doors so we can eat."

In telling of unrest among other prisoners in jail with Ray, who is charged with the slaying of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., Lindquist said:

"I do not know if Ray has reading material or not, but since he got here, they stopped ours. I do know he has a TV. They call it the guards. I think they should put a couple of TVs, one at each end of the tanks, for us. It's not uncommon in large jails to have TV and it also has been known to cut down a lot of fights, etc.

"If they would put in the TV and call it the guards, we don't care. Just as long as we can watch it, we don't care what they call it. I do know without anything to read, and no recreation, and nothing to do all day, it's just a matter of time before all hell breaks lose, which nobody wants, but with so many men placed in a small confinement, it's bound to happen sooner or later."

Lindquist also said he felt a blood plasma program to help prisoners make money to buy cigarettes, stamps, envelopes and personal items would be desirable.

HANES

Meanwhile, Arthur Hanes, attorney for Ray, said he will not pursue a motion that would ask better jail conditions for Ray. He had lashed out earlier at around-the-clock lighting and television security of Ray. He said lights shine on Ray at all times and he has to sleep with his head under a pillow. Hanes said it was "enough to bug anybody" and said he feared for Ray's health.

Lindquist, 29, is from Tulsa, Okla. He has been in jail since March and his trial comes up Oct. 14. He is charged with two others in connection with the robbery.

Sheriff William N. Morris today took issue with some of the complaints that Lindquist made in his letter to The Press-Scimitar.

Morris conceded that county jail is overcrowded, but that this has been a continuing problem. He said conditions have been allievated to some extent by opening up the jail facilities at the Penal Farm.

He said no recreational privileges have been taken away from the prisoners since Ray's arrival. He said there is no TV available, but prisoners are permitted radios and games such as cards, checkers and dominoes.

Morris said "the jail is one of the cleanest in the country and we serve the best food." He declined comment on Lindquist's reference to a red light system in connection with Ray's security.

Mail that prisoners send out and receive is read by guards but no attempt is made to censor it unless something involving jail security is mentioned.

"We wouldn't hold up any complaints made to a newspaper," Morris said.

4 Face Citations In Ray Case

James Earl Ray's chief defense counsel, Arthur B. Hanes, two Memphis newspaper reporters and a private detective today faced possible contempt citations on charges of violating Criminal Court Judge W. Preston Battle's order restricting "publicity" in the Ray case.

Hanes and the others, Roy B. Hamilton of The Press-Scimitar, Charles Edmundson of The Commercial Appeal, and Renfro Hays, a private investigator employed by the defense, were ordered by Judge Battle to appear in his court at 9:30 a.m. Friday, Sept. 27, and show cause why they should not be held in contempt.

PETITION

A petition seeking contempt citations against the four was filed yesterday by a committee of lawyers appointed by Judge Battle to advise him on publicity and courtroom procedures in the Ray case.

The committee said that in its opinion statements attributed to Hanes and Hays in stories appearing under Hamilton's and Edmundson's bylines in their newspapers last Thursday were in violation of the court's order.

The committee said the order, entered July 18, amended July 23 and supplemented July 30, prohibited and enjoined "the perpetration of certain specific acts in connection with publication given instant case."

STATEMENTS

The petition said the ban included extrajudicial statements involving "the treatment, acts and attitude of the defendant," and "all other statements" which might be prejudicial to his right to a fair trial.

The Commercial Appeal story quoted Hays as saying that security arrangements in Ray's county jail cell were endangering the prisoner's health and the defense might ask for a continuance of his trial scheduled Nov. 12.

The Press-Scimitar story quoted Arthur J. Hanes Jr., who is assisting his father in Ray's defense, as saying there were "no plans" to ask for a postponement of the trial. The story also quoted Hanes as saying in a Birmingham interview that the round-the-clock guards, lights and TV scrutiny of Ray's cell constituted "cruel and inhuman treatment" and were "enough to bug anybody." These statements were not made to a Press-Scimitar reporter but were taken from a story by The Associated Press.

'EXHIBITS'

Copies of the two newspaper stories were attached to the petition as exhibits. The petition was signed by the following members: Lucius E. Burch Jr., J. Alan Hanover, Cooper Turner Jr., James D. Causey, Leo Bearman Jr., Lee A. Hardison and Don Owens, who is president of the Bar Association.

Hamilton and Edmundson were called separately into the office of Chief Roy Nixon, administrative assistant to Sheriff William N. Morris, where a deputy read and issued them copies of the court summons.

Judge Battle's order enjoined all principals in the Ray case, including attorneys and their employes, law enforcement officers, witnesses and others, from making public statements, but the injunction did not apply to reporters or the news media.

Prisoner Ray Seeks Privacy; Motion Filed

By JOHN MEANS

James Earl Ray is becoming "nervous and disturbed" by high-powered lights in his cell, and by television cameras and microphones that monitor him around the clock, a motion filed on his behalf says.

The legal paper asks Criminal Court Judge Preston Battle to order Sheriff William N. Morris Jr. to turn out the lights, disconnect the microphones and remove the television camera.

It was one of two such motions filed yesterday by Arthur Hanes of Birmingham, Ray's attorney. The other motion says Mr. Hanes is not permitted to talk to his client without two officers present, that the television camera and microphones pick up every word they say, and that he is searched for notes from his client before he is allowed to leave Ray's County Jail cell.

It asks that the accused slayer of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. be allowed to confer in private "absent from the presence of law enforcement officers" with Mr. Hanes and Arthur Hanes Jr., his two attorneys, and "to permit defendant and counsel to exchange notes and to correspond without the censorship of the sheriff," stating that Ray's mail to his attorneys is read by Sheriff Morris before being sent.

Mr. Hanes and his son would not discuss the two motions yesterday, and left for Birmingham shortly after visiting the office of Atty. Gen. Phil Canale where they were allowed to inspect physical evidence involved in the nation's most celebrated murder case.

On 9/11/68, Mr. JAMES BEASLEY, Assistant State Attorney General, Memphis, Tennessee, advised that he is currently taking inventory of all evidence in possession of his office concerning the scheduled trial of JAMES EARL RAY in connection with the murder of Rev. MARTIN LUTHER KING, JR., scheduled for Shelby County Criminal Court, Memphis on 11/12/68.

Mr. BEASLEY stated that all evidence in possession of his office will be maintained in a locked safe that will be retained in his office. He stated that insofar as following instructions of a finalized order to be issued by the Honorable W. PRESTON BATTLE, Shelby County Criminal Court Judge, in relation to making evidence available to the attorneys for RAY, a system will be devised by his office to always maintain strict control of the evidence. He stated that any evidence with the exception of Ray's 1966 Mustang that the defense attorneys desired to review will have to be reviewed in the Attorney General's Office under strict security precautions, and any reproductions of same will be made under the same security precautions in the Attorney General's office.

Prisoner Ray Seeks Privacy; Motion Filed

By JOHN MEANS

James Earl Ray is becoming "nervous and disturbed" by high-powered lights in his cell, and by television cameras and microphones that monitor him around the clock, a motion filed on his behalf says.

The legal paper asks Criminal Court Judge Preston Battle to order Sheriff William N. Morris Jr. to turn out the lights, disconnect the microphones and remove the television camera.

It was one of two such motions filed yesterday by Arthur Hanes of Birmingham, Ray's attorney. The other motion says Mr. Hanes is not permitted to talk to his client without two officers present, that the television camera and microphones pick up every word they say, and that he is searched for notes from his client before he is allowed to leave Ray's County Jail cell.

It asks that the accused slayer of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. be allowed to confer in private "absent from the presence of law enforcement officers" with Mr. Hanes and Arthur Hanes Jr., his two attorneys, and "to permit defendant and counsel to exchange notes and to correspond without the censorship of the sheriff," stating that Ray's mail to his attorneys is read by Sheriff Morris before being sent.

Mr. Hanes and his son would not discuss the two motions yesterday, and left for Birmingham shortly after visiting the office of Atty. Gen. Phil Canale where they were allowed to inspect physical evidence involved in the nation's most celebrated murder case.

Mr. Hanes, a private detective on his staff, and two Memphis newspaper reporters were ordered by Judge Battle earlier in the week to show cause Friday morning why they should not be held in contempt of court for violation of Judge Battle's order relating to publicity in the Ray case. The action was recommended by a committee of lawyers appointed by the judge to advise him on publicity and procedures in the Ray case.

SUBJECT: MURKIN

SYNOPSIS:

This is the case involving the murder of Martin Luther King, Jr. Evidence recovered by Memphis authorities returned to them. Evidence recovered by Bureau, including the 1966 Mustang vehicle and documents, retained by Bureau in view of outstanding Federal charge against James Earl Ray. Department does not desire to dismiss charge at this time. In view of scheduled state trial of Ray in Memphis on November 12, 1968, disposition of evidence recovered by Bureau discussed with Department. Department advises 1966 Mustang should be turned over to Memphis authorities, and we should retain all other evidence in view of outstanding Federal charge. The Department further advised in connection with future court action, if Mr. Phil M. Canale, Jr., who is handling state prosecution, should make a request for any particular piece of evidence retained by the Bureau, such items should be made available to him. Conference held with Mr. Canale and other representatives of his office and they recommend their representatives meet with our Laboratory examiners to review the evidence in our possession and in selecting those items which will be most advantageous to introduce at time of trial. Mr. Canale plans to hold pretrial conferences in the field with all witnesses including FBI Agents. When this is firmed up instructions will be issued to SACs to personally attend to protect Bureau's interest.

ACTION:

1. Laboratory being advised of conference with Mr. Canale and review and selection of evidence to be used for trial.

2. Attached for approval are a teletype to Memphis and Atlanta instructing the 1966 Mustang be released to Mr. Canale and a letter to the Department confirming the conversation concerning disposition of the evidence.

Rosen to DeLoach Memorandum
RE: MURKIN

BACKGROUND:

This is the case involving the murder of Martin Luther King, Jr.

At the specific instructions of the Director the evidence recovered by the Memphis Police Department at the scene of the assassination in Memphis was returned to them after our Laboratory examination. The report of our Laboratory findings was also transmitted to the Memphis Police Department.

Evidence recovered by the Bureau has been retained in our Laboratory in view of the outstanding Federal charge, namely, the Civil Rights conspiracy charge against subject Ray. The evidence we have recovered includes the 1966 Mustang automobile, maps, bed sheets, a television set, various items of food, and personal articles of clothing. It is noted that a latent fingerprint was located on a map which matched Ray's fingerprints and hairs and fibers located in the articles of clothing compared favorable with those located in the evidence at the scene of the assassination.

We also have in our possession documents which include the handwriting, hand printing, and typewriting identified as being prepared by Ray. We are continually comparing new documents with those we are retaining. For example, on August 23, 1968, we learned that subject Ray was employed by a restaurant in Winnetka, Illinois, during May and June, 1967. The documents relating to Ray's employment were obtained and forwarded to the Laboratory for examination purposes and identifications were made.

We have raised the question with the Department as to whether or not the complaint filed against James Earl Ray should be dismissed. The Department has advised that in their view it would not be appropriate to dismiss the complaint at this time as the conspiracy investigation is still underway. The Department further advised that after investigation has been completed, they would want to review the facts to determine whether or not Federal prosecution of Ray or other persons might be appropriate.

In view of the scheduled state trial of James Earl Ray in Memphis, Tennessee, on November 12, 1968, we discussed with the Department the disposition of evidence recovered by the Bureau. As a result thereof, the Department has advised that the 1966 Mustang automobile recovered in Atlanta should be turned over to the Memphis authorities; however, all other evidence which we recovered, including the documents, should be maintained in our possession in view of the outstanding Federal charge and our continuing investigation. The Department further advised they intend to meet with Mr. Phil M. Canale, State Attorney General, Shelby County, Tennessee, during the latter part of September, 1968, to thoroughly discuss the state's prosecution. Mr. Canale is, of course, aware of the existence of the evidence and the results of our findings. The Department advised that in the event Mr. Canale desires a particular piece of evidence for court purposes which we recovered and in our possession, we should make arrangements to turn it over to him.

A conference was held at our Memphis Office with Mr. Canale and his representatives and the matter of lining up witnesses and evidence in the forthcoming state trial was discussed. Mr. Canale proposed the following procedures be established:

1. Representatives of his office to meet with our Laboratory examiners who conducted examination of the evidence. He would like this meeting to take place preferably next week.

2. Mr. Canale would desire that his representatives thoroughly review the actual physical evidence for the purpose of selecting those items which will be most advantageous to introduce and it would be determined the number of examiners he may need in connection with the trial.

3. After review of the evidence he proposes that representatives of his office contact pertinent field divisions and discuss with Agents who obtained the evidence what they can testify to and he may desire to talk to the witnesses. This in effect will amount to a pretrial conference with Agents who conducted the investigation, would obviate the necessity of unnecessary Agents to appear for extensive pretrial conferences, and would minimize the time Agents will spend in Memphis in connection with the trial. This, of course, would result in the savings of Agents travel and per diem cost.

4. Mr. Canale mentioned the possibility that a representative of his office may become involved in foreign travel which would relate to the investigation conducted in those foreign countries. Mr. Canale would, of course, do this at his own expense. Mr. Canale feels it will be necessary for him to evaluate the persons as witnesses and to conclude which witnesses it would be necessary to utilize.

CONTINUED - OVER

It was of the opinion of Mr. Canale that if the preliminary work can be completed, he can better evaluate what he needs for the trial and feels that on this basis he will need a minimum of FBI personnel to testify as to the various items that may be of pertinence in this case. The SAC in Memphis concurs with Mr. Canale and recommends that we honor his request.

Today Special Agent Joseph Hester, Memphis Division, called to advise that pursuant to prior arrangements made with the Bureau, three representatives of the Attorney General's office in Memphis will be arriving tomorrow (Wednesday, September 25) to examine the evidence being held in the Laboratory in this case. The three men are:

Robert K. Dwyer - special assistant to the District Attorney;

James Beasley - assistant district attorney; and,

John Carlyle - investigator for the District Attorney's office.

The precise itinerary of these gentlemen is unknown at this time but it is expected they will arrive at approximately noon, tomorrow, Wed., Sept. 25.

I advised SA Hester to have the representatives of the District Attorney's office contact your (Mr. Conrad's) office telephonically upon arrival and to proceed to the Justice Building and come to room 7621.

SA Hester stated that after the evidence has been reviewed, the three visitors intend to return to Memphis.

Memphis is confirming these arrangements by teletype.

On this date, Sheriff WILLIAM N. MORRIS, JR. advised that he received information that J. B. STONER, Attorney, had been in correspondence with JAMES EARL RAY. The nature of the correspondence was to the effect that J. B. STONER volunteered his services at no cost to JAMES EARL RAY and indicated that he would arrive in Memphis on Wednesday, 9/25/68, to meet with JAMES EARL RAY.

Sherff MORRIS was of the opinion that JAMES EARL RAY was losing interest in ARTHUR HANES, his present attorney, and might conceivably let STONER defend him in the forthcoming trial. Sheriff MORRIS also advised that he had picked up information indicating that JAMES EARL RAY at the present time was desirous of taking the stand on his own behalf when the trial occurs in Memphis. Sheriff MORRIS also stated that the current attorney, ARTHUR HANES, does not want his client JAMES EARL RAY to testify.

Bureau will be kept advised of additional developments as they occur.

PETITION FOR CONTEMPT

TO THE HONORABLE W. PRESTON BATTLE, JUDGE OF THE CRIMINAL COURT OF SHELBY COUNTY, TENNESSEE, DIVISION III

Your petitioners, amici curiae show to the Court as follows:

That petitioners are the duly appointed and acting amici curiae having been so appointed by this Court by order of July 29, 1968.

That heretofore, the Court on July 18, 1968 entered an order on Courthouse and Courtroom procedures and publicity and on July 23, 1968, entered an amendment to said order. Further, under date of July 30, 1968 supplemented said orders prohibiting and enjoining the perpetration of certain specific acts in connection with publication given instant case including, but not limited to, making extra judicial statements about this case which involve (5) "--- or the treatment, acts and attitude of the defendant---" and all other statements which may be prejudicial to a fair trial by an impartial jury in this case, whether specified herein or not.

That there appeared in the Commercial Appeal, a newspaper of Memphis, Shelby County, Tennessee under date of Thursday morning, September 12, 1968 an article headed "Ray security called danger to his 'sanity'" under the byline of Charles Edmundson in which Renfro T. Hays, an investigator, and Arthur B. Hanes, Esq., the attorney for the defendant, are quoted, a copy of said item is attached hereto and made Exhibit A to this petition.

Under date of Thursday, September 12, 1968 there appeared in the Memphis Press Scimitar an item headed "Hanes has 'no plans' for delay" under the byline of Roy Hamilton, in which Arthur B. Hanes, Sr., attorney of record for the defendant is quoted, a copy of said newspaper item is attached hereto as Exhibit B.

The respondents, Charles Edmundson, Roy Hamilton, Renfro T. Hays and Arthur B. Hanes, Sr., had actual knowledge of the aforesaid orders and injunctions issued by the Court.

Petitioners believe and, therefore, aver that respondents are in contempt of the orders and injunction of this Court and that they should be cited in contempt thereof or be required to show cause why they should not be held in contempt of this Court.

WHEREFORE, PREMISES CONSIDERED, PETITIONERS PRAY:

1. That proper process issue demanding Charles Edmundson, Roy Hamilton, Renfro T. Hays and Arthur B. Hanes, Sr., to appear before this Court and show cause, if any they have, why they should not be adjudged in contempt of this Court and its orders and upon hearing of said cause that the Court enter such other orders as may be proper in the premises.

Hanes Has 'No Plans' For Delay

Ray's Attorneys Still Planning Trial Nov. 12

By ROY HAMILTON
Press-Scimitar Staff Writer

The defense for James Earl Ray, accused killer of Dr. Martin Luther King, has "no plans" to seek a postponement of his trial scheduled Nov. 12 in Memphis, Arthur J. Hanes Jr. said today.

"So far as I know we will be ready to go on the 12th," said Hanes, who is assisting his father, Arthur J. Hanes, in Ray's defense.

REPORT

It had been earlier reported that the senior Hanes had "intimated" in a Birmingham interview that Ray might not be able to stand trial in November because his health was being jeopardized by intensive security measures in his Shelby County jail cell.

Hanes Sr. was in court on another matter but his son, when asked about the report, said, "Some things are read into statements that are quite often only in the eyes of the beholder. I know of no plans to ask for a continuance."

COMPLAINT

The younger Hanes did confirm that Ray had complained about conditions in his cell and he said it was possible that a written motion may be filed next week asking for relief.

The defense lawyers are due back in Memphis Wednesday to inspect items of physical evidence accumulated by the state for use in the prosecution. The defense won access to the state's evidence in a hearing last week in Judge W. Preston Battle's court.

QUOTED

In the earlier report, Hanes Sr. was quoted as saying that Ray has undergone "enough to bug anybody" during his confinement. He said Ray has had two guards "breathing down his neck 24 hours a day" and sometimes has to cover his eyes against the bright lights "shining on him night and day" in order to sleep.

Hanes charged that the security setup surrounding Ray constitutes "cruel and

Ray Security Called Danger To His 'Sanity'

By CHARLES EDMUNDSON

The health of James Earl Ray, charged with slaying Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., is so threatened by security measures in force at the Shelby County Jail that he may not be able to stand trial as scheduled Nov. 12, a private detective employed by Ray's attorney said last night.

Renfro T. Hays, 40-year-old investigator with offices in the Commerce Title Building, compared some of the conditions in Ray's cell with "devices used by Communist police agents to destroy the health and balance of their victims."

Hays spoke of bright lights kept shining night and day, of television cameras constantly monitoring the prisoner and of and uninterrupted lack of privacy.

Arthur Hanes, Ray's attorney, complained of the same items to Criminal Court Judge W. Preston Battle in a preliminary hearing Friday. Mr. Hanes was instructed to put his complaint in writing. The written complaint is expected to be argued at another hearing Wednesday.

Mr. Hays said, his work in interviewing prospective witnesses has been easier since Judge Battle Friday repeated his caution that a court order restricting publicity is not to interfere with the right of witnesses to talk to attorneys for the prosecution or the defense.

Interviewed by telephone in Birmingham, Mr. Hanes said only he will have his motion asking security changes ready Wednesday. In court Friday Mr. Hanes charged the conditions "constitute cruel and unusual punishment."

Mr. Hays said he does not think the conditions criticized in Ray's cell result from intentional persecution.

"I don't for a moment think Sheriff Bill Morris is trying to drive this guy out of his mind. But it's the effect of this type of surveillance that counts."

VS

JAMES EARL RAY, Alias

No. 16645
(Murder)

FILED 9/19/68
J. A. BLACKWELL, CLERK
BY C. E. Keith D. C.

MOTION

Comes the Defendant in the above captioned cause, by and through his Attorney of Record, and respectfully shows unto this Honorable Court the following:

1. Defendant is incarcerated in the Shelby County, Tennessee, jail awaiting trial in the above captioned cause.

2. Defendant has retained Arthur J. Hanes and Arthur J. Hanes, Jr. as counsel to represent him in this cause.

3. In order that Defendant may be fully represented before and during trial, it is necessary that he have the opportunity to confer in private consultation with his attorneys prior to trial.

4. Defendant has not been afforded the opportunity to confer in private with his counsel in the following: At all times when Defendant has been in consultation with counsel at least two law enforcement officers of Shelby County, Tennessee or the city of Memphis, Tennessee have remained present and within the hearing of Defendant and counsel; Television cameras and microphones have been focused on Defendant and counsel, the same with viewing screens and amplifiers in the office of the Sheriff of Shelby County, Tennessee; After each consultation, notes written by Defendant to counsel are inspected by law enforcement officers before counsel is allowed to leave Defendant; Defendant's mail to counsel is censored and read by the Sheriff of Shelby County or his agents.

WHEREFORE, PREMISES CONSIDERED, the Defendant prays this Honorable Court will issue an order directing the Sheriff of Shelby County, Tennessee to permit Defendant and his counsel to confer in private, absent the presence of law enforcement officers and television and microphone reproduction, and to permit Defendant and counsel to exchange notes and correspond without censorship by agents of the Sheriff of Shelby County, Tennessee.

Respectfully submitted,

By Arthur J. Hanes
Attorney for Defendant

CERTIFICATE OF SERVICE

I hereby certify that I have this 18th day of September, 1968, served a copy of the foregoing Motion, by hand, upon the Attorney for the State of Tennessee in this case.

MOTION

Comes the Defendant in the above captioned cause, by and through his Attorney of Record, and respectfully shows unto this Honorable Court as follows:

1. Defendant has been incarcerated in the Shelby County, Tennessee jail awaiting trial in the above captioned cause since July 19, 1968 to and through the present.

2. From the time of his incarceration, to and through the present, Defendant has been constantly and continuously illuminated by high powered lights and has been continuously surveilled by television cameras and microphones which are received in the office of the Sheriff of Shelby County, Tennessee.

3. No other prisoner in Shelby County or throughout the free world is so illuminated and surveilled.

4. The presence of said illumination and surveillance has deprived Defendant of the opportunity to rest or sleep and has a tendency to cause Defendant to be nervous and disturbed and constitutes an electronic form of cruel and unusual punishment.

5. The presence of such illumination and surveillance further provides an unwarranted and undetectable opportunity for illegal identification and/or lineup of Defendant for the purpose of refreshing or suggesting recollection of Defendant to potential material witnesses in this cause.

WHEREFORE, PREMISES CONSIDERED, the Defendant respectfully prays this Honorable Court to issue an order directing the Sheriff of Shelby County, Tennessee to cease and desist from the use of television lights, cameras and microphones, to constantly surveille Defendant, and if Defendant be mistaken in this prayer, he respectfully moves this Honorable Court to issue such further and different order as it may deem meet and proper to remedy the ill herein alleged.

ReMoairtel to Memphis, 9/4/68, regarding information furnished by one [redacted] concerning [redacted] who was reported in 1963 to have agreed to represent anyone who might be apprehended in executing a "contract" to assassinate Dr. MARTIN LUTHER KING.

Birmingham file styled [redacted] INFORMATION CONCERNING", Bufile [redacted] BH file [redacted] contains considerable derogatory information concerning the character of [redacted]. Two copies each of BH airtels to the Bureau dated 9/3 and 9/5/68 containing background information on [redacted] are being furnished the Memphis office, and for ready reference of the Bureau, one copy of each airtel is attached. Mobile is also being furnished one copy each.

Contact with warden's office, Jefferson County Jail, Birmingham, revealed it would be practically impossible to determine the identity of an inmate by nickname only during the year 1963 since there are confined daily an average of 250 inmates.

UACB, Birmingham considers that any contact with [redacted] would be inadvisable at this time and no action regarding him will be taken.

Submitted herewith for the information and assistance of the Bureau are two copies of a letter prepared by J. B. STONER, Attorney-at-Law, addressed to JAMES EARL RAY. It is to be noted contents of letter suggest very strongly that J. B. STONER will arrive in Memphis and will make efforts to talk to subject RAY.

There are also enclosed two copies of letter which appears to have been prepared by JERRY RAY to his brother JAMES EARL RAY. In this letter, JERRY indicates he has spoken with J. B. STONER and that STONER has indicated he didn't want a penny for helping JAMES EARL RAY. Of particular significance is the implied criticism of WILLIAM BRADFORD HUIE because of his stand on race relations. HUIE, as the Bureau knows, considers himself a liberal on race relations in Alabama. Apparently JERRY's discussions with J. B. STONER disclose that J. B. STONER felt it would be a good idea for JAMES EARL RAY to take the stand.

The Bureau will be kept advised of other developments.

Dear Mr. Ray:

I have just received your letter of September 18 requesting that I visit you in Memphis. Please excuse me for failing to answer your earlier letter, but I was in Kentucky where I am now representing eight innocent men who are falsely charged with murder.

I will leave Savannah next Wednesday and will head straight to Memphis to see you as soon as I stop off in Atlanta for one day. I will be at the jail to see you either next Friday or Saturday. Of course, if it is absolutely necessary for me to see you sooner, please advise and I will fly out to see you.

It is nice of you to offer to pay me, but that will not be necessary. I am willing to render any legal services that you request, free of charge.

As soon as you receive this letter, please write a letter to Judge Battle and ask him to please tell the officials at the jail to allow me to visit you when I arrive at the jail. Also, please send a letter to the Sheriff, or whoever is in charge of your jail and notify them that you wish for me to visit you on legal business. If they will let you use the phone, please call me.

With best wishes, I remain

Sincerely yours,

Dear Jimmy:

I received your letter yesterday morning and talked to stoner over the phone a few hours after receiving your letter
I cant tell you every word he told me as unlike our other conversation this one was long, he talked for at least Fifteen min.t.

if you took the stand. He figures on visiting you sept 27. He also said it was against the law for him to advise you on legal matters being you have a lawyer.
The Reason he didnt write to you sooner was because he was in Kentucky.
Ill call Foreman up monday and if I get hold of him then Ill write you the same day, if not Ill keep calling and will let you know as soon as I talk to him personally I hope Foreman agrees to see you and his advice would mean a lot. like I said in my last letter if anything comes up where you wont to see Jack or I about anything just let us know, also if you wont us to have Hones, Huey or Stoner and they cant make it up here then we could meet them in Memphis. Ill close for now, will write again just as soon as I talk to Foreman. Coral & Jack are okay.

Dear Jerry;

I recd your letter mostly glad to know everything is allright. I also heard from J. B. Stoner he said he would be up Saturday. I told you in the last letter that you didn't help to talk to Jerome yet but I guess it wouldn't hurt anything what I was gone to do was wait until I found out when Stoner would be here but now I no, I guess you know this case is getting kind of complicated plus they have the trial date set for Nov. 12 and I don't think Howe can do everything that's got to be done. what I would like for you to do is beside Talking to Foreman is to send me his phone no. + address as a Con writes to him + explain the circumstances of the case to him. Take it easy.

Specimen Qc288, a Canadian Money Order, is too indistinct for a satisfactory examination; however, differences were noted between the writings on this item and K211, K488, Q261 and Q262.

The "Galt" signatures alone appearing on Q86, Q131, Q132, Q141, Q173, Q216, Q219, Q221, Q223, Q226, Q258, Q260, Q327, Q337, Kc4 and K5 were determined to have been prepared by the writer of Q261 and Q262 (records of the bartender school in Los Angeles, California).

The conclusions reported in the following paragraph are the result of comparing pertinent questioned items with K211 (records of the Missouri State Prison), Q261 and Q262.

The questioned hand printing or handwriting and the signatures, where they appear, on Q133, Q134, Q215, Q216, Q219, Q221, Q223, Q260, Q326, Q327 and K5 were determined to have been prepared by the writer of K211, Q261 and Q262.

The items in question were compared with specimens K488, Q261 and Q262, previously described. As a result of these comparisons it was concluded that the questioned hand printing or handwriting and signatures, where they appear, on Q133, Q134, Q215, Q260, Q326, Q327 and K5 were prepared by the writer of K488, Q261 and Q262.

Specimen Q337, the location of which was requested by Mr. Beasley, was returned to the Los Angeles Division of this Bureau on May 17, 1968, with the results of a latent fingerprint examination.

K488 is returned to FBI, Memphis. Photographs were made.

Submitted herewith are five separate communications which Sheriff WILLIAM N. MORRIS, JR., Shelby County, Memphis, Tennessee, made available to SAC this date. These are letters prepared by subject JAMES EARL RAY. These are all samples of known handwriting and hand printing of subject RAY. They should be utilized for any additional handwriting comparison needed in captioned case.

In addition, there are furnished herewith the originals of two letters which were forwarded by RAY to the Honorable W. PRESTON BATTLE, Judge of the Criminal Court, Memphis, Tennessee. Judge BATTLE will be the presiding Judge in the JAMES EARL RAY trial. These letters were furnished by Judge BATTLE to SAC. In connection with these letters, District Attorney General PHIL M. CANALE, Memphis, raised point that possibility exists that utilization of material furnished the Judge might be prejudicial at some future date. CANALE pointed out that since Judge BATTLE would hear case he was of opinion that it would probably not be feasible to utilize handwriting in letters sent Judge BATTLE. Therefore, it is requested that handwriting examination prepared by Document Section utilize letters received from Sheriff MORRIS as primary sources for examination purposes.

Results of examination regarding letters received by Sheriff MORRIS should be handled in separate communication. Handwriting examination relative to letters received by Judge BATTLE should not be incorporated in the examination of handwriting contained in letters received by Sheriff MORRIS. SUBJECT: MURKIN

Reference is made to my memo 9/24/68 advising that three representatives of the Attorney General's office in Memphis would be arriving at the Bureau to go over the evidence in this case on Wednesday, 9/25/68.

Yesterday Mr. Robert K. Dwyer, Special Assistant to the Attorney General; Mr. James Beasley, Assistant District Attorney, and Mr. John Carlyle, Investigator for the District Attorney's office came to the Laboratory to discuss evidence connected with and expert testimony belived to be necessary at the forthcoming trial of James Earl Ray. Supervisor [redacted] of the General Investigative Division participated in the discussions.

In the Physics and Chemistry Section (M. S. CLARK, R. A. FRAZIER) detailed discussions were had concerning firearms aspects of the case with SA [redacted] and the hairs and fibers evidence with SA [redacted] In the Document Section they discussed possible document testimony with SA [redacted] Section Chief [redacted] participated in all of the conferences concerning Physics and Chemistry testimony and I was present during the discussions concerning documentary evidence and document testimony. (SEVON S[redacted], ROY H., JAMES H. MORTIMER)

The gentlemen from the Attorney General's office in Memphis advised in detail the specific physical evidence that would be introduced at the trial and the expert testimony concerning this evidence as represented by Laboratory reports previously submitted and made available to the local prosecutor. They did not ask for any evidence but simply reviewed that which was available along with the pertinent testimony. Attached is a list setting forth the Laboratory number and description of each item of physical evidence of pertinence to the forthcoming trial.

They advised that additional evidence will be submitted in all probability. Included in such possible additional evidence will be letters which Ray has written to the Memphis Judge, to the Sheriff and local court officials in connection with his current incarceration. These letters may be useful as known

Hanes Confers With James Ray

Son Outlines Defense For Father On Contempt Of Court Citation

Attorney Arthur J. Hanes conferred more than two hours with his client, James Earl Ray, at the Shelby County Jail yesterday while his son, Arthur Hanes Jr. prepared to defend his father against a contempt of court citation.

Judge W. Preston Battle, who is scheduled to conduct Ray's trial on a charge of murdering Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., will hear arguments this morning on a contempt citation issued against Mr. Hanes Sr.; Renfro Hays, a private detective, and two newspaper reporters.

Mr. Hanes, Mr. Hays, Charles Edmundson of The Commercial Appeal and Roy Hamilton of the Press-Scimitar are asked to show cause why they should not be held in contempt of a court order to restrain pre-trial publicity in the case.

Also set for today are arguments on motions by defense attorneys for relief of what they charge is a violation of Ray's constitutional right to confer privately with counsel. They charge Ray's cell is "bugged" with microphones they cannot be sure are turned off even when jail attendants say this is the case.

They also charge that constant bright lights and television cameras in Ray's cell constitute an "electronic form of cruel and unusual treatment."

In the contempt hearing Armistead Clay, attorney for the Memphis Publishng Co., is expected to argue that the restrictions sought would be a violation of the guaranties of free speech and a free press contained in the first article of the Bill of Rights.

Mr. Robert K. Dwyer, Special Assistant to the District Attorney of Memphis, Tennessee; Mr. James Beasley, Assistant District Attorney; and Mr. John Carlyle, Investigator for the District Attorney's Office, today, visited the Identification Division and discussed with Fingerprint Examiner George J. Bonebrake what his testimony will be at the trial of this case in Memphis scheduled to begin November 12, 1968.

Mr. Dwyer and Mr. Beasley expressed their opinion that the fingerprints of James Earl Ray, taken following his return to Memphis, will not be admissible and requested that all latent fingerprint identifications be charted using fingerprints of Ray taken following his arrest in London. These prints are now on file in Memphis in the District Attorney's Office and will be forwarded to the Identification Division by registered mail on September 27, 1968.

Mr. Dwyer believes that the prints of Ray taken in Memphis will not be admissible as they were taken after he was placed in custody and represented by counsel.

Mr. Bonebrake will subsequently be advised when to appear in Memphis.

Dear Sir,

I am at present in custody at the above listed address in London England. I'm told more than likely I will most probably be deported to the United States. The reason I am writing you is that I am well versed in English agreed to London to return me to the U.S. and I would like to have it on record now that I have no intentions of making any disturbances that I might have anything to fight but I would rather to tell my story to a judge & jury. Therefore I would respectfully suggest you send someone with less resignation than Mr. Venson. I would write Mr. Venson myself but am acting Mr. Attorney. Hence a similar letter. Sincerely

Dear Mr. Stoner;

I was shown a letter recently (3 July) written by you on a legal point which you represented if I needed correct legal assistance relative to the charge against me in the U.S. as you have probably read in the papers. I have retained Mr. Arthur Moses of Birmingham solicitor therefore I would rather wait until I return to the U.S. and get his advice before I take any other action. As far as my personal views on the case I am more concern with the personal charges made against me by the Assistant Prosecution in the murder charge which is the part I know you must attain to the factual role of [illegible]

I thought I would write you in regard to my Extradition intention abusing the case with anyone, I would also like to say that I have no intention of making any oral statement at first

I have nothing to hide but I would rather tell my version to a court of law.
I am also going to write a let-

That was highly unwarranted of from what I gather from my had something to do with

I hope that it would be much wiser to stop it up

Also I am writing my brother asking him to send you a

Also I have read where they are getting a special place ready in the Memphis Jail for Television Comedians & this I should certainly publicly would like my way to prevent this or do you think it necessary to prevent it. That all I can think of at the present.

Dear Jimmy,

I will drop you a few lines to let you know what I know about you over there.

Jim called the Lawyer the other day, and he says you are going to stay a couple of months and he can be over there in a week or two.

I called Percy Foreman that was known Texas Lawyer, but he can only take your case if you ask him.

Judge Cox told the F.B.I. agent that he was going to Reverse your sentence at Jeff. City, but then I think the F.B.I. after a few hours of Miami beat Study papers of the case, the F.B.I. told me to tell the Judge and Sheriff Stevens

Judge Hears Testimony On Contempt

Hanes and Son Duel With Lucius Burch

Arthur Hanes took the witness stand in Criminal Court today and had heated exchanges with a prosecutor over whether Hanes was guilty of violating a court order against talking "for publicity."

Hanes, defense lawyer for James Earl Ray in the slaying of Dr. Martin Luther King, was one of four persons ordered to show cause why they should not be held in contempt of Judge Preston Battle's court order to restrain pre-trial "publicity."

CHARGED

Named with Hanes were Renfro T. Hays, a private detective employed by Hanes; Charles Edmundson, a reporter for The Commercial Appeal; and Roy Hamilton, a reporter for The Press-Scimitar.

Serving as prosecutor was Lucius Burch, who is also one of a seven-member committee of the Memphis and Shelby Court Bar Association appointed by Battle to assist in restraining publicity.

Judge Battle had ordered both defense and prosecution attorneys, their agents and employes, all law enforcement officials of Memphis and Shelby County, all potential witnesses and all employes at the Courthouse and the County Office Building from "giving interviews or making extra-judicial statements prejudicial to a fair trial by an impartial jury." All of these persons were served with a copy of the order and Memphis newspapers and other news media were sent a copy of the order.

ORDERS READ

The hearing opened with a reading of the court orders issued by Judge Battle concerning publicity. Stories from The Commercial Appeal and The Press-Scimitar were read, along with the stories published on Sept. 12 for which Hamilton and Edmundson were ordered to show cause why they should not be held in contempt.

Bubba Blackwell, Criminal Court Clerk, produced lists with Hamilton and Edmundson's signatures on which they had signed for copies of Judge Battle's orders issued on July 30. This was an attempt to show that the two reporters had knowledge of the court's orders, even though newspapers were not cited in them.

The junior Hanes made a motion to exclude all the evidence presented and to dismiss the petition against his client. He said that the evidence presented "is not prima facie evidence against him that these conversations ever took place at all," that they were hearsay evidence.

DENIAL

Judge Battle interrupted: "Does he deny these conversations took place?" The young lawyer seemed a little hesitant about answering. Battle insisted: "Answer my question. Does he deny these conversations?"

Then young Hanes said: "Yes, he must deny the substance of the reports (of the conversations). He is in the process of preparing major litigation. If he is going to be subjected to hearsay evidence, he would be subject to the will or vagary of any reporter or editor across the country." He said his father would "be spending all his time" defending himself against such charges.

Battle refused to dismiss the charges and said: "There are real issues to be decided here and now." He referred to the attorneys for the defense as "lawyers who show proneness for making press statements" and holding press conferences.

Burch asked if the senior Hanes said he had been misquoted by Hamilton and Edmundson. "If so, we want it in the record by a sworn statement," Burch said.

BURDEN OF PROOF

The junior Hanes asked: "Your honor, is the burden of proof on the defendant?"

Battle replied: "No, on the petitioners to the case, but they have a right to ask for an affidavit that says he was misquoted."

Hanes read several parts of the Commercial Appeal article of Sept. 12 and denied that they constituted any violation of the order.

Battle then asked about the statements in The Press-Scimitar article of Sept. 12 and about the statements alledgedly made in an interview printed in an Associated Press report from Birmingham.

Battle asked if the senior Hanes made the statements that were reported in the story of the Birmingham interview. Hanes replied: "No, not to Mr. Hamilton."

AP REPORT

Battle replied: "No, it was not made to Mr. Hamilton. It was made and disseminated in an Associated Press report which was picked up by Mr. Hamilton." Then Battle said he wanted to know if Hanes had ever made any extra-judicial (outside the courtroom) statements concerning the Ray case. At that point the junior Hanes offered to put his father on the stand and did so.

The senior Hanes took the stand. After being shown the newspaper clippings admitted that he had made complaints about Ray's treatment in open court, he said: "I did not set up any interviews. I did not call any press conferences."

He said he had declined to answer many questions put to him by newspaper reporters. The junior Hanes asked if he had ever intimated that Ray might not be able to stand trial Nov. 12 as scheduled because of his treatment in the jail.

EARLIER TRIAL

The senior Hanes said in reply: "As a matter of fact, I think this case should have gone to trial earlier. It was set earlier, but obviously for political reasons or some other reasons it was reset until Nov. 12."

POSTPONEMENT

The junior Hanes reread the statement concerning the postponement from The Press - Scimitar article of Sept. 12 and asked if he denied ever making that statement outside the courtroom. The senior Hanes said he did.

Burch asked the senior Hanes if he denied making the statement attributed to him concerning Ray's treatment in the jail. He again denied making the statement.

Hanes continued: "I'm more interested than anybody else, except the judge, in seeing that my client gets a fair trial. I ask you, am I going to do anything to prejudice my client's case?

Burch replied: "Are you also interested in the State getting a fair trial?"

MERITS

"I certainly am, sir," replied Hanes. "I have told the press around the world I would not comment on matters going into the merits of this case."

During the exchange between the two attorneys, they frequently interrupted each other, causing the junior Hanes to complain to the court about the by-play. He also objected to the manner in which Burch questioned the senior Hanes.

His objection was overruled.

Hanes continued his statement: "I have not called any press conferences for publicity. I don't need it. This case itself attracts publicity.

DEFENSE

"I am concerned with the problem of pre-trial publicity. I have argued against it before this court and I believe in it. But I'm going to defend my client with everything in my might."

Burch asked the senior Hanes if he intended in the future to make any statements in violation of the court's order prohibiting extra-judicial statements.

The two attorneys then discussed what constituted extra-judicial statements.

Burch asked Hanes if he thought the statements concerning Ray's treatment "will cause sympathy in the community."

Hanes replied he couldn't judge that. He said the question of whether Ray could get a fair trial could only be determined after a jury had been selected.

Hanes said in reply to a Burch question: "I had a lot of reporters call me, but I have not made any statement prejudicial."

'BUG' STATEMENT

Burch said: "Have you ever made a statement outside this courtroom to any person that . . . Ray has 'enough to bug anybody' because of tight security and bright lights in his cell?"

Ray, Attorney Confer Again

Arthur J. Hanes held another jail cell conference with James Earl Ray today while Hanes' son, Arthur J. Hanes Jr., prepared to defend his father at a contempt hearing.

"I told my son that's one case he had better win or look for another law partner," quipped the senior Hanes, a former mayor of Birmingham.

Hanes, two Memphis newsmen and a private detective have been cited to appear before Judge W. Preston Battle at 9:30 a.m. tomorrow and show cause why they should not be held in contempt.

A petition filed last week by the Bar Association committee appointed by the judge to advise him on pretrial publicity charged Hanes and the others with violating the court's anti-publicity order.

Canale Says Guards Don't Eavesdrop

Attorney General Denies Charge By Ray's Attorney

By ROY B. HAMILTON
Press-Scimitar Staff Writer

Atty. Gen. Phil Canale today "emphatically denied" a defense charge that guards eavesdrop over microphones on conversations between James Earl Ray and his chief legal counsel, Arthur B. Hanes Sr. in Shelby County Jail.

In a two-page written reply to defense motions filed last week, the attorney general said the microphones in Ray's cell are turned off during his conferences with Hanes.

"In truth and fact, the petitioner (Hanes) has had tests performed at his request showing to the petitioner's satisfaction that his conferences with Ray cannot be heard by guards in the cell," Canale said.

REQUESTS

The defense motion asked Criminal Court Judge W. Preston Battle to order Sheriff William Morris to "cease and desist" from using television cameras, bright lights and microphones to monitor Ray's cell on the third floor of the county jail building.

Hanes charged he has never been able to talk to the prisoner outside of the presence of at least two guards and without being subjected to the scrutiny of television cameras and microphones.

"The attorney general is curious as to how the petitioner knows what has been or has not been heard by the guards assigned to Ray's cell," Canale stated in his answer, filed in the Criminal Court Clerk's office this morning.

'FOR SECURITY'

Asking Judge Battle to reject Hanes' motions, Canale maintained that the microphones were placed in the cell for security reasons. As to defense contentions that the sheriff's office should be stopped from censoring correspondence between Ray and his attorneys, Canale said the state is legally entitled "to read any written communication emanating from the prisoner Ray to anyone. For the sheriff not to do his duty in this regard would be incongruous with his duty to this office and to the people of this community."

Arguments on the motions are scheduled to be heard in Judge Battle's court Friday, the same day a hearing is scheduled on a contempt petition. Hanes, two newspaper reporters, Roy Hamilton of The Press-Scimitar and Charles Edmundson of The Commercial Appeal, and a private investigator, Renfro Hays, have been instructed to appear before Judge Battle and show cause why they should not be held in contempt for violating the court's pre-trial, anti-publicity order.

Hanes and his son, Arthur J. Hanes Jr., who is assisting in Ray's defense, are flying to Memphis from Birmingham tonight. Ray's murder trial in the slaying of Dr. Martin Luther King is set for Nov. 12.

Arresting Officer In London Expected As Ray Witness

By CHARLES EDMUNDSON

Detective Supt. Tommy Butler of Scotland Yard, who arrested James Earl Ray at London's Heathrow Airport June 8, is expected to be a key witness when Ray goes on trial in November on a charge of murdering Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.

Atty. Gen. Phil M. Canale last night confirmed that Superintendent Butler's name is on the list of prosecution witnesses Criminal Court Judge W. Preston Battle ordered given to Ray's attorneys.

The list is understood to contain the names of other detectives from London and those of several FBI investigators.

The list is described as "potential witnesses." But Superintendent Butler, a 55-year-old bachelor famed for such things as solving London's 1963 seven-million-dollar train robbery, is considered certain to be subpenaed.

Meanwhile Ray, in his suite at Shelby County Jail, was reported by Mr. Canale as "averaging nine hours sleep in 24 and no more disturbed or nervous than any other defendant called on to answer an indictment by which he could be sentenced to die."

The attorney general described Ray's condition in an answer filed in the Criminal Court clerk's office to charges that bright lights and television cameras interfere with the prisoner's sleep and possibly endanger his health.

Arthur J. Hanes of Birmingham, chief counsel for Ray, had charged that the conditions of Ray's imprisonment constitute "cruel and unusual punishment."

Mr. Canale agreed that microphones have been installed in Ray's cell but denied this constitutes a violation of the prisoner's right to private counsel.

The microphones are used for security purposes only and are turned off when Mr. Hanes and Ray confer, the attorney general said. Tests have been made and have proved to Mr. Hanes' admitted satisfaction that his conferences with the defendant are private and not overheard, Mr. Canale said.

Mr. Canale described as "ridiculous to the point of being ludicrous" Mr. Hanes' charge that television cameras are being used as a substitute for a lineup in preparing witnesses to identify Ray at the trial.

"If this were done, it would not be competent evidence under United States Supreme Court decisions," Mr. Canale added.

Mr. Hanes and his son, Arthur Hanes Jr., are to spend today in Memphis going over items of evidence, including the white Mustang in which Ray is said to have escaped from Memphis after shooting Dr. King April 4.

Mr. Hanes is also expected to file today his reply to Judge Battle's order to show cause why he should not be held in contempt of the court's order forbidding publicity that might interfere with a fair trial. The contempt hearing is set for 9:30 a.m. tomorrow.

SUBJECT: MURKIN

SYNOPSIS:

This is the case involving the murder of Martin Luther King, Jr. Judge W. Preston Battle, Memphis, Tennessee, issued a court order on September 18, 1968, for the defense to inspect, copy or photograph items and documents of evidence in relation to trial of James Earl Ray on state charges, which include penal records and psychiatric reports of Ray. Mr. Phil M. Canale, Jr., who is handling the state's prosecution advised order is in reference to evidence now in possession of Memphis Police Department, and he does not intend to exhibit to the defense any reports contained in our investigative reports furnished to him by us. Representatives of Mr. Canale were in our laboratory reviewing evidence recovered by us and in our possession. Any evidence they request and we turn over to them will be subject to inspection by the defense. The Department has advised it will no doubt be necessary to turn over some of our evidence to Memphis authorities. Evidence recovered by Memphis is under very strict control of Mr. Canale.

ACTION:

This matter is being followed closely, and the Department is being furnished a copy of the court order. The Department will be advised of Mr. Canale's interpretation of the court order.

BACKGROUND:

Judge W. Preston Battle, Criminal Court of Shelby County, Memphis, Tennessee, issued a court order on September 18, 1968, for the defense to inspect, copy or photograph items and documents of evidence in relation to the trial of James Earl Ray on state charges. The items and documents of evidence includes firearm, automobile and objects found therein, guest registers of hotels, motels and rooming houses, penal records of Ray, psychiatric reports of Ray, television sets, binoculars, or other tangible objects purportedly used or handled by Ray. The judge in this court order denied the defendants motion to produce ballistic and weapons test.

Mr. Phil M. Canale, State Attorney General, Shelby County, Memphis, Tennessee, who is handling the state's prosecution advised the order is in reference to the evidence now in possession of his department as recovered at the scene of the assassination by the Memphis Police Department. It is noted that the court order cites penal records of Ray and psychiatric reports. Reports such as these are contained in the results of investigative reports furnished to Mr. Canale, with Departmental approval. In relation to this Mr. Canale has advised the court order does not refer to the investigative reports furnished to him and he does not intend to exhibit these to the defense.

Three representatives from Mr. Canale's office were in our laboratory reviewing the evidence recovered by us and which is in our possession. According to Mr. Canale, when any of our evidence is turned over to them at their request, the Defense has the legal right to inspect this evidence. There appears to be nothing objectionable in this, as the Department has advised that it will no doubt be necessary to turn some of our evidence over to the Memphis authorities.

Mr. Canale has advised that Arthur J. Hanes, attorney for James Earl Ray, has inspected some of the evidence in possession of Memphis authorities and Hanes has not made any requests whatsoever for inspection of evidence in the FBI's possession. Mr. Canale has further advised the evidence as recovered by the Memphis Police Department is under his own very strict control and the utmost security is being maintained to insure the evidence is preserved.

Indices check at Jackson disclosed the following:

A review of Jackson file [redacted] disclosed that on 3/3/67, one JAN SARTOR contacted the Greenville, Mississippi, Resident Agent of the FBI where she provided the following information:

She is (at that time) the Greenville reporter for the Memphis "Commercial Appeal" (a daily newspaper from Memphis, Tennessee) and also writes free lance for other papers and magazines. She has written articles under the name of JAN SCUDDER for Sepia, a Negro magazine produced at Fort Worth, Texas. Her husband, WILLIAM SARTOR, writes free lance for Time and Life Magazines.

In August, 1966, she attended a conference of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC) in Jackson, Mississippi, and later wrote an article for Sepia Magazine concerning this conference. During the period she covered this conference, she was not accompanied by her husband and registered at the King Edward Hotel in Jackson as JAN SCUDDER.

Shortly after her return to Greenville from Jackson, she received a telephone call from an individual who said he was calling long distance from a pay telephone which she assumed was in Jackson, Mississippi. This individual furnished his name as either ED or JAMES FLEMING. He said he had attended the SCLC Conference at Jackson and had seen a man taking a photograph of her standing in front of the King Edward Hotel with two Negro males. He stated he was trying to determine the identity of the photographer, as his picture had also been taken at that time. This individual asked her several times why she was there and asked her whether or not she was a member of SCLC.

A few days later she received another long distance telephone call and the operator said the unidentified caller was trying to reach ED HAMLETT. Mrs. SARTOR said she was not aware of it at that time but later learned that ED HAMLET is a Negro who is a member of the Southern Student Organizing Committee (SSOC), which is a branch of the Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee (SNCC).

Mrs. SARTOR alleged that the man's voice in the background sounded similar to the same man who had called her previously.

She received no further telephone calls until last week (5-10-67) when she received another telephone call wherein the operator asked for BILL SARTOR. During this incident the operator said she was trying to reach ED HAMLETT through Mr. SARTOR. She heard the same man's voice giving the number to the telephone operator. This was also a long distance telephone call, city not known.

Prior to 5/17/67, the telephone operator called and told her they were trying to locate Mrs. SARTOR's mother and the operator requested the name of her mother, and where she could be reached. During this call the same man came on the telephone and said he was calling from Nashville, Tennessee. He indicated his name was JAMES MASON and that he was calling for JAMES FLEMING. He stated he thought they might be related and he was trying to locate relatives.

Mrs. SARTOR alleged that she did not give this man any information. Later, the same day, she received another telephone call wherein the operator said she was trying to locate Mrs. MARTIN LUTHER KING, JR.

Mrs. SARTOR inquired from the operator the identity of the calling party and she heard a man say that he did not want to give his name. The operator then told her the telephone call was from a public telephone in Memphis, Tennessee.

Since the last incident, her maid, her neighbor, and her employer, the "Commercial Appeal" have all received telephone calls inquiring about her relatives, husband, type of work, and other personal information. She said the telephone call at the "Commercial Appeal" was concerning her association with Sepia Magazine, which she had not told her employer at the "Commercial Appeal" about, and whether or not her husband wrote articles for Ebony Magazine.

During the above interview, Mrs. SARTOR said she was concerned about the harassing nature of the telephone calls and that she was unable to determine the purpose of such calls. She said she felt that someone may be mistakenly identifying her as a civil rights worker because she attends numerous civil rights functions in an official capacity for her employers. She indicated she does not and never has belonged to any civil rights organizations. She said that one of the editors of the "Commercial Appeal" suggested to her that the originator of these telephone calls could be one EDGAR DOWNING a self-styled investigator [redacted] known to the Memphis area.

The following description and background data was obtained through observation and interview:

Name:	Mrs. WILLIAM G. SARTOR
Aliases	Jan Sartor Jan Scudder Johnna Lou Scudder
Sex	Female
Race	White
Date of birth	[redacted]
Place of birth

Marital status	Married (WILLIAM G. SARTOR)
Parents	CHARLES and LULA SCUDDER Spur, Texas
Employment	Reporter, "Commercial Appeal" Memphis, Tennessee; free lance writer.
Residence	[redacted] Greenville, Mississippi.

The file further reflected that on 5/19/67, EDGAR DOWNING contacted the Jackson FBI Office in person seeking information concerning JAN SARTOR. DOWNING indicated he has been making an investigation concerning the activities of this woman. No information was furnished to Mr. EDGAR DOWNING.

Will conduct indices check concerning EDGAR DOWNING. It should be noted that referenced Bureau airtel instructs that no interview of SARTOR should be conducted until the Bureau advises to do so.

Four Held in Contempt For Ray Case Reports

Sentencing Is Withheld

Criminal Court Judge W. Preston Battle today held in contempt of his court all four defendants involved in news reports of the James Earl Ray murder case, but withheld punishment pending their future actions.

Convicted after a hearing all-day last Friday and this morning were:

Arthur Hanes, Birmingham attorney for the man accused of murdering Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.

Roy Hamilton, reporter for The Memphis Press-Scimitar;

Charles Edmundson, reporter for The Commercial Appeal;

Renfro T. Hays, Memphis private investigator for Hanes.

ENCLOSURE

Stories written by Hamilton and Edmundson on Sept. 12 quoting the other two defendants were responsible for Judge Battle's order demanding they show cause why they should not be held in contempt of his previous orders barring extra-judicial statements concerning the Ray case set for trial Nov. 12.

STATEMENT

Battle read a long prepared statement in which he cited the news articles of the two reporters, criticized Hanes and his investigator for making extra-judicial statements, and added that he believed "Mr. Edmundson told the truth" as opposed to investigator Hays.

Battle cited Supreme Court cases, particularly Sheppard vs. Maxwell, backing up his order on extra-judicial news. He said, "these two newspaper reporters avoid responsibility by using the immunity of the First Amendment," but he maintained that they knew the regulations of the order because it was widely disseminated.

Battle summed up his findings by saying:

"Justice demands a fair trial by an impartial jury both for James Earl Ray and the State of Tennessee."

After the judge announced his decision, attorneys for the two newsmen requested a brief recess. The group came back into the courtroom a short time later and Ezra Bryan, Scripps-Howard Newspapers' attorney from Cleveland, presented two motions.

ASKS SENTENCE

Bryan asked Judge Battle to reconsider his decision and, in the event this motion was not granted, to impose sentence so that an appeal could be made.

Bryan argued that to withhold sentence would be to place the newspapers and their reporters "in limbo" as to what they could print about the Ray case.

"This is a matter with which conscientious reporters and responsible newspapers cannot possibly live," said Bryan.

DENIAL

Judge Battle denied both motions. He said that while he "could deeply sympathize" with the newspapers' desire to have an appellate court act, he was not ready to pass sentence at this time, as he had said in his earlier ruling.

Much of this morning's session was taken up with arguments concerning the truth of statements attributed to Hays by Edmundson in his Commercial Appeal story.

Armistead Clay, attorney for Memphis Publishing Co. representing both Hamilton and Edmundson, told the court in his arguments for dismissal that it was clear the U.S. Supreme Court "deliberately refrained" from authorizing such orders that could be used against the press.

'AIN'T TALKING

The other two defendants were reluctant to comment. Asked if he had a statement to make, the elder Hanes said with a laugh: "Yeah, I've got a statement to make —I ain't talking."

Hays, when asked if he would comment, said: "No, sir. I'm not even me."

Court recessed until this afternoon, when Judge Battle was to continue hearing the motion by defense attorney Hanes that the defendant, James Earl Ray, was subjected to cruel treatment by means of the lights and TV cameras trained on him in his cell.

SPECULATION

There was speculation that Ray would be brought down from jail for the hearing. The senior Hanes said he wouldn't call Ray, but the judge might want him, in connection with Hanes' motion that the TV camera and lights in the prisoner's cell are bothering him.

Giving rise to this speculation was that today, for the first time, Sheriff William Morris was sitting in the courtroom.

BATTLE

Much of the morning session consisted of a hot verbal battle between reporter Edmundson and Robert Livingston, attorney for Hays, over the Sept. 12 story which Edmundson wrote.

In Edmundson's 8-paragraph story Hays was quoted as saying security measures for Ray at the Shelby County Jail compared with "devices used by Communist police agents to destroy the health and balance of their victims."

Edmundson quoted Hays as saying Ray's health was threatned by bright lights left shining night and day in his cell, by constant monitoring of the prisoner by TV cameras and by uninterrupted lack of privacy.

The conditions are not the result of intentional persecution, Edmundson quoted Hays as saying.

Leo Bearman Jr. was prosecutor today for the bar association committee pushing the contempt action. He replaced Lucius Burch, who was prosecutor Friday and was out of the city today. Arthur Hanes Jr. defended his father.

ETHICS

Early in the session the question of press ethics featured a verbal battle between Edmundson and Livingston.

The clash was over a story Edmundson wrote about an interview with Hays. Last Friday Hays said he talked with Edmundson three times, including once at Hays' home.

Edmundson said Friday

...that the interview from which the story was written took place at The Commercial Appeal office.

Today Edmundson was first on the witness stand, being questioned at length by Livingston. Edmundson testified:

"He (Hays) said, 'I trust you. Use your judgment.'

"I protected Mr. Hays by writing just a minor part of what he said. You're not serving your own interests by pressing this point. He gave me a hand-written statement by a man reportedly present when this shooting occurred."

OBJECTION

Bearman objected to the questioning.

Livingston replied:

"Every time I ask him (Edmundson) a question for a 'yes' or 'no' he goes off on a big dissertation."

In the beginning of testimony, Livingston asked that charges against Hays be dismissed because of Edmundson's testimony at the end of last Friday's all-day session.

Referring to Edmundson, Livingston said:

"He acted against the advice of his own attorney (Armistead Clay). We had a material witness in the courtroom Friday who could have refuted the testimony. He left on a Greyhound bus Friday afternoon for the state of Kentucky, and Mr. Hays has not been able to reach him all weekend. I submit Hays' rights were prejudiced by this unusual procedure — after both attorneys presented their arguments, the court recessed and Mr. Edmundson went into a huddle with his attorney. Against the attorney's advice, he sought permission of the court to testify."

WITNESSES

Livingston said there were also many members of the bar present Friday who were to be presented as character witnesses. He said they could not be present today because of other commitments. Livingston also again urged that Burch be removed as chairman of bar committee because he was attorney for Martin Luther King.

Livingston added:

"In the event that Hays should be found in contempt of this court, his work as an investigator would be seriously hampered," and added that James Earl Ray "will be denied a fair trial before an impartial jury."

Livingston questioned Edmundson in great detail about his notes on the meetings with Hays. Edmundson said that after the session last Friday he had made a cursory search for his notebook, but had not been able to find it.

NOTES

Hays' attorney accused Edmundson of making mental rather than verbal notes. Edmundson pointed out that most reporters do both. Edmundson retorted:

"The material witness you are talking about had nothing to do with the story that was written. I wrote the story from the interview with Hays at my office. When I visited Hays' home the material witness was there, but the story in question had been published weeks before."

Edmundson said he would be glad to furnish a memo — a long one — that had been written by him to the metropolitan editor from the notes of the interview with Hays. Edmundson said, however, that he had asked Hays to talk to him and "tell me what the defense attitude was and what the defense was going to be. He did tell me, and what was printed was a minor part. The rest can be seen in the memo."

The junior Hanes rose at this point and said, "I object to plans of the defense (being admitted) . . . I deny we had anything to do with the defendant."

INADMISSIBLE

Battle ruled the unpublished material inadmissable because it might prejudice the case against Ray.

Livingston said "when this witness testified he said he did not put everything in that Mr. Hays said. This shows he put everything in he wanted to. Do I understand he (Hays) did not come unsolicited to your office?"

Edmondson: "I went by his office to ask him to come see me. He was not there and I left word for him to call."

Livingston: "You didn't know him before? You saw him on Sept. 6 in the courtroom."

Edmondson: "I didn't see him there in the sense of recognizing him."

Livingston: "How did you know where his office was?"

Edmondson: "That would involve giving away certain sources. I did not feel that I had to protect Mr. Hays any longer when he came here and told deliberate falsehoods. I no longer felt any responsibility to protect him as a source."

Livingston asked Edmondson if he made any attempt to find his notes after he learned that Hays had filed a sworn denial to anything that Edmondson had in his story.

FACTS

Edmondson said he thought it was a legal move and paid little attention to it. "I'm not so deeply interested in legal formalities as I am the facts," said Edmondson.

There was a skirmish between Edmondson and Livingston over what indirect and direct quotations meant in a reporter's vocabulary. Edmondson said heatedly "indirect quotations don't represent a word-for-word account. They are an accurate reflection of what he (Hays) told me."

Livingston questioned Edmondson about a phrase in his story saying Hays "said last night." Edmondson said "he came to my office fairly late in the afternoon — about 4:30—and it was about 6:15 when he left."

Livingston said he still wanted to know what Edmondson meant by "night."

Edmondson said, "I consider night begins at 6 p.m."

STORY WRITING

Several times Livingston questioned Edmundson about why some statements in Edmundson's story were direct quotations and some indirect.

Edmundson told Livingston that he considered himself a better judge of how the story should be written than Livingston.

Edmundson turned to the judge and objected to some of the questions Livingston asked. Battle warned Livingston not to "rag the witness."

Livingston then asked if Edmundson had ever had other complaints about his reporting. Edmundson brought laughs from spectators when he said he had and that chief among them was Burch, chairman of the bar committee. Edmundson offered to describe the circumstances of the complaint, but Judge Battle ruled that it was not pertinent.

Edmundson repeated his statement that all of the information printed in his story was correct and that he, in fact, had left out many things Hays had told him concerning the case.

Hays, in rebuttal testimony said the interview between himself and Edmundson in the Hays home took place before the story in question was printed.

Hays said the interview in Court Puts Off Sentencing

By JOHN MEANS

Four men were ruled in contempt of court for violating court orders on pre-trial publicity in the James Earl Ray case yesterday, but Criminal Court Judge Preston Battle refused to impose sentence pending their "future actions."

The judge said he was "just not ready to decide" the fate of the defendants despite a plea by a Scripps-Howard Newspapers attorney that sentence be imposed promptly "so that an appeal might be taken."

Judge Battle's action was aimed at Charles Edmundson, a reporter for The Commercial Appeal, and Roy Hamilton, Memphis Press-Scimitar reporter, for articles appearing under their by-lines Sept. 12.

The Commercial Appeal vowed editorially today to fight the ruling to the United States Supreme Court, if necessary. It also promised to continue to report to its readers the developments in the Ray case.

Also cited in Judge Battle's lengthy decision was Arthur Hanes, Ray's attorney, and Renfro Hays, a private investigator working for Mr. Hanes. Mr. Hays was quoted in the article by Mr. Edmundson, and Mr. Hanes' contempt citation stemmed from remarks attributed to him by Mr. Hamilton.

Ezra Bryan of Cleveland, Ohio, attorney for Scripps-Howard, returned to the courtroom early yesterday afternoon after the judge had read his verdict and recessed for lunch, to plead with Judge Battle to reconsider his action in relation to Mr. Edmundson and Mr. Hamilton, or to impose a prompt sentence.

"Conscientious reporters and responsible newspapers cannot possibly live under the circumstances which would arise under the present posture of this case," Mr. Bryan said.

"Three two men are in limbo, under threat of punishment by the court, rather than under a court order. The penalty must be imposed on the people who open the door, rather than the reporters who report them open."

He called the judge's ruling "censorship at its worst."

Judge Battle's ruling knocked down two basic contentions by Mr. Hanes and the reporters.

The newsmen's attorney, Armistead Clay, contended their rights under the First Amendment involving freedom of the press would be violated under such a citation. Mr. Hanes' lawyer, Arthur Hanes Jr., argued that his father said nothing to newsmen that had not already come out in open court, and therefore was not "extra-judicial" under the terms of the judge's order.

But Judge Battle said, "There is surely an obvious difference between making charges and claims in court . . . where the opposing side can challenge the truth of the charges and claim . . . and the giving of unsworn statements outside court . . .

(Such statements) are in violation of the orders of the court whether made before or after the same identical statements are made in open court or in a pleading filed in court.

"It is my present opinion that the respondents, each and all, have failed to show good cause why they should not be held in contempt for the violating of the orders of this court, of which they had notice.

"I am not yet ready to decide what final disposition should be made of the matter. It might well be that future action and conduct of all or some of these respondents might be considered as a mitigation or even as a purgation of the offense."

Judge Battle's verdict also made it clear he did not believe the testimony of Mr. Hays, who swore Friday and again yesterday that he did not make the statements attributed to him in Mr. Edmundson's news story. Mr. Edmundson testified that he did.

"The testimony is in direct conflict," Judge Battle said. It is the duty of the court to determine the credibility of the witnesses and determine the truth of the matter.

"The court believes Mr. Edmundson has told the truth."

Earlier in the day, Mr. Edmundson clashed with Robert Livingston, Mr. Hays' attorney, who asked the reporter why he had not brought his notes into court, knowing that Mr. Hays had filed an answer in court last week denying he was guilty of the contempt charges.

"I didn't take your formal denial as anything but a pro forma legal document," Mr. Edmundson answered. "I don't take my cues from you, or from any orders you file in court."

The attorney then read part of Mr. Edmundson's story.

Q—Did he (Mr. Hays) say that word for word verbatim?

A—Is that in quotation marks?

Q—I'm asking you, is that what he said?

A—And I'm asking you—

Q—Your honor, please instruct the witness—

Judge Battle: Well, let him see the document. You can't examine him without letting him see it.

Q—Your honor, he wrote it.

Judge Battle: Let him see it.

In response to a question as to why he did not use quotation marks, Mr. Edmundson said he felt himself a better judge of how to write a news story than the attorney. "I don't tell you how to practice law."

Q—Why didn't you put it in direct quotes?

A—I didn't want to. Judge, isn't he arguing here?

Judge Battle: I think you're beating a dead horse. Don't bullyrag the witness.

Judge Battle also overruled a motion to dismiss the case against Mr. Hays on the grounds that Lucius Burch, who served as prosecutor in Friday's hearing, was the attorney for Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., at the time Ray is accused of slaying him, and consequently is prejudiced against Mr. Hays.

Mr. Burch, the chairman of the seven-man group of attorneys who brought the contempt charges, was not in court yesterday. His place was taken by Leo Bearman Jr., another member of the "friend of the court" committee.

Other members of the committee, appointed by Judge Battle to advise him on publicity and pre-trial procedure, are Alan Hanover, Lee Hardison, James Causey, Cooper Turner Jr. and Don Owens. Mr. Owens is president of the Memphis and Shelby County Bar Association.

Cell Scrutiny To Go On

James Earl Ray strode smartly into Criminal Court Judge Preston Battle's courtroom yesterday afternoon, sat quietly for two hours, then heard the judge deny a motion to turn off the lights, microphones and television cameras in his cell at the Shelby County Jail.

Accused in the slaying of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., Ray goes on trial Nov. 12. Yesterday he did not take the stand and did not speak a word to anyone as he sat behind his attorneys, Arthur Hanes and Arthur Hanes Jr. Ray wore a blue, pin-striped suit, a light blue shirt and blue tie and a fresh haircut.

His appearance was delayed from last Friday by a hearing in which Mr. Hanes and three others were accused of contempt of court in connection with publicity in his case. Security measures planned for Friday were put into well-rehearsed operation yesterday afternoon.

Judge Battle ruled that the lights, cameras and microphone in Ray's jail cell constituted reasonable s e c u r i t y measures. "If he's photo-sensitive, department stores sell these black masks like women and people who work at night wear," he told Mr. Hanes.

Sheriff William N. Morris testified that his officers have been ordered to inspect any notes that Ray passes to Mr. Hanes during their talks in his third-floor cell in the County Jail. He and Captain Billy J. Smith, who is in charge of the security detail that guards Ray day and night, both testified that this is to prevent Ray from getting a drawing or diagram of his cell out of the building.

"We are looking for maps, drawings, evidence of jail diagrams," Captain Smith said. "We don't read the notes, we just inspect them."

This brought a request from Robert Dwyer, executive assistant attorney general, that Judge Battle order more stringent security measures, insisting that all Ray's notes should be read. Judge Battle overruled the request, before proceeding to overrule Mr. Hanes' motions to relax the electronic and double-guard vigil over his client.

Mr. Hanes began the hearing by announcing that Ray "has reaffirmed his faith in us . . . we have agreed to continue to represent the defendant." Mr. Hanes had suggested last Friday that differences between him and Ray in trial strategy might cause him to step out of the case.

The lights in the court building dimmed perceptibly at 3:45 p.m., startling deputies in the hallway. Inside the courtroom, Judge Battle looked up at the offending light fixtures, and smiled. Spectators smiled at each other, and the hearing continued.

Four blocks away in the Light, Gas and Water Building, technicians said they conducted a routine switching of power substations. "The flickering affected most of the city. But that's all it was . . . a flickering."

Ray appeared somewhat pale, though Captain Smith said he had gained some weight on his jail diet. The officer said he had been averaging about 8½ hours sleep a night, and Judge Battle commented in his ruling that "It has been testified Mr. Ray has been sleeping more than I have lately."

Lawyers, newsmen and other spectators were subjected to the same rigid security — searches, video tape recordings of voices and the issuance of identification badges — that marked Ray's only other appearance in court when he was arraigned in July. As before, he entered court between two officers. Three burly deputies sat behind him.

He sat quietly throughout the no-recess hearing, yawning occasionally, scratching his right ear now and then. He seemed calm.

Mr. Hanes' reference to "high-powered lights" was the subject of Captain Parker's testimony, when Mr. Dwyer asked him if he had determined the brightness of the 24-hour-a-day lights.

"I checked them with a light meter," Captain Parker said. "In the cell block, outside the cell, they measure nine foot candles. Inside the cell, the reading is six. It's five here in the courtroom, and on an overcast day outside, the reading is 65."

Captain Parker also said Ray "seems a little more relaxed than when he first came here, when he didn't know what was going to happen to him. And he appears to have gained a little weight." He said Ray spends about $20 a month at the jail commissary for "sandwiches, orange juice and milk" in addition to his regular prison fare.

Mr. Hanes dwelled at length on the closeness of the television cameras pointed at Ray's cell, as he questioned Sheriff Morris:

Q—You do have television cameras there?

A—That's correct.

Q—Are they ever turned off, or are they on continuously?

A—They are on continuously.

Q—How many are there?

A—Two.

Q—How far is that from where he sleeps?

A—Would say six or eight feet.

Q—And it would show him when he lay down on his bed or when he went to the bathroom?

A—You could see a movement, but you could not see the details.

Hanes May Quit As Ray Attorney

By JOHN MEANS

Attorney Arthur J. Hanes Sr. punctuated the end of a day-long legal skirmish yesterday by telling Criminal Court Judge Preston Battle he may step out of the James Earl Ray case.

The Birmingham attorney, who has represented the accused slayer of Dr. Martin Luther King since his arrest in June, told Judge Battle and a courtroom full of lawyers, newsmen and officers that "serious differences have arisen between me and my client as to the best way to conduct his defense and it is possible I may withdraw from this case."

The announcement came at the end of yesterday's court battle on four contempt of court cases.

A committee of seven attorneys, appointed by Judge Battle to advise him on pre-trial publicity and procedures, recommended contempt proceedings against Mr. Hanes, a private investigator employed by him and two newspaper reporters.

One of the newsmen, Charles Edmundson, a reporter for The Commercial Appeal, took the witness stand against the advice of his own counsel yesterday afternoon, to refute earlier testimony by the private investigator, Renfro T. Hays. Mr. Hays had denied statements attributed to him by Mr. Edmundson, which were the basis for the contempt citations.

"I did not originally mean to take the witness stand," Mr. Edmundson testified. "But in view of the reflections cast on The Commercial Appeal by the allegations of Mr. Hays — and Mr. (Lucius) Burch's insistence that my refusal to take the stand constituted a reflection on The Commercial Appeal and on my reputation as a reporter — I could not let it go by without taking the stand and I did not."

The lawsuit is probably unique in the nation's courts. The four were ordered to show cause why they should not be held in contempt of court at the suggestion of the committee of lawyers, whose standing in court is that of "amicus curiae,"—friends of the court. With Mr. Burch as spokesman, the committee acted as the prosecutors, making it necessary for the accused men, or

"respondents," to defend themselves.

After Mr. Hays testified he did not make the statements attributed to him, Mr. Burch told Judge Battle the case against him was "a very weak case," since his testimony was not contradicted. It was then that Mr. Edmundson demanded that he be allowed to testify.

Roy Hamilton, reporter for the Memphis Press-Scimitar who also faces contempt charges, did not take the stand.

In his just-before-adjournment statement, Mr. Hanes attacked the lawyers' committee, saying, "I think prejudice is showing like a grandmother's petticoat under a granddaughter's miniskirt. I'm going to do everything I can to defend my client against whatever arises, including committees of lawyers. I do not know what their motives are, although I have my ideas."

Judge Battle commented from the bench that "Mr. Burch certainly does not need me to defend him but a charge of any prejudice against Mr. Burch or anyone on this committee, the court thinks is utterly ridiculous.

"We'll finish this matter Monday. Adjourn the court."

Judge Battle's Decision

CRIMINAL COURT Judge Battle yesterday in an ancillary proceeding to the Ray case ruled that Charles Edmundson, a reporter for The Commercial Appeal, had violated an injunction prohibiting the lawyers and their investigators from making out-of-court statements on certain subjects. Hanes, Ray's counsel, and Hays, an investigator for him, were found guilty of making such statements which had been reported in this newspaper.

Unfortunately, Judge Battle did not enter a final, and so appealable, order by announcing the penalty. Thus, the sword of Damocles is hung over our head. It was suggested by the judge that the penalty might be reduced if henceforth we restricted our reporting of the Ray case to just what was said and done in open court.

Such handcuffing of the press and blindfolding of the citizens in a free country cannot be accepted by a responsible newspaper which must report all important happenings to the people.

History teaches us, most recently in Czechoslovakia, that freedom of speech and press are the cornerstone upon which rest our rights to open and fair trials; in fact, all of our basic liberties.

WITH ALL DUE respect for Judge Battle and the tremendous burden he carries, we must until this matter is finally determined by, if necessary, the United States Supreme Court, report the Ray case. This on the basis of our conviction forst, that the judge's injunction does not apply to this newspaper or its reporters, and second, if it did, it would be a nullity by being in conflict with the free press guarantee of the First Amendment to the United States Constitution.

In the meantime, our attorneys will be seeking all available routes to a final determination of this most important matter.

Press-Scimitar Plans to Appeal Contempt Ruling

Attorneys for The Memphis Press-Scimitar today planned legal action before the Tennessee Supreme Court in an effort to overturn a decision of Criminal Court Judge W. Preston Battle holding one of its reporters in contempt of court.

The newspaper vowed editorially to take the case to the U.S. Supreme Court, if necessary, for relief from the judge's orders against pre-trial out-of-court news concerning the James Earl Ray murder case.

The newspaper said it would continue to print the news despite the conviction of Roy B. Hamilton, its courthouse reporter, and three others also held guilty of contempt.

Also held in contempt were Charles Edmundson, reporter for the Commercial Appeal, which will take action along with The Press-Scimitar; Arthur Hanes, counsel for Ray, who is accused of murdering Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., and Renfro Hays, Memphis private investigator for Hanes.

NEWS STORIES

News stories in the two newspapers Sept. 12 involving the four men held in contempt were the basis for Judge Battle's contempt action.

The judge refused to sentence the two newspaper reporters, despite a request from attorneys, saying he would withhold punishment pending their actions in the future.

The newspapers' counsel contended this placed the reporters and their newspapers in an untenable position and relief would be sought from other courts, if necessary.

Ezra Z. Bryan, of Cleveland, counsel for Scripps-Howard Newspapers, and Armistead Clay, attorney for Memphis Publishing Co., represented the reporters in court.

STATEMENT

Battle, before announcing his decision, read a long prepared statement citing the reporters' articles, criticizing Hanes and Hays for making extra-judicial statements and adding that he believed Edmundson's testimony but not Hays'.

"Justice demands a fair trial by an impartial jury both for James Earl Ray and the State of Tennessee," Battle emphasized.

Bryan contended that the withholding of sentence would put the reporters "in limbo" as to what they could print about the Ray case. Clay argued that it was clear the U.S. Supreme Court "deliberately refrained" from authorizing such orders that could be used against the press.

NEWS ACCOUNT

The newspaper account by Edmundson, who from the stand clashed hotly with Robert Livingston, Hays' lawyer, had quoted Hays as saying Ray's health was threatened by bright lights left shining day and night in his cell, by constant monitoring by TV cameras and by lack of privacy.

Edmundson's article also quoted Hays as comparing security measures for Ray with "devices used by Communist police agents to destroy the health and balance of the victims."

Hays from the stand denied making any such statements.

Mr. William Bradford Huie, author, whose books include, "Three Lives for Mississippi" dealing with the murder of the three Civil Rights workers in June of 1964, previously advised us that he entered into a contract with James Earl Ray to write the true account of Ray's activities and background concerning the assassination of King.

Huie again contacted our Birmingham office and wanted to exchange information with us. We previously advised our Birmingham office not to "bargain" with him. He did advise that Ray had plastic surgery performed at Los Angeles in May of 1968 (subsequent to assassination), and he had copies of the Doctor's records. Huie also advised that Ray and one Alex Borman were allegedly in Chicago for several weeks and Borman is connected with the assassination. Huie stated this information furnished to FBI in Los Angeles and Chicago, and he plans to call the Bureau on October 2, 1968 for background on Borman.

Our Chicago and Los Angeles offices have not been contacted by Huie, however on October 1, 1968, Mr. [redacted] BENNET ULAN Attorney for Dr. [redacted] plastic surgeon in Los Angeles advised that Dr. [redacted] performed surgery on nose of RUSSELL C. HADLEY Ray approximately three weeks before assassination of King. OLAN [redacted] requested if Dr. [redacted] is interviewed that he be present. RECOMMENDATION: In view of fact Dr. HADLEY [redacted] is not subject, it is recommended we interview him in presence of his attorney. Pertinent offices have been advised not to "bargain" with Huie.

White Mustang Sits In Pretrial Spotlight

By CHARLES EDMUNDSON

What is probably the most publicized white Mustang automobile in the world is due to be driven to Memphis today from Atlanta and placed under guard in a garage selected by the Memphis Police Department.

It is the 1966 white Mustang the state is expected to say was used by James Earl Ray to escape from Memphis April 4, minutes after Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. was shot and killed on the balcony of the Lorraine Motel.

The car was found on an Atlanta side street April 11 after a housewife, learning from a friend the FBI was searching for a white Mustang, exclaimed, "Why, I saw a man leave a car like that in front of my apartment the morning after Dr. King was shot. It's still there!"

The Atlanta police were notified. An inch-by-inch inspection of the car revealed some of the evidence which started the FBI on the way to having Scotland Yard arrest Ray in London June 8.

The Mustang was the subject of a mysterious broadcast from a police squad car of a running gun fight between its occupants and a "blue Pontiac." The broadcast, now believed to have had no basis in fact, was picked up by a ham radio operator who fed the information to a policeman in a squad car.

Arthur J. Hanes Sr., Ray's chief counsel, said in Birmingham last night he will fly to Memphis Wednesday to meet Exec. Asst. Atty. Gen. Robert K. Dwyer to listen to tapes of that broadcast.

The defense may contend the broadcast was inspired by Ray's co-conspirators, of those murder plans they would say Ray had no knowledge.

The police search in Atlanta found in the Mustang green threads like those on a bedspread wrapped around a deer rifle left on South Main near the rooming house from which police say Dr. King was shot.

In a rooming house near where the Mustang was abandoned the FBI found letters addressed to Eric S. Galt, which they were soon to believe was an alias for Ray. FBI agents also found a road map yielding the best fingerprint of Ray they had been able to find.

This permitted Eric S. Galt to be identified as Missouri fugitive convict James Earl Ray, police say.

The Mustang is one of more than 20 items of evidence Arthur Hanes is authorized by Criminal Court Judge W. Preston Battle to inspect. It is understood the car is being returned here at this time so Mr. Hanes can look it over next week.

An officer of the Memphis police homicide squad received an advance of $150 to fly on Eastern Airlines to Atlanta last night and drive the Mustang back.

In a separate action, Sheriff William N. Morris Jr. yesterday ordered barriers blocking Washington Street between Second and Poplar removed in a general lessening of the tight security that has prevailed around the Shelby County Criminal Courts Building since Ray was returned from London almost two months ago.

At the same time, he ordered a corridor connecting that building with the Shelby County Office Building reopened.

The street barriers were removed after workmen completed placing heavy protective screens on all the windows of the Criminal Courts Building, which includes the Shelby County Jail where Ray is awaiting his Nov. 12 trial date.

Detective Is First To File Denial Of Court Contempt

Private detective Renfro T. Hays yesterday "emphatically denied" he is in contempt of court orders to limit pre-trial publicity in the Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. murder case.

Mr. Hays yesterday became the first of the four persons ordered to show cause why they are not in contempt to file a response to the citation issued Tuesday by Criminal Court Judge W. Preston Battle.

Mr. Hays' response was filed by attorney Robert I. Livingston. The hearing on the citation against Mr. Hays and the others is to be heard by Judge Battle Friday morning.

Arthur J. Hanes of Birmingham, Mr. Hays' employer and chief counsel for James Earl Ray, charged with Dr. King's murder, said he would file his response Thursday. Mr. Hanes said he would represent himself at Friday's hearing.

Armistead Clay, attorney for the Memphis Publishing Co. and for a reporter of The Commercial Appeal and one for the Press-Scimitar, said he will file responses by Thursday.

All the responses, it was learned, will be denials.

Under study is a set of guidelines adopted by the Federal Judicial Conference last week governing statements by attorneys and courthouse personnel on pending criminal cases.

The report written by a committee headed by Judge Irving R. Kaufman of the Second Circuit, United States Court of Appeals, has been sent to the 323 judges of the 93 United States judicial districts with the recommendation it be placed in effect.

The rules are less strict in many details than those urged by the American Bar Association in its "Reardon Report."

The Kaufman report, like the Reardon report, would bar attorneys and courthouse personnel from disclosing an accused person's prior criminal record or his confession. Disclosure of expected testimony also would be forbidden.

The Kaufman report rejects as "unwise . . . any direct curb or restraint on publication by the press of potentially prejudicial material."

Judge Battle's order on publicity does not directly impose any restraint or curb on the press.

Meanwhile, police would not say whether a white Mustang had been returned safely to Memphis from Atlanta this weekend, as planned.

SYNOPSIS:

This is the case involving the murder of Martin Luther King, Jr. With reference to the dissemination of investigative reports in this case to Mr. Phil M. Canale, Jr., State Attorney General, Shelby County, Tennessee, there has been absolutely no delay in furnishing pertinent reports to him on our part. With Departmental approval we furnished a copy of our prosecutive summary report, as well as ten additional investigative reports to Mr. Canale. These reports contain the information of evidentiary value to the prosecution of the state violation involved.

Since the Department did not authorize us to furnish the results of our fugitive investigation to locate Ray, such reports were not furnished to Mr. Canale at that time. Although these reports did not pertain directly to the prosecution of the state violation it appeared to us they might be of value to Mr. Canale since they clearly established his fugitive status and his use of various aliases to avoid apprehension. Consequently by memorandum dated 9/18/68, we raised the question with the Department as to whether such fugitive reports should be forwarded to Mr. Canale. To date we have received no reply from the Department, although on 9/30/68, D. Robert Owen of the Civil Rights Division advised he intends to proceed to Memphis on 10/1/68, to discuss the case with Mr. Canale and prior to his departure will advise us what additional reports should be furnished Mr. Canale.

Mr. Canale has advised our Memphis Office that the purpose of his letter was to "needle" the Department into taking action. He stated the cooperation between his office and the FBI has been extraordinary and he realizes the delay in furnishing pertinent reports is attributable solely to the Department and not to the FBI.

DETAILS:

This is the case involving the murder of Martin Luther King, Jr.

With reference to the dissemination of investigative reports in this case to Mr. Phil M. Canale, Jr., State Attorney General, Shelby County, Tennessee, there has been absolutely no delay in furnishing pertinent reports to him on our part.

Immediately upon completion of our investigation with Departmental approval, we furnished Mr. Canale a copy of our prosecutive summary report.

By memorandum dated July 24, 1968, we advised the Department that Mr. Canale had contacted our SAC in Memphis and stated that in a conversation with Assistant Attorney General Fred M. Vinson of the Criminal Division, Vinson had informed Canale that he, Canale, might desire, for information purposes, to obtain additional investigative reports prepared by us in this matter. In this same memorandum we requested the Department to advise us which specific reports it desired be furnished to Mr. Canale.

In accordance with authority set forth in Department memorandum August 6, 1968, we furnished Mr. Canale ten additional investigative reports, as well as original documents provided to us by the Department relating to the extradition proceedings of Ray.

These reports, as well as the prosecutive summary reports contained the information of evidentiary value to the prosecution of the state violation involved.

Since the Department did not authorize us to furnish to Canale the results of our extensive fugitive investigation to locate and apprehend Ray, such reports were not furnished Canale.

Although these reports did not pertain directly to the prosecution of the state violation; it appeared to us they might be of possible value to Mr. Canale since they clearly established Ray's fugitive status and his use of various aliases to avoid apprehension. Consequently, by memorandum dated September 18, 1968, we raised the question with the Department as to whether such fugitive type reports should be disseminated to Mr. Canale.

To date we have received no reply from the Department although on 9/30/68, D. Robert Owen of the Civil Rights Division of the Department advised that he intends to proceed to Memphis on 10/1/68, to discuss the case in detail with Mr. Canale. Owen stated that prior to his departure he would furnish us a memorandum advising which additional reports should be furnished to Mr. Canale at this time.

Mr. Canale has informed us that he has experienced no delay by the FBI in furnishing him pertinent reports, in fact he has stated that the cooperation between his office and the FBI has been extraordinary. Mr. Canale stated he is well satisfied with the reports presently in his possession, as they contain the facts and evidence pertinent to the prosecution of the case in state court. He stated he is, however, desirous of obtaining reports relating to the fugitive aspects since they clearly establish Ray's fugitive status and his use of various aliases to avoid apprehension. He further advised that the only purpose of his letter was to "needle" the Department into taking action, and he realized the delay in furnishing pertinent reports is attributable solely to the Department and not the FBI.

Dear Mr. Pollak: In Re: State of Tennessee vs. James Earl Ray

As you probably know, we have been doing extensive pre-trial work getting ready for the trial in the above styled matter on November 12, 1968. Prior to this time, we have received a number of investigative reports from the Federal Bureau of Investigation, but there are some reports which we desperately need in preparing for this case which have not yet been tendered to us. In some instances, we have received laboratory reports pertaining to certain physical evidence, but have not received the field reports which would indicate to us who recovered the evidence that was examined in the laboratory, and how and by whom same was transmitted to the laboratory for examination. Of course, we have to keep intact the chain of evidence in presenting this material at the trial.

It is urgently requested that, as soon as possible, this office be furnished with any and all available investigative reports originating and emanating from the following localities, whether such reports have been submitted by the Federal Bureau of Investigation, local law enforcement, or agencies outside the continental United States.

I make specific reference to the need for reports from the following localities:

Chicago, Illinois
New York City
Canada
London, England (We do have the Scotland Yard report.)

54 OCT 10 1968

16 SEP 30 19

Mexico
Lisbon, Portugal.

Also, since the last report submitted to this office from field offices of the Federal Bureau of Investigation dated May 17, we have received no reports since that date, and we would like to have the results of any supplemental investigations. I refer specifically to the possible supplemental investigations from Atlanta, Georgia, Los Angeles, California, Birmingham, Alabama, New Orleans, Louisiana, Kansas City, Missouri, and Newark, New Jersey.

Thanking you for your assistance in this matter, I am

Sincerely yours,

Submitted herewith are five separate communications which Sheriff WILLIAM N. MORRIS, JR., Shelby County, Memphis, Tennessee, made available to SAC this date. These are letters prepared by subject JAMES EARL RAY. These are all samples of known handwriting and hand printing of subject RAY. They should be utilized for any additional handwriting comparison needed in captioned case.

In addition, there are furnished herewith the originals of two letters which were forwarded by RAY to the Honorable W. PRESTON BATTLE, Judge of the Criminal Court, Memphis, Tennessee. Judge BATTLE will be the presiding Judge in the JAMES EARL RAY trial. These letters were furnished by Judge BATTLE to SAC. In connection with these letters, District Attorney General PHIL M. CANALE, Memphis, raised point that possibility exists that utilization of material furnished the Judge might be prejudicial at some future date. CANALE pointed out that since Judge BATTLE would hear case he was of opinion that it would probably not be feasible to utilize handwriting in letters sent Judge BATTLE. Therefore, it is requested that handwriting examination prepared by Document Section utilize letters received from Sheriff MORRIS as primary sources for examination purposes.

Results of examination regarding letters received by Sheriff MORRIS should be handled in separate communication. Handwriting examination relative to letters received by Judge BATTLE should not be incorporated in the examination of handwriting contained in letters received by Sheriff MORRIS. The letters received by Judge BATTLE should be made a matter of a

The originals should be returned to the Memphis Office so that they can be delivered to Sheriff MORRIS and Judge BATTLE.

SUBJECT: MURKIN

This is the case involving the murder of Martin Luther King, Jr.

Judge W. Preston Battle, Criminal Court, Shelby County, Memphis, Tennessee, who is handling the state trial of James Earl Ray, furnished us a letter sent to him by Ray. The judge provided us this letter for our information.

The letter which is dated September 12, 1968, states Ray is calling attention to three articles written about him, namely: a "Readers Digest" article by Jeremiah O'Leary; a photograph and article appearing in a tabloid called "The Inquirer," and a story written by William Bradford Huie appearing in "The Commercial Appeal," - a Memphis newspaper. Ray states that he intends to file libel suits.

Ray expresses displeasure with Huie's article in that it depicts Ray as being only interested in money and in exposing some persons or organization. Ray states "for the record, both public and private, I don't know anyone to expose and I want to disassociate myself from this article."

Ray concludes his letter by stating he is going to sendthese stories to the Ethical Committee of the American Bar Association.

SUBJECT: MURKIN

This is the case involving the murder of Martin Luther King, Jr.

[redacted] New Haven, Connecticut, advised that he recently was at a small gathering of four individuals and one of these individuals was employed at Bendix Aviation

During the course of the conversation a "Bendix" employee mentioned that "Look" magazine beginning with the issue of October 22, 1968, will run a series authored by Earl Ray. In this series of articles Ray reportedly will state that the "Ku Klux Klan hired" him to assassinate Martin Luther King, Jr.

[redacted] requested that his identity be protected and he did not want to talk with the news of the "Bendix" employee since he feared it would become known the article was based on his information.

We previously had information that William Bradford Huie, author, who allegedly entered into a contract with James Earl Ray to write his life story, has been in contact with restaurant owners in Birmingham, Alabama. Based upon information furnished by [redacted], Mr. Huie interviewed these people, as they employed Ray at their restaurant during May and June of 1967, and he promised to furnish them "proofs" of an article to appear in "Look" magazine on November 19, 1968. To date Huie has not furnished the proofs to the restaurant owners.

We have run out similar allegations of persons who have employed by an assassination plot financed by the Ku Klux Klan with negative findings.

On October 7, 1968, [redacted] who has furnished reliable informa[redacted] advised that on [redacted], 1968, he was in a small social gathering of four individuals, one of whom was an employee of Mc Call's Publications, whom he refused to identify.

During the course of the conversation, the Mc Call's employee mentioned in a matter-of-fact manner that Look Magazine beginning with the issue of October 29, 1968, will run a serial on JAMES EARL RAY. In the course of articles, RAY reportedly will state that the Ku Klux Klan hired him to assassinate Reverend MARTIN LUTHER KING, JR.

A characterization of the Ku Klux Klan appears in the Appendix.

[redacted] stated that the Mc Call's employee impressed him as a down-to-earth, level-headed, business man who appeared at the time to be making a factual statement. The Mc Call's employee also stated that [redacted] article have been sold world wide.

APPENDIX

NATIONAL KNIGHTS OF THE KU KLUX KLAN, INC.
(NKKKK)

A source advised that on May 22, 1960, the National Grand Council of the Knights of the Ku Klux Klan met at Atlanta, Georgia, to discuss consolidation of the Klan's unity of effort and activities to establish a National Fund, and a National Secretary, and to design a new flag. The meeting was attended by representatives of the Federation of Ku Klux Klan, Alabama; Association of Arkansas Klans, Arkansas; Florida Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, Florida; Southern Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, Florida; Association of Georgia Klans, Georgia; Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, North Carolina; Association of South Carolina Klans, South Carolina; Dixie Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, Tennessee; and Kyksos Klan, Texas.

This source advised that at a consolidation meeting at Atlanta, Georgia, September 2-5, 1960, at which the North Carolina and Texas Klans were not represented, it was resolved and passed that their name be changed to National Ku Klux Klan.

A second source advised in March, 1964, that several meetings of Klan groups were held during the period 1960 to 1963 in an effort to unite the Klan groups under a single leadership.

The organization was granted a charter in DeKalb County, Georgia, November 1, 1963, under the name National Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, Inc., as a "patriotic, secret, social, and benevolent order."

A third source advised in December, 1963, that the organization had issued a statement of its program which indicated the organization to be anti-Negro, anti-Jewish, anti-Catholic, and anti-foreign born.

A fourth source advised in July, 1968, that the organization has its headquarters in Tucker, Georgia, and the day-to-day operations are under the direction of James R. Venable, Imperial Wizard.

ELECTRONIC SURVEILLANCES

[redacted] (S) C

As you were previously advised, this Bureau is greatly concerned about the delays involved regarding the requests for electronic surveillances which have been submitted to you. While we are making every feasible effort to obtain essential intelligence data in the internal security field, we cannot hope to fulfill our responsibilities in the intelligence field unless the requested investigative techniques are made available. It is absolutely essential that in critical cases full coverage be given in areas of foreign intelligence, counterespionage, domestic subversion, and insurrection. The requests which are pending are in critical cases and in view of the developments during the past several weeks, particularly concerning activities of subversive organizations, civil rights groups, and organizations affiliated with the New Left, this Bureau must have consideration of the coverage requested of you. (S) C

NOT RECORDED

[redacted] furnished the following statement in his own handwriting:

"September 30, 1968

"I, [redacted], make the following statement to Special Agent [redacted] JR., whom I know to be a Special Agent of the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

"In 1961, I had the opportunity to meet one JAMES EARL RAY. I was introduced by a friend of mine by the name of [redacted] who was doing twenty four (24) years. He was from New Madrid, Missouri, not far from my home town of Kennett.

"He informed RAY that I was about the last of the good convicts. RAY said he was pleased to meet me, because the big city boys from St. Louis, and K.C., Mo. were turning out to be a bunch of 'punks'. This was the Mo. State Pen, Jefferson City, Mo.

"RAY was the quiet type of guy. He had very little to say to convicts or guards for that matter. I seen him every now and then, but didn't ask many question. We had used a little dope together, but that was all.

"RAY showed great contemp for the colored convicts, as he very seldom talked to them except on business deals for dope or money. He was always telling me how the boys from St. Louis "and K.C. always kissed their (Obscene #1) _____. He said he never would, because if it hadn't been for LINCOLN they would still be shining his shoes.

"I was released from prison on [redacted] And never heard from RAY until, 1966.

"In June 4, 1965, I received two (2) years from Butler County, Mo. After thirty (30) days in quarintine I was sent to Church Farm, (one of the prison farm (which is honor).

"Later in January, 1966, I was transfered back to the walls to complete the rest of my time.

"I was placed in Food Service and there I remained until by release of June 1, 1966, from the Missouri State Penitentiary, at Jefferson City, Mo.

"On, or around the middle of February, 1966, I came in contact with JAMES EARL RAY again. He explained that it was nice to see me and that he had a good deal for me.

"He wanted to know if I would do him and myself a big favor; so I said yes; anything to help a friend.

"When he first mentioned escape I thought he wanted me to leave with him, but I quickly explained that I got out on June 1, 1966, that year. He said no, I want you to help me.

"Than after I make it I'll wait on you in St. Louis. He asked me how I would like to make a lot of money so I said doesn't everyone. But I explained I had this girl friend in Tennessee, who was waiting on me, but he let me know that it really didn't make any difference at all.

"So I wanted to know what his plans were. This is how RAY, explained it to me. Some people (friends in St. Louis) fixed it with some one in Philadelphia, for him to kill Dr. MARTIN LUTHER KING.

"I told RAY I didn't want to get mixed up in it. So he let me know real politely that I was already in it only didn't realise it yet. An I couldn't get out unless I wanted it. Than I agreed to go along, after I heard this. Also he told me I was coming up there to the pen, for chicken feed, was I afraid to get ahead? I told him no, but killing KING, we couldn't get away with.

"RAY told me not to worry about a thing. Also how did a grand some of Fifty Thousand (50,000) dollars sound to me? I said great, but what if we get caught? He explained we wouldn't and if we did we would get out of it with a fixer lawyer, besides who in the South like "Niggers"??

"RAY also said after we get KING, we'll beable to get more for one of the KENNEDY's. I said that the Kennedy Family had done more for the United States, than anyone ever had. He said they were like KING, a bunch of Communists all of them and that is the way they wanted people to believe, as I did.

"RAY said: Take that punk J.F.K. (meaning JOHN F. KENNEDY, Late President) for instants, he made you eat with a nigger on the streets didn't he? He made you live by them, go to school with them. So how is he so great? I said, that a change had to come and we had better be ready for one. RAY got mad at me and said not as long as I can kill one of the (Obscene #2)_____. I seen he was angry, so I told him, I guess he was right about it. He said, he knew he was and would get KING to prove it.

"At this time I wanted to know how, JAMES EARL RAY, planned to escape from the walls, of the Mo. State Pen.

"This is how it was to be done. RAY would leave his cell in the month of April, or approx. for the show. He would than have his bed fixed so as a gaurd would not discover him missing. Than I came into the picture:

"RAY was to place himself on top of the main kitchen, where I worked. Then at 2:30 AM I was to send him food and cigarettes, with a jar of water. He was to remain there for about three days, after that I was to get some kind of pills he gave me into the coffee that was to be sent to the Gaurd Towers.

"After that he would wait until they were asleep and he would go over the wall. He had someone, by the name of [redacted] waiting on him from St. Louis, Mo.

"RAY continued to pass me notes, on the matter up until the night he plan to leave.

"The first note read: [redacted] don't let me down if you do you know the score. But you won't!

"The second was. Tear these notes up and flush them! Say can't you just see all that money for one lousey Nigger? We will live in style and travle the world. You can bring your girl along. Your Pal JIM.

"#No. Three: 'Pal, the time has grown near, so all is left is the wait. I think April 12, is a good day, or do you believe Lucky 13. Smile friend, JIM.'

"The last note was:

"Tonight is it my friend and I know I can count on you for your part. Don't lose those pills I gave you!! Remember everything, because my ride will be then. See you on June 1, my friend. Your Friend Always JAMES.

"RAY's escape would have been good if not a guy by the name of [redacted] or something of the sort) hadn't tryed it as well on the same night, but they found him hiding in the show after everyone had left for the cell-house.

"RAY was latter captured on top of the main kitchen, where a guard had seen him, when he tryed to change places.

"JAMES EARL RAY never stated which one of the Kennedy family: All he said was one day it will be: K.K.K. as he put it KENNEDY, KING and KENNEDY. Then our worries will be over.

"He never stated who the other people were in St. Louis or Philrle (just that they may have others lined up for us.)

"When [redacted] was placed in the kitchen I asked why he was trying to leave: He stated he had life and was playing a hunch, but did not know RAY had planned to leave.

"The above is a true statement made by me on this 30th day of September, 1968.

"There has been know threats or promises made to me in this matter what-so-ever. It is of my own free will.

"/s/ [redacted]

"I, [redacted], do hereby swear that the above is true to the best of my knowledge so help me God.

"Signed: [redacted]

"Wittnessed: [redacted]

In addition to the [redacted] further advised that RAY said if he, [redacted] could help him kill MARTIN LUTHER KING it would be worth $50,000 to each of them and later on they could get more than that for taking care of those "stinking KENNEDY's". RAY said it was people like KING and the KENNEDYs who try to run the world and they are all Communists and want nothing but power and domination of the whole world. RAY would never tell [redacted] who had arranged for the money if he killed KING only that it was arranged through someone in St. Louis with someone in Philidelphia.

[redacted] said he was to be near the building from which RAY would shoot KING and after the shots were fired and attention was focused on the building he, [redacted] was to run and create attention to get the police to chase him. He was to have the police chase him for some distance before being caught and this would give RAY ample time to walk away from the building. [redacted] was then to tell the police that he heard shots and since he was an ex-convict he got scared and did not want to get in any trouble so he ran. The police would be unable to prove anything against [redacted] since there would be no gun or powder marks or fingerprints or any evidence linking [redacted] to the shooting. RAY was then going to go "up north" and after awhile purposely get himself picked up on his jail break from the Missouri State Penitentiary, because he said that he would have enough money at that time to hire a lawyer to get him a parole.

ORDER ON SCIRE FACIAS

This cause came on to be heard on a verified petition for citation for contempt of Arthur J. Hanes, Sr., Renfro T. Hays, Roy Hamilton and Charles Edmundson, heretofore filed by the Court-appointed amici curiae; personal service of said petition upon all four named respondents; scire facias issued by this Court ordering said respondents to show cause why they should not be held in contempt of previous orders of this Court; the sworn answer of the respondent Renfro T. Hays; the hearing in open court on the 27th day of September, 1968 and on the 30th day of September, 1968, at which time sworn testimony was adduced by the petitioners and the respondents; the argument of counsel for all parties; the exhibits in the cause, and upon the entire record in this cause, from all of which it appears to the Court:

That the respondents Arthur J. Hanes, Sr., Renfro T. Hays, Roy Hamilton and Charles Edmondson, each, are guilty of contempt as found by this Court in its opinion which has been filed in this cause, and which the Court incorporates by reference in this order the same as if copied herein verbatim; and

The Court being undecided at this time as to what action the Court should take by way of punishment on account of said contempts, and being desirous of giving the matter further consideration,

IT IS HEREBY ORDERED, ADJUDGED AND DECREED that this matter be, and the same is hereby, reserved by this Court for further and future orders of this Court.

IT IS FURTHER ORDERED, ADJUDGED AND DECREED that the motions of the respondents Roy Hamilton and Charles Edmundson, made by and through their attorneys, the Honorable Armistead Clay and the Honorable Ezra Z. Bryan, at the conclusion of the Court's opinion, to reconsider the Court's action and, in the alternative, to fix punishment, are hereby denied.

Dear Jerry, oct-14-68

I rec'd your letter a couple days ago. There is a couple of things I would like for you to do when you come down. One I want to sign the power of attorney over to you, it's just a one page document giving you the right to sign anything for me with my name, I guess you could get me from a notary and bring it home I would then sign it and give that to you. Also when you come down I would like to have you visit Mrs Shelby Clancy, Jim's wife, tell her hi for me.

and ask him to give you any information he has on the limits of an alabama attorney to practice in Tennessee, I seems as if you from alabama you can just file one and a year or two and I might help to have a Tennessee att for the ethics committee hearing. I would ask Mr Howe about this but his in cahoots visiting victims and I don't know when he will be back, well I guess That all for now, Take it easy Jim

Dear Jimmy:

Just a short note to let you know I've got back okay. We got back Friday evening and I received your letter Saturday.

There isn't much to write about as we haven't heard from Nancy or anybody else concerning the case.

All probably will be home and I'll write to Whittier about the charges as soon as you want me to contact anybody for you. Let me know on your return and I can fill you in as far as I can.

There isn't much to write. Everything is pretty quiet. Nothing unusual. Glad you got your letter.

Everybody at the Family is okay.

I will just write a short note, everything is about the same, the papers have been writing about 2 articles everyday about the case, the last article took up the whole front page of the 2nd. section. I guess they had a little briefing from the state attorney office as they come up with a couple new theorys, also bring me up a set of heads as am suppose to be a hippie according to the last article, the main reason I am writing the letter is to say I haven't made any real statements while up here and will not until I go to court. INTERVIEW WITH OWNERS OF INDIAN TRAIL RESTAURANT
Winnetka, Illinois

FD-302 (Rev. 6-13-64)

FEDERAL BUREAU OF INVESTIGATION

Date 8/30/68

On August 23, 1968, Mr. HARVEY A. KLINGEMAN and Mrs. CLARA S. KLINGEMAN, owners, Indian Trail Restaurant, 507 Chestnut Street, Winnetka, Illinois, phone HI 6-1703, residence 391 Linden, Winnetka, Illinois, phone HI 6-2932, were interviewed jointly in the conference room at the Winnetka, Illinois, Police Department, after being introduced to the interviewing Agents by Chief DON DERNING (RA), Winnetka, Illinois, Police Department.

They advised that on Tuesday, August 20, 1968, they were contacted by WILLIAM BRADFORD HUIE, Hartselle, Alabama, who is the author of "Three Lives For Mississippi". Mr. HUIE was accompanied by Mr. (First Name Unknown) HANSEN, who is a photographer for "Look" magazine. Mr. HUIE exhibited letters which he claimed were from JAMES EARL RAY and were addressed to a Mississippi attorney. These letters were purportedly given to HUIE by the attorney. HUIE told them that he had obtained all commercial rights to RAY's story and for this he has agreed to underwrite the costs of RAY's defense in the forthcoming murder trial in Memphis, Tennessee. The aforementioned letters were written on half sheets of yellow legal foolscap and both of the KLINGEMANs stated that they recognized the handwriting on these papers as that of the subject RAY, whom they knew under the name of JOHN RAYNS. At this point, the KLINGEMANs were exhibited several photographs of the subject, JAMES EARL RAY, along with other photographs and they both positively identified JAMES EARL RAY as a man employed by them from May 3, 1967, to June 24,1967, as a dishwasher and cook's helper. The KLINGEMANs verified the foregoing statement by furnishing to the interviewing Agents their payroll ledger sheet. A review of the ledger sheet reveals the following information:

Name	JOHN L. RAYNS
Address	2731 Sheffield, Chicago, Illinois
Occupation	Cook's helper
Social Security Number	318-24-7098
Rate	$2.10 per hour

This document contains neither recommendations nor conclusions of the FBI. It is the property of the FBI and is loaned to your agency; it and its contents are not to be distributed outside your agency.

Number of Exemptions 1
Marital Status Single

In addition, the KLINGEMANs also made available the Employee's Withholding Exemption Certificate made out in the same name and address and Social Security Number as set forth above, dated May 10,1968.

They also made available the following listed payroll checks all drawn on the Winnetka Trust and Savings Bank bearing the identification in the upper left-hand corner of Indian Trail Restaurant, Inc., 507 Chestnut Street, Winnetka, Illinois, 60093, made out to either JOHN L. RAYNS of JOHN RAYNS and signed by HARVEY A. KLINGEMAN. The checks are endorsed by JOHN L. RAYNS or JOHN RAYNS, two of which have the address 1648 Lunt, Chicago, underneath the signature. These checks are as follows:

NUMBER	AMOUNT	DATE
4838	$57.69	May 7, 1967
4913	$84.89	May 14, 1967
4987	$84.89	May 21, 1967
5058	$84.89	May 28, 1967
5130	$89.63	June 11, 1967
5283	$95.19	June 18, 1967
5357	$77.53	June 25, 1967

The foregoing checks total $664.34.

Mr. KLINGEMAN advised that to the best of his recollection at this time, the last check, Number 5357, was mailed to RAY's brother, name unrecalled, in Northbrook, Illinois, at RAY's request since he left his employment prior to receipt of the check, stating that he was going to work on boats with his brother. As Mr. KLINGEMAN recalls, he received a letter from RAY requesting that the pay due be sent to his brother.

Both of the KLINGEMANs characterized JAMES EARL RAY as an excellent employee, quiet, attentive, prompt, polite, a very good worker, but to their knowledge, had no friends or visitors during the time of his employment. They did recall that during the subject's last week of employment, he received three or four phone calls from a male individual who stated that he was RAY's brother. They could not recall the individual's name, nor did they believe that they would recognize this person's voice if they heard it again.

In conversation with Mr. HUIE, the KLINGEMANs received the following information on a confidential basis and advised that they were rather reluctant to divulge it, but felt that it was their duty as citizens. They requested that this information be maintained on a confidential basis within the FBI. They advised that they contacted Chief DERNING because of his reputation and are now following his advice in furnishing this information to the FBI:

Mr. HUIE showed the KLINGEMANs letters from RAY in which RAY listed employment at the Indian Trail Restaurant. (It should be noted that this restaurant is an old, large, upper class restaurant, of excellent reputation. Chief DERNING advised that the KLINGEMANs themselves have an excellent reputation within the community and that he holds them in very high regard). HUIE told them that RAY had served seven years of a twenty-year sentence at Jefferson, Missouri, prison, during which time he had eight visitors, one of whom was his brother, however, HUIE did not identify which one. Prior to his escape, RAY had stashed away a razor, green prison trousers which had been dyed black, and 12 hersey bars in anticipation that he would have to go without food for some time. RAY also had $300 in his shoe. He escaped in a bread truck and walked to Chicago, Illinois, from Jefferson City, Missouri, which took him about eight days. (The KLINGEMANs do recall that when the subject first appeared at the restaurant, his feet were swollen and that their sister-in-law gave him two Ace bandages to use which he returned three or four days later. This supposedly was mentioned in the letter in HUIE's possession).

Thereafter, RAY read the advertisement in the Tribune wherein the KLINGEMANs had advertised for help in the restaurant. HUIE said that the subject in the letter mentioned that the employment at the Indian Trail Restaurant was the "high point of his life".

HUIE mentioned that RAY had had only three jobs in his life, one of which was in a shoe factory outside of East St. Louis, Illinois, which was prior to his going to prison the last time. He also said that during the time RAY was employed at the restaurant, he was "tapped on the shoulder" by an individual who recognized him and who threatened to reveal his identity to the police and cause RAY's return to prison if he, RAY, did not work for this person. HUIE said that RAY was given $1,200 during the initial contacts, by the alleged conspirators, and was ultimately paid $15,000, but was due to receive more.

Again, according to HUIE, RAY was told to go to Canada to investigate the difficulty of crossing the border. Supposedly RAY made two trips through the Detroit Tunnel into Canada. He also made a third trip to Canada, date and sequence not given, and "was instructed" to obtain a 40-year-old newspaper, get the names of the males born that date, and search the current phone directory for similar names. He was then to surveil the individuals with similar names to determine whether or not his physical description was similar to theirs. Thereafter, he telephoned persons of his like description, utilizing a pretext, and thereby found a name who had never applied for a passport. RAY then applied for a passport in this name.

The KLINGEMANs advised that they were not sure that they were furnishing this information in its proper sequence, but that to the best of their recollection, the information preceding and following was given to them in this order by HUIE. Thereafter, RAY was given more money to purchase a Mustang which was to be driven to Acapulco, Mexico, for the purpose of obtaining a tourist sticker. He then drove through Mexico to the West Coast and hid out there to receive further instructions from the other individuals in the alleged conspiracy. HUIE stated that RAY was flown to Atlanta from the West Coast, but the time was not right, there was no action and he was sent back to California. He was also told to be in Mississippi at a certain time and place. Supposedly Reverend MARTIN LUTHER KING, JR. was at an Holiday Inn Motel in Atlanta, Georgia, when RAY was flown there.

Subsequently, RAY was given money to obtain binoculars and a shotgun and was to go to Memphis to be somewhere at 3 p.m. in room 312 or 313. Supposedly there were other individuals who also came to this room and there was a Negro male who purportedly called KING out to the balcony. According to HUIE, the actual murderer of KING was not RAY, although RAY was present and at a later time (probably the trial) RAY will identify the murderer. RAY did pick up the rifle, ran to his car, and sped to a rendezvous in Atlanta, Georgia. He was supposed to pick up a "bundle of money", however, the conspirators did not appear. RAY allegedly spent several days or hours at this apartment in Atlanta, Georgia, awaiting the arrival of his "fellow conspirators".

According to HUIE, the plan was for RAY to go to Mexico, but immediately fly north to throw off pursuit and to steer all investigation to Mexico. However, since the conspirators did not appear in Atlanta, RAY fled to Canada thereafter utilizing his knowledge to obtain a passport and fled to England.

The KLINGEMANs advised that the rest of HUIE's story substantially follows the newspaper accounts which appeared after subject RAY's arrest in England. They did note that HUIE stated that RAY did rob a bank in London because he "got real low on money". HUIE at no time identified the alleged fellow conspirators of RAY. He did swear the KLINGEMANs to secrecy and told them that he would mail the "Look" proofs on September 10,1968, and the story would be in the November 10,1968, issue of Look magazine. Both Mr. and Mrs. KLINGEMAN advised that they would make these proofs available to the interviewing Agents for review.

The KLINGEMANs advised that RAY began working for them as a dishwasher and because of his excellent attitude was advanced to cook's helper. During the time he was in their employ, they did not observe him in a car, nor did they know him to own an automobile. He had no visitors, he did not wear glasses, he had no women friends, nor did he make any advances toward the female personnel employed at the restaurang and they noted that his hair was "less bushy" during the time he was at the restaurant than shown in the photographs.

They are not sure how he came to work from his apartment, but believe he might have been met at the Eden's Expressway by WILLIE PERRY and FRED BURNS, who were also employees at the restaurant.

His conduct was excellent and they cannot recall him making any comments one way or another about members of the Negro race and specifically no comments whatsoever concerning MARTIN LUTHER KING, JR. RAY made no reference to his previous employment, but did mention that he was in Brimerhaven, Germany, during World War II. They advised that when RAY received the phone calls during his last week of employment he seemed to be disturbed and that his concentration on his work was not as good as it usually was.

They then recalled that according to HUIE, that when JAMES EARL RAY left England, he was going to Lisbon to get to Africa, however, he was unable to do so which is when he returned to England and held up a bank receiving about $200 in loot. They again stated that the information furnished to them by HUIE came from letters which RAY had written to his attorney, who in turn turned them over to the author. Also Mr. KLINGEMAN stated that in one of the letters which he believed was to the attorney from RAY, while he was in London, England, there was a drawing identifying a location which appeared to be Diversey Street and Sheffield Avenue in Chicago, Illinois.

At the conclusion of the interview, the Klingemans again requested that this information be maintained in confidence and expressed a willingness to co-operate with the FBI in my way possible.

Date 9/3/68

EDWARD DONNELLY, who resides at 2731 North Sheffield, Chicago, Illinois, was interviewed at his place of employment, 7300 Linder Avenue, Skokie, Illinois. DONNELLY was advised interviewing Agents were interested in the person whose name appears on page 13 of the rent registration book DONNELLY keeps for 2731 North Sheffield. DONNELLY was shown a xerox copy of page 13 and was asked if he could recall the person signing the register as JOHN LARRY RAYES on April 30, 1967. DONNELLY advised he recalled an individual who had stayed in the rear basement apartment by that name.

DONNELLY was shown photographs of the following individuals:

JAMES EARL RAY, FBI Number 4059426

[redacted]

[redacted] FBI Number [redacted]

[redacted] FBI Number [redacted]

Mr. DONNELLY advised the photograph of JAMES EARL RAY looks familiar to him; however, he could not be certain if this person was identical with the man who registered as JOHN LARRY RAYES.

Mr. DONNELLY advised the individual he recalled as being identical with the man who used the name JOHN LARRY RAYES and who occupied the rear basement apartment had trouble with his feet. He recalled this individual had to rub some kind of preparation on to his feet. Mr. DONNELLY stated this man did not have any visitors and he did not know of any associates of this individual. He recalled that Mr. RAYES said he had worked on the Mississippi River as a cook on barges. He also recalled that when Mr. RAYMS left the apartment, he said he was going to Canada and was going to look for a job in Canada. Mr. DONNELLY could not recall if this man received any mail while he stayed at the apartment.

Mr. DONNELLY said he did not know if Mr. RAYMS had a car or where he worked. He did not know what of type of work he did, but he did know he left the apartment every day as if to go to work.

Mr. DONNELLY described JOHN LARRY RAYMS as a white, male, age 30 to 40, medium height, slender build, dark hair.

Mr. DONNELLY advised after looking at the xerox copy of page 13 of the rent record book that it appeared the next person to rent the rear basement apartment was GEORGE WASHINGTON WACHS, Jr.

Mr. DONNELLY stated that someone of the individuals who had lived in his apartments had told him he was moving out of the apartment to go home and stand trial for murdering his brother-in-law. However, Mr. DONNELLY was unable to recall who had made this statement to him, and he did not know if this statement had been made by Mr. RAYMS or some other person.

GLORIA DONNELLY, 2731 North Sheffield Avenue, Chicago, Illinois, telephone number LA 5-0691, was interviewed at her residence. Mrs. DONNELLY advised she and her husband, EDWARD, own the building at 2731 North Sheffield. Mrs. DONNELLY stated that they rent apartments in the basement and on the second floor of their building.

Mrs. DONNELLY reviewed the Rent Record Book maintained for the rentals at 2731 North Sheffield, and determined there was an entry dated April 30, 1967, showing a rental to a JOHN LARRY RAYMS. Mrs. DONNELLY stated the handwriting on the entry would be the handwriting of the person renting the room. This person occupied the rear basement apartment.

Mrs. DONNELLY advised from the Rent Record Book she could not determine how long this individual stayed at the apartment; however, the best she could recall at this time was that Mr. RAYMS stayed there approximately three or four weeks. Mrs. DONNELLY advised the apartment is rented by the week and the rental is $12, or $13 a week.

Mrs. DONNELLY stated she had some difficulty recalling this individual, but to the best of her recollection he was a quiet man who did not associate with anyone else in the building and did not have any friends or visitors come by the apartment. She further recalled Mr. RAYMS had complained of his feet hurting. She stated on one or two occasions when she was in the rear basement apartment while he was renting it, she noticed he had a lot of books and had bought some cooking utensils.

Mrs. DONNELLY said that Mr. RAYMS received one letter that she knew of while he stayed at the apartment. This letter was from some place in Canada; after receiving this letter, Mr. RAYMS came up and told them he was going to move and go to Canada. He said he was going to work in Canada. Mrs. DONNELLY advised he said something about trying to get on a ship; however, she could not recall any further details of this comment. Mrs. DONNELLY said that after receiving the letter, RAYMS moved the same day. He did not leave a forwarding address or indicate where he was going; however, he left the distinct impression he was going to Canada in answer to the letter received.

Mrs. DONNELLY advised that while Mr. RAYMS wanted the basement apartment, he went to work, or at least left the house daily by 7:00 a.m. She advised she could not recall Mr. RAYMS having any type of car.

Mrs. DONNELLY said that her aunt, JEAN WILKS, who had resided with her, rented the apartment to Mr. RAYMS. Mrs. DONNELLY advised JEAN WILKS passed away on May 1, 1968; she recalled her aunt told her this man came into the apartment as a result of seeing an advertisement in the local newspaper called "The Booster". Mrs. DONNELLY advised this is a neighborhood paper and they run advertisements in this paper whenever they have a vacancy.

Mrs. DONNELLY stated the only ones in the building now who would have been in the building at the time Mr. RAYMS occupied the basement apartment are ANNIE KEEGAN and EDWARD SPERLING. She stated that these two persons rent rooms on the second floor.

Mrs. DONNELLY advised DOROTHY LEHNING and her daughter, PHYLLIS, had occupied the front basement apartment for approximately two years. They moved some time in the spring of 1967, and may have been living in the front basement apartment at the same time that Mr. RAYMS was living in the rear basement apartment.

Mrs. DONNELLY reviewed her Rent Records, and from these records she advised an individual named GEORGE WASHINGTON WACHS, JR. appeared to be the next man to rent the rear basement apartment. The record book showed that Mr. WACHS rented this apartment on May 17, 1967, or June 17, 1967.

Mrs. DONNELLY stated there is currently a disconnected phone in the rear basement apartment. She did not know how long this phone had been in the apartment or if it had been connected when Mr. RAYMS lived in the apartment. Mrs. DONNELLY checked this phone and determined the number on the phone is 227-0336.

Mrs. DONNELLY stated she could not recall Mr. RAYMS leaving anything behind when he left other than some cooking utensils, which would have been left in the apartment for the use of other occupants of that apartment.

Mrs. DONNELLY was shown photographs of the following individuals:

[redacted] Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI) [redacted]

JAMES EARL RAY, FBI Number 405942 C

[redacted]

[redacted] FBI Number [redacted]

[redacted] FBI Number [redacted]

Mrs. DONNELLY stated she was unable to identify any of these individuals as being the man named RAYMS who resided in the basement apartment.

Mrs. DONNELLY stated the person who had the most contact with this man was her aunt, JEAN WILKS, now deceased. Mrs. WILKS ran the rooming house and baby sat for her children and was home all day, and had much more contact with the tenants than herself.

Mrs. DONNELLY described JOHN L. RAYMS as follows: a white male, in his late 20's or early 30's, tall and thin, dark hair. She could not be more specific in her description.

Mrs. DONNELLY made available page number 13 of her Rent Record Book which contained the signature of JOHN LARRY RAYMS.

SPERLING advised the photograph of JAMES EARL RAY bears a resemblance to a man who had lived in the rear basement apartment at 2731 North Sheffield, approximately a year ago.

SPERLING advised the man he was referring to was a man named RAYNS. SPERLING stated he never saw this individual have any visitors or associate with anyone in the area. He further stated this man was not friendly with any of the other people living in the building. He recalled that this man lived at the building for approximately one months

SPERLING advised he thought on one occasion he saw this man around or getting into an old car; however, he could not recall the car's description. SPERLING was unable to furnish any other facts regarding this individual.

LOLA BALLARD DESPINS, Day Clerk at the Lincoln Apartment Hotel, 1648 West Lunt, Chicago, Illinois, was interviewed at her place of employment. DESPINS was shown a xerox copy of Registration Card Number 8075. She advised this card was made out by her and the person registering filled out the name, the street, the city and the state.

DESPINS stated she recalls the individual named on this card, JOHN L. RAYNS; however, she can not recall the individual's facial features. Mrs. DESPINS was shown photographs of the following individuals:

Mrs. DESPINS stated none of these individuals looked familiar to her.

Mrs. DESPINS made available a ledger sheet for room number 105 for June, 1967. This sheet shows room number 105 was rented on June 18, 1967. The amount for this rental was a total of $13.61. A notation on June 19, 1967 shows "checked out". Mrs. DESPINS advised this means the person renting the room on June 18, 1967, checked out on June 19, 1967. She stated this person did not come by the desk and did not get back his $1.00 deposit.

Mrs. DESPINS stated she recalled that the individual who rented the room came to the desk, signed the registration card, then went outside. When he came inside to

Mr. DESPINS did not see anyone with Mr. RAYNS and she did not know him to have any visitors; however, his apartment is entered from the rear of the building and visitors would not come past the desk where she works.

Mrs. DESPINS advised room 105 is a small room with a small bed, chest of drawers, and table. The occupants of room 105 share a bath with other roomers in the area.

Mrs. DESPINS reviewed the ledger sheet for room 105 for June, 1967, and determined Mr. RAYNS did not make any long distance phone calls or any phone calls which were reported on this ledger sheet.

Q408 Registration card, No. 8075, dated 6/18/67, bearing the signature "John L. Rayns"

Result of examination:

It was concluded that JAMES EARL RAY, K171, K211 and K257 prepared the questioned Rayns signature on Q407, the questioned handwriting on Q408 and the questioned handwriting and hand printing on Q406. Although significant similarities were noted in the endorsements on Q398 through Q405, except the

endorsement on Q403, when compared with the known writings of RAY, the presence of unexplained variations, insufficient comparable material and distortion in some of the questioned endorsements precluded a definite determination as to whether RAY prepared the endorsements on Q398 through Q405.

The endorsement on Q403 is too distorted for comparison purposes. Although some similarities were noted in the date on line 24 on Q407 beside the Rayms signature when compared with the comparable writing of RAY, the limited and over-written nature of this date precluded a definite determination as to whether RAY prepared this date.

Q393 through Q408 have been photographed and will be returned to Chicago separately.

They desire to depart as soon as possible and it is their opinion that the interviews are pertinent to case as they clearly indicate fugitive and flight status of subject after the assassination of King. Mr. Canale has listed witnesses in each place that he desires to be interviewed and SAC in Buffalo, Legats in Ottawa, London and Paris are being requested to immediately submit response if such arrangements can be made to have witnesses interviewed. After response by these respected offices, we will advise Mr. Canale accordingly.

DISTRICT ATTORNEY GENERAL PHIL M. CANALE, JR., MEMPHIS, ADVISED THIS DATE THAT HE IS MOST APPRECIATIVE OF EFFORTS OF FBI IN ARRANGING FOR VARIOUS PRETRIAL INTERVIEWS BEING CONDUCTED IN CONNECTION WITH CAPTIONED CASE.

CANALE STATED THAT CAREFUL REVIEW OF THE MATERIAL INDICATES THAT IN ALL PROBABILITY SOME OF WITNESSESS DEVELOPED BY FBI IN MEXICO MAY NOT BE OF MAJOR IMPORTANCE IN THIS CASE. HE IS, HOWEVER, OF OPINION THAT IT WOULD ASSIST IN OVER-ALL PREPARATION OF CASE IF ARRANGEMENTS COULD BE MADE WHEREBY REPRESENTATIVES OF HIS OFFICE WOULD HAVE OPPORTUNITY TO TALK WITH REPRESENTATIVES OF MEXICAN NATIONAL POLICE WHO HANDLED INVESTIGATION IN THIS MATTER. HE STATED IT WILL OF COURSE BECOME KNOWN DURING COURSE OF TRIAL THAT HIS OFFICE HAS CONDUCTED INTERVIEWS IN MANY PARTS OF THE UNITED STATES AS WELL AS INTERESTED FOREIGN COUNTRIES. CANALE STATES THAT WITHOUT AT LEAST AN EFFORT MADE BY HIS DEPARTMENT TO HAVE TALKED WITH NATIONAL POLICE IN MEXICO, SOME ALLEGATIONS OR DOUBTS

MAY BE RAISED DURING COURSE OF TRIAL . .N IT BECOMES KNOWN THAT HIS DEPARTMENT DID NOT CONDUCT INTERVIEWS OR MAKE EFFORTS TO CONDUCT SAME IN MEXICO. HE WAS PARTICULARLY INTERESTED IN DEVELOPING INFORMATION WHICH DISCLOSED THAT SUBJECT OF INSTANT CASE HAD ON AT LEAST ONE OCCASION WHILE IN MEXICO SHOWED STRONG ANTI-NEGRO SENTIMENTS.

CANALE ALSO ADVISED THAT IT WOULD BE MOST ADVANTAGEOUS TO HIS OFFICE TO CONDUCT THE PERTINENT INTERVIEWS IN THIS CASE IF AT ALL POSSIBLE. HE STATED THAT EVEN THOUGH NONE OF THE WITNESSES IN MEXICO MIGHT EVENTUALLY BE USED HIS OFFICE WOULD BE IN AN EXCELLENT POSITION TO R

POSITION TO REFUTE ANY POSSIBLE CHANGES IN TESTIMONY SHOULD ANY OF THE WITNESSES EVER BE SUBPOENAED BY THE DEFENSE AND THEREAFTER CHANGE THE ORIGINAL STORY TOLD.

BUREAU REQUESTED TO ADVISE APPROPRIATE TIME, IF SUCH CAN BE ARRANGED, WHEN REPRESENTATIVES OF CANALE'S OFFICE CAN DEPART FOR MEXICO AND MEET WITH NATIONAL POLICE REPRESENTATIVES THERE, IT BEING NOTED AT PRESENT TIME CANALE'S REPRESENTATIVES WHO HAVE HANDLED PREVIOUS INTERVIEWS WILL NOT BE BACK IN MEMPHIS UNTIL APPROXIMATELY OCTOBER TWENTYFIVE, SIXTYEIGHT. THE EARLIEST THEY WOULD BE AVAILABLE FOR TRAVEL TO MEXICO WOULD BE APPROXIMATELY OCTOBER TWENTYEIGHT NEXT. P.

RE/E:

Memphis advises that Mr. Phil M. Canale Jr., Shelby County, Memphis Tennessee, who is handling the state prosecution of James Earl Ray feels it is necessary for his representatives to travel to Mexico to interview witnesses. The earliest that would be available for travel to Mexico would be approximately October 23, 1968, due to the representatives presently traveling in Toronto, Montreal, and Lisbon interviewing witnesses. Mr. Canale is particularly interested in developing information which disclosed that Ray had a conversation while in Mexico about giving [illegible] sentiments. Mr. Canale has listed witnesses in Mexico that he desires to be interviewed and Legat Mexico City is being requested to immediately advise if arrangements can be made to have these witnesses interviewed through Mexican authorities. After response by Legat Mexico, Mr. Canale will be advised accordingly.

JAMES EARL RAY, Aka

This document contains neither recommendations nor conclusions of the FBI. It is the property of the FBI and is loaned to your agency; it and its contents are not to be distributed outside your agency.

Investigation set forth below was conducted to identify subscribers to telephones to which calls were made from Texas during the period December 15-17, 1967.

Telephone Number [redacted]
Sabinas, Coahuila, Mexico
December 16, 1967

On June 28, 1968, a confidential source abroad advised that it had been determined that the above number belongs to [redacted] 53 years of age, who lives with his wife, [redacted] at [redacted] Coahuila. They have three sons living in the United States. One is [redacted] who lives at Carrizo Springs, Texas; the others, [redacted] and [redacted] live in San Antonio, Texas at [redacted] Street. Also residing at this latter address is [redacted] a son-in-law of [redacted]

The source said that the [redacted] Police in Nueva Rosita, Coahuila, [redacted] and the [redacted] Police in Sabinas, Coahuila, both stated that [redacted] and his family are very well regarded business people in the area. None of them have criminal records. The communities of Sabinas and Nueva Rosita are neighboring towns and, according to these police officials, the [redacted] family is well known in both communities.

EARL RAY, Aka

Telephone Number [redacted]
Nueva Rosita, Coahuila, Mexico
December 17, 1967

On June 28, 1968, the confidential source abroad stated that the above number is listed to [redacted] and his son, [redacted] They live at [redacted] Nueva Rosita, Coahuila. It was determined that the son, [redacted] was married in May of 1968 to [redacted] who lived at [redacted] in Uvalde, Texas.

Both Police Chief [redacted] of Nueva Rosita and Chief [redacted] of Sabinas, Coahuila, advised the source that neither [redacted] or any of his relatives have any criminal record in those communities.

Monterrey, Nuevo Leon, Mexico
December 15 and 18, 1967

On June 13, 1968, a second confidential source abroad, advised that the above number is listed to [redacted] whose address is [redacted] in Monterrey, Nuevo Leon. It was determined by the source that [redacted] works in San Antonio, Texas in a clothing store called "Sugarman's" and, while staying in San Antonio, lives at [redacted] Street. [redacted] visits Monterrey very infrequently and, when he does come to Monterrey, usually only stays over the week end. The source advised that other residents of this neighborhood stated that [redacted] is a tailor in the clothing store in San Antonio.

[redacted]
Mexico, D.F.
December 17, 1967

On July 18, 1968, a third confidential source abroad advised that the above number is listed to the [redacted] in Mexico City. On June 24, 1968, [redacted] Manager of this concern, stated that the firm buys meat in very large quantities from the border area of Texas, as well as in Mexico. He said that often they receive unsolicited telephone calls from a buyer in a travel status who advises them concerning livestock available for sale. He stated that his employer, [redacted] handles all long distance calls pertaining to the purchase of livestock and that he, [redacted] knew nothing about a call received at this number on December 17, 1967. He said [redacted] was out of town at that time.

On July 11, 1968, [redacted] stated that [redacted] had been told that an inquiry was made concerning the call received on December 17, 1967, and stated he did not know what it was about. Periodic efforts by the source to contact [redacted] at this address have been unsuccessful.

On October 4, 1968, the third source advised that another attempt had been made on that date to contact [redacted] at the Carniceria America but that [redacted] was again out of the city, traveling on business.

[redacted] Legat, Mexico City, telephonically advised Special Agent (SA) [redacted] at 6:00 p. m., 10-19-68, that the Mexican authorities who have to be contacted to make arrangements for representatives of Tennessee State Attorney General's Office to interview witnesses in Mexico will not be available until Monday, 10-21-68. [redacted] stated he will contact the appropriate authorities on Monday and submit the results by cable.

[redacted] Legat, Ontario, telephonically advised [redacted] at 6:30 p. m., 10-19-68, that the three representatives of the Tennessee State Attorney General's Office, namely Robert Dwyer, James Beasley and John Carlisle will depart Montreal, Canada, at 6:50 p. m. (Canada Time), 10-19-68, on Air Canada Flight Number 549, and will arrive London, England, at 7:30 a. m., 10-20-68 (London Time).

SA [redacted] advised of above at 6:45 p. m., 10-19-68.

Extra-Duty Supervisor [redacted] Domestic Intelligence Division, at 7:10 p. m., 10-19-68, advised [redacted] that John Minnich, Legat, London, will meet the three representatives from the State Attorney General's Office when they arrive in London.

At 5:30 a. m., 10-20-68, SA [redacted] Domestic Intelligence Division, advised John Minnich telephoned and related that he had met the three representatives from the State Attorney General's Office. Legat Minnich advised Mr. Dwyer would like the following information from Memphis:

1. Are there any developments in the case which might cause it to be continued to a later date?

2. What, if any, developments are there regarding the Hanes Contempt of Court case?

In addition to the above, Mr. Dwyer asked that SAC Robert G. Jensen tell General Phil M. Canale that the three of them are well and progressing on schedule. Have General Canale call Mrs. Beasley and tell her that all is going well and that Mr. Dwyer is taking good care of Mr. Beasley.

Mr. Dwyer further asked that General Canale call Mr. Dwyer's "friend" and tell the friend that he is well and that they still plan to return Thursday, 10-24-68.

Concerning Items 1 and 2 above, Legat Minnich asked that he be called at the Embassy about 8:30 p. m., London Time (3:30 a. m., Washington Time).

SAC, Memphis advised that he was unable to get in touch with the State Attorney General; however, to the best of his knowledge, there has been no change in the situation with respect to either Items 1 or 2.

At 9:00 AM on 10/17/68, Inspector [redacted] RCMP, Toronto, Ontario, Canada, was contacted and informed that Misters DWYER, BEASLEY and CARLISLE were scheduled to arrive at the Toronto International Airport at 1:57 PM, 10/17/68. At the same time, Inspector [redacted] was informed of the respective positions of these men.

Inspector [redacted] indicated that he had already received instructions from Ottawa as to the impending arrival of these men in Toronto and the purpose of their trip, but that their specific arrival time had not previously been furnished to him. that these men would be able to interview all of the people they wanted to talk to and still leave Toronto for Montreal on Friday, 10/18/68.

At 2:08 PM, 10/17/68, Misters DWYER, BEASLEY and CARLISLE were met at the ramp of the Toronto International Airport by SA [redacted] of the Buffalo Office and Corporal [redacted] of the RCMP as they alighted from their plane. Their passage through Canadian immigration and customs was facilitated by Corporal [redacted] and they were thereafter driven to Headquarters of the RCMP in Toronto in an RCMP car by Corporal [redacted] During the brief discussion at the airport, DWYER, BEASLEY and CARLISLE expressed their appreciation for the cooperation of the FBI, pointing out that they "don't know what they would have done if it were not for the Bureau."

At that same time, it was pointed out to these gentlemen that the possibility of arranging all of the interviews which they indicated they desired while in Toronto would be extremely unlikely in the one full day which they have allocated for their stay in Toronto particularly since at least two of the interviews, those of the two landladies at the residences in Toronto at which RAY had stayed required the services of a Chinese and Polish interpreter. Despite this, they insisted they were committed to adhere to their original schedule and that they would have to accomplish as much as they could during the time they had allocated for Toronto.

Arrangements were made with Corporal [redacted] for him to notify the Buffalo Office just as soon as the men from Tennessee "firmed up" their plans for departure from Toronto for Montreal.

Hanes Resumes Verbal Onslaught

Cites Story Quoting FBI Linking Ray, Prints

The attorney for James Earl Ray, charged with murdering Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., renewed his verbal onslaught against a court order to limit pretrial publicity in the case.

Arthur J. Hanes conceded that Criminal Court Judge W. Preston Battle, who has held him in contempt, has the right to forbid him to discuss the "merits of the case against Ray. But he can't get after me, according to the Reardon report, for commenting on other things."

"Other things," according to Mr. Hanes, embraces the conditions of Ray's imprisonment in the Shelby County Jail, the release of only one photo of Ray, showing him shackled and manacled, and the unsuccessful effort of a Ku Klux Klan attorney from Georgia to become associated in Ray's defense.

Judge Battle's order he said, has not prevented an FBI spokesman from giving interviews pointing to Ray as Dr. King's slayer.

Tuesday Mr. Hanes cited a story in the Wichita (Kan.) Beacon quoting George Bonebrake, an FBI fingerprint expert, as saying fingerprints taken of Ray in London matched "latent fingerprints" taken by detectives in Memphis shortly after Dr. King was slain on a motel balcony here last April.

A dispatch from Wichita said that, besides making the speech at a police seminar there on fingerprint identification, Mr. Bonebrake said in an interview afterward, "There is no doubt in my mind that Ray at least handled the murder weapon."

Hanes Calls Court Group Hypocrites

Says Prosecution Allowed Comment in Ray Case

Arthur J. Hanes, attorney for James Earl Ray, socked it to a court-appointed committee in the Dr. Martin Luther King murder case today, calling them a "committee of Harper Valley P-TA hypocrites."

The reference is to the hit record, "Harper Valley P-TA," which recounts the tale of a mini-skirted widowed wife told by the P-TA that "as a mother, you're not fit." She wore her mini-skirt into the next meeting and "socked it to the Harper Valley P-TA," recounting the vices of the members and branding them as "Harper Valley hypocrites."

Hanes called the committee 'hypocrites' because he contends that representatives of those prosecuting Ray are being allowed to make statements about the case while he has been criticized for making comments.

SHOW CAUSE

The seven-lawyer committee, headed by Lucius Burch, recommended to Judge Preston Battle that Hanes be required to show cause why he should not be held in contempt of Battle's order restricting pre-trial publicity. Battle held Hanes, a private detective in his employ and two newspaper reporters, in contempt but has not passed sentence.

"Sheriff (William) Morris said in a press conference that the man's (Ray's) cell is fine. I said I disagreed. Atty. Gen. Ramsey Clark stated on television that Ray committed this crime with no conspiracy involved," Hanes said.

NO PLEA

"I suppose if I had opened my mouth and agreed with Ramsey Clark and Sheriff Morris, nothing would have been said about it. Nothing would have been heard from Mr. Burch's committee of Harper Valley P-TA hypocrites."

Hanes said he had not filed a plea to set aside Battle's decision in the contempt hearing. "I'm going to wait and see if he sentences me. I may at that time appeal. Still, on the other hand, whatever he decided to mete out to me, I could take it as long as that bunch (the committee) could live with their consciences."

Other members of the legal committee are J. Alan Hanover, Cooper Turner Jr., James D. Causey, Leo Bearman Jr., Lee A. Hardison, and Don Owens.

EXAMINATION

The Birmingham attorney flew to Memphis yesterday to continue his examination of the evidence the state is expected to introduce when Ray goes on trial Nov. 12 on a murder charge in the April 4 slaying of Dr. King.

Hanes complained that Battle's court order limiting publicity favors the prosecution and only limits the defense. He cited an interview with George Bonebrake, an FBI fingerprint expert, in Wichita, Kan., which was reported in the Wichita Beacon.

"Here is a man who is a key witness for the FBI telling the whole world that he is an expert for the bureau, that he testified in London and is going to testify in Memphis against James Earl Ray," Hanes said.

FINGERPRINTS

Bonebrake was quoted in the story as saying the fingerprints found in Memphis matched those "taken of the man arrested in London" and those taken of James Earl Ray while he was at the Missouri Penitentiary.

"Therefore, my testimony tended to implicate him in the murder of Dr. King as well as identify him as the fugitive wanted for escaping from the Missouri Prison," Bonebrake was quoted as saying. The FBI expert was identified as the man who "led the search through thousands of fingerprints on file at the Washington, D.C., FBI headquarters for the identification of the killer" and the "government's star witness in the extradition proceedings" against Ray.

Bonebrake was quoted as saying that "FBI agents obtained 'good' latent prints from a rifle believed used to kill Dr. King, from a telescopic sight on the rifle and from a pair of binoculars found at the scene."

"This was a real break for us," Bonebrake was quoted. "We had several names to go on but we didn't know which one was correct. Ray had purchased a car under the name of Galt, bought the rifle under another name and registered in Memphis using the same John Willard."

The story quoted Bonebrake as saying he expected to go to Memphis to testify on the fingerprint identification during Ray's coming trial. "There's no doubt in my mind that he (Ray) at least handled the murder weapon," he was quoted.

NO COMMENT

Bonebrake was in Wichita speaking to an area seminar on fingerprint identification for law enforcement agencies. A FBI spokesman said in Washington today that Bonebrake was out on assignment and was not available for comment. "We are not making any comment on that case whatsoever unless it was public knowledge," the spokesman said.

"Everybody seems to be leaning toward the prosecution. All the court officials seem to be," Hanes said.

"Three thousand FBI agents working on the case, the resources of the state of Tennessee, the press and this community are working to ensure that the state of Tennessee gets a fair trial.

"I am the only one standing between my client and the great forces of government. I will not be intimidated.

"It is pretty easy to admonish an unpopular lawyer who has an unpopular client and an unpopular case, to look upon him with disfavor.

"I never heard of a judge criticizing a sheriff or a prosecutor they live with and do business with every day."

Hanes said he did not believe his latest statements were in violation of Battle's anti-publicity order.

"I have not said anything, nor will I say anything, going to the merits of the case," he said. "But I will say this that when a lawyer is overcome by timidity in criticizing the courts we have lost a lot of individual freedom in this country.

"We should guard against any person or any court being immune to criticism. The time is past when a person or a committee can mount a pedestal, adjust his halo and say don't criticise my actions.

"In my opinion the flames of justice have flickered mighty low in the headwinds of the great forces which have been amassed against my client."

Hanes said he had complained to Battle about a picture released by Morris showing the sheriff leading a handcuffed Ray into jail. "It depicted him (Ray) as some kind of dangerous animal dragged from his cave," Hanes said.

"I asked the judge to let me have a photographer come in and photograph him as a normal human being. This was denied. I feel if the sheriff had a right to release the photograph, we certainly had the right to release one showing him as he normally is."

Hanes said he planned to go to the attorney general's office today to listen to the police radio tape recordings from the night that Dr. King was killed and to inspect any further evidence that has come into the office. He said he will remain in Memphis until tomorrow night.

THOMPSON

Meanwhile, it was also learned today that Hanes spent several hours yesterday conferring with Memphis attorney Russell X. Thompson.

Earlier in the case, Thompson was reported to be under consideration as associate counsel in Ray's defense, but Hanes later denied it.

Thompson confirmed Hanes was in his office in connection with preliminary work he had done previously but declined further comment.

Hanes' visit, however, again led to speculation that Thompson would become associated with him.

RE: MURKIN

YOU SHOULD [illegible] ADVISE MR. CANALE THAT IN VIEW OF THE ABOVE, ARRANGEMENTS CANNOT BE MADE BY THIS BUREAU TO HAVE WITNESSES INTERVIEWED PURSUANT TO THEIR REQUEST. MR. CANALE SHOULD BE FURTHER ADVISED THAT IN THE EVENT HE DESIRES TO PURSUE THIS MATTER FURTHER THAT ARRANGEMENTS SHOULD BE MADE BY MR. CANALE THROUGH THE STATE DEPARTMENT AS OUTLINED ABOVE.

NOTE: This is the case involving the murder of Martin Luther King, Jr.

Mr. Phil M. Canale, Jr., State Attorney General, Shelby County, Memphis, Tennessee, desires that his representatives proceed to Mexico and interview witnesses in this case. He requested Bureau assistance in this matter. We directed a cablegram to our legal attache in Mexico City listing witnesses desired to be interviewed by Mr. Canale and requested our legal attache to advise if arrangements can be made for these interviews.

Our legal attache has advised that efforts were made to make arrangements for representatives of Mr. Canale to interview witnesses in this case on an informal basis with Mexican Government officials without success. Our legal attache advises that due to a recent incident involving a case of U. S. Narcotics and Customs Bureaus with the Mexican Government, the reaction is very high with Mexican officials concerning all U.S. investigative agencies. Legat advises that interviewing of these witnesses may be affected through State Department.

SAC, Memphis being instructed to advise Mr. Canale that request to interview witnesses in Mexico with Bureau assistance cannot be completed at this time, and if Mr. Canale desires to pursue this matter further, he should handle through the State Department. This matter coordinated with foreign liaison and they feel that if Memphis authorities pursue this matter of interviewing witnesses through the Bureau, this could very possibly jeopardize the Bureau's operations in Mexico in the future. Department being advised.

SUBJECT: MURKIN

Re Springfield airtel to Director, dated 5/1/68.

On 10/16/68, [redacted] Brownsburg, Indiana, telephonically contacted this office advising that he wished to speak to an agent in regard to captioned subject. Arrangements were made to meet him at which time he furnished information substantially the same as was furnished by his wife, [redacted] in referenced airtel. The only discrepancy with information furnished previously by his wife was that he compared photographs that were published of JAMES EARL RAY to the persons that he remembered having overheard at the Gulf Truck Stop, Lebanon, Tennessee, in late March, 1968. After comparison he advised that none of the five men he overheard at the truck stop were identical to JAMES EARL RAY. His wife had previously stated in referenced airtel that one of those persons had been RAY.

[redacted] advised that after hearing this conversation with the five men in the restroom at the truck stop on or about the last day of March, 1968, that he and his wife turned around and traveled back to Memphis, a distance of about 65 miles, to report what he had overheard. When they returned to Memphis, however, he got scared, did not want to get involved and did not report what he had heard to anyone. They left Memphis and traveled East in the direction they had been traveling before returning to Memphis. [redacted] in referenced airtel, advised to the contrary that he did not mention hearing of the plan to kill Dr. MARTIN LUTHER KING that day, and she did not advise of having returned to Memphis to report such information.

In addition to the above information, [redacted] advised that he was approached by a man on the night of 10/13/68, at the bar of Howard Johnson's, located at I-465 and Indiana State Highway 136, in Indianapolis. This man, according to [redacted] knew all about [redacted] and was aware of his poor financial status. This man followed him to the car and told [redacted] that he could make $100,000 if he would testify to what he heard in the restroom in Lebanon, Tennessee, in late March. The man did not tell him who would pay the money, but told [redacted] that if he was interested he was to be in Oklahoma City, Oklahoma, at the airport at 3:00 AM, on Saturday, 10/19/68. The man also told [redacted] that if he did not believe him, to go to the Holiday Inn bar, at the Indianapolis airport at 5:00 PM the next evening. [redacted] advised that he did, in fact, go the next evening to the Holiday Inn bar, which was on 10/14/68, but he was not approached by anyone. On the morning of 10/15/68, at approximately 5:30 AM, [redacted] heard a noise at his apartment door, and found a note which stated "Sat. 3:00 AM, OKLA. City. How much money". [redacted] stated that he became very worried and finally on 10/16/68 made a telephone call to ARTHUR HAYNES, attorney for JAMES EARL RAY, in Birmingham, Alabama, attempting to find out if HAYNES was responsible for the offer of $100,000 for [redacted] to testify. He talked to HAYNES, at which time HAYNES mentioned to [redacted] that he had received a mysterious phone call several days before, advising that he should get in touch with a [redacted] however, HAYNES had taken it as a prank call. HAYNES knew of no offer of money to [redacted] if he would testify, but did take [redacted] address and phone number.

After talking to HAYNES, [redacted] immediately called the Indianapolis office and requested to talk to an Agent. [redacted] gave as his reason for not contacting the FBI previously, that he was an ex-con and was not fond of dealing with police in any manner, however, he was scared and felt that he must make known the above information. [redacted] furnished both notes he had received to interviewing Agents.

Indianapolis Office is retaining these notes at this time and has instructed [redacted] to promptly advise if he is recontacted in the future by anyone concerning this matter. As the substance of this interview with [redacted] has previously been furnished to the Bureau and Memphis, it does not appear further investigation is necessary. The Indianapolis Office will keep the Bureau and Memphis advised of any further developments.

It should be noted that in referenced airtel, mention is made of the fact that [redacted] was a patient twice at Patton State Hospital, Sacramento, California, and once at Atascadero State Hospital in California.

ar Article Opposes Battle's Stance

e Reardon report of the erican Bar Association on rial publicity in criminal es "does not restrict the s from printing any infor- ion it can get," says a nphis attorney who helped e the report.

is is the opinion of Walter Armstrong Jr., a member e Reardon Committee and rman of the American Bar ndation's Survey of Admin- stion of Criminal Justice.

Armstrong maintains this — the opposite of that by an amicus curiae com- ee appointed by Judge W. ston Battle — in an eight- e article in a current issue e Tennessee Bar Journal.

r. Armstrong refused yes- ay to be interviewed on subject since it is in con- ersy in Judge Battle's t. But he said he stood ualifiedly on his Bar Jour- article. It was published before Judge Battle held in contempt two Memphis newspaper reporters who wrote stories from interviews with Arthur J. Hanes Sr., attorney for James Earl Ray, charged with killing Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.

"I am convinced some guidelines are necessary for both the media and the bar if the right to a fair trial is to be preserved," Mr. Armstrong wrote. ". . .Against this background, let us consider the (Reardon) report and the so-called 'blackout' of news which it imposes.

"In the first place, it does not restrict the press from printing any information it can get. It does suggest certain restrictions upon attorneys, law enforcement officers, judges and judicial employes in releasing such information . . .

"No one denies the right of the press to print without prior restraint . . . You can't stop the newspapers from printing it if they can get it; but you can certainly stop them from getting it."

With the advice and assent of a bar committee headed by Lucius Burch, Judge Battle on Sept. 20 held Charles Edmundson of The Commercial Appeal and Roy Hamilton of the Memphis Press - Scimitar in contempt of court.

The court agreed with a defense contended that the newsmen had not been served with a copy of his order. But he held they were covered by it by extension as defined in previous contempt cases in Tennessee.

Ezra Bryan, attorney for Scripps-Howard Newspapers, and Armistead Clay, attorney for the reporters, disagree. They say that none of the categories "covered by extension" would include the respondents in this case.

They have filed a motion for Judge Battle too rehear the case and have announced that if relief is not granted, appeal will be taken to higher courts.

Besides Mr. Armstrong's interpretation that the Reardon report does not "restrict the press," the Kaufman report, a parallel document published two weeks ago and covering the federal courts, says specifically it disfavors, at this time at least, pre-trial publicity orders applying to the press. The Kaufman report expresses doubt that guarantees in the United States Constitution regarding freedom of speech and freedom of the press permit such orders being applied to the news media.

Mr. Armstrong quotes the opinion of the Supreme Court in Sheppard vs. Maxwell, "Given the pervasiveness of modern communications and the difficulty of effacing prejudicial publicity from the minds of jurors, the trial courts must take strong measures to ensure that the balance is never weighed against the accused."

The defense in the Memphis contempt case has pointed out that it would be virtually impossible, from the legal point of view, to prejudice the accused by quoting his attorney.

"Remember," says Mr. Armstrong toward the end of his article, "the Reardon report does not limit the press in what it can publish in any way, with one single exception. It does characterize as contempt of court the dissemination of a statement going beyond the public record of the court for the purpose of affecting the outcome of the trial." The Memphis reporters have not been taxed with trying to affect the outcome of the Ray trial.

Judge Battle's amicus curiae committee met yesterday to consider possible action on interviews with Mr. Hanes published in Wednesday's Press-Scimitar and The Commercial Appeal. Members of the committee would not comment on their conference. It is known they were offended by Mr. Hanes' phrase terming them "a committee of Harper Valley PTA hypocrites."

Lawyers Discuss Blast by Hanes

A committee of lawyers advising Criminal Court Judge W. Preston Battle on publicity in the James Earl Ray case had a closed meeting today, but the Press-Scimitar learned that the subject was the vocal blast aimed at the committee and the court's pre-trial publicity order by Arthur J. Hanes, Ray's attorney.

Hanes yesterday referred to the lawyers as "a committee of Harper Valley PTA hypocrites" and criticized its publicity guidelines adopted by Judge Battle as favoring the prosecution.

The seven-member committee refused to meet with a group of newsmen of Sigma Delta Chi, national journalism fraternity, to discuss the publicity controversy despite a suggestion earlier by Judge Battle that it would be a good idea.

Hanes Resumes Verbal Onslaught

Cites Story Quoting FBI Linking Ray, Prints

The attorney for James Earl Ray, charged with murdering Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., renewed his verbal onslaught against a court order to limit pretrial publicity in the case.

Arthur J. Hanes conceded that Criminal Court Judge W. Preston Battle, who has held him in contempt, has the right to forbid him to discuss the "merits of the case against Ray. But he can't get after me, according to the Reardon report, for commenting on other things."

"Other things," according to Mr. Hanes, embraces the conditions of Ray's imprisonment in the Shelby County Jail, the release of only one photo of Ray, showing him shackled and manacled, and the unsuccessful effort of a Ku Klux Klan attorney from Georgia to become associated in Ray's defense.

Judge Battle's order he said, has not prevented an FBI spokesman from giving interviews pointing to Ray as Dr. King's slayer.

Tuesday Mr. Hanes cited a story in the Wichita (Kan.) Beacon quoting George Bonebrake, an FBI fingerprint expert, as saying fingerprints taken of Ray in London matched "latent fingerprints" taken by detectives in Memphis shortly after Dr. King was slain on a motel balcony here last April.

A dispatch from Wichita said that, besides making the speech at a police seminar there on fingerprint identification, Mr. Bonebrake said in an interview afterward, "There is no doubt in my mind that Ray at least handled the murder weapon."

Submitted herewith for the information of the Bureau and Kansas City is a supplementary investigation report prepared by Dewitt County Sheriffs Department, Clinton, Illinois. It is noted that report sets forth information received from a prisoner by the name of [redacted] alias [redacted] During the course of interview [redacted] states he has been associated with a [redacted] alias [redacted] during course of investigation states that [redacted] alias [redacted] told him that JAMES EARL RAY and [redacted] were permitted to escape from the Jefferson City Penitentiary at the same time so that they could kill MARTIN LUTHER KING. [redacted] also reportedly told [redacted] that he and RAY were both later arrested in Memphis, Tennessee, at the same time and subsequently released.

The Memphis Division has no information available indicating that [redacted] and RAY were arrested at the same time in Memphis and subsequently released.

It is suggested that the Bureau review the identification record of [redacted] to determine whether or not there is any information disclosing a common arrest or a common incarceration with subject JAMES EARL RAY.

REC 49 52841

The Kansas City Office, at Jefferson City Penitentiary, should review records to ascertain whether or not [redacted] alias [redacted] has ever been incarcerated at Jefferson City Penitentiary and whether or not any information available to indicate he is an escapee, and whether time of escape corresponds with that of JAMES EARL RAY.

UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT

Memorandum

TO : MR. TROTTER

DATE: 10-17-68

FROM : C. E. Ganley

SUBJECT: JAMES EARL RAY
LATENT FINGERPRINT EVIDENCE

James Earl Ray is the accused slayer of Martin Luther King. He was apprehended in London, England, on 6-8-68 and extradited to the United States on 7-19-68 and is currently awaiting trial in Memphis, Tennessee, on state homicidal charges. In order for Ray to be extradited from England, the United States Government was required to present detailed testimony as to (a) the identity of the individual and (b) his alleged implication as King's slayer. To establish these points, at the Department's request, Bureau transported Latent Fingerprint Examiner George Bonebrake to London where he presented expert fingerprint testimony on 6-27-68. Bonebrake's testimony received widespread publicity in the news media throughout the world. As a matter of fact, he was the only witness presented by the United States Government and this was made much of by the world press.

On 10-16-68 Charles Edmundson, newspaper reporter for the Memphis "Commercial Appeal" got wind of a story that had been printed by the Wichita, Kansas, "Beacon" newspaper on 9-12-68 covering a police school that Bonebrake had conducted at Wichita in early September. (News Reporter Edmundson and Defense Attorney Arthur Hanes, Sr., are currently under contempt citations issued by Memphis Criminal Court Judge W. Preston Battle, such citations having been issued on 9-30-68 accusing Edmundson and Hanes of violating the trial judge's order barring extrajudicial statements in the Ray case. Edmundson and Hanes have apparently dredged up the Wichita, Kansas, "Beacon" news story in an attempt to offset the court's action against themselves.)

Mr. Bonebrake, who is on annual leave, has been contacted concerning the allegation that he unnecessarily aired the fingerprint testimony in this case before a police school in Wichita, Kansas, in early September. Bonebrake states that when he appeared before the class they already knew - through the prior extensive publicity concerning his London, England, testimony - that he was the fingerprint expert in the Ray case. On one occasion, members of the class, in a closed session, attempted

to query him as to the details of the fingerprint testimony. Bonebrake states that he gave no facts other than what had already been quoted by the press concerning his London, England, testimony and this was in a very brief fashion. No members of the press were present. On another occasion during the class at the instigation of the local police department, members of the press were briefly invited to take photographs and to collect data for a press story on this school. One member of the class who seemed friendly with the reporter mentioned that Bonebrake had been the fingerprint expert who had given testimony in London. The reporter then said he recalled Bonebrake's name. No further questions were asked and no other information was volunteered by Mr. Bonebrake at this session or any other sessions of the class. Bonebrake states unequivocally that any quotations in the press otherwise are outright fabrications and falsehoods.

Memphis teletype of 10-16-68 poses certain questions as propounded by [redacted] former FBI Agent and member of panel of attorneys assisting Judge Battle in connection with contempt hearings against Reporter Edmundson and Attorney Hanes. Queries in essence ask for specifications on allegations made by Edmundson. Attached teletype instructs Memphis to contact [redacted] and furnish full facts as set forth herein pointing out that when Bonebrake testified in London such testimony became public source material and that any further elaboration from any other source is pure fabrication.

RECOMMENDATION:

- Approval of attached teletype.

JAMES EARL RAY;
DR. MARTIN LUTHER KING, JR. - VICTIM

On October 22, 1968, Mr. Arthur J. [illegible], Jr., [illegible] Harbor, Alabama, attorney [illegible] Louis Earl Ray, [illegible] Agent in Charge, Federal Bureau of Investigation, Birmingham, Alabama, stating that "this is a genuine concern call." Mr. Hanes expressed his deep interest in the well-being of his country and stated that the forthcoming trial of Ray could provide "a great forum for exposing some things which need exposing." In the ensuing conversation Hanes stated that his specific concern was with the Black Militant groups at work in this country and activities which could be exposed.

Mr. Hanes requested that arrangements be made for him to meet with an official of the FBI in Birmingham, Alabama; Washington, D. C.; or any other suitable location for the purpose of exchanging information as to activities of Black Militants. He indicated that his interest in securing information from the FBI was in order that a suitable expose of such Black Militant activities could be made during the forthcoming trial of James Earl Ray in Memphis, Tennessee.

Mr. Hanes was informed that the FBI would be happy to receive from him any information pertinent to the security of the United States, but that information possessed by the FBI could not be disclosed to him under regulations of the Attorney General of the United States. This advice

SUPPLEMENTAL REPORT OF AMICI CURIAE

The following is a unanimous supplemental report of the Amici Curiae appointed by the Honorable W. Preston Battle, Judge of Division III of the Criminal Court of Shelby County, Tennessee, in the above-styled cause.

Your Amici Curiae find and report as follows:

1. That on October 16, 1968, there appeared in the Commercial Appeal an article under the headline: "Lecture By FBI Agent Angers Ray's Attorney", in which one George Bonebrake, an FBI fingerprint specialist, is extensively quoted. Mr. Bonebrake is also quoted in the Memphis Press-Scimitar of October 16, 1968 in an article under the headline: "Hanes Denounces Court Group As 'Hypocrites'", and again in an article in the Commercial Appeal of October 17, 1968 under the headline: "Hanes Resumes Verbal Onslaught".

Your Amici Curiae are of the opinion that there is probable cause to believe that the statements allegedly made by George Bonebrake are in violation of this Court's orders regarding pre-trial publicity in the above case. However, your Amici Curiae believe that the said George Bonebrake is a resident citizen of Washington, D. C. and as such is not immediately amenable to the processes of this Court. Therefore your Amici Curiae propose to file a petition in this Court requiring the said George Bonebrake to show cause why he should not be adjudged in contempt of this Court for violation of this Court's orders, and further propose to mail a copy of the petition to the Honorable Ramsey Clark, the Attorney General of the United States, Department of Justice, by whom said George Bonebrake is believed to be employed, requesting that the said George Bonebrake submit himself voluntarily to the jurisdiction of this Court so that a proper hearing may be held. In the event said voluntary submission is not forthcoming, the petition will recommend that this Court issue its process at such time as the said George Bonebrake shall come into this Court's jurisdiction.

2. That your Amici Curiae are currently investigating the manner and occasion by which the above-referred-to comments alleged to have been made by the said George Bonebrake on September 11, 1968 in Wichita, Kansas came to be quoted in the news media of Memphis, Tennessee on October 16 and 17, 1968. Your Amici Curiae would advise the Court that, upon the completion of this investigation, we shall again report to this Court regarding any additional recommended action against other parties.

Respectfully submitted,

[redacted] denied that he had received or was ever in possession of a great amount of money as a result of his participation in the murder of MARTIN LUTHER KING and the assassination of Senator ROBERT F. KENNEDY. He further denied stating to anyone he was on the payroll of the OSI and CIA.

[redacted] said he definately did not participate in any manner, nor did he have any knowledge of or information concerning the murders of MARTIN LUTHER KING and Senator ROBERT F. KENNEDY.

[redacted] admitted that he was glad KING was dead as he felt KING was a troblemaker, but emphasized that he did not have anything to do with killing him.

[redacted] said he could not remember making any statements to anyone regarding any of the above. He admitted that he may have made them when he was in a drunken condition, but could not recall making any such statements. He said he often has black-out periods which occur when he is drinking and he has been known to appear sober even when he is in a drunken state.

[redacted] said [redacted] or his former employer at [redacted] Orlando, Florida. He and [redacted] have been out drinking together on a few occasions, usually after closing shop or on a payday night. [redacted] has been trying to get him into trouble with his wife. [redacted] said [redacted] thinks he is a ladies man and has in the past tried to take his wife out. His wife has told him that [redacted] has called her several times and in addition to trying to make a date would tell her of his running around with other women. his being responsible for another girl's pregnancy at the time he married his wife.

[redacted] stated he has never confronted [redacted] with any of the above, but [redacted] has told him that he called him one night when he was drunk and cursed him out. [redacted] said he could not remember this call.

[redacted] advised that he has a serious drinking problem, but he did not consider himself an alcoholic. He said he was treated in the Veterans Administration Hospital, Fayetteville, North Carolina, for drunkeness shortly after his release from the Air Force in 1953. He further advised he had been a patient at Cherry Hospital, Goldsboro, North Carolina, for about 2 months during the past year. While at this hospital he underwent a number of psychiatric tests. He did not know the results of the tests.

[redacted] stated that he has had this serious drinking problem since his marriage in November 1967. He indicated he was forced to marry his wife as a result of her pregnancy prior to their wedding. He said, since his marriage he has been under constant pressure from his wife and in addition has serious financial problems.

[redacted] advised that because of his heavy drinking and the resulting "black-outs" he is not able to fix exactly his whereabouts on specific dates during the past year. However, he remembered the night of MARTIN LUTHER KING's death and said he was drunk at the time. He was registered at the Motel South, Orlando, Florida. With him at the time was a girl friend, whom he identified as [redacted] who operates the [redacted] Orlando, Florida. He said she is about 38 years of age. He recalled hearing of KING's death on the T.V, on the night it happened.

[redacted] said he did not remember where he was the night Senator KENNEDY was shot.

[redacted] could not account for his whereabouts on the night of June 5, 1968 and said he could not recall where he was at all during the month of June as he again was on a drunk.

to Los Angeles twice in recent months. The last was about August 4, 1968 when he flew via Delta Airlines. He stayed in Los Angeles four days and left driving a rented car after an unsuccessful effort in finding a job. On his way to Shreveport he stopped briefly at Phoenix, Albuquerque, and Hope, Arkansas. He claimed he pawned his 357 magnum revolver with a police officer in Hope, Arkansas, for $45 on August 23, 1968. The gun was purchased for his second job as a security guard with Associated Security Company, Orlando, Florida. He claims he has never used the gun in commission of a crime.

[redacted] believed the previous trip to Los Angeles was made in June 1968 when he flew via Delta Airlines from Orlando, Florida. He was looking for a job on the occasion also. He stayed only two days and remembers returning from California via an unrecalled airline and that he stopped at Las Vegas, Denver, New Orleans and Miami. He does not remember if he stayed in any of these cities for any length of time. After reaching Miami he rented a car and drove to Orlando.

[redacted] claims he had no employment other than his jobs in Orlando and that he financed his trips with the money earned from working these two jobs, along with using his credit cards.

[redacted] recalled after driving from Miami he did not go home, but to a motel with [redacted]. The following day he drove back to Miami and then returned to Orlando by bus. He thinks he rented the car at Miami from either Hertz or Avis-Rent-A-Car.

[redacted] stated he has not worked any where since August 4, 1968, and that he presently had in his possession $36.00 which was left over from the sale of his gun.

[redacted] claimed he pawned a .38 Colt "Cobra" in Los Angeles on the last trip at an unrecalled pawn shop and that he presently has no weapon.

[redacted] could not recall any other details concerning his first trip to Los Angeles, he said he was drinking heavy on these trips and could not remember anything much about them. He could not remember the names of motels where he stayed. He claimed he [illegible] friends in Los Angeles and that he made none while there on these trips.

[redacted] stated he is not now and never has been a member of any "hate" type organization such as the Ku Klux Klan.

PETITION FOR CONTEMPT

TO THE HONORABLE W. PRESTON BATTLE, JUDGE OF THE CRIMINAL COURT OF SHELBY COUNTY, TENNESSEE, DIVISION THREE:

Your petitioners, Amici Curiae, show unto the Court as follows:

That petitioners are the duly appointed and acting Amici Curiae, having been so appointed by order of this Court on July 29, 1968;

That heretofore the Court on July 18, 1968 entered an order on Courthouse and Courtroom Procedures and Publicity, and on July 23, 1968 said Court entered an amendment to said order.

Further, under date of July 30, 1968, said Court supplemented said orders by a further order of Court prohibiting and enjoining the perpetration of certain specific acts in connection with the above-styled causes.

That all three of said orders are part of the record in these causes and, among other things, contain the following language in the order of July 30, 1968:

> "All lawyers participating in this case, their assistants, associates, staff members, investigators and employees under their supervision and control, County Medical Examiner, Jury Commissioners, Criminal Court Clerk, County Sheriff, Police Officials and other law enforcement officers, employees of this Court and all other persons employed in the 'Criminal Courts Buildings', their associates, deputies, assistants, staff members and personnel under their supervision and control, are forbidden to take part in interviews or press conferences for publicity and are enjoined from making extra-judicial statements about this case which . . ."

Honorable [illegible] copy [illegible] of this petition.

Further, said order of July 30, 1968 contained the following paragraph:

> "All persons or entities subject to this Order who feel aggrieved by anything herein contained are hereby admonished that any such grievances or complaints should be judicially presented."

That there appeared in the Commercial Appeal, a newspaper of general circulation in Memphis, Shelby County, Tennessee, under date of Wednesday morning, October 16, 1968, an article under the heading: "Lecture By FBI Agent Angers Ray's Attorney", the one in which George Bonebrake, an FBI fingerprint specialist, is quoted. A copy of said item is attached hereto as "Exhibit A" and made a part of this petition.

That under date of Wednesday, October 16, 1968, there appeared in the Memphis Press Scimitar, a newspaper of general circulation in Memphis, Shelby County, Tennessee, an item entitled: "Hanes Denounces Court Group as 'Hypocrites'", in which said George Bonebrake is again quoted. A copy of said item is likewise attached hereto as "Exhibit B" and made a part of this petition.

That there appeared in the Commercial Appeal under date of Thursday, October 17, 1968, under the heading: "Hanes Resumes Verbal Onslaught", an item which again quoted the said George Bonebrake. A copy of said item is attached hereto as "Exhibit C" and made a part of this petition.

That your petitioners believe that the said George Bonebrake is a resident citizen of Washington, D. C., and is not amenable at this time to the processes of this Court, but that your petitioners respectfully recommend to the Court that should their prayer for the issuance of a Scire Facias for a show cause order as hereinafter set out be granted by this Honorable Court against the said George Bonebrake, that a copy of this petition be mailed to the Honorable Ramsey Clark, the Attorney General of the United States, Department of Justice, by whom your petitioners believe said George Bonebrake is employed, requesting the said George Bonebrake to submit himself voluntarily to the jurisdiction of this Court so that a fair and proper hearing may be held. That, in the event said voluntary submission is not forthcoming, your petitioners recommend that this Court issue said processes at such time that said George Bonebrake shall come into and be within the jurisdiction of this Court.

That your petitioners believe the respondent herein named, George Bonebrake, had actual knowledge of the aforesaid orders, decrees and injunctions issued by this Court.

Petitioners aver, therefore, that there is strong cause to believe that respondent, George Bonebrake, is in contempt of the orders and injunctions of this Court by reason of the aforesaid articles and acts as alleged and that he should be cited to appear and show cause, if any he has, why he should not be held in contempt of this Court.

WHEREFORE, PREMISES CONSIDERED, PETITIONERS PRAY:

1. That proper process issue demanding George Bonebrake to appear before this Honorable Court and show cause, if any he has, why he should not be adjudged in contempt of this Court and its orders and, upon the hearing of said cause, the Court enter such other orders as may be proper in the premises.

2. For such other and further relief as the Court may feel right and proper under the circumstances.

Battle Widens Net Of Contempt To Snare Fingerprint Expert

An FBI fingerprint expert in ashington will be asked to pear before Criminal Court dge W. Preston Battle to ow cause why he should not held in contempt of an or- restricting publicity in the se of James Earl Ray, harged with killing Dr. Mar- Luther King Jr. April 4.

A special bar committee ap- inted to advise the court on etrial publicity recommend- that FBI Agent George Bo- brake be required to show use why a lecture and inter- w at a police seminar in ichita, Kan., were not in con- mpt of the court's order.

The Wichita Beacon on Sept. quoted Mr. Bonebrake as ying "the latent fingerprints tained in Memphis, the ones en in London and the ones ken of Ray at the Missouri son were all the same . . . ere is no doubt in my mind at Ray at least handled the rder weapon." Mr. Boneb- ke spoke in Wichita Sept. 11.

The bar committee recom- endation, filed with the riminal Court clerk yester- y, asked that United States y. Gen. Ramsey Clark di- t Mr. Bonebrake to submit untarily to the jurisdiction the court.

If he doesn't, the committee commended that Judge Bat- e issue his "process at such me as the said George Bo- brake should come into this urt."

Mr. Bonebrake is scheduled testify in Ray's trial. The al will begin Nov. 12.

Mr. Bonebrake's comments ere read by the bar commit- e in the Oct. 16 issue of The ommercial Appeal. Arthur J. nes, chief counsel for Ray, eported the Bonebrake inter- iew to a staff member of The ommercial Appeal. The facts ere verified in phone calls to ichita.

Mr. Hanes charged the court with a publicity order "that protects the prosecution and only muzzles the defense" and cited the Bonebrake statement.

Judge Battle earlier held four persons, including Mr. Hanes, in contempt for stories concerning the case. Others held in contempt, were Roy Hamilton, a reporter for the Memphis Press-Scimitar, Charles Edmundson, a reporter for The Commercial Appeal, and Renfro Hays, an investigator for Mr. Hanes.

Judge Battle withheld sentence, saying those held in contempt might purge themselves by future satisfactory conduct.

Attorneys for The Commercial Appeal and the Memphis Press-Scimitar have announced they will appeal the reporters' convictions on the ground that pretrial publicity rules are unconstitutional as applied to the press in the Ray case.

Two-Month 'Missing Link' Reported In Ray Activity

CHICAGO, Oct. 23. — (AP) — James Earl Ray, charged with the murder of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., worked in a north suburban restaurant for two months in early 1967, the Chicago Tribune said Wednesday in a copyrighted article.

The articles, in Thursday morning editions, said that Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Klingeman, owners of the Indian Trail Restaurant in suburban Winnetka, hired Ray as a dishwasher shortly after his escape April 3, 1967, from the Missouri State Prison in Jefferson City.

They found their employe, who gave the name of John L. Rayns, so efficient that they raised his salary from $103 to $117.50 a week, Mrs. Klingeman told the Tribune.

However, she said that Ray seemed preoccupied, received several phone calls a week, and—the day before he quit—received a strange, unidentified visitor at the back door.

The Klingemans were unaware that John L. Rayns was really James Earl Ray until mid-August, when a writer, (William Bradford Huie) commissioned by Ray to write his life story, contacted them.

They then informed the FBI.

Recalling Ray's record as her employe, Mrs. Klingeman said: "I'm sure there's good in him. I've hired at least 1,000 employes over the last 35 years and thought myself a good judge of people."

The day after the mysterious visitor appeared at the back door, Ray failed to come to work. One day later, the Klingemans got a letter from "Rayns," postmarked Quincy, Ill., asking that they forward his back pay to a Winnetka post office box.

He said that he was taking a job on a ship.

Later, the FBI located Ray's brother, Jerome, 32, working as a groundskeeper at a country club near the restaurant.

ENCLOSURE

Mrs. Klingeman said she later learned that the Social Security number "Rayns" gave on his application for a job was that of James Earl Ray.

She said that she was told by FBI agents in an interview Aug. 24 that her information "had supplied the missing link" in the government's study of Ray's whereabouts from the time of the jailbreak until he was seized in London for the King assassination.

Mrs. Klingeman said that the FBI had shown her photographs of Ray that she and her husband identified as "Rayns."

On October 24, 1968, W. Preston Battle, Judge of the Criminal Court, Shelby County, Tennessee, signed a petition requiring that George Bonebrake, a latent fingerprint examiner of this Bureau, appear before the Court December 4, 1968, to show cause why he should not be held in contempt of the Court. In accordance with your telephonic request of October 24, 1968, pertinent facts concerning this matter are set out below.

Mr. Bonebrake conducted an advanced latent fingerprint police school during the five-day period September 9 through 13, 1968, at Wichita, Kansas. This school was sponsored by the Wichita Police Department and seventeen officers from the Wichita Police Department and eight departments in the immediate area attended. This was a closed school for law enforcement officers and representatives of the press and public were not permitted. Mr. Bonebrake has advised that on one occasion during the class, at the invitation of the sponsored police department, members of the press were briefly invited during a recess period to take photographs and to collect data for a local press story on this school. One member of the class who seemed friendly with the reporter mentioned that Mr. Bonebrake had been the fingerprint expert who had given testimony in Memphis. The reporter commented to Mr. Bonebrake that he thought he recognized Bonebrake's name. No further questions were asked and no other information was volunteered by Mr. Bonebrake.

Mr. Bonebrake states unequivocally that at no time has he discussed his fingerprint testimony with press representatives or unnecessarily aired fingerprint testimony of this case. On one occasion during the latent fingerprint school in Wichita, Kansas, members of the class, in a closed session, attempted to query Mr. Bonebrake as to details of the fingerprint testimony. Mr. Bonebrake states that he gave no facts other than what had already been quoted by the press concerning his London, England, testimony. No member of the press was present at this time.

Mr. Donebrake presented expert testimony on June 27, 1968, in London, England, in connection with the extradition of James Earl Ray. He testified that three latent fingerprints developed in this case, the fingerprints of James Earl Ray taken by the Los Angeles Police Department, fingerprints of James Earl Ray taken by the Missouri State Penitentiary, and fingerprints of the subject of the extradition hearing taken by Scotland Yard, were fingerprints of one and the same individual. Such testimony thus became public source information and has since been quoted extensively in news media throughout the world.

SYNOPSIS:

This is the case involving the murder of Martin Luther King, Jr.

Information received from Memphis that Judge W. Preston Battle, Criminal Court, Memphis, Tennessee, had cited or planned to cite an FBI employee who commented on the Martin Luther King assassination case. [redacted] former FBI Agent, is one of seven attorneys acting on behalf of Judge Battle in preparing petitions to determine if the Judge's court order has been violated. [redacted] advised that committee presenting Judge Battle with petition which states that George Bonebrake, a Latent Fingerprint Examiner, may be in violation of Judge's court order on basis of an article appearing in newspaper concerning police school conducted in Wichita, Kansas. Mr. Phil M. Canale, Jr., State Attorney General, Shelby County, Memphis, Tennessee, is aware of this matter and is of opinion this will not affect his handling of the prosecution. Bureau took administrative action previously on this matter.

ACTION:

RE: [redacted]

DETAILS:

This is the case involving the murder of Martin Luther King, Jr.

U. S. Attorney Thomas L. Robinson, Memphis, contacted our Memphis Office and advised a Mr. Brown from the Department of Justice contacted him and informed him he received information from a newspaper source in Washington, D. C. that Judge J. Preston Battle, Criminal Court, Memphis, Tennessee, had cited or planned to cite an FBI employee who commented on the Martin Luther King assassination case. Mr. Brown indicated to Robinson that some thing may be sent to the Attorney General regarding this matter

SAC, Memphis, referred Robinson to [redacted], former FBI Agent, who is one of seven attorneys who are acting on behalf of Judge Battle in preparing various petitions to determine if Judge Battle's court order regarding restrictions of publicity and comments about this case have been violated.

[redacted] informed us that his committee met to determine, among other things, if the comments by Int. Fingerprint Examiner, George Bonebrake, at a police school in Wichita, Kansas, were in violation of the Judge's court order. It is to be noted that a recent article appeared in a Memphis newspaper citing a story printed by the Wichita, Kansas, "Eagle" newspaper covering a police school that Bonebrake conducted in Wichita in early September, 1968. During this class, members attempted to query Bonebrake as to details of his fingerprint testimony and Bonebrake gave no facts other than that which had already been covered in the press concerning his London testimony. Members of the press were present at this police class. The committee is presenting Judge Battle with a petition concerning their findings relative to the comments of Bonebrake, which states that Bonebrake may be in violation of the Judge's court order and the petition points out the court does not have jurisdiction in Washington, D. C., which is given as alleged residence of Bonebrake.

[redacted] advised that although the petition is prepared it may never be filed, and to him there does not appear to be any problem in that statements attributed to Bonebrake appear to be those to which he already testified publicly in London.

This matter has been brought to the attention of the Bureau previously and administrative action was taken against Bonebrake. Mr. Will M. Canale, Jr., State Attorney General, Shelby County, Memphis, Tennessee, advised he is aware of this entire matter, is not concerned in the least and is of the opinion this will not affect his handling of the prosecution.

Mr. Phil M. Canale, Jr., State Attorney General, Shelby County, Memphis, Tennessee, who is handling the State's prosecution of James Earl Ray, has contacted our Memphis Office and requested that all physical evidence pertaining to the James Earl Ray case now in possession of the Bureau be forwarded to his office.

On September 16, 1968, Mr. D. Robert Owen [redacted] of your Division authorized turning over to Memphis authorities the 1966 Mustang automobile, and Memphis authorities took possession of this car on September 24, 1968. This discussion with Mr. Owen was confirmed by letter dated September 19, 1968.

Mr. Owen [redacted] on October 24, 1968, advised Special Agent [redacted] had discussed with Mr. Canale the turning over of all evidence to him and as a result thereof, we should comply with the current request of Mr. Canale. We are, therefore, turning over to Mr. Canale all evidence in this case presently in the Bureau's possession. In accordance with [redacted] request, an Agent of our Memphis Office will obtain the remaining evidence from our Laboratory and turn it over to Mr. Canale as this will minimize the testimony required for the chain of evidence.

Attached is a list of the evidence being turned over to Mr. Canale.

Submitted herewith for the Bureau's information are two Xerox copies of list of regular jury panel for 10/28/68. Executive Assistant Attorney General ROBERT DWYER (NA) advised that the jury chosen to sit in the JAMES EARL RAY case will be selected from this list of names. He requested that if possible the Bureau search its files to ascertain whether or not there is any information concerning any of these people which would aggravate their use as jurors. Executive Assistant Attorney General DWYER indicated that he was very much interested in any affiliations that might be indicated showing Klan type association or other hate group affiliations.

Mr. DWYER was informed that his request would be forwarded to the Bureau for an answer.

The "Commercial Appeal," a Memphis, Tennessee, morning newspaper, on Friday, October 25, on Page 1, carries an article captioned "FBI Tries to Tag Voices in Ray Case." This article written by ART PETACQUE under dateline of Chicago, October 24. Two Xerox copies attached for assistance and guidance of Chicago Office, and two copies are being furnished for the Bureau's information.

Of particular interest in this article is a statement attributed to HARVEY KLINGEMAN, who operated the Indian Trail Restaurant in Winnetka, Illinois. JAMES EARL RAY did work at this restaurant for the period May 3 through June 24, 1967.

KLINGEMAN reportedly said that the United States Justice Department is using tape recordings of voices of JAMES EARL RAY's acquaintances to determine whether they contacted RAY by telephone or other means while he worked at a Winnetka, Illinois, restaurant. KLINGEMAN also reportedly says FBI Agents did not disclose the identity of the voices on the tapes. KLINGEMAN speculated that the voices were those of relatives or others who might be involved with JAMES EARL RAY at some time prior to the murder of MARTIN LUTHER KING at Memphis on April 4. The Memphis Division, which is origin in instant case, has no knowledge of any tapes of this type being used or any tapes of this type being available in instant case. It appears to the Memphis Division that this may be a complete fabrication on the part of either KLINGEMAN or the reporter involved.

Referring to New York's school integration troubles further, Wallace said that if he were elected, "Not one penny of federal money would be used to bus anybody you don't want bused."

LeMay preceded Wallace to the stand and called for a "drastic change" if the United States is to win the war in Vietnam and end crime in the streets."

He said both Republican candidate Richard M. Nixon and Democratic candidate Hubert H. Humphrey "offer the same coddling of criminals and anarchists and the same no-win policy" in Vietnam.

Wallace flew here from Durham, N.C., where he charged Nixon is creating a "credibility gap" with his statements about debating other presidential candidates.

Or Wednesday Wallace waived his equal time rights to clear the way for a Nixon-...

It was a dream come true," the President said.

Mrs. Johnson, who was with her husband when he made the announcement, said she did not know what the baby would be named.

Johnson said he had spent very anxious moments while awaiting the birth.

Lynda, 24, arrived at the hospital at 7:30 p.m. (Memphis time) Thursday after her physician, Capt. Walter M. Ionergan, chief of obstetrics and gynecology at Bethesda, examined her at the White House and determined she was in labor.

Lynda's husband, Marine Capt. Charles S. Robb, stationed at Da Nang, South Vietnam, was told of the birth by telegram. He had been informed earlier that Lynda was in labor.

Johnson happily munched on chocolates as he chatted with reporters about his new granddaughter.

... treating most of the charity patients who normally go to Gaston — ... estimated total cost to ... state hospitals of about $10,000 a day. Most faculty and interns and residents from UT, who work at Gaston, have also been shifted to other facilities.

"Recruitment still worries us," said Dr. Callison. "But with this (hospital's closing) we think we can restore the teaching program almost to where it was."

"This (hospitals closing) certainly doesn't mean the employment program was a failure," said Mr. Horton, who ordered a crash program to hire 300 nurses and skilled workers last week. "It means we can concentrate our medical services in one unit."

He declined to say how many of the 300 persons had been hired.

Mr. Horton also said the safety of nonstriking hospital employes was a consideration in the closing. Picketing this week by striking members of the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employes (AFL-CIO) has been marked by arrests during picket line strife.

J. B. Trotter, international field representative for the union yesterday called the hospital closing order an attempt to evade the strike issue. "They (city officials) are trying to isolate a condition rather than the cause of the strike."

To be shifted are about 85 employes from Crump and 130 from Erwin. Dr. Callison said they would be transferred as units, rather than be integrated individually into Gaston's operation to make the moves more palatable to nurses and patients who want to remain together in the new quarters.

Tenth has about 40 patients and Crump about 70, said Dr. Callison, and as many of these as possible will be discharged.

About 50 Negroes gathered at Methodist Hospital's parking lot yesterday afternoon and passed out handbills. "We're not advocating a strike," said C. B. Smith, AFSCME organizer. "All we're showing is what we're asking for—more money, better working conditions and recognition of the union (by Methodist Hospital)."

... Voices In Ray Case

By ART PETACQUE
The Commercial Appeal Chicago News Bureau

CHICAGO, Oct. 24. — The United States Justice Department is using tape recordings of voices of James Earl Ray's acquaintances to determine whether they contacted him by telephone or other means while he worked at a Winnetka, Ill., restaurant or elsewhere, it was learned Thursday.

The disclosure came from Harvey Klingeman, who for 23 years has operated Indian Trail Restaurant in Winnetka, Chicago suburb. Ray, accused of murdering the Rev. Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr., worked at the restaurant in 1967.

Klingeman's wife was asked about phone calls made to the restaurant for Ray during the May 1—June 30, 1967, period when he worked as a dishwasher and kitchen helper, Klingeman said.

Mrs. Klingeman also was asked about persons who went to the back door of the restaurant, while Ray was working, and waited to talk to him outside, the restaurateur said.

Klingeman said that because of the time that had elapsed his wife wasn't able to be of much help to the Federal Bureau of Investigation agents who interrogated her.

At the time Ray worked at the restaurant, he was a fugitive from justice because of his escape from the Missouri State Prison.

He was living in Chicago and commuting most of the way to Winnetka by the Chicago Transit Authority elevated system, Klingeman said.

Klingeman said FBI agents did not disclose the identity of the voices on the tapes. He speculated, however, that they were those of relatives or others who might have been involved with Ray at some time prior to the murder of Dr. King in Memphis April 4.

Klingeman said visitors interrupted Ray at work on at least two occasions that he could recall. He did not see the callers, Klingeman reported, adding that none of the current employes did either.

The whereabouts of Ray during this time in his life came to light when William Bradford Huie, an author Ray hired to write his life story, went to the restaurant in August to interrogate the Klingemans about the employe they knew as John L. Ray.

After that visit, the Klingemans went to the Winnetka police and told them of the writer's visit.

One of the reasons given by Huie in pursuing the restaurant period in Ray's life was his desire to knock down stories that linked him with prostitutes and cast a bad light on his habits.

You should advise Mr. Phil M. Canale, Jr., State Attorney General, Shelby County, Memphis, Tennessee, that he should contact the commanding officer at Seward Air Force Base, Memphis, Tennessee, concerning Captain DeShazo's appearance at the state trial in Memphis on November 12, 1968.

NOTE: Memphis by communication advised that Mr. Phil M. Canale, Jr., handling the state's prosecution in this case stated that Captain John W. DeShazo appears to have potential for being an excellent witness in this case. In connection with this, Canale has learned that DeShazo is currently a dentist on active duty with the Air Force in Tokyo, Japan. Mr. Canale desired that the Bureau make arrangements to have DeShazo available for testimony in connection with the trial. DeShazo was at the Aeromarine Supply Company, Birmingham, on March 29, 1968, and he can testify that photograph of Eric Starvo Galt (bartender photo) is photograph of man who purchased the Remington Model 700 (1st gun).

It is felt that we should advise Mr. Canale that arrangements can best be made through the commanding officer at Seward Air Force Base in Memphis, Tennessee, which is the closest Air Force Base to them. If we honor this type of request of Mr. Canale, we may be handling similar requests for numerous witnesses which would consume quite a lot of Agents time. SA [redacted] of Liaison suggested that this situation be handled in this manner, as this has been the procedure followed in the past.

District Attorney General PHIL M. CANALE, JR. advised that review of the material in instant case discloses that one Captain JOHN W. DeSHAZIO appears to have potential for being an excellent witness in connection with this case. CANALE advised that he learned that DeSHAZIO is currently a dentist on active duty with the Air Force. CANALE said the address he has for DeSHAZIO is Box 7500, APO 96323, San Francisco. It is CANALE's understanding that DeSHAZIO is attached to a hospital in the town Tachikowa near Tokyo in Japan.

Mr. CANALE was of opinion that Captain DeSHAZIO would be an excellent witness and wondered if the Bureau could, through liaison arrangements with the Air Force, have DeSHAZIO available for testimony in connection with trial in instant case. CANALE was of opinion that if Captain DeSHAZIO could be brought back to the United States on or about November 12, 1968, he would make every effort to utilize his testimony promptly and permit his return to active duty.

Memphis, Tennessee

Dear Mr. Dwyer:

In accordance with your request, this is to advise you as to the exact procedure which would be necessary to obtain proper permission for Sr. [redacted] Inspector of the Policia [redacted] Portugal, and Mrs. [redacted] a Portuguese employee of the [redacted] Embassy, [redacted] to appear as witnesses during the trial to take place in Memphis, Tennessee.

Insofar as Inspector [redacted] is concerned, it would be necessary for you to address a communication to The Honorable W. Tapley Bennett, Ambassador of the United States, Embassy of the United States, Lisbon, Portugal, requesting that the Embassy direct a request to the Portuguese Foreign Office that [redacted] be permitted to visit the United States to testify in the trial of James Earl Ray, who is accused of the assassination of Martin Luther King. It would be advisable for you to stipulate the financial arrangements in the communication. At the same time, it is suggested that you advise our Memphis Office so that I can be advised expeditiously through Bureau channels in order that I can inform [redacted] personally at the same time that you are advising the Embassy in Lisbon.

Insofar as [redacted] is concerned, it would be necessary, according to the Canadian Embassy in Lisbon, for you to direct a communication to the U. S. Department of Justice requesting that an invitation be issued to Mrs. [redacted] through the U. S. Department of State to the Canadian Foreign Office.

JAMES EARL RAY, ALSO KNOWN AS
VICTIM
CIVIL RIGHTS

Mr. Harvey Klingman, owner, Indian Trail Restaurant, Winnetka, Illinois, advised on October 30, 1968, that on the date he was interviewed by reporter Art Petacque he, Klingman, made no statement whatsoever to the effect that the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI) had utilized tape recordings of voices of friends of James Earl Ray. He said that he also was interviewed by numerous television and newspaper commentators and reporters and on each and every occasion he made no mention whatsoever of tape recordings. He said that the comments regarding the tape recordings set forth in Mr. Petacque's articles were a complete figment of Petacque's imagination. Mr. Klingman did state that he told the various members of the news media that the FBI had asked his wife if she could possibly identify or recognize again the voice of the individual who made the telephone calls to Ray and that she had replied negatively.

Mr. Klingman advised that he and his wife have reviewed the article which is to appear in Look Magazine and that the only portion of it that they read was the information they furnished to Mr. Huie and that it was exactly the same as what they had previously told both Huie and the FBI.

Mr. Klingman reiterated his desire to cooperate with the FBI in this matter and again stated that neither he nor his wife made any statement which could be construed to indicate that the FBI was using tape recordings of the voices of James Earl Ray's acquaintances.

This document contains neither recommendations nor conclusions of the FBI. It is the property of the FBI and is loaned to your agency; it and its contents are not to be distributed outside your agency.

George Bonebrake, LATENT Fingerprint Examiner

This is the case involving the murder of Martin Luther King, Jr. Previous information received from Memphis indicated that committee of seven attorneys advising Judge W. Preston Battle, Criminal Court, Memphis, Tennessee, was presenting to the Judge a petition stating that [redacted] may be in violation of the Judge's court order restricting comment in this case. Their recommendation based on article appearing in Wichita, Kansas, "Beacon" newspaper concerning a police school conducted by [redacted] in September, 1968. [redacted] presented expert fingerprint testimony on June 27, 1968, in London, England, in connection with extradition of James Earl Ray. His testimony received widespread publicity in news media throughout the world. [redacted] has emphatically denied discussing his fingerprint testimony with press representatives at any time or unnecessarily airing fingerprint testimony of this case before a police school in Wichita, Kansas. On one occasion representatives of this police school, in a closed session, attempted to query him as to details of the fingerprint testimony. [redacted] reports he gave no facts other than what had already been quoted by the press concerning his London testimony. Administrative action has previously been taken against Bonebrake for discussing the case at the closed police school.

Judge Battle signed petition 10-24-68 which requires that [redacted] appear before the Court on 12-6-68 to show cause why he should not be adjudged in contempt. The Judge noted he was setting the date of 12-6-68 which would be after the trial of James Earl Ray, subject of the case, since to do otherwise would result in unnecessary publicity, defeating purpose of his original order. The committee of attorneys in presenting the petition to the Judge recognized that the Court does not have jurisdiction. The committee of attorneys has no sound grounds to substantiate their recommendation and undoubtedly took this action against our employee as a face-saving gesture. The committee has been severely criticized by Ray's Defense Attorney Arthur Hanes, Sr., and a Memphis "Commercial Appeal" newspaper reporter Charles Edmundson, who are both currently under contempt citation by Judge Battle in this case as result of recommendation by the committee of attorneys. The committee is reportedly extremely liberal and, in fact, one member, Lucius E. Burch, Jr., according to SAC, Memphis, has served as an attorney for the American Civil Liberties Union.

The Court has not officially notified the Bureau of the petition but reportedly has mailed a copy to the Attorney General. The Department has requested a letter from the Bureau setting out information concerning the nature of the police school conducted by [redacted] at Wichita, Kansas, in September, 1968, and what transpired at this meeting. The Department indicated they intend to present this to the Court in Memphis. Attached is proposed letter. Copy of letter being sent to SAC, Memphis, for his information and so that he may properly advise the State's Attorney General, Shelby County, Memphis, Tennessee, prosecutor in this case. State's Attorney General is fully aware of this entire situation and is of the opinion that this will have no adverse effect on his handling of the prosecution.

It is further noted that Bureau teletype to all SAC's, dated 4/19/68, captioned MURKIN, reveals RAY had been received at the Missouri State Penitentiary at Jefferson City, Missouri, on 3/17/60.

If Atlanta does not know the identity of the Klansman shown in the photo, it may be desirable to contact the "Atlanta Journal" to determine the date the photo was made.

Atlanta is requested to advise Cincinnati only should the Klansman in the photo be identified as RAY.

Both Ku Klux Klansmen and Negro students have marched in downtown Atlanta in recent months. Students picketed stores with segregated lunch counters; Klansmen picketed the students. During the pre-Christmas rush, the two groups met face to face, with no incidents. Said Mayor William B. Hartsfield, "Atlanta is the only city in the country where Negroes and the Klan can picket on the same street—to music by the Salvation Army."

Doctor Reports Surgery On Patient Named Galt

HOLLYWOOD, Calif., Oct. 29. — (AP) — A man who identified himself as Eric Galt underwent plastic surgery in Hollywood "sometime before the assassination" of Martin Luther King Jr., an attorney for the physician said Tuesday.

The lawyer for Dr. Russell C. Hadley said the plastic surgery was minor, of the type which would not materially change the man's appearance. He declined to give any details. Hadley referred all questions to the lawyer, Bennet Olan.

Although James Earl Ray, held in Shelby County Jail at Memphis on a charge of killing Dr. King, used the name Eric Starvo Galt while attending a bartending school in Los Angeles, it was not determined that he underwent plastic surgery.

The FBI reported that a man named Galt was graduated from the bartending school last March.

Olan said it was done "three or four weeks, I think" before the Negro civil rights leader was shot to death last April 4 in Memphis. He said Galt apparently asked the Los Angeles County Medical Association for the name of a qualified plastic surgeon in the Hollywood area because he told Dr. Hadley that the association had referred him.

"As soon as we discovered who the patient had been, the case was reported to the FBI," said Olan.

He said author William Bradford Huie had looked over Hadley's records after obtaining authorization from Galt. Without such authorization, he said, no one will be allowed to see the records.

The attorney said he doesn't think Hadley, a medical doctor, has been subpenaed as a witness.

Ray Attorneys Center On What Driver Saw

By JOHN MEANS

The chauffeur of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. could be an important witness in the defense of James Earl Ray, accused in the slaying of the civil rights leader.

Questioning of prospective witnesses and subpenas of witnesses by Ray's attorneys indicate they are placing emphasis on the statements made the night of the assassination, April 4, by Solomon Jones, who was standing by Dr. King's car below the balcony of the Lorraine Motel.

Mr. Jones told reporters that he heard the shot, saw Dr. King fall, and: "I turned around and I saw a man with something white on his face jump out of the thicket across the street. He ran toward Main. We all scattered."

A reporter who talked to Mr. Jones moments after the shooting, Gregory Jaynes of The Commercial Appeal, already has been subpenaed to testify at the trial, scheduled to begin here two weeks from yesterday. Another reporter for The Commercial Appeal, Thomas Fox, has been told by Arthur Hanes Jr., one of Ray's attorneys, that he will receive a subpena.

Subpena records from Criminal Court Judge Preston Battle's court also showed that only three witnesses have been served with subpenas which have been returned but several others are still in the hands of the court's deputies. Subpenas have been served on Lt. R. W. Bradshaw of the Memphis Police Department, Bertie L. Reeves, night clerk of the rooming house from which police say the shot was fired that killed Dr. King, and James McCraw, a taxi driver.

Mr. McCraw could not be reached for comment last night, but it was learned he was a frequent customer at Jim's Grill at 418 South Main, two doors from the rooming house, and may have been there when a white Mustang parked in front of the restaurant was driven away moments after the shooting.

Mr. Hanes Jr. was in Memphis all day yesterday, talking to prospective witnesses. Neither he nor his father, Arthur Hanes, who is Ray's chief counsel, would comment yesterday on the information they obtained in their interviews.

Meanwhile, Judge Battle had nothing to say yesterday about a story by William Bradford Huie in the current issue of Look magazine, which quotes Ray as saying he was offered $12,000 by a man named Raoul in Montreal last year, for a "joint activity" in Birmingham.

Ray Article May Bring Court Action

Possible contempt action against Alabama author William Bradford Huie was reported to be under consideration today following publication of a Look magazine article hinting of a conspiracy in the murder of Dr. Martin Luther King.

Members of Criminal Court Judge W. Preston Battle's legal advisory committee were planning to meet and discuss the story, it was learned by The Press Scimitar.

Meanwhile, in another legal move designed to assure a fair trial for James Earl Ray, accused of killing King, Judge Battle yesterday issued a new court order barring witnesses under subpoena from reading or listening to news accounts of the Ray case from the time the taking of testimony begins in the trial until they have completed their testimony or are excused by the court.

EXCEPTION

Judge Battle added, however, that the order does not apply to Ray personally.

The magazine article brought no comment from Judge Battle. However sources described him as "very upset." It was understood that Judge Battle had given Huie permission to obtain information in writing from Ray through his attorneys on condition that nothing be published in advance of the trial, scheduled to start Nov. 12.

The Look article also brought "no comments" from state and defense attorneys.

RETURN FROM TRIP

Robert K. Dwyer, executive assistant attorney general, declined to comment with a laugh. "I guess you can quote me as laughing," he added. "I don't know whether the court order forbids that or not."

Dwyer and another prosecutor in the Ray case, James Beasley, have just returned to Memphis from a week-long trip to Canada and Europe, it was learned. The two state attorneys apparently were retracing Ray's alleged escape route and interviewing witnesses. They reportedly visited Montreal, London, Lisbon and Paris.

It is expected that the state will summon a number of witnesses from out of the country to testify at the trial.

Huie has stated that he is Ray's official biographer by contract and that Arthur J. Hanes, Ray's attorney, has been cooperating by relaying the questions and Ray's answers between the writer and the defendant.

WRITTEN ANSWERS

The Look article is based on written answers to questions submitted by Huie to Ray in his Shelby County jail cell, according to the writer. Huie said he was not allowed to interview Ray personally.

The article says Ray told Huie that he met a mysterious contact man named "Raoul" in Montreal, Canada, in August 1967 while he was being sought by U.S. police for his escape from the Missouri State Penitentiary in April.

Ray went to Canada in hopes of getting a Canadian passport that would allow him to leave for a Latin American country, Huie wrote. In Montreal Ray assumed the alias of Eric S. Galt, and took up residence on the waterfront, a district notorious for international crime.

In bars and cafes and among merchant seamen Ray "sort of let the word get around that he had had a little trouble down in the States, that he was looking for ID (identification) and capital, and just might be available for activities that didn't involve too much risk, the article said.

"This resulted in a contact. A man whom Ray calls Raoul and describes to me as being a blond Latin about 35, and whom Ray took to be a seaman, showed interest in him," the article said.

"They began cautious verbal exploration. With Raoul hinting that if Ray was willing to assist certain projects, Raoul might be able to provide Ray ID and capital."

Huie quoted Ray as saying that on subsequent meetings with Raoul in a waterfront bar called the Neptune Tavern, Raoul offered him $12,000 to perform a mysterious mission, and he was asked to make several trips across the border carrying packages in his car. Afterward, he was to sell the car and go by train or bus to Birmingham. "There, Ray would lie low, take no risks, pull no holdups, accumulate little ID and wait for instructions by general delivery mail," the article continues.

Raoul would help him with living expenses and buy him a car in Birmingham, and then "after a few weeks or months, after a little joint activity, Raoul would pay Ray $12,000 and give him a passport and other ID and help him go anywhere in the world."

Ray was quoted as saying the proposition was made to him on condition that he ask no questions. "Ray told me: 'Every time I tried to ask Raoul a question, he told me straight to remember that he wasn't paying me to ask questions,' " the writer said.

STICKUP

The article also describes a stickup Ray says he pulled at a house of ill repute to get "capital." It also tells of a romance between Ray and an unnamed woman said to work for the Canadian government. Huie said he interviewed the woman in Montreal and found her to be "a cultivated, sensitive, efficient, tastefully dressed and coiffeured mature woman."

Of Ray himself, Huie says that "those who have called him stupid are mistaken. He doesn't look like a criminal but he thinks like one."

He said Ray expresses himself well, has a good memory and Ray draws accurate diagrams showing the location of motels, bars, rooming houses and other places he visited or saw while on the run.

Huie includes several samples of Ray's writing.

As in most installment articles, this one leaves questions hanging. Look said Huie's article is the first in a series dealing with Ray and the assassination of Dr. King.

6 More Join Trial Lineup

Reporter, Attorneys Added To Witnesses List For Ray Case

Subpena papers were returned on six more witnesses in the James Earl Ray case yesterday, including two attorneys and a newspaper reporter.

The new witnesses are Harvey Gipson and William E. Friedman, attorneys for a material witness in the Ray case, Charles Q. Stephens; William B. King and Charles E. Stone, city firemen who manned the ambulance that took Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. to St. Joseph Hospital the night he was slain; Guy Canipe Jr., owner of an amusement company at 424 South Main where a high-powered rifle was found moments after the shooting, and Gregory Jaynes, a reporter for The Commercial Appeal.

Mr. Stephens, who was in a rooming house at 422½ South Main and is supposed to have seen a man in the hallway at the time of the shooting, is a material witness under police guard.

Another witness, the Rev. James Bevel, a top leader in the Southern Christian Leadership Conference, could not be located at his old Chicago address last night, the Cook County Sheriff's Office in Chicago reported.

Other witnesses subpenaed thus far are Bertie L. Reeves, owner of the rooming house from which police think the shot was fired; James N. McCraw, a taxi driver believed to be one of several customers at a nearby restaurant at the time, and Lt. R. W. Bradshaw, Memphis police officer who relayed a radio broadcast about a high-speed chase through the city shortly after the shooting.

The subpena of the Rev. Mr. Bevel, who was on the balcony of the Lorraine Motel with Dr. King when the bullet killed the nation's best-known civil rights leader, lent further strength to the expectation that Ray's attorneys plan to cast doubt on where the shot came from.

Mr. Jaynes interviewed Solomon Jones, Dr. King's chauffeur, shortly after the shooting. Mr. Jones told the reporter he saw someone "with something white on his face" step from behind a nearby bush after he heard the shot.

Arthur Hanes, Ray's chief counsel, would not say whether he has asked that Mr. Jones be subpenaed.

Meanwhile, the committee of seven attorneys which is counseling Criminal Court Judge Preston Battle on pretrial publicity and procedure, met yesterday. The meeting was confirmed by Leo Bearman Jr., one of the members, who also confirmed that he had read an article in Look magazine by author William Bradford Huie, who purchased the rights of Ray's story.

Mr. Bearman would not say what was discussed, but the meeting took place the day after the Look magazine issue went on sale.

Ray, King Families Silent About Trial

Thus far neither the family of James Earl Ray nor that of the late Dr. Martin Luther King has expressed an interest in attending Ray's trial, it was disclosed today.

"We have received no requests from either the family of the defendant or the deceased for seats in the courtroom," said Charles Holmes, who is handling press relations for the trial.

The trial is slated to begin in Judge W. Preston Battle's Criminal Court Nov. 12.

Half of the 76 spectator seats in the courtroom have been set aside for the general public and half for representatives of the press.

Holmes said 103 press personnel from 38 different agencies have been approved for the press section. No seats will be reserved for the public, but it is customary at trials to give preference to the families if they desire to attend.

Facilities for the press will be set up in the assembly room on the first floor of the Shelby County office building. This space is now used for overflow desk work by the Election Commission. The election Commission is scheduled to start moving into the new Shelby County Building directly across Second the day after the Nov. 5 election.

Ray, charged with first degree murder in the slaying of Dr. King, has two brothers, a sister and a mother who would be eligible for seats in the courtroom.

His mother, so far as it can be determined, hasn't been heard from in several

Dr. King's immediate survivors include his widow and four children. His parents live in Atlanta, where his father is a minister.

Holmes also reported that nine subpoenas have been served on witnesses within the past two days, but he was unable to say whether they were served at the request of the state or the defense. They are:

Bertie L. Reeves, night clerk at the rooming house at 422½ S. Main from which the civil rights leader was shot.

Lt. R. W. Bradshaw of the Police Department, who relayed to headquarters a mysterious Civilian Band radio broadcast describing a shooting chase — now thought to be hoaxs — involving a white Mustang and blue Pontiac.

James N. McGraw, a Veteran's Cab driver, believed to be one of several customers inside Jim's Grill at 418 S. Main who said they saw a white Mustang parked in front the day of the slaying.

William B. King and Charles E. Stone of the Memphis Fire Department.

Guy Canipe Jr., owner of Canipe Amusement Co., 424 S. Main, who found a high powered rifle, which the state is expected to contend is the death weapon, in the doorway of his business moments after the shooting.

Gregory Jaynes, a reporter for the Commercial Appeal.

Harvey Gibson and William E. Friedman, attorneys who represent Charles Stephens, who told police he saw the killer in the hallway at the rooming house.

Ray May Have Had Plastic Surgery

HOLLYWOOD, Calif. — (AP) — An attorney says a man who gave his name as Eric Galt underwent minor plastic surgery before the assassination last April of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.

The lawyer, Bennet Olan, declined Tuesday to give details of the surgery performed by Dr. Russel C. Hadley except to say it was of the type which would not greatly change his appearance.

The Federal Bureau of Investigation has reported Eric Galt was an alias used by James Earl Ray, now facing trial in Memphis on a charge of murdering King.

OPERATION

Olan said he thought the operation was performed three or four weeks before the assassination on April 4. "It may have been on the 4th or the 11th of March. I forget which," he said.

The surgeon referred all questions to Olan. The lawyer said it's believed Galt sought out Dr. Hadley through the Los Angeles County Medical Association. At any rate, Olan said, Galt told the doctor the association had recommended him.

Olan said the case didn't stand out in Hadley's mind, but he added: "As soon as we discovered who the patient had been, the case was reported to the FBI."

NO SUBPOENA

The attorney said that as far as he knew, Hadley has not been subpoenaed to testify in the Ray trial.

"I don't believe," he said, "that what he did was relative to the case."

He said only one person, author William Bradford Huie, has been authorized to see the records of the treatment, and no one else would be allowed to examine them without authorization. Huie was engaged by Ray to write his story.

Dear Mr. Shapiro:

The trial of the State of Tennessee vs. James Earl Ray, who is accused of slaying Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr., is set for November 12, 1968. One of the material witnesses for the State of Tennessee in this trial will be [redacted] Portugal. MRS. MANUELA TEIXEIRA LOPES, C/O CANADIAN EMBASSY EN LISBON

It is respectfully requested that your office request that an invitation be extended to MRS. LOPES [redacted] through the United States Department of State to the Canadian Foreign Office, to attend as a witness for the State of Tennessee, the trial of the State vs. James Earl Ray.

If permission is granted to allow MRS. LOPES [redacted] to visit the United States, the State of Tennessee will pay her expenses as follows:

Payment for transportation from LISBON [redacted] Portugal to the Point of Entry into the United States; then ten cents (10¢) a mile from the Point of Entry into the United States to Memphis, Tennessee; plus five dollars ($5.00) a day every day she is in attendance as a witness; the State of Tennessee will pay the witness ten cents (10¢) a mile from Memphis to the Point of Exit from the United States and then her transportation from the Point of Exit of the United States to [redacted] Portugal. LISBON

I wish further to inform you that the said witness' lodging and meals during her stay here in Memphis, Tennessee will be paid for by the State of Tennessee.

When this office is notified to the effect that permission is granted and the witness is available to come to Memphis, Tennessee, I will arrange to have the funds forwarded to her to purchase a round trip ticket, tourist class, plus an incidental expense fund, in order to enable the witness to make said airline trip. This amount advanced will then be deducted from the total amount due the witness upon her being paid her additional witness' fees here in Memphis.

In view of our trial date being November 12, 1968, it is important for us to be notified as soon as possible whether the permission for this witness to enter the United States will be granted.

Although the trial date is set for November 12th, it is not expected that MRS. LOPES will be needed on that date, as it will probably take us some time to select a jury, and we will have other witnesses to offer in evidence prior to the need for the presence of [redacted] I estimate that it will be the early part of December before the presence of [redacted] is needed, and when you notify us that permission has been granted for her attendance, we will give her one week's advance notice in order that she might complete arrangements for her trip. It is anticipated that the presence of the above witness will not be needed in Memphis more than the necessary time for testimony at the trial, and in no event will she be required for more than three or four days.

With my personal thanks to you for your wonderful cooperation in this matter, I remain,

Sincerely yours,

PHIL M. CANALE, JR.

Lecture By FBI Agent Angers Ray's Attorney

By CHARLES EDMUNDSON

Arthur J. Hanes Sr., attorney for James Earl Ray, accused in the killing of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., complained yesterday that a court order to limit pre-trial reporting in the case "protects the prosecution and only muzzles the defense."

"I am going to represent my client to the limit of my abilities, according to the law, and I am not going to be stopped," Mr. Hanes said.

He flew here from Birmingham yesterday to continue his examination of items of evidence the attorney general's office has been ordered to make available to him.

In an interview Mr. Hanes declared that prosecution witnesses have been making public statements "convicting my client and we have had no chance to counter them."

He cited a lecture by George Bonebrake, an FBI fingerprint specialist, in Wichita, Kan., Sept. 11 and quoted on Page One of the Wichita Beacon.

The Beacon identified Mr. Bonebrake as the man who "led the search through thousands of fingerprints on file with the FBI headquarters in Wasnington seeking identification of the killer." Mr. Bonebrake also testified at the extradition hearing for Ray in London in July.

"I was able to testify," Mr. Bonebrake was quoted as saying in Wichita, "that the latent fingerprints we found in Memphis matched those taken of the man arrested in London, and that the same prints matched those taken of James Earl Ray while he was at the Missouri Penitentiary."

Using a chart to compare "latent fingerprints" with "ink fingerprints," Mr. Bonebrake added, "This is what I did in London. I was able to show that the latent prints obtained in Memphis, the ones taken in London and the ones taken of Ray at the Missouri prison were all the same."

Mr. Bonebrake was addressing a Wichita area police seminar on fingerprint identification. In Washington yesterday the FBI said Mr. Bonebrake was out of town and not available for comment.

Frank Garofolo, assistant city editor of the Wichita Beacon, said yesterday that newsmen were permitted to attend the lecture and nothing was put off the record at the police seminar. A major in the Wichita Police Department objected the next day, Mr. Garofolo said, that the speech had been quoted too much in detail.

Judge W. Preston Battle has acknowledged earlier that his power to limit publicity applied only in the boundaries of his judicial district (Shelby County).

The order has a differing effect, Mr. Hanes said.

"While the accused and his attorneys have been ordered not to give interviews, key witnesses for the prosecution, such as Mr. Bonebreak, have been free to make statements. Atty. Gen. Ramsey Clark stated on Television that Ray committed this crime with no conspiracy involved. When I say the contrary I am held in contempt."

Mr. Hanes said Judge Battle's order restricting pre-trial interviews is inconsistent with a statement by the judge that he has seen criminal cases "drenched in publicity" but ending with a "just result."

Judge Battle made the statement in denying a defense contention that widespread publicity before issuance of his order had made a fair trial impossible.

Mr. Hanes will be in Memphis today and tomorrow interviewing witnesses and examining items of evidence in possession of Atty. Gen. Phil Canale. He took time off yesterday afternoon to buy Ray a new supply of shirts, size 15½, sleeve-length 32, and a pair of shoes, size 9½-C.

Assistant Attorney General Stephen J. Pollak called and stated that he had talked to Phil Canale, State Attorney General, Shelby County, who will prosecute Ray in state court. According to Pollak, Canale inquired whether the Bureau was doing a three dimensional mockup for Canale for use in his prosecution of Ray. Pollak said he was not making a request that such a mockup be prepared but merely wanted to know if in fact we were preparing one for Canale, so he could so advise Canale.

No request for such a mockup has been received in this Division and a check with the Exhibits Section revealed that no such request had been made of that Section.

In the absence of SAC Jensen, ASAC Halter of Memphis was contacted to determine whether Canale had ever made such a request of the Memphis Office. Halter stated that he personally was not aware of any such request but would check with SAC Jensen and see if Jensen was aware of any such request.

Subsequently SAC Jensen called and said the Memphis Office had received no request for the preparation of such an exhibit. Jensen said he had called Canale and determined that when D. Robert Owen of the Civil Rights Division of the Department had been in Memphis consulting with Canale on the prosecution of the case, Owen said he understood the Department was preparing a three dimensional mockup for Canale's use. Canale inquired yesterday (10/30/68) of Owen's secretary, who is in Memphis assisting Canale, of the status of the exhibit. She replied she did not know but would check on it and let Canale know.

During Jensen's discussion with Canale, Canale stated his understanding was the exhibit was being prepared by the Department but said if the Bureau prepared such exhibits he would like to request, if possible, that the Bureau prepare one for him.

Memo Rosen to DeLoach
RE: MURKIN

Assistant Attorney General Pollak has been advised that the Bureau had received no request for the preparation of such an exhibit and none was being prepared.

The Exhibits Section has advised that the men who are assigned to prepare three dimensional mockups are specialists and it would be necessary to send such specialist to Memphis to obtain the necessary data to prepare such an exhibit. In addition the Exhibits Section advised it would take approximately three months to prepare the exhibit in question.

It is noted that state trial in this case is scheduled for November 12, 1968.

ACTION:

If approved, SAC Jensen will be contacted and instructed to advise Canale that it will not be possible, at this late date, to prepare the mockup requested by him.

2 Won't Talk In Ray Case

Two Memphis lawyers subpoenaed by the defense as witnesses in the James Earl Ray case today balked at testifying.

The witnesses, Harvey Gipson and William E. Friedman, filed a petition asking that Ray's attorney, Arthur J. Hanes, be required to show cause why they were subpoenaed.

If Hanes is unable to show cause why their testimony is needed, they will ask Criminal Court Judge W. Preston Battle to enjoin Hanes from enforcing the subpoenas.

Gipson and Friedman represent Charles Q. Stephens, a key state witness now under police protection. Stephens reportedly saw the killer of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. in the hallway of a rooming house at 422½ S. Main moments after the shooting.

Stephens was jailed earlier as a material witness at the state's request, but the two lawyers went to court and got him released.

So far, subpoenas have been served on 10 defense witnesses, to testify at Ray's trial, scheduled to begin Tuesday, Nov. 12. The latest to receive process was Lloyd Jowers, a Veteran's Cab driver and operator of Jim's Grill on S. Main, near the shooting scene.

Several customers in the grill are reported to have seen a white Mustang parked out front the day of the murder. The state contends Ray made his getaway in a white Mustang after killing the civil rights leader with a high-powered rifle.

FBI Is Going Past Ray In Search For Suspects

The FBI is looking for other suspects, besides James Earl Ray, in its move to reconstruct the murder of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., author William Bradford Huie said last night.

Interviewed by long distance at his home in Hartselle, Ala., Mr. Huie said, "You would be justified in concluding the FBI does not accept Atty. Gen. Ramsey Clark's view," (that one man acted alone in planning and carrying out Dr. King's assassination).

"The FBI goes every place I have revealed Ray stopped at and shows photos and plays sound tracks of the voices of at least two other men and asks whether the photos and sound tracks are recognized. The FBI certainly is looking for other people."

Mr. Huie has received from Ray, who goes on trial here Nov. 12 on a charge of slaying Dr. King, many pages of long-hand manuscript on what he did prior to the date of Dr. King's murder.

The first of the three articles Mr. Huie is writing, largely from the Ray manuscript, appeared in Look magazine Monday. The next will appear Nov. 12, the day Ray's trial starts.

Mr. Huie said that immediately after the first Look article "leaked out," FBI agents showed up at the Indian Trail Restaurant in Winnetka, a Chicago suburb, where Ray washed dishes in May and June, 1967. This was just after his escape from the Missouri State Prison at Jefferson City.

"The FBI next went to 2731 North Sheffield, where I revealed Ray roomed while working at the Indian Trail. They showed their photos again there. They asked the landlords, Mr. and Mrs. Donnelly, 'Did you see this man, or this man (showing the photos) here with Ray? Did you hear these voices?'"

Mr. Huie said both his reporting and the FBI's investigation have been hampered by the refusal of Criminal Court Judge W. Preston Battle to allow new photos to be taken of Ray in his cell in the Shelby County Jail.

People recognize the oft-published photos of Ray, which are the only ones he and the FBI have to show to persons they contact, Mr. Huie said. So there is no clear proof of recognition, he asserts.

"If photos were made of Ray in his cell there in Memphis, as the Los Angeles court has let pictures be made of Sirhan Sirhan (accused slayer of Senator Robert F. Kennedy) it would aid the FBI as well as answer the requests of the news media."

The amici curiae committee of lawyers named by Judge Battle to advise him in administering a court order to restrain pre-trial publicity was reported last night to be considering adding Mr. Huie to the list of five men against whom contempt proceedings have been brought.

Mr. Huie said he had had the

CIVIL RIGHTS - CONSPIRACY

A confidential source abroad has advised that American citizens traveling in Mexico as tourists may not legally engage in business or investigative activities. This source advised that efforts have been unsuccessful to obtain an informal waiver for Shelby County officials or to arrange for some type of special travel documentation permitting them to enter Mexico in furtherance of the prosecution of this case.

Mr. Phil M. Canale, State Attorney General, Shelby County, Tennessee, has stated that he still desires to interview persons in Mexico who may be able to furnish information concerning James Earl Ray, and that he has directed a letter to the United States Department of State requesting that they obtain for him special permission from the Mexican Government for representatives of his office to conduct interviews in Mexico.

This document contains neither recommendations nor conclusions of the FBI. It is the property of the FBI and is loaned to your agency; it and its contents are not to be distributed outside your agency.

being presented to these marches by those individuals with strong segregation beliefs. [redacted] stated that he himself is a liberal in his view towards Negroes and that he did not participate in any of the activities that took place in Denham Springs in the Summer of 1967. He stated, however, that he did frequently converse with individuals whom he considered to be members of the Ku Klux Klan, these persons having been individuals that he grew up with in Denham Springs.

[redacted] stated that at no time during this period did any information come to his attention that there were businessmen in Denham Springs, La., or in Baton Rouge, La., who were taking up a collection to obtain money to have MARTIN LUTHER KING, JR., assassinated. [redacted] does not recall of having heard the name of KING even mentioned during the Summer of 1967, nor does he recall any information which would indicate there was a plot to kill any particular Negro or any individual of any race for that matter.

[redacted] is against violence and if any information such as a plot to kill anyone had come to his attention, he would promptly notify an appropriate law enforcement agency.

During the Fall of 67, [redacted] recalls that an individual subsequently known to him as [redacted] appeared at the [redacted] in Denham Springs making claims to [redacted] that he could obtain considerable financing from a [redacted] family in Miami, Fla. [redacted] became interested in [redacted] proposition and ordered [redacted] to accompany [redacted] to Miami, Fla., which he did and at which time he and [redacted] met with a [redacted] It developed, however, that [redacted] did not previously know the [redacted] family and further that [redacted] actually had no contacts or was not in a position to obtain financing for the [redacted]

It was during the trip to Miami, Fla., that [redacted] realized that [redacted] had an apparent mental problem.

[redacted] recalled that while staying in motels in Fla., [redacted] at times became most irrational and envisioned that he was being followed by Federal Agents.

After the Florida trip, [redacted] continued to hang around the [redacted] in Denham Springs, La., at which time [redacted] wife was also present. In [redacted] opinion, [redacted] wife is also an irrational person.

On one occasion, [redacted] who was doing some work for the [redacted] took [redacted] personally owned vehicle with the permission of [redacted] on a business trip. [redacted] wife accompanied [redacted] on this trip and they did not return as scheduled. The vehicle was subsequently located in Mississippi in an abandoned position. Also at this same time, [redacted] and [redacted] discovered that [redacted] had stolen some property from the company, such as a portable electric typewriter, a brief case full of valuable engineering fittings, a telephone credit card and other miscellaneous items. Also taken from the [redacted] vehicle was a .38 Police Special Revolver which was a sentimental keepsake which had been given to [redacted] by his father.

The theft of these items was reported to law enforcement agencies but [redacted] subsequently decided not to press charges. The revolver has never been recovered by [redacted] and he does not presently know its whereabouts.

[redacted] heard from some unrecalled source several months ago that [redacted] either was or is presently confined to a mental institution. He has not seen [redacted] since late Fall of 1967.

[redacted] was a braggart by nature, frequently announced his animosity towards Negroes but was never known to [redacted] to have specifically mentioned MARTIN LUTHER KING or any other particular Negro. [redacted] frequently bragged that he had contacts with the underworld but never specifically mentioned anyone by name.

[redacted] concluded that he is at a loss to explain why it is alleged that he possessed information concerning a plot to raise money to kill MARTIN KING. He stated that he wanted to cooperate fully with the FBI, which agency he admires considerably and that if any further recollection concerning the Summer of 1967 in Denham Springs came to him, he would promptly advise the New Orleans Office.

[redacted] described [redacted] as a white male, 6'2" tall, 36 years of age and possessing blond wavy hair. During the Summer of 1967, [redacted] personally owned a 1967 Oldsmobile, white over black, bearing Texas license KLX or KLW 491.

Submitted herewith for the Bureau's information is a letter prepared by subject JAMES EARL RAY to his brother JERRY. It is noted discussion is had in this letter about the number of seats that may be available at the forthcoming trial. The second letter has apparently been prepared by JERRY RAY and is addressed to JAMES EARL RAY. It is noted in this letter that JERRY discusses explaining a number of items to HUEY. It is felt this is a reference to the writer who is preparing a book about instant matter. JERRY also discusses an individual by the name PERCY QUINN in the letter, who reportedly resides at P. O. Box 63, Laurel, Mississippi. Information available to the Memphis Office discloses that a PERCY QUINN in Laurel, Mississippi, is well known as an attorney who has represented various Klansmen in the past. JERRY also indicates he had called the WALLACE Headquarters in an effort apparently to secure an attorney of the type they are both seeking.

This is submitted for the Bureau's information. As additional data becomes available, the Memphis Office will forward same.

Dear Jimmy;

Just a short note to let you know everything is okay, and that i got back okay.
I just got through typing Huey a two page letter, I explained to him everything you asked me to. Expecially about you not wanting anymore deals through the Power of Attorney.
I also asked him to write to you direct, I also explained to him about the Money sisiution.
I tried to call him from Memphis, but couldnt get through because he has a un listed number.
I talked to Percy Quinn over the phone before i leftb Memphis, i really had a hard time locating him as he dont have a office plus he dont have a phone in his home, anyway i finally located him through a friend. He said he would be glad to come down and see you plus he will bring along the Attorney from Memphis that helped him in the case that you and i were talking about, the only thing is you have to send him expense money. here is where to write him in case you want to.

Percy Quinn
P. O. Box 88 Laurel, Miss.

I also called the wallace headquarters up, They asked Me to call them back Friday morning and they throught they could then give me the name of a type of Attorney that we are seeking. So ill call down there tomorrow and find out. Ill call down there day after tomorrow rather as i was thinking today is thursday.
Ill call Foreman up before then, Ill write you friday and let you know what each of them had to say.

When you send that Money, Dont send any for me, as i dont need any, so what ever you send ill mail to Stone:
Ill close for now but will write Friday and let you know what i find out.

As Ever

Brother

Corey Ray.

P.S. Ill also try to find out about how to get the power of attorney.

Dear Jerry;

I will just write a short note, there was something I forgot to ask you yesterday. The judge has ruled that you are a friend can have a seat in the court at the trial, why don't you write to his court clerk and ask him the details about it, whether you have to use the seat as an ex friend, I'm sure the, Clerk of the court, Judge Mr. Preston Battle criminal court Bldg. Memphis Tenn.

Yours truly

Jim

Let me know if a friend can use the seat when you not. Also how many seats you will get.

P.S

The paper said that the judge gave 3 or 4 seats to people who are writing books, but it didn't give their names. When you write to the court clerk ask him who the authors names are. I suppose ~~someone~~ people that were recomended by the justice Dept.
If you can't get this information let me know and I will ask Howe about it.

Ray's Pre-Trial Publicity

THE question of who and what are covered by the pre-trial publicity ban of the judge in the James Earl Ray case comes up again with publication of a magazine article today.

Criminal Court Judge W. Preston Battle has held four men in contempt of court. One is Ray's attorney, another a private detective, and two are Memphis newsmen. A fifth man, with the Federal Bureau of Investigation, might have to show cause why he should not be included under the publicity ban if he comes to Memphis to testify.

There is now the question about what effect the court edict has on author William Bradford Huie, whose first in a series of "inside" articles on Ray's life and times is published today in Look magazine.

Huie is paying Ray for information. Ray's attorney is the courier for the questions and answers.

Today's first installment makes several flat statements as to what Ray did or did not do in the year or so before the murder of Martin Luther King Jr. in Memphis. Writer Huie spends a good part of his prose on character analysis, based on interviews with people who had known Ray, some of them named and some anonymous.

Nothing in the article relates directly to Memphis events or to the King slaying, but the fact remains that much of what is printed amounts to direct quotations from Ray — something which no working newsman has been permitted to obtain.

We find it interesting that a free-lance writer willing to pay Ray for "telling his story" can find his way to individuals who say they have never heard from the FBI, and that he can publish what amounts to a personal interview with the accused when newsmen are chastised for speaking to Ray's attorney or any law-enforcement officers with knowledge of the case.

Huie Article On Possible Conspiracy Is Published By Look Magazine

By CHARLES THORNTON

Criminal Court Judge W. Preston Battle yesterday ordered witnesses in the James Earl Ray murder case not to read, listen to or watch news accounts of the case, beginning when testimony starts in the trial.

Meanwhile, despite Judge Battle's order to control pretrial publicity, a national magazine, Look, presented yet another version of a possible conspiracy to kill Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.

The possibility of a conspiracy has been tossed about by publications in this country and Europe since The Commercial Appeal disclosed a supposed police chase minutes after the slaying, between a white Mustang and a blue Pontiac may have been a hoax.

In the Look first-of-a-series titled "The Plot to Assassinate Martin Luther King," author William Bradford Huie says Ray wrote in notes to him from his Shelby County Jail cell that he was tempted out of a Canadian hideout before the killing by a $12,000 offer to make a mystery mission to Birmingham.

Neither Mr. Huie nor Look is known to be within the court's jurisdiction and may not be until the Ray trial opens, if then. Judge Battle's authority stops at the Shelby County line.

In the sequestering order, Judge Battle, who will preside over the trial, said:

"No witness subpenaed in the case shall read newspaper articles about the case, watch television programs about the case nor listen to radio broadcasts about the case from the beginning of taking of testimony in the case and until he has been excused by the court. This provision shall not apply to the defendant, personally."

The court order does not mention magazines or books.

Judge Battle last night said "five or six" witnesses have been subpenaed. One witness subpenaed is Gregory Jaynes, a reporter for The Commercial Appeal.

"I haven't seen the magazine article but I doubt I would comment on it in any case," said Judge Battle, last night. Members of Judge Battle's friend-of-the-court committee to investigate pretrial publicity, also declined comment.

"I don't think the committee should comment except in open court," said Leo Bearman Jr., one of the seven lawyers on the panel.

Lucius Burch, who has spoken for the committee in court during contempt hearings against reporters and attorneys, was in Nashville and could not be reached.

Mr. Huie, who says he is Ray's biographer, has not seen Ray personally but has submitted written questions to him through his attorney, Arthur J. Hanes of Birmingham. Mr. Huie resides in Hartselle, Ala.

In the article, Mr. Huie says Ray told him the money offer came in a Montreal waterfront cafe from "a man whom Ray calls Raoul and describes to me as being a blond Latin about 35, and whom Ray took to be a seaman."

Mr. Huie said Ray made contact with Raoul by making it known in bars that he was in trouble in the United States and needed money.

He said Ray talked with Raoul about six times in the Neptune Tavern in Montreal, and Raoul's proposition boiled down to this:

Ray would meet Raoul in a railroad station at Windsor, Canada, on Aug. 21, 1967, at 3 p.m., and prepare to make several trips across the border from Windsor to Detroit, carrying packages with unspecified contents in an old red Plymouth Ray was driving.

Ray would then sell the Plymouth and go by train or bus to Birmingham where he would lie low, take no risks, pull no holdups, accumulate "a little ID (identification)" and wait for instructions by general delivery mail.

Raoul, Mr. Huie said, would pay Ray's living expenses and then come to Birmingham and buy Ray a "suitable car." After a few weeks or months, and after a little "joint activity," Raoul would pay Ray $12,000, give him a passport and "other ID" and help him go "anywhere in the world."

Another part of the proposition was that Ray would ask no questions, and Ray reportedly told Mr. Huie, "Everytime I tried to ask Raoul a question, he told me straight to remember that he wasn't paying me to ask questions."

Mr. Huie wrote that Raoul did, however, reveal to Ray that he (Raoul) had spent some time in New Orleans. He reportedly gave Ray a New Orleans telephone number.

Ray, Mr. Huie said, was wary of returning to the United States where he might be caught and returned to Missouri State Penitentiary from which he escaped in April, 1967.

Well, I didn't know what to do." I took Raoul's proposition, I had to go back to the States and risk the Missouri Pen again. I didn't want to do that. I had sworn I'd never go back. But I was running out of capital again and I didn't want to risk another holdup in Canada," Ray was quoted by Mr. Huie.

Ray said he agreed to meet Raoul in Birmingham after he decided against using a pretty Canadian government worker, with whom he had become intimate, to get a fradulent passport. Ray said the decision to meet Raoul was based on fear that the woman would turn him in if he told her the truth about himself.

The woman reportedly said Ray had written her last March from the States but she tore the letters up after she learned who he was. She said she hoped no one would ever find out she knew him.

The article purports to explain how Ray escaped from the Missouri Penitentiary and how he later chose the name Eric S. Galt. Ray is quoted as admitting he tried for and got a bad conduct dsicharge from the Army because he didn't like the infantry.

He began a life of crime, it says, which was sharply curtailed in 1960 when he was sentenced to 20 years in prison for an armed robbery of a St. Louis Kroger grocery that netted him $120.

Warden Harold Swenson has said Ray escaped by hiding in a bread box but Mr. Huie lets Ray correct the warden by claiming he escaped by going over the 23-foot wall.

The name Galt, Mr. Huie wrote, was chosen by luck and not because there is a real Eric S. Galt living in Canada, although there is. Mr. Huie said Ray told him he chose the name after seeing the name on a road sign. Eric was chosen because he wanted an uncommon first name.

The article ends in typical fashion of a first-parter with the reader wondering about the mission to Birmingham.

Although Mr. Huie refers to "the plot to murder Dr. King," he does not establish any plot to do so. The accused man is never quoted mentioning Dr. King by name.

The only direct hint of conspiracy is Mr. Huie's quoting Ray as saying that Raoul offered $12,000, among other things, after a little "joint activity," seeming to indicate that the undisclosed mission would involve someone besides Ray.

There have been widely circulated reports that the key defense strategy will be that Ray was only "a decoy" sent to the scene to drop the deer rifle and lead police on a wild chase while the real killer escaped. This would permit the defense to concede the accuracy of expected FBI testimony tending to place Ray at the scene of the crime.

Mr. Hanes has publicity contended a Communist conspiracy is involved.

Meanwhile, The Commercial Appeal-Chicago Daily News Service reported Mr. Huie, appearing on a television talk show in Chicago, predicted a second arrest in the murder case within two weeks. "It wouldn't surprise me if there were another arrest before the trial begins."

As the trial approaches, Shelby County officials are gearing for the onslaught by the world press. Charles Holmes, information officer at Memphis State University, began full-time work yesterday to handle news releases for the sheriff's department.

Judge Declines Comment On New Ray Story

Criminal Court Judge W. Preston Battle today declined comment on a national magazine story suggesting James Earl Ray, charged with the murder of Dr. Martin Luther King, was approached to participate in a mysterious international conspiracy.

Arthur J. Hanes, attorney for Ray, and Lucious Burch, Memphis attorney who frequently has been spokesman for the Memphis-Shelby Bar Association committee which recommended Judge Battle's ban on pre-trial "publicity," said they had not read the story and also had no comment.

The article, by William Bradford Huie, Alabama author, is published in the Nov. 12 issue of Look Magazine. A spokesman for the magazine in New York said details of the copyrighted story were not available for the press until 6 p.m. today.

Burch said that he was sure that if there were anything in the article that violated the court's order on "publicity," the bar committee would meet and go into it.

Fingerprint Expert Ordered To Appear in Contempt Case

An FBI fingerprint expert has been ordered to appear Dec. 6 before Criminal Court Judge W. Preston Battle to show cause why he should not be held in contempt in connection with the court's order against pre-trial publicity in the James Earl Ray case.

Battle issued the order yesterday on a contempt petition brought against FBI agent George Bonebrake, by the court's seven-lawyer advisory committee.

In issuing the order, Battle said he did not set a hearing in advance of Ray's trial, scheduled to begin Nov. 12, because the earliest date he could hear the matter would be Nov. 1, just 11 days before the trial.

RULING

"The reason for orders on publicity and hearings on their alleged violations is to deter prejudicial publicity from infecting the community from which the jury must be drawn," Battle wrote. "In the nature of things, hearings on alleged violations of publicity orders result in pervasive dissemination of prejudicial publicity and are, to that extent, self defeating."

The bar association committee cited a story appearing Sept. 12 in the Wichita, Kan., Beacon in which Bonebrake was quoted as saying fingerprints taken of Ray in London matched "latent prints" taken by police in Memphis shortly after Dr. Martin Luther King was slain.

PUBLICATION

The story was picked up earlier this month by The Press Scimitar and the Commercial Appeal. It also prompted Arthur J. Hanes, Ray's attorney, to blast the court's injunction as unfair to the defense and the committee was called "Harper Valley P-TA hyprocrites."

Hanes, along with a private investigator, Renfro Hays, and two reporters, Roy Hamilton of the Press Scimitar and Charles Edmundson, of the Commercial Appeal, had been held in contempt earlier by the judge in connection with other stories. Battle did not pass sentence, however, stating he wanted to hold the case under consideration until after the trial. The two newspapers have taken steps to appeal his ruling as it affects coverage of the news.

A copy of the judge's latest order is being forwarded to Bonebrake's boss, U.S. Atty. Gen. Ramsey Clark in Washington. It asks that Bonebrake submit himself voluntarily to the court's jurisdiction.

Battle's anti publicity injunction prohibits out of court comments on the Ray case by all those with official connections in the case, including attorneys, investigators and witnesses.

FBI Tries To Tag Voices In Ray Case

By ART PETACQUE
The Commercial Appeal-Chicago Daily News Service

CHICAGO, Oct. 24. — The United States Justice Department is using tape recordings of voices of James Earl Ray's acquaintances to determine whether they contacted him by telephone or other means while he worked at a Winnetka, Ill., restaurant or elsewhere, it was learned Thursday.

The disclosure came from Harvey Klingeman, who for 35 years has operated Indian Trail Restaurant in Winnetka, a Chicago suburb. Ray, accused of murdering the Rev. Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., worked at the restaurant in 1967.

Klingeman's wife was asked about phone calls made to the restaurant for Ray during the May 3—June 24, 1967, period, when he worked as a dishwasher and kitchen helper, Klingeman said.

Mrs. Klingeman also was asked about persons who went to the back door of the restaurant, while Ray was working, and waited to talk to him outside, the restaurateur said.

Klingeman said that because of the time that had elapsed his wife wasn't able to be of much help to the Federal Bureau of Investigation agents who interrogated her.

At the time Ray worked at the restaurant, he was a fugitive from justice because of his escape from the Missouri State Prison.

He was living in Chicago and commuting most of the way to Winnetka by the Chicago Transit Authority elevated system, Klingeman said.

Klingeman said FBI agents did not disclose the identity of the voices on the tapes. He speculated, however, that they were those of relatives or others who might have been involved with him at some time prior to the murder of Dr. King in Memphis April 4.

Klingeman said visitors interrupted Ray at work on at least two occasions that he could recall. He did not see the callers, Klingeman reported, adding that none of the current employes did either.

The whereabouts of Ray during this time in his life came to light when William Bradford Huie, an author Ray hired to write his life story, went to the restaurant last August to interrogate the Klingemans about the employe they knew as John L. Rayns.

After that visit, the Klingemans went to the Winnetka police and told them of the writer's visit.

One of the reasons given by Huie in pursuing the restaurant period in Ray's life was his desire to knock down stories that linked him with prostitutes and cast a bad light on his habits.

SUBJECT: MURKIN

SYNOPSIS:

This is the case involving the murder of Martin Luther King, Jr.

William Bradford Huie, author, has written an article, based upon notes of James Earl Ray for "Look" magazine. The article appears in the November 12, 1968, issue; this issue circulated October 29, 1968. The items essentially discussed in this article are: background of Ray including his incarceration at Missouri State Penitentiary (MSP) and his assignment with the U. S. Army in Germany, method of escape from MSP; employment at the Indian Trail Restaurant, Winnetka, Illinois; a partial account of his activities in Montreal, Canada, including consorting with a female employee of the Canadian Government; deal concerning a "joint activity" (not fully described or identified) with an individual by the name of "Raoul," wherein Ray was to transport packages (not further described) between the United States and Canada, however, the possibility exists that the packages could contain contraband, such as narcotics. No specific information in article of a conspiracy, however, inference is given by the author that a conspiracy exists; and an account of Ray robbing a house of prostitution in Montreal. We have been aware of all the information appearing in this article, with the exception of that pertaining to "Raoul" and Ray's alleged holdup of the house of prostitution in Montreal, Canada.

ACTION:

We are requesting the Royal Canadian Mounted Police, through Legat, Ottawa to make appropriate inquiry on the information pertaining to "Raoul" and Ray's alleged holdup of the house of prostitution, which had not been previously brought to our attention.

DETAILS:

This is the case involving the murder of Martin Luther King, Jr.

William Bradford Huie, author, whose books include, "Three Lives for Mississippi" dealing with murder of the three civil rights workers in June of 1964, previously advised us that he entered into a contract with James Earl Ray to write the true account of Ray's activities and background concerning the assassination of King. Huie has been provided with notes from James Earl Ray, through Ray's attorney Arthur B. Hanes, Sr., Birmingham, Alabama.

Huie has written an article based upon the notes of James Earl Ray, for "Look" magazine. This article appears in the November 12, 1968, issue of "Look" magazine and this issue has reached the newsstands for circulation on October 29, 1968.

The items essentially discussed in this article are as follows;

1. Background of James Earl Ray concerning different phases of his incarceration at the Missouri State Penitentiary at Jefferson City, Missouri, and his service in the U. S. Army including assignment at Bremerhaven, Germany.

We are aware of this information, in fact it has been established that Ray contracted a venereal disease during his assignment with the military in Germany.

2. Method of escape from Missouri State Penitentiary on April 23, 1967, which indicates that he scaled the wall and walked out to the street.

The official version from the records of the Missouri State Penitentiary indicates that he effected his escape by hiding in a bread truck. The unofficial version is that Ray did scale the wall and walked out onto the street. We again were aware of the two stories concerning his escape.

DETAILS - CONTINUED

3. Ray was employed by the Indian Trail Restaurant in Winnetka, Illinois, during May and June of 1967.

The owners of this restaurant previously gave us the entire account of his employment at the Indian Trail Restaurant and we, of course, ran out all leads concerning the information they provided to us. Prior to being interviewed, they were contacted by Huie. Nothing of significance was developed out of this information.

4. A partial account of Ray's activities in July and August, 1967, in Montreal, Canada, including consorting with a female employee of the Canadian Government.

We, of course, were aware of some of the activities of Ray while he was in Montreal during this period of time. The Royal Canadian Mounted Police (RCMP) provided Legat, Ottawa with this new information on October 25, 1968, based upon an interview with the female employee of the Canadian Government. They are presently endeavoring to confirm all the facts of the information related by her and, of course, we will be kept advised.

5. The article contains an account of an individual by the name of "Raoul." This individual and Ray, according to the article were endeavoring to make some type of deal concerning a "joint activity" for which "Raoul" would pay Ray $12,000. The specific nature of the "joint activity" is not fully described or identified, but Ray was to transport packages (not further described) between the United States and Canada. The possibility exists that the packages could contain contraband, such as narcotics. No mention is made here of "Raoul" providing Ray with funds which would implicate "Raoul" in a conspiracy in the King assassination, however, Huie infers that a conspiracy exists.

This information is new to us and the article is very sketchy. We are requesting the RCMP to make inquiry concerning this.

6. The article states that Ray robbed a house of prostitution in Montreal, Canada, in the amount of $800.

We are also requesting the RCMP to provide us with any information relative to this.

The article generally gives the impression that Ray did not like to consort with prostitutes or women generally.

We know of several instances in which he consorted with prostitutes of the "street type" character.

We have been aware of all the information appearing in this article, with the exception of that pertaining to "Raoul" and Ray's alleged holdup of the house of prostitution in Montreal, Canada. We are requesting the RCMP to conduct appropriate inquiries concerning these matters.

The Story of James Earl Ray and the Plot to Assassinate

"I HAD BEEN IN TROUBLE ALL

William Bradford Huie is the author of 16 books, including The Execution of Private Slovik, The Revolt of Mamie Stover, The Americanization of Emily, The Klansman and Three Lives for Mississippi. Time magazine has called him an "aggressive, blunt-spoken reporter" with "a fierce persistence and an equally intense passion for the underdog." In his introduction to Three Lives for Mississippi, Martin Luther King, Jr., wrote: "William Bradford Huie writes as a reporter but also as an impassioned man. He writes with clinical detail but not with detachment. And above all, he writes of evil in the South as an eighth generation Southerner.... Mr. Huie recognizes that the unholy alliance of violence and 'Southern justice' indicts not only murderers but the larger society that shelters them." LOOK here presents Huie's extraordinary account of the life of James Earl Ray, based upon Ray's own revelations to Huie and Huie's retracing of Ray's erratic journey that led to a fateful trip south.

The motel room occupied by Martin Luther King and the balcony on which he was standing when he was shot have been converted into a shrine. (The balcony is now enclosed.) This photograph was taken from the room from which the shot was fired.*

After Scotland Yard turned Ray over to the FBI at Lakenheath Air Base, north of London, the FBI dressed him in a leather girdle and bulletproof shirt and trousers, with his hands manacled to the girdle. This was the last photograph taken of Ray before his trial.*

Martin Luther King By William Bradford Huie

MY LIFE, IN JAIL MOST OF IT"

FROM HIS JAIL CELL in Memphis, Tenn., the accused assassin of Martin Luther King, Jr., writes to me:

In April, 1967, I had been in the Missouri State Penitentiary at Jefferson City for seven years. During these years my brother Jerry or my brother John visited me on the average of once every eight months, depending on which one of them was out of jail and could come. They were my only visitors. I've never been close to marrying. No woman has ever thought much of me. I was thirty-nine, and I had been in trouble all my life, in jail most of it. But in all my crimes I was proud that I had never hurt anybody. I had never molested any child or pistol-whipped any victim I held up.

In prison I worked in the kitchen. During yard-time I sometimes gambled. I read detective books and True and Argosy and books about how to change yourself and get along. But mostly I studied how to break out and how to get capital and I.D. [identifying cards or documents] after I broke out.

On April 23 [1967] I was ready to try again to break out. I had nothing to lose since eighteen more years were hanging over me and I had nobody on the outside and no "good behavior" on the inside working for me. I thought I "behaved" all right in prison. I did my work, was quiet and clean, and didn't fight or disturb anybody. I didn't even snore or jerk or holler in my sleep. I don't smoke, so I sold my "commissary" to other prisoners and accumulated cash in my shoes. But I was always trying to break out, and that's marked down as "bad behavior" and adds to your sentence. As long as you keep trying to break out you can never get out legally, no matter how short your original sentence was. I had already tried to break out three times and failed; I was awaiting trial for attempted escape; I had just got out of isolation for the last attempt; and the warden had sent me word what to expect if I was caught trying again. So this time I had to get out! Then I had to use a little self-discipline and not get caught after I got out.

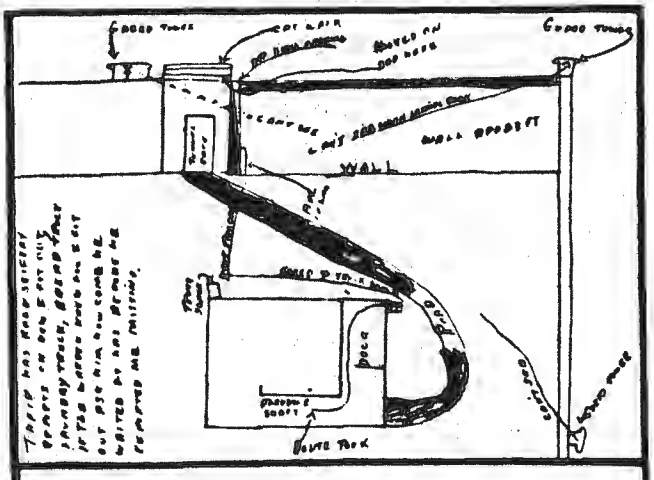
JAMES EARL RAY writes to me because, after his arrest in London, I contracted with him to tell me what he knows. Through his lawyers, I paid him for his promised help. He began by answering my written questions orally and warily to his lawyers. Then he switched to answering in writing. Each week, he seems to write with less effort at deception. If, in time, he tells me all he knows, and helps me find it is true, I'll be satisfied.

What you read here was written by me in September to be published on the eve of Ray's trial in November. It's a pretrial installment of the story. It is written before Ray has been allowed to talk with me, and while his lawyers are trying to obtain such permission for him.

In quoting Ray, I have in spots improved his grammar and spelling. But he expresses himself clearly. His handwriting is easier to read than mine. He has a table in his cell at which, under perpetual light and watched by perpetual television and human eyes, he works at writing, employing a dictionary he asked me for.

Born in 1928 in dirt-floor poverty in southwest Illinois, he was a miserable, hungry, defiant youth, embarrassed by his ignorance, his appearance and his odor. He dropped out of high school and enlisted in the Army in 1946, a month before his eighteenth birthday. He says:

Sure I was expelled from the Army. They put me in the Military Police for two years and I got along fine. I liked to ride around on patrol in Bremerhaven [Germany] and keep order. But when they transferred me to the infantry, I wanted out. Who wants to be in the infantry? The only way I could get out was to buck for a bad conduct discharge. That's what I did and I succeeded.



Out of school and out of the Army, Ray began his in-and-out prison career with a two-bit robbery in Los Angeles in 1949. Then, as did Caryl Chessman and others, he educated himself in prison. The book he values most, and quotes often to me, is Psycho-Cybernetics by Maxwell Maltz, a plastic surgeon. The publishers say this book will "help you escape life's dull, monotonous routine—make you look younger, feel healthier, and be more successful!" The author says when you change a man's face, you change his future, and when you change his physical image, you change his personality and behavior.

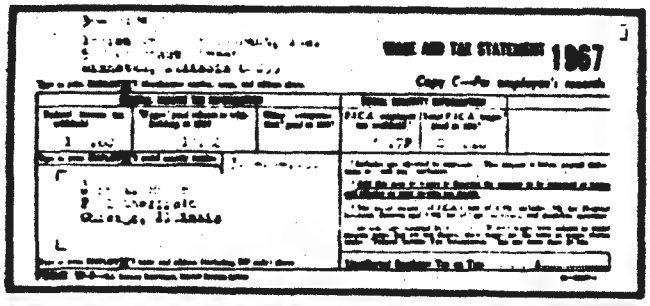
April 23rd [1967] was a Sunday. I was working the 11 a.m. to 7 p.m. shift in the bread slicing room, so I was allowed to eat in the kitchen. When I came for breakfast at 8 a.m. I brought with me in a sack 20 candy bars, a comb, a razor and blades, a piece of mirror, soap, and a transistor radio. The sack attracted no attention: kitchen personnel are allowed to shower and shave in a bathroom in the kitchen. I ate a good breakfast of about 6 eggs since I knew this might be my last meal for a while. Then I went to the bread room where I had hidden a white shirt and a pair of standard green prison pants that I had dyed black with stencil ink. I put these on, then I put my green prison pants and green shirt on top of them. I transferred the items in the sack to my pockets, then stuffed the sack under my shirts. I went down the elevator to the ground floor and out onto the loading dock.

In the kitchen cooks use a 4-foot-long hook to pull pans around. I had one of these hooks in my hand. I stood there on the dock watching the guard on the tower. I had studied his actions. They all act different. Some of them doze, but they must call in every 15 minutes. So if you take any action you must do it right after you see them call in. I watched this guard call in, saw his head drop, then I ran the 75 feet to the wall.



The wall is 23 feet high, but there is a truck tunnel through it, and

Ray drew this diagram of his escape from prison for Huie. The warden disputes Ray's account. On his drawing, Ray wrote (above): "Their has been severay reports on how I got out, laundry truck, bread truck If the warden knew how I got out ask him how come he waited 24 hrs. before he reported me missing."

WAGE AND TAX STATEMENT 1967

Copy C—For employee's records

Mrs. Gertrude Struvé Paulus, who worked with Ray at the Indian Trail Restaurant in Winnetka, Ill., remembers joking with him about girls. Huie says: She saw "a gentleness" in the man she knew as John Rayns. Above is one of the tax-withholding statements for "Rayns."

Mrs. Clara Struvé Klingeman, owner of the restaurant, at the steam table where Ray worked for eight weeks. She told Huie: "Of course I remember John. Such a nice man. . . . We so regretted to see him go. . . . His story saddens me terribly—such a waste of life!"

where the wall meets the tunnel there is a water pipe that runs up about 6 feet. I got on top of the elbow of this water pipe, and with that hook, using some cracks and crevices, I got to the top, then swung down and dropped.

I had accumulated about $300 in prison which I had in my shoes, along with a social security number. [Not a card, only the number of a card issued to him as John L. Rayns about 1951. In 1944, a card was issued to him as James Earl Ray.] I ran around the wall, across the railroad tracks, and along the river [Missouri] until I was out of sight of the tower guards. Then I took off my prison clothes and hid the green pants but kept the green shirt so I could wear it at night when it was cold. I put the shirt and other articles in the sack. I went down the track to a railroad bridge under which I hid out for the day, listening to the radio for the announcement of my escape. I didn't hear anything, and I found out later that the warden didn't report me missing because he thought I was hiding inside the prison.

I had traveled east from the prison, toward St. Louis, but I knew the police would think I would go there [he was born near East St. Louis], so when it was dark I crossed the bridge and headed back the other way toward Kansas City. I walked all that night, except for short rests to eat candy bars. It was a little cold, but I wasn't complaining.

Ray likes to draw diagrams, showing me the location of motels, bars, rooming houses, or where he was standing or running at dramatic moments. So far, his diagrams have proved accurate. He even remembers whether a tree was an oak or a pine. So those who have called him stupid are mistaken. He doesn't look like a criminal, but he thinks like one. He looks like he belongs: he would go unnoticed in most any crowd. But he prefers not to belong. The only game that interests him is him against police. His impassive, easily forgotten face lights up only when he is told of FBI agents hotfooting down a false trail. He continues:

The 2nd day I hid and slept and listened to radio reports. Then I walked all night. I looked at the stars a lot. I hadn't seen them for quite a while. On the 3rd day I ran out of candy bars. I slept, and since the area is mostly bluffs, I could see a long way along the highway. Now and then I saw highway patrol cars, and naturally I figured they were after me. On the radio I heard the report that I had escaped.

While walking at night, when I approached a house along the railroad track that had strong lights that lighted the track, I had to detour, over rough ground and through creeks. This was causing my feet to swell, and I began having trouble getting my shoes on if I took them off. On the 3rd night I found a trailer sitting by the river. I broke in and took half a bottle of wine and some food. Also a blanket and some pants as it was cold. Then I found a place in the woods and got comfortable. I ate, and drank the wine, and covered up with the blanket, and when I woke up it was raining on me. The wine must have got me. I got up and walked the rest of the night.

The 4th day I slept and watched, but I couldn't risk taking my shoes off because I'd never get them back on. The 4th night I walked, but on those feet I couldn't walk far.

By daylight on the 5th day it was raining. I decided to build a fire. I had got some matches out of the trailer. I found a tunnel about 4 feet high under the railroad, and I got in there and built a fire. When the fire was going good, I heard a motor. I stomped the fire out, but too late. Two railroad workers got off a motor car and came down to check on the smoke. I told them I had been hunting and got wet and started the fire to dry out. They said okay and left. They were the first humans I had spoken to since my escape. I stayed there the rest of the day, trying to help my feet, but I couldn't even rub them since I couldn't take my shoes off.

The 5th night I hobbled on. I had plenty of water to drink because there were many springs along the track, and I could hear them running. Just before daylight I saw the lights of a town big enough to risk going into. So I hid, and waited all the 6th day, and tried to clean up the best I could. I decided the heat must be off by now. So when night came I walked into the town, bought two cans of beer and some sandwiches, and went back to the railroad. Later that night I caught a train back to St. Louis. There I bought some over-sized shoes and a jacket. I took a cab to East St. Louis where I called a friend who drove me to Edwardsville, where I caught the bus for Chicago.

SIXTEEN MONTHS LATER, on August 21, 1968, I flew to Chicago to see if Ray was telling me the truth about the date of his arrival there after his escape. In a rented car, I drove down Diversey Parkway to North Sheffield Avenue, using a Ray diagram. I found the red-brick house he described: 2731 North Sheffield, a two-story-plus-basement rooming house.

I told the managers, Mr. and Mrs. Donnelly, that I was looking for a man who disappeared after being in the Army, a man named John Rayns, who might have stayed in their house late in April or early in May, 1967. Mr. Donnelly produced his book, and there it was, in Ray's handwriting: John Larry Rayns 4-30-67.

"I remember him," Mrs. Donnelly said. "He had foot trouble when he came here. He stayed in the back basement room. A nice, quiet fellow, neat and clean. He paid $14 a week for his room, and he always paid promptly. He was tidy and careful about his garbage. He stayed here six or eight weeks, got mail several times; and when he left, he said he had to go to Canada on business. I sure hope nothing has happened to him."

I didn't tell Mrs. Donnelly what had happened to the nice, quiet fellow named John Rayns. When she reads this, she'll know.

On May 3, 1967, John Larry Rayns read this advertisement in the Male Help Wanted section of the Chicago Tribune:

> Kitchen man and dishwasher. 6-day wk. $94.
> For north suburban restaurant. Call Indian > Trail at HI 6-1703.

Ray got this job, and thereby caused me to meet and astonish three fine, friendly people. It happened this way:

Winnetka, Ill., on Lake Michigan, 18 miles north of the Chicago Loop, is an incorporated village of 13,500 affluent white people. It's a fashionable suburb just north of Evanston and Northwestern University. One of Winnetka's sound institutions is the Indian Trail Restaurant, in a white, single-story, brick building across from the post office. The restaurant is the creation of two sisters, Clara and Elly Struvé, together with Clara's husband, Harvey Klingeman, who is Pennsylvania Dutch and a Rotarian. For 34 years, the Indian Trail has been a favored place for suburban families to lunch and dine in one of its three art-filled rooms. Some of the 78 employees have worked there since 1934, when the Klingemans and Elly Struvé rescued the restaurant from its third Depression failure.

The Klingeman family is the American success story. Industry, efficiency, responsibility, devotion, thrift, accumulation, humanitarianism. Hardworking parents whose four sons and one daughter all have attended college and lead comfortable, rewarding lives. The oldest son, a Ph.D., teaches at Oregon State at Corvallis, Ore. The middle son is a reserve marine and is a senior at Michigan State University. Clara Struvé Klingeman was born in Haifa, where her father was the U.S. consul. The family belonged to a Quaker-like sect, the Temple Society; and Mrs. Klingeman today is a Congregationalist, a serene, white-haired, kind-eyed woman who radiates belief in the essential goodness of every human being.

About 9:30 a.m., August 21, 1968, I walked into the Indian Trail. The door was open, but there were no customers since there is no service until lunchtime. I went into the busy kitchen and found Mrs. Klingeman giving instructions. She took me for a salesman and invited me to join her for coffee and Danish pastry. I told her I was a writer from Alabama, and I wondered if she remembered an employee named John Rayns.

"Of course I remember John," she smiled. "Such a nice man. He was here for two or three months, and we so regretted to see him go. He came here as a dishwasher. But during his first week, we saw that he could be more than a dishwasher. So we promoted him to the steam table and raised his wages. He was quiet, neat, efficient and so dependable. He was never late a minute, though he had to ride the buses for perhaps fifteen miles each way. I felt sorry for him when he arrived here. He had been on a hunting trip, and his feet were sore. My sister got one of those long bandages from the hospital and showed him how to bind his feet, and he seemed so appreciative. I hope he is well. We wrote him after he left and told him how much we valued him and how we'd always have a job waiting for him. Do you know where he is now?"

I hesitated, temporarily overwhelmed by the ironies. "Yes," I said. "I know where he is. But first tell me: Hasn't anyone been here recently asking you about John Rayns?"

"No," she said, her curiosity rising. "You are the only person who has asked me about him since he left."

"That surprises me almost as much as I am going to surprise you," I said. "Let's lower our voices. You see, John Rayns is really James Earl Ray, and he is in jail in Memphis, accused of the murder of Dr. Martin Luther King."

I'll never forget the astonishment, followed quickly by anguish, in Mrs. Klingeman's eyes. For a long interval, she didn't speak. Then she asked: "Are you sure? It seems impossible. You mean he is the man we have read so much about? So cruel? So senseless? So shameful?"

I nodded, and she went on: "I don't know what to say. Dr. King spoke in Winnetka several years ago, and we went to hear him. He was such a good man. And I would have trusted John Rayns in my home to baby-sit with my grandchildren. It's frightening to learn that one can be so mistaken about people."

"Well," I said, "maybe you weren't so mistaken about the man you knew. Maybe he was reliable while he worked for you. He's prouder of his experience here than he is of anything else in his life. He urged me to 'learn about' him by talking first with you. You are the only employer who ever valued him and promoted him and paid him $117 a week."

The earning record of John L. Rayns, furnished me by Mrs. Klingeman, shows that he received eight weekly checks, from May 7 to June 25, 1967. The Social Security number is 318-24-7096. The W-2 form shows that his total taxable earnings were $813.66, with $112.60 withheld for Federal income tax, and $36.72 withheld for Social Security.

I lunched at the Indian Trail as the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Klingeman. The sister who gave Ray the bandage was not Miss Elly Struvé, one of the three owners of the restaurant and who is now in poor health, but Mrs. Gertrude Struvé Paulus, who prepares salads in the kitchen. She worked near Ray and often talked with him.

"He would never initiate a conversation," Mrs. Paulus told me. "He seemed lonely and shy. But once I had asked him something, like how he felt, he would talk. We talked about Bremerhaven: He had been there in the Army, and I knew it years ago. And once or twice, I kidded him about the girls. But he didn't like it. He was not a man who liked the girls."

"No, he didn't," I said. "That's one of the published errors about him, about how he is always consorting with prostitutes. When he has sought the company of women, it has been only in the hope of getting their help in establishing an identity. When he came here, he had been in prison for seven years. Yet, in two months in Chicago, there is no evidence that he was once even close to a woman. Apparently, he has no sexual interest in women. He gets angry whenever I mention women to him."

"Yes," said Mrs. Paulus, "I recognized that in him. He is not a man for the girls. During his last week, he said that he hated to leave here, but he had to go back to the boats in order to keep his seaman's license. That's the way he put it: He 'had to go back to the boats.' "

Of the 78 employees of the restaurant, about 22, normally, are Negroes, and there are usually five or six Filipinos. Several Negroes worked close to Ray, and with him, but no one remembers any indication that he disliked them.

One recollection seems important. For seven weeks at the restaurant, John Rayns received not a single telephone call. But during the week he left, he received "three or four pressing calls" that seemed to excite him.

The restaurant served lunch to about 550 people, mostly women, some of whom had to wait in line. Mrs. Klingeman was busy, so I didn't leave until after the last customer had left. Then Mrs. Klingeman said to me: "I have been wondering why I remember John Rayns so clearly. I have just gone through our records, where I saw the names of a dozen white men who worked for us for short periods a year or so ago, and I have no recollection of any of them. Yet when you mentioned John, I remembered him instantly. So there was something unique about him, and it must have been something good. His story saddens me terribly—such a waste of life! But you can say for me that whatever he is and whatever he has done, while he was here, we saw a little spark of dignity in John Rayns."

BACK IN MEMPHIS, I told Ray about my visit to the Indian Trail Restaurant and asked him why he quit his good job there. He replied: Yes, I had a good job there, and I hated to quit. But you know why I had to quit. I had been there two months, and since I had used that name and social security number before, I thought the FBI would be on me if I risked another month there. I see now that I over-estimated them. After they run out of informers they lose their imagination.

I accumulated a little capital there. I bought a 1960 Chrysler for $100. I saw it advertised in the Tribune, and I bought it from an individual, so I didn't need to show I.D. to get it, only money. With the car I got a car title and a temporary driver's license to use for I.D. This left me with $450. But I still had to have a name and some I.D. for that new name. I couldn't use Rayns much longer and I could never use Ray again.

What I needed was to get to Canada. While I was staying at the Donnellys in Chicago I wrote to the Canadian embassy for information on immigration. The reply was one of the letters the Donnellys say I got. In prison I studied about how a broker named Burell or Birell got a Canadian passport and escaped to South America.

(Lowell McAfee Birrell was indicted by Federal and New York County juries in several alleged multimillion-dollar stock swindles. The New York Times and other newspapers carried a story on September 4, 1959, explaining how Birrell, through a friend, obtained a Canadian passport with which he escaped to Brazil, which then had no extradition treaty with the United States. In its issue of February 27, 1962, LOOK published a picture story showing Birrell and two other "million-dollar fugitives" living luxuriously in Rio. An overline said: Scot-free within Brazil's borders, the three are safe from extradition. The LOOK story explained again how Birrell entered Brazil on a "false Canadian passport made out in the name of Lowell McAfee." Ray memorized Birrell's escape story, and it influenced his actions both before and after the murder of Dr. King.)

Normal citizens who are never in prison and who never become fugitives perhaps cannot understand the precarious position of a fugitive like Ray, without capital and without ID, in today's computerized society. What sort of job could you get, how much capital could you accumulate, if you suddenly found yourself alone in a large city, unable to disclose a previous address, unable to mention a former employer, unable to name one citizen who will say he knows you, and without a Social Security card, a birth certificate, or a driver's license, and unable to apply for any of them?

In the millions of words published about James Earl Ray, there has been the implication that he didn't want to work. Everyone has been told that Ray took a course in bartending in Los Angeles, was called adept by his teacher, then refused two offered jobs as a bartender. Ray believed that no employer in California could hire a bartender without first having him approved by the police. And Ray's name there was Eric S. Galt, a name for which he had no Social Security number and dared not try to obtain one. He took the bartending course not in the hope of working in California or anywhere in the United States but in the hope of working in Brazil if he could obtain a Canadian passport and reach Brazil.

In Los Angeles, Ray advertised in the Times for a job as a "culinary." He was offered three good jobs. But he had to run from them because those employers asked for references and his Social Security card. They were not as trusting as Mrs. Klingeman. Ray had not had a Social Security card, but he had remembered the number issued to him as John Rayns around 1951, and Mrs. Klingeman accepted it.

Ray has been ridiculed for his reported visits to lonely hearts clubs and for his advertising in lonely hearts magazines. The suggestion is that he sought cheap social and sexual comfort or that he planned to rob the women. It isn't true. Until Ray reached Canada on his second visit, on April 6, 1968, two days after the murder of Dr. King, he believed mistakenly that to obtain a Canadian passport, he had to have a Canadian citizen who would attest that he had known Ray, under some alias, for two years. So in going to lonely hearts clubs, Ray was seeking a woman he could cultivate who might have a relative in Canada who could be persuaded to lie for him. He advertised in a magazine only after being told that it had circulation in Canada; and Ray hoped that a lonely Canadian woman would respond to his notice, after which he would cultivate her by mail, then visit her and persuade her to be the friend through whom he obtained a Canadian passport.

In his cell in Memphis, nothing irritates Ray more than the suggestion that his interest in lonely hearts organizations was romantic, social or sexual. He says he was only a lone fugitive seeking ID.

As for his dancing, it must be remembered that Ray had never been outside the United States except in Army uniform. He had viewed the United States from cheap rooming houses, bars and jails. He imagined that in the Latin country he expected to live in, dancing would help him get along. So at each of the two dance studios he visited during 1967-68, he asked to be taught Latin dances. He was discouraged when instructors insisted that he must learn the simpler dances of the United States before attempting the conga, the tango, the samba or the meringue.

A lone fugitive in the United States today must move, and move often, or the computers will catch him. He can't earn a living. To get capital, even to live, he must steal or commit other crimes for which he is paid. Every hour, he is at the disposal of some more secure criminal who recognizes him and says: "I know you. Do as I tell you or you're back in the penitentiary." A criminal who belongs to an organized gang has support in obtaining capital and ID. But Ray was a loner.

Only by understanding the insecurity of a lone fugitive like Ray in today's complex society can anyone understand his involvement in the plot to murder Dr. King.

After Ray quit his job at the Indian Trail Restaurant, he decided to spend a few days in the area where he was born before leaving for Canada. He writes:

Except for the $450 and the old Chrysler I didn't have many possessions. Just a few clothes, a sports jacket, and pants. On my way to East St. Louis I had car trouble, but I got there. I sold that car for $50, and bought a '62 red Plymouth for $200. You can find where I bought it: from a dealer on Main Street coming out of East St. Louis toward Belleville. The car lot is between the 1500 and 2000 block on the left hand side of Main Street as you travel east. I used the Rayns name on the car title. I spent a night with the friend who took me to Edwardsville when I escaped. I stayed six or seven days in Quincy, and here are the names of two men there you can see, but don't write about them or they will be arrested for harboring me. I just want to show you that I've got friends who have known me all my life. And they think well of me.

From Quincy I went back to Chicago to pick up my last check from the Indian Trail. The check was mailed to a box I had in the post office in Winnetka. Then I went back to East St. Louis and stayed a few days, and told my friends I was leaving the country and to tell my family. I didn't tell anybody which country I was going to. The last thing I did was get a new .38 pistol from a friend, but I didn't pay him for it then. I was just too short of capital.

Out of East St. Louis I spent the first night in Indianapolis. The next day I crossed from Detroit into Windsor, but since a lot of traffic was moving to Expo there was no trouble at the border, and I headed for Montreal.

EVERYONE WHO HAS SEEN RAY emphasizes how he could go unnoticed almost anywhere. So, behind the wheel of his beat-up red Plymouth, he traveled unnoticed among Expo-bound tourists. He was bareheaded, with his black hair cut a bit longer than a crew cut. He wore no glasses. He was 39, but could be taken for 35. He was 5' 11" and weighed only 165, so except for a paunch, he looked thin. His face was thinner than it is now. His nose looked sharp. He wore a light-blue sport shirt and dark pants, and in his pockets were about $280 and the pistol. As he drove along the MacDonald-Cartier Freeway (401), he was trying to choose a new name. He explains:

I've used a dozen different names, but picking a new one is never easy. I can't afford to pick something easy like Smith or Brown or Jones, because I might forget who I was if somebody suddenly asked me. My name has to be unusual so it'll stick in my memory and I'll always know who I am.

He chose Eric S. Galt, and since there is a real Eric S. Galt in Toronto, the assumption has been that Ray saw this name in print. But he says no. Between Windsor and Toronto, he passed near the city of Galt, and he says he chose Galt when he saw it on an exit marker. He says he chose Eric only in the process of seeking something different from the more common first names. In any case, John L. Rayns had become Eric S. Galt by the time he reached a motel in Toronto on July 16. He was Galt at a motel in Dorion on July 17, and in Montreal on July 18, when he signed a six-month lease on a room at the Har-K Apartments, 2589 East Notre Dame. The rent was $75 a month, and he paid the first and last months' rent, a total of $150. He writes:

One thing was certain: I never in my life intended to return to the United States. What hope was there for me back there? The first thing I did in Montreal, even before I rented a room, was call a travel agency and ask what I.D. was necessary to get a passport. They told me none, but I had to have somebody who'd swear he had known me for two years. Later [in April, 1968] I found out this wasn't true. But right then I had to start looking for somebody who'd say he had known me for two years, or I had to find a way to get on a ship without a passport. And, of course, I had to get some more capital, as I had only about $70 left after I paid for the room. But I can swear this: I was never going to cross that border back into the United States.

I believe it's true that he never intended to return to the United States. But things happened in Canada to change his mind. He did return. He was in Canada from July 16 to August 21, 1967. He reached Birmingham, Ala., on August 25, 1967. So on September 14, 1968, carrying with me Ray's diagrams and explanations, I flew to Montreal to try to confirm his story of what caused him to risk a return.

I found where he had lived and Xeroxed the lease he signed. He hadn't remembered the house's number or name, but his diagram was accurate. Notre Dame is the east-west boulevard that for many blocks runs along the north bank of the St. Lawrence River. By the time you reach its 2500 block east, it has run down to cheap lodgings, warehouses and industries. The Har-K is a three-story hive of 57 rooms. Its sign says: Welcome American and Canadian Artists. Across from it is a textile mill—Tex-made Cotton Yarns and Fabrics—which hums day and night. What may have attracted Ray, with his Latin ambitions, was a now-shuttered nightclub, the Acapulco, on the ground-floor corner of the Har-K. Its extravagant yellow-and-red neon sign, by this time dark, promised "Acapulco Spectacles" in now-dingy sombreros and serapes.

But Ray only slept at the Har-K. He lodged his hopes—and spent his days and evenings—with "the boats," about 30 blocks to the west. Each year, Montreal is visited by 6,000 ships, which pour hundreds of seamen each day onto its docks and into its waterfront taverns and its club for merchant seamen, Mariners House, at 165 Place D'Youville. And since Montreal is the easiest big city in the world to bring contraband into, and get contraband out of, it is an international crime center. Much of the contraband moving from Europe into the United States goes through Montreal. This includes most of the millions of dollars worth of heroin that moves each year from the Middle East to Marseille to Montreal to New York.

Ray hung around the seamen's hiring hall and was told, "no jobs." He hung around Mariners House, trying to educate himself. He shadowed seamen from tavern to tavern, hoping to steal an ID from one who drank too much.

He frequented Neptune Tavern, 121 West Commissioners Street. I visited it. The ceiling lights are suspended from pilot wheels. There is a pilot wheel up over the bottles back of the bar. The furniture is massive oak, in its natural color, and signs welcome all seamen, promise highest prices for English money, and inform you that "Nous Servons les Repas." The menu is chalked on a blackboard furnished by Molson's Bière.

On his third or fourth night in the Neptune, Ray says he "sort of let the word get around that he had had a little trouble down in the States, that he was looking for ID and capital, and just might be available for activities that didn't involve too much risk." This resulted in a contact. A man whom Ray calls Raoul and describes to me as being a blond Latin about 35, and whom Ray took to be a seaman, showed interest in him. They began cautious verbal exploration, with Raoul hinting that if Ray was willing to assist certain projects, Raoul might be able to provide Ray ID and capital. Ray says this exploration continued during "at least eight meetings" over a period of three weeks.

Meanwhile, Ray had an immediate need for capital, and he says he satisfied it in this way:

On St. Catherine East, out past the 1400 block, there are a lot of nightclubs. Prostitutes hang out in these places, and in 1967, with the Expo crowds, they were doing big business. The procedure is that the girl leaves the club with you, and the two of you take a cab to an apartment run by whoever she is working for. I picked up one of these girls. I picked the best-looking one I could find, as I figured she'd take me to the most prosperous place. We went to the apartment where I gave her $25 which she took to the office. When I left I wrote down the address. The next night I took my car and parked it close to that address. Then I went back to the club and picked up the same girl. We took a cab to the same house. I gave her another $25, but when she started to the office I put the gun on her and went with her. When she got the manager by knocking, I put the gun on him. We went into his room, and I made her take her stockings off and tie his hands and feet while he lay on the bed. He tried to hold out on me, but he must have figured that I was down to about my last $5 and just might put a bullet in him. He pointed to a cabinet where I found about $800. Then I made the girl get under the bed and left. I hated to take a risk like that, but I figured that if I held up a whorehouse they probably wouldn't report it, and I guess they didn't.

WITH THIS NEW CAPITAL in his pocket, Ray's next action was one that I have found to be typical of him. He never puts all his eggs in one basket. He had a prospective deal working with Raoul at the Neptune. He thought Raoul might get him a passport or get him work on a ship. But Ray is not a man to rely on one prospect. He still thought he might find a Canadian woman who would help him get the passport. So he devised and carried out a plan.

At Tip Top Tailors, 488 St. Catherine West, he spent about $200 for new clothes. Tip Top is comparable to the Bond stores in the United States: where you can buy a suit for $65 to $110; a sweater for $20; and sport shirts for $10. Ray bought a new powder-blue Botany suit, a pair of gray slacks, a red T-shirt, a yellow T-shirt, yellow swimming trunks, red pajamas, socks, underwear, neckties—the kind of clothes he had never owned before. He had his nails manicured at the Queen Elizabeth Hotel. Then he asked a travel agency to suggest a resort.

Many of the thousands of seamen who pass through Montreal visit the Neptune Tavern on the waterfront. During the summer of 1967, Ray had several meetings there with a man named Raoul, who convinced him that he should return to the United States.

The agency suggested one of the most beautiful places on earth: the "Dean of the Laurentian Mountain Resorts," "incomparable, world-famous" Gray Rocks Inn, on Lake Ouimet, near St. Jovite and Mt. Tremblant, a place known to thousands of Canadian and American vacationers for golf, swimming, boating and riding in summer and for skiing in winter. Ray paid the agency $153 for minimum room and board for a single man for a week. On Monday, July 31, he put his new clothes in the decrepit old red Plymouth and drove 80 miles up the Laurentian Autoroute for the biggest week of the season, the week that would end on Sunday, August 6, with the running of the annual 200-mile road race at Mt. Tremblant.

A year and seven weeks later, I followed Ray's route to Gray Rocks.

Huie interviewed a Canadian government worker (above) who met Ray at the Gray Rocks Inn, a Laurentian vacation resort (left). Ray hoped she would help him get a Canadian passport by swearing she had known him two years. After she had showed him where she worked, he decided not to ask her aid.

It was a perfect, brisk, sunny, fall afternoon. The car was driven by a French-speaking private detective, and with us was Jim Hansen, a LOOK photographer who appreciates mountains and color. The trees in the Laurentians were turning . . . reds, browns, yellows . . . and we agreed that the red was the richest we had ever seen.

Jim Hansen said: "I bet old Ray, down there in that cell in Memphis, wishes to hell he was back up here."

"Yeah," I said, "I guess he does. And I wish to hell that some other rascals I've trailed had led me to places like this."

Ray had found a woman at Gray Rocks. He told me about her. He wanted me to find her and get her to tell me about him. So I found her. She lives in Ottawa and works for the Canadian Government.

When I reached Ottawa, I telephoned her. I assumed I'd frighten her. She'd resist the voice of a strange man insisting that she meet him and talk in confidence about an individual she met about a year ago. I guessed that she had read the Galt-Ray stories, had been appalled, and was trying to keep secret that she once knew the accused assassin of Dr. King. Her voice quavered on the telephone. She said: "You must have the wrong party. I have no idea what you are talking about. So why should we meet?"

"You needn't be afraid," I said. "I won't harm you. It's important that you tell me what you know about a man who has received a great deal of publicity."

"You mean," she said, "a man . . . a man . . . a man I met last summer at Gray Rocks?"

"Yes," I said, "and don't be afraid. No one in the United States knows your name except him and me and his lawyers. I'll keep it that way." If she refused to see me, she had to fear that I might go to the Canadian police. So she had no choice.

Still hesitant, she said she would meet me for lunch. I told her how to recognize me: a harmless-looking man of 57, no hair, a blue suit, in a rented gray Ford. She said she would be on a street corner at noon: a brunette in an orange dress, "less than 40, but not much less."

I had an hour to kill before I met her, so I walked on Parliament Hill. It's another majestic place, with vistas that rival Washington's. The Canadian Parliament was in session. Prime Minister Pierre Trudeau had delivered his message from the throne. With other sightseers, I watched the maple leaf flags flying from spires atop tall towers. I looked at monuments to the uncommon valor of old wars. Then I got in the gray Ford and went to find the brunette in the orange dress.

I wondered how she would look. Since Ray has been so widely described as a creep who quivers when a woman dance instructor touches him, I guessed that she had to be a shapeless frump. So when she got in the car, I was flabbergasted. Of the thousands of women who work for the Canadian Government, she must be one of the most attractive. Not in the manner of a brainless sexpot, but in the manner of a cultivated, sensitive, efficient, tastefully dressed and coiffeured mature woman. She could have her pick of the unattached men at most any resort.

"I guess you know how frightened I am," she said. "And how frightened I was last April to learn what had happened to Eric Galt. I'm divorced, but I have wonderful children to protect."

"I understand," I said. "All I want is for you to tell me about him. I've never met him. You have. He wants you to tell me."

"I'll tell you all I know," she said. "I don't feel ashamed. Only afraid, for my children, and for my position, which is a responsible one."

At a restaurant, we ordered lunch, and I said: "I suppose you have noticed how surprised I am at your looks and personality. I had expected a much less attractive woman. As a novelist, I have written many boy-meets-girl situations. But I can't imagine how you and James Earl Ray ever met. Tell me how it happened."

"Well, first," she said, "remember that I think of him as Eric. Last year, after years of trouble with an aggressive man, I had just gotten my divorce. A woman friend and I drove to Gray Rocks for a long weekend and to see the 200-mile race at Mt. Tremblant. We didn't stay at Gray Rocks Inn, but at a cheaper place in St. Jovite. On Sunday, we saw the race. It lasted for many hours, with men trying to kill themselves, all tremendously exciting. The evening was for celebration, fiesta, so, of course, we expected to drink and dance and mingle with many people, perhaps kiss, and even make love if we found attractive partners. It was that sort of an occasion.

"We began the evening," she continued, "in the lounge of the Gray Rocks Inn. We found it crowded, and people were dancing, and there was this lone man sitting at a table. He was neat and well-dressed and shy. I guess it was his shyness which attracted us. My friend said, 'Let's sit with this man,' and we sat down and ordered drinks and began trying to talk."

"So he didn't pick you up? You picked him up?"

"Yes, you might say that. But it wasn't a pickup, only a friendly meeting, like everybody does on such an occasion. We didn't expect it to last all evening. But Eric was a nice man. He was not a take-charge guy. He listened and didn't talk much. He was so unaggressive. All around us were aggressive men, trying to paw you and take you to their cars or rooms. Eric wasn't that way. He wasn't boastful. He spent his money generously, but not wastefully, and he made nothing of it."

"Did he dance?"

She laughed. "I managed to get him on the floor. I love to dance. He was so clumsy, and he has no ear for music, but I tried to teach him, and he was good-natured about it."

"Where did he say he was from?"

"From Chicago. He said he worked for his brother in some sort of business. In fact, he was meeting his brother in Montreal next day. Later, when we left Gray Rocks Inn and went to other crowded, celebrating places, we rode in his old car, and he apologized for it. He said it was his brother's wife's car, a second car used to haul groceries and things."

"As the evening wore on, did you ever think of ditching him and spending time with another man?"

She reflected. "No, I didn't," she said. "Naturally, after all that developed with him, I've tried to analyze my feelings. I guess I felt comfortable with Eric. He had a sort of lost-and-lonely manner. You didn't feel sorry for him, but you sort of wanted to help him have fun. As the evening wore on, he seemed to become more confident. And more protective toward me. When other men would make plays for me, Eric warned them off. I guess a woman likes that."

"Did he get drunk? Did you?"

"No, neither of us got drunk. We drank a lot. But we both knew exactly what we were doing."

That evening, she and I dined together and talked for hours. She told me about herself. But I kept coming back to Ray. "Tell me about sex," I said. "Did you go to Ray's room at Gray Rocks?"

"I did," she answered. "And I stayed till morning."

"Well, what about him? I had concluded that he is some sort of neuter. His prison record indicates he isn't homosexual. Yet when he got out on April 23, 1967, and reached Chicago, he avoided women. So what about him?"

"Nothing unusual," she said. "My experience has been limited. But with me, I thought he acted perfectly normal."

"That seems incredible," I said. "Except for perhaps a whore in Montreal, you must have been the first woman he had been in bed with in nearly eight years. He knows nothing about women. He's a loner. A fugitive. A criminal. He doesn't belong. You must have seemed overwhelming to him. Yet you say he is perfectly normal."

"He was," she insisted. "I saw him again in Montreal, then again when he came to Ottawa. He is perfectly normal. As for how he found me, well, he was complimentary."

I smiled. "Did you see the film Never on Sunday? Where the overwhelming and generous woman puts the nervous young sailor at ease so that he can gather confidence and perform like a man and then imagine he has conquered the world? With you and Ray, it must have been something like that."

She smiled. "I saw Never on Sunday," she said. "Maybe it was like that. Except I wasn't selling anything to Eric. I was giving."

From Gray Rocks, the two women planned to visit Expo in Montreal on their way back to Ottawa. When Ray left Gray Rocks on Monday morning, August 7, he told them he had no address in Montreal, he was rushing to meet his brother, but he would get an apartment and telephone them so they could stay with him that night. During the afternoon, he telephoned, gave them the Notre Dame address, and they drove there.

"I was only briefly alone with Eric that night," she said. "The three of us spent the evening in that Acapulco Club, and I tried to teach Eric the Latin dances. He seemed much more serious, perhaps worried. He told me he wanted to come to Ottawa and talk to me about a serious matter. As for sleeping, it was ridiculous. He had tried to get another room and couldn't. So the three of us slept across his bed in his one little room. The place was not Gray Rocks: it was seedy and run-down, and Eric was embarrassed about it. When I left him next day, he said he would telephone, and he told me again that he was coming to Ottawa to talk about the serious matter. He was very serious."

FROM AUGUST 8 TO THE 18TH, Ray says he talked at least five more times with Raoul in the Neptune Tavern. And Raoul made him this proposition:

1. That Ray would meet Raoul in the railroad station at Windsor at 3 p.m. on Monday, August 21.

2. That Ray would make several trips across the border from Windsor to Detroit for Raoul, using both the bridge and the tunnel border crossings, carrying packages concealed in the old red Plymouth.

3. That Ray would then sell the Plymouth and go by train or bus to Birmingham, Ala. There, Ray would lie low, take no risks, pull no holdups, accumulate a little ID, and wait for instructions by general delivery mail.

4. That Raoul would pay "living expenses" and also come to Birmingham and buy Ray a "suitable car."

5. That after a few weeks or months, after a little joint activity, Raoul would pay Ray $12,000 and give him a passport and "other ID" and help him go "anywhere in the world."

6. That Ray would ask no questions. (Ray told me: "Every time I tried to ask Raoul a question, he told me straight to remember that he wasn't paying me to ask questions.") Raoul did, however, reveal to Ray that he (Raoul) had spent some of his time in New Orleans, and he gave Ray a New Orleans telephone number.

Ray wrote to me:

Well, I didn't know what to do. If I took Raoul's proposition, I had to go back to the States and risk the Missouri Pen again. I didn't want to do that. I had sworn I'd never go back. But I was running out of capital again, and I didn't want to risk another hold-up in Canada. I couldn't get on a ship. I couldn't get I.D. So I told Raoul okay I'd meet him in Windsor. But I didn't know then whether I'd meet him or not. The woman in Ottawa seemed to like me. She was my last chance. I hadn't had time to talk to her in Montreal about the passport. So now I was going to Ottawa and tell her something about myself, and if she'd help me get the passport, I wasn't going to meet Raoul.

"Yes, he came to see me," she said. "He had kept in touch by telephone, and he arrived here on August 19. He stayed in a motel on Montreal Road. But he was without a car. We used my car, and I rode him around and showed him the sights."

"He still had the old car," I said. "He told me that he hid it from you, and told you he was without a car, trying to play on your sympathy."

"That sounds strange," she said. "But he did seem worried. For long periods as we rode around, or while we were together at the motel, he said nothing. He just looked at me, like he was trying to get up the nerve to say something.

"I showed him where I work, and all the government buildings and the headquarters of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police."

"That's what worried him," I said. "You see, he came here to decide whether to risk telling you some of the truth and asking you to help him get a passport by swearing that you had known him for two years. He told me that he had about decided to risk you, but when you showed him where you worked, and all the government buildings, and the Mountie headquarters—well, he said he just had to conclude that if he told you the truth, you'd just naturally have to turn him down and probably deliver him to the Mounties."

As you will recall, Mr. Dwyer, Mr. Beasley, and Mr. Carlisle f this office were in Montreal and Toronto recently in their pre-rial investigation in the case of the State of Tennessee vs. James arl Ray, set for November 12, 1968, in which James Earl Ray is harged with the murder of Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. They brought ack glowing reports of the cooperation and the treatment they received rom all the persons under your command with whom they came in contact, nd were high in the praise of the efficiency of your personnel. They re particularly appreciative of the assistance rendered them by [redacted]

At this time, I respectfully request that you assign Corporals POINTAL [redacted] to interview Mr. and Mrs. Morris [redacted] Windsor, Ontario. This couple was the landlord and landlady of e Harkay Apartments in Montreal where James Earl Ray resided in July d August of 1967. We are anxious to know if Mr. [redacted] will be availa e to testify in the trial of the case here. Will you please advise?

I further respectfully request that you direct Corporal [redacted] and rporal [redacted] to check with the following witnesses to determine if id witnesses will be available to testify here at the Ray trial:

1. PAUL BRIDGMAN [redacted], [redacted]
Don Mills, Ontario, Canada

ETHEL St. Vincent GALT 2. [redacted]
Scarborough, Ontario, Canada

SUN FUNG LOU 3. [redacted],
Toronto, Ontario Canada

FELISKA STOKOWSKY 4. [redacted] 102 Ossington Avenue,
Toronto, Canada

5. MABEL AGNEW [redacted] Toronto, Ontario

6. LILLIAN ANN SPENCER [redacted] Toronto [redacted]

7. ROBERT ANNALTON [redacted] Toronto, Ontario

We ask that Corporals [redacted] LYDIA and [redacted] advise Mrs. SZPOKOWSKY [redacted] that she may bring her daughter, [redacted], with her as an interpreter while she is testifying. Also, will you ask the Corporals to advise Mrs. [redacted] that she is authorized to be accompanied by her daughter.

It will also be essential that Corporal [redacted] and Corporal [redacted] be available in Memphis as witnesses in this case, and it might be well for them to accompany the above-named witnesses. It is respectfully requested that Corporals [redacted] and [redacted] bring with them any essential evidence in this case which they have in their possession.

If the above-named persons are available to visit the United States, the State of Tennessee will pay their expenses as follows:

> Payment for transportation from their place of residence to the Point of Entry into the United States; then ten cents (10¢) a mile from the Point of Entry into the United States to Memphis, Tennessee; plus five dollars ($5.00) a day every day they are in attendance as witnesses; the State of Tennessee will pay the witnesses ten cents (10¢) a mile from Memphis to the Point of Exit from the United States and then their transportation from the Point of Exit of the United States to their place of residence.

I wish further to inform you that the said witnesses' lodging and meals during their stay here in Memphis, Tennessee will be paid for by the State of Tennessee.

When this office is notified to the effect that these witnesses are available to come to Memphis, Tennessee, I will arrange to have the funds forwarded to each witness to purchase a round trip airline ticket, tourist class, plus an incidental expense fund, in order to enable the witnesses to make said trip. This amount advanced will then be deducted from the total amount due the witnesses upon their being paid their additional witnesses' fees here in Memphis.

In view of our trial date being November 12, 1968, it is important for us to be notified as soon as possible whether these witnesses will be available to visit the United States.

Although the trial date is set for November 12th, it is not expected that the persons named above will be needed on that date, as it will probably take us some time to select a jury, and we will have other witnesses to offer in evidence prior to the need for the presence of the above-named persons. I estimate that it will be the early part of December before the presence of the above-named persons is needed, and when you notify us that the witnesses are available for attendance, we will give you and them approximately one week's advance notice in order that they might complete arrangements for their trip. It is anticipated that the presence of the above witnesses will not be needed in Memphis more than the time necessary for them to testify at the trial, and in no event will they be required for more than three or four days.

I am sincerely appreciative of your wonderful cooperation in this matter, and please feel free to call me collect if there is any question which arises.

Dear Mr. [redacted]

The trial of the State of Tennessee vs. James Earl Ray, who is charged with the murder of Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr., is set for trial in Memphis, Tennessee on November 12, 1968. You will recall, Mr. Dwyer, Mr. Beasley, and Mr. Carlise, of this office, conferred with you about this matter on October 18, 1968.

It is respectfully requested that you make the necessary arrangements to be in Memphis, Tennessee to testify for the State of Tennessee at this trial, and to bring with you the original records pertaining to the requests for birth certificates under the name of Ramon George Sneyd and Paul Bridgman.

If you are available to visit the United States, the State of Tennessee will pay your expenses as follows:

Payment for transportation from Toronto, Ontario to the Point of Entry into the United States; then ten cents (10¢) a mile from the Point of Entry into the United States to Memphis, Tennessee; plus five dollars ($5.00) a day every day you are in attendance as a witness; the State of Tennessee will pay you ten cents (10¢) a mile from Memphis to the Point of Exit from the United States and then your transportation from the Point of Exit of the United States to Toronto, Ontario.

I wish further to inform you that your lodging and meals during your stay here in Memphis, Tennessee will be paid for by the State of Tennessee.

When this office is notified to the effect that you are available to come to Memphis, Tennessee, I will arrange to have the funds forwarded to you to purchase a round trip airline ticket, tourist class, plus an incidental expense fund, in order to enable you to make said trip. This amount advanced will then be deducted from the total amount due you upon being paid your additional witness' fees here in Memphis.

In view of our trial date being November 12, 1968, it is important for us to be notified as soon as possible whether you will be available to visit the United States.

Commanding Officer
Seward Air Force Base

Dear Sir:

On November 12, 1968, we expect to start the trial of the State of Tennessee vs. James Earl Ray, who is accused of the slaying of Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr.

A material witness JOHN W. DESHAZO in this case for the State of Tennessee is Captain [redacted] whose present address is Box 7500, Hospital Tachikawa, APO San Francisco, California 96323. It is my understanding that this hospital is located on the edge of Tokyo, Japan. Captain [redacted] DESHAZO is on duty as a dentist at said hospital.

I have been advised by the Department of Justice that in order to have Captain [redacted] DESHAZO returned to the United States by November 12, 1968, it would be necessary to make the arrangements through your command. Will you please advise if you can so return Captain [redacted] DESHAZO to the United States by November 12th and notify us where he will be stationed in the United States in order that we might contact him and procure his attendance as a witness at the aforementioned trial?

We would not want Captain [redacted] DESHAZO to spend any more time in Memphis than necessary, and since he would not be called upon until after the jury has been selected in this case, if it could be arranged for him to be stationed in the United States, commencing approximately November 12, 1968, we could notify Captain [redacted] several days prior to his appearance in Court, and thereby restrict the amount of time Captain [redacted] DESHAZO would have to spend here.

I would certainly appreciate any and all assistance you could render in this matter and await your advice.

Respectfully yours,

Phil M. Canale Jr.

Washington, D.C. 20530

Dear Mr. Shapiro:

The trial of the State of Tennessee vs. James Earl Ray, who is accused of slaying Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr., is set for November 12, 1968. One of the material witnesses for the State of Tennessee in this trial will be Mrs. MANUELA TEIXEIRA LOPES, c/o CANADIAN [redacted] Portugal.

EMBASSY IN LISBON

It is respectfully requested that your office request that an invitation be extended to Mrs. Lopes through the United States Department of State to the Canadian Foreign Office, to attend as a witness for the State of Tennessee, the trial of the State vs. James Earl Ray.

If permission is granted to allow Mrs. LOPES [redacted] to visit the United States, the State of Tennessee will pay her expenses as follows:

Payment for transportation from LISBON [redacted] Portugal to the Point of Entry into the United States; then ten cents (10¢) a mile from the Point of Entry into the United States to Memphis, Tennessee; plus five dollars ($5.00) a day every day she is in attendance as a witness; the State of Tennessee will pay the witness ten cents (10¢) a mile from Memphis to the Point of Exit from the United States and then her transportation from the Point of Exit of the United States to Lisbon, Portugal.

I wish further to inform you that the said witness' lodging and meals during her stay here in Memphis, Tennessee will be paid for by the State of Tennessee.

When this office is notified to the effect that permission is granted and the witness is available to come to Memphis, Tennessee, I will arrange to have the funds forwarded to her to purchase a round trip ticket, tourist class, plus an incidental expense fund, in order to enable the witness to make said airline trip. This amount advanced will then be deducted from the total amount due the witness upon her being paid her additional witness' fees here in Memphis.

In view of our trial date being November 12, 1968, it is important for us to be notified as soon as possible whether the permission for this witness to enter the United States will be granted.

Although the trial date is set for November 12th, it is not expected that Mrs. [redacted] will be needed on that date, as it will probably take us some time to select a jury, and we will have other witnesses to offer in evidence prior to the need for the presence of Mrs. [redacted] I estimate that it will be the early part of December before the presence of Mrs. [redacted] is needed, and when you notify us that permission has been granted for her attendance, we will give her one week's advance notice in order that she might complete arrangements for her trip. Commissioner [redacted]
New Scotland Yard
London, England

WALDRON
Dear Commissioner [redacted]

This office is expecting to commence the prosecution on November 12, 1968, in Memphis, Tennessee, United States of America, of the case of the State of Tennessee vs. James Earl Ray, who is accused of slaying Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr.

As you will recall, three men from this office recently visited London pursuant to their pre-trial investigation of this matter, and I wish to express to you and to the men in your command, my and their sincere appreciation for the excellent manner in which they were received and the excellent cooperation given them.

We have determined that the following witnesses will be needed from London to testify in this prosecution:

1. Detective Chief Superintendent THOMAS BUTLER [redacted]
2. Chief Inspector [redacted]
3. Chief Inspector [redacted]
   (bring Hotel Registration Book with him)
4. Chief Inspector [redacted]
   (bring fingerprint records with him)
5. Detective Sergeant [redacted] PHILIP BIRCH
6. Detective Sergeant [redacted]

It is also respectfully requested that you direct Detective Sergeant [redacted] to alert the following civilian witnesses in London that they will also be needed to testify in this matter:

MISS MONICA BAKER 1. [redacted] Walton on Thames

DORIS CATHERINE ASTWOOD 2. Mrs. [redacted]
London, England

ANNA ELIZABETH THOMAS 3. Mrs. [redacted], London, England

JANET ELIZABETH MISSA U 4. Miss [redacted] 29 Earl's Court Square, SW 5, London, England

cc:

The State of Tennessee will provide the following for the ten (10) above-named witnesses:

Payment for transportation from London, England to the Point of Entry into the United States; then ten cents (10¢) a mile from the Point of Entry into the United States to Memphis, Tennessee; plus five dollars ($5.00) a day every day they are in attendance as witnesses; the State of Tennessee will pay the witnesses ten cents (10¢) a mile from Memphis to the Point of Exit from the United States and then their transportation from the Point of Exit of the United States to London, England.

I wish further to inform you that the said witnesses' lodging and meals during their stay here in Memphis, Tennessee will be paid for by the State of Tennessee.

When this office is notified to the effect that the witnesses are available to come to Memphis, Tennessee, I will arrange to have the funds forwarded to each witness to purchase a round trip airline ticket, tourist class, plus an incidental expense fund, in order to enable the witnesses to make said trip. This amount advanced will then be deducted from the total amount due the witnesses upon their being paid their additional witnesses' fees here in Memphis.

In view of our trial date being November 12, 1968, it is important for us to be notified as soon as possible whether the witnesses will be available to come to the United States.

Although the trial date is set for November 12th, it is not expected that the persons named above will be needed on that date, as it will probably take us some time to select a jury, and we will have other witnesses to offer in evidence prior to the need for the presence of the above-named persons. I estimate that it will be the early part of December before the presence of the above-named persons is needed, and when you notify us that they are available for attendance, we will give you and them approximately one week's advance notice in order that they might complete arrangements for their trip. It is anticipated that the presence of the above witnesses will not be needed in Memphis more than the time necessary for them to testify at the trial, and in no event will they be required for more than three or four days.

With my personal thanks to you for your wonderful cooperation in this matter, I remain,

Sincerely yours,

Dear Chief SIMMONDS:

RAMON GEORGE SNEYD

The trial of the State of Tennessee vs. James Earl Ray, who is charged with the slaying of Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr., is set for trial in Memphis, Tennessee, United States of America, on November 12, 1968. Mr. [redacted] 1731 Victoria Park Avenue, Apartment 102, Toronto, Ontario, Canada, is a material witness in this case. It is respectfully requested that you grant permission for Mr. [redacted] to come to Memphis, Tennessee to be a witness in this matter.

SNEYD

If permission is granted to allow the above-named person to visit the United States, the State of Tennessee will pay his expenses as follows:

Payment for transportation from Toronto, Ontario to the Point of Entry into the United States; then ten cents (10¢) a mile from the Point of Entry into the United States to Memphis, Tennessee; plus five dollars ($5.00) a day every day that he is in attendance as a witness; the State of Tennessee will pay the witness ten cents (10¢) a mile from Memphis to the Point of Exit from the United States and then his transportation from the Point of Exit of the United States to Toronto, Ontario.

I wish further to inform you that the said witness' lodging and meals during his stay here in Memphis, Tennessee will be paid for by the State of Tennessee.

Action Being Asked Against Huie, Look

Criminal Court Judge W. Preston Battle's legal advisory committee in the James Earl Ray case has recommended contempt action against Alabama author William Bradford Huie and the publishers of Look magazine.

Huie, who says he is under contract to write Ray's biography, was cited for an article that ran in the Nov. 12 issue of Look, which came out last week, and also for an interview reported in the Commercial Appeal Nov. 1.

The Committee, in a report filed yesterday, said there is "probable cause" the writer and Cowles Publications as well as "others closely connected with or interested in the case" had violated the court's orders restricting pre-trial publicity.

The other parties were not identified in the report. The Look article, based on what Huie said were written interviews with Ray, hinted of a conspiracy in the assassination of Dr. Martin Luther King, with Ray playing the role of an unknowing dupe. The magazine said the article was the first of several installments.

The newspaper story quoted Huie as saying the FBI was on the trail of other suspects in the crime. Ray's trial is scheduled to begin a week from today in Judge Battle's court.

The committee urged the court to require Huie and the other parties to show cause why they should not be held in contempt "at such time as the above parties are within the jurisdiction of the court" and after the jury has been selected.

Judge W. Preston Battle's Criminal Court.

Meanwhile, the attorney general's office was reported to be concerned about the source of another story that appeared last week in the National Enquirer, a weekly newspaper published in New York and sold on Memphis newsstands.

The story quoted Ray in a question-answer interview but did not say how the interview was obtained. Ray was quoted in one response as saying he was in Memphis the day before but not on the day of Dr. King's murder.

How the newspaper obtained answers to its questions posed a mystery. Sheriff William Morris said Ray has been allowed no visitors in county jail other than his attorneys.

Judge Battle previously gave Hanes permission to submit written questions to Ray for Huie. He ruled that guards could not read the material passing back and forth between the prisoner and Hanes but merely inspect it to see that it contained no drawings or diagrams which might breach security.

The arrangement was opposed by Robert K. Dwyer, executive assistant attorney general, who argued close censorship was necessary to prevent security leaks.

Readers To Get Best Seat At Ray Trial

In this century there has been a handful of American trials internationally regarded as history makers.

Tuesday, another will be added to the list. A 9:30 a.m. on that day the trial of James Earl Ray, a Missouri State Penitentary escapee charged in the murder of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., will begin. The world will watch and listen — and read.

Since a high-powered rifle cracked at 6:01 p.m. April 4 and a bullet penetrated the jaw of Dr. King, The Commercial Appeal has assigned many men and devoted many manhours to the job of keeping its readers informed of all the developments in a case that required one of the most extensive manhunts the world has ever witnessed.

The men who are the most familiar with the case, those who were working when the shot was fired and wrote about the crime and the funeral, the manhunt and the capture, the return to Memphis and a cell in the Shelby County Jail, will be our readers' eyes and ears beginning Tuesday.

Angus McEachran, assistant metropolitan editor, will direct this newspaper's staff of writers, photographers and artists who will cover the trial from the Criminal Courts Building.

Mr. McEachran, who has directed a majority of the coverage of this case, went to London June 8 when Scotland Yard arrested Ray. For a week his daily reports captured a part of the complicated and mysterious life of James Earl Ray. Born in Memphis, Mr. McEachran has built a reputation for enterprising news stories and skillful writing. He attended George Washington University and Memphis State.

Charles Edmundson, veteran court reporter, will provide a running account of the trial from the seat reserved for The Commercial Appeal. Mr. Edmundson's first taste of courtroom coverage came at the Scopes trial or the Dayton Monkey Trial at Dayton, Tenn., in 1925. Taking military training at Fort Oglethrope, Ga., he got leave to cover the climactic days of the test of Tennessee's law against the teaching of evolution for a now defunct Knoxville newspaper.

Mr. Edmundson, a Nieman Fellow at Harvard and a graduate of the University of Tennessee, also covered the trial of the Scottsboro Negroes, charged with criminal assault, at Decatur, Ala., in 1932. At the conclusion of the case Judge James E. Horton declared the jury's guilty verdict "unsupported by evidence" and set it aside. The judge was never elected to public office again. Mr. Edmundson has had a distinguished journalistic career that has brought him worldwide assignments from The Commercial Appeal, The St. Louis Post-Dispatch, Fortune magazine and The United States Foreign Service.

Staff writer Gregory Jaynes, who was sent to Toronto after the capture of Ray and who, like Mr. McEachran, pieced together a side of the life of the accused slayer, will describe the drama surrounding the trial, concentrating on events outside the courtroom.

Mr. Jaynes has another reason for attending the trial. He has been subpenaed by the defense as a result of his reporting minutes after the death of Dr. King. Mr. Jaynes was born in Florence, Ala. He attended Memphis State.

Others accredited to cover the trial for this newspaper include Jimmie Covington, also a veteran court reporter and assistant metropolitan editor; photographers Robert Williams and Fred Griffith.

The Commercial Appeal's coverage also will include the dispatches of The New York Times News Service and The Commercial Appeal-Chicago Daily News Service as well as the Associated Press and United Press International.

In a cooperative effort with leading national and foreign newspapers, The Commercial Appeal and Memphis Press-Scimitar have arranged for pool transcripts of the testimony. The court has supported this plan to help make up for the lack of space in the courtroom.

It all adds up to a first-rate effort for our readers. It is an effort that was begun at 6:01 p.m. April 4. It will continue until the case is closed.

Ray Trial Defense To Report 'Ready'

King Murder Case To Go To Court Tuesday

The defense will announce ready when Division 3 of the Shelby County Criminal Court opens Tuesday morning for the trial of James Earl Ray, chief defense counsel Arthur Hanes Sr. said yesterday.

Mr. Hanes and his co-counsel, Arthur Hanes Jr., were in Memphis yesterday for a conference with their client and defense witnesses. They said that Ray, charged with the murder of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. here April 4, is in good condition. They conferred with him for more than an hour in his cell at the Shelby County Jail..

Mr. Hanes declined to comment on reports that he would ask Judge W. Preston Battle, chosen to conduct the trial, to recuse himself in favor of another judge. Mr. Hanes is reported to feel Judge Battle showed prejudice in the degree by which he has sought to limit pretrial comment by counsel.

The first week of the trial is expected to be taken up with the choice of a jury. Although nearly 700 veniremen were chosen at the beginning of the fall term of court, a special venire is expected to be required. Supplementary veniremen are not expected to be called until it becomes clear the regular venire will be exhausted.

Of a list of 300 prospective witnesses earlier submitted to Circuit Court Clerk James A. Blackwell, about 120 have been subpenaed. Receiving subpenas today, at the request of the defense, will be Fire and Police Director Frank Holloman, Patrolman W. B. Richmond, Vester L. Moore, a former City Park ranger, and Thomas Fox, a reporter for The Commercial Appeal.

On October 17, 1968, [redacted] Navy Serial Number [redacted] assigned to the USS ORION, telephonically advised that approximately six weeks prior to that date his wife, [redacted] from whom he is separated, made several statements to him indicating that she and another individual, with whom she was living in a common-law status, had stolen a rented car from Florida and were wanted in several states for armed robbery and other crimes. He stated that although his wife had tried to commit suicide on several occasions, he felt that she was mentally unstable and armed with several weapons. He further stated that his wife told him that she had knowledge of the person's identity who killed Dr. MARTIN LUTHER KING, JR., that this individual received $500,000.00 for the assassination, and was hiding out in the State of Florida.

On October 30, 1968, [redacted] was interviewed at the Norfolk Office of the Federal Bureau of Investigation at which time she admitted being separated from her husband and further admitted that she had told her husband that she and the individual, with whom she was living in a common-law status, had committed several armed robberies and also that she had information regarding the individual who assassinated Dr. MARTIN LUTHER KING, JR. She admitted that she had made the statement to her husband that this individual had received $500,000.00 and was hiding out in the State of Florida, but further admitted that these statements were all lies that she had fabricated and that she only told them to her husband inasmuch as he had lied to her on previous occasions about his activities. She admitted that she had told these things to her husband in order to obtain sympathy from him, but stated that she did not, in fact, have any information whatsoever regarding the assassination of Dr. MARTIN LUTHER KING, JR.

[redacted] further admitted that she is presently out on bond for insufficient funds checks being cashed at Norfolk and further stated that she did not, in fact, try to commit suicide in 1967, while residing in Florida.

The "Commercial Appeal," a Memphis, Tennessee, morning newspaper, on Friday, October 25, on Page 25, carried an article captioned "FBI Aide Cited by Court Panel." This article restates in general the information previously attributed to [redacted] of Washington, a senior fingerprint expert. The article continues by stating that [redacted] was ordered to show cause on December 6 why he should not be adjudged in contempt for violation of a criminal court order limiting pre-trial publicity in the case of JAMES EARL RAY. The charge reportedly is based on an interview with Mr. [redacted] published in the September 11 issue of the "Wichita Beacon," Wichita, Kansas. This information which appeared in the "Wichita Beacon" has previously been furnished to the Bureau.

In addition, the article states that "In Washington, a Justice Department spokesman said there would be no comment before Judge Battle's attested order reaches Washington." The article further quotes from the "Katzenbach Guidelines" governing utterances of department personnel.

Xerox copies of the newspaper article are enclosed.

Copies of the petition for contempt have previously been furnished for the Bureau's assistance and guidance. Two copies of the petition, which was actually filed on 10/24/68, are attached hereto for the Bureau's information. The only additions to this petition are Xerox copies of the newspaper articles which are labeled "Exhibit A," "Exhibit B," and "Exhibit C." Battle Orders Fingerprint Expert To Show Cause In Publicity Order

[redacted] of Washington, a senior FBI fingerprint expert, was ordered yesterday to show cause on Dec. 6 why he should not be adjudged in contempt for violation of a Criminal Court order limiting pretrial publicity in the case of James Earl Ray.

Criminal Court Judge W. Preston Battle ordered Mr. [redacted] to appear before him on that date for the contempt hearing. Judge Battle said it was impracticable to hold the hearing before Ray's trial, set for Nov. 12.

[redacted] is expected to be a key witness, giving fingerprint testimony, as the prosecution presents its case. Ray is charged with the deer-rifle slaying of Dr. Mrstin Luther King here April 4.

Judge Battle cited Mr. [redacted] upon the recommendation of an amici curiae committee of the Memphis and Shelby County Bar Association. The committee, headed by Lucius, Burch, advised Judge Battle it believes "[redacted] had actual knowledge of the aforesaid orders, decrees and injunctions issued by this court . . . Your petitioners aver therefore that there is strong cause to believe that respondent [redacted] is in contempt."

The charge is based on an interview with Mr. [redacted] published in the Sept. 11 issue of the Wichita (Kan.) Beacon. Mr. [redacted] was quoted as saying Ray's fingerprints were found near the scene of Dr. King's murder in Memphis.

"There is no doubt in my mind that Ray at least handled the murder weapon," Mr. [redacted] was quoted as saying. He was in Wichita to speak on fingerprint identification at a police seminar.

In Washington, a Justice Department spokesman said there would be no comment before Judge Battle's attested order reaches Washington. But he read the "Katzenback Guidelines" governing utter-

"Disclosure of such matters to the public before trial can be deeply prejudicial without any significant addition to the public's need to be informed."

Mr. [redacted] is the fifth man to be charged with contempt of Judge Battle's pretrial publicity order. Ray's chief defense counsel and an investigator employed by him and two Memphis reporters were convicted Sept. 30 of contempt with sentence deferred.

"All lawyers participating in this case, their assistants, associates, staff members, investigators and employees under their supervision and control,

PETITION FOR CONTEMPT

TO THE HONORABLE W. PRESTON BATTLE, JUDGE OF THE CRIMINAL COURT OF SHELBY COUNTY, TENNESSEE, DIVISION THREE:

Your petitioners, Amici Curiae, show unto the Court as follows:

That petitioners are the duly appointed and acting Amici Curiae; having been so appointed by order of this Court on July 29, 1968;

That heretofore the Court on July 18, 1968 entered an order on Courthouse and Courtroom Procedures and Publicity, and on July 23, 1968 said Court entered an amendment to said order.

Further, under date of July 30, 1968, said Court supplemented said orders by a further order of Court prohibiting and enjoining the perpetration of certain specific acts in connection with the above-styled causes.

That all three of said orders are part of the record in these causes and, among other things, contain the following language in the order of July 30, 1968:

> "All lawyers participating in this case, their assistants, associates, staff members, investigators and employees under their supervision and control, County Medical Examiner, Jury Commissioners, Criminal Court Clerk, County Sheriff, Police Officials and other law enforcement officers, employees of this Court and all other persons employed in the 'Criminal Courts Buildings', their associates, deputies, assistants, staff members and personnel under their supervision and control, are forbidden to take part in interviews or press conferences for publicity and are enjoined from making extra-judicial statements about this case which . . ."

That said order of July 30, 1968 further prohibited all persons under the purview of said order from taking part in interviews or press conferences for publicity and enjoined them from making extra-judicial statements about this case which involve:

> "(4) the comments of the Declarant about the merits of the case and about any evidence which may be presented;"

Further, said order of July 30, 1968 contained the following paragraph:

> "All persons or entities subject to this Order who feel aggrieved by anything herein contained are hereby admonished that any such grievances or complaints should be judicially presented."

That there appeared in the Commercial Appeal, a newspaper of general circulation in Memphis, Shelby County, Tennessee, under date of Wednesday morning, October 16, 1968, an article under the heading: "Lecture By FBI Agent Angers Ray's Attorney", the one in which George Bonebrake, an FBI fingerprint specialist, is quoted. A copy of said item is attached hereto as "Exhibit A" and made a part of this petition.

That under date of Wednesday, October 16, 1968, there appeared in the Memphis Press Scimitar, a newspaper of general circulation in Memphis, Shelby County, Tennessee, an item entitled: "Hanes Denounces Court Group as 'Hypocrites'", in which said George Bonebrake is again quoted. A copy of said item is likewise attached hereto as "Exhibit B" and made a part of this petition.

That there appeared in the Commercial Appeal under date of Thursday, October 17, 1968, under the heading: "Hanes Resumes Verbal Onslaught", an item which again quoted the said George Bonebrake. A copy of said item is attached hereto as "Exhibit C" and made a part of this petition.

That your petitioners believe that the said George Bonebrake is a resident citizen of Washington, D. C., and is not amenable at this time to the processes of this Court, but that your petitioners respectfully recommend to the Court that should their prayer for the issuance of a Scire Facias for a show cause order as hereinafter set out be granted by this Honorable Court against the said George Bonebrake, that a copy of this petition be mailed to the Honorable Ramsey Clark, the Attorney General of the United States, Department of Justice, by whom your petitioners believe said George Bonebrake is employed, requesting the said George Bonebrake to submit himself voluntarily to the jurisdiction of this Court so that a fair and proper hearing may be held. That, in the event said voluntary submission is not forthcoming, your petitioners recommend that this Court issue said processes at such time that said George Bonebrake shall come into and be within the jurisdiction of this Court.

That your petitioners believe the respondent herein named, George Bonebrake, had actual knowledge of the aforesaid orders, decrees and injunctions issued by this Court.

Petitioners aver, therefore, that there is strong cause to believe that respondent, George Bonebrake, is in contempt of the orders and injunctions of this Court by reason of the aforesaid articles and acts as alleged and that he should be cited to appear and show cause, if any he has, why he should not be held in contempt of this Court.

WHEREFORE, PREMISES CONSIDERED, PETITIONERS PRAY:

1. That proper process issue demanding George Bonebrake to appear before this Honorable Court and show cause, if any he has, why he should not be adjudged in contempt of this Court and its orders and, upon the hearing of said cause, the Court enter such other orders as may be proper in the premises.

2. For such other and further relief as the Court may feel right and proper under the circumstances.

File this petition and issue scire facias upon the petition ordering the respondent, George Bonebrake, to appear before this Court on the 12th day of December, 1968, at 9:30 A.M. o'clock to show cause why he should not be adjudged in contempt of this Court for violation and disobedience of the Court's orders.

examination of items of evidence the attorney general's office has been ordered to make available to him.

In an interview Mr. Hanes declared that prosecution witnesses have been making public statements "convicting my client and we have had no chance to counter them."

He cited a lecture by George Bonebrake, an FBI fingerprint specialist, in Wichita, Kan., Sept. 11 and quoted on Page One of the Wichita Beacon.

The Beacon identified Mr. Bonebrake as the man who "led the search through thousands of fingerprints on file with the FBI headquarters in Washington seeking identification of the killer." Mr. Bonebrake also testified at the extradition hearing for Ray in London in July.

"I was able to testify," Mr. Bonebrake was quoted as saying in Wichita, "that the latent fingerprints we found in Memphis matched those taken of the man arrested in London, and that the same prints matched those taken of James Earl Ray while he was at the Missouri Penitentiary."

Using a chart to compare "latent fingerprints" with "ink fingerprints," Mr. Bonebrake added, "This is what I did in London. I was able to show that the latent prints obtained in Memphis, the ones taken in London and the ones taken of Ray at the Missouri prison were all the same."

Mr. Bonebrake was addressing a Wichita area police seminar on fingerprint identification. In Washington yesterday the FBI said Mr. Bonebrake was out of town and not available for comment.

Frank Garofolo, assistant city editor of the Wichita Beacon, said yesterday that newsmen were permitted to attend the lecture and nothing was put off the record at the police seminar. A major in the Wichita Police Department objected the next day, Mr. Garofolo said, that the speech had been quoted too much in detail.

Judge W. Preston Battle has acknowledged earlier that his power to limit publicity applied only in the boundaries of his judicial district (Shelby County).

The order has a differing effect, Mr. Hanes said.

Mr. Hanes said Judge Battle's order restricting pre-trial interviews is inconsistent with a statement by the judge that he has seen criminal cases "drenched in publicity" but ending with a "just result."

Judge Battle made the statement in denying a defense contention that widespread publicity before issuance of his order had made a fair trial impossible.

Like the Harper Valley P-TA, Attorney Charges

...ess Denounces Court Group as ...ypocrites

Arthur J. Hanes, attorney for James Earl Ray, seeked it to a court-appointed committee in the Dr. Martin Luther King murder case today, calling them a "committee of Harper Valley P-TA hypocrites."

The reference is to the hit record, "Harper Valley P-TA," which recounts the tale of a mini-skirted widowed wife told by the P-TA that "as a mother, you're not fit." She wore her miniskirt to the next meeting and "seeked it to the Harper Valley P-TA," recounting the vices of the members and branding them as "Harper Valley hypocrites."

Hanes called the committee 'hypocrites' because he contends that representatives of those prosecuting Ray are being allowed to make statements about the case while he has been criticized for making comments.

The seven-lawyer committee, headed by Lucius Burch, recommended to Judge Preston Battle that Hanes be required to show cause why he should not be held in contempt of Battle's order restricting pre-trial publicity. Battle held Hanes, a private detective in his employ and two newspaper reporters, in contempt but has not passed sentence.

"Sheriff (William) Morris said in a press conference that the man's (Ray's) cell is fine. I said I disagreed. Atty. Gen. Ramsey Clark stated on television that Ray committed this crime with no conspiracy involved," Hanes said.

"I suppose if I had opened my mouth and agreed with Ramsey Clark and Sheriff Morris, nothing would have been said about it. Nothing would have been heard from Mr. Burch's committee of Harper Valley P-TA hypocrites."

Hanes said he had not filed a plea to set aside Battle's decision in the contempt hearing. "I'm going to wait and see if he sentences me. I may at that time appeal. Still, on the other hand, whatever he decided to mete out to me, I could take it as long as that bunch (the committee) could live with their consciences."

Other members of the legal committee are J. Alan Hanover, Cooper Turner Jr., James D. Causey, Lee Bearman Jr., Lee A. Hamilton and Don Owens.

The Birmingham attorney flew to Memphis yesterday to continue his examination of the evidence the state is expected to introduce when Ray goes on trial Nov. 12 on a murder charge in the April 4 slaying of Dr. King.

Hanes complained that Battle's court order limiting publicity favors the prosecution and only limits the defense. He cited an interview with George Donohue, an [illegible] long as that bunch (the committee) could live with their consciences."

Donohue was quoted as saying that "FBI agents obtained 'good' latent prints from a rifle believed used to kill Dr. King, from a telescopic sight on the rifle and from a pair of binoculars found at the scene."

us," Bonebrake was quoted. "We had several names to go on but we didn't know which one was correct. Ray had purchased a car under the name of Galt, bought the rifle under another name and registered in Memphis using the name John Willard."

The story quoted Bonebrake as saying he expected to go to Memphis to testify on the fingerprint identification during Ray's coming trial. "There's no doubt in my mind that he (Ray) at least handled the murder weapon," he was quoted.

NO COMMENT

Bonebrake was in Wichita speaking to an area seminar on fingerprint identification for law enforcement agencies. A FBI spokesman said in Washington today that Bonebrake was out on assignment and was not available for comment. "We are not making any comment on that case whatsoever unless it was public knowledge," the spokesman said.

"Everybody seems to be leaning toward the prosecution. All the court officials seem to be," Hanes said.

"Three thousand FBI agents working on the case, the resources of the state of Tennessee, the press and this community are working to ensure that the state of Tennessee gets a fair trial.

"I am the only one standing between my client and the great forces of government. I will not be intimidated.

"It is pretty easy to admonish an unpopular lawyer who has an unpopular client and an unpopular case, to look upon him with disfavor.

"I never heard of a judge criticizing a sheriff or a prosecutor they live with and do business with every day."

Hanes said he did not believe his latest statements were in violation of Battle's anti-publicity order.

"I have not said anything, nor will I say anything, going to the merits of the case," he said. "But I will say this, that when a lawyer is overcome by timidity in criticizing the courts we have lost a lot of individual freedom in this country.

"We should guard against any person or any court being immune to criticism. The time is past when a person or a committee can mount a pedestal, adjust his halo and say don't criticize my actions.

"In my opinion the flames of justice have flickered mighty low in the headwinds of the great forces which have been amassed against my client."

Hanes said he had complained to Battle about a picture released by Morris showing the sheriff leading a handcuffed Ray into jail. "It depicted him (Ray) as some kind of dangerous animal dragged from his cave," Hanes said.

"I asked the judge to let me have a photographer come in and photograph him as a normal human being. This was denied. I feel if the sheriff had a right to release the photograph, we certainly had the right to release one showing him as he normally is."

Hanes said he planned to [illegible]

Earlier in the case, Thompson was reported to be under consideration as associate counsel in Ray's defense, but Hanes later denied it.

Thompson confirmed

Hanes was in his office in connection with preliminary work he had done previously but declined further comment.

Hanes' visit, however, again led to speculation that Thompson would become associated with him.

Hanes Resumes Verbal Onslaught

Cites Story Quoting FBI Linking Ray, Prints

The attorney for James Earl Ray, charged with murdering Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., renewed his verbal onslaught against a court order to limit pretrial publicity in the case.

Arthur J. Hanes conceded that Criminal Court Judge W. Preston Battle, who has held him in contempt, has the right to forbid him to discuss the "merits of the case against Ray. But he can't get after me, according to the Reardon report, for commenting on other things."

"Other things," according to Mr. Hanes, embraces the conditions of Ray's imprisonment in the Shelby County Jail, the release of only one photo of Ray, showing him shackled and manacled, and the unsuccessful effort of a Ku Klux Klan attorney from Georgia to become associated in Ray's defense.

Judge Battle's order he said, has not prevented an FBI spokesman from giving interviews pointing to Ray as Dr. King's slayer.

Tuesday Mr. Hanes cited a story in the Wichita (Kan.) Beacon quoting George Donebrake, an FBI fingerprint expert, as saying fingerprints taken of Ray in London matched "latent fingerprints" taken by detectives in Memphis shortly after Dr. King was slain on a motel balcony here last April.

A dispatch from Wichita said that, besides making the speech at a police seminar there on fingerprint identification, Mr. Donebrake said in an [illegible] weapon."

"Exhibit C"

The earliest date hearing on this matter could be heard would be November 1, only eleven (11) days before the Ray trial.

The reason for orders on publicity and hearings on their alleged violation is to deter prejudicial publicity from infecting the community from which the jury must be drawn. In the nature of things, hearings on alleged violations of publicity orders result in pervasive dissemination of prejudicial publicity and are, to that extent, self-defeating. For these reasons, this matter has been set for hearing after the Ray trial.

This is the case involving the murder of Martin Luther King, Jr.

The sheriff at Shelby County, Memphis, Tennessee, has advised that subject James Earl Ray has dismissed his attorney Arthur Hanes and has secured the services of Percy Foreman. ECT MURKIN--COST DATA

There is attached an airtel from the SAC at Memphis re captioned matter indicating that unless advised to the contrary by the Bureau the Memphis Division will, following a submission of October cost figures, discontinue furnishing such data. The basis for such action is that since the subject RAY is in local custody and the State trial is about to commence, there remains very little, if any, investigation to be conducted.

This office agrees with the SAC at Memphis that cost records on this case should be discontinued.

RECOMMENDATION:

It is recommended that this memorandum be referred to the Investigative Division for their views on discontinuing furnishing of cost data on this case.

It is anticipated that a number of Agents will be subpoenaed for testimony in the state trial of James Earl Ray in Memphis, Tennessee, scheduled for November 12, 1968. This, of course, will involve travel and per diem expenditures.

It is not anticipated that substantial costs will incur from investigation in this case in the future, and in view of this, it is recommended that cost records on this case be discontinued.

ReButel to Memphis, 4/17/68, concerning cost data.

Inasmuch as subject RAY is in local custody, that the state trial in this matter is about to commence and that there remains very little, if any at all, additional investigation to be conducted in this matter, the Bureau is requested to authorize the Memphis Division to discontinue the submission of the monthly cost data figures in instant matter.

The monthly cost data for the month of October, 1968, will be submitted. UACB, the Memphis Division will, following the submission of the October cost figures, advise the other field divisions to discontinue furnishing the Memphis Division with this information.

James Squires, Assistant Editor, "Nashville Tennessean," who in the past has been interested in the Warren Commission Report on the Kennedy assassination, advised he is covering the trial of James Earl Ray at Memphis, Tennessee.

Squires advised that he recently received a telephone call from Winnipeg, Manitoba, Canada, and the caller identified himself as Donald Steward Appell, an investigator, employed by one Richard "Dick" Giesbrecht. According to Squires, Giesbrecht is under the opinion that "Raoul" is identical with a blond Latin seaman that Giesbrecht had overheard discussing the Kennedy assassination in 1964. It is noted that President Kennedy was assassinated in November of 1963 and the conversation was overheard in 1964.

A copy of the communication received from Memphis regarding James Squires is enclosed for the information of Legat, Ottawa.

Bureau files indicate that an article appears in the 1-28-68, issue of the "National Enquirer" newspaper entitled "Suppressed JFK Evidence" relating to information furnished by one Richard Giesbrecht. The "National Enquirer" is a well-known, sex-type newspaper. It is totally unreliable and is known to feature wild sensational stories. The article that appeared in the "National Enquirer" is no exception to this.

The article reports that Richard Giesbrecht, a Canadian insurance salesman, claims to have overheard a conversation in 1964 which proves Lee Harvey Oswald had not acted alone in the Kennedy assassination. The information as provided by Giesbrecht was included in a report which was disseminated to the Warren Commission. Logical investigation by the Bureau disproved numerous parts of Giesbrecht's allegation and failed to confirm verifiable portions of his story.

Bureau's investigation subsequently indicated that Giesbrecht was attempting to sell his story to a radio station in North Dakota. Giesbrecht stated to his radio station that he felt the story he had to sell would be buried by the Royal Canadian Mounted Police (RCMP), and that the Canadian papers were not big enough to handle it. Personnel at the radio station described Giesbrecht as a beer-drinking type, childlike and one who felt he could possibly obtain some money from his story. [redacted]

This communication also requesting Legat, Ottawa to furnish Bureau results of investigation being conducted by RCMP regarding other aspects. Ray had several dates with a female in Canada prior to the assassination of Martin Luther King, Jr., and the RCMP is currently conducting an investigation concerning all aspects. SYNOPSIS:

This is the case involving the murder of Martin Luther King, Jr.

James Squires, Assistant Editor, "Nashville Tennessean," who in the past has been interested in the Warren Commission Report on the Kennedy assassination, advised he is covering the trial of James Earl Ray at Memphis. Squires received a telephone call from Canada and caller identified himself as Donald Stewart Appell, an investigator employed by one Richard "Dick" Giesbrecht. Appell asked questions of Squires concerning the particular aspect of James Earl Ray being approached in Montreal, Canada, by individual named "Raoul." Recent issue of "Look" Magazine carried an account of an individual by the name of "Raoul" in which Ray and "Raoul" were endeavoring to make some type of deal concerning a "joint activity" for which "Raoul" would pay Ray $12,000. Activity not fully described but Ray was to transport packages between United States and Canada, and possibility exists that packages could contain contraband such as narcotics. Appell advised that Giesbrecht of opinion that "Raoul" is identical with a blond, Latin seaman that Giesbrecht had heard discussing the Kennedy assassination (conversation overheard in 1964). We previously had this information concerning the Kennedy assassination and logical investigation disproved numerous parts of Giesbrecht's allegation and failed to confirm verifiable portions of story. President Kennedy assassinated in November of 1963.

DETAILS: This is the case involving the murder of Martin Luther King, Jr.

James Squires, Assistant Editor, "Nashville Tennessean," who in the past has been interested in the Warren Commission Report on the Kennedy assassination, advised he is covering the trial of James Earl Ray at Memphis and has done some research in connection with the Ray matter (nature of research not provided).

Squires advised that he recently received a telephone call from Winnipeg, Manitoba, Canada, and the caller identified himself as Donald Stewart Appell, an investigator employed by one Richard "Dick" Giesbrecht. According to Squires, Appell began asking questions concerning James Earl Ray particularly the aspect of Ray being approached by a blond, Latin man in Montreal, Canada, named "Raoul."

It is noted that the recent issue of "Look" Magazine carried an article authored by William Bradford Huie and the article in part contains an account of an individual by the name of "Raoul." This individual and Ray, according to the article were endeavoring to make some type of deal concerning a "joint activity" for which "Raoul" would pay Ray $12,000. The specific nature of the "joint activity" is not fully described or identified but Ray was to transport packages (not further described) between the United States and Canada. The possibility exists that the packages could contain contraband, such as narcotics. No mention is made here of "Raoul" providing Ray with funds which would implicate "Raoul" in a conspiracy in the King assassination; however, Huie infers that a conspiracy exists.

Appell further related to Squires that Giesbrecht is of the opinion that "Raoul" is identical with a blond, Latin seaman that Giesbrecht had heard discussing the Kennedy assassination (conversation overheard in 1964). President Kennedy assassinated in November, 1963.

Based upon available data concerning Appell, it is not possible to determine if he is identifiable in Bureau files; however, Squires stated that a few years ago he had met and interviewed an investigator for the House Committee on Unamerican Activities (HCUA) by the name of Donald Appell and he asked the Appell in Canada if he was identical with HCUA investigator and the Canadian Appell said he was not.

RE: MURKIN

Bureau files indicate that an article appears in the 1-28-68, issue of the "National Enquirer" newspaper entitled "Suppressed JFK Evidence" relating to information furnished by one Richard Giesbrecht. The "National Enquirer" is a well-known, sex-type newspaper. It is totally unreliable and is known to feature wild sensational stories. The article that appeared in the "National Enquirer" is no exception to this.

The article reports that Richard Giesbrecht, a Canadian insurance salesman, claims to have overheard a conversation in 1964 which proves Lee Harvey Oswald had not acted alone in the Kennedy assassination. Our files further disclose that on 2-27-64, Giesbrecht informed one of our Agents that while he was in a bar in the International Airport in Winnipeg, Canada, on 2-13-64, he overheard a conversation between two unknown individuals concerning the Kennedy assassination. The information as provided by Giesbrecht was included in a report which was disseminated to the Warren Commission. Our investigation subsequently indicated that Giesbrecht was attempting to sell his story to a radio station in North Dakota. Giesbrecht stated to this radio station that he felt the story he has to sell would be buried by the Royal Canadian Mounted Police and that the Canadian papers were not big enough to handle it. Personnel at the radio station described Giesbrecht as a beer-drinking type, childlike and one who felt he could possibly obtain some money from his story. [redacted] It was obvious at that time that Giesbrecht was a publicity seeker who was trying to obtain remuneration for a wild allegation involving the Kennedy assassination and it is very possible that Giesbrecht is attempting to accomplish the same thing regarding the King assassination.

William Bradford Huie, author, has written a second article for "Look" magazine concerning the travels of James Earl Ray since Ray's escape from Missouri State Penitentiary on April 23, 1967. The second article appears in November 26, 1968, issue of "Look" (circulated November 12, 1968) and alleges the involvement of an individual by the name of "Raoul" in the Dr. assassination. According to the article, Ray contacted "Raoul" in New Orleans, Louisiana; Selma, Alabama; Birmingham, Alabama, and in a motel across the border in Mexico.

The following is a listing of those motels and a hotel in the respective areas in which Ray was alleged to have registered as a guest using the name Eric S. Galt or John L. Rayns.

Each division will obtain a list of the guests registered at the respective motels and hotel for a period of three days before, during, and three days after the listed period. This list should include, but not be restricted to, name, address, and identification of any vehicle used by the guests. The possibility exists that a common denominator will appear at the above in order that the identity of "Raoul" will be established.

In addition, the article sets forth that Ray stayed at an unnamed motel in Nuevo Laredo, Mexico, 10-7-67. Since it is not known how many motels are located in Nuevo Laredo, Mexico, the San Antonio Office should conduct the desired investigation only if feasible. Advise the Bureau and Memphis accordingly.

The Memphis Division, upon receipt of this information from the other listed divisions, will completely evaluate this information for possible identification of "Raoul." The name "Raoul" is Spanish for Ralph and it should be considered that this could be either a given name or a surname.

This is to be handled immediately and results furnished to the Bureau promptly.

NOTE:

Two articles have been written for "Look" magazine. These articles infer that an individual by the name of "Raoul" contacted Ray on several occasions and alleges that the assassination of Martin Luther King, Jr. WAS CONSPIRACY, THIS is not substantiated in these articles, however, we are requesting several field divisions to make inquiries at motels and hotel to determine if a common denominator exists that will be helpful in identifying "Raoul".

Memphis is being instructed to make this evaluation.

REPORT OF AMICI CURIAE

Your amici curiae herewith submit the following additional report:

As a result of an article appearing in the November 12, 1968 edition of LOOK, distributed in Memphis, Tennessee on October 29, 1968, and an interview reported in the Commercial Appeal of November 1, 1968 under headline: "FBI IS GOING PAST RAY IN SEARCH FOR SUSPECTS", there is probable cause to believe that William Bradford Huie, Cowles Communications, Inc., publishers of LOOK, and others closely connected with or interested in this case are in contempt of this Court's orders regarding pre-trial publicity in the above-styled cause.

It further appearing to your amici curiae that some of the above-mentioned parties are not presently within the jurisdiction of this Court, and that the trial of the above matter is imminent, your amici curiae believe that no immediate action can or should be taken, but that a petition for scire facias should be filed at such time as the above parties are within the jurisdiction of the Court and after the jury in this cause is sequestered, requiring said parties to show cause why they should not be held in contempt of this Court's orders.

Your amici curiae further report that they have met on numerous occasions to discuss the problems of pre-trial publicity in this case and the enforcement of this Court's orders. The single and all-pervasive goal toward which this group has striven is the assurance of a fair trial by an impartial jury in this cause. There is no effort to "muzzle" or censor the news or publishing media; nor are this Court's orders reasonably susceptible to such interpretation.

But this Court has been strongly directed by the Supreme Court of the United States in Sheppard v. Maxwell, 384 U.S. 333 (1966) to insure by appropriate orders that any case such as this one which evokes wide-spread public interest will be tried only in a court of law, and only before a jury whose views of the case have not been pre-formed by outside influence, and only when all witnesses who testify or comment about the evidence are under oath and subject to cross-examination:

> "The courts must take such steps by rule and regulation that will protect their processes from prejudicial outside interferences. Neither prosecutors, counsel for defense, the accused, witnesses, court staff nor enforcement officers coming under the jurisdiction of the court should be permitted to frustrate its function. Collaboration between counsel and the press as to information affecting the fairness of a criminal trial is not only subject to regulation, but is highly censurable and worthy of disciplinary measures." Sheppard v. Maxwell, supra at page 363.

This is the essence of the impartial jury trial required by the Constitution of the United States. Your amici curiae believe that this Court's orders are properly designed for this purpose and that this Court has, despite certain violations of its order, effectively complied with the Supreme Court's requirements.

Your committee recognizes that, as the date of trial of this cause approaches, the temptations to increase the pressure of publicity will grow stronger. Your committee further recognizes that this Court's power to punish for contempt may seem limited when compared with what may appear to be the gains to be had from risking a conviction of contempt of this Court by violation of its pre-trial publicity orders. Your committee believes, however, that such "gains" are ephemeral and indeed illusory, and that they are not worth the severe price which will be paid by all in the resulting losses which may be sustained to individual rights. Your committee reports, therefore, that, in the last analysis, the integrity of the jury trial in this particular case, and of the jury trial system in this country, must depend in great part upon the self-discipline of the news media, the attorneys for the State and the defendant, and others who have or believe they have an interest in this trial.

Your committee assures the Court that it will, as indicated above, continue to assist diligently in the enforcement of this Court's orders, for, if the orders of this Court, or of any Court, are continually ignored or flaunted with impunity, there will soon be neither "fair trial" nor "free press" to discuss, to debate, or to protect. However, your committee believes that the success of this Court's efforts under Sheppard v. Maxwell to assure a fair trial in this cause will rest finally and ultimately, as do the freedoms guaranteed by the First Amendment itself, upon self-discipline and responsible self-control by all concerned.

To the extent that this is achieved, your committee believes that its above-stated goal will also be achieved.

Respectfully submitted,

Dear Mr. Hoover:

The assassination of two great Americans in 1968 left a nation outraged and stunned. None of us will forget those days in April and in June when two men of non-violence, Martin Luther King and Robert F. Kennedy, were senselessly slain.

In that period of crisis, broadcasting not only carried the tragic story to the nation, but expressed the anguish and the soul-searching mood of America. The enclosed album, a tribute to the two men, are recordings of radio programs on our stations by Group W commentator Rod MacLeish.

Kindest regards.

Author Says Ray Admits To Involvement in Plot

BY UNITED PRESS INTERNATIONAL

James Earl Ray, accused of assassinating Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., has admitted that he believes he became "involved in some sort of plot to kill King" as early as eight months prior to the murder, it was reported Monday.

But Ray is quoted in the second of a series of articles in Look magazine as claiming he was duped into the conspiracy and "nobody told me anything about any planned murder of King or anyone else."

The series is by author William Bradford Huie who corresponded with Ray at the Shelby County jail where Ray awaits trial. Huie states that he cannot reveal all he has learned until Ray has been tried but he believes Dr. King was the secondary, not the primary, target of the plotters.

TARGET

"The primary target was the United States," Huie wrote.

"Dr. King was to be murdered for effect. His murder was planned, not by impulsive men who hated him personally, though they probably did hate him, but by calculating men who wanted to use his murder to trigger violent conflict between white and Negro citizens."

According to information given Huie by Ray, the escaped convict was recruited in Canada by a man identified only as Raoul for some "activity" on Aug. 18, 1967, eight months prior to the April 4, 1968, assassination. His first assignment was to smuggle three packages by car from Windsor, Ont., to Detroit, Mich.

From then on, Huie wrote, Ray "moved as directed by the plotters," although he did not know as late as two weeks before King's assassination "that the plot included murder or that it was aimed in any way at Dr. King." One of his assignments was to smuggle a tire —which apparently contained some sort of contraband—across the Texas-Mexican border at Nuevo Laredo.

In payment, Ray received $200 to buy an old car for the Canada-United States haul, for which he was paid $750; $2,000 to buy a 1966 Mustang, which he used for the Mexican smuggling expedition; $500 for living expenses, $500 for camera equipment and $2,000 after returning from Mexico. Ray said Raoul told him he would get him travel papers and $12,000, "enough for me to go in business in a new country."

MEXICO

Ray said that in October, 1967, while waiting for the next assignment from Raoul expected in two or three months, he visited Puerto Vallarta on Mexico's Pacific Coast and decided it was the "best town in Mexico" and a place he would like to live in eventually. He even considered trading his car for a piece of property there.

"When I get out of jail again, I'm going back there permanently," Huie quoted Ray as writing him.

During another sojourn in Los Angeles, Ray consulted with a hypnosis expert, the Rev. Xavier von Koss, on means of self-improvement through hypnosis and he also had an identifying nasal tip removed from his nose by Dr. Russell C. Hadley, a prominent surgeon.

RECOGNITION

According to Huie, Von Koss said he sized Ray up as belonging to "the recognition type."

"He desires recognition from his group, from himself. He yearns to feel that he is somebody. This desire for recognition in him is superior to sex, superior to money, superior to self-preservation," Von Koss said.

Judge Battle Grants Delay

Judge W. Preston Battle today set a new date of Monday, March 3, for James Earl Ray to go on trial in the sniper murder of Dr. Martin Luther King.

Percy Foreman, flamboyant Texas attorney, got court approval to take over the defense from Arthur Hanes of Birmingham. Foreman told reporters as he went into the hearing he might ask to move the trial to another place, saying the "mood of the community" would determine the need for a change of venue. However, he did not bring up the matter during the hearing.

Foreman first asked Battle to set another hearing in 90 days, and then to set a trial date agreeable to the prosecution and the defense. He argued that the delay was needed so he could dispose of some cases he has pending in Texas. As an alternative, he asked that the court fix the time for the trial.

Judge Battle ordered Foreman to report back to court on Dec. 12, a month from today, and let him know if he will be ready for trial on March 3.

Judge Battle refused to permit Hanes to withdraw completely from the case. He said he would grant Hanes permission to make a "conditional withdrawal." Hanes must be bound, he said, by the court's orders on publicity and must turn over the results of his investigation to Foreman. Hanes was required by the judge to post a $1,000 appearance bond in connection with his contempt citation for violation of Battle's ban against pre-trial ~~publicity.~~

RAY APPEARS

The hearing began at about 9:45 a.m. Ray was brought into the courtroom. He was not handcuffed. He was wearing a dark blue checked sportcoat, a dark blue tie. He took a seat behind Hanes and his son. He shook hands with Hanes and his court-appointed London attorney, Michael Eugene, who was seated near the wall of the courtroom.

Hanes got up and told the judge he understood Ray had written a letter requesting that he do nothing further in the case. He said he had not seen the letter, then was handed a copy of it by Foreman and glanced at it. Hanes moved that in view of this letter he should be removed as attorney of record.

The judge asked Ray to read a copy of the letter and asked Ray if he wrote it. Ray rose to his feet and said: "I did."

OBJECTION

At this point Robert K. Dwyer, executive assistant attorney general, objected strongly to a delay in the trial. He said: "It is the state's position that the motion should be disallowed."

Dwyer said Hanes had been Ray's attorney of record since his arrest in London in June. "As of last Sunday, the defendant states he doesn't want Hanes and his son to represent him any more. The point I'm making is that he has been here four months and it appears he is trifling with the court. He is attempting to employ counsel here.

"I don't know this gentleman from Texas (Foreman). I have read something about him and heard some things along the way. There was no assurance that Ray might not return to court in 90 days and say, 'Well, I don't like this gentleman here (Foreman) and I want another continuance.'

"This is a unique case, but it's still a piece of business. From what I've read, these gentlemen (Hanes and his son) have been paid." Dwyer wanted to know why Foreman couldn't associate himself with Hanes in the defense, saying: "Let him sit where he is and let's go to trial today."

When Dwyer concluded, Foreman got to his feet and asked to be heard on what he termed "the diatribe spoken in my direction." He started out be referring to Dwyer as the "distinguished attorney general" and Dwyer, evidently stung by what he felt was sarcasm, asked the court to order Foreman " to leave out personalities and address himself to legal matters."

ARGUMENT

Foreman argued that Ray ad a right to choose his own ttorney. "Frankly I'd be uch better off physically nd financially if the court dhered to the adjuration of e attorney general," Forman said. "But if this man ay) needs me and wants , I feel an obligation to oath as an attorney to ke myself available."

udge Battle said that y's decision to switch laws came at "the eleventh r" and after "an imnse amount of time, mon- and energy had been nt on the trial." The e said it was "an awful g" to have to continue rial," but he added:

Under the unique facts circumstances of the the court is of the opinhis (Foreman's) motion d be granted."

cited Tennessee law to ffect that a defendant t be required to go to with an attorney not of n choosing.

The judge then called a recess and asked Foreman to meet with Atty. Gen. Phil Canale and his two assistants, Dwyer and James Beasley, to decide on a trial date agreeable to both sides. Dwyer, at this point, asked for clarification of the court's instructions and became involved in another exchange with Foreman.

Foreman said he couldn't remember the name of the assistant attorney general.

"Name's Dwyer," Dwyer shot back.

Foreman good-naturedly replied: "I always feel handicapped as a private attorney. Everybody for the state is a general." Foreman added that he "hoped he could get along with Mr. Dwyer before the day is over."

The recess was taken at 10:20 a.m. and Ray was removed from the courtroom. The hearing resumed a little more than an hour later. Canale announced that the defense and the state could not agree on a trial date.

Canale requested a setting of no later than the Tuesday following the opening of the January term of court, which begins on the third Monday of the month.

Foreman argued that the "very magnitude and geographical area involved" in the case made it impossible for him to be ready by that time. He said he already was committed to clients with cases pending in Texas courts and it would take time to turn them over to other lawyers or get continuances.

Foreman said the state has a list of 360 prospective witnesses, with from 80 to 90 expected to be called. He said it was his "basic approach" to interview all the witnesses, particularly those who were not being summoned to testify, before going to trial. He maintained this would take a minimum of 90 days.

He suggested a date during the second term of court next year, which "would take us into the month of May, I understand from Mr. Canale."

Canale opposed a setting that distant. "The State of Tennessee is going to insist on a speedy and early setting. Any continuance militates against the state's case," Canale said. He agreed that Ray has a right to a fair and impartial trial but he said the people of this state also have rights.

"I want to do everything possible to protect the rights of the people of this state. I think we should get this show on the road." He said his office handles 4,500 cases a year and he felt the community had been forced to suffer enough "tumult and turmoil" in connection with the Ray case.

The judge, after hearing the arguments, said, with a half-smile, "Well, you gentlemen have dumped this right in my lap."

In resolving the dispute, Battle said the rights of the defendant and the community had to be weighed equally. He said he was setting Monday, March 3, as the trial date with a proviso that Foreman come back into court 30 days from now to state if he will be ready at that time.

Judge Battle told Hanes: "I understand there is a difference between you (Hanes and his client) on money matters . . . but that's a civil matter."

Foreman said in his motion that the Haneses had been paid about $30,000 and they wanted an additional $12,000 before they would release statements, interviews and other information collected for the defense during their investigation. But Battle ordered the Haneses to turn over their files on the case to Foreman anyway.

The U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals in Boston set aside the conviction in 1952 on the grounds there had been too much advance publicity about the trial.

Delay, the ruling said, might continue "until by lapse of time the danger of the prejudice may reasonably be thought to have been substantially removed."

Speculation continued today over why Ray ditched Hanes, the lawyer who had represented him since his arrest in London in June, and hired Foreman, a legal as well as a 6-foot-4 physical giant, at the last minute.

Ray's two brothers, John and Jerry Ray, were believed to have been a major influence.

Ray and Hanes also have had their differences, over finances as well as defense strategy. Ray, it was reported, wanted to take the witness stand, but Hanes was strongly against it. Also, Ray was resentful because he had never seen any of the $30,000 reported to have been turned over to his attorney by William Bradford Huie, author of a series of articles on the Ray case now running in Look. The money was an advance from Huie for exclusive rights to Ray's story.

Foreman denied making any reference to the Ku Klux Klan when discussing his entry into the case yesterday with Press-Scimitar reporter Clark Porteous.

"All reference to the Ku Klux Klan is a misstatement of fact," Foreman told The Press-Scimitar later. "The Klan was not mentioned by the reporter or by me.

"I said a bunch of nuts from all over the country called and wanted to raise funds in my name. It always happens in every famous case."

Porteous said he suggested nothing, but Foreman came into the case two days before the trial and the manner in which he entered the case was obviously newsworthy. Also, Hanes had been successful in defense of Klansmen.

"I asked Foreman if the Klan or any other organization was involved in getting him into the case," Porteous said. "Foreman answered he has been asked a number of times to enter the case before Ray's arrest but had refused. While he did not use the word 'Klan' himself, that was what the question had been about. I had no reason to believe Foreman had not understood the question."

Canale Ponders

Trial Postponed Till March Over Strong Objection Of Attorney General

By CHARLES EDMUNDSON

Faced with a new trial date and a new defense lawyer in the James Earl Ray murder case, prosecutors last night turned their attention to the possibility of using Ray's handwritten 20,000-word manuscript as evidence.

Atty. Gen. Phil M. Canale is considering subpenaing the document written by Ray in his Shelby County Jail cell as the basis for a series of stories being written by author William Bradford Huie and appearing in Look magazine, it was learned.

The approach may well be a request for Mr. Huie or Look to supply the material voluntarily. The attorney general's subpena powers do not extend outside the state and there is a question on whether the cover material in the hands of defense counsel, a Criminal Court official said.

The second of the articles, published yesterday, claims that a conspiracy to murder Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. existed as early as August, 1967, but that Ray did not know, as late as March 23, 1968, that murder was involved or that the victim was to be Dr. King.

Mr. Huie says material he is holding for a third article in the series, which apparently would bring Ray's career up past April 4, the day Dr. King was shot, will not be published until after the trial starts.

☐ Being Investigated

Criminal Court Judge W. Preston Battle yesterday postponed at least until March 3 the trial of the 40-year-old fugitive convict, who had been scheduled to go on trial yesterday morning. Ray yesterday appeared visibly aged and less jaunty than when he first was arraigned here in July.

Judge Battle granted the continuance on the motion of attorney Percy Foreman of Houston, Texas, whom he authorized to succeed Arthur J. Hanes of Birmingham as chief defense counsel.

Attorney General Canale argued strongly that the trial be continued only to Jan. 16, the beginning of the winter term of court, but lost.

Judge Battle directed Mr. Foreman to report Dec. 12 on whether it then appears he would be ready for the trial March 3. The judge indicated that if additional time for preparation were required it might be granted.

Judge Battle granted an hour's recess for the defense and prosecution to try to reach an agreement on the trial date. At the expiration of the hour, Mr. Canale reported that the opposing attorneys were unable to agree.

"The law requires only a three-day wait between indictment and trial," the attorney general said. "Delay always favors the defense. We request a date no later than Tuesday following the third Monday in January."

Mr. Foreman replied that there were 360 potential witnesses to be interviewed and that it could not be done by Jan. 16.

"The state has an interest in seeing that justice is done the defendant as well as society at large," Mr. Foreman argued. He cited a legal precedent from Massachusetts for a substantial continuance when a change of counsel was authorized.

As the hearing opened Judge Battle passed to Mr. Hanes the original of a note handwritten by Ray asking Mr. Hanes be replaced as his counsel by other attorneys, "including one from Tennessee."

Mr. Hanes immediately asked to be relieved of the case. Judge Battle ruled that Mr. Hanes would be "conditionally relieved."

The condition was required, Judge Battle said, as a means of assuring that Mr. Hanes, now intimately acquainted with the evidence, disclose none of it to the news media in violation of the court's order restraining publicity.

"Since contempt of court is not an extraditable offense," Judge Battle said, "I shall order that you make $1,000 bond."

Ray spoke only twice during the nearly two hours the court was in session. This was at the beginning when Judge Battle handed him a note he had written telling Mr. Hanes he was no longer to be his attorney.

"Did you write this note?" Judge Battle asked.

"I did," Ray replied in an unsure voice, hardly loud enough to be heard 10 feet away.

"Yes, sir," Ray quavered when Judge Battle asked him if it were still his desire to change counsel. Ray was thinner than in July.

His former self-confidence was replaced by a worried if not harried look. Reporters remarked the sightly enlarged lobe of his left ear, which he had planned to submit to plastic surgery in Los Angeles last spring, in addition to an operation carried out to correct a too pointed nasal tip.

The small courtroom was crowded. The 35 seats alloted to the public were occupied mostly by Courthouse employes. Reporters for the press, television and radio occupied 42 seats. No relatives of the defendant or the deceased were present.

All news media persons were searched electronically and were, in addition, "patted down." Courthouse personnel were similarly searched.

The attorney general's staff assigned to the case had been fingerprinted and photographed. But defense counsel, both incoming and outgoing, were exempted from this routine.

"I'm 66 years old, have never been fingerprinted and will stay out of this case rather than be fingerprinted now," Mr. Foreman had said Monday. He need not have worried. There had been no plans to fingerprint him or Mr. Hanes.

When Mr. Foreman entered the courtroom he was introduced to several courthouse officials, including Criminal Court Clerk J. A. Blackwell. He was not introduced to Mr. Hanes, who sat at the same table only a few feet away.

Mr. Hanes made no move and in a few minutes Mr. Foreman moved over and began a conversation. Reporters could not hear much of it but the word "fees" was audible.

Ray Displays Another Face, This One Pale And Worried

By ANGUS McEACHRAN

The plastic face of James Earl Ray was stretched into another pose yesterday.

Neatly dressed in blue, double-vented sports coat with faint checkered pattern, Ray appeared gaunt and worried as he entered Judge W. Preston Battle's courtroom.

A prison pallor grown chalk white since his arrest June 8 in London accentuated his shallow, pinched face. His hair was oiled but only partly combed.

It was far different from the bespectacled face that peered out of FBI wanted flyers, different too from the subdued countenance that faced the London magistrate during extradition proceedings, and the heavy-set face which first appeared in the Shelby County criminal courtroom July 21.

Ray sat quietly behind his attorneys during yesterday's proceedings, an apprehensive expression often on his face. He spoke in open court only when Judge Battle questioned him about wishing to change attorneys.

Getting slowly to his feet, a sheaf of what appeared to be folded yellow legal paper protruding from his left hip pocket, the defendant answered, "Uh, yes sir."

Once he leaned forward and whispered something to the man he fired, Arthur Hanes Sr. The rest of the time he was merely a spectator, his left arm sprawled over the back of a red padded chair, his face resting on his upraised right arm.

A sheriff's office official said only 8 persons showed up for the 35 seats set aside by the judge for the public. The press counted only three, two Negroes and a young white woman. Some of the foreign press members suggested the turnout was indicative of local interest in the trial.

☐ Being Investigated

When it was obvious that the public seats were not going to be filled, several employes of the sheriff's office were allowed in. One of those was Toy Strictland, personal secretary to Sheriff William N. Morris Jr. Oscar Edmonds, a County Court squire, a member of the sheriff's auxiliary force and close political ally of the sheriff, was also in attendance.

One of public seats went to 17-year-old Alfred Guinn of 2125 Swift, a senior at Carver High School. "I cut class to come because I wanted to see what happened. No, I won't get in trouble if I have a written excuse."

Security arrangements for getting into the courtroom were even more elaborate than they were for the first Ray hearing. But the process moved smoothly.

In the second-floor foyer of the Criminal Courts Building the sheriff's office has constructed a maze of plywood petitions for searching anyone entering the courtroom. Claude Armour, Gov. Buford Ellington's special advisor on law enforcement, assisted in the security.

Deputies were polite but thorough — to the point of unscrewing ball point pens and examining the contents of cigaret packs. Unnecessary personal effects such as pen knives were deposited in manila envelopes marked: "For Shelby County Prisoners."

A metal detector was next. It resembled a cordless vacuum cleaner. It was sensitive enough to detect the tin foil in a roll of antacid tablets. The video tape machine, which records voice and pictures of spectators, was the last step. In between that and the metal detector was the somewhat embarrassing procedure of sitting down in front of everybody and removing your shoes for an inside inspection.

Seven men sat waiting in the lobby of the Criminal Courts Building.

They had been subpenaed as witnesses for the defense, and, unlike witnesses for the state, they had not been told they need not appear yesterday.

"That's something, isn't it?" said Solomon Jones Jr., the chauffeur who was with Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. on the night of the assassination. "They knew there was no reason for us coming, but they didn't bother to tell anybody."

Shortly, Percy Foreman, new attorney for Ray, came from the courtroom. Mr. Jones introduced himself.

"I want you to know my last client was a member of your race," said Mr. Foreman. "I got a $50 fee for it and I made a $5,000 bond for him.

"I just want to say my being involved in this has nothing to do with the color of your skin or mine. Futhermore, over half of my clients are members of your race."

"Thank you," said Mr. Jones.

Tight Security Soon Relaxes After Hearing

Three hours after the James Earl Ray hearing had ended, it was hard to tell there had been one.

The white sawhorses blocking Washington were gone.

The police guards, outside and inside the Shelby County Criminal Courts Building had returned to their normal duties. Access to the building was simply a matter of walking through the door.

Sheriff William N. Morris ordered a large temporary "search room" in the second floor corridors dismantled immediately. It was gone by 3 p.m.

The corridor to the nearby County Office Building was unlocked and unguarded.

The sheriff said security around the jail was returned to normal as quickly as possible, and will remain normal until the March 3 trial date for Ray when the tight security measures will be resumed on spectators, news media representatives, and officials connected with the trial.

A Letter From Ray

This is the text of James Earl Ray's letter dated Nov. 10 to Arthur J. Hanes Sr., delivered to the attorney Sunday night, the first official word of his switch in attorneys:

"Dear Mr. Hanes,

"Due to some disagreements between me and you in regards our handlings of my case, I have decided to engage a Tennessee attorney and perhaps someone else.

"Therefore I would appreciate it if you would take no further action on my case in Memphis, Tenn. Also, I appreciate what you have already did for me.

Sincirely (sic),

How To Make Friends, Foreman Style

"By the end of the second day Percy Foreman will be a friend of the judge, a bosom buddy of the press and also the 13th member of the jury," said an out-of-town reporter who covered the Candace Mossler trial in Miami.

The reporter commented just before Judge W. Preston Battle opened proceedings at the Courthouse yesterday in the case of James Earl Ray, charged with killing Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.

Then court was called to order and Mr. Foreman, the tall, 66-year-old Texas who will now defend Ray, rose to speak. Almost his first sentence included a reference to "the great State of Tennessee, whose citizens nearly a half century ago fought and gained the independence of Texas." Georgia, from where Mr. Foreman's forebears came, and which also did its part in the Texas Revolution, was not mentioned.

Next it was "the distinguished judge of this court, who knows from his experience when he was a prosecutor . . ."

And later in an impromptu press conference, "If there is a change of venue I certainly shall ask that this judge be delegated to preside over the case in the jurisdiction to which it is transferred. I would never ask this judge to recuse himself."

Memphis probably has as many church edifices as any city in the country in proportion to population and soon there was a New Testament quotation, "I have learned, in whatsoever state I am, therewith to be content."

This was a masterpiece, two birds with one stone. For with a warm glance Mr. Foreman revealed he meant the word "state" in the geographic sense. He was content in Tennessee.

Mr. Foreman had disclosed earlier that he is an ordained deacon in the Baptist Church — although not an active one — and has helped build "five Baptist churches." There was no jury yesterday but there will be one when the trial starts, presumably March 3.

Mr. Foreman had a modest posey for The Commercial Appeal. "I read that in the morning paper and I understand it is known as "The Reliable."

From the lips of a lesser person all this might seem open flattery. From Mr. Foreman, whose brow neyes beam, it is the articulation of genuine feeling.

Mr. Foreman's verbal armory also includes shafts of sarcasm.

Exec. Asst. Atty. Gen. Robert K. Dwyer, who spoke first yesterday, remarked, "I don't know this man from Texas — I have read about him . . ."

Mr. Foreman soon returned the compliment, "The gentleman at the end of this table — he knows my name, I don't know his."

And a little later, "I hope I shall nave no trouble with the gentleman on the end; I know I shall have no trouble with Attorney General Canale."

Mr. Foreman also had a bow for the Memphis and Shelby County Bar Association. He would confer with heads of the bar as to an attorney to associate with him in Ray's defense.

It will be a Tennessee attorney and probably one from Memphis, many believe.

Mr. Foreman said there is no basis for a report he will ask the aid of John J. Hooker Sr. of Nashville, one of the state's best known defense attorneys.

"That would be," Mr. Foreman observed, "like harnessing two race horses to a plow."

Foreman Concerned Of Brand As Traitor

By CHARLES EDMUNDSON

Percy Foreman, Texas attorney who has assumed the defense of James Earl Ray, yesterday expressed concern that civil rights advocates will regard him as a "Judas Iscariot."

"I suppose I am about to represent Judas Iscariot," Mr. Foreman said softly as he visited the shrine erected in the memory of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. at the Lorraine Motel on Mulberry.

An attendant pointed out the simple dishes, white with a maroon border, from which Dr. King ate his final meal before his slaying April 4.

"I understand the reference (to the Last Supper)," Mr. Foreman said, adding the phrase about Judas.

Noting that visitors are asked to give $1 each to the shrine, Mr. Foreman glanced about the room and said, "I'd like to give $10." He reached into his pocket and handed the attendant a $10 bill.

Mr. Foreman tried to visit the South Main Street rooming-house bathroom from which police say Dr. King was shot. When the manager refused him admission, saying the quarters were being remodeled, the attorney threatened to write FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover.

He later expressed doubt whether his dictated letter will be mailed by his office in Houston. Instead, he went to the owner and last night said he had received permission for the visit. The two-story structure is a 442½ South Main, 205 feet west of the Lorraine.

Mr. Foreman will fly to Atlanta this morning to address a bar association luncheon seminar. It is understood he will retrace Ray's wanderings there, visiting, among other places, the rooming house where his client is said to have stopped and to have abandoned, nearby, a white Mustang.

With Ray's trial postponed by Judge W. Preston Battle for nearly four months, the attorney general's office moved yesterday to restore the Criminal Court calendar to a normal operation.

Administrative Asst. Atty. Gen Lloyd Rhodes said all five divisions should be operating normally by Monday.

Meanwhile, thousands of dollars of extraordinary public expense continue. The Police Department said eight officers are assigned to guard one witness, Charles Quitman Stephens, around the clock. At an average monthly salary of $550 for each officer, this would come to $4,400 a month, or about $15,000 for the four-month continuance.

In Birmingham, Arthur J. Hanes Sr., whom Ray dropped as counsel in favor of Mr. Foreman, said he was glad to be out of the case but that he disapproved of the delay.

"A pall hangs over the country, a cloud is hanging there over Memphis," he said. "It would be well if these were lifted."

He added, "I had some bombshells (of evidence) to drop on them."

Mr. Hanes indicated doubt that it would be necessary for the attorney general's office to subpena the handwritten manuscript Ray sent out by him for author William Bradford Huie to use in writing a series of articles for Look magazine.

"Deputies looked at every scrap of Ray's writing I took out of the jail," he declared. "I don't know how much of it they made mental notes on, but they could have learned the substance."

The Look articles quoting Ray are expected to figure as evidence in the trial. Two articles have been published and a third was in the works. Publication of much, if not all, of the remainder is now expected to be delayed until the trial starts next spring and the jury is sequestered.

Atty. Gen. Phil M. Canale is known to be interested in the substance of the third article.

SYNOPSIS:

This is the case involving the murder of Martin Luther King, Jr.

William Bradford Huie, author, has written a second article, based upon notes of James Earl Ray for "Look" magazine. The article appears in the November 26, 1968, issue; this issue circulated November 12, 1968. The article discusses various activities which we have previously known and checked out. It also alleges: The plot to kill King existed as early as August, 1967, (no specifics are given); declaration of a television set at customs station at United States and Canadian Border; contact with "Raoul" in New Orleans, Louisiana, and Selma, Alabama; Ray's activity across the Texas Border into Mexico regarding exchange of tires (possible contraband in tires); and Ray staying at several motels in his travels. We are presently conducting investigation on this information. The entire article is leading the reader to believe that a conspiracy took place as early as August, 1967, and continued up to the day King was assassinated; however, no specific detail is provided to bear this out. Additionally, the author infers that Ray was involved unknowingly, but again no detail is provided to substantiate this.

ACTION:

This investigation is being afforded top priority attention, and you will be kept advised of pertinent developments.

RE: MURKIN

DETAILS:

This is the case involving the murder of Martin Luther King, Jr.

William Bradford Huie, author, whose books include, "Three Lives for Mississippi" dealing with murder of the three civil rights workers in June of 1964, previously advised us that he entered into a contract with James Earl Ray to write the true account of Ray's activities and background concerning the assassination of King. Huie has been provided with notes from James Earl Ray, through Ray's attorney Arthur B. Hanes, Sr., Birmingham, Alabama.

William Bradford Huie is writing a series of articles appearing in "Look" magazine. The first article appeared in the November 12, 1968, issue (circulated October 29, 1968) and the second article appears in the issue of November 26, 1968, (circulated November 12, 1968).

We have received an advance copy of the article appearing in the November 26, 1968, issue and it essentially contains the following information.

1. The author points out in the beginning of this article three different items.

A. That the plot to murder Martin Luther King, Jr. existed as early as August 15, 1967, eight months prior to the murder on April 4, 1968.

B. That Ray was drawn unknowingly into this plot in Montreal on August 18, 1967, and thereafter moved as directed by the plotters. It is noted that August 18, 1967, is the alleged date that Ray met "Raoul" and the activities between Ray and "Raoul" commenced at this time.

It is also noted the previous article contains an account of an individual by the name of "Raoul." This individual and Ray, according to the article, were endeavoring to make some type of deal concerning a "joint activity" for which "Raoul" would pay Ray $12,000. The specific nature of the "joint activity" was not fully described or identified, but Ray was to transport packages (not fully described) between the United States and Canada. The possibility exists that the packages could contain contraband, such as narcotics. No mention was made of "Raoul" providing Ray with funds which would implicate "Raoul" in a conspiracy in the King Assassination; however, Huie infers that a conspiracy exists.

C. That as late as March 23, 1968, less than two weeks before the murder with which he is charged, Ray did not know that the plot included murder or that it was aimed in any way at Martin Luther King, Jr. It is noted that March 23, 1968, as set forth in the recent article in "Look" is the date that Ray was allegedly contacted by "Raoul" in Selma, Alabama.

The author again infers that a conspiracy is taking place; however, nothing specific is given and the author states "Therefore, in this plot, Dr. King was the secondary, not the primary target. The primary target was the United States of America!" No additional names or details are given.

2. Ray and the individual by the name of "Raoul" crossed the Canada- United States Border at Detroit, Michigan, and a customs receipt was issued to Ray as Galt for the declaration of a television set.

Again the item of carrying packages across the border is mentioned, and the contents of the packages are not disclosed. According to the article, the television set was declared in hopes that a search of the car would not go beyond this. The search did go slightly further; however, the packages were not discovered.

We were aware that he crossed back and forth at different points at the border of the United States and Canada; however, the officials do not maintain the records of people crossing the border unless customs declaration is made. We are now checking to determine if he did actually declare a television set.

3. Ray, during the latter part of August, 1967, registered at a motel in Birmingham, Alabama, and then at a rooming house at 2608 Highland Avenue at Birmingham. He also purchased a 1966 Mustang at Birmingham, rented a safe deposit box at a bank in Birmingham, and purchased camera equipment by mail order from a firm in Chicago, Illinois. We were aware of all this information except the fact of Ray staying in a motel in Birmingham. According to Huie, "Raoul" gave Ray $3000 in cash to purchase an automobile, camera equipment, and for living expenses. No specific reason is given for the reason of these purchases. We have thoroughly investigated all the information in our possession and we are currently making appropriate checks at the motel in which Ray was to have allegedly stayed.

4. An account of the travel of Ray from Birmingham, Alabama, into Mexico and to Los Angeles, California. The account also states that he met "Raoul" across the border in Mexico and activity such as exchange of tires occurred. We conducted extensive investigation in Mexico and we were aware of the entire account of the Mexican travel with the exception of the activity that allegedly occurred at a motel across the border from Texas. The specific reason for the tire exchanging at the Texas, Mexico border is not given. It is possible that contraband, such as narcotics, is being concealed.

5. An account of Ray's activities when he was in Los Angeles, California, from mid December, 1967, to March 17, 1968. The accounts include plastic surgery performed on Ray's nose by Dr. Russel C. Hadley in Los Angeles and visits to a hypnotist by the name of Reverend Xavier Von Koss. Article also gives an account of Ray's travel from Los Angeles, California, to New Orleans, Louisiana, and return with an individual by the name of Charles Stein. Ray, during the trip to New Orleans, is alleged to have contacted "Raoul" in New Orleans. We were previously in receipt of this information with the exception of Ray's contact with "Raoul" in New Orleans. We are making appropriate inquiry at this time in efforts to identify "Raoul" in New Orleans.

6. Ray allegedly left Los Angeles in mid March, 1968, and stayed at a motel in Selma, Alabama. The significance of this is not known; however, the author implies that Ray contacted "Raoul" here.

The entire article is leading the reader to believe that a conspiracy took place as early as August, 1967, and has continued up to the day King was assassinated; however, no specific detail is provided to bear this out. Additionally, the author infers that Ray was involved unknowingly; but again no detail is provided to substantiate this.

Denied Access to Rooming House

New Ray Attorney Protests to FBI Chief

By KAY PITTMAN BLACK
Press-Scimitar Staff Writer

Percy Foreman, preparing to defend James Earl Ray in the slaying of Dr. Martin Luther King, told today of having written to FBI director J. Edgar Hoover demanding entrance to the boarding house room in which King's killer is said to have stayed just before firing the fatal shot.

Foreman was denied entrance to the room when he went there yesterday afternoon.

The room is in a boarding house at 418-422½ S. Main. Adjacent to the room is a bathroom from which police say the sniper fired the shot that killed King as he stood on the balcony of the Lorraine Motel.

TURNED DOWN

Foreman inspected the Lorraine before he was turned down at the boarding house.

"A man who called himself Delbert White and said he was in charge of the place, would not let me enter," Foreman said. "In fact, he said they were fixing up the room, putting glass in it and all to rent it, and he wouldn't even let me rent it.

"This man told me that the FBI and Memphis police told him to demand to see a gold badge before letting anyone inspect the room Ray allegedly used. I asked him if I showed him permission from Judge Preston Battle to see the room if he would let me in. He said 'No,' that I would have to have permission from the FBI.

PERCY FOREMAN

HOOVER

"I have written Hoover demanding that these excessive security regulations be removed. I would like to see the room before I talk to witnesses. I don't intend to take court action to get into the room, I just intend to let Mr. Hoover handle it."

Foreman said he almost didn't take the controversial Ray case.

Discussing for the first time how he got into the case, Foreman told The Press-Scimitar, "I have hundreds of rules which I use not to take cases. One of them is not to touch a case if the person has even talked to another lawyer.

ARGUED

"I argued against taking it (the Ray case) for about an hour because I did not think I should be in the case," he said.

Foreman said he talked to John and Jerry Ray, who called him from St. Louis last "Thursday or Friday" asking him to take the case.

There were subsequent conversations with the brothers and later James Earl Ray himself on Sunday when Foreman visited the jail, but he declined to say who was the final persuader.

CONTINUANCE

ed Ray [illegible] to change attorneys—from Arthur Hanes Sr. and Jr. to Foreman—and granted a continuance to March 3. Foreman is to report to Battle on his progress in preparing the defense on Dec. 12 and the trial is set for March 3.

Is that enough time to prepare a defense, Foreman was asked. Is he satisfied with it?

The big and volatile 6-foot-4, 250 pound attorney grinned and said, "I have learned to be like St. Paul who said in whatsoever state I am, therewith to be content."

CASE

Foreman, discussing preparation for the trial, said he would be his own investigator. He said he had no assistants, as many lawyers do.

"I've read the United States government has spent a million and a half on this case, so I'll take advantage of the names and addresses and maybe phone numbers and other prosecution exhibits. I understand there are 360 witnesses. No., I won't interview them all personally. I have good lawyer friends in many places.

"For instance, I have lawyer friends in every major city of Canada. I'll have them talk to the witnesses there for me in the presence of a court reporter. I have good lawyer friends in Mexico and California, too, as well as London and other cities in Europe."

He indicated that he would not be going abroad to interview witnesses, saying, "I've never been to Europe, because I've never had a case there."

Foreman said that "underdog cases" appeal to him.

"I think perhaps I have a complex about it. When I was a child I'd always take up for and get into fights over a child who had a hairlip or was fat. Now I'm interested in those cases. People always ask me why I represent poor people and not rich ones. I always tell them rich people don't get indicted."

What will be his tactics in representing Ray?

Foreman said that any lawyer "worth anything" in such a celebrated case would certainly consider the possibility of a change of venue. But he added, "That doesn't mean anything, that's just something anyone would think of."

He said also to be considered is the precedent —setting decision in the Denis W. Delaney trial.

Delaney was a former collector of internal revenue who was given a one year sentence and fined $10,500 for accepting bribes and falsifying tax liens.

The U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals in Boston set aside the conviction in 1952 on the grounds that there had been too much advance publicity about the trial and that Delaney did not get a fair trial.

The publicity which preceded Delaney's trial in Boston stemmed in part from hearings held in Washington by a congressional committee at which the conduct of the Boston collector was considered and numerous accusations against him were heard.

The court commented in overturning the conviction:

"If the U.S. through its legislative department chooses to hold a public hearing inevitably resulting in much damaging publicity prejudical to a person awaiting trial on a pending indictment, then the U.S. must accept the consequence that the judicial department charged with the duty of assuring the defendant a fair trial before an impartial jury, may find it necessary to postpone the trial."

Such delay, the ruling added, might continue "until by lapse of time the danger of the prejudice may reasonably be thought to have been substantially removed."

In talking of the Delaney case, Foreman commented that he thought the ruling would be applicable to any celebrated case involving people like Sirhan Sirhan (accused as slayer of Sen. Robert Kennedy), Lee Harvey Oswald, had he lived, or James Earl Ray. Foreman said the congressional hearings might be compared in the Ray case "perhaps to the Look magazine articles."

Foreman opened his coat up and showed a thick wad of papers in his vest pocket, saying they were the contract between author William Bradford Huie and Hanes.

Huie, author of the Look articles, paid Ray for his story. Foreman said he did not wish to comment as to whether the contract between his client and Huie was void now "until I read the contract."

He said that Jerry and John Ray had sold John's last Friday night in St. Louis to help pay for their brother's defense.

Foreman said he wrote and typed his own brief presented to the court asking for continuance.

"When I was 15 years old I was a better than average secretary; when I was 16 I passed a court reporter's exam. I'm a lot better stenographer than I am a lawyer."

He has a secretary in Houston.

On capital punishment Foreman said: "I don't believe in it." He said he doesn't think modern day electrocutions are a deterrent to crime, saying, "In the old days they took a man before the general public, to the highest hill and hanged him.

"Now they electrocute him in the early morning past midnight with only 20 people to witness it. What kind of deterrent is that? The public hanging made an impression all right.

"What we've got now is just a refinement of murder. It's still murder whether its done by a group of 12 under the court's jurisdiction or a group of one.

"I'm opposed to capital punishment for anyone convicted for murder, rape or robbery. The only people who ought to be executed are hot check artists and child molesters. They won't quit. The others usually commit their crime only once, particularly murders."

Foreman had much praise for Judge Battle, presiding in the Ray case. "It's easy to be popular, but a trial lawyer and a judge should be courageous. He is courageous. He is a fine, right-down-the-line judge. Even if I asked for a change of venue I'd ask to take Judge Battle along, and let him swap benches. You couldn't have a better judge. I respect him."

Foreman's profanity is legend. In the course of one day's time he chewed out in purple prose at least a half dozen newsmen. Foreman has a hair-trigger temper, but in the next instant can be extremely kind and gentle.

He is also erudite, sprinkling his conversation with quotes from the Bible, H. G. Wells, and the Greeks.

Meanwhile, Atty. Gen. Phil M. Canale is considering subpoenaing Ray's 20,000-word handwritten manuscript as evidence.

Ray wrote the document in his jail cell as the basis for a series of stories being written by Huie and appearing in Look magazine. Canale's approach may well be a request for Huie or Look to supply the material voluntarily, as the attorney general's subpoena powers do not extend outside the state.

The second of the articles, published yesterday, claims that a conspiracy to murder Dr. King existed as early as August 1967, but that Ray did not know, as late as March 23, 1968, that murder was involved or that the victim was to be Dr. King (killed April 4).

Memorandum

TO : MR. TROTTER

DATE: 11/12/68

FROM : C. E. Ganley

SUBJECT: MURKIN

This is the case involving the murder of Martin Luther King, Jr. It was previously reported that committee of seven attorneys advising Judge W. Preston Battle, Criminal Court, Memphis, Tennessee, presented him with petition, which he signed 10/24/68, requiring that George Bonebrake, Latent Fingerprint Examiner, appear before court 12/6/68 to show cause why he should not be adjudged in contempt. This action based on article appearing in Wichita, Kansas, "Beacon" newspaper concerning police school conducted by Bonebrake in September, 1968. Bonebrake allegedly unnecessarily aired fingerprint testimony of this case in the presence of newspaper reporters at the police school. Bonebrake is the examiner who presented expert fingerprint testimony on 6/27/68 in London, England, in connection with extradition of James Earl Ray. His testimony received widespread publicity throughout the world. Bonebrake has emphatically denied discussing his fingerprint testimony with representatives of the press at any time or unnecessarily airing fingerprint testimony of this case before police school. He has reported this was a closed school and press was permitted on one occasion during recess period at invitation of Wichita Police Department to take pictures for local publicity. Administrative action has previously been taken against Bonebrake for discussing the case at the closed police school.

Memorandum 11/8/68 from Fred M. Vinson, Jr., Assistant Attorney General, Criminal Division, referred to an article in the Memphis "Commercial Appeal" of 10/16/68 which article quotes from the Wichita, Kansas, "Beacon" and triggered action by the Court. This article quotes Assistant City Editor of the "Beacon" as stating newsmen were permitted to attend the police school and a major from the Wichita Police Department objected the day after the article appeared in the Wichita "Beacon" that the speech had been quoted too much in detail. Vinson states that it is essential to decisively refute Assistant City Editor's quoted version and anticipated testimony as well as the anticipated testimony of reporters and policemen. He requested that "appropriate measures to assist our full preparation to oppose the contempt charge" be taken.

The trial of subject Ray was scheduled to begin today; however, news reports indicate it will be postponed as subject has reportedly retained a new attorney.* In setting the date 12/6/68 for Bonebrake's appearance to show cause as to why he should not be held in contempt, Judge Battle noted he was doing so as this would be after the trial of subject Ray and to do otherwise would result in unnecessary publicity, defeating purpose of his original order. It was recognized in filing the contempt petition that the Court did not have jurisdiction. Further, it appeared that the committee of attorneys had no sound grounds to substantiate their recommendation and probably took the action against our employee as a face-saving gesture, since they had been severely criticized by Ray's defense attorney, Arthur Hanes, Sr., and a Memphis "Commercial Appeal" reporter, Charles Edmundson, who are both currently under contempt citation by Judge Battle in this case. In order to comply with Mr. Vinson's request, it would appear desirable to have Kansas City Office discreetly interview the 17 officers in attendance at the police school and to identify and interview the major from the Wichita Police Department who is apparently quoted by the newspaper in this matter. It would not appear advisable to interview reporters or other newspaper people in connection with this matter as to do so might attract unnecessary publicity.

RECOMMENDATION:

That the attached airtel be approved, instructing SAC, Kansas City, to have the officers who attended the police school discreetly interviewed, and to identify and interview the major from the Wichita Police Department who was quoted by the newspaper.

*Judge has now postponed trial until March, 1969.

Re Bureau telephone call to Detroit, dated 11/9/68, and Detroit telephone call to the Bureau, dated 11/12/68.

A review of the receipts of the U.S. Customs Office, Detroit, Michigan, indicating articles declared at the Detroit-Windsor Tunnel and Ambassador Bridge, Detroit, Michigan, during the months of July, August and September, 1968, by Special Agents of the Detroit Office failed to reveal any receipt identifiable with a television set allegedly declared by JAMES EARL RAY using the alias ERIC S. GALT during the three months indicated. The review indicated that only two television sets were declared during the pertinent months and these were both declared by commercial concerns and the duty paid was in excess of $10.00 on each item. Customs receipts for pertinent months were also reviewed by the U.S. Customs Office, Detroit, Michigan, and no receipts identifiable with the above-described alleged declaration was discovered.

In consideration of the possibility that the alleged Customs receipt might have been misfiled or the date of the alleged declaration might have been in other than the above three indicated months, the Detroit Office on this date is expanding the search of the Customs receipts to include the periods during which JAMES EARL RAY was at large.

On 11/14/68 Detroit will submit an airtel and FD-302 covering the review of the Customs receipts, U.S. Customs Office, Detroit, Michigan, for the Detroit-Windsor Tunnel and Ambassador Bridge during the periods 4/67 - 5/68.

MURKIN EX-101

Attached is a copy of self-explanatory memorandum from Fred M. Vinson, Jr., Assistant Attorney General, Criminal Division, requesting that appropriate measures be taken to assist in preparation to oppose possible contempt charge against Latent Fingerprint Section Examiner George J. Bonebrake.

For your information, on 10/24/68 Judge W. Preston Battle, Criminal Court of Shelby County, Memphis, Tennessee, signed a petition requiring that Examiner Bonebrake appear before that court on 12/6/68 to show cause why he should not be held in contempt of court. This action was taken in connection with an article appearing in the Wichita, Kansas, "Beacon" newspaper, concerning advanced latent fingerprint police school conducted by Mr. Bonebrake during five-day period, 9/9-13/68, at Wichita, Kansas. This school was sponsored by Wichita Police Department and seventeen officers from Wichita Police Department and surrounding departments attended. Bonebrake is alleged to have unnecessarily aired fingerprint testimony of this case in presence of representative of the press supposedly in attendance at the school. Bonebrake is the examiner who presented expert fingerprint testimony on 9/27/68 in London, England, in connection with the extradition of Ray. His testimony received widespread publicity throughout the world.

Examiner Bonebrake emphatically denied allegations and advised that the above police school was a closed school for law enforcement officers only. No members of the press or the public were permitted to attend lectures. Only members of the press admitted to classroom was when invited by sponsoring police department during a recess period to take photos and collect data for local press story. One member of the class, who seemed friendly with a reporter present, mentioned that Bonebrake was the fingerprint examiner that had given testimony in London. The reporter commented to Bonebrake that he thought he recalled his (Bonebrake) name. No further questions asked and no other information volunteered by Bonebrake. At no time did Mr. Bonebrake discuss fingerprint testimony with representatives of the press or unnecessarily air fingerprint testimony in this case. On one occasion during school, members of the class attempted to query him as to the details of fingerprint testimony. Bonebrake stated that he gave no facts other than what had already been quoted by the press concerning his London, England, testimony. No member of the press was present at this time.

Bonebrake at extradition hearing for Ray testified that three latent prints developed this case and the fingerprints of Ray taken by Los Angeles Police Department, at Missouri State Penitentiary and taken during extradition charge by Scotland Yard were fingerprints of one and the same individual. This fingerprint testimony was quoted extensively in news media throughout the world.

In an effort to comply with Assistant Attorney General Vinson's request, you are instructed to have mature, experienced agents contact representatives in attendance at the above school, as well as the Major in the Wichita Police Department quoted by the local newspapers concerning this matter and discreetly interview them in an effort to obtain information to refute allegations that Examiner Bonebrake unnecessarily aired fingerprint testimony in close with members of the press present. No members of the press should be contacted in connection with your inquiry. Please handle promptly and advise Bureau attention Identification Division.

Memphis advise what effect postponement of trial until March, 1969, will have on the court's consideration of Bonebrake matter scheduled for 12/

TO : Director, Federal Bureau of Investigation DATE: November 27

FROM : Fred M. Vinson, Jr., Assistant Attorney General, Criminal Division

SUBJECT: Assassination of Martin Luther King, Jr.

The Exhibits attached to the Petition for Contempt in the Criminal Court of Shelby County against Mr. George Bonebrake of the Federal Bureau of Investigation include copies of three articles from Memphis newspapers containing quotations attributed to Mr. Bonebrake. These quotations appear to derive from an article in the Wichita, Kansas, Beacon reporting on Mr. Bonebrake's participation in the latent fingerprint school in Wichita.

Exhibit A of the Petition, which is a copy of an article in the Memphis Commercial Appeal of October 16, 1968, contains the following paragraph:

> 'Frank Garofolo, assistant city editor of the Wichita Beacon, said yesterday that newsmen were permitted to attend the lecture and nothing was put off the record at the police seminar. A major in the Wichita Police Department objected the next day, Mr. Garofolo said, that the speech had been quoted too much in detail."

Your memorandum of October 29, 1968, summarizes Mr. Bonebrake's explanation of the extent of his comments at the latent fingerprint school in Wichita during the period September 9 through 13, 1968, discusses the closed nature of the school, and points out that one member of the class seemed friendly and communicative with a reporter during a recess public relations period. Obviously Mr. Garofolo is quoted as stating a contrary understanding as to the closed nature of the seminars, and the news reports indicate that someone is responsible for the extensive comments attributed to Mr. Bonebrake. We consider it essential to decisively refute Mr. Garofolo's quoted version and anticipated testimony, as well as the anticipated testimony of reporters and policemen. I would appreciate your taking appropriate measures to assist our full preparation to oppose the contempt charge, should that need arise.

High Court Maps Contempt Release

Petitions For Reporters In Criminal Appeals

The Tennessee Supreme Court has instructed counsel for two Memphis reporters held in contempt of court in the James Earl Ray case to seek relief first in the State Court of Criminal Appeals.

In compliance with the order, Armistead Clay, counsel for the Memphis Publishing Co., yesterday re-filed petitions for certiorari and supersedeas with Criminal Appeals Judge Mark Walker at Covington.

Criminal Court Judge W. Preston Battle in a ruling Sept. 30 held Charles Edmundson of The Commercial Appeal and Ray Hamilton of the Press-Scimitar in contempt of his order to limit pretrial publicity in the Ray case.

Arthur Hanes Sr., who until Tuesday was Ray's attorney, was held in contempt at the same time. So was Renfro T. Hays, an investigator in Mr. Hanes' employ. When Judge Battle Tuesday let Ray substitute Percy Foreman of Houston for Mr. Hanes as his counsel, Hanes posted a $1,000 cash bond as surety against violation of the judge's order.

Mr. Edmundson and Mr. Hamilton plead the constitutional guarantee of a free press and other grounds in appealing Judge Battle's ruling.

Bar Committee Eyes Foreman

The Bar Association committee policing publicity in the James Earl Ray case today was reported to be casting a critical eye at public statements made this week by Ray's new attorney, Percy Foreman.

Members of the committee, who were appointed by Judge W. Preston Battle, have consistently declined comment on their investigations, speaking only through reports and recommendations to the court.

However, it was learned that a meeting is being considered to take up some of the out-of-court statements of the Texas attorney, who has been quoted extensively by the press since he entered the case Sunday.

Meanwhile, foreman dropped by the attorney General's office this morning and picked up a list of the state's witnesses.

Foreman told Judge Battle Monday, when the trial was postponed to March 3, that he intends to interview every one of the witnesses who will talk to him.

The list contained approximately 350 names of persons in the U.S., Canada, Portugal and England.

TO : Mr. Callahan

DATE: 11/15/68

FROM : J. P. Dunphy

SUBJECT: MURKIN

This is the case involving the murder of Martin Luther King.

SAC Jensen, Memphis Division, advises that Phil M. Canale, State Attorney General, Shelby County, who will prosecute subject Ray in State Court, has renewed his request for a three-dimensional model of the crime scene in this case. This model to be utilized during the trial.

Memorandum Mr. Rosen to Mr. DeLoach 10/31/68 advised that Canale desired, if possible, that such an exhibit be prepared for trial but was informed this could not be done because of the very short period of time before start of the trial which was then scheduled for 11/12/68.

The trial has been reset to 3/3/69 at the request of Ray's new attorney. This gives us sufficient time to conduct the necessary survey and thereafter construct the requested exhibit. SAC Jensen advises Attorney Canale stated a three-dimensional model would be of immeasurable assistance in the prosecution in this matter and the SAC is of the opinion a model would be a definite assistance and would reflect most favorably on the Bureau.

Normally we do not construct trial models for State cases in view of the multitude of requests we would receive and the normal heavy workload we carry. Exceptions, however, have been made upon approval of the Director in unusual major cases. The last of these was the trial of Richard Speck in Peoria, Illinois, in 1967 for the murder of the eight nurses in Chicago. It is felt since we now have sufficient time to construct the trial model and in view of the great national and international interest in this trial, that the Bureau should render this assistance.

RECOMMENDATION: DEC 13

That the Exhibits Section prepare the requested three-dimensional trial model.

We have reviewed the article appearing in the November 12, 1968, Look magazine written by William Bradford Huie concerning the above subject (pages 96 - 113).

It presents a number of objective facts as to Ray's travel and activities between April 23, 1967, and late August 1967. To the extent possible, please determine the correctness of these facts if you have not already done so.

There are also a number of factual statements in the story which require investigation in connection with the presence or absence of a conspiracy. While not inclusive, the ones that appear to us to require investigation are:

1. Ray worked at the Indian Trail Restaurant for approximately two months in Winnetka, Illinois. The story states that for seven weeks at the restaurant Ray received no telephone calls, "But during the week he left, he received 'three or four pressing calls' that seemed to excite him."

2. A friend of Ray's, presumably in East St. Louis, drove him to Edwardsville where he caught a bus for Chicago, on the sixth or seventh day after his escape from the Missouri penitentiary. After Ray quit his job at the restaurant in Winnetka, Illinois, he states that he spent a night with this same friend, before going to Canada in July 1967. At that time he states he obtained a new .38 pistol from a friend.

3. Ray reports in some detail his contact with an unidentified woman in Canada, whom the author interviewed. Allegedly, Ray wrote her as late as March 1968. Ray appeared to have a closer relationship with her than with anyone else during his fugitivity. However, the article itself does not indicate that she had any knowledge of his actual identity or plans.

4. Ray reports a number of contacts with a man identified as Raoul in the Neptune Tavern in Montreal. Raoul allegedly propositioned Ray with respect to some sort of criminal activity. Part of the proposition allegedly involved Ray's presence in Birmingham where he did in fact go. Included in the proposition was a promise to provide Ray with a suitable car. Also Raoul allegedly had spent time in New Orleans and provided Ray with a New Orleans telephone number.

5. Reference is made to a 1962 red Plymouth which Ray was driving in Canada and which he purchased in East St. Louis, Illinois.

6. Ray states that he stayed at a rooming house owned by the Donnellys. They may remember something about him or whether or not he received any mail.

Please provide this Division with (carbon copy to the Criminal Division) a report of the results of your investigation and checking out of the facts as to Ray's travel and activities.

RE: JAMES EARL RAY

J. EDGAR HOOVER, ESQ.
Director- F. B. I.
U.S. Department of Justice
Washington, D. C.

Dear Mr. Hoover:

Never for a moment did I believe the Federal Bureau of Investigation, or any of its officers, had forbidden permission to inspect the premises at 422 1/2 South Main Street, Memphis, Tennessee by attorneys for the defense. I know it was a misunderstanding on the part of the custodian. I dictated my letter to you long distance within a few minutes of being refused access. Early the next morning, I was given permission by the owner to inspect the premises. I would have stopped my letter, but it had already been mailed.

Now, another facet presents itself: I am reliably informed that the F.B.I. had anticipated a possibility of the assassination of Dr. Martin Luther King for at least two years prior to April 3, 1968. If possible, I would like the privilege of talking with whomever in the F.B.I. is knowledgeable concerning threats against Dr. King. Since the time preceded the date of the ~~release~~ escape of James Earl Ray from the Missouri State Penitentiary at Jeffersonville, there may be information available that will be of assistance to his defense.

Also, I remember reading that a set of fingerprints was broadcast to law enforcement officers as those of James Earl Ray, but which were in fact of some other person. Is there anyone in the Bureau who could clarify these circumstances?

The adversary system being what it is, I do not anticipate the revelation of any information from the prosecuting attorney. It has long been my policy to start an investigation with the officers who first prepared the case against my client. More than a few times, this has been of considerable aid in the preparation of the client's defense.

I am willing to come to Washington or go anywhere in the United States to talk with any person who might be able to give me any information that is available to me as defense attorney.

This is to ackn owledge receipt of a letter from Mr. Percy Foreman who is the new attorney of record for James Earl Ray.

In a news release from Memphis, Tennessee, Foreman stated he was denied access to the rooming house at 422 1/2 South Main (where Ray allegedly rented a room on April 4, 1968) and Foreman claimed that the FBI was placing restrictions on access to the property. The news release also claimed that according to Foreman, he was writing the Director concerning security restrictions. Our Memphis Office advises us that according to a newspaper article of 11/14/68, Foreman inspected the rooming house with specific permission of the new owners, [redacted] We have never placed any Mr. & Mrs. Shaw restrictions on this rooming house and we are so advising Foreman. In view of the fact that Mr. Canale is prosecuting the case in state court, which is set for 3/3/69, we are suggesting to Foreman that in the event he has any further questions of a similar nature, he should contact Mr. Canale.

Bureau records indicate that one attorney, who was closely associated with Foreman described him as hard-nosed, cold, cruel and ruthless. [redacted]

Re: State of Tennessee
vs. James Earl Ray
Nos. 16645 and 16819

Dear Mr. Hoover:

I represent the defendant in the above styled cases.

In connection with the preparation for trial and within two hours of being admitted to practice in this case, I went to:

422 1/2 South Main
Memphis, Tennessee

This is the rooming house where news releases suggest my client was living at the time of the shooting of Martin Luther King, with whose murder he is charged. At this address, I was told by Mr. Delbert White, custodian of the rooming house, that he had been instructed by a Mr. and Mrs. Short (telephone number 683 3143) that the F.B.I. had said: "No one can see this room unless he is wearing a gold badge.".

I have no "gold badge", yet I want to do what I must do as attorney for my client. This includes an investigation of the scene. Since the refusal of the permission to inspect the scene is attributed to some ephemeral representative of the F.B.I., I respectfully request a letter from you advising Mr. and Mrs. Short, at the above address, that it is not the policy of the F.B.I. to prevent an attorney for the defendant from inspecting the scene.

I know that such is not the policy of the F.B.I. and that the attitude of Mr. and Mrs. Short is due to a lack of full understanding of your policy.

Sincerely yours,

Percy Foreman

Sheriff WILLIAM N. MORRIS [redacted] Shelby County, Memphis, Tennessee, advised on 11-19-68 he was in receipt of information that might be of interest to the FBI. This information is as follows:

JAMES EARL RAY has advised WILLIAM BRADFORD HUIE that he thought because of recent developments there might be a different approach to his trial, but that the final decision would be left up to PERCY FOREMAN, the new attorney. RAY also requested that any payments that might be due him for attorneys fees not be sent to anyone, including RAY's brother JERRY. RAY also reportedly told Mr. HUIE that he had read an article indicating that HANES is supposedly negotiating with "Life" magazine to sell the defense file which he was going to present at RAY's trial. RAY said that if this were so it would affect to a considerable degree the story being written by Mr. HUIE. RAY suggested to HUIE that in the event he wanted to correspond with RAY again he should do so through Mr. FOREMAN.

The foregoing information is furnished for the Bureau's information. Any other information received will also be furnished the Bureau.

Re Memphis Airtel to Bureau 11/5/68.

Enclosed herewith for the Bureau are four copies of LHM regarding information furnished by one [redacted] to Departmental Attorney J. HAROLD FLANNERY regarding a possible conspiracy in this matter.

For the information of the Bureau, the following is a brief resume of activity that occurred in Memphis, Tennessee, which resulted in Martin Luther King's appearances in Memphis during March and April 1968.

On 11/4/68, [redacted] who has been most active in support of the Negro civil rights movement in Memphis in recent years, advised that a strike of the Memphis sanitation workers, most of whom are of the Negro race, commenced in Memphis 2/12/68. The strike was initiated by Local 1733, American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees (AFSCME). It started as a legitimate labor dispute, but soon developed into a political power struggle in the city of Memphis.

This informant explained that WILLIAM B. INGRAM, former Mayor of Memphis until January 1968, had been defeated in the November 1967 city election when he ran for re-election for Mayor against the present Mayor, HENRY LOEB. This had been a bitterly fought election in which INGRAM had the support of approximately 90% of the Negro electorate, who had categorized LOEB as a symbol of segregation. Beginning in late February, 1968, and continuing until the settlement of the strike in Mid-April, 1968, the political supporters of INGRAM joined the Union in support of the strike and in opposition to LOEB. This support stemmed from diverse Negro groups led by CORNELIA CRENSHAW, Mrs. TARLESE MATHEWS, a barber, O. W. PICKETT, Negro realtor, and a group of Negro ministers. The ministers developed an organization for this purpose known as Community on the Move for Equality (COME). Included in the group were such leaders as Reverend EZEKIEL BELL, Pastor, Parkway Gardens Presbyterian Church, Reverend JAMES MORRIS LAWSON, JR., SAMUEL B. KYLES, Pastor, Monumental Baptist Church, and Memphis Convener of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC), Reverend H. RALPH JACKSON, AME Church, who is Director, Minimum Salary Office, and Reverend MALCOLM D. BLACKBURN, Pastor of the Claiborne Temple, AME Church, 280 Hernando. All sanitation strike marches supporting the strike originated from Claiborne Temple, located at 280 Hernando, Memphis. All the above-mentioned individuals, with the exception of BLACKBURN, are Negroes and all had strongly opposed LOEB and had supported INGRAM in the November, 1967, city election. Reverend LAWSON, who had been Director of the non-violent tactics for SCLC, and Reverend KYLES were later influential in bringing MARTIN LUTHER KING, JR., Head of SCLC, to Memphis on March 28, 1968, and again on 4/3-4/68.

This source advised that as the strike developed, it became more and more apparent that the strike was a combined political and racial issue, nurtured, stimulated, and organized by political opponents of Memphis Mayor HENRY LOEB and supporters of former Mayor WILLIAM B. INGRAM. This was the group which so deeply involved SCLC in the strike, culminating in the 4/4/68 fatal shooting of MARTIN LUTHER KING, JR.

She stated that she has cohabited with [redacted] for approximately 1½ months in the recent past, and that during this period [redacted] has been conducting an independent investigation concerning the death of MARTIN LUTHER KING, JR., in an effort to substantiate his theories that possibly the Mafia and the Memphis Police Department are involved.

She stated [redacted] claimed he is divorced from his wife; however, he has been unable to display a divorce decree to her. She asserted that on the night of 11/19/68, she was in telephonic contact with [redacted] and during the conversation with him [redacted] indicated he still had the .25 caliber pistol belonging to [redacted] and that he intended to commit suicide with this weapon. She stated that although she has been acquainted with [redacted] for a period of time she was unable to state whether [redacted] made the remark concerning suicide in jest or whether he was serious.

The information furnished by [redacted] should not be disseminated to the U. S. RE: JAMES EARL RAY, Aka.;
Dr. MARTIN LUTHER KING - VICTIM
CIVIL RIGHTS - CONSPIRACY

Mr. J. Harold Flannery of the U. S. Department of Justice, has prepared a memorandum reflecting interviews on June 12, 1968, and August 22, 1968, with [redacted] of Greenville, Mississippi, a contract writer for "Time" magazine. In this memorandum, [redacted] alleges that [redacted] a Negro civil rights activist from Somerville, Tennessee, had overheard part of a telephone conversation at the Scott Street Produce Market in which the speaker allegedly made reference to where an individual should be shot and as to where the individual doing the shooting should go to collect his money.

[redacted] was interviewed on two occasions by Special Agents of the Memphis FBI Division, and the results of these interviews are set out as follows:

FEDERAL BUREAU OF INVESTIGATION

[redacted] Somerville, Tennessee, was interviewed at the Peabody Hotel, Memphis, Tennessee, in the presence of Inspector [redacted] Mr. [redacted] of the Tennessee Council on Human Relations, and Attorney [redacted] stated that he had some information he wished to furnish concerning the shooting of Dr. MARTIN LUTHER KING, JR.

[redacted] advised that on the afternoon of April 4, 1968, he traveled from Somerville, Tennessee, to Memphis, Tennessee, to pick up his supplies for his grocery store. He advised that he departed from the [redacted] Company, [redacted] Memphis, at approximately 4:20 P.M. He said he traveled directly to the Farmers Market located on Scott Street and after arriving purchased a sack of potatoes from a Negro man, name unknown, at the market. He then went to the place where he normally buys his produce and stated he does not know the name of this particular firm but said it was possibly the [redacted] He said this business is operated by a large, heavy set white man, who weighs approximately 300 pounds and is of possible Puerto Rican extraction and who can be identified because his teeth are set apart from each other. [redacted] stated after arriving at this company he walked up to the door to the office and noticed that the heavy set man was sitting at his desk with his back to the door and talking on the telephone.

[redacted] stated that the heavy set man did not see him at that time. He stated he heard the heavy set man say, "Kill the S.O.B. on the balcony and get the job done. You will get your $5,000." According to [redacted] a white man who is thin in build and who has a scar on his right cheek, saw him about that time and asked him what he wanted. [redacted] replied that he was there to pick up some produce and this man told him to go on to the back and help himself.

[redacted] said he went back to the rear portion of this office and shortly thereafter heard the telephone ring. The phone was answered by the man with the scar, and [redacted] said he could not hear what this man said. The man then handed the phone to the heavy set man, and [redacted] said he heard this man say, "Don't come out here. Go to New Orleans and get your money. You know my brother." [redacted] continued by advising that he bought his produce and wanted to purchase two bushels of apples. He said he saw apples at [redacted] but they referred him to another stove and told him that he could get his apples there. [redacted] believes that he was only at [redacted] Company for approximately ten minutes and this was sometime between 4:45 P.M. and 5:15 P.M.

[redacted] continued by advising that approximately a week prior to April 4, 1968, he was at [redacted] at which time the heavy set man, the man with the scar, and approximately three other white men were in a group talking. He said he heard the heavy set man say at this time, "They ought to shoot the S.O.B." [redacted] advised that immediately after this the heavy set man walked over to him and said, "What do you think about King and his mess?" [redacted] told the heavy set man that he tended to his own business.

[redacted] advised that he arrived at his store in Somerville at approximately 6:15 P.M. He said immediately thereafter [redacted] telephonically advised him that KING had been shot. He said on the following day his wife told him about the description of the person who possibly shot KING, and he said according to this description the individual was approximately 5'6" tall. He said he saw the sketch which appeared in the Commercial Appeal and which was supposed to be a likeness of the unknown individual who shot KING and when he compared the descriptions furnished by his wife from the paper and the sketch which appeared in the paper he thought of a person who was employed at [redacted] sometime last summer. He thinks this man might be identical to the person who actually shot KING and stated that this individual is a cross between an Indian, a Cuban, or a Mexican. According to [redacted] this person has a very yellow complexion, has "jungle rot" on his neck, and definitely gives the impression of being a Puerto Rican or a Cuban and definitely not an American. [redacted] also said, "This person is not 5 feet 6 like they said in the paper, but he is real tall. He is at least 5 feet 9."

[redacted] also advised that the person who he thinks might be identical to the person who shot KING weighs 140 pounds, has a slender build, and is approximately 25 years old. He could furnish no further description regarding this person or any further information of value to identify him.

[redacted] stated that he discussed what he had heard on the afternoon of April 4, 1968, with his wife and also discussed with his wife the possibility that he knows the identity of the person who shot KING. He said he was afraid to tell any person other than his wife and did not mention it to anyone except [redacted] whom he advised at approximately 7:00 P.M. on April 7, 1968.

[redacted] Somerville, Tennessee, was interviewed at his place of business, Somerville, at which time he furnished the following information concerning the shooting of Dr. MARTIN LUTHER KING, JR:

On the morning of April 4, 1968, at 8:00 a.m., he traveled to Memphis, Tennessee, from Somerville to pick up his supplies for his grocery store in Somerville. Before obtaining these supplies he went to his brother's house regarding income tax returns to be filled out by his brother, [redacted] He called his wife at home at approximately 2:30 p.m. and sometime thereafter, at approximately 3:00 p.m., he departed his brother's place of business to go to a "chicken place" near the Greyhound Station on Front Street to purchase some meat. He arrived at the "chicken place" a little before 3:15 p.m. and thereafter departed to go to Fineberg Meat Company, 2875 Starling Road, Memphis, Tennessee, arriving there at approximately 3:45 p.m. He bought $72 worth of meat at this place and a white female waited on him. He left Fineberg Meat Company at approximately 4:15 p.m. enroute to the Farmers Market located on Scott Street and arrived there at approximately 4:25 to 4:30 p.m. Upon arriving at the Farmers Market, he went to the east shed to purchase a sack of potatoes from a Negro male, name unknown. He put these potatoes in the bed of his truck and then proceeded to [redacted] Memphis. [redacted]

He stated that as he passed this door he heard a white male yell, "Kill the son-of-a-bitch on the balcony" and, "I don't care how you get the job done, just get it done." At the time he heard this remark he did not know just what it meant.

He stated [redacted] is operated by a large heavy-set white male who weighs approximately 250-300 pounds, has straight hair, is approximately 6' tall, has gapped teeth, was wearing a red sport shirt and sitting in an office in an office at this warehouse-type building at a desk with a telephone and was facing into the produce department area. He stated this individual had dark skin and was possibly of Puerto Rican or some "foreign" extraction. [redacted] stated he walked up to the door of this office and noticed the heavy set man was sitting at the desk with his back to the door talking on the telephone. This man did not notice him, [redacted] at the time.

At this time another individual, whom he described as a white male, clear skin, over 6' tall, 200 pounds, with a hat on, wearing casual clothes, and a scar on the right side of his throat, known by [redacted] to be another boss at [redacted] approached him and asked him what he wanted. According to [redacted] this man said, "Go ahead and wait on yourself." [redacted] advised that he then went back to the rear portion of the warehouse and purchased $16 worth of produce.

When he was coming out of this warehouse-type building, he heard the telephone ring which was answered by the man with the scar on his throat and he heard this individual mumble something to the heavy set man but he could not hear what this man had said. The man with the scar then handed the telephone to the heavy set man and he heard the heavy set man say, "Go to New Orleans and get your $5,000 and don't bring your ass near my place and don't call me any more-you know my brother in New Orleans." [redacted] advised that he had already purchased $16 worth of produce but decided he wanted to purchase approximately two bushels of apples. He had seen the apples at [redacted] but stated the heavy set man and the man with the scar on his face acted very nervous and told [redacted] "to go next door and get your apples." [redacted] stated that he was in the warehouse for approximately 30 minutes and to the best of his knowledge the telephone call took place about 5:15 p.m. [redacted] advised that he bought two cases of apples from a Jewish fellow on the west side of [redacted] and then left to return to his home in Somerville, Tennessee.

[redacted] advised he arrived back at his store in Somerville at 6:15 p.m. and learned from [redacted] a friend of his, who telephonically advised him that Dr. KING had been shot. He stated that late that night, after talking with his wife and discussing the description of the person who possibly shot KING, he figured the conversation he had heard may have had something to do with the murder of Dr. KING.

[redacted] stated that on the following day he saw a sketch appearing in The Commercial Appeal which was supposed to be a likeness of the unknown individual who shot KING and he compared the description furnished by his wife from the paper and the sketch which appeared in the newspaper and thought this to be a person who was employed at [redacted] sometime in the late fall or early winter of 1967. He stated this man, described as a light tanned or Puerto Rican type individual with long straight, coarse black hair, "jungle rot" on his neck, slender build, drop shoulders, white male, 5'10" - 5'11", 160 pounds, not a day over 25, as being identical with the individual who shot KING. He stated this individual was a cross between an Indian, Cuban, and Mexican and he could possibly identify this individual again. [redacted] stated he saw this individual for approximately one to two days at [redacted] in the late fall or early winter and has not seen him since that time at the produce company.

[redacted] advised another reason for his suspicions is that on a Thursday, a week before April 4, 1968, he was at [redacted] at which time the heavy set man, the man with the scar, said to him, "What do you think about your buddy?" [redacted] said he replied, "Who are you talking about?" The heavy set man then said, MARTIN LUTHER KING", to which [redacted] replied, "I tend to my own business." [redacted] stated the heavy set man then said, "Somebody ought to shoot the son -of-a-bitch." [redacted] stated he again replied, getting into his truck, "I tend to my own business" and drove off. [redacted] stated this was the first time the heavy set man had ever spoken to him regarding a racial matter.

[redacted] advised that he had discussed what he had heard on the afternoon of April 4, 1968, with his wife and had also discussed with his wife the possibility he knew the identity of the individual who shot KING.

[redacted] stated that on the morning of April 18, 1968, between 8:30 and 9:00 a.m., a beige, late model 1966 or 1967 Cadillac with a golden emblem on the front license place, license plate not noticed, drove into his driveway at [redacted]

[redacted] Somerville, Tennessee. An individual, identified as [redacted] and his wife, who approximately twelve years ago ran [redacted] in Somerville, Tennessee, and thereafter left to live in New Orleans, Louisiana, or that vicinity. He stated this individual operates an all-night truck stop in Louisiana at the junction of [redacted] He further stated this individual has house trailers on the property.

He stated [redacted] and his wife got out of the car to shake hands with [redacted] and stated they were "glad to see him." [redacted] stated they asked him questions concerning his itinerary for that day and he told them he was going to Memphis at approximately 4:00 p.m.

[redacted] stated that [redacted] asked, "Are you putting on a lot of weight?" and then asked if the road behind the [redacted] still came out into Old Macon Road. [redacted] advised he "acted dumb" and after a while [redacted] left. [redacted] told [redacted] he was leaving tonight or tomorrow night. (April 18-19, 1968). [redacted] advised that [redacted] did not threaten him in any way and he was very suspicious and connected this incident with the telephone call at [redacted] because the "white man shook my hand." According to [redacted] it is very uncommon for white men to shake black men's hands in his part of the country.

[redacted] stated he can tell when individuals are wearing guns and stated many times in the past he has seen people who appeared very suspicious to him and who, he thought, were a threat to him inasmuch as they stared at him and acted "funny." He advised he always looks at individuals to see whether or not they are wearing shoulder holsters or sidearms or "45's" in their back pockets. [redacted] pointed out that he always acted dumb so that people will not give him a hard time when in reality he is actually very smart.

[redacted] was shown six photographs, five of which were random photographs of individuals who have been arrested in various parts of the country in the past. These photographs are of [redacted], and JAMES EARL RAY, also known as ERIC STARVO GALT. [redacted] immediately eliminated the photographs of [redacted], and [redacted] and looked closely at the three remaining photographs. He stated that the photograph of [redacted] looked like the unknown individual he had seen in [redacted] in the late fall or early winter but stated he may be "too short."

[redacted] did not desire to furnish a signed statement regarding this individual stating he "did not want to get him in trouble" if this should be the wrong person. [redacted] noted certain similarities in this photograph, namely, the hair style was the same, he had the same "jungle rot" on his neck, and the profile was similar to that of the sketch by the Commercial Appeal artist in the newspaper. The individual picked out by [redacted] was born [redacted] 1943, is 5'5" tall, weighs 152 pounds, medium build, brown hair, brown eyes, and was last known to be residing in New Orleans, Louisiana.

[redacted] was shown a photograph of JAMES EARL RAY, also known as ERIC STARVO GALT, who was identified to [redacted] as being the individual wanted by the FBI for the murder of Dr. KING. At this point, [redacted] took the photograph of RAY and intimated this individual, too, resembled the man he saw at [redacted] in late fall or early winter, 1967. He stated, "Now let's be honest, the hair is combed the same way and there was some similarity in the individual he was attempting to describe. [redacted] was reminded that he had positively eliminated RAY on three occasions and he thereafter stated he just "was not sure."

During the interview with [redacted], an individual who was known to be a Times Magazine reporter was taking photographs of Agents interviewing [redacted] and during the interview it was felt that the distraction caused by this Times Magazine reporter necessitated moving [redacted] to a more secluded spot so that an effective and penetrating interview with him could be accomplished.

The following description of [redacted] was obtained through observation and interview:

As a result of the information furnished by [redacted] the following interviews were conducted by FBI Agents of the Memphis and New Orleans Divisions:

FD-302 (Rev. 3-13-64)

Date 4/22/68

[redacted] home address [redacted] Memphis, Tennessee, [redacted] Memphis, Tennessee, was interviewed at his place of business at which time he furnished the following information:

On April 4, 1968, he arrived at work at approximately 5:30 a.m. and stayed on the job, with the exception of lunch and possibly going to see one of his business associates, until 6:00 p.m.

[redacted] advised that in his capacity as [redacted] he is continually dealing with the public and business associates over the telephone and, therefore, does not have an exact recollection of just what transpired on that day. To the best of his knowledge, he does not remember discussing with anyone the possibility of shooting KING and emphatically denied having any knowledge of the activity of the person responsible for MARTIN LUTHER KING, JR.'s death.

[redacted] was shown a photograph of JAMES EARL RAY, also known as ERIC STARVO GALT, and failed to identify these photographs as being identical with any individual he knew.

[redacted] advised it is not uncommon talk among co-workers in and around the produce company and other individuals in the Memphis area to discuss the comments of KING while he was in the Memphis, Tennessee, area. [redacted] advised he may have made some general remarks regarding KING, especially since he felt the curfew in the Memphis area during KING's stay at Memphis, cost him approximately $40,000 to $50,000 in lost sales.

[redacted] advised that he receives and makes numerous telephone calls and specifically denied any telephone call made mentioning the shooting of Dr. KING or of any reference to KING. He stated that he had no knowledge of the shooting of Dr. KING while at work at the produce company.

[redacted] advised that he had been in New Orleans, Louisiana, just before Christmas, 1967. He advised it is not unusual for him to travel in his capacity as [redacted] of a produce company to obtain various produce in certain sections of the South. He left work at approximately 6:00 p.m., April 4, 1968, and feels certain he heard about the death of MARTIN LUTHER KING, JR., on his car radio although it is possible that if he stayed at work that day past 6:00 p.m. his sister or his wife may have telephonically contacted him as it is common for him to call these individuals just prior to leaving work. [redacted] advised that he cannot be specific about his actions on April 4, 1968, inasmuch as he is continually on the go and is in constant contact with various individuals, many of whom are business people who are coming to him for the first time.

He reiterated he may have made disparaging remarks about KING, both prior to the shooting and after the shooting of KING, and stated he does not consider this to be uncommon.

[redacted] home address [redacted] Memphis, Tennessee, employed as [redacted] 814 Scott, Memphis, was interviewed at his place of business and he furnished the following information:

To the best of his knowledge, he was at his place of business on April 4, 1968, and stated he did not recall exactly what time he arrived but remembered leaving at any time between 4:15 p.m. and 5:00 p.m. He called his wife at home just prior to leaving and she could probably verify the fact he arrived home sometime after 5:00 p.m.

[redacted] emphatically denied having any knowledge of the identity of the person responsible for Dr. MARTIN LUTHER KING, JR.'s death on April 4, 1968. He also emphatically denied ever discussing with anyone the possibility of shooting KING although he admitted he had made the usual derogatory remarks about KING's action in Memphis, Tennessee, and also about the fact KING was partly responsible for the curfew imposed on the city of Memphis resulting in loss of revenue by his business establishment in the Memphis area. He advised he may have made statements to the effect that KING should be killed although he does not recall any specific statements made by him to this effect. He stated that because of the curfew, he suffered approximately $40,000 in lost sales at the produce company.

[redacted] stated he frequently makes trips to New Orleans, Louisiana, to get strawberries and other produce and also because members of his family reside in the New Orleans area. He stated most of the co-workers, employees, and customers at his produce company know of his travels to New Orleans inasmuch as he frequently mentions his trips to New Orleans.

[redacted] stated that regarding telephone calls allegedly made by him or telephone calls to him on April 4, 1968, he specifically denied receiving any call where mention was made of Dr. KING or of Dr. KING's shooting. [redacted] stated most of his produce is purchased through telephone conversations and this inevitably involves talking about large sums of money over the telephone. He advised he did not receive any telephone call on April 4, 1968, regarding KING and stated he would have remembered any conversation over the telephone or in person which allegedly took place on April 4, 1968, involving the death of KING. He further stated he would have no reason for being involved in any action of this sort.

[redacted] advised he frequently taunts various individuals regarding racial matters and may have made disparaging remarks to some of his customers involving KING but reiterated he does not consider this uncommon among various co-workers at his place of employment.

[redacted] advised he has had no individual employed recently in late fall or early winter at his produce company fitting the description of the unknown individual described as having long straight, coarse, black hair, "jungle rot" on his neck, slender build, drop shoulders, tan complexion, 5'10"-5'11", 160 pounds, and "not a day over 25" years of age. He always employs Negro males for help in the produce department and any unidentified white male seen in or around his produce company would most likely be a truck driver or an individual who had come to his establishment to purchase produce.

[redacted] stated he left work between 4:15 p.m. and 5:00 p.m. and was not aware of KING's death until after his arrival at his home. He advised the first he heard of KING's death was from his wife or from the news media which reported it on television.

[redacted] was shown photographs of JAMES EARL RAY, also known as ERIC STARVO GALT and he stated he had never seen this individual before. He was furnished other aliases used by RAY and stated he had never heard any of these names used in his presence. He then made a search of his records but could locate no record on any individual by the name of JAMES EARL RAY, ERIC STARVO GALT, HARVEY LOWMEYER, or JOHN WILLARD as ever being employed at his establishment.

[redacted] reiterated that he did not receive any telephone call on April 4, 1968, where mention was made of shooting KING or any reference made to KING and stated he felt sure he would remember such a telephone conversation if it had, in fact, taken place.

[redacted] advised he has family members residing in New Orleans, Louisiana, and identified these individuals as follows:

Mother [redacted]
New Orleans, Louisiana

Brothers [redacted]
resides two houses away from his mother;
[redacted]
who works for [redacted] in [redacted] who works

[redacted] was interviewed in the home of her son [redacted] and advised as follows:

She is the widow of [redacted] and her maiden name was [redacted] She was born and raised in Memphis, Tennessee, and is 71 years of age. She and her husband came to New Orleans about 39 years ago and she has seven living children, of which three sons and one daughter reside in New Orleans.

She stated she saw her son [redacted] last Friday when he stopped in to see her after a trip to the Hammond, Louisiana, area for the purpose of purchasing strawberries for his produce business.

She occasionally contacts him by telephone and in fact called him a couple of days after the KING assassination purely out of concern for the family and to inquire as to the local situation.

She viewed a photograph of JAMES EARL RAY and stated that it looked familiar; however, she could not identify it specifically. She advised she has no knowledge of the KING assassination, other than what she has read in the newspapers and seen on television.

[redacted] located in the vicinity of his employment, [redacted] New Orleans, and interviewed. He voluntarily furnished the following information:

There is only one member of his immediate family that is in the produce business and that is his brother [redacted] in Memphis, Tennessee. He has not talked to [redacted] by telephone in at least four years. He stated [redacted] is the oldest of the brothers and there are two other brothers residing here in New Orleans, at present. One is [redacted] who resides at [redacted] who is a retired diabetic with a heart condition, having previously been employed by Viking for many years. The other brother is [redacted] who works for [redacted] Trucking Lines, and has for many years. [redacted] lives in Terry Town, just across the Mississippi River Bridge, and he believes the address is on Matador Drive.

He stated he was born and raised in Memphis and his father was in the produce business for many years, but none of the brothers in New Orleans are in the produce business. He knows that [redacted] occasionally travels to Hammond, Louisiana, to purchase strawberries but he knows of no other business contacts of [redacted] in the produce line in New Orleans.

He examined a photograph of JAMES EARL RAY, and advised he has seen this individual in the newspapers and television and has no knowledge of the KING assassination other than that gained from the news media.

He stated he resides at [redacted] and is mother, [redacted] resides alone at [redacted] He stated he would have no knowledge of any disparaging remarks made by his brother [redacted] concerning KING or the Negro element.

The following is a description gained from observation and interview:

[redacted] Louisiana, telephone number [redacted] advised that he was born September 18, 1936, in New Orleans, Louisiana. On January [redacted] at New Orleans, he married [redacted] and has one son and three daughters. For the past thirteen (13) years, [redacted] has been employed as a [redacted] at the West Trucking Company, New Orleans.

[redacted] stated that sometime just before the MARTIN LUTHER KING, JR., assassination, exact date unrecalled, he telephonically spoke to his brother, [redacted] in Memphis, Tennessee. [redacted] made this telephone call from his mother's residence. The purpose of this call was to borrow $200 from his brother. [redacted] did not make this call from his own residence, as he did not want his spouse to know about the loan. His brother, [redacted] wired him $200 in care of his mother's residence in New Orleans.

While on the telephone with his brother [redacted] invited him to visit him in Memphis, or to meet him at Hot Springs, Arkansas. [redacted] advised that his brother, [redacted] follows the race horses and likes to go to a race track at Hot Springs, Arkansas, and bet horses. [redacted] discussed his winnings and losses on the telephone with [redacted] does not recall the exact amounts of money he discussed.

[redacted] viewed photographs of JAMES EARL RAY and [redacted] and advised that he did not know either of those individuals and he did not believe that he had ever seen either of these individuals.

RE: James Earl Ray

Investigation by both Memphis and New Orleans has failed to associate any of the [redacted] with the Mafia - La Cosa Nostra, or to Carlos Marcellos.

According to Mr. Flannery's memorandum, [redacted] states that [redacted] and [redacted] Aka. [redacted] and [redacted] two professional killers, are also involved in this matter. [redacted] claims that [redacted] allegedly met James Earl Ray at a Lion Service Station in Memphis the day of or the night before the shooting and [redacted] has been saying he works for [redacted] and is responsible for "getting" James Earl Ray. According to one of [redacted] New Orleans informants, James Earl Ray was seen at or stayed at the Pontotoc Hotel in Memphis approximately three days before the shooting.

[redacted] also refers to an individual by the name [redacted] who was interviewed by both Flannery and [redacted] and allegedly made a statement to the effect that according to one [redacted] met [redacted] at a Lion Service Station on the night before or the day of the shooting.

In connection with the information contained in the foregoing paragraph, [redacted] Aka. [redacted] was interviewed on November 19, 1968. His comments are set forth as follows:

FEDERAL BUREAU OF INVESTIGATION

Date 11/21/68

[redacted], Memphis, Tennessee, unlisted Telephone [redacted] was interviewed at his place of employment, [redacted], Inc., [redacted] Avenue, Memphis, Tennessee, Telephone [redacted], and was apprised of the identities of interviewing Special Agents of the FBI. [redacted] furnished the following information:

[redacted] advised that he is familiar with an individual by the name [redacted], whom he met through [redacted] Aka, [redacted] shortly after the death of Martin Luther King, Jr. [redacted] stated he was introduced in August, 1968, to an individual known as Nick Flannery, who stated he was from the Justice Department, Washington, D. C. [redacted] advised that originally [redacted] had asked [redacted] to ascertain information from Negroes in the Memphis community concerning the death of Martin Luther King, Jr., but then asked [redacted] to obtain any information concerning the death of Martin Luther King, Jr., with the possibility that the "Mafia" was connected with King's death. [redacted] advised that he made no attempt to ascertain any information concerning the Mafia and the death of Martin Luther King, Jr.

He stated that when he met Flannery, he repeated to Flannery exactly what [redacted] had previously told him, namely that [redacted] met with James Earl Ray at a Lion Service Station on the day before the death of Martin Luther King. He stated that this information came from [redacted] and was in no way information he developed on his own. He stated that [redacted] is known to him as a cosmetics salesman in the Memphis area and is known to drink frequently in Caesar's Lounge, which according to [redacted] is owned by [redacted] states [redacted] is a former schoolmate of his and a legitimate businessman in the Memphis community. [redacted] states [redacted] is a nephew of [redacted], whom [redacted] described as a local Memphis businessman. He identified [redacted], Aka. [redacted] as a worker on a tug boat on the Mississippi River. He stated neither [redacted] nor [redacted] is known to him as a professional killer. [redacted] advised that [redacted] inquired about [redacted] who is known to [redacted] as a possible segregationist in the Memphis area. [redacted] stated [redacted] is of the opinion that if a car was used to go to Millington, as described by the news media, then [redacted] as the logical person, although no reason was given by [redacted] for this. [redacted] said [redacted] was of the opinion that if another white Mustang was used to assist the killer of King in escaping the Memphis area, as referred to by the news media concerning the CB radio broadcast, then he considered [redacted] to be the logical person to have a private airplane waiting at Millington.

[redacted] further stated that [redacted] is of the opinion that officers who were suspended for alleged police brutality within the past year are involved in the slaying of Dr. Martin Luther King. According to [redacted] does not give any basis for this.

[redacted] told [redacted] that he has contact with the Mafia in New Orleans, New York, and Philadelphia, although he named only one individual, one [redacted] or [redacted] as his contact with the Mafia in New Orleans.

[redacted] stated he has had numerous casual meetings with [redacted] and during this period [redacted] has volunteered certain information of his personal life to [redacted] including facts regarding the tragic death of [redacted] wife. While volunteering information to [redacted] regarding his wife's illness, [redacted] mentioned that his wife had become addicted to the use of narcotics during her illness and in this regard had cooperated with Federal Drug Administration Supervisor [redacted] had asked [redacted] to ascertain information regarding narcotics from [redacted]

[redacted] advised he could furnish no information concerning any conspiracy in the death of Martin Luther King, Jr. He said he knows of no individuals involved with James Earl Ray in the death of Martin Luther King, Jr.

Re: James [redacted]rl Ray

With regard to the allegation that Ray resided at the Pontotoc Hotel in Memphis approximately three days prior to the killing of Martin Luther King, Jr., a complete review of the records of the Pontotoc Hotel, 69 West Pontotoc Street, Memphis, on 11/18/68 for the period March 23 through April 8, 1968, failed to reveal any information concerning Ray under his true name or known aliases. [redacted] Pontotoc Hotel, [redacted] has 27 sleeping rooms at the Pontotoc Hotel, and that approximately 21 or 22 of these rooms are occupied by more or less permanent residents. He claims he himself resides at thehotel and he is positive that Ray never resided at this hotel during the past eleven years.

According to Mr. Flannery's memorandum, [redacted] claims that a [redacted] Memphis, was advised by a ranking officer in the Memphis Police Department (Captain or above) not to go near Dr. King because something was going to happen to him.

Reverend [redacted] Memphis, was interviewed by Agents of the FBI on 11/18/68. Reverend [redacted] claims that he has known [redacted], a contract reporter for "Time" magazine, since approximately April, 1968, and has had frequent contact with him since that date. He claims that, in fact, [redacted]at the present time maintains a room at [redacted] residence.

With regard to the information [redacted] attributes to [redacted], Reverend [redacted]r stated that those are not the exact words he has used in discussions with [redacted] and the statement attributed to him by [redacted] has been taken completely out of context and is inaccurate.

[redacted] refused to state whether he had any discussion with any Memphis police officer concerning Martin Luther King, Jr.; however, he admitted that he has had many conversations with ranking police officers of the Memphis Police Department in the past six years. [redacted] admitted that he currently does hold a grudge against the Memphis Police Department due to the fact that he is not satisfied with the manner in which certain officers of the Police Department have handled complaints he has made to the Department in the past.

Reverend [redacted] describes [redacted] as being an alcoholic who is currently experiencing marital difficulties. By "alcoholic", Reverend [redacted] stated he means that he has observed [redacted] commence drinking alcoholic beverages, namely wine and hard liquor, as early as 8 o'clock in the morning and to continue to consume these alcoholic beverages throughout the day and into the night.

According to the memorandum of Mr. Flannery, [redacted] claims that shortly after the killing a bartender overheard some Memphis policemen say there had been a "slip up" and that the assassination was originally scheduled to take place after the march for which Dr. King had returned to Memphis.

Since [redacted] was either unwilling or unable to identify the bartender, the Memphis Office of the FBI has been unable to conduct any investigation to determine the veracity of this allegation; however, a review of the records of the Memphis Police Department and the Memphis FBI Office has failed to reveal any information to indicate that such an incident was ever reported to these respective law enforcement agencies.

According to Mr. Flannery's memorandum, [redacted] refers to a civilian having been observed lying in the back of a police car immediately after the shooting and near Mulberry and Huling. He got out of the police car, into another car, and was driven away.

In this regard, the records of the Memphis Police Department reveal the following:

At 6:55 p.m. on 4/4/68, [redacted], a white male, and [redacted], a white male, were both arrested at Second Street and Vance, by officers assigned to Police Tactical Unit #14, inasmuch as they refused to give the [redacted] officers any reason for being in the area of the Lorraine Motel at the time of the shooting of Reverend King. According to the arresting officers, these two individuals were placed in a marked patrol car, questioned, and then transferred to an unmarked police car for transportation to Central Police Headquarters. According to Inspector [redacted], Memphis Police Department, the handling of these prisoners was standard operating procedure and most persons arrested by tactical units during disturbances during this period were transported to Headquarters in unmarked cars, one arrestee to a car.

According to Mr. Flannery's memorandum, [redacted] claims that an unidentified Negro policeman was removed from his assignment at the Fire Station at about 5 p.m. on the day of the assassination. [redacted] identifies this policeman as [redacted]

[redacted] also states that two Negro firemen were moved from the station a day or two before the shooting. One of them had reportedly told friends that two or three days before Dr. King was shot a telescope or binoculars had been set up on a tripod in the Fire Station and focused on the Lorraine Motel balcony. According to this memorandum, [redacted] in August advised Flannery that one fireman left the Department or was suspended, shortly after the shooting, and that he had been unable to locate either of them.

In this regard, Inspector [redacted] Intelligence Unit, Memphis Police Department, advised on 11/18/68, that on 4/3/68 he assigned Detective [redacted] and Patrolman [redacted] Negro officers, both of whom are assigned to the Inspection Division of the Memphis Police Department, to a security detail at the Memphis Fire Station, Engine House #2, located at Butler and Main Streets. This location is approximately one block from the Lorraine Motel. The purpose of this assignment was to observe the activities of the "Invaders," local Black Power group at Memphis. A number of the "Invaders" were rooming at the Lorraine Motel at this time. These two officers were equipped with binoculars and were stationed in a room at the rear of the fire station, with a view that included

In connection with this assignment, and prior to the time Officers [redacted] and [redacted] physically proceeded to this assigned location, it was determined by the Intelligence Unit of the Memphis Police Department that a Negro fireman stationed at the Fire Station and named [redacted] had taken an active part in demonstrations by the striking sanitaton workers in February and March, 1968, and had been closely associated with black militants connected with the strike. In order to insure security for Officers [redacted] and [redacted] and to insure that no information regarding the Memphis Police Department Intelligence Unit's efforts to keep abreast of the activities of the "Invaders" was leaked to the black militants in Memphis, the Chief of the Memphis Fire Department was requested to temporarily transfer Fireman [redacted] to another fire station. This was done on 4/3/68.

In addition, on 4/4/68, Negro Fireman [redacted] was routinely assigned from Fire Station #2 to Fire Station #31, due to a manpower shortage at Fire Station #31.

On 11/18/68, [redacted] advised that by letter dated 5/18/68, Fireman [redacted] resigned from the Memphis Fire Department after thirteen years of service, giving as his reason for leaving "Personal Reasons." [redacted] advised it is his understanding that [redacted] has become an active worker with the NAACP at Memphis subsequent to his resignation from the Memphis Fire Department.

At approximately 4:15 p.m. on 4/4/68, Lt. [redacted] of the Intelligence Unit of the Memphis Police Department, on instructions from Inspector [redacted] proceeded to Fire Engine House #2 and removed Detective [redacted] from this station, leaving Officer [redacted] at this post. The reason for the removal of Officer [redacted] was due to the receipt of a telephone call on the morning of 4/4/68 by [redacted] for Senator McClellan's Senate Investigating Committee, Washington, D. C., to the effect that information had been received by the Committee that a Negro detective on the Memphis Police Department was to be killed.

Due to Detective [redacted] activities in attending meetings of the striking sanitation workers in February and March 1968, [redacted] had been threatened on several occasions. Inspector [redacted] therefore believed the telephone call received by the McClellan Committee was another threat directed against [redacted]. He therefore ordered [redacted] removed from his lookout post at Engine House #2 for [redacted] own protection. A police guard of two officers was assigned to [redacted] and his family as a result of this threat.

A review of the tapes of the Memphis Police Department radio transmissions for April 4, 1968, failed to reflect any transmissions from Police Dispatcher ordering [redacted] to move from his observation post and, in fact, it has been ascertained that no radio equipment was maintained by the Police officers at this observation post with which to receive radio transmissions.

According to this memorandum, [redacted] mentions something to the effect that [redacted] of the Memphis Police Department telephonically contacted the Lorraine Motel regarding stationing detectives at the motel.

In this regard, [redacted] as advised that he does not recall talking to any maid at the Lorraine Motel on 4/4/68; however, he stated he had been in telephonic contact on a number of occasions with [redacted] regarding the identity of certain individuals registered at the Motel.

It has been determined from the Memphis Police Department that on the morning of 4/3/68, Memphis [redacted] ordered [redacted] of the Department to send a detail of men to the Memphis Metropolitan Airport to offer security to the Reverend Martin Luther King, Jr. and his party. Police records reflect that Inspector [redacted] offered the services of the police detail to [redacted]

[redacted] who was acting as chauffeur for Dr. Martin Luther King. Mrs. Mathews advised Lt. [redacted] Memphis Police Department, who is an officer in this detail, that they had not asked for police to be assigned to protect Dr. King, and did not desire a police escort. In addition, members of King's party refused to tell the police detail where they planned to stay or their itinerary while in Memphis. Inspector [redacted] while offering the services of the Memphis Police Department to Dr. King for security, escort, and protection purposes, was advised by the Reverend [redacted] an associate of King, that no assistance was desired and that they had not fully made up their minds where they were going with Reverend KING after they left the Memphis Metropolitan Airport.

At approximately 1:30 a.m., on 4/5/68, [redacted] a member of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC) Strategy Committee, advised [redacted] of the Memphis Police Department that this SCLC Strategy Committee had considered asking for police protection for the Reverend Martin Luther King, Jr.; however, the Committee had decided against this.

According to Mr. Flannery's memorandum, [redacted] stated that a little Negro boy allegedly heard a shot and saw a man jump up from the bushes behind the rooming house (below the window area from which the shot is thought to have been fired) and run off. According to [redacted] the little boy has been identified and interviewed by Bureau Agents and the Memphis Police Department.

In this regard, a review of the records of the Memphis Police Department and the Memphis FBI Office has failed to reveal any information to indicate that any officers of these respective law enforcement agencies interviewed a young Negro boy who is allegedly the contributor of the above information by [redacted] In this regard, on 11/15/68, Source One and Source Two both advised that [redacted] a 'Time' magazine reporter, had gone throughout the Memphis area immediately following the King slaying, and was overheard asking leading questions of Negroes, namely, "You think it's possible that a police officer could have killed Martin Luther King, Jr.?" According to these sources, as a result of this, practically the entire Memphis Negro community has given vent to the rumor that a police officer had killed King. The sources claim this rumor has embittered a very large segment of the Negro community and has caused widespread distrust by Negroes against all law enforcement officers and has caused a serious community cleavage between the Police and the Negro community.

In view of the fact that numerous allegations have been made, either by [redacted] or his alleged sources, stating involvement of Memphis police officers in the assassination of Dr. King, Frank Holloman, Director of Fire & Police, was contacted. Holloman advised that shortly after the assassination of Dr. King he received information that a representative of "Time" magazine was circulating in thd Negro community and asking questions of the Negro residents. His sources informed him that the general tenor of the questions being asked was to the effect that it was conceivable that the Memphis Police Department was involved in the assassination of Dr. King. Director Holloman advised that later he learned the reported "Time" representative was an individual by the name of [redacted] He subsequently had an appointment with [redacted]

Director Holloman said at this time he informed [redacted] that he had received certain information indicating that [redacted] had, by his questions, created the inference in the Negro community that it was possible the Memphis Police Department was involved in the assassination of Dr. King. Director Holloman advised that he told [redacted] that if [redacted] wrote a story based on rumors and misstatements of facts such as he was collecting rgarding the involvement of the Memphis Police Department, Director Holloman would institute a civil suit against him and do everything in his power to insure that [redacted] wrote only the truth and did not print such falsifications regarding the Memphis Police Department.

Director Holloman stated that after his discussion with [redacted] has not again called at his office for any information, nor has any story appeared.

BLACK ORGANIZING PROJECT (BOP),
Also known as Black Organizing Power,
Afro-American Brotherhood,
Black Student Association,
Invaders,
LeMoyne Intercollegiate Chaptor of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP),
City Organizers

On April 18, 1968, a third source advised that a black power group in Memphis which has been in existence for several months has until recently been known as Black Organizing Power. It is now known as Black Organizing Project (BOP), also known as Black Organizing Power, with five cells or parts, known as (1) Afro-American Brotherhood (AAB), primarily consisting of Owen College students; (2) Black Student Association (BSA), primarily consisting of Memphis State University (MSU) Negro students; (3) LeMoyne Intercollegiate Chapter of the NAACP, consisting of LeMoyne College students; (4) the Invaders, consisting mostly of high school dropouts; and (5) the City Organizers, comprised of young adults.

AAB has about 12 members; BSA has about 20 members; the Invaders has about 15 members; the LeMoyne group has about 20 members; and the City Organizers has about 20 members.

Source three advised that the BOP attempts to create pride in black identity, attempts to teach and promote the teaching of Negro history, and to promote black culture and obtain more employment for young Negroes.

The Executive Secretary of BOP is Charles Laverne Cabbage.

On February 16, 1968, Charles Laverne Cabbage personally acknowledge being leader of BOP, claiming he is the impetus of black power in Memphis, Tennessee, and that BOP's purpose is to stimulate in the young Negroes a sense of black identity, black pride, and black consciousness. He said his group follows the teachings of Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee (SNCC) leaders H. Rap Brown and Stokely Carmichael but that BOP did not necessarily exist as a formal SNCC unit. CABBAGE further admitted he had made statements such as "Memphis should be burned" and "Memphis should have a good race riot," but claimed he did not mean these statements literally, merely endeavoring to shock the community into doing something to help the black race.

On February 27, 1968, a fourth source advised that at a public meeting on February 26, 1968, the BOP Chairman John Burrell Smith told a Negro audience, "We've got to do some fighting," and "You'd better get some guns. You're going to need them before this is over. You can't pray your way out."

On June 6, 1968, the fourth source advised that BOP primarily consists of about 30 to 35 young college and high school students and school dropouts, unemployed and not looking for work, who continually preach hatred of the white race and capitalistic economic system and advocating and predicting violence by blacks. The over-all plan of BOP, according to source four, is to scare the Memphis community leaders, both black and white, into fearing black militancy. The BOP leaders then hope to convince the community to fund them as a form of subtle blackmail whereby BOP can prevent racial violence. Source four said that BOP is more interested in publicity and money than in direct action, but is nevertheless preaching violence in an effort to scare the community.

[redacted], Auto Registration Section, Secretary of State's Office, Springfield, Illinois, advised on November 26, 1968, that 1967 Illinois license LJ 5943 was issued on August 8, 1967, to JOHN L. RAYNS, 507 Chestnut, Post Office Box 293, Winnetka, Illinois, for a 1962 Plymouth, four door sedan, Vehicle Identification Number 2921165934. [redacted] advised that the 1962 Plymouth, four door, was purchased July 14, 1967, from Bundy Oldsmobile, 711 Illinois Avenue, East St. Louis, Illinois.

[redacted], Drivers License Section, Secretary of State's Office, Springfield, Illinois, advised that JOHN L. RAYNS, 507 Chestnut, Winnetka, Illinois, failed his license examination and driving examination on June 9, 1967; however, he passed his examinations on June 12, 1967. On June 21, 1967, RAYNS was issued Operator's License #R520-4723-3045, and this license describes him as 5 feet 9 inches tall, 158 pounds, brown hair, blue eyes, born February 14, 1933. Permit #D754464 had also been issued on June 21, 1967.

Mr. [redacted] of the World-Union Press, United Nations, New York, directed a letter to us stating that the young man shown in the Warren Commission Exhibit photograph number 2632 seems to resemble the photograph of Ray as appearing in the November 26, 1968, issue of "Look" magazine (circulated November 12, 1968). [redacted] letter was acknowledged by the Director.

Correspondent's reference to Warren Commission Exhibit number 2632 is a photograph of former Chief of Police CURRY [redacted] of Dallas, Texas Police Department holding a press conference on the third floor corridor of the Memphis Police Department, press conference televised sometime between period of 11/22-24/63. This photograph appears on page 232 in the Warren Commission Report.

It is noted that James Earl Ray was incarcerated in the Missouri State Penitentiary from March 17, 1960, to his escape on April 23, 1967. It is further noted that the photograph as contained in the Warren Commission Report as referred to by [redacted] was taken in November 1963; therefore, it is not possible for Ray to be included in this photograph.

Dear Mr. Hoover:

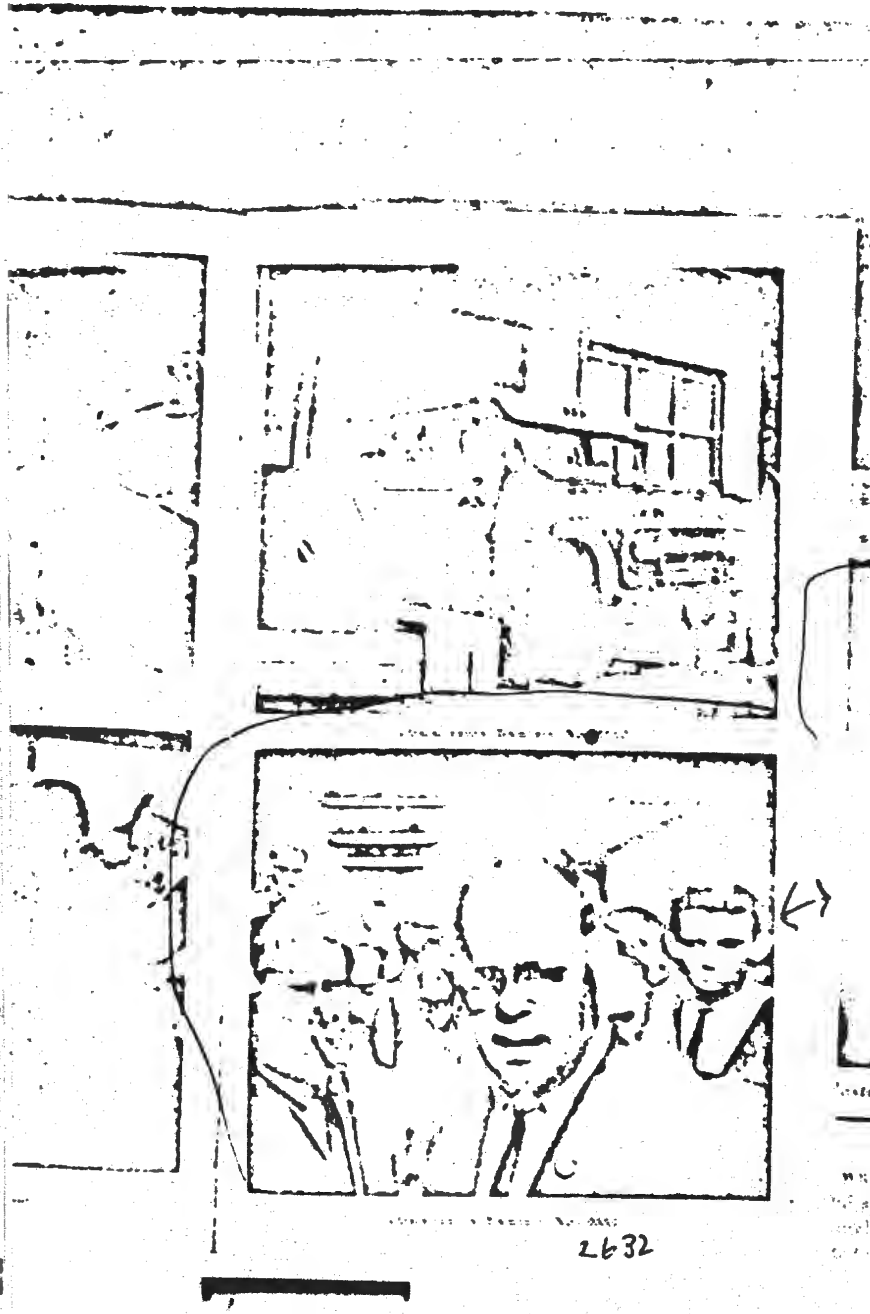
I may be entirely wrong, but it seems to me that the expression, that is, the facial 'contemplative' look of the young man shown in the Warren Commission Exhbit photo No. 2632 (at the right) seems to resemble that of Ray now up for trial in Memphis for the alleged assassination of Martin Luther King.

I have noted this for some months now, but more so this week on the basis of a photo of Ray appearing in the current issue of LOOK.

It is important, in this connection, to take into consideration Ray's plastic surgery.

Perhaps your office ought to determine who the man is - shown in the Exhibit 2632.

All best wishes.



Sincerely,

SUBJECT: James Earl Ray, Subject;
Martin Luther King, Jr., Victim; Conspiracy Against Rights,
CIVIL RIGHTS

We have reviewed the article in the November 26, 1968, Look Magazine written by William Bradford Huie concerning the subject (pages 86-99).

It presents a number of objective facts as to Ray's travel and activities between April 23, 1967, and December 1967. To the extent possible, please determine the correctness of these facts if you have not already done so.

There are also a number of allegedly factual statements in the article which, as part of the continuing full investigation of this matter previously requested, require investigation in connection with the presence or absence of a conspiracy. While not inclusive, the ones appearing in this second article which seem to us to require investigation are:

1. In August of 1967, Ray crossed the Detroit-Windsor border, and made a $4.50 import tax payment for a television he carried in his car. At this crossing, Ray had left Raoul at a Detroit bus station. Ray was instructed to wait at the Windsor railroad station for Raoul who was delivered there in a cab.

2. Ray allegedly arrived in Birmingham on August 25, 1967, from Canada, by way of Gary, Indiana, and Chicago(where he sold the red Plymouth).

3. On or near August 28, 1967, Ray received a letter from Raoul in Birmingham, and was told that night to meet Raoul at the Starlite Cafe on 5th Avenue

DEC-15

North, across from the Post Office. The article states that Ray and Raoul met at the cafe again the following night where Ray discussed with Raoul the Mustang he had found for sale.

4. On or about August 30, 1968, Ray paid William D. Paisley $2,000 in $20- or larger bills for the Mustang. The article states Ray "was handed the $2,000 in Birmingham, perhaps only a few minutes before he handed it to Mr. Paisley." The denominations stolen from the Illinois bank which we believe Ray and one other man robbed may be relevant here.

5. Sometime after October 5 or 6, 1967, Ray stayed in a motel in Nuevo Laredo, Mexico, where he met Raoul. Upon Raoul's instructions, Ray drove back across the Mexican border followed by Raoul in a cab. On the United States side, Raoul took a tire from a car waiting by a frame house, and placed it in Ray's car. Raoul and Ray then together drove through Customs. Raoul got out from the car, and Ray paid the inspectors $3.00 to be cleared. It was here that Ray obtained his tourist card. Together, he and Raoul drove to Ray's motel where Raoul's car, with Mexican license plates was waiting. The next day, Raoul returned to Ray's motel. The tire was again placed in Ray's car. Ray in his car, and Raoul in his car, were passed through the interior customs.

6. In the middle of December 1967, Ray met Raoul again in a bar in New Orleans, and was given $2,500 in $20 bills. Ray contacted Raoul at the New Orleans phone number given Ray in Canada.

7. There is an account of Ray's contact with Rev. von Kos, head of the International Society of Hypnosis, in January 1968 and of his nose operation by Dr. Russell Hadley, plastic surgeon.

8. On March 15, 1968, "Ray received by mail . . . the directive he had been expecting. He was wanted in Selma and Birmingham, Ala." He registered in Selma on Friday, March 22, 1968, at the Flamingo Motel. The AP on March 21, 1968, reported that Dr. King was to be in Camden, Alabama, on March 21.

Please provide this Division (carbon copy to the Criminal Division) with a report of the results of your investigation and checking out of the facts as to Ray's travel and activities.

FINAL

Enclosed for Bureau and Memphis Division are four copies and five copies respectively of FD-302 reflecting interview with [redacted].

[redacted] voluntarily furnished this information after he had mentioned this information to the military authorities at Ft. McClellan, Alabama, who in turn notified the FBI.

It is noted that [redacted] appeared sincere throughout the interview; however, he was extremely vague in details and was unable to provide any names of any individuals who could verify any of his story or the fact that he was in Memphis at the time of the assassination of KING. A review of the military records at Ft. McClellan, Alabama, reveal that [redacted] went AWOL from Ft. Campbell, Kentucky, on 3/31/68 and was not returned until October, 1968, to military control.

Any action based upon this interview is being left to the discretion of Bureau and office of origin.

Date 11/15/68

[redacted], United States Army, Serial No. [redacted] advised he was in military custody while being transported to Ft. Campbell, Kentucky, following his apprehension at Cleveland, Mississippi, for being absent without leave. [redacted] provided the following information to Special Agent [redacted] who identified himself as a Special Agent with the FBI. Also present during this interview of [redacted] was Lt. Col. [redacted], [redacted], Ft. McClellan, Alabama.

[redacted] advised that he went AWOL from Ft. Campbell, Kentucky, around March 29, 1968. He then traveled to Cleveland, Ohio, where he stayed for a period of approximately two days and then obtained a ride from Cleveland, Ohio, to Memphis, Tennessee, with an individual [redacted] knew only as [redacted] who drove a pink Cadillac and was from Memphis, Tennessee. [redacted] stated that he was broke when he arrived in Memphis, Tennessee, and located a place to sleep in a condemned building at 1408 Beal Street in Memphis. [redacted] slept there one night and was walking down an alley to return to this building at approximately 3:30 A.M., the second night when he observed four Negro males standing near the alley just ahead of him. [redacted] stated that he stopped and stood in the shadows as he was afraid these individuals would try to harm him. As [redacted] stood there he overheard these individuals arguing. One individual said "Let me get him." The other individuals were arguing they should be the one to "get him." One of the individuals who [redacted] described as a large Negro male, approximately 6'6" to 6'7" tall, approximately 30 years of age, and wearing a thin beard which encompassed his entire face, stated something to the effect that he should be the one to "get KING." Also, this individual stated that he would get the gun.

[redacted] described the others with the big man as follows:

On 11/13/68 at Anniston, Alabama File # ME 44-1987 BH 44-1740

by SA [redacted] Date dictated 11/13/68

This document contains neither recommendations nor conclusions of the FBI. It is the property of the FBI and is loaned to your agency; it and its contents are not to be distributed outside your agency.

No. Two Man was described as a Negro male, young, approximately 20 years old, 5'4", wearing khaki pants.

No. Three Man was described as a Negro male, 5'11", medium-heavy build, balding hair and worn natural with two parts. This individual also wore metal rim glasses with very small lens.

No. Four Man was described as a Negro male, approximately 5'10", approximately 25 years of age, and wore a black tam with blue decorations.

[redacted] stated that upon hearing these individuals talk, he became afraid and ran in the opposite direction so that he would not have to pass in front of them. [redacted] stated that he then went to the Greyhound Bus Station where he sat the rest of the night.

At approximately 10:30 A.M., the following day, [redacted] stated he returned to Beal Street where he went to a bar called the Bucket of Blood and purchased approximately two beers. [redacted] stated that he observed these four individuals in the tavern at that time. He then got up and left this tavern after having been inside approximately 15 minutes and upon coming out observed two of the four individuals he had seen the previous night standing on the curb on Beal Street near the tavern. [redacted] stated as he began to walk down Beal Street, he observed a 1954 blue Ford convertible with white top drive up and the individuals who were standing on the curb then got inside. [redacted] stated that he observed this vehicle was driven by the large Negro male with the beard who he had seen the previous night. [redacted] stated that he also observed that a rifle sight approximately 8" in length was laying in the rear deck of the automobile. [redacted] stated that he did not see any gun and that it was obvious the sight was not attached to a gun.

[redacted] stated that he returned to the bus station where he later learned of the assassination of MARTIN LUTHER KING. He stated that up until this time he was unaware that KING was in Memphis and had not associated any of the statements he had overheard with MARTIN LUTHER KING.

[redacted] advised he felt he could identify the large Negro male who wore the beard but would be unable to identify any of the other individuals. He reiterated that his entire basis for believing that these individuals may have been responsible for the murder of KING was the single mention of the word "KING" by one of the individuals in the alley the previous night.

The following descriptive data was obtained through observation and interview:

SUBJECT: MURKIN

SYNOPSIS:

This is the case involving the murder of Martin Luther King, Jr.

William Bradford Huie, author, has written two articles which appeared in "Look" magazine concerning James Earl Ray. These articles are based upon notes furnished to Huie by Ray.

Huie, in these articles, infers that a conspiracy exists; however, he did not set forth details to substantiate this. Huie states in these articles that an individual by the name of "Raoul" and Ray entered into a "joint activity" (not further described) and "Raoul" provided Ray with funds. The possibility exists that "Raoul" and Ray engaged in transporting contraband such as narcotics between Canada and the United States and the United States and Mexico as it is noted that Ray attempted to purchase marijuana in Mexico. Investigation by us, the Royal Canadian Mounted Police, and Mexican authorities has failed thus far to identify "Raoul" or to verify his existence. We have no information to date to indicate that Ray was involved in a conspiracy.

Huie, in these articles, sets forth motels that Ray was registered in as a guest that we were not previously aware of. We have checked this out, found it to be true; however, nothing of significance developed. Huie also, in his articles, furnished an account of Ray's employment at Winnetka, Illinois, which we previously were aware of; however, nothing of significance developed.

DETAILS: This is the case involving the murder of Martin Luther King, Jr.

William Bradford Huie, author, previously advised us that he entered into a contract with James Earl Ray to write the true account of Ray's activitie and background concerning the assassination of King. Huie has been provided with notes from Ray by Arthur B. Hanes, Ray's former attorney, and based upon these notes, Huie has written two articles which appeared in "Look" Magazine.

Huie, in these articles, inferred that a conspiracy took place as early as August, 1967, and continued up to the day King was assassinated; however, no specific detail was provided to bear this out. Huie also inferred that Ray was involved unknowingly, but again he provided nothing to substantiate this. Huie, in these articles, furnished an account of an individual by the name of "Raoul" and Ray entering into a "joint activity" for which "Raoul" would pay Ray $12,000. The specific nature of the "joint activity" was not fully described or identified, but Ray was to transport packages (not further described) between the United States and Canada.

Huie further stated that "Raoul" met Ray at various motels in the United States, provided Ray with funds and Ray and "Raoul" met at the Mexican Border and an exchange of tires took place.

Extensive investigation by us, the Royal Canadian Mounted Police, and Mexican authorities has failed thus far to identify "Raoul" or to verify his existence. We have no information to date to indicate that Ray was involved in a conspiracy. It is quite possible that "Raoul" and Ray were engaged in some type of smuggling activity as the packages they were allegedly transporting and the tires they were allegedly exchanging could have contained contraband such as narcotics. It is noted that during October and November, 1967, when Ray was in Mexico, he made inquiry as to where he could purchase marijuana.

Huie, in these articles, sets forth motels that Ray was registered in as a guest that we were not previously aware of. We have checked this out, found it to be true; however, nothing of significance developed. Huie also, in his articles, furnished an account of Ray's employment at Winnetka, Illinois, which we previously were aware of; however, nothing of significance developed.

Enclosed please find the original of a registration card believed for subject RAY under alias JOHN L. RAYNS. This reflects his registration at 9:05 a.m. on Saturday, 8/26/67, at the Grenada Hotel, Birmingham, a third rate institution, giving residence address of 1825 Lafayette St., St. Louis, Missouri.

It is requested that the handwriting appearing on the three lines of the registration card be compared with known handwriting of subject RAY. A Xerox copy of the registration card is also enclosed for the Bureau and each office receiving this communication. Mr. ADRIAN KOONCE, Clerk, has no independent recollection of RAYNS.

A review of all registration cards during the period 8/22-28/67 has been completed without noting any significant card which might be indicative of the presence of "RAOUL" during the period. A list of the names will be furnished Memphis.

ADMINISTRATIVE

The Bureau and Memphis will recall that New Orleans report of SA STEPHEN M. CALLENDER, 4/29/68, (NO 157-10673-802) sets forth investigation at the Provincial Motel and information regarding motel records as furnished by owner manager, DUPEPE at that time.

New Orleans airtel 5/7/68 (NO 157-10673-851) to Memphis and other offices, including Mobile and San Diego, set forth leads to have the motel registrants interviewed

As indicated in instant report Mr. DUPEPE has located additional motel registrants.

In view of the instructions set forth in re New Orleans airtel 11/1/68 (NO 157-10673-1198) New Orleans is not setting forth leads to interview all the registrants not previously interviewed. However, because of the proximity of certain registrants, i.e., the LARSONs, the SMITHs and QUINN and LACEY, New Orleans has set forth leads to interview them. These interviews should be conducted along the lines set forth in New Orleans airtel 5/7/68. To possibly identify some of the long distance calls shown in this report they should be asked whether they made calls or know anyone who did. Also during the interview they should be questioned for possible identification of "RAOUL"

Mobile, Orange and San Diego will submit results of investigation by report rather than insert.

Title: JAMES EARL RAY;
DR. MARTIN LUTHER KING, JR. - VICTIM

Character: CIVIL RIGHTS

Synopsis: Records of Provincial Motel, New Orleans, La., indicate RAY using alias of GALT, stayed at the motel December 17-19, 1967. Data concerning occupants of motel December 14-22, 1967, obtained. It shows RAY as GALT was in Room 126. Prior to RAY occupying Room 126 it was occupied by H. R. QUINN and JOE LACEY, JR., [redacted] Montgomery, Ala., make of car S.W. (probably station wagon), Alabama license 3-2146, 2 in party. While RAY was in Room 126 Mr. and Mrs. DONALD C. [illegible] SMITH, [redacted] Sioux City, Iowa, 2 in party, occupied Room 125 which is next to Room 126. Mrs. LOUISE LARSON, [redacted], LaJolla, Calif., 1 in party, registered in Room 126, 12/19/67, after RAY checked out of Room 126. Probably with Mrs. LARSON, occupying a nearby room, were Mr. and Mrs. VIRGIL J. LARSON, [redacted], LaJolla, Calif., 2 in party. It would appear the three LARSONs arrived by taxi rather than personal car. Toll cards December 14-22, 1967, from public phone at Provincial Motel not available. Clerk who registered RAY and owner-operator of laundry and dry cleaning which does work for Provincial Motel interviewed and no additional info obtained.

FEDERAL BUREAU OF INVESTIGATION

Mr BRYAN DUPEPE, Owner Manager, Provincial Motel, 1024 Chartres Street, French Quarter, New Orleans, Louisiana, was contacted concerning guests residing at the motel during the period December 17-19, 1967, which was when JAMES EARL RAY was reportedly registered at the Provincial Motel as ERIC S GALT, and for guests residing at the motel three days before, i e., December 14-16, and three days after, i e., December 20-22, 1967.

After an exhaustive search of motel records, Mr. DUPEPE made available the following work sheets and motel registration cards and long distance phone bills which have been xeroxed and are attached The originals are being retained in the files of the Memphis Office of the FBI and are to be returned to Mr. DUPEPE after they have served their purpose.

In explanation of the records Mr. DUPEPE furnished the following information:

Each workday has a work sheet. The date is shown at the top, e g., Thursday, December 14, 1967. The entries on the sheet are made by the morning desk clerk and the afternoon desk clerk The numbers on top of the sheet, e.g., 36967-36975, are ledger numbers and are used for internal bookkeeping purposes. The other numbers, e.g., X 12, S/O 17, R 8, T 25, mean 12 rooms are ready because the occupants have paid and checked out, 17 persons are staying over, 8 rooms were rented the day in question, and a total of 25 rooms were occupied the day in question.

In further explanation, using the Thursday, December 11, 1967, work sheet as an example, Mr. DUPEPE explained, Room 101 was not rented although as indicated by the circle it was ready for renting. S/O, staying over in Room 102 was TAGLAVORE Further down in the rooms, room 109 was rented for the first time on December 14, 1967 to JOHNSON The number 36968, under JOHNSON, means that was his ledger card number. Each guest is assigned a ledger card whereon are recorded charges for room, food, beverage, valet and phone calls. All the ledger cards for December, 1967, have been destroyed and whatever charges each guest had are unavailable at the motel. All these services are rendered by the motel except valet which is handled by Lee Laundry and Cleaners, 830 Chartres Street. Every two weeks or so this company sends the motel individual slips showing valet work done for the applicable room. These slips are checked against valet slips in the motel and are then destroyed at the motel. Mr. DUPEPE advised he does not know what records Lee Laundry and Cleaners maintain.

As far as telephone calls are concerned local calls are dialed through the switchboard at the motel and the phone company has no record of them. Collect long distance calls going out are not recorded at the motel. Other long distance calls going out and collect calls coming in are paid by the motel and recorded. These are recorded by the switchboard operator at the motel and then checked against the monthly bill submitted by the phone company. The calls for December, 1967, recorded by the motel switchboard operator have been destroyed. Mr. DUPEPE made available the phone bill dated December 19, 1967 which shows long distance calls from November 9, 1967 to December 18, 1967. Page 7 a copy of which is attached shows calls from December 11, 1967 to December 18, 1967 and one for December 3, 1967. Pages 1 and 2 of the following month's bill, dated January 19, 1968, shows calls from December 19, 1967 to part of December 25, 1967 and one for December 8, 1967. Mr. DUPEPE explained occasionally, such as December 8, 1967 in this instance, a call is not recorded in the period of the bill. The check marks against the amounts shows these have been checked against the individual ledgers. Mr. DUPEPE stated from the phone bill he has no way to determine from which rooms the calls were made. The ledger cards, which have been destroyed, would have shown that information.

Further in regard to phone calls, Mr. DUPEPE advised the motel has only one public pay phone. This is located in the motel's outdoor alcove between the office and the swimming pool. The phone number is 523-8802.

The procedure for registering at the motel is as follows, Mr. DUPEPE explained: If a guest has a reservation notice of the reservation is kept at the registration desk. At the time the guest comes in the work sheet is consulted and the guest assigned the appropriate room. The guest then normally fills out a registration card. In a rare instance the card is filled out by the clerk. After the card is filled out the reservation notification is generally stapled to the registration card. After it has served its purpose and prior to filing, the reservation notification is taken from the registration card and destroyed. The registration card, copies of which have been xeroxed and are attached, are filed. If the registration card bears the imprint of a staple in all probability that person had a reservation. Generally speaking if the card bears no such imprint chances are the person had no reservation. Mr. DUPEPE explained this is no hard and fast rule because the reservation notification could have been fastened to the registration card by paper clip. Generally written on the bottom of the card is the time or, at least tentative time the registrant will check out.

Concerning the work sheet, taking December 14 again as an example, Mr. DUPEPE stated Rooms 116 and 220 are not rented and the "H" means hold and as indicated they required plumbing work.

Xeroxed and attached are work sheets for December 14, 1967, through December 22, 1967. Motel registration cards which are xeroxed and attached were located for everyone on the work sheets except Room 115 HIGGINS on December 14, 1967, Room 112 FISHER and Room 234 MADDEN on December 21, 1967, and no registration card was found for CRISSEY, Room 212, on December 22, 1967. Information regarding BRANCH and PRUET is set forth herein. Mr. DUPEPE advised in all probability data are misfiled among the various records of the motel.

It is observed there is a registration card for Mr. and Mrs. BARNEY BRANCH, [redacted] Sherman Oaks, California, 1968 Chevrolet, license US 6320, California; (not too legible), on December 14, 1967, Room 108, but the work sheet shows that room vacant. Written in but erased appears to be BRANT (not too legible) and in all probability they registered and then decided they did not want the room

Further in connection with registrations, the work sheet for December 15, 1967 shows one PRUET in Room 217. There is no registration card for him however, which indicates the room was reserved for him but he did not show. Mr. DUPEPE advised there are two PRUETS who occasionally stay at the Provincial Motel. One of them is JIM PRUET, [redacted] Houston, Texas, believed to be in the electronics business. The other PRUET is from Dallas, Texas, and is known as JAMES PRUET. Off hand the address and business connection of JAMES PRUET of Dallas are not available to Mr. DUPEPE.

Specifically in regard to GALT Mr. DUPEPE advised as follows:

The work sheet for Sunday, December 17, 1967, is where GALT first appears. This is indicated by Room 126. The R, as previously explained, means December 17 is the first day he rented the room. The 2 by his name means either he said he wanted the room for 2 days or that a reservation had come in and that because of the reservation the room would be available only for 2 days. The number under GALT, i.e., 37263, means GALT had a ledger card with that number on it. The ledger card which has been previously explained has been destroyed. Mr. DUPEPE stated from the writing GALT on the work sheet it appears to him that Mr. B. C. DUKE, a clerk at the motel, registered GALT.

In connection with the 2 days as above, the registration card of Mr. and Mrs. VIRGIL L. LARSON, [redacted] LaJolla, California, 92037, bears the imprint of a staple indicating, according to DUPEPE, they had a reservation for December 19, 1967 as shown on the card. With them was probably Mrs. LOUISE LARSON, [redacted] LaJolla, California, 92037, who registered in Room 126, December 19, 1967, after GALT checked out of Room 126. The cards indicate the LARSONs arrived by taxi rather than personal car. Mr. and Mrs. LARSON as indicated by the card and work sheets were moved from Room 124 to Room 125 on December 20, 1967, apparently to be next to Mrs. LOUISE LARSON who was in Room 126. Rooms 124 and 125 have a connecting door. Rather than the 3 LARSONs occupying Rooms 124 and 125 it would be $6 cheaper for Mr. and Mrs. VIRGIL L. LARSON to move into Room 125 instead of Mrs. LOUISE LARSON moving from 126 into 125.

In connection with the physical layout of the rooms it was observed Room 126 is in the back of the motel and on the first floor. It fronts on the parking area. Room 126 is a two level room 10 feet by 10 feet and has a spiral stairway to an upper bedroom. In other words, it has two beds, one on the first floor and one up the spiral stairway. Next to Room 126 on the first floor is Room 125. Room 125 has one level only and is the only room next to the lower level of Room 126. Next to the upper level of Room 126 is Room 234.

The work sheet for Sunday, December 17, 1967, which indicates GALT checked in that day, shows SMITH was in Room 125 as a stay over. The work sheet for Friday, December 15, 1967 shows SMITH first checked in Room 125 on December 15, 1967. SMITH is last shown on the work sheets on December 19, 1967 which according to DUPEPE means in all probability SMITH checked out on December 20, 1967. It would therefore appear SMITH was next to GALT all the time GALT was in the Provincial Motel, i.e., December 17 - 19, 1967. The registration cards shown SMITH to be Mr. and Mrs. DONALD C. (illegible) SMITH, [redacted] Sioux City, Iowa, no car or license indicated.

It is observed that none of the registration cards have anything written on the back of them such as check out time. In connection with times, Mr. DUPEPE explained, the time of registration is not recorded nor is the time of check out. Check out time is 1:00 PM, but occasionally people stay over the check out time so he cannot say exactly when anyone checked out. Mr. DUPEPE advised he previously furnished the FBI the registration card of GALT. From the work sheets, however, particularly since GALT is shown on two days, i.e., December 17 and 18, 1968, and not on December 19, 1968, it would appear he checked out of the motel on December 19 prior to 1:00 PM. The next occupant of this room, Room 126, was Mrs. LOUISE LARSON on December 19, 1967.

As to who was in Room 126 immediately prior to GALT, it is noted this would be nobody as indicated by the work sheet for Saturday, December 16, 1967. QUINN and LACEY and stay over were written on the work sheet for that day for Room 126 but erased. It is observed from the work sheet of Thursday, December 14, 1967, that QUINN and LACEY first rented Room 126 that day. The registration card indicates they, however, checked out Saturday, December 16, the day before GALT was assigned Room 126. The registration card shows QUINN and LACEY to be H. R. QUINN and JOE LACEY, JR., [redacted] Montgomery, Alabama, make of car S. W. (probably stationwagon), Alabama license 3-2146.

In regard to Room 234, immediately above GALT's room 126, it is observed from the work sheets that this room was unoccupied Sunday, December 17, 1967, the day GALT checked into Room 126. Work sheets from December 14, 1967 which are attached indicate it was unoccupied from that day on until December 21, 1967 when it was occupied by MADDEN for the first time. No registration card could be located for MADDEN, it apparently having been misfiled according to DUPEPE. Work sheets prior to December 14, 1967, available in Provincial Motel records, i.e., December 13, 1967 back to December 8, 1967 show Room 234 to be unoccupied. Mr. DUPEPE explained from Thanksgiving roughly to the Christmas weekend business is generally slack and for that reason Room 234 was unoccupied as indicated.

In regard to motel parking, the motel has a parking area, which is all open, and which Room 126 fronts. This parking area is free to all guests and guests use it particularly because it is available and parking in the French Quarter, where the Provincial Motel is located, is very limited. Other motels in the immediate area have parking that entails attendants handling the cars.

Mr. DUPEPE advised the name "RAOUL" meant nothing to him.

Date 11/21/68

Mr. BENJAMIN C. DUKE, Desk Clerk, Provincial Motel, 1024 Chartres Street, New Orleans, Louisiana, residence 2713 Aberdeen, Kenner, Louisiana, examined the motel work sheet for December 17, 1967, when GALT registered, and observed it is his handwriting of GALT on the work sheet meaning he registered GALT when he came in the motel. The "2" near "GALT" means the room was available for 2 days. Somebody must have had a reservation for the third day.

Mr. DUKE stated from the work sheet it would appear GALT did not specifically ask for Room 126 but was given that room because it was available as a single. Also this was the lowest priced ($12.00) room available. It is not known, Mr. DUKE stated, but it might be GALT as many singles do ask for the lowest priced room.

Mr. DUKE looked at photos of JAMES EARL RAY also known as ERIC S. GALT without recognition. He stated he could recall absolutely nothing about GALT.

Mr. DUKE stated he had no knowledge of anyone named RAOUL.

FD-302 (Rev. 4-15-64)

FEDERAL BUREAU OF INVESTIGATION

Date 11/22/68

Mr. CHEW WING LEE, owner and operator of Wing Lee Laundry and Dry Cleaners, 830 Chartres Street, French Quarter, New Orleans, Louisiana, looked at photos of JAMES EARL RAY and recognized him as having seen his pictures in newspapers. Mr. LEE advised he recalled reading in the papers that RAY had stayed at one time in the Provincial Motel which is about two blocks down the street. He stated other than that he knows nothing about RAY.

Mr. LEE advised he does laundry and dry cleaning for the Provincial Motel. He stated he does the work according to room number and not by name. He stated he keeps no record of the individual rooms because he gives this record to the motel when he returns the laundry and dry cleaning. At this time he cannot say whether or not he did any work for RAY while RAY was at the Provincial Motel December 17-19, 1967.

If RAY had personally brought any work in to be done, RAY would have been asked what laundry mark he wanted. If no specific request was made by RAY the clothing would be marked in black indelible ink by number such as "123" or "545" or something like that. This would be written directly on any garment except a suit coat on which a tag would be placed.

If the bell boy from Provincial Motel would have brought in anything from RAY in Room 126, it would have been marked "RM 126".

Mr. LEE stated December, 1967, is a long time ago and he would not know whether or not he ever did any work for RAY under the name RAY or any other name.

Mr. LEE stated he never heard of the name RAOUL.

FEDERAL BUREAU OF INVESTIGATION

Date November 22, 1968

Mr. CHARLIE TRONCALE, owner-manager, Granada Hotel, 2230 Fourth Avenue, North, made available the guest registration cards for his hotel during the period August 22 - 28, 1967, inclusive. A review of these cards resulted in the location of guest registration No. 9022 for one JOHN L. RAYNS, residence 1825 Lafayette St., St. Louis, Mo., who checked in at 9:05 a.m. on Saturday, August 26, 1967, and was assigned to Room 210 by Desk Clerk ADRIAN M. KOONCE at a rate of $4.50. No record was maintained as to the time of checkout or method of travel. The card reflected the guest had luggage. The original of this card has been forwarded to the FBI Laboratory at Washington, D. C., for appropriate handwriting comparison.

A record was obtained of the names and addresses (where recorded) of the approximately 150 guests, other than permanent residents, during the period for which the cards were reviewed and two copies of the list are being transmitted to the Memphis FBI Office. No guest card was observed for any "RAOUL" or similar name during the period involved.

Upon observing the guest registration card of RAYNS, Mr. ADRIAN M. KOONCE identified his initials as having roomed RAYNS, but stated that due to the elapsed time he had no independent recollection of him. He stated he had previously been exhibited a photograph of JAMES EARL RAY and was unable to identify that individual.

No further information was obtainable from Mr. KOONCE or other personnel of the Granada Hotel.

Foreman Pays Visit To Ray

No Light Shed On Possible Memphis Member Of Defense Team

By CHARLES EDMUNDSON

Percy Foreman, Texas attorney who has taken over the defense of James Earl Ray, conferred yesterday with his client in the Shelby County Jail but delayed announcing what Memphis attorney he would ask to aid him in the case.

Mr. Foreman came here after a five-hour conference in Birmingham with Arthur J. Hanes Sr. and his son, Arthur Jr., whom Mr. Foreman succeeded 10 days ago as Ray's counsel.

To give Mr. Foreman time to acquaint himself with the case of Ray, charged with the murder of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., Judge W. Preston Battle set the case forward at least till March 3.

In Birmingham Mr. Hanes said he and his son conferred with Mr. Foreman from 4 to 9 p.m. Monday. "We gave him the benefit of all our research and evidence," Mr. Hanes said.

Before counsel was changed, it was learned that defense plans called for an examination of Ray's blood to see if it would show a combination of chromosomes which some scientists say dispose a person to criminality. It is not known whether such a possible line of defense will be followed by Mr. Foreman.

Meanwhile it appeared unlikely that Judge Battle would agree to give a larger number of newsmen access to the trial through closed circuit television.

"I don't think we can do it," Judge Battle said when asked whether he would consider the use of closed circuit TV to carry the trial to a nearby assembly room for probably more than 150 news media representatives who will not get seats in the courtroom.

The court has assigned 38 regular and 4 rotating seats to newsmen.

In Los Angeles the judge who will conduct the trial of Sirhan Sirhan, charged with killing Senator Robert F. Kennedy, says he favors the use of closed circuit television to carry the trial to newsmen who cannot be seated in his courtroom. Thirty-five seats are provided for newsmen there.

Whether the plan is carried through there will depend, it is understood, on the reaction of the prosecuting and defending attorneys.

Atty. Gen. Phil M. Canale said, "I'm against it" when asked his reaction to the California proposal. Mr. Foreman has not given his reaction.

Judge Denies 2 Reporters Hearing in Contempt Case

Judge Mark Walker of the Tennessee Court of Criminal Appeals today refused to grant a hearing to two Memphis newsmen who were cited for contempt for writing stories about the James Earl Ray case.

The Covington judge denied a petition for certiorari asking the court to review the matter and reverse Criminal Court Judge W. Preston Battle.

Judge Walker ruled he could not assume jurisdiction because the lower court had not passed sentence and thus its action was not final.

The two reporters, Roy B. Hamilton of The Press-Scimitar and Charles Edmundson of The Commercial Appeal, were held in contempt Sept. 30 on charges they violated Judge Battle's orders against pretrial publicity.

Ray's trial in the assassination of Dr. Martin Luther King was continued last week to March 3 after he switched attorneys.

Armistead Clay, attorney for the newsmen, said Judge Walker's decision paves the way for an appeal to the Tennessee Supreme Court.

The state Supreme Court last week refused to consider the case until application had been made to the Court of Criminal Appeals.

Newsmen's Appeal Ruled Premature

Sentence For Contempt Is Due First, Judge Says

A conviction for contempt of court cannot be appealed unless sentence has been pronounced, Criminal Appeals Judge Mark Walker of Covington ruled yesterday.

Judge Walker announced his ruling in the case of two Memphis newspaper reporters held in contempt in the James Earl Ray case by Criminal Court Judge W. Preston Battle. [illegible] Judge Walker held, [illegible] Judge Battle's contempt convictions of Charles Edmundson of The Commercial Appeal and Roy Hamilton of the Memphis Press-Scimitar, will not be grounds itself and subject to appeal until Judge Battle pro[illegible] a sentence. [illegible] Judge Battle held the [illegible] Arthur J. Hanes Jr. [illegible] Memphis and [illegible] Hayes of [illegible] contempt Sept. 28. He held them in violation of a pretrial publicity order in the case of Ray, charged with the April 4 murder of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.

Armistead Clay, attorney for the reporters and for Memphis Publishing Co., said Judge Walker's ruling opens the way for an appeal to the Tennessee Supreme Court. The Supreme Court earlier held that petitions of certiorari and supersedeas should be taken first to the Court of Criminal Appeals.

Re Birmingham tel to Bureau, Memphis, and SL, 11-20-68, concerning registration card 9022 located at Granada Hotel for JOHN L. RAYNES for 8-26-67, giving home address of 1825 Lafayette St., SLMO.

Enclosed to Memphis are 15 copies of FD-302 of interview with SARAH M. HALE, 1825 Lafayette, SLMO, 11-21-68.

Review of SL file failed to identify 1825 Lafayette with any known activities of RAY.

It was noted, however, JOHN EUGENE GAWRON stated 4-29 and 5-1-68, he and RAY frequented a bar, believed to be Ruby's Bar, later known as The Haven Bar, on Lafayette just west of 18th St. during 1959. (See SL report of SA HAROLD R. DOBSON, 5-10-68, cover pages R & S.) GAWRON subsequently advised on 5-14-68, the correct name of the bar was Opal's Bar, later known as The Haven Bar. (See SL report of SA DOBSON, 6-25-68, cover page Y).

OPAL HIGHLY advised on 5-15-68, she had operated Opal's Bar at 1805 Lafayette from 1947 to 1961. She was unable to recall RAY as having been a patron but recalled JACK (LNU), whose description fitted GAWRON, as a frequent customer. (See 6-25-68 SL report, page 84)

From the foregoing it would appear RAY was probably generally familiar with the 18th and Lafayette area in SL.

The current SL City Directory lists SARAH M. HALE as the resident at 1825 Lafayette, SLMO.

This address was observed by SA DOBSON on 11-21-68, to be a two-story single-family brick dwelling. Mrs. HALE advised him on the same date she had resided there for the past 22 years. She has never rented any portion of the premises to other persons during this period. She was unable to identify the names utilized by RAY or photographs of him as pertaining to any person she has ever known. She was likewise unable to recall ever having been acquainted with any member of RAY's family.

Enclosed for the Bureau are 2 copies each of San Diego airtel to Memphis 9/10/68 and of an FD-302 reflecting an interview with [redacted] San Diego, California, on 9/9/68.

The Bureau will note that in [redacted] interview she mentions a gun shop near the scene of instant crime, and she mentions a [redacted] as being the landlady at the rooming house where the subject RAY stayed in Memphis. She also states that [redacted] is being "hidden out" by the Memphis police.

Since there is no gun shop near the Lorraine Motel; since the landlady where RAY had a room was Mrs. BREWER rather than [redacted] and since neither Mrs. BREWER nor [redacted] are in police custody, it is obvious that [redacted] has no information of value and that the information furnished by her warrants no further action.

This is being furnished the Bureau only because it was initiated by a telephone call from the Bureau.

By re telephone call Supervisor LONG advised that [redacted] had been in Washington and was on her way back to San Diego. While in Washington, [redacted] furnished information concerning the MURKIN Case to the effect that she was visiting in Memphis with relatives at the time of KING's murder and that she heard from a third party that JAMES EARL RAY did not kill KING, but that an unknown individual who owned a Sporting Goods Store near the place of the murder killed KING. Supervisor [redacted] instructed the San Diego Office to interview [redacted] in detail upon her return to San Diego.

On 9/6/68, [redacted] was interviewed at San Diego, and enclosed for the Memphis Division are ten copies of an FD 302 reflecting her interview.

Date 9/10/68

[redacted], San Diego, California, advised that she was in Memphis in April on a visit to her relatives. She stated that she was in Memphis at the time MARTIN LUTHER KING was assassinated.

[redacted] stated that [redacted] address unknown, of Memphis, Tennessee, told her that there is a man who owns a gun shop near the scene of the assassination who is said to have killed KING and thrown the gun out of the gun shop window. [redacted] stated that the only reason that JAMES EARL RAY was in the room with a rifle was to shoot KING in case the actual killer missed his shot.

[redacted] according to [redacted] knows many police officers in the Memphis area, and has stated that she has been told that [redacted] landlady at the rooming house where RAY stayed, had been given two thousand dollars and that she will not remember JAMES EARL RAY for identification purposes at the time of the trial. According to [redacted] is being "hidden out" by the police department at this time.

[redacted] stated that her brother, [redacted] who lives near Merced, Tennessee, is acquainted with a county farm bureau employee who visited him at home while [redacted] was visiting her brother. This individual is reported to have told her brother that KING, according to plans, should have been assassinated the day previous, but that plans did not work out according to previous arrangements. This individual, according to [redacted] who saw him sitting in a Chevrolet two-door Sedan, is a white male, approximately thirty-seven years of age, with blond hair, light complexion. He apparently works for the Farm Bureau at Jackson, Tennessee.

Certificate of Title #B1178475 was issued on June 6, 1967, to Rayns for his vehicle with no lion.

According to your LHM, the Illinois license LM 5942 was transferred to Rayns on August 8, 1967, for a 1962 Plymouth, this Plymouth purchased from Bundy Oldsmobile, East St. Louis, Illinois, on July 14, 1967. The application for transfer of license plates indicates that the 1959 Chrysler to be sold at a later date.

Springfield should search the title of the above-mentioned ~~1959~~ Chrysler to determine the ultimate disposition of this vehicle, and if applicable have the person who purchased the vehicle from Ray (used name of Rayns) interviewed for full details.

Chicago, if not already done, will interview George Seymour Heller regarding his selling of the 1959 Chrysler to Ray as Rayns.

According to "Look" magazine article regarding James Earl Ray, Ray was seen in a 1962 Plymouth in Canada. We have determined that the 1962 Plymouth bore Illinois license and have subsequently determined through Illinois Bureau of Motor Vehicle records that the Plymouth was purchased in East St. Louis, Illinois, and later sold by Ray to relatives in August and October, 1967. We are making extensive inquiry regarding the purchase of this 1962 Plymouth and we are setting forth instructions to Springfield and Chicago to resolve the purchase and selling of the 1959 Chrysler by Ray.

JAMES EARL RAY

On November 26, 1968, Mr. JOHN L. WEST, Salesman, Bundy Oldsmobile, Inc., 8th and Illinois, East St. Louis, Illinois, advised that records of his company indicate that JOHN L. RAYNS, 507 Chestnut, Post Office Box 293, Winnetka, Illinois, purchased a 1962 Plymouth, four-door, Sedan, VIN 2921165934, on July 14, 1967, as per invoice #6852. Mr. WEST advised that this invoice indicates that the price of the above car was $200. In addition, there was sales tax in the amount of $9.50 and a notary fee in the amount of 50 cents, bringing total price of the automobile to $210. Mr. WEST further advised that his records indicate that RAYNS made a cash deposit of $20, as per receipt #38466 dated July 14, 1967, and apparently returned shortly thereafter with the balance of $190, as the records indicate receipt #38469 dated July 14, 1967, indicate RAYNS paid this amount. WEST pointed out that although he could not be specific as to the time element involved between the period of time that the $20 cash deposit was paid and the balance of $190 was paid, it was apparently only a metter of a few minutes to an hour, since there were only two receipts issued between deposit receipt and balance receipt given to RAYNS.

Mr. WEST pointed out that there was no trade-in involved in the transaction. He also advised his file on RAYNS indicates Illinois sales tax form #1978804, which was dated July 14, 1967, was completed on that date and this along with the license information was mailed to the Secretary of State's Office, Springfield, Illinois, on July 31, 1967. Mr. WEST stated that from his records he had to assume RAYNS transferred his license from a previously owned automobile to the 1962 Plymouth, inasmuch as he was able to find a receipt #463, in the amount of $3.00, which is the fee normally paid for transfer of title. Mr. WEST stated if an individual purchases an automobile and applies for a new license, he would be charged a minimum of $7.00.

Mr. WEST advised he recalled that the 1962 Plymouth was taken into Bundy Oldsmobile as the trade-in from an unrecalled Negro male who had purchased a new Cutlass, about a month prior to the transaction with RAYNS. WEST stated that the salesman who sold the car to RAYNS was GOBEL BIGGS.

Mr. WEST stated he could not specifically recall the sale of the automobile to RAYNS. He stated photographs of JAMES EARL RAY were unfamiliar to him. He likewise showed photograph to other sales personnel at Bundy Oldsmobile and they, too, stated that they could not recall RAY as ever having been in Bundy Oldsmobile. WEST did point out, however, that his business is primarily the sale of new cars and used cars of a higher quality than the automobile sold to RAYNS. Therefore, the transaction was somewhat insignificant and he was unable to recall any further specific details and was only able to furnish the above information as direct result of review of the receipts, invoices and orders set forth above.

Mr. GOBEL BIGGS, Salesman, Bundy Oldsmobile, Inc., East St. Louis, Illinois, after reviewing the invoice orders and other receipts pertaining to the sale of 1962 Plymouth, four-door, Sedan, VIN 2921165934, which he sold to JOHN L. RAYNS, 507 Chestnut, Post Office Box 293, Winnetka, Illinois, stated he could not recall this individual or anything of the transaction. Mr. BIGGS advised the transaction was rather insignificant and it involved the sale of a "junker" with $200, and he could have possibly remembered more about the man had he sold the individual a new car or a used car in better condition. Mr. BIGGS did state, however, that he still has in his possession a "follow-up information card" for JOHN L. RAYNS with the address of 507 Chestnut, Post Office Box 293, Winnetka, Illinois, and he indicates on this card that RAYNS purchased a 1962 Plymouth on July 14, 1967. Mr. BIGGS stated it is the policy at Bundy Oldsmobile for all salesmen to send new car literature to individuals to whom they have sold automobiles in the past; and, based on this information card, he is relatively certain that he has sent such literature to RAYNS at the above address on at least seven or eight occasions, since the initial purchase of the 1962 Plymouth. He stated he has no way of knowing whether this literature was received by RAYNS at this address or whether it was returned by the Post Office. He stated if such literature would have been returned by the Post Office to Bundy Oldsmobile, it would have just been destroyed; therefore, he would have no way of knowing whether or not it was actually received. BIGGS, upon viewing photograph of JAMES EARL RAY, stated he could not associate this individual with being identical with RAYNS and was unable to furnish any other details as to the transaction, including the manner of payment, although he was certain from the invoice and receipts that this automobile was paid for in cash.

[redacted], Auto Registration Section, Secretary of State's Office, Springfield, Illinois, advised on November 27, 1968, that a check of records reflect that 1967 Illinois license LM-5942 was issued June 5, 1967, to JOHN LARRY RAYNS, 507 Chestnut, Box 293, Winnetka, Illinois, for a 1959 Chrysler, two-door, VIN M531108240, which was purchased used June 5, 1967, from GEORGE SEYMOUR HELLER, [redacted] Chicago, Illinois. Certificate of Title #B1178475 issued June 6, 1967, to RAYNS for this vehicle with no lien. On August 8, 1967, above-mentioned 1967 Illinois license transferred to RAYNS for a 1962 Plymouth, four-door, VIN 2921165934, which was purchased used July 14, 1967, from Bundy Oldsmobile, Inc., 711 Illinois Avenue, East St. Louis, Illinois. The application for this transfer reflects that above-mentioned 1959 Chrysler to be sold later. Certificate of Title #B1604563 issued August 8, 1967, to RAYNS for instant Plymouth with no lien.

[redacted] also advised that 1967 Illinois license RT-5302 was issued 8/28/67 to JERRY W. RYAN, [redacted] Northbrook, Illinois, for instant Plymouth, purchased used August 25, 1967, from JOHN L. RAYNS, 507 Chestnut, Winnetka, Illinois. Certificate of Title #B1777474 issued September 7, 1967, to RYAN for this Plymouth with no lien.

Mr. TABOR also advised that 1967 Illinois license SC-7905 was issued October 25, 1967, to GJERDIS DOROTHEA RAY, [redacted] Deerfield, Illinois, for instant 1962 Plymouth, purchased used October 20, 1967, from JERRY W. RYAN, [redacted] Northbrook, Illinois. Certificate of Title #B2105425 issued November 6, 1967, to RAY for this Plymouth with no lien and has not been surrendered to date.

On November 29, 1968, [redacted] Driver's License Section, Secretary of State's Office, Springfield Illinois, advised she could find nothing in her files identifiable with GJERDIS DOROTHEA RAY. Concerning JERRY W. RYAN she furnished the following:

Address:	[redacted] Lake Forest, Illinois
Date of Birth:	July 16, 1935
Height:	5'9"
Weight:	178 pounds
Hair:	Brown
Eyes:	Brown
Driver's License Number:	R500-4393-5202, which expires July 16, 1971

RYAN obtained this driver's license after taking an examination on May 20, 1968, while driving a 1960 DeSoto.

On April 19, 1968, [redacted] Illinois State Board of Probation and Parole, Springfield, Illinois, advised that one JERRY WILLIAM RAY, also known as JERRY WILLIAM RYAN, white male, date of birth July 16, 1935, at Quincy, Illinois, 5'10", 170 pounds, with brown hair and brown eyes, was the brother of JAMES EARL RAY.

The article, in part, states that James Earl Ray "was seen frequently in his home town of Alton, Illinois, in the company of a wizened old Nazi sympathizer named Henry Stumm. Presumably Stumm instructed Ray from the Nazi literature that the old man continues to receive."

Springfield should submit background data concerning Stumm together with recommendations as to whether he should be interviewed.

America's Legacy of Hate—

Assassins on the Loose

by Jack Anderson

If President Kennedy had escaped those fatal bullets in Dallas five years ago next Friday, if his brother Robert had left the teeming, tumultuous Los Angeles ballroom by another route, if Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. hadn't stepped onto that fateful balcony in Memphis, the chances are that other assassins would have tried to gun them down anyway. For Federal investigators have uncovered a number of plots on the lives of all three slain leaders.

They had been marked for assassination by volatile Cuban fanatics, hate-crazed Klansmen, inflamed black militants, wild-eyed Minutemen. The only uncertainty was who would be the first to pull the triggers. Yet the plots were totally unrelated and uncoordinated, hatched by men who didn't know one another. They shared only a common burning hatred.

They were incited to violence by irresponsible fright peddlers who traffic in hate, fear and suspicion. The hate that springs from their bile overflows the gutters of America. The Radical Right spends a staggering $20 million a year on hate propaganda. The Ultra Left wages an even more vicious hate campaign, though the cost is harder to pin down.

Some extremists merely howl "Treason!" The more militant, carrying the logic another step, cry "Kill the traitors!" Still others, obsessed and overwrought, are driven to take action. Any talk of violence in these turbulent times is dangerously provocative. The wonder is that more tormented souls haven't tried to eliminate their imagined enemies.

DUPE

Following the 1961 Bay of Pigs fiasco, fiery-tongued Cubans in Miami and New Orleans talked of taking President Kennedy's life in retaliation. Black militants, declaring their allegiance to dictator Castro, also swore revenge. Minutemen and Klansmen, embittered over civil rights, conspired separately to kill President Kennedy, Senator Kennedy and Dr. King.

Here are excerpts, for example, from a telephone conversation which was monitored by a government intelligence unit in Miami on Nov. 1963. The two men on the phone, ose last names must be omitted, beged to the extremist Constitutional rty and had close ties to the Ku Klux an.

Joe: I think Kennedy is coming here on the 18th, or something like that, to make some kind of speech.

Bill: You can bet your bottom dollar e is going to have a lot to say about he Cubans, there are so many of hem here.

oe: Yeah, well he will have a thouand bodyguards, don't worry about hat.

ill: The more bodyguards he has, the ore easier it is to get him.

oe: Well how in the hell do you figre would be the best way to get him?

ill: From an office building with a gh-powered rifle. How many peole [room noise, tape not legible] oes he have going around who look st like him? Do you know about at?

e: No, I never heard that he had ybody.

ll: He has got them.

e: He has?

ll: He has about 15. Whenever he es any place, they [not legible]. knows he is a marked man.

e: They are really going to try to him?

l: Oh, yeah, it is in the working. — himself, B---- is just as likely get him as anybody. He hasn't said but he tried to get Martin Luther g.

: He did?

: Oh yes, he followed him for es and miles and couldn't get se enough to him. . . .

: Hitting this Kennedy is going to a hard proposition, I tell you, I eve, you may have figured out a to get him. You may have figured the office building and all that. I 't know how them Secret Service nts cover all them office buildings, or anywhere he is going, do you know whether they do that or not?

Bill: Well, if they have any suspicion, they do that of course. But without suspicion, chances are that they wouldn't. You take there in Washington, of course it is the wrong time of the year, but you take pleasant weather, he comes out on the veranda, and somebody could be in a hotel room across the way there, and pick him off just like [fades out]."

Only 13 days later, President Kennedy was struck down by slugs from a high-powered rifle fired from the sixth floor of the Texas School Book Depository in downtown Dallas. Yet Lee Harvey Oswald, the accused assassin, had absolutely no connection with the two men in Miami.

An FBI report in 1964 stated that a band of Klansmen was seeking to hire an ex-convict for $2000 to assassinate Dr. King. When the civil rights leader was shot to death in April 1968, the fingerprints on the murder rifle were traced to an ex-convict named James Earl Ray. Yet no link has been uncovered between Ray and this Klan squad.

On at least two earlier occasions, Klan terrorists plotted to kill King. They prepared to gun him down when he came to Monroe, La., in July 1964 to agitate for civil rights. The following February, they planned to assassinate him at his Atlanta headquarters. But both times, the FBI learned about the plots in time to throw a heavy guard around him.

Two weeks after King's ultimate martyrdom, the U.S. attorney's office in Kansas City learned that Robert DePugh, fugitive leader of the Minutemen, had given his storm troopers a list of prominent people to assassinate if he should be jailed. Two names on the assassination list were Dr. Martin Luther King and Sen. Robert Kennedy. Yet again, the accused slayers were in no way tied to the Minutemen.

In 1965, an all-points bulletin was issued to police in Colorado to be on the alert for a member of the Minutemen, armed and dangerous, who had threatened to kill Senator Kennedy. He reportedly had read hate pamphleteer Frank Capell's wild paperback, The Strange Death of Marilyn Monroe, which accused Kennedy of arranging for the Communists to murder the movie queen to save himself from a scandal.

Plot against Fulbright

Other people of prominence, too, have been marked for murder by the extremists. At the 1966 trial of Robert DePugh, ex-Minuteman Jerry Brooks blurted from the witness stand: "Your Honor, I don't know if I would be out of order, but the defense attorney asked me if I was the one that promoted the idea of killing Senator William Fulbright of Arkansas . . . I could name the people involved if you want me to do that."

Brooks' testimony was shut off, but FBI files contain details of the plot. Three hoodlums, affiliated with the Minutemen, raised money in Kansas City to buy a getaway car and were in the midst of planning the assassination when the FBI started investigating.

Indeed, the FBI has compiled a list of more than 30 people whom the Minutemen intend to knock off in case of "a Communist take-over." Among the names on the list are Vice President Hubert Humphrey, Chief Justice Earl Warren, ex-U.N. Ambassador Arthur Goldberg and Sen. Wayne Morse.

In March 1963, the Minutemen warned 20 congressmen who had voted against the House Un-American Activities Committee that "cross hairs are on the back of your necks." The chilling message declared: "See the old man at the corner where you buy your paper? He may have a silencer-equipped pistol under his coat. That extra fountain pen in the pocket of the insurance salesman that calls on you might be a cyanide-gas gun. What about your milkman? Arsenic works slow but sure. Your auto mechanic may stay up nights studying booby traps. These patriots are not going to let you take their freedom away from them. They have learned the silent knife, the strangler's cord, the target rifle that hits sparrows at 200 yards. Only their leaders restrain them."

The black militants, who are even more unrestrained in their murder cries, have fingered many of the same intended victims. An informant, reliable in the past, tipped off Chicago police that a group of militants agreed at a secret meeting on Aug. 1, 1968, to "hit" Vice President Humphrey and Sen. Eugene McCarthy during the Democratic Convention. The murder assignments and weapons were handed out, according to the informant, at an Aug. 12 meeting. Puerto Rican police also reported that a group of militant students, carrying pistols equipped with silencers, were on their way to the Democratic Convention "to kill someone." This was one reason for the stringent security measures in Chicago.

The inflammatory literature, whether it comes from the far Right or far Left, preaches the same doctrine of hatred and violence.

Other hate literature is downright psychopathic, sometimes illustrated with grotesque drawings. "Scientists say the Negro still is in the ape stage," declares an illustrated Nazi pamphlet. "Mongrelization of the races would destroy white Christian civilization." The propaganda put out by the lunatic Left is equally fantastic. One tract accuses FBI Chief J. Edgar Hoover of controlling "innumerable crematories and concentration camps throughout the world."

'Medals' for slayers

But cold print doesn't have the dramatic force of a hot harangue. After four little Negro girls were killed in the dynamiting of a Birmingham church, a rabble-rouser told a Ku Klux Klan rally in St. Augustine, Fla.: "If they can find those fellows, they ought to put medals on them. It wasn't no shame they was killed. Why? Because when I go out to kill rattlesnakes, I don't make no difference between little rattlesnakes and big rattlesnakes." Not long afterward, racial violence flared in St. Augustine.

Racial trouble was whipped up in Washington by H. Rap Brown, who told a black rally: "Black people have been looting. I say there should be more shooting than looting. So if you loot, shoot a gun store . . . the white man is your enemy. You got to destroy your enemy."

The extremist leaders usually take care not to carry out the violence they preach. They stir up suspicions, exacerbate tensions, then fade into the background when the action starts. Sometimes there is an immediate explosion. When the fiery-tongued Brown screamed at a Cambridge, Md., rally in 1967, "Burn this town down," hotheads promptly attempted to do it.

Both white and black racists have formed action groups. The white racists call themselves by such names as Breakthrough, Counterthrust, Paul Revere Associated Yeomen, Christian Youth Corps and Defenders of the American Constitution. The black racists have a penchant for long names, whose initials spell out such fighting words as COMBAT, FIGHT, FUSE, RAM, RAP and SCAR. Some of these groups on both sides are grimly preparing for a race war. The more radical call not only for assassinations but for outright guerrilla warfare.

"Prepare yourselves and your sons," urges a Paul Revere bulletin, "to fight in the streets, in the alleys, in the parks, in public buildings, around the waterworks, power plants, city hall, TV and radio stations, while your wife and daughters protect their lives and your home with gas masks, shotguns, rifles and pistols."

The Black Panther Party, whose "prime minister" is Stokely Carmichael, puts out a similar "mandate" to its members. "All members," declares Mandate No. 3, "must acquire the technical equipment to defend their homes and their dependents and shall do so. Any member of the party having such technical equipment who fails to defend his threshold shall be expelled from the party for life."

Black militants have called the past race riots "mere dress rehearsals for revolution." White militants take the same view that a violent showdown is coming. Yet, astonishingly, these avowed enemies have been known to work together. FBI reports claim that Minutemen and black militants actually joined in rifle practice in the New York area, that the Ku Klux Klan and Black Muslims in Georgia worked together for separation of the races. Several black militant leaders urged followers to vote for George Wallace, who was also the candidate of the white militants.

The close alliance between the opposite extremes is illustrated by the Black Muslim movement. Its prophet and panjandrum, Elijah Mohammad, was arrested during World War II on a sedition charge. Federal files indicate that his organization had the backing of Maj. Satakata Takatashi, who for ten years preceding Pearl Harbor directed Japanese intelligence in the U.S. Under the name of Gulan Bogan, Elijah Mohammad (whose real name is Elijah Poole) promised his Muslims before Pearl Harbor that they would be "liberated" by the Japanese after an attack on the U.S. in 194[illegible] however, he was never tried for sedition but was convicted of draft evasion.

An about-face

From pro-Axis, Mohammad has now executed a complete about-face and preaches the Marxist line. His chief disciple, Malcolm X, became an outspoken Marxist before his defection and murder in 1965. And Malcolm X's chief disciple was Stokely Carmichael, an open admirer of Communist heroes Che Guevara, Mao Tse-tung and Ho Chi Minh.

Another curious trait, which both Right-wing and Left-wing extremists have in common, is an anti-Semitic bias. The Nazi Party and Black Panther Party use almost identical, inflammatory language in attacking Jews. A black rally in Los Angeles was attended by Arab students who claimed to represent the Tri-Continental Students Association.

Extremist doctrine from Left and Right helped to incite the assassinations of the Kennedy brothers and Dr. King. The three martyred leaders were brought to a violent end by three human ciphers, who for dark reasons none but they could understand took history into their own hands. Yet there were other invisible fingers on the triggers.

The atmosphere in Dallas was charged with hatred when President Kennedy arrived for his date with death five years ago. "Wanted" handbills were handed out in the streets, showing front and side views of the President, with the words: "Wanted for Treason."

All the while, waiting for him with an Italian-made Mannlicher-Carcano rifle, was Lee Harvey Oswald. The permanent pout on Oswald's face was the only outward sign of the tortured thoughts that surged through his mind, a mind bursting with the violent, revolutionary doctrines of Karl Marx. Even after an unhappy experience in Russia, Oswald continued to read library books about communism, formed a Fair Play for Cuba Committee in New Orleans and tried to enlist in the Castro forces. Once, he took a shot in the night at Right-wing Gen. Edwin Walker. Another time, he threatened to kill the vice president (then Lyndon Johnson), but his wife locked him in the bathroom until he got over his violent mood.

James Earl Ray, who stands accused of killing Dr. King, likewise was nourished on suspicion and hatred. He was seen frequently in his home town of Alton, Ill., in the company of a wizened old Nazi sympathizer named Henry Stumm. Presumably, Stumm instructed Ray from the Nazi literature that the old man continues to receive.

An Alton resident familiar with Ray's background told PARADE: "Henry Stumm had been influencing Ray for years. You can't be sure how much of it rubbed off on Ray, but he got more and more arrogant as he grew older." Reached by telephone, Stumm acknowledged his name, listened in silence to questions about his relationship with Ray, then hung up without uttering another word. Others who knew Ray have described him as a Negro-hating racist.

Sirhan Sirhan, who pumped .22 slugs into Senator Kennedy, learned to hate before he came to this country. He was taught anti-Jewish hate propaganda in an Arab refugee school, financed largely by the U.S. through the United Nations. In an arithmetic class, for example, Sirhan and his classmates were asked: "If you have three Jews sitting on a fence and you kill two of them, how many Jews will you have left?"

Steeped in hate lore

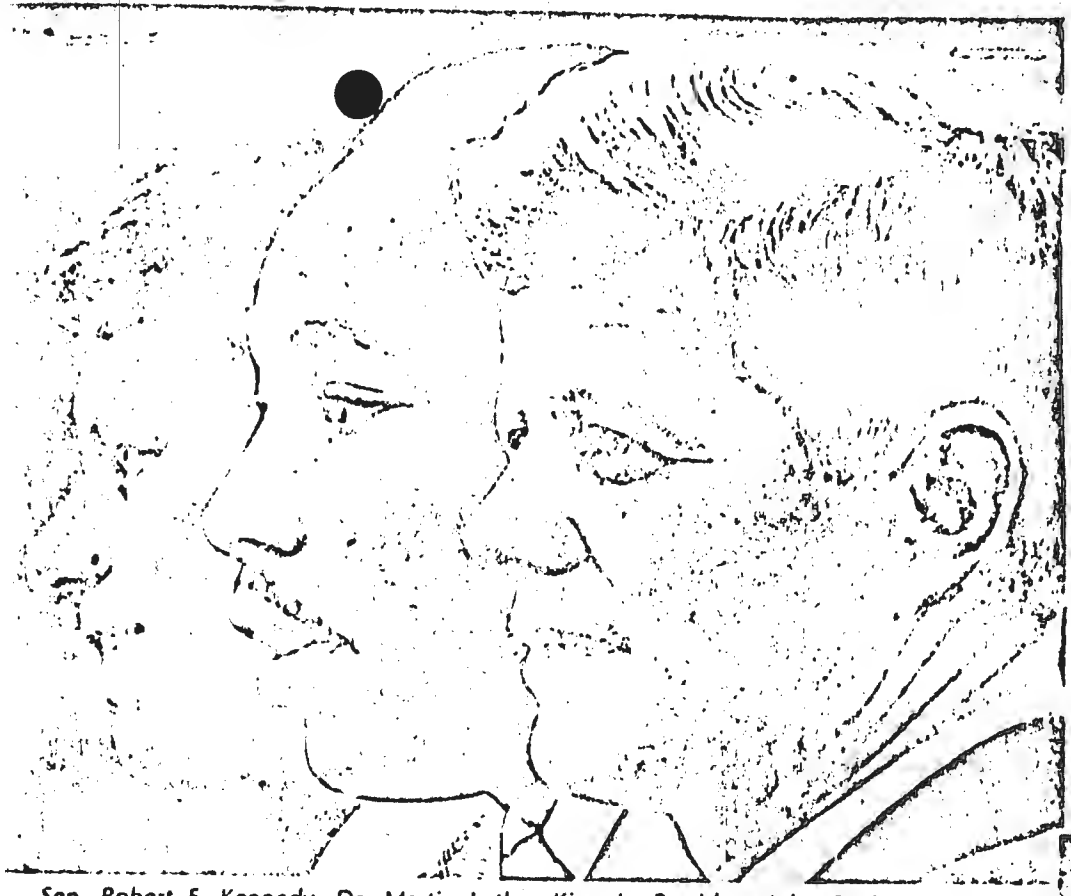
Similar hate literature, which is distributed around the world by the Arab League, followed Sirhan to America. He became steeped in stories about Jewish injustice to the Arabs. Mahmoud Abdel Hadi, an Egyptian newsman who interviewed members of Sirhan's family, reported that the 24-year-old fanatic had become incensed when he saw Senator Kennedy on television don a Jewish yarmulke during a campaign visit to a Portland, Ore., synagogue.

"All these refugees are crusaders," Mahmoud Naguib of the Arab Information Center told PARADE. "That is why, perhaps, Sirhan decided to do this — to dramatize the plight of the Palestinians." Indeed, Sirhan is reported to be determined to turn his trial into an anti-Zionist forum.

More than 900 Arab refugees have come to this country from an environment similar to that which spawned Sirhan. They are insignificant in numbers, however, compared to the home-grown bigots, fanatics and malcontents who have been nurtured on hatred. Even as these words are being written, murder plots are festering in sick and inflamed minds.

Can the poisonous brew of propaganda, which incites these men to violence, be shut off? It is dangerous to tamper with freedom of the press or speech. Yet the law recognizes that a rabble rouser must not be allowed to incite an inflamed mob, causing them to kill and burn.

Tensions are so volatile in this country that the authorities should consider taking legal action against anyone whose outpourings might be likely to precipitate violence against individuals or races. Before Washington's ex-U.S. Attorney David Bress was appointed to the federal bench, he was studying scurrilous, inflammatory literature put out by hate groups to see whether it violated the criminal libel laws.



Never before has the public been more in need of protection from the hate mongers.

Memorandum

TO : MR. MOHR

DATE: December 4, 1968

FROM : N. P. CALLAHAN

SUBJECT: COST OF AIRPLANE TO RETURN JAMES EARL RAY FROM LONDON, ENGLAND, TO MEMPHIS, TENNESSEE

On October 2, 1968, a memorandum from the Director went forward to Mr. Leo M. Pellerzi, Assistant Attorney General for Administration in the Department, transmitting a voucher in the amount of $9,214.60 received from the Scott Air Force Base, Illinois, which covered the cost of the flight of the plane from the United States to England to pick up James Earl Ray and return him to the United States and that the Department could effect payment of this voucher which was erroneously directed to the Bureau. The Budget Officer of the Department at the time that this voucher was forwarded to the Department indicated that it would probably be paid from Department funds and that the State of Tennessee promised to reimburse the Department.

By way of background, when the arrangements were being effected for Ray's return to this country from London, England, by Fred Vinson, Assistant Attorney General of the Criminal Division in the Department, it was recommended that the Department should bear the expense and the Director indicated "Most certainly."

Pellerzi of the Department telephonically contacted the writer on December 3rd and stated he wondered if the Bureau as a favor would consider paying the voucher received from the Air Force in the amount of $9,214.60 since the Department has endeavored to have both the State of Tennessee and the State of Missouri, where Ray escaped prison, reimburse it for this expense with negative results. Pellerzi stated that the Marshals' funds are practically exhausted and if there was any way the Bureau could pay this voucher it would be appreciated.

DEC 19

Inasmuch as the Director has previously concurred in the Department bearing this cost since they made all of the arrangements in connection therewith and further since this Bureau has itself expended over a million dollars in manpower and other expenses incidental to the King assassination case, it is not felt the Bureau should pay the voucher.

RECOMMENDATION

It is recommended that Pellerzi be informed that the Bureau cannot pay the voucher as requested by him.

On December 5 and 6, 1968, [redacted] temporarily residing Room 224, Rogers Hotel, Bloomington, Illinois, an unsavory individual with alleged underworld connections, contacted a representative of the Springfield Office.

[redacted] advised that since casually meeting [redacted] in a bar he has associated with him constantly from November 26, 1968, to the present. He identified [redacted] as the owner of the [redacted] Indianapolis, Indiana, whose wife, [redacted] was currently confined to St. Joseph Hospital, Bloomington, Illinois, where she has given birth to a child.

As noted in referenced communications, [redacted] who apparently has a history of mental illness, has alleged he had information concerning the assassination of MARTIN LUTHER KING. [redacted] related the story as furnished him by [redacted] with events in the order as set forth in referenced airtels. [redacted] alleged to [redacted] that the FBI was fully familiar with his story; that he is well acquainted with numerous agents throughout the United States and that "federal agents" were protecting him and are constantly alert to his whereabouts. [redacted] continually discusses the MARTIN LUTHER KING killing and has furnished so much alleged detail in this matter that he has [redacted] thoroughly confused. [redacted] allegedly is in the process of selling his story concerning the KING slaying to the "Chicago Daily News" for $2,500,000 and he has an appointment with JOHN LINDSTROM on December 7, 1968, at a motel in Lafayette, Indiana, concerning his story. [redacted] allegedly stated whoever will pay the most for his story will get it.

[redacted] advised he and [redacted] travelled to the office of [redacted] attorney, [redacted] Y, of the [redacted] Indianapolis, Indiana, where between 8:30 a.m. and 5:30 p.m., December 5, 1968, [redacted] made four or five disk recordings utilizing both sides of the recording disks in which he related all of his alleged facts concerning the KING slaying. [redacted] then allegedly contacted or was to contact an agent of the Indianapolis Office.

Incidental to their trip to Indianapolis, Indiana, [redacted] and [redacted] travelled to the Veterans Administration Hospital, Danville, Illinois, where [redacted] is allegedly a patient on temporary leave due to report back on December 26, 1968. The purpose of the visit was to pick up checks mailed to [redacted] at the hospital but after entering the hospital [redacted] returned to [redacted] and stated the checks had not come.

Memphis Office is continuing to review the investigation relating to information contained in the "Look" Magazine articles prepared by WILLIAM BRADFORD HUIE.

Investigation concerning his employment at the Indian Trail Restaurant (5/3/67-6/24/67) and his residence at 2731 North Sheffield, Chicago, Ill., is contained in the report of SA RENE J. DUMAINE dated 10/2/68 at Chicago. Note that this is his first employment following his escape from the Missouri State Penitentiary on 4/23/68.

The Springfield Office has determined that the subject on 6/5/67, while still employed at the Indian Trail Restaurant in Winnetka, Ill., purchased a 1959 Chrysler from one GEORGE SEYMOUR HELLER, [redacted] Chicago, Ill. It is not known what became of this Chrysler; however, the Illinois license for the Chrysler was transferred to a 1962 Plymouth which was purchased 7/14/67 from Bundy Oldsmobile, Inc., East St. Louis, Ill. Note that this Plymouth was purchased about three weeks after the subject left his employment at Winnetka, Ill., and four days after the purchase he signed a lease on 7/18/67 at the Harkay Apartments, Montreal, Canada.

Both the Chrysler and the Plymouth are mentioned by HUIE in the first of his "Look" articles, and this Plymouth is the car RAY had in his possession when he met the mysterious "RAOUL" in Canada. In the second of the "Look" articles, it is reported that on instructions from "RAOUL" this car was sold by RAY in Chicago on or about 8/22/67. Illinois Motor Vehicle records reflect that on 8/25/67 this Plymouth was purchased from the subject by JERRY W. RYAN, [redacted] Northbrook, Ill., and on 10/20/67 JERRY W. RYAN sold this car to GJERDIS DOROTHEA RAY, [redacted] Deerfield, Ill. It is believed that JERRY W. RYAN is the subject's brother and that GJERDIS RAY is JERRY RAY's former wife. Investigation is continuing in this regard.

The second of the "Look" articles states that when RAY met "RAOUL" at Windsor, Ontario, on 8/21/67, RAY made two trips in his automobile between Windsor and Detroit, each time bringing undeclared items through customs which items were turned over to "RAOUL" in Detroit. The "Look" article states that on the second of these trips RAY declared his television set and paid duty in the amount of $4.50. He declared the television set in hopes that this would prevent a thorough inspection of his automobile by customs officials. Neither Detroit nor Buffalo has been able to locate a record to verify that such a customs declaration was ever made.

This same "Look" article states that after leaving Windsor, Ontario, on 8/21/67, RAY spent the night of 8/21/67 in a motel about five miles east of Gary, Indiana. A canvass of motels in that area has failed to locate a registration for RAY on that date.

The "Look" article indicates that RAY was instructed by "RAOUL" to go to Birmingham, Alabama, from Canada. RAY went to Birmingham where he spent the night of 8/25/67, at the Granada Hotel. This article further states that on other occasions RAY stayed at the Provincial Motel in New Orleans; at the Flamingo Motel in Selma, Ala.;

at the San Francisco Motel in Acapulco, Mexico; and at an unknown motel in Nuevo Laredo, Mexico.

Guest registrations from the Granada Hotel, the Provincial Motel and the Flamingo Motel have been obtained and are being compared in an effort to identify "RAOUL." The San Antonio Office has been unable to locate a registration for RAY in Nuevo Laredo. The Bureau has not instructed the Legat, Mexico, to conduct investigation at Acapulco.

LEADS:

REQUEST OF THE BUREAU:

Instruct Legat, Mexico, to conduct appropriate investigation to verify subject's stay at the San Francisco Motel, Acapulco, and to determine who his associates were during the approximately five days he spent in Acapulco. You will note the "Look" article states subject stayed one night at the San Francisco Motel and the next four nights at some other motel in Acapulco. Since we know he arrived in Puerto Vallarta on 10/19/67, he should have been in Acapulco approximately 10/14-18/67.

CHICAGO OFFICE:

Locate and interview all persons involved in the sale and/or transfer of instant 1959 Chrysler and instant 1962 Plymouth and determine who has possession of these cars at present.

SUBJECT: MURKIN

By my memorandum 11/15/68, the Director approved that the Exhibits Section prepare a three-dimensional trial exhibit which had been requested by Phil M. Canale, Jr., District Attorney General for Shelby County, Tennessee.

During period 11/19-23/68 necessary measurements were taken of the crime scene area. Accompanying me were Exhibits Specialists Brent H. Hughes and F. Thomas Peyton. We met with Mr. Canale and other members of his staff and after surveying the area and hearing from them the location of their various witnesses, I informed them it will be necessary to construct two and possibly three models to properly show the relationship of the various buildings and also the interior of the rooming house from which the shot was fired. They were informed we will attempt to have these exhibits completed by 2/15/69. The trial is now scheduled for 3/3/69.

RECOMMENDATION:

In view of the postponement of trial until March 3, 1969, State Attorney General PHIL M. CANALE inquired today as to the possibility of exhibit being prepared by FBI in this case. He expressed the opinion that an exhibit prepared by the FBI would be of immeasurable assistance in the prosecution of this case. Mr. CANALE expressed a preference for a three-dimensional type exhibit.

Memphis of opinion that exhibit prepared by FBI will definitely be an asset in handling of case and will bring favorable reaction for FBI. If work schedule of Exhibits Section permits construction of exhibit, Memphis recommends this be done. If approval for construction of exhibit granted, further details will be secured.

Foreman Visits Ray In Shelby Jail Cell

Percy Foreman, the volatile Texas attorney defending James Earl Ray, charged with murder in the death of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. was back in Houston today after paying a visit to his new client in Memphis yesterday.

Foreman said, "I saw him yesterday and that is all I'm going to say." He visited Ray in his Shelby County jail cell.

Foreman is the man who succeeded Arthur Hanes Sr., of Birmingham, Ala., as attorney for Ray just before Ray was to have gone on trial. The switch in attorneys forced postponement of the trial.

Hanes said in Birmingham that he has met with Foreman and has supplied Foreman with material he compiled while he was Ray's lawyer. Foreman left Birmingham and spent yesterday in Memphis, before returning to Houston.

Meanwhile, Shelby County ~~Criminal~~ Court Judge W. Preston Battle virtually ruled out the use of closed circuit television to provide newsmen with electronic coverage of the Ray trial.

Ray is now slated to go on trial March. 3. Various news agencies have been allotted 38 regular seats in the courtroom and four others on a rotating basis.

"I don't think we can do it," Battle replied when asked if he would consider a private television hookup for newsmen.

County ~~Dist Atty~~. Gen. Phil M. Canale, prosecutor in the Ray case, said "I'm against it."

Re Legat Ottawa airtels to the Bureau dated 12-3,6-68.

The Royal Canadian Mounted Police (RCMP) report enclosed to re communication contains an interview with one Jean-Marie Charron, co-owner of Neptune Tavern, Montreal, Canada, who states that two men who identified themselves as "newspaper reporters" from the United States exhibited two photographs to him; one allegedly of James Earl Ray, and the other allegedly of "Raoul." To date these "newspaper reporters" have not been identified, and the RCMP is making an all-out effort to identify the reporters, as well as "Raoul."

William Bradford Huie has written two articles for "Look" magazine concerning the activities of Ray and contained in these articles are various accounts of Ray's activities in Canada, as well as photographs of establishments in Canada including the Neptune Tavern in Montreal. The credit in "Look" magazine for the photographs has been given to one James Hansen. The possibility exists that Huie and Hansen are the "newspaper reporters" who appeared in the Netune Tavern.

The Bureau has obtained photographs of William Bradford Huie and James Hansen and enclosed are two photographs each for Legat Ottawa. Legat Ottawa should request the RCMP to exhibit photographs of Huie and Hansen to Jean-Marie Charron, co-owner of the Neptune Tavern in Montreal, to determine if Huie and Hansen were the individuals who exhibited photographs to him; one allegedly being Ray and one allegedly being "Raoul."

RE: MURKIN

In the RCMP report enclosed to Legat Ottawa airtel to the Bureau 12-3-68, mention is made of newspaper article appearing in "The Gazette" Montreal on November 12, 1968. Legat Ottawa should obtain this article and forward same to the Bureau.

Legat Ottawa's communication under date of 12-6-68 advised that Bruce Taylor, a reporter for the "Montreal Star," interviewed Charron and exhibited two photographs of Ray to him. Mention was made that Taylor was the author of an article which appeared in the 10-31-68 edition of said newspaper. Legat Ottawa should obtain a copy of this article and provide the Bureau with same.

The RCMP should be requested to resolve if possible with Charron whether his comments relative to the two news reporters from the U. S. could possibly refer in fact to the contact with him by Bruce Taylor of the "Montreal Star." The RCMP should also be requested to obtain a copy of the photograph of Ray displayed by Taylor to Charron and forward it to the Bureau. If copy of photograph not available detailed description of it should be obtained.

Enclosed for Memphis is a copy of the RCMP report regarding the efforts to identify "Raoul." This RCMP report is not to be disseminated outside your office, as it is for information only.. Also enclosed for Memphis for information is a photograph of Huie and one of Hansen. Memphis should immediately advise if any information has been received to indicate that two "newspaper reporters" from the United States have been in Canada exhibiting photographs of Ray and "Raoul."

The Bureau does not have any information indicating two "newspaper reporters" from the United States have been in Canada exhibiting photographs.

NOTE:

We have been attempting to identify an individual by the name of "Raoul." According to two articles which appeared in "Look" magazine written by William Bradford Huie, "Raoul" contacted Ray on several occasions and supplied Ray with funds. (Exact reason unknown, not set forth in these articles.) Our investigation as well as RCMP investigation to date has not identified "Raoul," however, Ray and another allegedly that of "Raoul" were displayed by two newspaper people from the United States to the co-owner of the Neptune Bar in Montreal.

It is possible that Huie and Hansen may be the newspaper people that were in the Neptune Tavern in Montreal, therefore, the Bureau instructed the Washington Field Office to check with the Passport Office in the event Huie and Hansen had obtained passports and as a result, photographs were obtained. We are transmitting the photographs to Legat Ottawa and Legat Ottawa is being instructed to request the RCMP to exhibit these photographs to determine if Huie and Hansen were the "newspaper people" from the U. S. displaying photographs. We are also requesting Legat Ottawa to forward two newspaper articles to us mentioned in their communications but not received by us.

Memphis is being furnished a copy of the RCMP report and a photograph of Huie and Hansen for their information. They are also being requested to advise if any information has been received by them concerning the two newspaper people. The Bureau is not aware of any of this type of information; however, Memphis does receive negative type information, which the Bureau would not have.

On 10/30/68, [redacted] Orlando, Fla., telephonically furnished the following information: CALL-IN

She stated she had just read an article in the Orlando Sentinel newspaper regarding a magazine story on JAMES EARL RAY. This article mentioned an individual named "RAUL," who met RAY in Canada during the time he was a fugitive. She stated the article mentioned RAY made a deal with RAUL to deliver a package to the United States and was to have been paid $12,000 by RAUL. The article described RAUL as a blond Latin who was a seaman.

[redacted] stated she knew a men named RAUL in San Francisco in March or April, 1965. This individual was involved in some kind of racket, either in San Francisco, Cal. or Las Vegas, Nevada, which she believed to be extortion. She became involved with him while working as a hostess in the Chase Lounge on Ellis and Larkin Streets, in San Francisco. One night, when RAUL became intoxicated, and after flashing a large amount of money, accused her of stealing $100 from him.

As a result of this incident, RAUL embarked on a campaign to harass her. As a result of this, she had been arrested and was told at a later date by an unrecalled person that RAUL had been deported to England. She is now certain RAUL is the same person mentioned in the RAY article.

During this interview, [redacted] could not give specific answers to questions and became very evasive when questions were asked. She admitted she had suffered a nervous breakdown while living in California and was hesitant in identifying herself, stating she "did not want to get involved."

HENRY R. QUINN, [redacted] Montgomery, Alabama, advised that he and his cousin JOE LACEY, JR., who resides at the same address, are in the interior decorator business together. QUINN advised that he and LACEY traveled to New Orleans, Louisiana, in December of 1967, in a white Chevrolet station wagon, for the purpose of purchasing antiques in the French Quarter in New Orleans for a client of theirs, Mrs. ELIZABETH B. PANNELL. QUINN stated that while in New Orleans, they stayed at the Provencial Motel on Chartres Street. QUINN stated that they customarily take room 126 while staying in New Orleans at the Provencial Motel because of its convenient location to their automobile which is customarily parked in front of the door of Room 126.

QUINN stated that he has lived in Montgomery, Alabama, for the past fifteen years and has been employed there with his cousin, JOE LACEY, JR., as a free lance interior decorator. He stated that he was born in Shelby County, North Carolina, on August 26, 1922.

QUINN advised that while staying at the Provencial Motel from December 14, 1967, through December 16, 1967, he does not recall having seen anyone fitting the description of JAMES EARL RAY. He further advised that the name RACUL does not mean anything to him. He stated that while in New Orleans he did not spend much time at the motel but was busy shopping for antiques and that he did not notice anything suspicious while at the motel.

The following is a physical description of HENRY R. QUINN as obtained at the time of interview:

Ray claimed in a recently published story in Look magazine about his activities here that he used only the Galt name while in Canada.

He said he chose the name while passing the city of Galt, Ont., on his way to Montreal and used it during visits to St. Jovite and Ottawa.

The 40-year-old alleged killer, whose trial is scheduled in Memphis, Tenn., for the middle of November, arrived in Dorion just one day after he fled the United States where he was sought for escaping from the Missouri State Penitentiary.

The records of the Bourgarde Motel show that he registered under the name of Rayns and listed his address as 507 Chestnut street, Winnetka, Ill. The address was that of a restaurant where Ray was employed for several weeks prior to his flight to Canada.

He was known to his employers as John L. Rayns, a name he often used after his jail break.

Although motel officials did not take his licence number, the desk clerk at the time noted he was driving a 1962 Plymouth.

The description of that car matches that of a vehicle purchased by Ray for $200 in East St. Louis, Mo., just before he crossed into Canada at Windsor, Ont.

The man who owned the Bourgarde Hotel last year, Guy Richer, says he remembers nothing about his infamous client.

"We were just too busy last year with Expo to take special notice of anybody. We were packed every night with all sorts of people," said Mr. Richer who has since sold the motel.

After his one night stay in Dorion, Ray reverted to the alias of Eric Stavo Galt.

At the Har-K Apartments, 2859 Notre Dame street east, where Ray signed a six month lease but stayed only until mid-August; and at the Gray Rocks Inn, a resort hotel in St. Jovite, 78 miles north of Montreal, he used the Galt name.

He also gave that name and his Notre Dame street address to a travel agency, located on Peel street, which arranged his reservation at Gray Rocks. The manager of the travel agency requested that their name not be published.

The man who made Ray's reservation and took a $20 cash deposit from him was unable to recognize or recall anything about him. He added that Ray was probably in the office for about only 10 minutes.

Waterfront haunt

At several other places that Ray is known to have frequented, the story is much the same.

He seems to have gone out of his way to behave unobtrusively and apparently always fit into whatever background necessary.

Along the city's tough waterfront between Place Royale and Place d'Youville where he spent much of his time in hopes of obtaining false identity papers, no one could place the gaunt, stern-faced Ray.

The alleged killer claims that he spent several nights drinking in the Neptune Tavern, 121 Commissioners street west, and that he met a man named Raoul who offered him $12,000 to complete a mysterious assignment in the United States.

J. M. Charron, owner of the Neptune for the past several years, said it would be almost impossible to disaprove Ray's claim.

Peering at a recent photograph of Ray, Mr. Charron commented, "It could be that he was here. Who is going to say otherwise?

"I might have seen him and maybe even talked to him but it has been a year and two months since he was here. It is very, very difficult to say from pictures. They can be deceiving. And maybe he was wearing a disguise.

"Perhaps if I saw him in person I could say for sure."

As for Raoul, Mr. Charron said that the description of the man supplied by Ray "could be almost any sailor who comes in here every night of the year."

"We get all sorts in here. And especially last year with Expo on . . . Oh Boy! We had Russians, Englishmen, Americans, Negroes, yellows, whites . . . everybody.

"No, I cannot say that I recall anyone by the name of Raoul who hung out here."

REGISTERED HERE: On the night of July 17, 1967, James Earl Ray registered at Bourgarde Motel on Harwood boulevard in Dorion as John L. Rayns, of 507 Chestnut street, Winnetka, Illinois. The address was that of a restaurant where he worked.

Shooting suspect surrenders

Willie Pomerleau, 17, the second man sought on a warrant for the Oct. 10 shooting of two men in a St. Michel auto repair shop, surrendered to Montreal police yesterday.

Accompanied by his lawyer, Pomerleau, a local nightclub owner, gave himself up to Criminal Investigation Bureau detectives at police headquarters on Bonsecours street.

Still sought is Jacques "Sonny" Coe, who police say took part in the shooting with Pomerleau and Rocco Girolamo. Girolamo, described as "practically unknown" with a small criminal record, surrendered to St. Michel detectives on Oct. 21, also in the presence of his lawyer.

Coe, considered extremely dangerous, is believed to have taken refuge in the Laurentian foothills.

Warrants for the three were issued shortly after Richard Blass, 29, and Claude Menard, 33, were shot and wounded as they sat in a car in a St chel repair shop. They "cut down" when they tr elude their aggressors.

Menard was released hospital three days late Blass, seriously injured partially paralyzed, is re ported in "fair" condit Jean Talon Hospital heavy police guard.

lias

House, 165 Place d'Youville, echoed Mr. Charron's words, as did waiters and barmen at Joe Beef's tavern, some 50 yards down the street.

"Who can tell for sure," a waiter at Joe Beef's mentioned. "We had so many people in here during Expo. We have so many in normal years but last year makes it even more impossible to figure."

Ray's chameleonic attributes served him well at the luxurious Gray Rock's resort where he stayed for a full week between July 31 and Aug. 5. Not a single employe remembered his face.

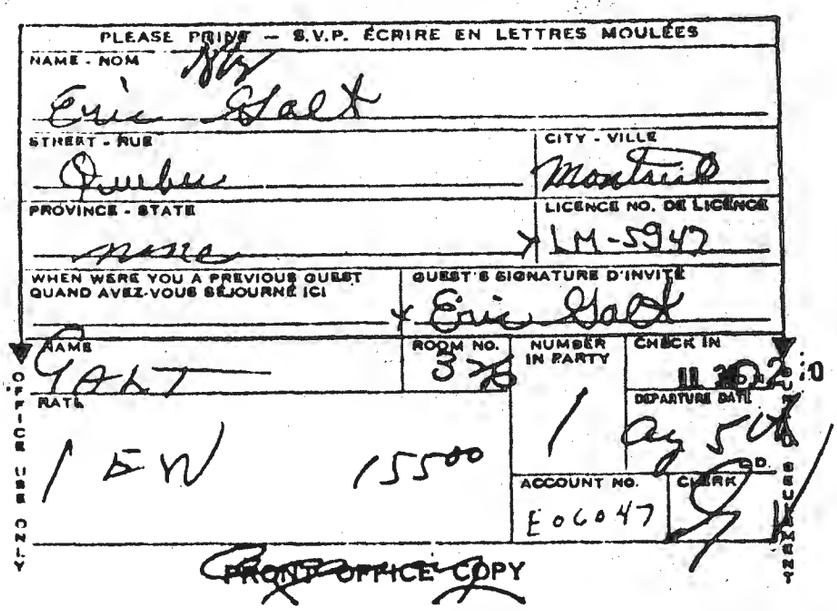
He spent so little time at the bar during the week that his liquor bill amounted to a penny-pinching $8. He paid that, and the $155 it cost for his single room with a bath, in cash. It was near the end of that week that he encountered the now famous lady civil servant from Ottawa.

Ray's romantic adventure with his civil servant girl friend who he had hoped would help get him a false Canadian passport, was probably the only close relationship he had in Montreal.

The connection between Ray and the lady whose identity still remains a secret was raised in the House of Commons this week but government officials pleaded ignorance to the existence of a romance and of the lady herself.

Local RCMP spokesmen also disclaimed any knowledge of her and refused comment as to whether they are investigating the matter.

Both the RCMP and the American FBI, however, have been scouring Ray's local hangouts since long before his arrest in England on June 8 of this year.



They asked for and received receipts, registration slips, and other material from Ray's lodgings and from the Tip Top Tailors shop, 488 St. Catherine street west, where he bought clothing and had a jacket altered.

Investigators also visited Ray's waterfront haunts but apparently had little success in discovering anyone who remembered him.

One thing which police overlooked was the night spent by Ray in the motel Bourgarde on Harwood boulevard in Dorion where he used the Rayns alias.

Mr. Richer told The Star that he was never contacted by anyone, police or journalists, about the subject until he received a visit from two Star reporters.

Operators of other Dorion motels, including Le Pavillon and the Miss Dorion said that they had been interrogated about the night of July 17, 1967.

Mrs. LOUISE LARSON, [redacted] La Jolla, California, advised SA ARNOLD W. O'BRIEN as follows December 6, 1968:

Just prior to Christmas, 1967, Mrs. LOUISE LARSON traveled to Fort Lauderdale, Florida, with her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. VIRGIL L. LARSON, [redacted] La Jolla, California.

They left Los Angeles and flew directly to New Orleans, Louisiana, where they registered at the Provincial Hotel, New Orleans, during the evening hours. According to Mrs. LARSON, they stayed at the Provincial Hotel for approximately a week then proceeded to Fort Lauderdale, Florida, where they were joined by Mr. and Mrs. STEWART STEBBS, daughter and son-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. VIRGIL L. LARSON.

It is Mrs. LARSON's recollection that they had reservations in advance for their rooms at the Provincial Motel. Mrs. LARSON also advised that the room in which she stayed had a spiral staircase leading to a second bedroom directly above the room where she stayed. Her son and daughter-in-law were in a room several doors from her room but later moved into a room nextdoor.

Photographs of JAMES EARL RAY were displayed to Mrs. LARSON and she advised that she has no recollection of having seen anyone resembling JAMES EARL RAY while she stayed at the Provincial Motel.

The name RAOUL has no significance to Mrs. LARSON.

Mrs. LARSON also advised that she personally did not make any telephone calls while staying at the Provincial Motel.

Mrs. JUNE LARSON, [redacted] La Jolla, California, advised SA O'BRIEN as follows December 6, 1968:

Mrs. LARSON displayed a 1967 calendar in which a notation was made on the date, December 19,1967, indicating the departure of her husband, herself and her mother-in-law for New Orleans, Louisiana.

Mrs. LARSON advised that the purpose of the trip of her husband, herself and her mother-in-law was to spend Christmas with her daughter and son-in-law at Fort Lauderdale, Florida.

Since she; Mrs. LARSON, had never visited New Orleans, they decided to make a stopover and spend about a week visiting the area.

According to Mrs. LARSON, they arrived at New Orleans, Louisiana, after dark and took a taxi directly to the Provincial Motel.

Mrs. LARSON recalls that her mother-in-law stayed in a room having a spiral staircase leading to a bedroom directly above the one she occupied.

She and her husband first occupied a room one removed from her mother-in-law and later moved into a room nextdoor to the one being occupied by her mother-in-law.

They departed New Orleans for Fort Lauderdale on December 24, 1967.

Photographs of JAMES EARL RAY were displayed to Mrs. LARSON and she advised that none of the photographs were familiar to her and she could recall no one staying at the Provincial Motel who resembled the subject.

She also advised the name RAOUL had no significance to her.

Mrs. LARSON advised that she personally made no telephone calls either local or long distance while at the Provincial Motel.

She advised that her husband is an employee of the telephone company and when on a trip occasionally makes telephone calls to his office. She advised it is possible her husband may also have made a telephone call to her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. STEWART STEERE, Berkeley Heights, New Jersey, telephone 201-464-[redacted]

Mrs. LARSON advised that her husband always makes his calls from public telephones rather than making a call from the room.

Mr. VIRGIL L. LARSON, [redacted] La Jolla, California, advised SA O'BRIEN as follows December 6, 1968:

Mr. LARSON, referring to a 1967 calendar at his office, noted that on December 19, 1967, a notation in pencil indicated that he, his wife and his mother departed San Diego aboard National Airlines for New Orleans.

Mr. LARSON advised that they arrived after dark on December 19, 1968, and took a taxi directly to the Provincial Motel, New Orleans.

Mr. LARSON also advised that the purpose of the trip was to spend Christmas with his daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. STEWART STEERE at Fort Lauderdale, Florida. They decided to stop over at New Orleans and spend a week visiting the area since his wife had never seen New Orleans.

His mother, Mrs. LOUISE LARSON, occupied a room having a spiral staircase leading to a bedroom directly above the one being occupied by her.

Mr. LARSON advised that he and his wife first occupied a room one removed from his mother and later moved to a room nextdoor to her. They stayed at the Provincial Hotel until December 24, 1968, at which time they continued their flight to Fort Lauderdale.

Photographs of JAMES EARL RAY were displayed to Mr. LARSON and he advised that none of the photographs were familiar to him and he does not recall anyone resembling the subject at the Provincial Hotel.

The name RAOUL has no significance to Mr. LARSON.

Mr. LARSON advised that he undoubtedly made several telephone calls while he stayed at the Provincial Motel; however, none of these telephone calls were made from his room. He always makes telephone calls from a public telephone in order to save the service charge that the motel or hotel usually charges for placing the call.

He undoubtedly called his daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. STEWART STEERE at Berkeley Heights, New Jersey, telephone number 201-464-[redacted] He probably also called the telephone company where he works, telephone number 714-298-0656.

Enclosed for the Bureau are the original and one copy of a newspaper clipping reflecting the fact Judge W. PRESTON BATTLE conferred 12/11/68 with subject's lawyer, PERCY FOREMAN, and agreed to postpone until 12/18/68 a "hearing" to determine the date of RAY's trial.

Mr. JAMES BEASLEY, Assistant Attorney General and one of the prosecutors in this case, advised SA JOE C. HESTER 12/12/68 that his office had expected FOREMAN to appear before Judge BATTLE on 12/12/68 as previously scheduled and that neither FOREMAN nor BATTLE notified the Attorney General's Office of their meeting until some hours after the meeting had taken place. It was FOREMAN who advised the press of the postponement.

Mr. BEASLEY explained that what has been described in the press as a hearing is not actually a hearing and is nothing more than a "progress report" which FOREMAN is to make to Judge BATTLE to advise BATTLE what progress FOREMAN is making in locating and interviewing witnesses in this case.

Mr. BEASLEY was most apologetic for not having given this Office earlier notice of the meeting between FOREMAN and Judge BATTLE, but explained that he was unable to do so as he had not learned of the meeting until many hours after it had concluded.

Ray's Attorney, Battle Confer

Trial-Date Hearing In King Murder Case Delayed Till Wednesday

Judge Preston Battle conferred yesterday with Percy Foreman, attorney for James Earl Ray, and agreed to postpone until Wednesday a hearing to finally determine the date of Ray's trial. The trial now is set tentatively for March 3.

Mr. Foreman later conferred for 50 minutes with Ray in Ray's specially guarded cell in the Shelby County Jail. The Texas attorney left yesterday afternoon for Los Angeles, where he will speak today.

He refused all comment, except to say, "This case was tried before I got into it." He apparently referred to worldwide publicity on the search for, arrest and background of Ray, the fugitive Missouri convict charged with the sniper-slaying of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.

Dr. King was slain on the balcony of the Lorraine Motel on Mulberry Street the evening of April 4.

Judge Battle set a formal hearing on the date for the Ray trial for 9 a.m. Wednesday. The trial was set originally for Nov. 12 but postponed at the last moment because Ray chose to dismiss his first attorney, Arthur J. Hanes, former mayor of Birmingham, and retain Mr. Foreman.

It is understood the attorney general's office will oppose postponing the trial beyond March 3. It is noted that while the courts grant a defendant's right to an attorney of his choice, both the state and federal constitutions guarantee the right to a "speedy public trial."

Tennessee law permits an accused person to be tried three days after an indictment is returned, Atty. Gen. Phil Canale said in arguing against a long continuance. Ray was indicted May 17.

Before Dr. King's murder threw an extra load on it, the attorney general's office brought the average case to trial four to six months after indictment. The lag now has increased by about two months.

In another development yesterday, the attorney general's office said Ray could not be tried in Missouri under that state's habitual criminal act after his trial in Memphis for murder.

Ray would be subject to such a trial in Missouri, with life imprisonment upon conviction, except that the terms of the treaty under which he was extradited from England forbid his trial on any charge except that specified in the extradition warrant — the murder of Dr. King.

But Ray had 14 months to serve on an armed robbery conviction when he escaped from the Missouri State Prison in a bread truck. That 14 months will still hang over him, sources said.

SUBJECT: MURKIN

This is the case involving the murder of Martin Luther King, Jr.

In connection with the hearing which was to be held on December 12, 1968, at which time Judge Battle of the State Court was to inquire of Attorney Percy Foreman as to whether he is ready to proceed with trial on March 3, we have been advised there may be some delay.

SAC Jensen stated, according to information he received from the State's Attorney General and the Sheriff's Office, it appears Foreman will not show on Thursday, December 12, 1968, inasmuch as he has some commitments on the West Coast. If he does not, the hearing has been set for December 16, 1968.

The State also feels that Judge Battle is annoyed with the dilly-dallying on the part of the defense and is considering asking a public defender to appear in court, at which time he will instruct that the public defender be prepared to proceed with trial. This would not seem to be too logical a course. (This does not seem to be too logical a course inasmuch as the defendant is entitled to an attorney of his own choice in the event he has the ability to pay for it.)

It is also understood Percy Foreman has not asked to see any of the evidence nor has he conducted any investigation or interview of witnesses. He has, however, placed a lien on the Ford Mustang which was purchased by Ray and which was found in Atlanta.

By Subject at Chicago

Enclosed herewith for the Bureau are three copies of an FD-302 interview of GEORGE SEYMOUR HELLER, setting forth information concerning the subject's purchase of a 1959 Chrysler in June, 1967, at Chicago, Illinois. Enclosed for the Memphis Division are 15 copies of the same FD-302. Enclosed for the St. Louis and Springfield Divisions are one copy each of same FD-302.

The investigation conducted to locate GEORGE SEYMOUR HELLER for interview is not being set forth in the interest of brevity and economy.

It is noted that HELLER advised that the manager of the Sunoco Gas Station, Lunt and Western Avenue, Chicago, Illinois, was present at time of sale and also observed JAMES EARL RAY. On 12/13/68, Mr. JENS JANSEN, Partner, aforementioned Sunoco Station, advised that MAURICE GIVANT, previous owner for six years, had left the station in about August, 1968, and has not been heard of since. JANSEN advised that the gas stations report to the Sun Oil Company

He further advised that numerous collection agencies, as well as the City of Chicago and the Illinois State Department of Revenue, have been to the gas station attempting to locate GIVANT. He said that the only information he knows of concerning GIVANT's whereabouts is that he supposedly is in California to avoid paying the Illinois state taxes wanted by the Department of Revenue. In view of this, no further attempt is being made to locate GIVANT for interview since it does not appear that he could add any additional information not obtained from HELLER, UACB.

FEDERAL BUREAU OF INVESTIGATION

Date December 13, 1968

GEORGE SEYMOUR HELLER, [redacted] Chicago, Illinois, phone 262-[redacted] was interviewed at his place of employment, the Bernard Harwich branch of the Jewish Community Centers of Chicago, 3003 West Touhy, Chicago, Illinois, phone RO 1-9100, where he is employed as a social group worker. Mr. HELLER advised that some time in the summer of 1967, he ran an ad in the "Chicago Tribune" for the sale of a 1959 Chrysler, green over white. He said that the manager of the Sunoco Station, Lunt and Western Avenue, Chicago, Illinois, named MAURICE (LNU), acted as his agent. After the ad had been run in the paper, he received a call from MAURICE (LNU), telling him that a party had called about the car and would be at the gas station. HELLER went to the gas station and waited for the purchaser to arrive. He first observed the purchaser alone walking into the gas station. This individual was dressed in a green jacket, dressed almost as in a government issued fatigue jacket and green pants. He was neat and clean and had no unusual characteristics. Mr. HELLER was exhibited a group of nine photographs, three of which were photographs taken at different times of JAMES EARL RAY. Mr. HELLER picked out photo number 00416 dated January 4, 1966, and stated that this photograph would be the closest resemblance to the purchaser of his car; however, he could not state definitely that the individual represented by this photograph was identical to the purchaser. He also advised that he has seen numerous photographs of JAMES EARL RAY in the news media and has never once associated him with the purchaser of his Chrysler He was shown additional photographs of RAY and stated that he could not say that RAY was identical to the purchaser.

He said that his overall impression of RAY was that he was "lanky" and of the "hillbilly type". He commented that RAY was extremely quiet and said no more than a dozen words during their conversation, which was completely about the Chrysler. RAY made no comment as to his residence, employment, or any other matters of a personal nature. RAY also made no comment concerning the reason for the purchase of the car and in fact seemed to have very little interest at HELLER's comments concerning the vehicle. RAY made no mention of utilizing the car for a long trip and asked no questions as to the roadability of the car. He appeared to be purchasing it merely for transportation. RAY also did not argue about the price and paid in cash the $200, which was HELLER's asking price. HELLER further related that there was nothing unusual about the money, that he did not believe it was new currency, and he could not recall the specific denominations of the bills.

HELLER advised that the only thing that stuck in his mind concerning RAY was that he was very quiet. HELLER took the Illinois license plates off of the car and RAY drove it away. HELLER had no further contact with him.

On 12/12/68 a male individual identifying himself as PETER DORNAY (ph) telephonically contacted me. He described himself as an American, a publisher, and that he is now writing a book on JAMES EARL RAY.

He said it appears to him that two RAYs were arrested on 6/6/68 and he asked me for all details of the arrest. I informed him that since the arrest had been made by British authorities he should contact them. He said he had and had not received any satisfaction. He said he wanted the information from me and I repeated he would have to contact the British. He became sarcastic, stating I wouldn't cooperate, that I knew the true story, he wanted it, etc. He would not accept what I had told him so I terminated the conversation.

Chief Superintendent TOMMY BUTLER, New Scotland Yard, advised me on the same date he had a similar call from DORNAY, who became incensed when BUTLER told him "no comment", call the British Home Office."

Since DORNAY is in England digging into this matter the Bureau is requested to furnish any pertinent available information concerning him.

Re: State of Tennessee vs. James Earl Ray, with aliases

Dear Mr. Fitzpatrick:

As you have undoubtedly heard through the news media, the above-styled case has been continued by the Judge until March 3, 1969, at the request of the new defense attorney, and over our objection.

Needless to say, we were very disappointed in not being able to try the case as scheduled on November 12, 1968, as we had planned and were prepared to do.

The purpose of this letter is to formally notify you as a witness for the State of Tennessee that the case has been continued and to remind you that the subpoenas heretofore issued for November 12, 1968, are being extended and maintained in effect for the new trial date of March 3, 1969. As we have previously explained to you, it will not be necessary that you appear on March 3 and be inconvenienced by unnecessary delay in awaiting your turn to testify so long as you are available when we give reasonable notice as to the date we anticipate having you testify.

We will contact you again as the new trial date approaches, and if in the meantime you should change your place of residence, business or phone number, please let us know.

Change Of Lawyers Is Based On Money

By CHARLES THORNTON

Money and disgruntled brothers emerged yesterday as reason behind the change in attorneys hours before James Earl Ray was scheduled to stand trial in the April 4 slaying of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.

Jerry Ray and John Ray, brothers of accused James Earl Ray, have told several newsmen here they feel attorney Arthur Hanes and writer William Bradford Huie are using their brother to make money and get publicity.

Jerry Ray, it was learned, became curious enough about the flow of cash from Look magazine to writer Huie and from Mr. Huie to attorney Hanes that he flew to Huntsville, Ala., from St. Louis to inquire about it of Mr. Huie 11 days ago.

Mr. Huie has said he has turned over "more than $30,000" to Ray's attorney as part payment to Ray for the exclusive rights to his story. The story is being published by Look magazine.

Percy Foreman of Houston, Ray's new lawyer, said yesterday Mr. Hanes told him over the telephone that Ray still owes him $12,000 in expenses plus legal fees.

Mr. Hanes, in fact, said yesterday he won't turn over any evidence or papers in the case to Mr. Foreman until he's paid the $12,000.

Jerry Ray told newsmen at the Claridge yesterday he was concerned that Hanes "seems to be in this case just for the publicity." He said he admired Foreman's technique especially because "he doesn't talk to reporters. He works to win."

James Earl Ray and Hanes earlier have been at odds over financial arrangements over Mr. Huie's exclusive rights to Ray's story of the mystery shrouded slaying.

☐ Being Investigated

Jerry Ray said his brother (James Earl) has been "unhappy because he hasn't seen any of that money (the $30,000 supposedly turned over to Mr. Hanes) yet."

Contacted yesterday in Look's New York editorial offices, Mr. Huie termed reports that the brothers were disgruntled over the financial arrangements "complete nonsense."

"I went over all of that with Jerry Ray on Nov. 1. He spent the night and we talked at great length. He seemed satisfied. I went over everything—all the contracts with James Earl Ray. I told him that any way Ray wanted the money held was quite all right with me and Mr. Hanes. There was no disgruntlement whatever."

Mr. Huie said there has been complete disclosure of his financial arrangements with Mr. Hanes and Ray.

"In August I made a complete disclosure to Judge (W. Preston) Battle. There has been no secrecy in this matter at all."

After brief comments to reporters in the Claridge lobby yesterday that they were unhappy with Mr. Hanes, his handling of the case and the financial aspects of it, both declined questions from newsmen.

"I've got nothing to say. My counsel told me not to say anything," said John Ray as he strode through the drizzle after visiting James Earl Ray in his cell.

Mr. Foreman, wearing his hat and with his feet propped on the bed in his Claridge room, wasn't reluctant to talk about the money he's made.

"There may be lawyers who make more money than I do, but I make more money out of law than any lawyer in Houston," he said.

"I've given away at least $300,000 this year."

Mr. Foreman said he has made so much money in the courtroom this year that he could afford to pay a national television network $300,000 for a five-hour film on the law. He said he plans to give the film to a school.

Referring to his tax bracket, Mr. Foreman said: "I've made so much money that it cost me only $17 on the thousand to buy the film."

But the question of who is paying him for his work in the Ray case remained unanswered.

Percy Foreman On The Job

"So [redacted] as I am concerned, I was a[redacted]am ready to go to trial," he said. "I went to the jail last night to confer with my client. This was about 8:10 p.m. Sheriff (William N.) 'Bill' Morris said he wanted to see me. A few minutes later he handed me a duplicate of a handwritten note from Ray saying I was being replaced by Mr. Foreman."

Mr. Foreman's name has been on Ray's tongue several times the past four or five months, Mr. Hanes said. But only on a visit to his client in the Shelby County Jail Wednesday did he feel a change of counsel was imminent.

"Ray did not talk and act like a man who was going on trial for his life in less than a week," Mr. Hanes commented.

If Judge Battle grants a continuance and a switch in counsel, Mr. Hanes said he would expect payment of his fee and expenses before turning his files on the case over to a successor. His fee, with that of his son, Arthur Hanes Jr., is understood to be $25,000, with more than $12,000 in expenses.

Mr. Hanes is understood to have received most if not all of $25,000 in fees promised him by Ray, ~~who received~~ money in payment of a handwritten story of his life prepared for magazine ~~writer~~ William B. Huie.

Ray's two brothers, John and Jerry Ray of St. Louis, are known to have worked to have Mr. Hanes replaced as counsel, urging that Mr. Foreman be retained instead. One of them is quoted as objecting that Mr. Huie was "getting about $100,000 for articles based on our brother's manuscript, while James Earl is getting only attorney fees to pass on to the Haneses."

Mr. Foreman, reputed to have become a millionaire several times over from fees from wealthy clients, said he was not interested in money in the Ray case. "I've given away $300,000 this year."

Asked if the Ku Klux Klan has offered to pay for his services in the case, Mr. Foreman exploded in a voice resounding through a whole floor of the Claridge Hotel.

"That's a ----lie, an unmitigated lie. I've never known or spoken to a Klansman in my life."

Look magazine today publishes the second installment of the series Mr. Huie is writing on Ray. Mr. Huie writes that the plot to murder Dr. King existed as early as Aug. 15, 1967, eight months prior to the fatal shooting on the balcony of the Lorraine Motel here April 4. Mr. Huie adds:

"As late as March 23, 1968, less than two weeks before the murder with which he is charged, Ray did not know that the plot included murder or that it was aimed in any way at Dr. King."

This installment brings Ray's actions up to March 23, 1968. In New York an editor of Look said ~~the third~~ article, if it appears, will be published only after the trial. This scheduling, it was said, is to avoid conflict with Judge Battle's order restricting pretrial publicity in the case.

Mr. Huie describes Ray's meanderings, after his escape from the Missouri State Prison at Jefferson City, from Chicago to Canada, where he first met his contact 'Raoul,' to Mexico, Los Angeles, Atlanta, Selma and Birmingham.

In Los Angeles he was analyzed by a hypnotist, the Rev. Xavier von Koss. Mr. von Koss said his treatment of hypnosis was hampered because Ray evidently feared that in the trance he might reveal embarrassing secrets. But Mr. von Koss did learn enough to give this diagnosis:

"Ray belongs to the recognition type. He desires recognition from his group, from himself. He yearns to feel that he is somebody. This desire for recognition is in him superior to sex, superior to money, superior to self-preservation."

Ray, Mr. H[redacted] relates, was trying to improve not only his inner personality but his physical appearance. On Feb. 19, 1968, he went to a plastic surgeon, Dr. Russel C. Hadley, on La Brea Boulevard in Los Angeles, to have some facial changes made.

Ray and Dr. Hadley agreed on the terms. On March 5, less than a month before Dr. King was slain, Ray, relieved by a local anesthetic, had a too-pointed nasal tip corrected.

The cost was $200. According to Huie, sure the FBI one day would put him on its list of "Ten Most Wanted Criminals," Ray thought he got his money's worth.

Hanes To Appear In Court; Foreman's Role Hinges On Continuance

By CHARLES EDMUNDSON

Criminal Court Judge W. Preston Battle will rule this morning on a motion to continue the trial of James Earl Ray and his ruling will determine whether Texas attorney Percy Foreman takes over the defense.

"If the judge refuses a continuance, I'm not in the case," said Mr. Foreman, who estimates he has tried 1,000 murder cases. "I've done no work on the case and can't do any till I am a part of it."

Ray, who was to have gone on trial today on a charge of murdering Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., gave Mr. Foreman a handwritten note Sunday saying he was to supersede Arthur J. Hanes, former mayor of Birmingham, as chief counsel.

Atty. Gen. Phil M. Canale said last night the prosecution would announce "ready" but indicated he would neither oppose nor favor a continuance. If a continuance is granted, Mr. Canale will insist notice be served that there will be no continuance later.

Judge Battle is believed to be inclined to grant a continuance as part of a policy of closing every possible loophole of appeal. However, on April 26 he refused to allow grocery executive Louis F. Montesi to switch counsel during a motion for a retrial of his conviction for manslaughter in the pistol death of his first wife.

At his suite in the Holiday Inn-Rivermont Mr. Hanes said, "I shall appear in court in the morning as counsel of record. But I do not wish to represent a reluctant client."

Mr. Hanes, it was learned, has disagreed with Ray for some time on whether or not to demand a continuance.

COME MORNING — Washington between Second and Third was well lighted but seemingly deserted last night on the eve of the possible beginning of the trial of James Earl Ray. Guards remained in the four small guardhouses in front of the Shelby County Jail (left) where the man accused of the murder of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., was under strict security.

...soul," his beneficent contact, ...ad given him $1,995 to buy in Birmingham a white Mustang with red upholstery. (A white Mustang is now stored in the Memphis Police Department garage, ticketed as an exhibit for Ray's trial.)

His face remodeled, Ray in mid-March, 1968, mounted his Mustang and headed for Selma, Ala., where Dr. King was expected to appear March 22. Ray reached Selma on schedule, Mr. Huie writes, but Dr. King's pilgrimage into south Alabama stopped at Camden.

From Camden Dr. King flew to Atlanta. Ray apparently left Selma the same evening, or the next day. Mr. Huie does not say. He draws the curtain at this point, not to raise it again till the Ray trial is under way, with the jury sequestered for the duration.

Look Magazine and Mr. Huie, it is clear, think that with the jury locked up, Judge Battle's anti-evidence order will no longer be in effect. Judge Battle himself says, "My order is in effect till the jury hands in its verdict at the close of the trial."

Mr. Huie concludes his article, "The outline of the plot to murder Dr. King now begins to become visible to me (although) I cannot reveal all I have found to be true:

"Dr. King was to be murdered for effect. His murder was planned, not by impulsive men who hated him personally, though they probably did hate him, but by calculating men who wanted to use his murder to trigger violent conflict between white and Negro citizens.

"He was to be murdered during the election year of 1968.

"Since he was to be murdered for maximum bloody effect, he was to be murdered, not while he was living quietly in his home in Atlanta, but at some dramatic moment, at some dramatic place where controversy was raging. By March 15, 1968, the plotters clearly had begun aiming at murdering him at some point where he was forming or leading the Poor People's March.

"He was to be murdered by a white man, or white men, who should be described as 'Southerners' and 'racists.'

"Preferably, he was to be murdered in Birmingham or Montgomery or Selma, since these cities were milestones in his career as an advocate of racial change.

"There was no necessity, after the murder, for the murderer or murderers to be murdered to prevent a trial or trails — because a trial or trials could yield extra dividends of hatred and violence.

"Therefore, in this plot, Dr. King was the secondary, not the primary, target. The primary target was the United States of America."

Hanes Isn't First Attorney To Be Dismised By Ray

By JOHN MEANS

One of the major questions for Percy Foreman, as he ponders his defense strategy for James Earl Ray, has to be how to control his client.

Two other attorneys have failed—and found themselves fired in the middle of the case. When the man accused in the slaying of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. fired Arthur Hanes Sunday night, it wasn't the first time.

He waited until a five-day trial was almost over in 1959 to tell the judge in a St. Louis courtroom he felt he had not been represented properly, and asked that his court-appointed attorney be dismissed from the case.

The judge overruled his request, but the attorney was relieved after Ray's conviction, and Ray himself argued his appeal before the Missouri Supreme Court. He lost.

Mr. Foreman stepped into the case Sunday night, when Ray fired Mr. Hanes and Arthur Hanes Jr. The colorful Texas attorney said he was hired by Ray and Ray's two brothers, Jerry Ray and John Ray, who met him at the Claridge Hotel.

Ray tried to fire Richard D. Schrieber nine years ago, just before the closing arguments to the jury in his armed robbery trial.

Mr. Schreiber remembers Ray as "a guardhouse lawyer . . . he pretty well ran his own trial. He knew what he wanted to do, and I pretty well had to go along with it." He said Ray took the witness stand in his own defense although his court-appointed lawyer advised against it "in the most vigorous language possible.

"When he did, of course the prosecution was then entitled to bring out his past criminal record before the jury. He hadn't even told me of his past record."

Convicted and sentenced to 20 years, Ray handled his own appeal before the Missouri Supreme Court, and lost. "In those days," Mr. Schreiber said, "the court was likely to look more closely at a case without a lawyer. I don't know whether he knew that or not, but it's possible.

"Our relations up to that time had been normally pleasant, and he had given me no indication he planned to do this (ask for another lawyer). We had already tried the bulk of the case—we were just getting into closing arguments—when he stood up in open court and made some statement like 'I haven't been adequately represented at this trial, and I don't want him to argue this case in front of the jury.' "

Missouri Circuit Judge John C. Casey also remembers Ray. Ray clobbered a deputy on the morning of his trial opening, and tried to escape from the courtroom rear corridor. It happened just after the judge had demanded that extra guards be posted in the corridors of the Municipal Building, to prevent just such incidents.

Ray was convicted in December, 1959, in Judge Casey's court of the armed robbery of a St. Louis Kroger store. It was this 20-year prison term he was serving when he escaped from the Missouri State Penitentiary at Jefferson City in 1967.

Ray's dissatisfaction with his attorneys' strategy in the present case was first revealed several weeks ago during a hearing when Mr. Hanes told Criminal Court Judge W. Preston Battle that "serious differences have arisen between my client and myself over the conduct of this case . . . it may be necessary for me to withdraw as defense counsel in this case."

At that time, it was understood Ray and his attorney had argued over bringing in another attorney, and over whether Ray would take the stand. Ray said yes, Mr. Hanes advised no.

Success Brings Fat Fees

Percy Foreman has become a kind of legend in his home state of Texas.

Judge Roy Hofheinz, owner of the Houston Astro baseball team, once said: "If I was guilty as hell of stealing or killing, he'd be my first choice as a lawyer."

Mr. Foreman, whose large frame contradicts a puckish grin, reached international renown in two cases recently. In his brief involvement in the appeal of the first-degree murder charge against Jack Ruby, convicted of killing Lee Harvey Oswald, the man accused of killing President John Kennedy; and the successful defense of Candace Mossler and her nephew, Melvin Lane Powers, in the stabbing death of her multimillionaire husband, Jacques Mossler.

In the Mossler case, jurors later said that the state never came close to a conviction, although 20 months and a fortune went into its preparation.

In that case, Foreman successfully involved a man named Fred Roy Weissel, 29, who the police had earlier cleared. Mr. Weissel was never charged, however.

The Foreman record and the Foreman workload are famous among his fellow attorneys. He handles about 40 cases a week. In 1958, a friend counted 778 accused murderers among his clients. Of these, one was executed and 52 were sentenced to jail. The other 705 were acquitted.

Since then, the Houston lawyer estimates, he has "defended 250 to 300 murder cases. There was only one conviction. The man got life."

Mr. Foreman lives in a $500,000 home with his wife, Marguerita, and his daughter, Marguerita Jr., and the fees he charges have become a subject of almost as much discussion as the kind of law he practices.

He has been known to voice the "what the traffic will bear" theory of fee assessment. From the Mossler case, he may have come into the largest criminal case fee of all time. Because of her acquittal, Mrs. Mossler became heiress to her banker husband's 33-million-dollar estate. Foreman says he hasn't collected what he understood was to be the fee, and he is preparing to sue for 11 million dollars.

"Considering that she would have got nothing at all if she were found guilty," he drawls in his East Texas voice, "I think my services were worth a third of what she did get."

Often fees come in the form of what amounts to a barter system. "I prefer cash," he says cheerily, "but if a client hasn't got any, I'll take anything of value that he does have—excepting his home, if he's a married man."

The result is that the attorney has amassed a fortune in what were once the jewels of families whose members have run into difficulties, hundreds of home appliances, some choice pieces of real estate and 30 automobiles which, he says, his law practice doesn't allow him time to drive.

The colorful attorney has been acquitted on charges of adultery, operating a policy racket and using abusive language. He has paid fines for letting weeds grow too high on his property, and he paid 22 parking tickets at once, getting 105 dismissed.

Foreman was once beaten by the widow of a man whose accused slayer he freed. Another time, he was struck by the purse of a woman whose husband he represented in a divorce action.

"In such cases, what was once love turns to hate and they can't hate themselves so they hate the lawyer," Foreman said.

Percy Foreman To Ask A Delay

Foreman Hired

Judge Battle Is Expected To Grant Time To Study Case

By ROBERT KELLETT

Famed Texas criminal lawyer Percy Foreman was named by James Earl Ray yesterday to replace former Birmingham mayor Arthur Hanes Sr. as his chief counsel in his defense against charges of killing Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.

Mr. Foreman met with Ray and two of his brothers about six hours before the change of attorneys was announced at a 10 p.m. news conference. He said he would seek a delay of the trial before Criminal Court Judge W. Preston Battle at 9:30 a.m. tomorrow.

It was indicated that Judge Battle probably would grant the request.

Sheriff William N. Morris Jr. called the late evening press conference. He said he was told, after Ray met with Mr. Foreman, that "certain decisions were made" and that he was given a letter written to Mr. Hanes by Ray.

"It was declared an intent by James Earl Ray to dispense with the legal services of Mr. Hanes and his son (co-counsel Arthur Hanes Jr.) and of an intention to obtain new counsel and a Tennessee lawyer," the sheriff said.

Meeting with newsmen in a light rain after the announcement, Mr. Hanes said, "I was prepared to go to trial Tuesday morning. I did not come to Memphis for the ride. I came for a ball game."

He said he first learned that he was being dismissed at "about 8:20" last night when he got a telephone call from Sheriff Morris. He said he later talked to Mr. Foreman by phone but would not say what part he would play in assisting the change of attorneys.

Asked if he might fight the move, he replied: "I won't do that. I never want a reluctant client."

The change followed indications that Mr. Hanes had at one time considered withdrawing from the case and that Ray might be unhappy with his attorney's handling of the case or with articles written in Look magazine by Alabama author William Bradford Huie.

Part of the conflict appeared earlier when Ray talked with J. B. Stoner, an Augusta, Ga., lawyer, in September, supposedly at the instigation of the two Ray brothers. Mr. Stoner is known as an organizer for the National States Rights party and the Georgia Ku Klux Klan.

Mr. Hanes said at the time he would withdraw if Mr. Stoner became involved in the case. In his appearance with newsmen last night, Mr. Hanes reasserted what he had said as late as last Friday—that he had not met or had any conversations with any members of the Ray family other than the accused man.

Asked if he was disappointed by the announcement from Ray, Mr. Hanes said, "I've been on this case for a long time — since June 13 and there's going to be some court action Tuesday. We'll have some comment then."

Mr. Foreman — who has represented such clients as Jack Ruby and Candace Mossler — did not appear at the news conference and would not answer calls from newsmen at a downtown hotel where he and John and Jerry Ray were believed staying.

It was not revealed who would be the Tennessee attorney to join Mr. Foreman in the defense.

It was John Ray, a St. Louis tavern operator, who is believed to have first suggested retaining Mr. Foreman in a letter he wrote to "R. G. Snyd" — the name James Earl Ray used while fighting extradition from London.

Mr. Hanes already had been chosen as Ray's counsel. In a letter replying to his brother, Ray said: "You mention Percy Foreman. He is a good attorney but I will wait until I get back as I want some attorneys who can work together, so I will let Hanes decide on someone he thinks would be best."

There was no immediate indication what financial arrangements had been agreed on for Mr. Foreman's participation. A fee for Mr. Hanes had been arranged from $30,000 already advanced, with other payments later for the information Ray supplied for Huie's articles and a book that is to follow.

Court observers speculated that if a delay is granted, the trial probably would not be rescheduled until early next year. Mr. Foreman, it was theorized, would probably not ask for anything less than a 30-day postponement. Such a delay would cause the trial to run through the holiday season if it were begun in early December.

Other preparations for the trial continued.

The 100 block of Washington was closed to traffic last night. Guards resumed their vigils in the four small guard houses at the four corners of the Shelby County Jail — as they did when Ray was first brought from London to Memphis.

Charles Holmes, handling public relations for the Sheriff's Department during the trial, said that of 105 newsmen cleared to enter the courtroom when the trial begins, 80 had checked in with the Sheriff's Department yesterday.

Final preparations also were being made for facilities for accredited news media members. The facilities are being arranged by the Memphis Area Chamber of Commerce on the 10th floor of the State Office Building.

Arthur Hanes Sr. (with son): "I did not come to Memphis just for the ride. I came for a ball game. I was ready to go to trial, but I'm not going to fight this."

Fair Trial Vs. Public's Right To Know

By RICHARD SPONG
Editorial Research Reports Writer

"FREE SPEECH and fair trial," Supreme Court Justice Hugo L. Black wrote almost three decades ago, "are two of the most cherished policies in our civilization, and it would be a trying task to choose between them."

James Earl Ray, charged with the murder of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., goes on trial in Memphis tomorrow. The trial of Sirhan Bishara Sirhan, accused in the assassination of Senator Robert F. Kennedy, now is scheduled for Dec. 9 in Los Angeles.

These two trials will show this press-justice dilemma in its most dramatic light.

Judge W. Preston Battle on Sept. 6 refused to quash an indictment charging James Earl Ray with Dr. King's murder. The defense had argued that Ray could not get a fair trial in Memphis because of widespread publicity after the King slaying.

THE UNITED STATES SUPREME COURT time and again has been forced to ~~make the~~ choice between free speech and fair trial. In the landmark Sheppard case in 1966 the Supreme Court voiced new concern over sensational trial and pre-trial publicity.

The American Bar Association in Chicago last February formally adopted the recommendations of the Reardon Committee, a panel of distinguished judges and lawyers. The committee recommended that court and police officials withhold from news media "potentially prejudicial" information.

The report called on lawyers, judges and police officials to restrict their comments on pending criminal cases and to curtail release of information about them. It recommended contempt of court action against those who make statements prejudicial to a defendant in a willful attempt to affect the outcome of a trial.

Judge Battle has cited Ray's attorney, a private detective, and two Memphis newspapermen for contempt of court for allegedly damaging pre-trial publicity in the Ray case. On Oct. 24 he named a Federal Bureau of Investigation agent as a probable violator of the ban.

Similar controversy marks the pre-trial atmosphere in Los Angeles. The county district attorney on Oct. 24 filed an appeal asking the court to nullify a state order restricting official comments in the Sirhan case.

THE REARDON COMMITTEE rules pretty much worked against the swift administration of justice in the recent "Budville Case" in West Central New Mexico (see editorial in The Commercial Appeal, Oct. 22). Court-ordered secrecy and astonishingly coincidental circumstances led to the arrest for murder of a young Navy petty officer on leave.

So long as the charge was lodged against him, the serviceman for 18 days faced the threat of execution in the gas chamber, while another suspect went free. Prof. Tony Hillerman of the University of New Mexico's journalism department observes: "In the Budville case it's obvious the Reardon rules did not accomplish their intended effect—the protection of the defendant. Indications of (the arrested man's) guilt leaked. Evidence of his innocence did not."

Security Pulled Tighter For Ray Trial

By ANGUS McEACHRAN

Further restrictions against the press and public in the murder trial of James Earl Ray were confirmed yesterday.

Sheriff William N. Morris Jr. said the 35 seats assigned in the courtroom for the public would not be available until after the jury was selected.

Sheriff Morris said the seats would be needed to seat veniremen waiting to be questioned for jury service. Selection of the jury, which begins with the opening of the trial Tuesday morning, is expected to take about a week.

Once the public seats become available they will be allocated on a first-come, first-serve basis.

"Anyone wishing to attend the trial will have to come early and bring plenty of identification which can be quickly checked by our office," Sheriff Morris said. "We will take steps to screen out those persons we feel could try to create an incident in the courtroom."

The sheriff's office will also take steps to screen out any reporters who stand in line for general public seats.

"We are doing this at the court's direction, but it is an order I concur in," the sheriff said. "There is a precedent for this sort of thing."

Some newsmen, especially those representing large metropolitan dailies which did not

...ive allocated seats in the ...courtroom contend they have a right to be considered as part of the general public. To prohibit them from standing in line for seats would be denying their rights as private citizens, they contend.

Judge W. Preston Battle, who will preside over the trial, said yesterday there was no precedent for the number of seats which must be allocated the public.

"But it is a matter that was widely criticized in the (Dr. Sam) Sheppard (murder) case, where almost all the seats were given over to the press. I am of the opinion that at least half of the seats should be available to the public."

Reporters have been assigned 42 seats.

The sheriff's office meanwhile was working to refine security arrangements which The New York Times called "perhaps the strictest . . . in American trial history.

Every person entering the Courthouse during the trial will go through at least two security checks, including being searched, before being admitted to the courtroom.

Reporters, lawyers and court personnel have been fingerprinted and photographed. Before entering the courtroom, all persons, including spectators will have their voices recorded and analyzed to prevent an imposter from getting near Ray.

Even Judge Battle and Sheriff Morris will undergo the security clearance each day.

Memphis authorities are determined that Ray, accused of killing Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., shall not meet the fate of Lee Harvey Oswald, accused in the assassination of President Kennedy. Oswald was shot and killed in Dallas by Jack Ruby before Oswald could be brought to trial.

"I think we are as ready as we'll ever be," said Sheriff Morris. "We'll spend all day Monday going through a shakedown, but I think we are ready."

State To Ask Death Penalty For Ray

The state will ask the electric chair for James Earl Ray, charged with killing Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., it was learned yesterday.

Ray, who was captured in London June 8 after a 1.5-million-dollar search, will go on trial before Criminal Court Judge W. Preston Battle Tuesday.

No convicted person has been put to death in Tennessee since 1960 and nobody convicted in Shelby County has suffered the death penalty since 1949, but Tennessee law provides for electrocution if the jury prescribes it.

Death sentences were made more difficult to obtain when the United States Supreme Court recently ruled that a citizen may not be excluded from a jury because he says he would not vote for the death penalty. Since then the Shelby County attorney general's staff has asked veniremen only if they are willing to find a verdict in keeping with Tennessee law — which provides for the death penalty.

Tennessee law permits the death penalty only if the crime is premeditated. Legal authorities say the circumstances of Dr. King's murder show that, whoever committed it, it was premeditated.

Dr. King was shot to death on the balcony of the Lorraine Motel on Mulberry Street on the evening of April 4.

A 30-caliber deer rifle bought in Birmingham March 29 and found abandoned near the front door of a South Main Street rooming house overlooking the Lorraine Motel is said by the attorney general's office to be the murder weapon.

George Bonebrake, a senior fingerprint specialist of the FBI, has stated the gun bears Ray's fingerprints. Whether fragments of the fatal bullet taken from Dr. King's neck can be traced to this gun appears problematical.

Arthur Hanes Sr., Ray's attorney, examined the fragments and decided not to test-fire the rifle, as a court order permitted him to do. Some observers infer that Mr. Hanes, a former FBI agent, considered the fragments ballistically untraceable to the gun.

In another development Judge Battle yesterday denied the habeas corpus petition of Hubert James Putt, a mental patient at the United States prison hospital at Springfield, Mo., seeking to be brought here to testify in the Ray trial.

In a handwritten letter, Putt, whose home is in Nashville, claimed he had information to solve not only the murder of Dr. King but also those of President John F. Kennedy, Senator Robert F. Kennedy, and Albert Anatasia of the Murder, Inc., ring in New York and New Jersey.

24 Policemen Bolster Sheriff's Force

Twenty-four policemen yesterday were assigned to aid Sheriff W. N. Morris Jr. during the trial of James Earl Ray next week.

Asst. Police Chief Bill Price said the men will work under orders from the sheriff. Fourteen policemen previously were assigned to aid in guarding Ray and such key witnesses as Charlie Stephens.

Police Chief Henry Lux said the 38 men will be involved in "different aspects" of the trial's security. He said the 24 assigned yesterday include a lieutenant, 17 patrolmen and 6 detectives.

Judge Outlines Trial Procedure

Six-Day Week Agenda Set For Ray Murder Case, With Six-Hour Days

By CHARLES EDMUNDSON

The trial of James Earl Ray, accused of killing Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., will run six days a week and a minimum of six hours a day, Criminal Court Judge W. Preston Battle said last night.

Trials usually run Monday through Friday.

"Jurors who are going to be locked up seven days a week for several weeks running might not like it if the judge and the attorneys held to a five-day week," Judge Battle observed.

Trial hours will run from 9:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. and from 2 to 5 p.m. in the beginning, Judge Battle said. If the trial shows signs of running too close to Christmas the closing hour will be set back to 6 p.m.

"Before we do anything the first day, we will have a new venire called," Judge Battle said. "The fall term veniremen won't want to start a new trial running as long as this one."

But 100 veniremen from the old list will be examined Tuesday for service in the Ray trial. The 100 includes five women, of whom two are Negroes. By Tennessee law a woman venireman is excused from duty if she wishes, but a woman sometimes elects to serve.

The jury dormitory in the Criminal Court Building provides quarters for men only. If a woman juror is chosen, she is put up, under escort of a woman deputy sheriff, at a hotel.

Two of Ray's family, brothers John and Jerry Ray of St. Louis, will attend the trial, it was learned. Ray's father, who is reported living as a semi-recluse at New London, in northeast Missouri, will not attend.

Members of Dr. King's family will meet with officers of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference in Atlanta this morning to decide who of the family and of SCLC will attend. Seats have been reserved for members of both groups.

Nine out-of-town reporters, vanguard of about 250 expected, arrived yesterday.

They were shown Judge Battle's courtroom, where stiff, uncomfortable benches have been replaced with well-cushioned theater-type seats. They were also shown the jury dormitory, on the first floor of the building, which has been completely refurnished.

Private cubicles, finished in walnut veneer, have replaced the rows of cots which formerly lined the wall. A new dark green rug covers the floor. New orange counterpanes cover the beds.

In the living room new crimson drapes, a light green rug and a handsome billiard table have been installed.

The British attorney Michael Eugene, who represented Ray in the extradition hearings in London after his arrest in June at an airport there, arrived in New York late yesterday en route to Memphis.

In his briefcase was a record of the extradition proceedings, which he will deliver to Ray's chief counsel, Arthur Hanes Sr. "Yes, I've formed an opinion as to Ray's guilt or innocence," Mr. Eugene said. "But I mean to keep it to myself."

Cast Fits Well In Ray Trial Drama

If TV movie director Gail Patrick, born Margaret Fitzpatrick in Birmingham, were picking a cast for her former Perry Mason TV series, she could hardly do better than the list of principals chance has cast up for the trial of James Earl Ray, charged with killing Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.

In the center of the stage on the second floor at the Courthouse — as the trial opens Tuesday — will be Criminal Court Judge W. Preston Battle, who looks, thinks and acts like a judge. He is short in stature, w i d e - b e a m e d, firm-chinned and soft-spoken, but with a presence that effortlessly dominates the courtroom.

Defense attorneys may complain in private that Judge Battle, a former assistant attorney general, is still something of a prosecutor. But universally liked or not, the judge never leaves any doubt as to who is in charge. When he knits his brow and protrudes his lower lip — his characteristic gesture of authority — everybody snaps to attention. "Judge Battle has a MacArthurian sense of his own dignity," one lawyer has remarked.

He hardly needs the black robe, the raised platform, the oak gavel, the flanking state and national flags or gravel-voiced bailiffs to guarantee his authority.

James Earl Ray, the 40-year-old escaped convict and defendant in this case, is himself by no means lacking in "amour propre." He may have been a two-bit con most of his life but nobody who has seen him in the courtroom here can doubt that, innocent or guilty, he feels that at last his search for a personal identity has been rewarded.

new clothes bought ... by his ..., a former mayor of ...mingham, Ray appears self-contented. Formerly a fugitive from prison, he is now at least a footnote to history.

His off-black hair oiled and combed, his tie adjusted, his poker-pale face plumped out by four months of starchy jail food, he will sit almost beaming behind his attorneys at the counsel table, visibly jealous if he is restrained from taking the witness stand.

Arthur J. Hanes Sr., ex-mayor and ex-president of the school board in Birmingham, describes himself as "a pretty fair country lawyer." But he may prove considerably better than that. He has a strain of flamboyance, which he will try to hold in check, and a biting wit, as he showed when he termed Judge Battle's amici curiae committee on pretrial publicity "Harper Valley PTA hypocrites."

Mr. Hanes and Martin Luther King were personal foes in the early 1960s when Dr. King was leading protest marches in Birmingham. Hanes' defense of the man charged with shooting Dr. King is in a sense a continuation of the enmity of that time. Mr. Hanes said of Dr. King then, "He should be put out of circulation because if any group, organization or person can divide a country, then it is wrong and should be stopped."

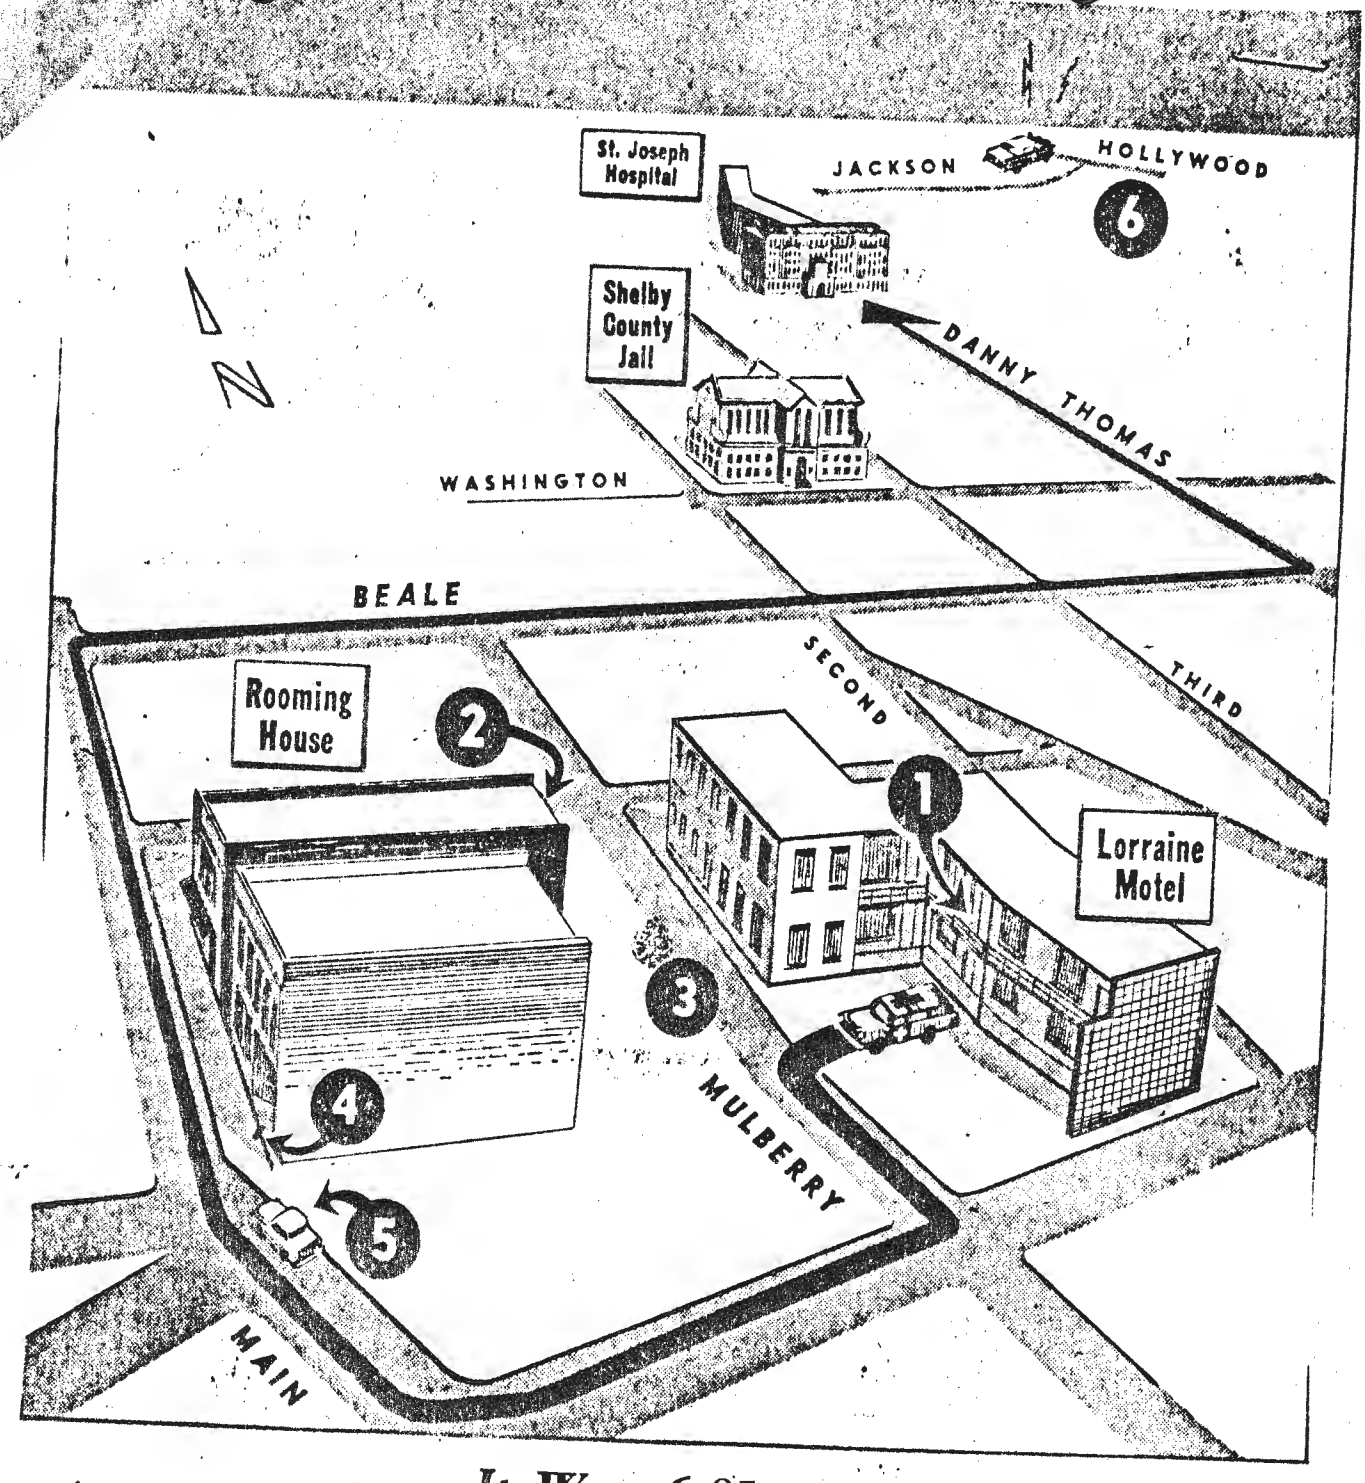
Unlike many attorneys coming into a new city, Mr. Hanes will not associate himself with a local attorney. His only aid will be his son, Arthur Jr., a blond 26-year-old Princeton Law School graduate, who sometimes frowns on his father's courtroom demarches.

The father-and-son defense team will sit at the right end of a long mahogany counsel table, separated from the judge's dais only by the court reporter's desk. At the left end of the table, just in front of the witness stand, raised on the judge's right, will be stationed the prosecutors.

For the first time in seven and a half years, Atty. Gen. Phil M. Canale, 50 years old but with scarcely a wrinkle or touch of gray, will direct a trial in person. He is expected to leave most of the cross-questioning and speaking to two assistants. But he is known for keen mind and sharp intuition and will call the plays.

Executive Asst. Atty. Gen. Robert K. Dwyer, who will examine most of the witnesses and do most of the speaking, appears mild enough in repose, but can become a scourge of righteousness in action.

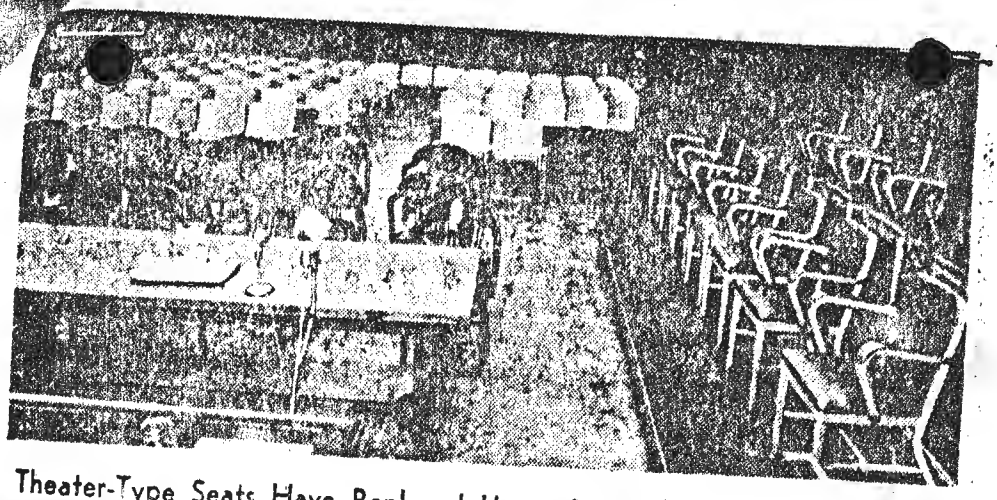
Asst. Atty. Gen. James C. Beasley, who will occupy the third chair set aside for the prosecution, looks exactly what he is—a talented, serious-minded lawyer, who can be depended to plumb any conundrum of criminal law and come up with any answer.



The jury will probably, but not necessarily, be all male and probably will include Negroes. About a third of the veniremen from whom the jury is to be struck will be Negroes. Most criminal court juries have from two to eight Negroes, depending on chance and the bent of opposing counsel in using up their peremptory challenges.

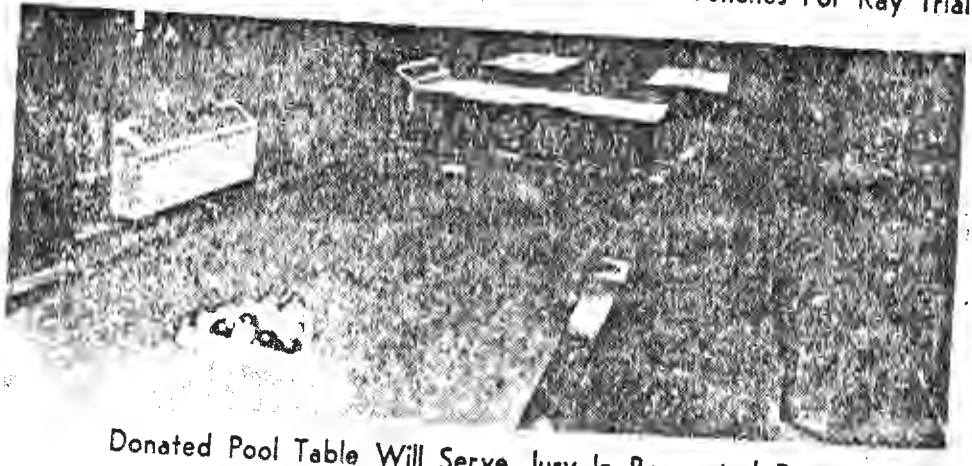
Occupying a reserved seat back of the chancel rail will be an uncle of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., the Rev. Joel Lawrence King of Mansfield, Ohio, who will be the only King family representative. In Atlanta Dr. Martin Luther King Sr. said yesterday that neither he nor Mrs. Coretta King, widow of the slain man, will attend.

Also in reserved seats, but separated from relatives and friends of Dr. King, will be John and Jerry Ray of St. Louis, brothers of the defendant.

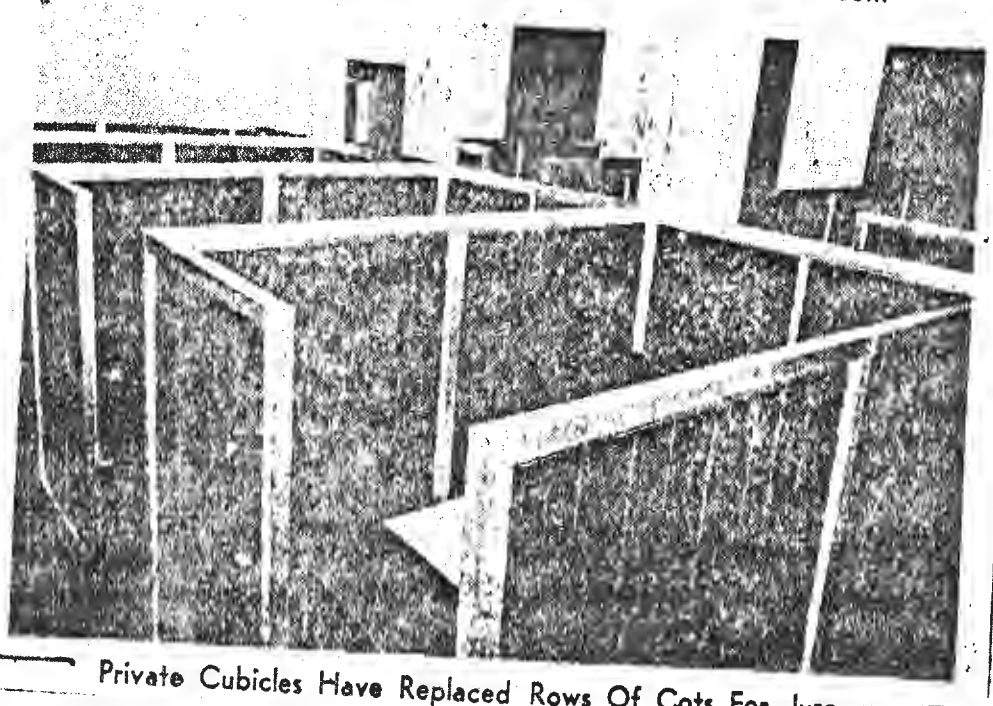


While the real jury of 12, with one alternate, sit in the jury box, a surrogate jury of reporters serving news media in all parts of the world will occupy 42 seats outside the chancel rail. If they do not form opinion, they transmit the reports on which public and world opinion will be based.

Although only 42 seats have been rationed to the press, they will be used at one time or another by an estimated 250 reporters. Their dispatches or broadcasts will help the world decide whether justice in the United States is administered "without regard to race, color or creed," as is engraved on many courthouse walls.



It Was 6:01 p.m.



When the trial of James Earl Ray, accused in the assassination of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., begins Tuesday these places will be referred to innumerable times: (1) The balcony of the Lorraine Motel where Dr. King was shot at 6:01 p.m., April 4. (2) The rooming house at 422½ South Main, where the man charged with murder stayed and from where the prosecution will contend that the shot that killed Dr. King was fired. (3) A thicket from which at least one witness says he saw a man running with something white over his face. (4) Canipe Amusement Co., the spot where a 30.06 rifle with telescopic sight was recovered. (5) The spot where witnesses say they saw a man speed off in a white Mustang. (6) The area where a supposed chase took place between a white Mustang and a blue Pontiac. Two other important places round out the map, St. Joseph Hospital where Dr. King was pronounced dead and Shelby County Jail, where James Earl Ray waits for the trial to begin.

Trial Reporters Face Tough Going

The eyes and ears of the world will focus on a small second floor courtroom of the Criminal Courts building starting Tuesday.

But it will have to be word pictures for the most part from the biggest aggregation of news reporters ever gathered in Memphis — to cover the trial of James Earl Ray, charged with the April 4 assassination of Dr. Martin Luther King, Negro civil rights leader.

There will be no pictures permitted, not only in Judge Preston Battle's courtroom, but also in the block on which the Criminal Court Building is located — from Second to Third, and Poplar to Washington.

PICTURES

Photographers will be permitted to take pictures of persons entering and leaving the building from the south side of Washington across the street from the building. Washington will be closed to traffic between Second and Third by order of Sheriff William Morris, who has charge of protecting Ray.

Busiest man in connection with the trial will be Charles Holmes, borrowed from Memphis State University to serve as press officer for the trial.

His telephone in an office on the same floor as the courtroom keeps ringing, with calls from London, Washington, New York and elsewhere. Newsmen keep coming in to make certain they are properly certified. It is difficult to get a few minutes conversation with the obliging and friendly Holmes, a former reporter.

SMALL

The small courtroom will have 38 seats reserved for reporters and four rotating seats for reporters who were too late to qualify for reserved seats, making 42 press seats in all.

Holmes said once reporters are in they will have to remain and there will be no swapping of seats except at the noon recess. Holmes said the occasional brief recesses, will not give enough time to permit a substitute to go through the intricate security precautions.

Most of the reporters for foreign news agencies are coming from New York or Washington, but four will come from London and two from France.

EDITOR

Ralph McGill, noted editor and columnist from Atlanta has already arrived. McGill will share his seat with Celestine Sibley, an Atlanta Constitution reporter.

Richard Starnes, a veteran of reporting, including the entry of James Meredith to Ole Miss and many other civil rights cases, will represent Scripps-Howard Newspapers. There's also a seat for a Press-Scimitar reporter.

Gerold Frank of Doubleday and Co., who wrote the book, "The Boston Strangler," has a seat.

There will be a Press Room in Room 126 of the County Office Building and transcripts of the trial testimony will be available every hour, Holmes said.

LOSES

Hubert James Putt, a mentally ill federal prisoner who claimed to have inside information on the assassination of Dr. Martin Luther King, lost a legal bid to become a witness in the trial.

Judge Battle dismissed a habeas corpus petition mailed by Putt from the Federal Medical Center in Springfield, Mo.

In the petition, handwritten in pencil on white tablet paper, Putt claimed he was "inadvertently involved in the assassination of John Fitzgerald Kennedy and knew the very day that Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. and

He said the trial hours will be 9:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m., and 2-5 p.m. in the beginning. If it appears the trial will extend too close to Christmas, Judge Battle said the closing hour will be set at 6 p.m.

Silent Ray Spends 6 Minutes in Court

By CLARK PORTEOUS
Press-Scimitar Staff Writer

Six minutes in the life of James Earl Ray:

He was led into the courtroom at 10:52 a.m. by two Sheriff's deputies and sat behind Hugh Stanton, 72, chief public defender who is aiding in the defense and handling it while Ray's chief counsel, Percy Foreman, is ill.

Ray looked neat. He was wearing the same dark blue suit with a check design of the same color that he has worn in previous court appearances. He had on a white shirt and solid blue tie. He looked rather pale, which is understandable as he has been in custody since June 8 when he was arrested in London. He has been in Shelby County jail since July 19.

When Ray was being sought as a suspect the FBI reported he had a nervous habit of pulling on his left ear lobe. During the six minutes he was in court he did not touch his ear.

Graying a bit at the temples and in the back, his dark hair was neatly trimmed. He stood with others in the court when Judge Preston Battle entered immediately after his own entry.

Then Ray sat quietly looking at the Judge, who did most of the talking, and listened intently. After a couple of minutes he put his right arm on the arm of his chair and his hand on his thigh. He pulled his feet up under the chair and sat motionless except for an occasional slight motion of his head.

Once he glanced at Stanton.

When court recessed, Stanton leaned over and told Ray he was going to call Foreman and tell him of the judge's instructions (to proceed with the case for trial March 3 if humanly possible) and that he would see Ray after talking with Foreman.

Ray barely nodded, indicating he understood — but didn't say a word.

He was led out of the courtroom at 10:58. He hadn't said a word. All he has said in previous appearances was "yes, sir" a couple of times — a total of four words.

Judge Gives Order

Stanton Readied In Ray Defense

By ROY B. HAMILTON
Press-Scimitar Staff Writer

Public defender Hugh Stanton Sr. today was ordered to be ready to assume full responsibility for the defense of James Earl Ray, if for any reason, Percy Foreman has to withdraw as counsel.

The instructions were issued by Criminal Court Judge W. Preston Battle during a six-minute hearing attended by Ray.

In issuing the order, Battle repeated his earlier assertion that he wanted the Ray trial to begin as scheduled on March 3 "if humanly possible."

Foreman has been ill with influenza and pneumonia in Houston and sent word he was unable to come to Memphis. Battle had asked the Texas attorney and Stanton to give him a progress report on their trial preparations.

CLEAR ORDER

Battle said he was sorry to hear about Foreman's illness but he made it clear he wanted no further delay in the trial, which has already been continued once.

Battle told Stanton that he wanted his office "to prepare this case in such a manner that if for any reason it becomes necessary your office could take full charge of his defense."

James A. Blackwell, Criminal Court clerk, was ordered to draw up a copy of the order and send it to Foreman. The judge asked for another progress report on Friday, Feb. 14.

Stanton, who had been appointed previously to assist Foreman, said his work on the case so far had convinced him there is still "work to be done."

NO ASSURANCE

Said Stanton: "We have accumulated quite a batch of evidence."

But he said he could not say "with assurance" the defense could be ready for trial by March 3.

Stanton, 72, a tall, white haired, distinguished looking man, has been practicing law in Memphis for 43 years and is regarded as elder statesman of local criminal lawyers. As head of the Public Defender's office, he was named by Battle as associate defense counsel when Foreman said Ray had no funds to help in his defense.

Ray, charged with murder in the assassination of Dr. Martin Luther King in Memphis last April, also has on his defense team Stanton's son, Hugh Stanton Jr.

The state was represented at the hearing by Atty. Gen. Phil Canale and his two trial assistants, Robert K. Dwyer and James Beasley.

Foreman Visits Doctor, May Miss Court Today

By JOHN MEANS

James Earl Ray's chief counsel went to a doctor yesterday in Houston, Texas, but no one seemed to know whether he is too sick to appear with his famous client in Judge Preston Battle's courtroom this morning.

Mrs. Percy Foreman would only say, "He went to the doctor's office this morning. I haven't heard from him."

Shelby County Public Defender Hugh Stanton, who is Mr. Foreman's co-counsel, said he understood his flamboyant colleague had contracted pneumonia during a bout with the flu. Mr. Foreman's illness was expected to leave Mr. Stanton alone to report to Judge Battle today on the progress of Ray's defense.

Mr. Foreman had been scheduled to appear with Ray today, to tell Judge Battle whether he needed another continuance to prepare his defense for the man accused of assassinating Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. last April 4.

Ray will appear in court, with or without Mr. Foreman, which means the maximum security procedures will go into effect around the Shelby County Jail and Criminal Courts Building again. The security measures are a rehearsal for the March 3 trial date, assuming no further delays are granted.

Judge Battle indicated at Mr. Foreman's last appearance in his courtroom that he would not look favorably on further requests for continuance.

The security measures were the subject of a meeting between Judge Battle, Sheriff William N. Morris Jr. and the sheriff's press officer, Charles Holmes, yesterday.

Sheriff Morris said the meeting resulted in a decision not to allow closed circuit television transmission from the courtroom, despite his report to Judge Battle on the Sirhan Sirhan trial in Los Angeles, where such a television system is in operation.

The sheriff said, however, "it's a good possibility" a system will be devised to allow photographs and filming of Ray away from the courthouse.

"It's pretty much yes" if the procedures can be worked out to satisfy the judge. Judge Battle said only: "It's still being discussed. I haven't agreed to it yet."

Spotlight On Ray Case Pales Beside Gaudy Garrison Style

By CHARLES EDMUNDSON

The legal profession is watching the contrast between the no-holds-barred, pre-trial conduct of principals in the New Orleans case against Clay Shaw, accused by Dist. Atty. Jim Garrison as a conspirator in the assassination of President John F. Kennedy, and the stringent guidelines laid down by the trial judge here in the upcoming trial of James Earl Ray, accused in the murder of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.

The feverish, two-year-long drive of Garrison to establish an entirely new theory of the assassination of President Kennedy may have foundered on the evidence of X-ray pictures of the late President's wounds.

Mr. Garrison's case has been built on the theory that Kennedy was shot by two, or possibly three, gunmen situated in front of and at a level below that of their victim. Four physicians of high repute now have studied 69 hitherto little-publicized X-ray photos of President Kennedy's wounds and found the shots were fired from above and slightly to the rear of the President's car.

The X-ray photos which have stopped Mr. Garrison—at least for the time being—were the subject of a report made public Thursday. The six-foot, six-inch Mr. Garrison promptly sent an assistant before General Sessions Judge Charles W. Halleck in Washington and asked access to the pictures.

Judge Halleck replied he would release the photographs to Mr. Garrison only if he were shown this was not "a fishing expedition, a frivolous attempt to obtain what certainly must be sensational X-ray pictures and material."

Mr. Garrison, known in New Orleans as the 'Jolly Green Giant,' impatiently has swept aside all previous contradictions exposed in his "evidence" by such reporters as those for The New York Times, The New Yorker magazine and the National Broadcasting Company.

The Commercial Appeal also has looked into Garrison's charges. Yesterday he accused United States Atty. Gen. Ramsey Clark of seeking to hide the truth about President Kennedy's murder. But New Orleans observers said there appeared to be reason to suspect he may welcome a chance to bring to an end his endlessly changing projection of a presidential murder plot which he has peopled, at one time or another, with 16 plotters.

The prime target of Mr. Garrison's charges, Mr. Shaw, a retired director of the International Trade Mart in New Orleans who has visited and spoken in Memphis, was to have gone on trial before Criminal District Court Judge Edward A. Haggerty Tuesday.

In view of the X-rays, Mr. Garrison will go into court at 10 a.m. tomorrow and ask that the trial be continued.

If the motion is denied, Mr. Garrison could drop the prosecution and withdraw from the glare of publicity he has basked in since November, 1966.

Some responsible New Orleans citizens would apparently approve. Their sentiments seem to have been summed up by Aaron M. Kohn, managing director of the Metropolitan New Orleans Crime Commission, who said, "Garrison never lets the responsibilities of being a prosecutor interfere with being a politician."

☐ Being Investigated

It is not entirely clear whether Mr. Garrison thinks Lee Harvey Oswald, the man generally considered President Kennedy's assassin, fired one or more of the fatal shots. Among a long array of hypotheses, Mr. Garrison has on occasion assumed the existence of a "second Lee Harvey Oswald," without fully distinguishing between the role of the No. 1 and No. 2 claimants to the name.

Many of his principal plotters are drawn from New Orleans' populous and bizarre underworld. Some of his "witnesses" have been ex-convicts, homosexuals, narcotics addicts and former mental patients.

New Orleans may well be drawing unflattering comparisons between Mr. Garrison's performance and the manner the Shelby County Criminal Court and district attorney's office are preparing for the trial of Ray.

While Judge Haggerty has imposed no limits on Mr. Garrison s television appearances and cross-country personal appearances, Judge W. Preston Battle has limited pretrial publicity in the Ray case by forbidding interviews from being given by law officers and the attorney general's staff. While Mr. Garrison has welcomed the tales of hangers-on who always appear in the wake of a sensational murder, here Atty. Gen. Phil M. Canale has stuck to the responsible evidence and kept much of that to himself pending the trial.

On Judge Battle's attempt to stop the press from printing the news developments in the Ray case, opinion is more mixed. In a long article in The New Yorker, Edward J. Epstein notes that it is the press and TV that have stood in the way of Mr. Garrison's attempt to convict Mr. Shaw even before the trial opens.

Former King Aide Volunteers To Serve As Counsel For Ray

By ANGUS McEACHRAN

James Earl Ray reportedly was sent a telegram last night from a former aide of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. offering to take over Ray's defense.

It was sent to Ray, charged with the April 4 murder of Dr. King, at the Shelby County Jail by the Rev. James L. Bevel, a Southern Christian Leadership Conference director.

The text of the telegram, according to sources, read:

"I would like to inform you that I would be very happy to take your case without fee. I was present at the Lorraine Hotel when Dr. King was killed. You have been charged with murdering him. Of course, I know that you are not guilty."

The telegram was also said to have contained added details of where the Rev. Mr. Bevel could be reached in Philadelphia.

Sheriff William N. Morris Jr. confirmed last night that Ray had received a telegram but declined to reveal the contents and the name of the sender.

In Philadelphia, a woman who identified herself as an aide to the Rev. Mr. Bevel told The Commercial Appeal such a telegram had been sent but all details would have to come from the minister.

"Reverend Bevel is in a meeting in the city right now and it is impossible to reach him," said Miss Beverly Sterner. "I can only say that a telegram has gone to James Earl Ray offering assistance."

Miss Sterner was reached at the residence of the Rev. Mr. Bevel.

There was no answer at the Rev. Mr. Bevel's home early today.

The latest strange development in a case which has been overlaid with mystery and strange developments, started to unfold early yesterday afternoon when Reuters, a British wire service, received a telephone call at its New York office saying the telegram had been sent.

In Atlanta, headquarters for the SCLC, a high-ranking spokesman told The Commercial Appeal the Rev. Mr. Bevel "has been under a lot of pressure lately. Since Dr. King's death, he has gone into a deep depression, and if he sent that telegram he is speaking for himself."

In SCLC, the Rev. Mr. Bevel is known as somewhat of a mystic. With his balding top and full beard he has the appearance of a monk.

An ordained minister, he does not have a law degree and therefore there is little likelihood he could represent Ray in court. The trial is scheduled to begin March 3.

Observers close to SCLC said Dr. King relied on the Rev. Mr. Bevel to keep him in touch with the young and most militant Negroes because he could speak their language.

In last year's Poor People's March to Washington, the SCLC director was sent to Memphis to recruit young marchers. But he reportedly created so much dissention in Negro ranks when he tried to persuade youths to leave school before final examinations that he was replaced by other SCLC staff members from Atlanta.

He was sent later to Philadelphia as director of non-violent education.

Bevel Declines To Divulge His 'Evidence' In Ray Case

By P. H. BREESE

The Rev. James L. Bevel, a ranking figure in the Southern Christian Leadership Conference, declined yesterday to elaborate on evidence he claims could free James Earl Ray, accused in the murder of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.

The Rev. Mr. Bevel, 32-year-old director of the SCLC's nonviolent and direct action program, sent a telegram Saturday to Ray in the Shelby County Jail which, according to sources, read:

"I would like to inform you that I would be very happy to take your case without fee. I was present at the Lorraine Hotel when Dr. King was killed. You have been charged with murdering him. Of course, I know that you are not guilty."

"I have evidence that, if presented to a jury, would free him (Ray)," the Rev. Mr. Bevel said.

But in a telephone conversation at his home in Philadelphia yesterday, the balding minister told The Commercial Appeal, "I have many reasons for wanting to defend Mr. Ray, but to discuss the evidence at this point would be to his disadvantage."

The Rev. Mr. Bevel said that he did not know or care what Ray's attorney, famed Texas lawyer Percy Foreman, thought of his offer. "If Mr. Ray wants me to defend him I will. I don't know what Mr. Foreman will do."

Mr. Foreman, in bed with pneumonia at his home in Houston, was not available for comment.

"I am confident that Mr. Ray would not be found guilty on the basis of evidence I now have," the Rev. Mr. Bevel said.

Shelby County Public Defender Hugh Stanton declined to comment on the Bevel statement.

There is little possibility the minister, who was born at Itta Bena, Miss., could ever represent Ray in court. He does not have a law degree.

When asked his legal qualifications, the Rev. Mr. Bevel said, "Well, I've been arrested 25 times." He added that he had represented himself in court appearances.

Court Turns Down Reporters' Appeal

Review Of Contempt Ruling Is Refused

From The Commercial Appeal
Nashville Bureau

NASHVILLE, Jan. 20. —The Tennessee Supreme Court Monday refused to review the case of two Memphis newspaper reporters cited for contempt for violating court orders on pretrial publicity in the James Earl Ray murder case.

The high court gave no reason for denying a petition for a writ of certiroari, which if granted would have opened the way for a Supreme Court review of the contempt citation.

On Sept. 30, Criminal Court Judge Preston Battle ruled the reporters — Charles Edmundson of The Commercial Appeal and Roy Hamilton of the Memphis Press-Scimitar — and two other men were in contempt of court.

He did not impose sentence on any of the men pending their "future actions" despite a request by attorneys for Memphis Publishing Co., that sentence be handed down promptly so the case might be appealed.

Others cited by Judge Battle were Arthur Hanes, then an attorney for Ray, and Renfro Hays, a private investigator who worked for Mr. Hanes. Ray is accused of the sniper slaying of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.

In November, the newsmen through their attorney petitioned Court of Criminal Appeals Judge Mark Walker of Covington to review the contempt citation. Judge Walker denied the petition, saying in effect that a contempt citation is not final until punishment is imposed and that the appeal was premature.

69 in connection with a local armed robbery charge, volunteered on 1/14/68 he was previously confined in Missouri State Penitentiary Jefferson City, Missouri, at the same time an inmate -- he declined to name -- was a guest of the State of Missouri. The unidentified inmate, according to [redacted] was very friendly with JAMES EARL RAY, accused killer of MARTIN LUTHER KING. During time [redacted] and the unidentified convict were in MSP, [redacted] was able to learn from this convict that RAY had planned an escape for some time and confided to the convict that RAY had made arrangements for lots of money after the escape and inferred he would get it in return for killing KING. [redacted] acknowledged he had no first hand information concerning the threats of RAY or his plan for escape. He was hesitant to identify his convict friend in MSP claiming he feared for his life if an Agent approached the convict with the allegation [redacted] had put the "con" on the spot.

KSP No. [redacted]

I interviewed Morton, an inmate of this institution on Tuesday, December 31, 1968 (p.m.). [redacted] interview consisted of information concerning the killing of Martin Luther King by suspect (Missouri Penitentiary Escapee, Ray). [redacted] states to me that he has received his information from numerous conversations he has had with an unnamed inmate of this institution. This inmate X was a friend of Ray's in Jefferson City Penitentiary, as good a friend as Ray had. (As my informant understands Ray did not have many close friends). This inmate X was supposed to have been separated from Ray in the Missouri Penitentiary yard several times by a Custodial Lieutenant by the name of Holt who is now employed at the United States Penitentiary at Leavenworth as Custodial Officer. As inmate X stated, Ray had an escape record and so did he from Illinois and the institution watched them. My informant stated that Ray stated to inmate X he was figuring on trying to escape and inmate X agreed to go with him. Their play was to saw the bars in I Building basement and some way go through to a water main or sewer outside the walls and during the process of making arrangment, inmate X wanted to know what they were going to do after they got out, where they were going to get money and hole up. Ray didn't tell him at first and later on he told inmate X that they wouldn't have to worry about a thing especially money as they would have a world of money and would be taken care of. Then I understand Ray told inmate X that he was going to kill Martin Luther King and everything was taken care of. Upon learning this, inmate X stated he did not want anything to do with this and then backed out escaping with Ray. Although Ray did not use the method that they were going to use. Inmate X is fairly certain he knows how he escaped. My informant stated that the bars in the basement of I Building are supposed to be cut and water or sewer line is supposed to run along the outside wall, also, a circle band saw blade was supposed to be stolen and that was what was used to saw the bars of basement of I Building. Ray's brother came to visit him just about a week before he escaped. These were just some points to check to see how much truth in the story. My informant stated he would talk to a FBI Agent but doesn't want to be drawn into the deal but will talk to an agent under the pretext of something to do with his federal time, legal action in court or anything to throw off suspicion and wants any information that might point to inmate X to show up from in-

Re Kansas City airtel dated 1-22-69.

Referenced communication incorporated an interview with one [redacted] who is incarcerated at the Kansas State Penitentiary. [redacted] advised that a person who he refuses to identify allegedly has information concerning James Earl Ray and the killing of Martin Luther King, Jr.

When the Agents "bluntly" asked [redacted] what he wanted for information which he possesses, he indicated that he desired the Agents' intercede with the local Judge on the local charge against him. [redacted] was then advised that his proposal would be brought to the Agents' supervisor's attention and if additional facts were desired, [redacted] would be recontacted.

It is incumbent upon you to insure that [redacted] fully understands that the FBI cannot be a bargaining agent between him and any tribunal nor can the FBI act as an intermediary between [redacted] and any other individual in such a matter as this. The Bureau should not be put in a position for any individual to be able to state at a later date that such a proposal was taken under consideration by the Bureau.

You should keep the Bureau fully advised of contacts made with Warden Crouse regarding his further interviews with inmate [redacted]

NOTE:

Warden Crouse of the Kansas State Penitentiary furnished us the results of an interview with inmate [redacted] The interview of [redacted] by the warden in essence states that [redacted] has information regarding James Earl Ray which he received from an individual whom he refuses to identify.

Our Agents interviewed [redacted] and he again refused to divulge the identity of the person furnishing him information and indicated to our Agents that he would consider divulging the necessary information if consideration was given for leniency or a reduced sentence on the charge that he was currently incarcerated for. The Agents advised that they would bring this information to their supervisor's attention.

The purpose of this communication is to instruct Kansas City to insure that the Bureau is not to be put in a position of being a bargaining agent and to leave no doubt in [redacted] mind that we cannot intercede in the sentence that he is serving.

Reverend James Bevel, an official of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, appeared on a television program in Philadelphia on January 19, 1969, and stated he has evidence that James Earl Ray did not kill Martin Luther King, Jr. He refused to divulge the evidence to the television interviewer, but said he had offered to defend Ray in court although he was not a licensed attorney.

Reverend James Bevel was interviewed at his residence in Philadelphia on January 21, 1969. He stated he was extremely busy as he had appointments through 11 p. m. He stated that he had proof of the innocence of James Earl Ray and since the FBI was the prosecutor and he was involved with the defense, he felt he should not furnish the information. It was pointed out to him that the FBI did not prosecute anyone but always made every effort to obtain all facts available in matters of investigative interest to this Bureau. He stated he sent a telegram to Ray on Saturday, January 18, 1969, and as yet had received no answer. He stated he plans to call Percy Foreman, attorney for Ray, and offer his services. He stated he would contact our Agents and advise if Mr. Foreman has accepted his offer. Reverend James Bevel stated if Mr. Foreman does not accept his offer, he plans to drop the entire matter as he feels he has no moral obligation toward James Earl Ray to produce his evidence of Ray's innocence if his offer of help is refused.

REC- 24

Reverend James Bevel stated he was at the Lorraine Motel, Memphis, Tennessee, on the ground underneath the balcony at the time Martin Luther King, Jr. was shot. When contacted in April of 1968, he refused to be interviewed.

NOTE:

Article appearing the "The Washington Post" on 1-29-69, in part states that the head of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC) Reverend Ralph David Abernathy inferred that a conspiracy exists in the Martin Luther King, Jr. assassination. According to the information coming from the press conference, Abernathy claims that Negro leaders in Memphis believe that persons other than James Earl Ray were aware of the plan to kill Martin Luther King, Jr. The article further states that Abernathy said the information was second-hand and he could not vouch for its validity.

We are instructing Atlanta (Headquarters of SCLC) to interview Abernathy for details of information and to completely resolve. We previously interviewed Abernathy in Memphis, Tennessee, in April of 1968, and at that time he did not indicate that a conspiracy existed.

CONFIDENTIAL

Date 1/23/69

Reverend JAMES BEVEL was interviewed for ten minutes at his residence. He stated he was extremely busy as he had appointments through 11:00 p.m. that day. While the interview was in progress, a woman asked BEVEL if he could speak to a member of the press. BEVEL told her to tell the person on the telephone he was tied up until 11:00 p.m.

BEVEL stated he had proof of the innocence of JAMES EARL RAY in connection with the murder of his good friend Reverend MARTIN LUTHER KING. BEVEL referred to KING as one of his closest and dearest friends. BEVEL stated that since the FBI was connected with the prosecution and he was involved with the defense, he felt he should not furnish this information.

It was pointed out to BEVEL that the FBI is an investigative agency and does not prosecute anyone. It was also pointed out to BEVEL that the FBI is as interested in proving a person's innocence as proving a person's guilt. BEVEL was advised the FBI was interested in obtaining and proving all facts possible during any investigation.

BEVEL stated he sent a telegram to RAY on Saturday, January 18, 1969, and as of the date of the interview, he had received no answer to his telegram. BEVEL stated in connection with this he planned to call PERCY FOREMAN, Attorney for RAY on the night of January 21, 1969, and offer his services in connection with RAY's defense.

BEVEL stated he would telephone the contacting agents on January 22, 1969, and advise if FOREMAN accepted his offer. BEVEL stated if FOREMAN does not accept his offer to aid the defense, he, BEVEL, plans to drop the entire matter as he feels he has no moral obligation towards RAY to produce his evidence of RAY's innocence if his offer of help is refused.

It was pointed out to BEVEL that if he had evidence of RAY's innocence, it should be brought to the attention of the court. BEVEL again stated he would do so only if he was allowed to be part of RAY's defense.

BEVEL stated that at the time MARTIN LUTHER KING

REVEREND JAMES BEVEL - VICTIM

Character: POSSIBLE EXTORTION

Synopsis: Telegram sent by CEDRIC MOORE to Director, FBI, President RICHARD M. NIXON, Philadelphia Police Department Commissioner FRANK RIZZO, and Philadelphia Mayor JAMES H. J. TATE stating that someone was going to kill the Reverend JAMES E. BEVEL, Southern Christian Leadership Conference official in Philadelphia, because of BEVEL's statements that JAMES EARL RAY was innocent in the murder of Dr. MARTIN LUTHER KING, JR., Southern Christian Leadership Conference President. MOORE and BEVEL interviewed regarding threat and telegrams, and both stated [redacted] not further identified, told them at Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC) Headquarters on January 20 or 21, 1969, about the people he had heard stating they would burn down the building in which BEVEL resides, and also that a "contract was out" on BEVEL. No letter through mail, interstate telephone calls, or telegrams involved in threat. United States Attorney declined.

DETAILS: This case is predicated on a telegram received by the FBI on January 23, 1969, from CEDRIC MOORE, Assistant Non-Violent Education, Southern Christian Leadership Conference, Philadelphia, Pa. The telegram states, "I am informing you that a serious threat is being made on Rev. JAMES BEVEL life concerning his defense of JAMES EARL RAY."

Date January 31, 1969

CEDRIC MOORE, currently residing at [redacted] Southern Christian Leadership Conference Headquarters of Philadelphia, was interviewed regarding a telegram he sent to J. EDGAR HOOVER, President NIXON, Philadelphia Police Commissioner RIZZO, and Philadelphia Mayor JAMES H. J. TATE, stating a serious threat was being made on the life of Reverend JAMES BEVEL concerning his defense of JAMES EARL RAY.

MOORE stated he is not familiar with many Philadelphia people as he just came to Philadelphia from Memphis. He has been in Philadelphia for a little over one week.

MOORE stated that on either January 20 or 21, 1969, an individual named [redacted] who occasionally visits Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC) Headquarters, stated that a group of "cats" were incensed at BEVEL's statements that JAMES EARL RAY, alleged killer of MARTIN LUTHER KING, JR., was innocent. [redacted] stated these "cats" made the statement they would burn the building down in which BEVEL resides.

MOORE could not identify [redacted] further, nor could he furnish [redacted] residence address or telephone number.

MOORE also advised that on either January 20 or 21, 1969, while walking past a room at [redacted] he heard someone say, "BEVEL should be careful." He could not identify the person who spoke nor could he identify anyone else in the room.

Date January 29, 1969

On January 29, 1969, the Reverend JAMES BEVEL, Philadelphia Branch, Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC), was interviewed regarding the threats made to his life by an unknown group of individuals after BEVEL sent a telegram to JAMES EARL RAY proclaiming RAY innocent of the killing of Dr. MARTIN LUTHER KING, JR.

BEVEL said that on either Monday or Tuesday, January 20 or 21, 1969, an individual known to him only as [redacted] of Philadelphia, Pa., who has drifted in and out of the Philadelphia SCLC Office, was in the building, and told BEVEL that since BEVEL had sent the telegram to RAY, that some "cats" in Philadelphia were mad at BEVEL's telegram. [redacted] did not describe where he heard these people talking, who they were, or when it was said, but the "cats" were talking about blowing up the SCLC building in which BEVEL lived and that a "contract" (to kill) was out for BEVEL. BEVEL said there was no mention made of a telegram, interstate telephone call, or a communication through the mail. It was all oral.

BEVEL again said that he had information and evidence that would prove RAY had not killed KING, but he said he would not divulge this information unless he was allowed to defend RAY in court. He did say that RAY had a psychomotor defect that would preclude RAY shooting a rifle accurately.

He also said that he was not concerned about the threats made against him by disgruntled "brothers" because he had lived with threats since 1961, when he had joined KING and the SCLC.

JAMES EARL RAY;
DR. MARTIN LUTHER KING, JR. - VICTIM

Philadelphia news media on January 19, 1969, carried information that the Reverend JAMES BEVEL, Southern Christian Leadership Council of Philadelphia, Pa., sent a telegram to JAMES EARL RAY stating RAY did not kill Dr. MARTIN LUTHER KING and BEVEL, who was present at KING's death, offered to testify in RAY's behalf.

On January 19, 1969, BEVEL appeared on WCAU-TV, Philadelphia, special news program during the half-time of the National Football League All-Star Game, stating that he had evidence that JAMES EARL RAY did not kill MARTIN LUTHER KING, JR. BEVEL refused to divulge his evidentiary information but offered to defend RAY in court though he (BEVEL) was not a licensed attorney, but was learned in the law and had had much experience in defending cases in the courts. BEVEL said he analized all the facts and concluded RAY was not guilty.

BEVEL said he was speaking for his friends in SCLC including the Reverend RALPH ABERNATHY.

The television interview said that an unnamed official of the SCLC in Atlanta, Ga., had told WCAU-TV that BEVEL has been under pressure and was speaking for himself, not SCLC.

The following is a verbatim tape transcription of the KYW Television news, 11 p.m., January 19, 1969:

Eleven o'clock report in color with BERT ROSELL and the eyewitness news team.

ROSELL: Good evening. There is a bizarre twist of events today in the case of JAMES EARL RAY. RAY is accused of killing Dr. MARTIN LUTHER KING, JR., and goes on trial in Memphis, Tenn., March 3. The Reverend JAMES BEVEL is Director of Non-violent

ENCLOSURE

Education and Direction Action for the Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC). He was with KING when the civil rights leader was gunned down. BEVEL says that RAY is innocent and has offered to serve as RAY's attorney, free of charge. I talked to BEVEL this afternoon at his Philadelphia headquarters.

ROSELL: Reverend, how do you know that he is not guilty?

BEVEL: Well, in terms of gathering evidence, being present, studying the whole problem of men being murdered, how it is done, from all the logical conclusion and evidence that I have gathered my conclusion, based on the knowledge, in terms we built it to experience, knowledge to the sense that the five senses and even the sixth sense, my conclusion is that JAMES EARL RAY did not kill Dr. KING.

ROSELL: What evidence do you have to support your conclusions that JAMES EARL RAY is innocent?

BEVEL: Well, I would not like to get into my evidence and my information in terms of that because if he asks me to take the case, and I don't know whether he will or not, for me to give that information now would not be to his advantage.

ROSELL: Why have you held back this long in offering your services and proclaiming the innocence of JAMES EARL RAY?

BEVEL: Well, I don't know, probably because I have never (pause) I was involved in developing as I am now, because I was in a movement here in Philadelphia and I just haven't thought in terms of offering this free kind of service to him. When I started thinking about this particular predicament, then I thought about.....

JAMES EARL RAY;
DR. MARTIN LUTHER KING, JR. - VICTIM

The following is an interview of Reverend JAMES BEVEL by JAY SILVA, over television station WCAU, Philadelphia. This is the local CBS affiliate. The announcer was RON MILLER. The person interviewing BEVEL was JAY SILVA.

MILLER: Reverend JAMES BEVEL of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC) says he will keep the evidence he has which he says would prove that JAMES EARL RAY did not assassinate Dr. MARTIN LUTHER KING, if RAY does not accept BEVEL's offer of legal representation. Reverend BEVEL sent a telegram to RAY yesterday offering to represent him in court without a fee. The telegram added, "I was present on April 4th at the Lorraine Motel when Dr. KING died. You have been accused of murdering him; of course, I know you aren't guilty." Today, newsman JAY SILVA asked Reverend BEVEL about the proof he says he has concerning RAY's innocence.

BEVEL: Number one, based on the evidence that I have in terms of the incident that took place and based on the opinion of all of my friends, I don't have a friend that I know that thinks that he did it. I thought (inaudible) that the man is not guilty and have come to my conclusions, and based on my evidence.

SILVA: What specifically is the evidence that leads you to this conclusion?

BEVEL: At this time, I don't want to tell about that because if I was going to defend him, you see, then I would have to present that information to the jury. So, I would not go into the details of my evidence at this time because I would have to deal with that with the jury.

SILVA: You say that you have specific evidence that shows JAMES EARL RAY was not the man who murdered MARTIN LUTHER KING.

BEVEL: Mhm.

SILVA: Then, do you have any idea who did, that shows JAMES EARL RAY was not the man who murdered MARTIN LUTHER KING?

BEVEL: Mhm.

SILVA: Well then, do you have any idea who did?

BEVEL: Now, I am not a district attorney. It is the responsibility of the district attorney to find out who killed people. And it is the responsibility of the defense attorney to prove that a particular person is not guilty. So that, in the way the courts work, it is never the responsibility of the defense attorney to prove who did kill someone. It is his job to defend the person who has been accused, that they are not guilty.

SILVA: You said you would defend JAMES EARL RAY without any fee. Are you a lawyer?

BEVEL: No, I am not a licensed lawyer. I have handled cases in court for the last few years. I have been in court quite a bit and I have handled most of my cases. The other thing is that I do know the law.

SILVA: The one thing that intrigues is, why have you held back this information for so long?

BEVEL: Well, number one, I hadn't thought about offering him my services. Now, the reason I, like I said, when you bind information together then you can come to conclusions. The first I said, he is not guilty. The next thing I said, he needs a good lawyer. He needs the best lawyer that the country can afford. And, of course, that means a lawyer who has knowledge enough in that situation and who knows the law. He needs a lawyer that can convince the jury that he is not guilty. And that's why I offered him my services, because I was interested in his having the best possible lawyer with the maximum amount of knowledge in law to defend him before the jury, because the jury and the country pretty much has resigned the motion that the man is guilty and they are just waiting to have a lynching party with him, you know. It is very difficult at this point considering the emotional attachment to Dr. KING that most people had, to have a fair trial.

SILVA: Do you speak for yourself on this issue?

BEVEL: For my friends? Ah, yes, my friends, RUTH BASCOMBE, BEVERLY ERIC, REVEREND SHEPPARD, DU BRADY, REVEREND ABERNATHY, MRS. ABERNATHY, MRS. KING, ANDY YOUNG.

SILVA: Do you say Reverend ABERNATHY agrees with you? You said your friends come to the same conclusion as you have.

BEVEL: I don't have any friends who ever told me that EARL RAY was guilty.

SILVA: So, inasfar as you know, Reverend ABERNATHY agrees with you.

BEVEL: Certainly, in terms of his position on him and I just talked to BERNARD LOVIER who is our Program Director and I pointed out that if RAY would give me the case, he would help me to do a lot of the research and defend him.

MILLER: In Atlanta, Georgia, a spokesman for the Southern Christian Leadership Conference said he, Reverend BEVEL, has been under a lot of pressure recently. Since Dr. KING's death he has gone into a deep depression and if he sent the telegram, he is speaking for himself.

It is noted that Ray contacted Mr. Colvin in June of 1968, and requested assistance in joining an army of white mercenaries.

Mr. Dwyer did not have the opportunity to interview Mr. Colvin during Dwyer's stay in London (October 20, 21, 1968) when he interviewed other witnesses in this matter.

Mr. Dwyer further requested that Mr. Colvin be interviewed regarding his willingness to come to Memphis, Tennessee, to testify in Ray's trial beginning on or about March 3, 1969.

You should make the appropriate arrangements to have Colvin interviewed in accordance with the above request. Expedite.

NOTE:

This is the case involving the murder of Martin Luther King, Jr.

The office of the State Attorney General, Shelby County, Memphis, Tennessee, is prosecuting the state's case against James Earl Ray. This case is scheduled for trial in Memphis, on March 3, 1969. In preparation of the state's trial Mr. Robert K. Dwyer, Executive Assistant to the State Attorney General, requests that Mr. Ian Colvin, a reporter for the "Daily Telegraph," London, England, be re-interviewed concerning the contact with him by Ray, and Colvin's willingness to come to Memphis to testify at the trial.

SAC, Memphis, has advised that Mr. Dwyer did not have the opportunity to interview Mr. Colvin and he would desire to determine if Mr. Colvin can recall any additional conversation he had with Ray beyond that previously furnished by Colvin to New Scotland Yard authorities.

Legat, London, is being instructed to make appropriate arrangements to have Colvin interviewed in accordance with request of Memphis authorities.

E., Atlanta, Georgia, telephonically advised with regards to his statement to the press, which was quoted in "The Washington Post" newspaper, Washington, D. C., on January 29, 1969, that what he told the press was that he believed in view of the assassiantions of President JOHN F. KENNEDY, ROBERT F. KENNEDY, MEDGAR EVERS and MARTIN LUTHER KING, JR., there would be an indication to him that there may be a conspiracy among the forces of evil to do away with any young militant who stands for righteousness. Rev. ABERNATHY advised that he has no specific information or other evidence that a conspiracy exists with respect to the specific assassination of Dr. KING. He advised that the statement made to the press on January 29, 1969, in which he referred to a conspiracy concerned the assassination of all of the above-mentioned persons. In regard to those assassinations he made it clear he has no evidence indicating a conspiracy and it is only his belief or fear on his part that such a conspiracy does exist. He stated he has no idea what individuals or forces would be involved in such a conspiracy.

Rev. ABERNATHY advised that several months ago Rev. JAMES LAWSON, Minister of the Centenary Methodist Church at Memphis, Tennessee, told him, Rev. ABERNATHY, that it was Rev. LAWSON's understanding that the day before the assassination of Dr. KING, two Negro firemen, who had been assigned to the fire station across the street from the motel where Dr. KING was killed, were moved to another fire station. According to Rev. LAWSON that move left the fire station unmanned and they were moved to a station which was already fully manned and equipped. Also according to Rev. LAWSON, a Negro policeman, who worked the beat which included the motel where Dr. KING was killed, was moved off of that beat t h e d a y Dr. KING was killed, April 4, 1968, but prior to the killing.

than on special occasions and that from a review of the Memphis PD records he ascertained that there were no Memphis police officers assigned to a "walking beat" in Memphis on the day Dr. KING was killed.

In this regard it is believed that Reverend LAWSON was referring to Detective E. E. REDDITT, Memphis PD, who was removed from a lookout position at engine house #2 of the Memphis Fire Department on 4/4/68 due to the fact a number of threats had been made on REDDITT's life as a result of REDDITT's activities in attending meetings of the striking sanitation workers in Memphis in February and March, 1968. REDDITT was removed from this fire house and two officers of the Memphis PD were assigned at that time to protect REDDITT and members of REDDITT's family.

In view of the above, the Memphis Division does not anticipate interviewing Reverend JAMES LAWSON concerning the information LAWSON furnished to ABERNATHY.

Review of this matter discloses that Legat, Mexico, received information that Nogro males from a cruise ship "Italia" sailing from the Los Angeles, California, area and docking at Puerto Vallarta, Mexico, on or about 10-29-67, were involved in an altercation with James Earl Ray while Ray was drinking in a cafe with a Mexican prostitute.

This information was provided to Mr. Phil M. Canale, Jr. State Attorney General, Shelby County, Memphis, Tennessee, who is prosecuting the state's case against James Earl Ray. Mr. Canale indicated that it would be helpful in his case if the crew members from the cruise ship "Italia" could be located and interviewed, as this would possibly establish Ray's prior anti-Negro sentiments.

Los Angeles ascertained that the "Princess Italia" did not arrive at Puerto Vallarta until 12-19-67, and it was further determined that other cruise ships sailing from the Los Angeles area did not stop at Puerto Vallarta during the pertinent period of the altercation.

In view of tho fact that Los Angeles conducted extensive investigation to determine identity of any ship that was docked at Puerto Vallarta with negative results; it is possible that the Negro crew members could have beer from a yacht or private boat, and in view of the time that the altercation took place, it does not seem feasible that further investigation should be conducted in this matter.

NOTE:

The prosecuting authorities for the state's case against James Earl Ray have requested that we ascertain the identity of the Negro males allegedly involved in the incident with James Earl Ray while Ray was drinking in a cafe with a Mexican prostitute in Puerto Vallarta. This is for the purpose of possibly establishing Ray's prior anti-Negro sentiments. According to Legat, Mexico, it was believed that the Negroes were from the cruise ship "Italia," however, our Los Angeles Office has been unable to locate any vessel sailing from that area that docked at Puerto Vallarta on or about 10-29-67.

Memphis is being advised that it would not be feasible to conduct any further investigation to identify the Negro members from the cruise ships docking in Puerto Vallarta.

SUBJECT: MURKIN

This is the case involving the murder of Martin Luther King, Jr.

An article appeared in the "Parade" magazine (the magazine contained in various Sunday newspapers in the country) to the effect that two prominent New Orleans businessmen reportedly contributed $25,000 to intermediaries to arrange for James Earl Ray to murder Martin Luther King, Jr. We do not have any information to this same effect.

The magazine lists the Editor-at-Large as Lloyd Shearer and the office of "Parade" magazine is listed at 733 Third Avenue, New York, New York.

Bureau indicies indicate that Bureau has had cordial relations with "Parade" magazine although its Washington Bureau is held at arms length since it is staffed by Jack Anderson and Fred Blumenthal. The president of "Parade" magazine, Arthur H. Motley, is on the Special Correspondents list

REC 49 5535

Bureau records further indicate that Lloyd Shearer has requested on two occasions to be placed on the mailing list to receive the FBI Law Enforcement Bulletin, and on each instance, this was denied. In 1947, Shearer was interviewed by a Special Agent in connection with an investigation. In the preliminary conversation, Shearer stated that the Director of the FBI was a "SOB." The Agent asked Shearer for an explanation of the comment and he backed down somewhat and he explained that this was a typical phrase used in his position writing stories for the screen. He also contacted the Bureau regarding the Bureau's cooperation in furnishing material for articles that he was writing, and again he was advised that the Bureau could not cooperate in this matter.

[redacted]

Our files contain no information concerning Shearer beyond September of 1963.

RE: UNKNOWN SUBJECT;

INFORMATION CONCERNING

On January 25, 1969, the Federal Bureau of Investigation, Washington, D. C., received a telegram from R. M. Gaines, [redacted] Nashville, Tennessee, which stated "Discrimination against black people of Nashville by telephone operators and Busby's Motors of Nashville."

At 7:10 A.M. on January 28, 1969, R. M. Gaines, 2006 Arena Place, Nashville, Tennessee, telephonically contacted the Federal Bureau of Investigation at Washington, D. C., and stated he was investigating the death of Dr. Martin Luther King. He stated he had evidence and photographs to support his conclusion that King had not been killed by a white man. Gaines said he could be located at 1056 College Street, Memphis, Tennessee. He said he is employed by the Mahalia Jackson Chicken System, 705 South Parkway East, Memphis, Tennessee.

On January 28, 1969, Mr. Harold Jones, Executive Vice-President, Mahalia Jackson Chicken System, Memphis, Tennessee, advised that Robert Gaines has been employed by that company since about August, 1968. [redacted]

44-1987-551

RE: UNKNOWN SUBJECT;
Telephone Operators, Etc.

On January 28, 1969, Gaines was located at 1056 College Street, Memphis, by a Special Agent of the FBI. Gaines was found holding a half empty bottle of whiskey and gave every indication of being highly intoxicated. He was sufficiently coherent to deny having any evidence concerning the murder of Dr. Martin Luther King.

Records of Central State Hospital, Nashville, Tennessee, reflect that Robert Gaines entered that hospital on October 24, 1966, having been brought to the hospital by Nashville Police after he had fired a gun through the roof of his home. He was diagnosed as having an acute schizophrenic reaction, paranoid type, and he was found to be suffering from chronic alcoholism. He was granted a thirty day furlough from the hospital on January 6, 1968, but never returned to the hospital.

This document contains neither recommendations nor conclusions of the FBI. It is the property of the FBI and is loaned to your agency; it and its contents are not to be distributed outside your agency.

RE LOS ANGELES PHONE CALL TO NEW ORLEANS FEBRUARY FIVE INSTANT.

DAVE LARSEN, LOS ANGELES TIMES REPORTER, ADVISED FEBRUARY FIVE INSTANT THAT DURING APRIL SIX EIGHT WHEN SEARCH WAS BEING MADE TO IDENTIFY AND LOCATE JAMES EARL RAY, HE INTERVIEWED CHARLES STEIN, RE HIS ASSOCIATION WITH RAY. STEIN ATTEMPTED TO SELL FOR ABOUT TWO THOUSAND DOLLARS TO LARSEN AND FELLOW REPORTER JERRY COHEN, A PIECE OF PAPER WHICH STEIN STATED BORE RAY'S HANDWRITING. PAPER WAS SLIP USED IN MOTELS TO RECORD MESSAGES FOR GUEST WHEN AWAY FROM ROOM.

STEIN ALLEGEDLY CAME INTO POSSESSION OF PAPER WHEN RAY, DURING TRIP TO NEW ORLEANS FROM LOS ANGELES IN DECEMBER ONE NINE SIX SEVEN, GAVE STEIN PHONE NUMBER IN NEW ORLEANS ~~WHERE~~ HE COULD BE CONTACTED RE RETURN TO LOS ANGELES.

RAY WROTE THE PHONE NUMBER FOUR EIGHT TWO DASH FIVE SEVEN FIVE ONE AND GAVE IT TO STEIN. ON THE REVERSE SIDE WAS A HANDWRITTEN MESSAGE "CALL GREYHOUND BUS STATION". LARSEN STATED HE IMITATED THE HANDWRITING AND COMPARED IT TO COPY OF RAY'S HANDWRITING HE LOCATED AT THE INTERNATIONAL DANCE SCHOOL, LONG BEACH. FROM OBSERVATION, LARSEN BELIEVES HANDWRITING TO BE IDENTICAL TO RAY'S. STEIN ADVISED LARSEN HE DID NOT WANT TO GIVE PAPER TO AUTHORITIES SINCE HE DID NOT WANT TO GET INVOLVED AND IF LARSEN DID NOT BUY IT HE WOULD DESTROY IT.

LARSEN STATED HE MADE CALL TO FOUR EIGHT TWO DASH FIVE SEVEN FIVE ONE WHICH WAS THE NUMBER OF THE LOUISANA STATE POLICE BARRACKS IN NEW ORLEANS. HE STATED HE DID NOT FEEL RAY WOULD BE ASSOCIATING WITH ANYONE AT THE STATE POLICE BARRACKS AND WANTED NO MORE OF IT.

COHEN IS PRESENTLY IN NEW ORLEANS TO COVER THE CLAY SHAW TRIAL. COHEN DETERMINED THAT THERE IS A STATE TROOPER RAUL V. ESQUIBEL ASSIGNED TO THIS BARRACKS.

LARSEN STATED HE RECALLS IN READING WILLIAM BRADFORD HUIE'S ACCOUNT OF RAY'S LIFE IN "LOOK MAGAZINE", THAT RAY

HAD MADE A RENDEZVOUS WITH A RAUL AT A GREYHOUND BUS STATION AND THOUGHT THE FOREGOING MAYBE OF SIGNIFICANCE.

LOS ANGELES WILL ATTEMPT TO LOCATED CHARLES STEIN TO DETERMINE IF HE STILL HAS PAPER IN HIS POSSESSION.

NEW ORLEANS SHOULD DETERMINE CORRECT SUBSCRIBER TO PHONE NUMBER AND IDENTIFY RAUL V. ESQUIBEL. NEW ORLEANS SHOULD COMPARE THIS PHONE NUMBER WITH PHONE NUMBER OF MOTEL WHERE RAY STAYED IN NEW ORLEANS IN DECEMBER ONE NINE SIX SEVEN, TO DETERMINE IF NUMBERS HAVE ANY SIMILARITY.

Information has come to the Bureau's attention that James Earl Ray claims to have committed an armed robbery of a food store in Montreal during his visit in 1967, and robbed another food store in Montreal after the King assassination.

It is noted that it has been established that Ray was in Montreal, Canada, from July 17, 1967, through approximately August 17, 1967. It is also noted that according to the Bureau's information, Ray arrived in Toronto, Canada, on April 8, 1968, and departed Toronto, Canada, en route to London on May 6, 1968. His daily whereabouts from April 8, 1968, to May 6, 1968, has not been fully established.

Legat, Ottawa should provide this information to the Royal Canadian Mounted Police (RCMP) and determine if any unsolved armed robberies of food stores exist during these pertinent periods in which Ray could be the subject.

[redacted] Oceanside, California, telephonically contacted the Oceanside Resident Agency on 2/4/69, stating she wished to furnish some information in the strictest confidence. [redacted] advised she knew that JAMES EARL RAY had been on a boat that went to Catalina Island on March 20, 1967, as she had seen his picture in LIFE Magazine and recognized it as a man she had seen on the boat.

[redacted] was contacted in person 2/7/69 at which time she related that in March, 1967, she, her son, and a sister-in-law, [redacted] Corona, California, had traveled from San Pedro to Catalina Island on the steamship which is advertised as the "Great White Steamship to Catalina." As best she could recall, the date was 3/20/67, which was over a year before KING was killed.

On the way to Catalina Island, she noticed a man wearing a brown suit that looked as if he had slept in it, a bow tie (dark in color), and a brown hat and white shirt. He was tanned as if he had been in the sun.

On the way back from the Catalina Island, she was sitting on the second deck and observed this same man walking and weaving and appearing drunk. Several of the people in the area where she was sitting remarked about the man and a young girl remarked that an officer on the ship had told the girl that the man did not get off the ship at Catalina.

During the return voyage, a band was playing and there was dancing. This man approached [redacted] and remarked that the two of them could possibly show the

After the ship docked back at San Pedro, [redacted] noticed the man get into a white 1966 Mustang with a black interior and a black strip on the door. She recalled his car as she had looked at that type before she herself purchased another style of a 1966 Mustang.

When she read the Life Magazine article regarding RAY in 1968, [redacted] realized that the man she had seen on the boat over a year before was RAY, and she realized that he had been in possession of a white 1966 Mustang prior to the time the newspapers and magazines stated he did.

[redacted] explained she has had medical problems since 1965 and was taking codene at the time of the boat trip; however, this did not impare her memory of the events. After the trip, she was in the hospital for approximately six months and still takes pain medication to date. She stated she did not "want to get involved" and that is why she never made mention of this matter before now. [redacted] advised she is employed by the Pacific Telephone Company in Oceanside, and has recently moved to Oceanside for health reasons.

[redacted] stated she is certain the man she observed on the steamship in March, 1967, was RAY as she has seen the photographs of him in the news. The only reason she wanted to mention this matter to the FBI was that she wanted to get the information to the FBI that RAY went to Catalina and had a white Mustang in 1967 in the Los Angeles area. She could furnish no further information in this matter.

The above information is furnished for information purposes to the Bureau and office of origin. No further contact is contemplated with [redacted] at San Diego.

This is the case involving the murder of Martin Luther King, Jr.

The attached is the results of an interview of William Bradford Huie, author, conducted by Mr. Phil Canale, State Attorney General, Shelby County, who is prosecuting the case in state court. Huie is to appear before a Shelby County Grand Jury at Memphis today.

The attached also states that five petitions filed on behalf of Ray are to be argued before Judge Battle today. The petitions include authority to take depositions out of state (SAC Frank Hitt, Atlanta and Fingerprint examiner George Bonebrake listed), permission for Huie to confer with Ray, and permission to take photographs of Ray.

This is being closely followed. The investigation suggested by Memphis is being ordered.

SUBJECT: MURKIN

Enclosed for the Bureau are two copies each of five petitions which are to be argued 2/7/69 before Judge W. PRESTON BATTLE regarding instant matter.

On 2/5/69 State Attorney General PHIL CANALE, Shelby County, Tenn., advised that on 2/4/69 he and members of his staff conferred with WILLIAM BRADFORD HUIE in HUIE's hotel room at Memphis, Tenn. HUIE is to be served with a subpoena and is to appear before a Shelby County Grand Jury at Memphis on 2/7/69.

HUIE advised Mr. CANALE that he has no interest in JAMES EARL RAY whatsoever except as a businessman and as a citizen desirous of uncovering and exposing any possible co-conspirators. He said he desires to confer with RAY in hopes of having RAY plead guilty and then testifying against his co-conspirators as a witness for the prosecution. Mr. CANALE said that HUIE gives the impression that he is firmly convinced of RAY's guilt as the murderer of MARTIN LUTHER KING; however, HUIE seems to be genuinely persuaded that others were involved with RAY. Mr. CANALE noted that HUIE readily admits that he has no real evidence of a conspiracy and HUIE admits that he has caught RAY in a number of falsehoods. HUIE is convinced that RAY's story of going over the wall in his escape from the Missouri State Penitentiary is not true and RAY has admitted that the story he told HUIE about the armed robbery of a house of prostitution in Montreal is also a lie. RAY now admits that he committed an armed robbery of a food store in Montreal during a visit there in 1967, and he has told HUIE that he robbed another food store in Montreal after the murder and during his flight from Memphis to England. HUIE furnished no additional details and it is presumed that RAY furnished him no additional details regarding these robberies. HUIE advised Mr. CANALE that RAY came to Memphis on 4/3/68, stayed in a motel at Memphis that night, and on 4/4/68 purchased binoculars from a local store. HUIE admits that RAY rented a room in a rooming house and then brought the rifle which was later recovered to the rooming house. He said RAY claims to have been sitting in a white Mustang outside the rooming house when the fatal shot was fired. RAY has told HUIE that an unnamed individual ran out of the rooming house, jumped into the rear seat of the Mustang, pulled a sheet over his head, and RAY then fled the scene in the Mustang. HUIE admitted that RAY has told more than one story concerning the reason he rented the room in the rooming house, but HUIE leaves no doubt that he believes RAY pulled the trigger on the murder weapon.

HUIE stated that following the murder RAY drove to Birmingham, talked with an unnamed individual in Birmingham that same night, and then drove to Atlanta. From Atlanta he went to Gary, Indiana, where he met his brother, JERRY RAY. The subject then went to Toronto and from Toronto to Montreal where he stayed for about nine days prior to leaving for London.

HUIE volunteered the information that RAY had gone to Acapulco, Mexico, prior to the murder and while in Acapulco had made a call to unnamed person or persons at Corpus Christi, Texas. According to HUIE, Mexican police had later come to the hotel and had examined his registration card. HUIE also mentioned that the green bedspread abandoned with the rifle in Memphis had come from some place in California.

HUIE characterized RAY as an individual who is starved for public recognition. He said that RAY and his brothers are most disappointed that the public has not rallied to the subject's support. He said they and the subject had been convinced that GEORGE WALLACE would be successful in his bid for the presidency and they were much disappointed in the outcome of the national election.

While HUIE has furnished no positive information which would indicate a conspiracy, it is suggested that the Bureau request the Legat, Mexico, to conduct investigation in Acapulco in an effort to identify any telephone calls the subject might have made from there. It is also suggested that Legat, Canada, contact Montreal police to determine if they can identify the food store robberies in which subject was involved.

The Bureau will be promptly advised as to whether or not motions being made by the defense are granted.

Information has come to the Bureau's attention that James Earl Ray, while in Acapulco, Mexico, allegedly made a telephone call to Corpus Christi, Texas. It was also alleged that the Mexican police came to the hotel and had examined his registration card.

It is noted that investigation conducted by you established that Ray entered Mexico on October 7, 1967, at Nuevo Laredo and registered in Hotel San Francisco, Acapulco on October 10, 1967, as Eric S. Galt. According to the hotel manager, they were unable to locate the registration card on Ray and, therefore, a limited amount of information was obtained.

Legat, Mexico should contact the appropriate authorities to determine if such a telephone call was made and if the Mexican police examined the register.

NOTE:

William Bradford Huie, author, who has been writing series of articles concerning the life of James Earl Ray which appeared in "Look" magazine, was interviewed by Mr. Phil M. Canale, Jr., State Attorney General, Shelby County, Memphis, Tennessee. It was learned during this interview that Huie claims that Ray told him he made a telephone call in Acapulco, Mexico, to Corpus Christi, Texas. According to Huie, Ray also stated that the Mexican police came to the hotel and examined his registration card.

We previously knew that Ray registered at the Hotel San Francisco in Acapulco, however, they could only provide us limited information as the registration records were destroyed. We are requesting Legat Mexico, through proper authorities, to conduct the appropriate investigation.

This is the case involving the murder of Martin Luther King, Jr.

Based upon articles appearing in various newspapers in the United States and based upon information furnished to us, we have been conducting investigation to determine if a conspiracy exists in this case. We have received the results of investigation requested by us and have furnished the results to the Department, and in each instance asked the Department if they desired these reports furnished to Mr. Phil M. Canale, Jr., State Attorney General, Shelby County, Memphis, Tennessee, who is prosecuting the state's case. Our investigation thus far does not include any facts that would support the allegation that a conspiracy exists.

The Department by memorandum requests the listed reports be furnished Mr. Canale, and Memphis being instructed accordingly.

See attached memorandum from the Department captioned, "Assassination of Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr."

The Philadelphia letterhead memorandum dated 1-23-69, was classified confidential. In view of this, this matter was discussed with Mr. D. Robert Owen of the Department and he stated that in light of this, the information in this letterhead memorandum should be furnished to Mr. Canale orally.

This document contains neither recommendations nor conclusions of the FBI. It is the property of the FBI and is loaned to your agency; it and its contents are not to be distributed outside your agency.

Information set forth below covers investigation conducted at Acapulco, Guerrero, Mexico and Guadalajara, Jalisco, Mexico, pertaining to activities of captioned individual who, as ERIC S. GALT, visited Mexico during October and November, 1967.

AT ACAPULCO, GUERRERO

On November 11, 1968, a confidential source abroad advised that on that date LUIS LUNA DEL CASTILLO, Desk Clerk, Hotel San Francisco, 92 Miguel Aleman, made available records which showed that ERIC S. GALT registered at that hotel, alone, on October 10, 1967. He occupied Room 202 at the rate of 75 pesos ($6 U.S.) per day. He listed his nationality as "U.S." and his home address as "Alabama". LUIS LUNA stated that he had no recollection of this individual.

This same source advised that on November 11, 1968, Mrs. ROSARIO DEL CASTILLO, owner of Hotel San Francisco, stated that she had been in contact with the accountant for the hotel in an effort to locate the actual registration card for GALT. This card, she said, would list the guest's home address and the description of his automobile and would also bear his signature. She said the accountant was unable to locate the card and that it was believed to have been destroyed. Mrs. DEL CASTILLO also stated that she had spoken with several of the hotel employees and that none of them were able to recognize photographs of JAMES EARL RAY. She also made available her copy for October 10, 1967, of a report made daily to the Mexican Government, which lists subject's arrival on that date.

The source also advised on November 11, 1968, that a thorough review had been made of the hotel's guest list for October, 1967, and that there was no guest listed with the name of "RAOUL" or any similar name.

On November 21, 1968, a second confidential source abroad advised that efforts had been made to find a registration for ERIC S. GALT in other hotels and motels in Acapulco but that these efforts had been unsuccessful to date. This source pointed out that few hotels in Acapulco have an orderly method or system of record-keeping and that it is usually impossible to establish with certainty, from records, that a particular individual has been a guest in one of these hotels.

On December 11, 1968, the second source reported that hotels and motels in Acapulco are required to make daily reports to the Federal Office of Tourism listing their guests, as well as arrival and departure dates. An official of this office advised the source that a check had been made of all records available to him for the month of October, 1967, and that no listing was found for GALT or the other names used by him in the reports furnished by any hotel or motel for the month of October, 1967. This official acknowledged, however, that these reports were probably not complete for 1967, since the office had recently changed its location and there was still not room for all the files and records which should be maintained by this agency.

The source also advised on December 11, 1968, that inquiries had been made throughout the tourist zone of Acapulco and also in the houses of prostitution and that no one was located who could remember subject from his photographs.

AT GUADALAJARA, JALISCO

On November 13, 1968, a third confidential source abroad advised that records of the Pancho Villa Motel, Avenida Revolucion 1867, had been checked on that date. They showed that ERIC S. GALT registered there on October 15, 1967, alone, and occupied Room 3. He listed himself as a U.S. citizen with address 2608 Highland Avenue, Birmingham, Alabama, and his occupation as "employed by publisher". The source said that there was no time of departure shown in the records. GALT paid 40 pesos ($3.20 U.S.) for the room. The source also found a second registration card for "ERIC S. GOLT, 26-08 Highland Avenue, Birmingham, Alabama" showing a registration on October 18, 1967. Again, there was no departure date shown for this registration.

This source determined that the girl who worked as a maid during that period was CARMEN IBARRA OCHOA. She was interviewed and said that she remembered nothing about the subject. The source advised that the doorman during that period, GREGORIO DEL REAL ROMERO, was no longer employed by the Motel.

On November 15, 1968, the third source advised that the owner of the Pancho Villa Motel, ELPIDIO VELAZQUEZ, had returned to Guadalajara after being out of the city for several days. VELAZQUEZ stated that he could not recall the subject or recognize his picture. Mrs. VELAZQUEZ, the owner's wife, stated that she recalled subject from a photograph with sunglasses which was taken in Mexico in 1967. She said, however, that he did not wear glasses while at the motel. She remembered that he had a car but could not describe it.

Mrs. VELAZQUEZ said that when subject arrived at the motel he was complaining of a toothache. She said she recommended a doctor. The next day she became concerned when he did not come out of his room and she rapped on his door. He answered that he was all right and was about to check out. She stated that he must have done so before 2 p.m., October 16, 1967, because he was not charged for another day. She stated that he arrived at the motel again on the morning of October 18, 1967, and departed before 2 p.m. on October 19, 1967. She recalled that he was alone at the motel on both occasions. She said she did not recall his luggage but that he wore a white sport shirt with short sleeves and brown trousers.

The third source reported that he interviewed Dr. OSCAR GOMEZ PALOFOX, Madero 975, on November 15, 1968. Dr. PALOFOX stated that he recalled a house call which he made to the Pancho Villa Motel but he could not recognize subject's photograph. He said that the man he treated had an abscessed molar and that he had injected tetrafinicol, a penicillin-type drug, to kill the infection. He recommended to the patient that he go to the Hospital Militar and ask them to recommend a dentist. He said that he made this call to the motel at about 1 or 2 p.m. on October 15, 1967.

On November 17, 1968, the third source advised that he had learned that the former doorman of the Pancho Villa Motel had reportedly returned to his home village of Valparaiso, Zacatecas. On November 24, 1968, the source advised that he had tried to locate GREGORIO DEL REAL ROMERO in Valparaiso, Zatecas but had determined that DEL REAL has not been seen there for several months. His relatives told the source that they believed he had gone to the United States to seek employment but that they did not know how he could be contacted.

MEXICAN GOVERNMENT RECORDS

On November 11, 1968, a fourth confidential source abroad advised that an official of the Inspection Service of Mexican Immigration in Mexico City had advised that border crossing records are maintained permanently on file in Mexico City. He said that these records had been exhaustively searched in April, 1968, without locating information to confirm the departure of ERIC STARVO GALT from Mexico. He did find a record that GALT entered Mexico on October 7, 1967, at Nuevo Laredo, Tamaulipas, and was issued tourist card #7475449. He stated that a further review of records, during November, 1968, still failed to locate information establishing that GALT or JOHN L. RAYNE departed Mexico at Tijuana, Baja California, in November, 1967.

On November 18, 1968, a fifth confidential source abroad advised that an official of the Mexican Federal Automobile Registration Bureau had stated on that date that the temporary permit issued to GALT's car at Nuevo Laredo, Tamaulipas, in October, 1967, had been cancelled, indicating that the car had left Mexico. This official said that he was directing a communication to the Chief of Mexican Customs at Tijuana, Baja California, requesting certification as to the departure of the car from Mexico and the date.

On December 18, 1968, the fifth source advised that the same official stated on that date that he had still not received confirmation from the border concerning the departure from Mexico of the 1966 Mustang which GALT was driving when he entered Mexico on October 7, 1967.

JAMES EARL RAY

Henry Stumm, [redacted] Alton, Illinois, was interviewed on January 8, 1969 by Special Agents [redacted] and [redacted]

Mr. Stumm stated that he worked at the Leather Tannery in Hartford, Illinois operated by the Brown Shoe Company of St. Louis, Missouri for close to thirty years. He stated that during that period of time he met a great many employees, however, he does not specifically recall ever having met James Earl Ray. He stated that he had been contacted by newspapers and magazine writers as well as novelists who are interested in developing information concerning James Earl Ray, however, he stated that he has not entertained them nor does he intend to entertain them in any way. He stated that their contacts with him and allegations made by them concerning his association with James Earl Ray have upset him to the point where he is close to a nervous breakdown. He stated tnat in order to preclude any further physical upset to him, he has engaged an attorney whom he identified as Ralph Smith of Alton, Illinois, to represent him in any matters arising from this case.

Mr. Stumm stated that two separate allegations have been made to his knowledge concerning his acquaintance or alleged acquaintance with James Earl Ray. He said that some of the news media contacting him have suggested that he, Stumm, during World War II, was sympathetic to Germany and constantly preached Nazi philosophy and further suggested that he gave James Earl Ray a copy of Adolph Hilter's book, Mein Kampf. He also stated that another suggestion to him was that he had met frequently in a cafe in Alton with James Earl Ray and had discussed Nazi philosophy "in a hushed manner".

Mr. Stumm stated that both of these allegations were completely false; that he has never owned a copy of Mein Kampf and that he never frequented any cafe in Alton.

He went on to say that during the period of time he worked at the tannery in Hartford, Illinois, he went back and forth to work with Ted Fensterman and Albert Kolk, both of whom lived in his neighborhood in Alton. He said that he has never owned or driven a motor vehicle and does not know how to drive a motor vehicle. He said, however, that both Fensterman and Kolk did drive and alternated driving their cars to work. He said they were kind enough to drive him with them and it was their routine to come straight home after work.

Mr. Stumm concluded by stating that he entered the United States from Germany in 1928 and became a citizen in 1936. He said that he is proud to be an American citizen and has always maintained a pro-American attitude with regard to politics. He stated that his work record and his neighbors would vouch for him in this regard.

WASHINGTON--NEW ORLEANS DISTRICT ATTORNEY JIM GARRISON IS ONE OF SEVEN BOARD MEMBERS OF A NEW NATIONAL COMMITTEE TO INVESTIGATE ASSASSINATIONS WHICH IS BEING FORMED HERE.

FERNAND PENSTERWALD, 47, OF ARLINGTON, VA., ANOTHER BOARD MEMBER, SAID THE COMMITTEE'S PURPOSE IS "TO EMBARRASS OR FORCE THE GOVERNMENT TO MAKE INVESTIGATIONS THEY HAVE BEEN PUTTING OFF SINCE NOV. 22, 1963."

THAT WAS THE DATE OF PRESIDENT KENNEDY'S ASSASSINATION IN DALLAS.

PENSTERWALD, WHO SAID HE WAS SETTING UP AN OFFICE WHICH WOULD OPERATE IN WASHINGTON, LEFT THE SENATE EARLIER THIS WEEK AFTER 12 YEARS AS COUNSEL FOR SEVERAL COMMITTEES.

"THE COMMITTEE WILL CONCENTRATE ON THE THREE BEST KNOWN ASSASSINATIONS -- PRESIDENT KENNEDY, SENATOR ROBERT KENNEDY AND DR. MARTIN LUTHER KING -- BUT WILL LEAVE ITS OPTIONS OPEN ON SOME OTHER RATHER MYSTERIOUS DEATHS," HE SAID.

"OUR POSITION IS THERE WAS A CONSPIRACY IN DALLAS. THERE WERE STRONG FOOTPRINTS OF A CONSPIRACY IN MEMPHIS WHERE DR. KING WAS SHOT AND NOBODY REALLY KNOWS MUCH ABOUT WHAT WENT ON IN LOS ANGELES (WHERE SENATOR KENNEDY WAS SLAIN) BUT WE INTEND TO LOOK."

HE SAID THE COMMITTEE HOPED TO FIND PRIVATE FINANCIAL SUPPORT TO HIRE A PROFESSIONAL STAFF FOR ITS INVESTIGATIONS.

OTHER BOARD MEMBERS, SAID PENSTERWALD, INCLUDE BILL TURNER OF SAN FRANCISCO, A [illegible] RICHARD SPRAGUE OF [illegible], N.Y., A COUNSEL [illegible] COOK, ENGLEWOOD, N.J., AUTHOR; LLOYD [illegible] A NEW YORK UNITARIAN MINISTER; BILLINGS OLIVER, NEW ORLEANS, AND PAUL [illegible] ONE MORE BOARD MEMBERS WILL BE NAMED LATER, PENSTERWALD SAID.

DATE: 1-6-69

FROM : M. A. Jones

SUBJECT: NATIONAL COMMITTEE TO INVESTIGATE ASSASSINATIONS

SYNOPSIS:

UPI release of 1-3-69 announced the formation of National Committee to Investigate Assassinations. Board members of the committee include Bernard Fensterwald; Jim Garrison, New Orleans District Attorney; William Turner, former FBI Agent; Fred J. Cook, author; Richard Sprague, a computer expert; Lloyd Tupling, Washington, D. C.; and Paris Flammonde, author of a book on assassinations, soon to be released. The Director has asked for a memorandum on Fensterwald, Sprague, Tupling and Flammonde.

Fensterwald, former Chief Counsel to Senator Long's committee on wiretapping was subject of applicant-type inquiries conducted by Bureau in 1949 and 1959. The names of Fensterwald's mother and sister appeared on a list of delegates and members in 1942 of the Southern Conference for Human Welfare, cited by the House Committee on Un-American Activities. While employed by the State Department in 1956, Fensterwald and his mother traveled to the Soviet Union.

We have had considerable contact with Fensterwald over the past four years as Chief Counsel of the United States Senate Committee on the Judiciary; Subcommittee on Administrative Practice and Procedure (the Long committee). In these contacts Fensterwald has clearly shown he is unscrupulous, untrustworthy and anti-FBI. He frequently sought to involve the FBI in wiretapping probes by Long's committee and in January, 1966, in connection with hearings in San Francisco Fensterwald indicated that ex-Agent William Turner would be one of the witnesses he intended to call in connection with FBI wiretapping. Mr. DeLoach briefed Fensterwald and Senator Long as to Turner's unsavory background. Turner is another board member of the assassination committee.

RE: NATIONAL COMMITTEE TO INVESTIGATE ASSASSINATIONS

In December, 1965, it was obvious that Fensterwald had sent information to Fred Cook, longtime FBI critic, for article in "The Nation" by Cook dealing with wiretapping by Government agencies. Cook quoted Fensterwald as stating, "The thing that has impressed me most is the ease with which Federal agents can lie under oath."

Mr. DeLoach maintained close personal liaison with Senator Long regarding his committee hearings and it was necessary on occasion to contact him regarding letters written over Long's signature to the Bureau requesting certain information. One such instance was in December, 1967, regarding FBI contacts with credit unions. Long stated we should ignore the letter and he would instruct Fensterwald to "keep hands off" the FBI. On same occasion Senator Long advised Mr. DeLoach that Fensterwald had "shot off his mouth too much" in connection with two articles in "Life" magazine dealing with Senator Long which allegedly had been "planted" by Bobby Kennedy.

Fensterwald, who will be Executive Director of assassination committee, left his post as Chief Counsel for the Long committee last month, apparently when Long resigned as Senator in order to give his successor seniority when the present Senate went into session.

No information in Bufiles concerning Paris Flammonde.

No pertinent information in Bufiles concerning Lloyd Tupling who may be identical with individual who was on staff of Senator Richard L. Neuberger in 1954.

Richard Sprague may be identical with individual who contacted Senator Robert F. Kennedy's office in early 1968 regarding his theory that more than one individual had fired shots at President Kennedy when he was assassinated. Sprague had reportedly assisted other individuals who share his views and who were otherwise critical of the Warren Commission findings.

From the above lineup, including Garrison and Turner, it is obvious that we can expect anti-FBI sentiments from such a group.

RE: NATIONAL COMMITTEE TO INVESTIGATE ASSASSINATIONS

DETAILS:

A UPI release on January 3, 1969, announced the formation of a new National Committee to Investigate Assassinations. According to Bernard Fensterwald, 47, of Arlington, Virginia, a board member, the committee's purpose is "to embarrass or force the Government to make investigations they have been putting off since November 22, 1963." According to Fensterwald, the committee will concentrate on the assassinations of President Kennedy, Senator Robert Kennedy and Dr. Martin Luther King. In addition to Fensterwald, other members were identified as Jim Garrison, New Orleans District Attorney; William Turner, former FBI Agent; Fred J. Cook, author; Richard Sprague, Hartsdale, New York, a computer expert; Lloyd Tupling, associated with the Sierra Club, Washington, D. C.; and Paris Flammonde, a New York writer who is the author of a book on assassinations, which is soon to be released.

The Director has asked for a memorandum on Fensterwald, Sprague, Tupling and Flammonde.

Bernard Fensterwald: Fensterwald was born on August 2, 1921, at Nashville, Tennessee. He received the B. S. degree from Harvard College in 1942 and the LL. B. degree from Harvard Law School in 1949. He received the M. A. degree in 1950 from the School of Advanced International Studies, Washington, D. C.

Fensterwald was the subject of applicant-type inquiries conducted by the Bureau in 1949 and 1959. While generally favorable, the names of Mr. Fensterwald's mother and sister appeared on a list of delegates and members of the Southern Conference for Human Welfare, cited by the House Committee on Un-American Activities, at a meeting held on April 19-21, 1942, at Nashville, Tennessee. Fensterwald and his mother traveled to the Soviet Union in June, 1956, for a three-week vacation visit. At that time, Fensterwald was employed as a lawyer by the United States Department of State.

Fensterwald has been employed on the staffs of a number of Senate committees. In 1953 Fensterwald was employed by the Senate Subcommittee on Constitutional Rights (Henning Committee) and was involved in a request to the Bureau from this subcommittee for a list of instances wherein we had furnished information to members of Congress. Senator Henning subsequently advised the Bureau that Fensterwald's requests to the Bureau had been improper. Over the past four years we have had considerable contact with Bernard Fensterwald as Chief Counsel of the United States Senate Committee on the Judiciary; Subcommittee on Administrative Practice and Procedure (the Long Committee). In these contacts with Fensterwald it was clearly evident he was unscrupulous, untrustworthy and anti-FBI. He frequently endeavored to draw the FBI into conflicts around the country by his requests of various telephone companies and other sources who might possibly have information of wiretaps and other technical surveillances by the FBI. In January, 1966, in connection with Fensterwald's hearings in San Francisco he indicated that ex-Agent William Turner would be one of the witnesses he intended to call in connection with the extent of FBI wiretapping. Mr. DeLoach briefed Fensterwald and Senator Long who was present at the time of the discussion with Fensterwald as to Turner's unsavory background. Fensterwald indicated he would take a second look at Turner in view of the information furnished by Mr. DeLoach. (Turner is reportedly another board member of the assassination committee)

"The Nation" magazine in December, 1965, carried an article by Fred J. Cook dealing with wiretapping by Government agencies, including the FBI. It was obvious Cook, a longtime FBI critic, had obtained the information for his article from Fensterwald whom he quoted several times. Typical of many of Fensterwald's utterances in connection with his assignment as Chief Counsel of Senator Long's committee was the statement, in "The Nation" magazine article, "The thing that has impressed me most is the ease with which Federal agents can lie under oath."

Mr. DeLoach maintained close personal liaison with Senator Long concerning the work of the FBI as it might pertain to inquiries conducted by his committee. On occasions letters directed to the FBI requesting certain information were handled orally by Mr. DeLoach with Senator Long who indicated that Fensterwald had prepared the letters. One such instance was in December, 1967, in connection with FBI contacts with credit unions. On that occasion, Senator Long stated we should ignore the letter and he would instruct Fensterwald to "keep hands off" the FBI. On the same occasion

Senator Long told Mr. DeLoach that Fensterwald has "shot off his mouth too much" in connection with two articles in "Life" magazine dealing with Senator Long which allegedly had been "planted" by Bobby Kennedy. According to the "Washington Post" of 1-3-69, Fensterwald will be the Executive Director of captioned committee. It is noted he left his post as Chief Counsel for the Long committee approximately a week ago, apparently when Long resigned as Senator in order to give his successor seniority when the present Senate went into session. Paris Flammonde: Bureau files contain no information identifiable with Paris Flammonde.

Lloyd Tupling: During 1954, W. Lloyd Tupling was appointed the Information Officer of the staff of Richard L. Neuberger, Democratic Senator of Oregon. One Lloyd Tupling, University News Bureau, Eugene, Oregon, was listed as a member of the "Society of America's Friends of the Mexican People" as of 8-13-38. This group is no longer in existence and was not investigated by the FBI, although indications were that the group was sympathetic to the communist cause. During May, 1950, one Lloyd Tupling was the publisher of "The State-Wide Newspaper," a weekly published in Boise, Idaho. (100-179915-23)

Richard Sprague: In a Rosen to Mr. DeLoach memo dated 3-26-63, captioned "Assassination of President John Fitzgerald Kennedy, 11-23-63, Dallas, Texas," it was noted that Richard E. Sprague had written to Joseph F. Dolan, Administrative Assistant to Senator Robert F. Kennedy, enclosing a number of photographs taken at the assassination site, and also stating that he was a proponent of the theory that more than one individual was firing shots at President Kennedy when he was assassinated. Bureau, Dallas and New York files contained no information on Sprague at that time, and New York was instructed to conduct a credit and criminal inquiry on him in an attempt to identify him, and these checks were negative.

A review was made of books written by critics of the Warren Commission to determine if Sprague might have collaborated with them. In Josiah Thompson's book, "Six Seconds in Dallas," he acknowledges assistance from one "Richard Sprague" not further identified. Sylvia Meagher, author of "Accessories After the Fact," a severe critique of the Warren Commission,

FBI, CIA, Secret Service, and Dallas Police Department, acknowledges the assistance of Richard E. Sprague stating, "I am grateful to Richard E. Sprague for making available a list compiled by him of photographs and films which seem to have been overlooked entirely by the Warren Commission and these investigative agencies."

Sprague wrote us on 7-9-68 along the same vein he had written Mr. Dolan, indicating he had important photographs of the assassination which should be reviewed by us, and also enclosed a research monograph relating to the assassination of President Kennedy. By letter of 7-18-68, we advised Mr. Sprague that the information in his monograph, as well as the photographs, were previously furnished the Bureau by the office of former Senator Robert F. Kennedy. Our files reveal no additional pertinent data concerning Sprague. (62-109060-6520)

On 2/7/69, motions made by the defense were argued in the court of Judge W. PRESTON BATTLE, Memphis, Tennessee. The results of these are as follows:

1. MOTION TO REQUIRE THE RETURN OF A STATE'S SUBPOENA TO THE CLERK OF THE CRIMINAL COURT

This motion pertains to the fact that subpoenas for witnesses who had been subpoenaed to testify in the trial that was to start on 11/12/68 have not been returned to the clerk of the court. These are being held by the District Attorney General's Office and it is the contention of the defense that these executed subpoenas are a matter of public record and the names of the witnesses should, therefore, be available to the defense. The defense has previously been furnished a list of persons who might be called in this case; however, this list for exceeds the number of persons for whom subpoenas were actually issued. Judge BATTLE has reserved decision in this matter until such time as he has had an opportunity to fully research the law on what disposition is to be made of these subpoenas.

2. MOTION TO PERMIT A CONFERENCE WITH WILLIAM BRADFORD HUIE

Defense attorney PERCY FOREMAN argued that subject RAY has entered into certain contractural agreements with HUIE prior to the time that FOREMAN became RAY's lawyer. He now feels it is necessary for him to advise RAY regarding his dealings with HUIE and he states this can only be done if HUIE is allowed to accompany FOREMAN while he visits RAY in his cell. Judge BATTLE denied permission for this conference stating that he does not trust HUIE to follow the orders of the court regarding publicity in this case.

3. MOTION TO PERMIT THE TAKING OF EXCLUSIVE PHOTOGRAPHS OF THE DEFENDANT

The defense has argued that they have been offered $3,000 to $5,000 for a series of exclusive photos of subject RAY. The defense contends that this sum of money is necessary to the subject's defense and have requested that a photographer of their choosing be allowed to take photos of RAY which would in turn be sold by defense counsel. Judge BATTLE denied this motion stating the court would not let itself be drawn into any scheme whereby RAY might be photographed for personal gain. He offered, however, to allow the sheriff's photographer to take photos of RAY which with the court's approval could be distributed to all news media desiring same. These photos are to be made only if defense cousel is agreeable.

4. PETITION TO AUTHORIZE DEFENDANT TO TAKE DEPOSITIONS OUT OF STATE

The defense has argued that they have no funds with which to arrange for the interviews of out-of-state witnesses and they request that the state make funds available for this purpose. The defense has indicated they desire SAC FRANK HITT of the Atlanta Division and Mr. J. D. GARNER, 107 14th Street, Northeast, Atlanta, Georgia, be interviewed regarding the admissibility of evidence. It is pointed out that GARNER is the operator of the rooming house where RAY resided in Atlanta. Judge BATTLE revused to allow depositions to be taken from HITT and GARNER but stated he was agreeable to having HITT and GARNER appear in his court for a pre-trial suppression hearing. The date of this is to be decided by the defense counsel and the prosecution.

Executive Assistant Attorney General ROBERT DWYER has stated he has no reason to believe the search conducted at GARNER's rooming house was illegal and he does not feel that the motion to suppress will be granted.

Judge BATTLE also denied depositions from U. L. BAKER, PETER CHERPES, CLYDE R. MANASCO, Reverend ANDREW J. YOUNG, and GEORGE BONEBREAK as these are all persons who have been subpoenaed by the prosecution and whom defense counsel will ultimately have an opportunity to cross examine. Regarding the other persons named in this petition, Judge BATTLE has stated he will rule on each individual name after having been given in writing an affidavit explaining fully why defense counsel desires such a deposition. At the urging of Mr. FOREMAN, it was also ruled that these affidavits shall not be made available to the prosecution.

Mr. ROBERT DWYER advised that his secretary is making a transcript of WILLIAM BRADFORD HUIE's testimony before the Shelby County Grand Jury and that this testimony will be made available to this office on a highly confidential basis. He said that in a conversation with HUIE, HUIE volunteered certain additional information that was not given to the Grand Jury. This is as follows:

A Dr. SCHWARTZ (phonetic) treated RAY while RAY was in Birmingham, Alabama. RAY and a "fat" bartender in Puerto Vallarta, Mexico, were dealing in marijuana and RAY brought a sizable quantity of marijuana with him to California. RAY spent the night of 4/2/68 in a motel somewhere in Mississippi. The female employee of the Canadian Government with whom RAY was intimate has told HUIE that RAY was very outspoken in his dislike of Negroes and made numerous remarks in this regard.

Mr. DWYER has stated he has no particular interest in further investigation of these facts except for the statements made by RAY to the woman in Canada. He has stated it would greatly aid his case in proving a motive if this woman could be prevailed upon to come to Memphis and testify to the statements made by RAY. He has requested that we determine if possible what statements RAY made that she could testify to and also determine her willingness to testify.

SYNOPSIS:

Motions filed by attorneys for James Earl Ray in state court were acted upon by Judge W. Preston Battle on February 7, 1969. He has reserved decision to require the return of a states' subpoena to the Clerk of the Criminal Court; he denied motion to permit conference between William Bradford Huie and Ray and denied motion to permit the taking of exclusive photographs of the defendant; and denied depositions to be taken out of state from some individuals, however, he is agreeable to having SAC Hitt of Atlanta and Atlanta rooming house operator appear in a pre-trial suppression hearing. (Ray stayed in Garner's rooming house in Atlanta, and search was conducted by consent of Garner.) No motion to suppress has been filed to date. Huie's testimony before Shelby County Grand Jury will be made available to us on a confidential basis. We received additional information from local prosecutor, who learned it from Huie, concerning Ray's alleged treatment by a Doctor Schwartz in Birmingham and his dealing in marijuana in Mexico. Memphis authorities desire female employee of Canadian Government interviewed concerning Ray's statements regarding Negroes in an effort to establish his anti-Negro sentiments and her willingness to testify.

ACTION: If approved,

1. We will instruct Memphis that if and when such motion to suppress is filed, a copy should be obtained and the Atlanta Office will be instructed to furnish full details covering all points set out in motion to suppress;

2. The Birmingham Office will be instructed to conduct appropriate investigation regarding Doctor Schwartz;

3. Legat Mexico will be instructed to request the appropriate authorities to determine if Ray was dealing in marijuana in Mexico; and

4. Legat Ottawa will be instructed to request the Royal Canadian Mounted Police to interview female employee of the Canadian Government regarding Ray's statements to her and determine her willingness to come to Memphis and testify.

DETAILS:

This is the case involving the murder of Martin Luther King, Jr.

Attorneys for James Earl Ray argued motions in the court of Judge W. Preston Battle, Memphis, Tennessee, on February 7, 1969. The motions and the results thereof are as follows:

1. Motion to require the return of state's subpoena to the Clerk of the Criminal Court: It is noted that subpoenas for witnesses who had been requested to testify in the state trial previously scheduled for November 12, 1968, were not returned to the clerk of the court, but were being held in State Attorney General's office. Judge Battle reserved decision until such time as he has an opportunity to fully research the law.

2. Motion to permit a conference with William Bradford Huie: Judge Battle denied permission for the conference of James Earl Ray and William Bradford Huie, stating he does not trust Huie to follow the orders of the court regarding publicity in this case.

3. Motion to permit the taking of exclusive photographs of the defendant: It is noted that the defense has been offered $3,000 to $5,000 for a series of exclusive photographs of Ray. The Judge denied this motion stating the court would not let itself be drawn into any scheme; however, he offered to allow the sheriff's photographer to take photographs of Ray, which with the court's approval, could be distributed to all news media desiring same.

4. Petition to authorize defendant to take deposition out of state: It is noted that a listing of various individuals is made. Included in this listing is SAC Frank Hitt of Atlanta, and Latent Fingerprint examiner George Bonebrake assigned to Washington, D. C. Judge Battle denied deposition from fingerprint examiner George Bonebrake and a few other individuals and stated he would rule on the other remaining individuals after having been given in writing an affidavit explaining fully why the defense counsel requires depositions.

During this argument, the defense indicated they desired that SAC, Frank Hitt, Atlanta Office, and Mr. J D. Garner (operator of rooming house where Ray resided in Atlanta, Georgia) be interviewed regarding the admissibility of evidence. Judge Battle refused to allow depositions be taken from SAC Hitt and Garner, but stated he was agreeable to have Hitt and Garner appear in his court for a pretrial suppression hearing. Mr. Robert Dwyer, Executive Assistant to the State Attorney General, Shelby County, stated he has no reason to believe the search conducted at Garner's rooming house was illegal, and he does not feel that the motion to suppress will be granted. The SAC in Memphis has advised that to date no motion has been filed to suppress the evidence obtained from this rooming house by our Agents. Search was conducted by consent of Garner.

Mr. Robert Dwyer advised that his secretary is making a transcript of William Bradford Huie's testimony before the Shelby County Grand Jury on February 7, 1969, and this testimony will be made available to us on a highly confidential basis.

Mr. Dwyer stated that in a conversation with Mr. Huie, Huie claims he was told by Ray that a Doctor Schwartz treated Ray while Ray was in Birmingham, Alabama; Ray and a "fat" bartender in Puerto Vallarta, Mexico, were dealing in marijuana and Ray brought a sizeable quantity of marijuana with him to California; and Ray spent the night of April 2, 1968, in a motel somewhere in Mississippi.

Dwyer also stated that a female employee of the Canadian Government, with whom Ray was intimate, told Huie that Ray was very outspoken in his dislike for Negroes and made various remarks in this regard. It is noted that the Royal Canadian Mounted Police interviewed this female employee of the Canadian Government; however, no mention was made of Ray's dislike of Negroes. Mr. Dwyer requested that we have the female employee of the Canadian Government contacted to determine if Ray actually made anti-Negro statements to her, and determine her willingness to come to Memphis and testify.

Enclosed for the Bureau are 3 copies of an FD-302 reflecting interview of Rev. LAWSON on 2/11/69 at Memphis.

Information furnished by Rev. LAWSON regarding the transfer of the 2 Negro firemen and the Negro police officer from the fire station near the Lorraine Motel just prior to the murder of KING has been covered in Memphis LHM dated 11/21/68, which LHM also reflected the interview of [redacted] by Mr. J. HAROLD FLANNERY of the Justice Dept. LAWSON furnished no new information and it is not felt that this matter warrants further inquiry.

It is the opinion of the interviewing Agents that LAWSON is a dangerous rabble rousing individual not worthy of being considered a leader of any group. He openly admits distrust of the police and of the FBI. He admits to having no facts but does not seem embarrassed to openly advocate his theory that KING's murder resulted from a conspiracy. He mentioned the story that was told early in this investigation by JOHN MC FERREN regarding his having overheard a conversation in a local vegetable market which conversation would indicate that the market owner, [redacted] and persons from New Orleans were part of the murder conspiracy. As the Bureau is well aware, MC FERREN's story has been thoroughly investigated and has been found to be entirely without substance.

Date 2/11/69

Rev. JAMES M. LAWSON, JR., Pastor, Centenary Methodist Church, 584 East McLemore Avenue, Memphis, Tennessee, advised that he has no actual evidence of a conspiracy in the murder of Dr. MARTIN LUTHER KING; however, he feels that certain occurrences around the time of the murder may have some significance.

Rev. LAWSON said that on about April 2 or April 3, 1968, a Negro fireman, FLOYD E. NEWSUM, was transferred from the firestation near the Lorraine Motel to another station that was already fully manned. He also said that another Negro fireman, name unknown, was transferred from that same station to another station on either Tuesday or Wednesday night before KING was murdered on Thursday afternoon. He said this second fireman was transferred in the middle of his shift and was transferred "out of rotation".

Rev. LAWSON explained "out of rotation" as follows:

When a fireman is assigned to a piece of equipment he remains in that assignment until all the men already assigned to it have been transferred. In other words, the last man assigned is the last man transferred.

Rev. LAWSON stated also that a Negro police officer, Detective E. E. REDDITT, who had been assigned to the same fire station to provide protection for Dr. KING, had been removed from the station sometime prior to the murder.

Rev. LAWSON stated he has made no attempt to verify any of this information except for his interview with FLOYD NEWSUM.

INDIVIDUAL ANSWERING PHONE IDENTIFIED THE NUMBER AS THE GREY HOUND BUS STATION.

STEIN SAID THAT RAY WAS EAGER TO LEAVE NEW ORLEANS BUT STEIN WANTED TO STAY A DAY OR TWO LONGER. STEIN SUGGESTED THAT THEY CHECK WEATHER CONDITION PRIOR TO DEPARTING NEW ORLEANS FOR LOS ANGELES SINCE THEY ENCOUNTERED SNOW STORM EN ROUTE TO NEW ORLEANS. STEIN SAID RAY CALLED FIRE STATION WHO SUGGESTED HE CALL GREY HOUND BUS DEPOT FOR WEATHER INFORMATION WHICH RAY DID AND MADE NOTATION ON MEMO SLIP.

STEIN STATED HE CAN NOT LOCATE THIS SLIP SINCE HE HAS MOVED SEVERAL TIMES SINCE HE ORIGINALLY CAME IN POSSESSION OF IT AND IS NOW LIVING ON A DAY TO DAY BASIS WITH FRIENDS.

STEIN SAID HE IS EAGER TO GO TO MEMPHIS AND INTENDS TO TAKE A CAMERA OR A PHOTOGRAPHER WITH HIM TO RECORD HIS ACTIONS AND AS A WITNESS IN RAY TRIAL SINCE HE INTENDS TO WRITE A BOOK ABOUT HIS EXPERIENCES IN THIS CASE. STEIN

SAID HE WILL EMBELLISH HIS STORY TO MAKE BOOK A GOOD SELL AND TO PROFIT FINANCIALLY FROM IT.

STEIN WAS CAUTIONED NOT TO EMBELLISH OR DISTORT ANY CONTACT WITH THE FBI.

STEIN SAID HE NEVER HEARD RAY MENTION ANYONE BY THE NAME OF RAUL. HE SAID HE KNOWS OF NO CONNECTION BETWEEN THE ASSINATIONS OF PRESIDENT KENNEDY, SENATOR ROBERT KENNEDY, OR MARTIN LUTHER KING, JR. STEIN SAID NEW ORLEANS DISTRICT ATTORNEY, JAMES GARRISON HAD CONTACTED HIS SISTER MARIE LEE IN NEW ORLEANS ASKING TO HAVE STEIN CONTACT GARRISON. STEIN SAID HE MADE TWO ATTEMPTS TO CALL GARRISON COLLECT BUT CALLS WERE NOT COMPLETED.

STEIN ALSO ADVISED HE HAD CALLED DISTRICT ATTORNEY'S OFFICE IN MEMPHIS TO OBTAIN PERMISSION TO TELEGRAPH RAY IN PRISON FOR INFORMATION CONCERNING THEIR TRIP TO NEW ORLEANS. STEIN SAID THE DISTRICT ATTORNEY "TOOK THE FIFTH AMENDMENT" AND WHILE NOT GRANTED, STEIN DID TELEGRAPH RAY AND HAS NO ANSWER FROM HIM TO DATE.

ALTHOUGH STEIN APPEARED LUCID DURING INTERVIEW, HE DID ON SEVERAL OCCASIONS DIGRESS INTO REALM OF METAPHYSICAL THOUGHT CONCERNING THE CONTINUOUS CREATIONS OF MANY NEW CHRISTS.

Information has come to the Bureau's attention that Claire Keating (female employee of the Canadian Government) allegedly made remarks to William Bradford Huie during their interview that James Earl Ray was very outspoken in his dislike for Negroes and made various remarks in this regard.

It is noted that the Royal Canadian Mounted Police (RCMP) previously interviewed Claire Keating and it was determined that she was intimate with Ray on several occasions. In this interview with her no mention was made by Ray to her regarding his anti-Negro sentiments.

Legat Ottawa should request the RCMP to interview Claire Keating concerning the statements allegedly made to her by Ray regarding his anti-Negro sentiments. Legat Ottawa should also request the RCMP to ascertain the willingness of her to come to Memphis and testify. The arrangements for her to come to Memphis and testify will be handled by the Memphis authorities through the RCMP.

Information has come to the Bureau's attention that James Earl Ray and a "fat" bartender in Puerto Vallarta, Mexico, were allegedly dealing in marijuana and Ray brought a sizeable quantity of marijuana with him to California.

It is noted that investigation conducted by you established that Ray entered Mexico on October 7, 1967, at Nuevo Laredo and registered in Hotel San Francisco Acapulco, on October 10, 1967, as Eric S. Galt. It is further noted that in the past, you have determined that Ray made inquiry at various places in Mexico as to where he could possibly purchase marijuana.

Legat Mexico City should contact the appropriate authorities to determine if Ray was dealing in marijuana in Mexico as alleged. This investigation could result in the establishment of Ray's source of funds.

JAMES EARL RAY

Mr. Jerry Cohen, Los Angeles Times news reporter in New Orleans, Louisiana, residing at the Cochetta Motel, Room 216, Telephone 822-1560, New Orleans, Louisiana, telephonically advised he had contacted the Los Angeles Office of the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI) and had been referred to the New Orleans Office of the FBI.

Cohen advised that he and Dave Lawson of Los Angeles, California, who is also a reporter of the Los Angeles Times, had obtained from Charles Stein a telephone number within one week after the arrest of James Earl Ray.

Cohen stated that Dave Lawson had made all the notes of the conversation with Stein but that as he, Cohen, recalls it, Stein showed Lawson a piece of paper which contained a telephone number and that Lawson had copied the telephone number from Stein's piece of paper into Lawson's note.

When Stein questioned Ray concerning this telephone number, Ray had said this is where Ray got his weather report.

Cohen stated that Stein two or three days after talking to Cohen and Lawson had made a call to New Orleans and had determined this number was a number for Troop B of the Louisiana State Police located in the Greater New Orleans area.

Cohen stated that neither he nor Lawson had furnished this telephone number to the Los Angeles Office of the FBI and when questioned as to whether or not this was an oversight advised that subconsciously it had been forgotten in the hope it might materialize into a good story.

44-38861-5563

JAMES EARL RAY

Cohen advised that he did not have the telephone number with him but had made a contact in New Orleans while here to attend the Clay Shaw trial, who had determined that there was a Louisiana State Trooper at Troop B named Raul V. Esquivel.

Cohen advised he had no further information concerning this number but that Lawson would have more complete and accurate information from his notes.

A review of the New Orleans indices show an investigation was conducted in the case captioned "TROOPER RAUL VICTOR ESQUIVEL, LOUISIANA STATE POLICE, FERDINAND JOSEPH HORIO, JR. - VICTIM, CIVIL RIGHTS." Esquivel in 1964 was described as follows:

Race	White
Sex	Male
Date of Birth	[redacted]
Place of Birth	British Honduras
Employment	Louisiana State Police, Troop B, Metairie, Louisiana
Length of Employment	Seven years
Residence	[redacted] Metairie, Louisiana

R. L. Polk's New Orleans City Director for 1968 lists telephone number 482-5751 to State Police Department Headquarters, Troop B. This number was dialed February 6, 1969, and the trooper answering the phone stated "State Police Department Headquarters" and then upon inquiry stated that it was Troop B.

The current New Orleans Telephone Directory lists telephone number 524-0446 to the Provincial Motel, 1024 Chartres Street, New Orleans, Louisiana. The Provincial Motel is where Ray stayed in New Orleans in December, 1967

JAMES EARL RAY

Lieutenant Colonel Ben F. Ragusa, Assistant Superintendent, Louisiana State Police (LSP), Baton Rouge, Louisiana, advised that Trooper 1st Class Raul Victor Esquivel is assigned to LSP Troop B at New Orleans, Louisiana. He advised that in August of 1967 Trooper Esquivel was at that time also assigned to Troop B at New Orleans. He advised that Trooper Esquivel worked as follows during the month of August, 1967:

August 1, 2, and 3: on duty; 7:00 a.m. to 3:00 p.m.

August 4: day off

August 5: on duty; 7:00 a.m. to 3:00 p.m.

August 6 and 7: off duty due to a death in his family

August 8 and 9: on duty; 7:00 a.m. to 3:00 p.m.

August 10: off duty

August 11 through 23: on duty; 7:00 a.m. to 3:00 p.m.

August 24: off duty

August 25 and 26: on duty; 7:00 a.m. to 3:00 p.m.

August 27: off duty

August 28, 29, and 30: on duty; 7:00 a.m. to 3:00 p.m.

August 31: off duty

Ragusa advised that during August, 1967, Trooper Esquivel was assigned to duties in different areas of the Troop B LSP area as he was filling in for other troopers on their days off. He advised that during August, 1967, Trooper Esquivel worked in the New Orleans area

JAMES EARL RAY

Ragusa advised that on March 22, 1968, Trooper Esquivel worked an eight-hour shift on that date.

NOTE:

This is the case involving the murder of Martin Luther King, Jr.

The office of the State Attorney General, Shelby County, Memphis, Tennessee, is prosecuting the state's case against James Earl Ray. This case is scheduled for trial in Memphis, on April 7, 1969. In preparation of the state's trial Mr. Robert K. Dwyer, Executive Assistant to the State Attorney General, requested that Mr. Ian Colvin, a reporter for the "Daily Telegraph," London, England, be re-interviewed concerning the contact with him by Ray, and Colvin's willingness to come to Memphis to testify at the trial.

SAC, Memphis, has advised that Mr. Dwyer did not have the opportunity to interview Mr. Colvin and he would desire to determine if Mr. Colvin can recall any additional conversation he had with Ray beyond that previously furnished by Colvin to New Scotland Yard authorities.

Legat London was instructed to make the appropriate arrangements to interview Colvin in accordance with the request of Memphis authorities. Colvin was interviewed and the results of this interview are being furnished to Memphis with instructions to furnish information to Mr. Canale the State Attorney General.

It is noted that Mr. Colvin was re-interviewed to determine if he can recall any conversation with James Earl Ray beyond that information previously furnished to New Scotland Yard. Ray contacted Mr. Colvin in June, 1968, and requested assistance in joining an army of white mercenaries.

Dear Mr. Hoover,

I hereby wish to make a claim on the reward offered for information leading to the capture of James Earl Ray the alleged assassin of Dr. Martin Luther King.

I base this claim on the fact that having recognised Ray and other brutal looking Americans in London I did publicaly state in diverse places in that city, that the man wanted by the F.B.I. in that world-wide search was in hiding in the capital before he was captured. I made this claim at this late date due to the fact that I wished to remain anonymous, until my name was published prominintly in a British newspaper of international recognition (re Sunday Express 2nd Feb '68) for identifying another American criminal in connection with the Domench Dossier,

Please do not misunderstand, as people will vouch for this, and the fact that I caused quite a stir amongst civilians in the metropolis of London by announcing what I knew to be true. This could in fact have led to Ray making for the continent hence his capture at London Airport as no doubt my observations reached the British police, who know of me in connection with the above -- mentioned case and the fact that I was seen at London airport watching departures just a few days previous to the famous capture.

Trusting that this communication reaches you, and finds you in the very best of health I remain yours sincerly

Attorneys for James Earl Ray argued motions in the court of Judge W. Preston Battle, Memphis, Tennessee, on February 14, 1969. The motions and the results thereof are as follows:

1. Motion to require the return of state's subpoena to the Clerk of the Criminal Court: It is noted that subpoenas for witnesses who had been requested to testify in the state trial previously scheduled for November 12, 1968, were not returned to the clerk of the court, but were being held in the State Attorney General's Office. Judge Battle ruled that the executed subpoenas must be returned to the clerk as they are not to be made matter of public record and only attorneys for the defense are to be made aware of the prosecution witnesses.

2. Motion to delete from the indictment the aliases Eric Starvo Galt, John Willard and Harvey Lohmeyer: Judge Battle denied this motion, stating that the defendant Ray was responsible for the use of these aliases and the prosecution had indicated they would present evidence to prove such use.

REC. 30 61-5574

3. Motion to designate court reporters and provide for compensation by the State of Tennessee: Judge Battle denied this motion but agreed to allow Percy Foreman (Ray's Attorney) to have a live reporter in the courtroom provided this reporter is compensated by the defense.

4. Motion to require District Attorney General to prepare and present to the court proposed stipulations as to the undisputed testimony of witnesses: Judge Battle denied this, stating that he does not desire to coerce the prosecution into agreeing to the stipulation of testimony.

ACTION: For information. You will be kept advised of pertinent developments.

Enclosed for the Bureau are two copies each of three motions having to do with a continuance; with the designation of court reporters; and with stipulations as to the undisputed testimony of witnesses.

On 2/14/69, motions made by the defense were argued before Judge W. PRESTON BATTLE, Memphis, Tenn. The results are as follows:

1. MOTION TO REQUIRE THE RETURN OF A STATE'S SUBPOENA TO THE CLERK OF THE CRIMINAL COURT

This motion relates to defense attorneys' desire to know the identity of the individuals already subpoenaed by the prosecution for the trial of JAMES EARL RAY. The prosecution has thus far avoided having the executed subpoenas returned to the Clerk of the Court, and the prosecution contends that they do not desire the news media to learn the identity of witnesses under subpoena. Judge BATTLE has now ruled that the executed subpoenas must be returned to the Clerk, however, they are not to be made a matter of public record and only attorneys for the defense are to be made aware of the prosecution's witnesses. After defense attorneys have examined the subpoenas, they are to be given to Judge BATTLE for safekeeping. Copies of this motion have previously been furnished the Bureau.

2. MOTION TO DELETE FROM THE INDICTMENT THE ALIASES ERIC STARVO GALT, JOHN WILLARD, AND HARVEY LOHMEYER.

On 2/14/69, Judge BATTLE denied this motion, stating that the defendant RAY was responsible for the use of these aliases and that the prosecution had indicated they would present evidence to prove such use. It had been the contention of the defense that the reading of the indictment with these aliases to the jury would be prejudicial and inflammatory. Copies of this motion have previously been furnished the Bureau.

3. MOTION TO DESIGNATE COURT REPORTERS AND PROVIDE FOR COMPENSATION BY THE STATE OF TENNESSEE

It is customary in Tennessee courts to have testimony taken by a mechanical recording rather than by a live court reporter. Such is the practice in Judge BATTLE's court. The defense has argued that such taking of testimony is not reliable and has requested the court to designate and to provide compensation for a live reporter. On 2/14/69, Judge BATTLE denied this motion but agreed to allow FOREMAN to have a live reporter in the courtroom provided this reporter is compensated by the defense.

4. MOTION TO REQUIRE DISTRICT ATTORNEY GENERAL TO PREPARE AND PRESENT TO THE COURT PROPOSED STIPULATIONS AS TO THE UNDISPUTED TESTIMONY OF WITNESSES

The defense has argued that the prosecution is in possession of written FBI reports and is aware of the testimony that will be given by various witnesses who have been subpoenaed both from out of state and from outside this country. The defense desires that these be made available to them and states that in many instances the defense will agree to stipulation of testimony by certain witnesses, thus making it unnecessary to have them brought at State expense to Memphis. The prosecution contends that this is merely an attempt by the defense to discover in advance the testimony to be given by prosecution witnesses.

Judge BATTLE denied this, stating that he does not desire to coerce the prosecution into agreeing to the stipulation of testimony.

Kernes was convicted of carrying a pistol and fined $50.00 and sentenced to eleven (11) months and twenty-nine (29) days in the Shelby County Workhouse in one case, and sentenced to serve two years in the State penitentiary in another case for the possession of burglary tools. From these two convictions he has seasonably appealed, briefs have been filed, arguments heard, and, after reading this record and considering the matter, we think the record is in such a garbled condition that it is impossible to tell heads or tails about the situation so that it would be fair to either the defendant or the State to render a decision thereon. For this reason the judgments below are reversed and the cause is remanded for a new trial.

Briefly, these two cases were tried together, the defendant, Kernes, being indicted in Case No. 4724 for carrying a pistol, and Kernes and a man named James W. Tutor were jointly indicted in Case No. 4725 for possessing burglary tools. In the record there is also a copy of another indictment which charges a man named Thelma Roy Tutor with possessing burglary tools. This indictment is No. 4836. The minutes of the court indicate that cases 4724 and 4725 were tried jointly in the present proceedings. The bill of exceptions shows that Kernes entered pleas to both 4724 and 4725. The bill of exceptions does not show that the co-defendant entered a plea to the indictment in 4725, but the technical record does show that both defendants were on trial.

This statement is relevant because the entire record shows that Thelma Roy Tutor was on trial in Case No. 4725, when as a matter of fact James W.Tutor was named in the indictment. After the State had presented its case both Thelma Roy Tutor and James W. Tutor testified for the defense. A clerk of the court testified that it was James W. Tutor who was actually named in the indictment. Upon motion of the defendant for a directed verdict as toThelma Roy Tutor, the trial judge granted a mistrial as to Thelma Roy Tutor but did not direct a verdict.

The bill of exceptions is styled a "narrative bill of exceptions" on the cover page, although as a matter of fact it is in question and answer form. There are places in the record where it appears that the court reporter experienced difficulty with his recording equipment. This information is stated because, as we have said before, the record is in such a garbled condition one reading it can't tell anything about it.

For these reasons we do not deem it advisable or necessary to comment on the various assignments made in this record. In looking at it in one way, clearly, there was no justification for a search wherein a pistol was found, nor is there any evidence to show that this defendant was guilty of possessing these burglary tools, but the record might be looked at from a different standpoint and there might be other evidence which is left out which caused the trial judge to rule as he did. It is shown that the jury was out when most of the evidence along different lines was given. There is nothing in this record to show any incidents when the jury was in whether there was sufficient evidence to convict this man. It is for this reason that the case is reversed and remanded for a new trial.

Hamilton S. Burnett, Chief Justice.

IN THE CRIMINAL COURT OF SHELBY COUNTY, TENNESSEE

DIVISION III

STATE OF TENNESSEE

VS. NO. 16645

JAMES EARL RAY,

Defendant.

MOTION FOR CONTINUANCE

Comes now James Earl Ray, the Defendant, and moves the Court for an additional continuance in support of which he would respectfully represent and show the court:

(1) On November 12, 1968, this Court continued this cause until March 3, 1969, having estimated that 101 days should be sufficient time for preparation. That on December 23, 1968, and until January 20, 1969, Chief Counsel for the Defendant, Percy Foreman, was continuously confined to bed with pneumonia, except for a two-day period. That he had a relapse after two days and spent an additional twelve days confined to bed. Thus losing more than 27 days of the original 101 days allowed by the Court for preparation. On January 20th and continuously thereafter, until the date of this report and the filing of this motion, said Counsel for the Defendant has spent from Sunday evening through Friday night in Memphis, Tennessee, working exclusively on preparation for the trial of this case. He proposes so doing until the case is ready for trial.

(2) Likewise, Defendant has applied for permission to take depositions of material witnesses in other states and he anticipates taking of such depositions will be permitted in some instances. The mechanics of taking said depositions, if so permitted, will consume at least 30 days from the entry of the order of their being taken, which, alone, would extend beyond the date of March 3, 1969.

(3) In addition, although Counsel for this Defendant has assidiously pursued an effort to obtain depositions, affidavits, exhibits, and statements, made the basis for the extradition of Defendant, from London, England, to Memphis, Tennessee, he has not been successful.

On November 12, 1968, this Honorable Court directed Arthur J. Hanes, Esquire, former attorney for the defendant, to deliver his files and investigative reports to Percy FForeman, his successor as defense counsel, and, although said Percy FForeman called on the said Arthur Hanes at his office in Birmingham, Alabama, the following Monday to receive such files, the same were not forthcoming. The said Percy Foreman requested said files and investigative reports of the said Arthur J. Hanes, Sr., in the Courtroom on November 12, 1968, immediately upon the Court stating fromm the Bench his mandate that such files and reports be surrendered to the successor attorney. The said Arthur J. Hanes, Sr., had therefore been paid $30,000 by and at the request of the Defendant, and said files and investigative reports had been accumulated through the expenditure of this money derived fromi this Defendant.

The only writing, report or exhibit of any kind obtained by Percy Foreman from Arthur J. Hanes on his visit to Mr. Hanes' office in Birmingham about the 18th of November, 1968, were pencilled notes reproduced by photocopy of an alleged recording of a police broadcast made in Memphis about 6:00 p.m. on April 4, 1968.

Upon reporting this fact to this Honorable Court, a written order was entered by the Court and served on Arthur J. Hanes, Sr., whereupon, the said Percy Foreman received photocopy of approximately 19 pages, more or less, of interviews with witnesses, most of which interviews consisted solely of impeaching testimony.

Approximately seven to ten days ago, through the intervention and offices of William Bradford Huie, a writer, and friend of Arthfur J. Hanes, Sr., the said Percy Foreman was able to obtain an additional 150 pages, more or less of investigatory effort, which, for the first time, was furnished information upon which to base an investigation.

(4) However, no part of the material mentioned in the first paragraph (3) hereinabove were included in any portions of the files turned over to said Percy Foreman, either directly or through William Bradford Huie.

There is attached hereto a photocopy of a letter dated February 10, 1969, from Michael D. Eugene, 25 Rowsley Avenue, Hendon, N.W. 4, London, England, the attorney who represented James Earl Ray at his extradition hearing in July of 1968, which states categorically that on November 1, 1968, all of this material matter was sent Mr. Hanes from London, England, to Birmingham, Alabama, to-with

> "It is obvious from your letter that your main concern relates to the first bundle of documents, referred to above, and also the greater part of-the depositions. Copies of these documents were forwarded by me to Mr. Hanes on or about the 1st November last. I did not send a covering letter as it was quite apparent from Mr. Hanes urgent request, that he required these documents with the utmost expedition and I merely sent him a complimentary slip. I therefore regret that I cannot be more specific as far as the date is concerned but I am satisfied that it was around the aforesaid period. This is an extremely bulky collection of documents and in all, they number over two hundred pages."

There is also attached hereto a photocopy of the first page of a letter written by present counsel for Defendant to Michael D. Eugene.

A proper preparation of this case, requires that the London depositions, affidavits, exhibits, and testimony be available tof Counsel for Defendant in order that he may brief the law of extradition and the Treaties between the United States and Great Britain, so as to file any preliminary motions revealed as necessary by such testimony from depositions and affidavits as may be included in the 200 pages referred to in Michael D. Eugene's letter of February 10, 1969.

Forreach and all of the foregoing reasons and because investigators of the Public Defender's Office, Shelby County, have not completed and will not be able to complete an adequate investigation and interview of witnesses, so as to be prepared for trial on March 3rd, this Defendant respectfully prays the Court to grant an additional continuance for such length of time as the Court may deem proper,

Dear Mr. Foreman,

The reason for my not having replied to your letter of the 31st January is due to my having been away from the office for the past few days and having just returned.

I am therefore replying to you immediately as, obviously, there is some urgency in your request.

The times of your telephone calls to my office and the substance of the conversations between us are confirmed by me.

In order to clarify any confusion that may have arisen with regard to the character of the documents relating to the trial proceedings in London, I would inform you of the following.

These documents may, for the sake of convenience, be divided into three parts.

Firstly, there is the bundle of documents which comprises the Affidavits of approximately twenty Prosecution witnesses (including Bonebrake's), various exhibits attached thereto and also other documents such as the requisition from the United States Ambassador to London, the Certificate of Detention, the autopsy report on Martin Luther King and his death certificate, and also other documents too numerous to detail. These documents form the basis of the Prosecution case in the London Extradition Proceedings and were served on my firm prior to the Hearing.

The second category of documents are those which comprise the oral evidence taken at the aforesaid hearings and which we term "depositions". Included in these would be the oral statements of Ray, to which you refer in your letter. In English proceedings, only the answers of the witness or defendant are noted in the depositions and no note is ever taken of the questions asked.

26, ROWSLEY AVENUE,
HENDON, N.W.4

The third category of documents is simply the transcription of the London hearing which I obtained from the Press Associations Special Service and to which, again, you refer in your letter as being in your possession.

It is obvious from your letter that your main concern relates to the first bundle of documents, referred to above, and also the greater part of the depositions. Copies of these documents were forwarded by me to Mr. Hanes on or about the 1st November last. I did not send a covering letter as it was quite apparent from Mr. Hanes urgent request, that he required these documents with the utmost expedition and I merely sent him a complimentary slip. I therefore regret that I cannot be more specific as far as the date is concerned but I am satisfied that it was around the aforesaid period. This is an extremely bulky collection of documents - in all, they number over two hundred pages.

I acknowledge receipt of your cheque in the sum of £14.5s. but unfortunately there appears to have been some sort of clerical error. The equivalent English remuneration for 285 dollars is £118.15s. The balance that I would therefore be obliged to receive is £104.10s. Upon receipt of this sum I shall despatch the required documents by Express Airmail.

I would additionally inform you that there are several letters in my possession relating to this case, the contents of which you may find interesting. Unfortunately, as these were addressed to my firm, I cannot relinquish them but I confirm that I shall bring them with me to show you.

Yours sincerely,

Michael D. Eugene.

Dear Mr. Eugene:

Your letter of the 10th reached me this (Friday) morning.

The mistake in the amount of remittance was that of the banker at the Union Planters National Bank. I have this day written him an additional check $250.00 (the first one was $34.05). A cashier's check for L104.los is enclosed herewith. I am s ure the documents, testimony and deposi - tions will come forward without delay.

You are correct in that we need:

(1) The aff idavits of the 20 prosecuting witnesses furnished you in advance of the hearing. These include that of Mr. Bonebrake. Also, 19 others. Also exhibits attached thereto, requisition from the United States Ambassador to London, the Certificate of detention, autoposy of Martin Luther King, his death certificate and others too numerous to mention.

(2) A transcription of the oral evidence taken at the extradition hearing in London, when James Earl Ray was ordered into the custody of the United States authorities.

All the above you state you sent Mr. Arthur J. Hanes Sr., on November 1st, without a covering letter. Mr. Hanes has never furnished us a single sheet of any of the above. Nor did he give us the Press Association Special Service account of the hearing. But we did receive a copy of this latter from a writer, William Bradford Huie, about 10 days ago. He stated that he obtained it from Arthur J. Hanes Sr., the preceding Saturday afternoon, upon agreeing to pay him an additional $5,000.00.

IN THE CRIMINAL COURT OF SHELBY COUNTY, TENNESSEE

DIVISION III

STATE OF TENNESSEE	)
Vs.	)	Nos. 16,645 and 16,619
JAMES EARL RAY	)

MOTION TO REQUIRE DISTRICT ATTORNEY GENERAL TO PREPARE AND PRESENT TO THE COURT PROPOSED STIPULATIONS AS TO THE UNDISPUTED TESTIMONY OF WITNESSES

TO SAID HONORABLE COURT:

COMES now, James Earl Ray, Defendant, acting herein by and through his attorneys of record, and files this his motion to require the prosecuting attorneys in this case to prepare and present to the Court and to said attorneys for the defense a proposed stipulation of the testimony of all witnesses residing outside Shelby County, Tennessee, whose names have been furnished said attorneys for the defense as possible witnesses for the prosecution, in support of which motion said Defendant would respectfully show the Court:

I.

The office of the District Attorney General has heretofore, pursuant to and order of the Court so to do, furnished defense counsel with the names of some 360 or more witnesses as possible witnesses to be called and offered as witnesses for the prosecution at the trial of the above case or cases.

A very large number of these witnesses reside abroad or in other States than Tennessee. The expense of bringing said witnesses and their maintenance during this trial could conceivably cost the taxpayers of Shelby County and the State of Tennessee as much as a half million ($500,000.00) dollars, that could be better spent for other needful purposes.

Because, Defendant says, from magazine and newspaper articles available to him and his attorneys, purporting to reflect his travels, contacts and activities in distant states and foreign countries, most, if not all such reports will not be denied and this Defendant and his attorneys are willing to stipulate either to the fact or the testimony of such absent witnesses, so as to save the expense of their transportation and maintenance as witnesses throughout the trial of this case. Defendant says that if the prosecution insists on the bringing of said witnesses in person, that his attorneys can not, in good conscience, agree to their release and return to their distant homes until the conclu - sion of the trial, and therefore their maintenance may cover a period of three to six months, more or less.

II.

Defendant further says the presentation of said witnesses in person, rather than by stipulation ad prayed for herein, will unduly delay, impede and waste the time of this Honorable Court, needlessly and wastefully. That there is not physical possibility of this case terminating in less than four months, if the prosecution persists in the personal presentation of said witnesses. Furthermmre, such an extended trial is calculated to so confuse a lay jury as to prevent the proper consideration by the jury of the pertinent and essential facts and testimony to the issues raised by the pleadings.

III.

Defendant says that it is not meet nor proper that the time of jurors who might be selected in this case be consumed for weeks on end by undisputed and immaterial testimony that can be made available and received into evidence by stipulation. Nor is it fair to the treasury of Shelby County that the processes of justice be strained and penalized, when such can be avoided by stipulation.

IV.

Defendant says that such witnesses whose testimony can be stipulated come from: England, Canada, Portugal, California Alabama, Washington, Georgia and elsewhere and the law requires the advance to them of ten cents ($.10¢) per mile each way plus living expenses while in attendance on the Court.

V.

Defendant says that this motion is filed herein approximately one month before any of said witnesses will have left their homes and thereby obligated Shelby County, Tennessee, for the payment of their travel and living expenses, and in ample time for the preparation, presentation and consideration of the proposal to stipulate and for the entering into said stipulation.

Furthermore, that the prosecution has in its possession a detailed report of the interviews of such witnesses by the agents of the Federal Bureau of Investigation and by its own investigators and is well aware of what their testimony will be and the preparation of such proposed stipulations will not unduly inconvenience the prosecution, and that for every penny of expense incident to the preparation of such stipulation, approximately $1,000.00 can be saved the taxpayers of Shelby County, Tennessee.

V.

This Defendant and his attorneys verily believe that every word of testimony that could be available from 99.99% of said witnesses, in person, can be stipulated and made a part of the record thereby.

WHEREFORE, premises considered, Defendant prays that an order enter directing the District Attorney General and his assistants attorney general to prepare and present to this Court within five days of the presentation of this motion a proposed stipulation as to the testimony of each and every witness it has furnished Defense Counsel, who reside beyond the limits of Shelby County, Tennessee, to the end that such proposed stipulations or as much thereof as may be undisputed be entered into in advance by the Defendant and his attorneys, before the financial expense and drain on Shelby County's treasury shall occur, as Defendant, in duty bound, will ever pray.

O R D E R

On this the ____ day of February, A.D., 1969, the fore - going Motion to Require the District Attorney General and prosecuting attorneys to prepare and present proposed stipulations as to the testimony of witnesses residing beyond Shelby County, Tennennee, was presented to and considered by the Court, and the Court having considered the same, and believing the administration of justice would be facilitated and the trial expedited by such stipulations, as proposed by the Defendant and his counsel, it is, accordingly:

GRANTED as more particularly appears by an order to that effect this day entered herein

OVERRULED and REFUSED, to which action of the Court in overruling and refusing to grant said motion the Defendant then and there in open court excepted, and said motion, together with this order thereon and Defendants exception to the action of the Court in overruling and refusing said motion are here-now ordered filed as a part of the record of this case.

W. PRESTON BATTLE, Judge

IN THE CRIMINAL COURT OF SHELBY COUNTY, TENNESSEE

DIVISION III

STATE OF TENNESSEE	)
Vs.	)	NOS. 16645 and 16819
JAMES EARL RAY	)

MOTION TO DESIGNATE COURT REPORTERS AND PROVIDE FOR THEIR COMPENSATION BY THE STATE OF TENNESSEE

TO SAID HONORABLE COURT:

COMES NOW, James Earl Ray, Defendant in the above styled and numbered causes and files this Motion to Designate Court Reporters and to enter an order that will provide for the payment of their fees by the State of Tennessee; and, in support of said motion would respectfully show the Court as follows, to-wit:

I.

Said Defendant has heretofore testified in open court to the fact that he is an indigent person and has been so adjudicated by this Court; and, pursuant to said finding this Court has appointed the Public Defender of Shelby County to act as counsel for said Defendant. Co-counsel, Percy Foreman, admitted for the purpose of appearing in the above cases has received no fee and does not contemplate that he will receive any such fee.for his appearance herein.

II.

This motion is filed pursuant to the provisions of the Tennessee Code of Criminal Procedure, Articles 40-2029 through 40-2043, inclusive, the same being Chapter 221 of the Sessions Laws of the Legislature of the State of Tennessee, Acts of 1965, which give the Court the power and authority to grant all of the relief herein prayed for, and, in the opinion of the attorneys for this Defendant, make the granting of such relief mandatory.

III.

Defendant says that Shelby County, Tennessee is a prin of approximately 1,000,000 or more inhabitants and having within its territorial area at lease several dozen eminently qualified Court Reporters, including but not limited to more than two dozen such who are available for appointment by this Court as Reporter and Auxiliary Reporter to act as such in the above styled cases and as herein prayed for.

Therefore, Shelby County, Tennessee does not come within the provisions of Article 40-2042 of the Tennessee Code of Criminal procedure which article authorizes the use of 'recording equipment' in lieu of a qualified Court Reporter in remote counties where no qualified Court Reporter is available to record the proceedings. Shelby County has an abundance of such qualified reporters, and due proc ess of law provided by the Constitutions of the State of Tennessee and of the United States of America justify and require the appointment of such qualified reporter to record the proceedings in the above styled cases against this Defendant.

IV.

However, the general practice prevailing for the recording of proceedings in the trials of felony criminal cases in Shelby County, Tennessee, and which will prevail in this case in the event of the overruling of this motion, is to have such proceedings 'recorded' on a mechanical dictating machine by a deputy clerk of the Court, which the Statutes of the State of Tennessee authorizes only in Counties in which a judge can truthfully certify 'that no qualified court reporter is available to record the proc eedings'.

Defendant says that the purported recording of the proceedings by such mechanical device is inadequate, inaccurate, haphazard, and completely unreliable. That Defendant is charged in one of the above cases with m urder with malice aforethought for which one of the alternate punishments is Death. That he has the Constitutional right of appeal in the event of conviction, which carries with it the right to have a truly accurate record of the proceedings below for the guidance of the appellate tribunal in reviewing his trial below, and, as above pleaded, any derogation or infringement of that right by failing to provide a qualified court reporter would be and is a deprivation of the right of the Defendant to 'effective representation of counsel' as well as of due process of law, guaranteed under the Constitutions aforesaid of the United States of America and of the State of Tennessee.

V.

Defendant says that daily copy of the proceedings will be needed for his effective representation by counsel and that such will require alternate court reporters working in relays to prepare such copy. That it is a physical impossibility for one reporter to carry the load of taking a day's testimony and then transcribing it before the succeeding day. That this Court has the authority under 40-2032, T.C.C.P to appoint such auxiliary reporters as the exigencies of the case may require and that at least one and perhaps two such auxiliary reporters should be appointed, and their compensation as well as that of the first such reporter should be provided for and should be paid by the State of Tennessee.

VI.

This Defendant is informed and believes and upon such information alleges as a fact that various news agencies, reproducing equipment companies and other commercial enterprises, either for commercial profit of for the advertising value to be derived therefrom, have contracted and agreed to furnish numerous office personnel, agents, representatives, operators and others to duplicate, disseminate, merchandise and sell the proceedings on a daily basis to news media, writers, wire services and other curious and or interested persons, firms and corporations, as such proceedings of the trial of this case may be or become available from the mechanical recording devices that would be used should this motion be denied.

Defendant says that money changers in the temple of justice are not contemplated by the spirit or letter of the law of Tennessee. That such a course of commercializing the dissemination of the proceedings of this Honorable Court would subject this Court to the impossible task of supervision with legally unauthorized employees of the various letter services, duplicating machine people, transcribers, recorders, out of the presence of the Court and beyond the Court's control, all in violation of the spirit and the letter of the law as laid down in articles 40-2029 through 40-2043, aforesaid, and especially of article 40-2038 which provides:

> "The reporters shall be subject to the supervision of the appointing judge in the performance of their duties, INCLUDING DEALINGS WITH THE PARTIES REQUESTING TRANSCRIPTS *" (emphasis added).

And, in this connection, Defendant is informed and believes that the expressed demand for copies of said daily transcript is so widely based that a proper control by the Court and the limitation of the right to produce and sell such daily copy to the court appointed court reporter and auxiliary reporters can make daily copy available at little or not additional expense to the State of Tennessee. At least, that such can be available as daily copy within the cost of what would be the normal cost of such daily proceedings if produced in due time and not as daily copy rates.

VII.

This Defendant says that he is without funds with which to engage, employ and compensate such duly appointed reporter and such auxiliary reporters hereinabove requested.

WHEREFORE, premises considered, Defendant prays the Court to nominate and appoint a qualified Court Reporter and such auxiliary court reporters as may to the Court seem necessary and to enter an order providing for their compensation by the State of Tennessee, as provided by law, and, also, that the Court enter an order providing that such duly appointed court reporters and auxiliary court reporters, as a unit, and they only shall have the right to sell and or offer for sale transcripts of the daily proceedings, and that no copies of such proceedings shall be duplicated and circulated by any original purchaser of such a copy of a transcript of any daily proceedings by any person, firm or corporation or agent thereof, except such [illegible] court reporters, without permission to duplicate said original transcript of daily proceedings having been applied for in writing to this Court and without a hearing having been had on such application to duplicate and without an order first having been entered of record by the Court so permitting such duplication, and for such other and further orders with reference to the reporting, duplicating and dissemination of such prodeedings as the court my deem firt, suitable and proper, as said Defendant, in duty bound, will ever pray.
